Press Release

BWT acquires HOH and expands its market leadership in Europe

BWT – Best Water Technology – Group has achieved another important strategic aim by acquiring HOH Water Technology Group from the NTR Holding A/S, Copenhagen. Thereby, BWT will be active on the market of all Scandinavian countries with own subsidiaries. The acquisition is retroactive by 1st July 2003. NTR and BWT agreed upon silence regarding the purchase price.

HOH Water Technology Group is among the most important providers of water treatment technology in the Northern European market and especially noted for its area-wide sales and service network. Besides the holding company in Copenhagen, HOH Water Technology Group comprises subsidiaries in Denmark, Sweden, Norway and Finland. These locations are perfectly suited to cover not only the domestic markets but also the export markets in the Baltic States and in Russia. HOH's strategy is mainly directed to the strong service network and the distribution of standardised products and devices. All currently existing business activities will be expanded continuously.

HOH Group expects a turnover of approx. EUR 35 millions for the current financial year. By 30th June 2003, the whole group counted 237 employees.
