INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Shareholder of
Narragansett Bay Securities Incorporated

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of Narragansett Bay Securities Incorporated as of December 31, 2003, that you are filing pursuant to rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. This financial statement is the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on this financial statement based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the statement of financial condition is free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the statement of financial condition. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statement referred to above presents fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Narragansett Bay Securities Incorporated as of December 31, 2003, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statement taken as a whole. The information contained in the supplementary schedules is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statement, but is supplementary information required by Rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in our audit of the basic financial statement and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects, in relation to the basic financial statement taken as a whole.

NOTES TO THE STATEMENT OF FINANCIAL CONDITION
as of December 31, 2003

1. Organization and Business

Narragansett Bay Securities Incorporated (the "Company") was incorporated in the State of Delaware on May 20, 1999. The Company is a broker-dealer registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission, and is a member of the National Association of Securities Dealers. The Company conducts business primarily with institutional customers and introduces that business on a fully-disclosed basis to a clearing broker and hedge fund managers.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Revenue Recognition

Transactions in securities are recorded on trade date.

Income Taxes

For income tax reporting purposes, the Company has elected to file as a small business corporation under Subchapter S of the Internal Revenue Code. Accordingly, no provision for federal income taxes has been made in the financial statements as the taxable income is included in the stockholder's individual income tax return.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the financial statements and accompanying notes. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

3. Related Party Transactions

At December 31, 2003, the Company had a payable to an affiliated entity related by common ownership totaling $54,159.

4. Net Capital Requirements

The Company is subject to the Securities and Exchange Commission Uniform Net Capital Rule (Rule 15(c)3-1). Under this rule, the Company is required to maintain "net capital" equal to the greater of $5,000 or 6 and 2/3% of "aggregate indebtedness".

At December 31, 2003, the Company had net capital and net capital requirements of $10,714 and $5,000, respectively.

NARRAGANSETT BAY SECURITIES INCORPORATED

NOTES TO THE STATEMENT OF FINANCIAL CONDITION as of December 31, 2003

5. Contingencies

In the normal course of business, the Company is subject to regulatory investigations and related determinations and charges, which may involve monetary settlements and disciplinary sanctions. In the opinion of management, these actions will not result in any material or adverse effect on the Company's operations or financial position.

6. Subsequent Event - Arbitration Claim

On February 2, 2004, the Company was served with a Statement of Claim filed before the Arbitration Committee of the National Association of Securities Dealers. The Claim names the Company, an affiliate of the Company and three officers (shareholders) of the Company (collectively, the "Narragansett Parties"), as well as an unrelated entity and an officer of the unrelated entity. The Claim seeks reimbursement from the Narragansett Parties of approximately $111,486 in actual damages, $100,000 in punitive damages plus an estimated $2,000 for costs of the Claim for excessive contributions made by the claimant to pay the expenses related to the business operations of the Narragansett Parties. Additionally, the Claim seeks approximately $24,288 in actual damages plus reasonable court costs from the Company and the Company's affiliate for failure to secure payment of commissions from the unrelated entity. The Company has not yet retained legal counsel related to this matter. The Company has until March 23, 2004 to file a Statement of Answer to this Claim. Management believes that the Claim is without merit and, accordingly, no provision has been made in the financial statements for any loss that may result from the Claim. In the event that the Company is required to pay the Claim, absent additional capital contributions or future earnings, substantial doubt would be raised about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT ON INTERNAL CONTROL

To the Shareholder of
Narragansett Bay Securities Incorporated

In planning and performing our audit of the statement of financial condition of Narragansett Bay Securities Incorporated (the "Company") as of December 31, 2003, we considered its internal control structure, including control activities for safeguarding securities, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statement and not to provide assurance on the internal control.

Also, as required by Rule 17A-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC"), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company, including tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in Rule 17a-5(g), in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of Rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

- (1) Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons
- (2) Recordation of differences required by Rule 17a-13
- (3) Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining an internal control structure and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of internal control structure policies and procedures, and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph, and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of an internal control structure and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition, and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control or the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

Our consideration of the internal control structure would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control structure that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control structure elements does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that errors or fraud in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted the following regarding the accounting system and its operation that we considered to be a material weakness as defined above. These conditions were considered in determining the nature, timing, and extent of the procedures to be performed in our audit of the statement of financial condition of the Company for the year ended December 31, 2003, and this weakness does not affect our report thereon dated February 24, 2004. On February 28, 2003, the SEC asserted that the Company was participating in an underwriting that required its minimum net capital requirement to be $25,000 pursuant to Rule 15c3-1. Based upon the SEC's assertion, the Company fell below the minimum net capital requirement for the first quarter of 2003. In response to the SEC's assertion, the Company asserted that the particular underwriting did not require its capital to be $25,000. Nevertheless, the Company took corrective action to ensure that it was operating in compliance with the applicable $25,000 capital requirement until September of 2003, when the underwriting period ended.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2003 to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of management, the SEC, the National Association of Securities Dealers and other regulatory agencies that rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
