Lee County Electric Cooperative Addresses Growing Customer Needs with SPL WorldGroup's CorDaptix™ Customer Care and Billing System

March 12, 2004, San Francisco, CA — SPL WorldGroup has announced that Lee County Electric Cooperative (LCEC) has selected its CorDaptix™ customer care and billing system to serve its 165,000 customers on the southwest Florida coast.

Jason Gordon, Manager of Customer Accounting for LCEC said, "We are proud of LCEC's development as one of the most reliable, effective, cost-competitive, and technologically responsive service businesses in the state. As our business continues to experience significant growth we continue to cultivate business partnerships that offer sound technical solutions to support our critical customer care function. We believe we have found that strategic partner in SPL and their CorDaptix customer care solution.

"CorDaptix will give us the flexibility to grow while innovatively satisfying our customers' expectations. With CorDaptix we expect to achieve improved customer satisfaction while simultaneously streamlining processes and reducing costs. We look forward to a partnership with SPL that we believe will continue to empower our customer service professionals to provide quality service and support our corporate strategic efforts."

Dave Mulit, General Manager of SPL's Americas operations stated: "We could not be more pleased to add LCEC to our growing list of utility clients. In a "quiet" CIS market LCEC's decision to move forward with SPL, along with other recent "wins" for SPL is proof that companies are willing to make sound technology decisions that will support their corporate goals. As we have with all our clients we have made a commitment to LCEC to be their customer care backbone for many years to come. We look forward to working with LCEC on this mission critical project and to continue to earn their trust as we work collaboratively toward a successful implementation and deployment of the system.”
