DELEGATES URGE AGRICORE UNITED TO INCREASE ITS LEADERSHIP ROLE

February 17, 2004, Winnipeg – Farmer delegates attending Agricore United's annual members' meeting in Edmonton last week want the Company to take on a greater leadership role on agricultural policy issues.

Over 135 farmer delegates from across Western Canada gathered to elect directors and consider policy resolutions. Of the 35 policy resolutions under consideration, 29 passed, including one calling on the Company to "take a more active and strong stand on agriculture policy issues that affect the industry, the Company and its farmer member profitability."

The delegates passed a series of resolutions calling for marketing choice for prairie farmers on wheat and barley, including a call for the federal government to hold a plebiscite among farmers to determine whether the Canadian Wheat Board (CWB) should become a voluntary marketing agency.

Agricore United delegates also passed a number of resolutions relating to the U.S. tariff on Canadian wheat, describing it as "protectionist harassment". The delegates called on the federal government to challenge the tariff in a number of ways and to pursue compensation for lost sales and legal costs.

Delegates are also seeking an increase in CWB tenders for grain from the present maximum of 20 per cent to 100 per cent and say the CWB should take possession of grain at export position. Among other resolutions that passed were those advocating improved running rights on rail lines, better maintenance of rail cars, higher interest-free cash advances and continued opposition to the registration of glyphosate tolerant wheat.

Other highlights of the two-day meeting included presentations by the Hon. Shirley McClellan, Alberta Deputy Premier and Minister of Agriculture, Food and Rural Development and Adrian Measner, President and CEO of the Canadian Wheat Board.

"The Company values the guidance it receives from its membership through the delegate body," says Wayne Drul, Chair of Agricore United. "It's clear they want us to be leaders in pursuing policy changes that will provide benefits to farmers, the Company and the overall agricultural sector."

Agricore United is one of Canada's leading agri-businesses. The prairie-based company is diversified into sales of crop inputs and services, grain merchandising, livestock production services and financial markets. Agricore United's shares are publicly traded on the Toronto Stock Exchange under the symbol "AU".
