INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To The Members
Redi Investments, LLC

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of Redi Investments, LLC (the Company) as of December 31, 2003 and the related statements of income, changes in members' equity, and cash flows for the year then ended that you are filing pursuant to rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Redi Investments, LLC. as of December 31, 2003, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information contained in the accompanying Supplemental Schedules is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

Respectfully submitted,

BILLET, FEIT & PREIS, P.C.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS – DECEMBER 31, 2003

Note 1 Nature of Business and Significant Accounting Policies

Organization and Nature of Business

The Company was organized in the State of New York in June 2000 and is an introducing, non-clearing broker dealer registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) and the Commodity Futures Trading Commission (CFTC). The Company is also a member of the National Association of Securities Dealers (NASD) and the National Futures Association (NFA) and is registered as a commodity trading advisor (CTA) and as a commodity pool operator.

The Company's primary business is to provide capital appreciation to institutional and sophisticated individual client accounts. Trading advice is offered to clients with respect to futures and forward contracts, options on futures contracts and physical commodities and other commodity related contracts traded on exchanges both foreign and domestic.

Securities Transactions

As the Company is a non-clearing broker dealer, all clients must open accounts with other clearing brokers or with a registered futures commission merchant (FCM) to maintain his/her account because the Company is not permitted to hold Client funds, securities, commodities or other property. In addition, the Company is not responsible for matters relating to the execution and clearance of transactions for a Client's account.

Commissions

Commission income and related clearing expenses are recorded on a trade-date basis as client transactions occur.

Incentive Fees

Incentive fees are computed on a monthly basis for performance purposes, however, clients pay the incentive fee based on net trading profits for accounts, or at a flat rate.

Concentration of Credit Risk

The Company's cash funds are located in one financial institution located in New York. At times such funds are in excess of SIPC insurance limits.

Concentration of Revenue

The Company derived approximately 70% of its revenue from two clients, one of which is also a member. Approximately 12% of its revenue was derived from the member.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Income Taxes

The financial statements do not include a provision for income taxes because the Company does not incur federal or state income taxes. Instead, its earnings and losses are included in the members' respective income tax returns.

Occupancy Costs

Occupancy costs for 2003 were approximately $21,400.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

The Company has defined cash equivalents as highly liquid investments, with original maturities of less than ninety days that are not held for sale in the ordinary course of business, and includes money market funds held at brokers.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON INTERNAL CONTROL REQUIRED BY SEC RULE 17a-5 FOR A BROKER DEALER CLAIMING AN EXEMPTION FROM SEC RULE 15c3-3

To The Members
Redi Investments, LLC

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements and supplemental schedules of Redi Investments, LLC (the Company), for the year ended December 31, 2003, we considered its internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on internal control.

Also, as required by rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company including tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons.
2. Recordation of differences required by rule 17a-13.
3. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition, and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control or the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

Our consideration of internal control would not necessarily disclose all matters in internal control that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that error or fraud in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2003 to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Company's Member's, management, the SEC, CFTC, NASD, NFA, and other regulatory agencies that rely on rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.

Respectfully submitted,

BILLET, FEIT & PREIS, P.C.
