OMI appoints Joint Managing Director

Occupational and Medical Innovations Limited ("OMI") today announced that Mr Keith Taske will join OMI founder Bruce Kiehne in the role of Joint Managing Director, effective Monday 1 December 2003.

Mr Taske has been involved with OMI since its inception, spending the last four years resident in the US as a Director of OMI's US subsidiary, OMI Inc, and playing a pivotal role in commercial negotiations with multinational healthcare companies Becton Dickinson and Sims Portex.

Before his involvement with OMI, Mr Taske enjoyed a successful business career spanning thirty years, fourteen of which were in senior executive roles, followed by eight years as Chief Executive Officer ("CEO") of a Canberra-based company and two years as CEO of a Brisbane-based enterprise.

Mr Taske brings to the OMI management team a unique and complementary skill set, including relationships with US healthcare authorities responsible for the prevention of sharps injuries and a sound understanding of the North American legal and regulatory environments.

OMI's founder and Joint Managing Director, Mr Bruce Kiehne, welcomed Mr Taske's appointment as one of the final steps in the company's transformation from a research organisation to a commercial enterprise.

"I am delighted that Keith has agreed to join the OMI team as our fifth senior executive appointment in as many months", he said.
