Rexam receives top Latincan award

At the Latincan 2004 awards in March Rexam received the supreme winner award for its South American Smirnoff Ice can.

A judging panel of respected members of the industry chose the can, produced by Rexam Beverage Can South America, because of its incredible standard of production.

The awards, sponsored by Cantech international magazine are presented to Latin American based companies that have shown innovation in the manufacture of cans, whether in the production process, print design or end technology.

For further information contact Greg Brooke, Communications Director, Rexam Beverage Can Americas.
