INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Board of Directors
Fenwick Securities, Inc.

We have audited the accompanying statements of financial condition of Fenwick Securities, Inc. as of December 31, 2003 and 2002, and the related statements of operations, changes in stockholders' equity, and cash flows for the years then ended that you are filing pursuant to rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Fenwick Securities, Inc. as of December 31, 2003 and 2002, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audits were conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information contained in Schedule I on page nine is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

NOTE A – Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Business Activity

Fenwick Securities, Inc. is a broker-dealer registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) and is a member of the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. (NASD). The Company is a Michigan corporation that is engaged in a single line of business as a securities broker-dealer, which comprises several classes of services, including agency transactions and investment advisory services. Its customers are located primarily in Southwest Michigan.

Commissions

Commissions and related clearing expenses are recorded on a trade date basis as securities transactions occur.

Income Taxes

The Company uses Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 109, Accounting for Income Taxes in reporting deferred income taxes. SFAS No. 109 requires a company to recognize deferred tax assets and liabilities for expected future income tax consequences of events that have been recognized in the Company's financial statements. Under this method, deferred tax assets and liabilities are determined based on temporary differences between the financial carrying amounts and the tax basis of assets and liabilities using enacted tax rates in effect in the years in which the temporary differences are expected to reverse. Deferred tax assets are reduced by a valuation allowance when, in the opinion of management, it is more likely than not that some portion or all of the deferred tax assets will not be realized.

Cash Equivalents

For purposes of the statements of cash flows, cash is defined as cash in checking, savings, and money market accounts.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires the Company's management to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures. Accordingly, actual results may differ from those estimates.

FENWICK SECURITIES, INC.
For the Years Ended December 31, 2003 and 2002

NOTE B – Concentration of Credit Risk

The Company is engaged in various brokerage activities whose counterparties primarily include broker-dealers, banks, and other financial institutions. In the event counterparties do not fulfill their obligations, the Company may be exposed to risk. The risk of default depends on the creditworthiness of the counterparty or issuer of the instrument. It is the Company's policy to review, as necessary, the credit standing of each counterparty with which it conducts business.

NOTE C – Income Taxes

Federal income taxes consisted of the following during the years ended December 31:

	2003	2002
Deferred tax benefit (expense)	$ (199)	$ 46

The deferred tax assets in the accompanying balance sheets include the following components at December 31:

	2003	2002
Current deferred tax asset
Net operating loss carry forwards expiring in various years through 2023	$ 199	$ 199
Valuation allowance	(199)	---
Net current deferred tax asset	$ ---	$ 199

NOTE D – Related Party Transactions

The Company shares office space and certain administrative expenses with other entities under common control. The Company's share of such costs, included in operating expenses as management fees, totaled $66,000 and $37,000 during the years ended December 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively.

FENWICK SECURITIES, INC.
For the Years Ended December 31, 2003 and 2002

NOTE E – Net Capital Requirements

The Company is subject to the Securities and Exchange Commission Uniform Net Capital Rule (rule 15c3-1), which requires the maintenance of minimum net capital and requires that the ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital, both as defined, shall not exceed 15 to 1. The Company had net capital of $9,251 and $9,170 at December 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively, which was $4,251 and $4,170 in excess of its required net capital at December 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively. The Company had aggregate indebtedness of $1,247 and $53 at December 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively.

NOTE F – Cash Flow Information

The Company paid no interest or income taxes during the years ended December 31, 2003 and 2002.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION REQUIRED BY SEC RULE 17a-5

FENWICK SECURITIES, INC.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT ON INTERNAL ACCOUNTING CONTROLS REQUIRED BY SEC RULE 17a-5 FOR A BROKER-DEALER CLAIMING AN EXEMPTION FROM SEC RULE 15c3-3

Board of Directors
Fenwick Securities, Inc.

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements and supplemental schedule of Fenwick Securities, Inc. (the Company) for the year ended December 31, 2003, we considered its internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on internal control.

Also, as required by rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company including tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in rule 17a-5(g)(1) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of Rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications and comparisons.
2. Recordation of differences required by rule 17a-13.
3. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control or the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

Our consideration of internal control would not necessarily disclose all matters in internal control that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that error or fraud in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding, and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2003, to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Board of Directors, management, the SEC, the NASD, and other regulatory agencies that rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 on their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
