FUSIA LIMITED ANNOUNCED AS INTENDED NEW NAME FOR TENNYSON NETWORKS

Melbourne, 1 October 2003 –Tennyson Networks (ASX: TNY) today announced that Directors will recommend to shareholders that the name of the Company be changed to FUSIA Limited.

Tennyson Chairman, Harvey Parker, said that the announcement of the new name was an exciting development in the Company's history.

"Tennyson is in the process of undergoing significant change, both in its proposed ownership structure and the scope of its product offering. It has acquired additional technology and products through the Datareach acquisition and has plans to further develop the SOX product range," he said.

In explaining the reasoning behind the new name, Mr Parker said:

"FUSIA reflects the fusion of ideas and technologies. We believe that the name is fresh, modern and international and is a name around which the Company can build a renewed corporate identity and a dynamic global brand."

Mr Parker said the name FUSIA was chosen after engaging an external consultancy to assist in the process of identifying a new name and selected resellers, clients and employees participated in this exercise.

The Company will be seeking shareholder approval of the new name at the General Meeting scheduled for 31 October 2003. Relevant documents, including the notice of general meeting, were dispatched to shareholders yesterday.

Should shareholders approve the change in the name of the Company to FUSIA Limited, the Company will also change the name of its Melbourne-based subsidiary, Tennyson Technologies, to FUSIA TECHNOLOGY.
