INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Member of
Citco Securities, LLC:

We have audited the accompanying balance sheet of Citco Securities, LLC (the "Company") as of December 31, 2003 that you are filing pursuant to Rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. This financial statement is the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on this financial statement based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the balance sheet is free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the balance sheet. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall balance sheet presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, such financial statement presents fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company at December 31, 2003 in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

CITCO SECURITIES, LLC
(A Delaware Limited Liability Company)

NOTES TO BALANCE SHEET
YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31, 2003

1. ORGANIZATION AND NATURE OF BUSINESS

CITCO Securities, LLC (the "Company") was formed as a Delaware Limited Liability Company in November 1994 with CITCO Corporate Services, Inc. ("CCS"), becoming its sole member in 1996. The Company is a registered broker-dealer licensed by the United States Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") and is a member of the National Association of Securities Dealers ("NASD"). The Company provides broker-dealer services to institutional customers as an introducing broker-dealer conducting securities transactions on a fully disclosed basis.

The Company derives the majority of its income from one broker. This broker has relationships with several large money managers ("Customers"). The Company does not execute trades or hold assets on behalf of any of its Customers. The Company serves as the registered broker-dealer for the broker and provides the administrative services and regulatory overview for the relationship.

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Cash and Cash Equivalents—Cash and cash equivalents as of December 31, 2003 include highly liquid investments with maturities of three months or less.

Equipment—Equipment is stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and includes office furniture and equipment.

Income Taxes—The Company is organized as a Limited Liability Company ("LLC") under state statute and is treated as a disregarded entity by CCS. The Company and CCS have entered into an intercompany agreement (the "Agreement"). Any difference between the amount calculated using the separate return method and payments to be made to (or received from) CCS are reported in the separate balance sheet of the Company as either a charge or a credit to member equity.

Temporary differences between income reported for financial statement purposes and taxable income are not significant. Accordingly, no deferred income taxes have been recorded as December 31, 2003.

As a single member LLC domiciled in the State of Pennsylvania ("Pennsylvania"), the Company is subject to Pennsylvania capital stock tax.

Due from Clearing Brokers—Commissions receivable from clearing brokers represent the Company's unpaid commissions from customers, net of clearing fees charged by the clearing broker.

Commissions Receivable from Other Brokers—Commissions receivable from other brokerage organizations represent the Company's unpaid commissions from customers, net of clearing fees charged by other brokerage firms.

Estimates—The preparation of financial statement in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statement and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

3. PURCHASED SERVICES ARRANGEMENTS

The Company has entered into purchased services arrangements in which it provides certain services to entities managed by its Customers. In return, the Company requests that the Customers transact a certain level of business for the benefit of the Company. As of December 31, 2003, $21,189 included in other liabilities in the accompanying balance sheet relates to these purchased services.

4. REGULATORY REQUIREMENTS

The Company is subject to the Uniform Net Capital Rule pursuant to Rule 15c3-1 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, which requires the maintenance of minimum net capital and requires that the ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital, both as defined, shall not exceed 15 to 1 and also provides that equity capital may not be withdrawn or cash dividends paid if the resulting net capital ratio would exceed 10 to 1. At December 31, 2003, the Company's ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital was .23 to 1. The Company's net capital was $839,984 and the required net capital was $12,735.

The Company is exempt under the provisions of Rule 15c3-3 (Computation for Determination of Reserve Requirements for Brokers and Dealers) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, because it does not hold funds or securities for, or owe money or securities to, its customers.

The Company has entered into a written agreement with its clearing firm which requires the clearing firm to perform a "PAIB reserve computation" with regard to all the assets of the Company held by the clearing firm. Consequently, the assets of the Company held at the clearing firm are treated as allowable assets for purposes of the Company's net capital computation.

5. RELATED PARTIES

The Company has a broker-dealer split arrangement with Quaker Securities, Inc. ("QSI"), an affiliate. The Company recorded commissions receivable of $16,446 as of December 31, 2003 in connection with these transactions.

The Company also entered into a facilities and personnel sharing agreement with QSI during the year ended December 31, 2003.

The Company maintains an account with CITCO Banking Corporation N. V. ("CBC"), an affiliate, the balance of which is $744 at December 31, 2003. Included in the payable to affiliate account in the accompanying balance sheet as of December 31, 2003 is $55,867 owed to another CITCO affiliate company.

6. COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

The Company is engaged in various brokerage activities in which counterparties primarily include fund managers and representatives from other financial institutions. The Company has provided a guarantee to its clearing broker. Under the agreement, the Company has agreed to indemnify the clearing broker for customers introduced by the Company that are unable to satisfy the terms of their contracts. The Company's liability under these arrangements is not quantifiable. However, the potential for the Company to be required to make payments under this agreement is remote. Accordingly, no contingent liability is carried on the balance sheet for these transactions.

The Company has entered into a written agreement with its clearing firm, which requires the Company to maintain at all times net capital, as defined, of at least $50,000 in excess of its minimum requirements. At December 31, 2003, the Company was in compliance with this covenant of its clearing agreement.

Citco Securities, LLC
1288 Valley Forge Road
Suite 75
Valley Forge, PA 19482

In planning and performing our audit of the balance sheet of Citco Securities, LLC (the "Company") for the year ended December 31, 2003 (on which we issued our report dated February 18, 2004), we considered its internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the financial statement and not to provide assurance on the Company's internal control.

Also, as required by Rule 17a-5(g)(1) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, we have made a study of the practices and procedures (including tests of compliance with such practices and procedures) followed by the Company that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in Rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of Rule 15c3-3. We did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in making the quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons, and the recordation of differences required by Rule 17a-13 or in complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of internal control and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph, and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the Securities and Exchange Commission's (the "Commission") above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition, and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statement in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in any internal control or the practices and procedures referred to above, misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal control or of such practices and procedures to future periods are subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the degree of compliance with the practices or procedures may deteriorate.

Our consideration of the Company's internal control would not necessarily disclose all matters in the Company's internal control that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that misstatements caused by error or fraud in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statement being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving the Company's internal control and its operation (including control activities for safeguarding securities) that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the Commission to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2003, to meet the Commission's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the board of directors, management, the Securities and Exchange Commission, the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. and other regulatory agencies that rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.

Yours truly,

Deloitte & Touche LLP
