PRESS RELEASE*Arcelor to sell Aciérie de l'Atlantique

Luxembourg, June 22, 2004 - Arcelor has completed as of today the sale to Siderúrgica Añón, SA of its 100% stake in Aciérie de l'Atlantique, SAS (ADA), for a price of 77 million EUR.

On April 16, 2004 Arcelor had announced a commitment to sell its stake in ADA. After obtaining the approval of the relevant anti-trust authorities and the finalization of the due diligence process, the deal has been completed as of today.

ADA is a French company operating an electric arc furnace and a continuous casting facility located in Bayonne and manufacturing billets*. It is held by Arcelor through its subsidiary Aceralia Corporación Siderúrgica, S.A.

ADA is an activity of the Long Carbon Steel sector of Arcelor. With 223 employees and shipments of 770,000 tonnes of billets to various European and North-African countries, ADA's sales amounted to EUR185m in 2003.

Siderúrgica Añón, SA is a producer of rebars based in La Coruña (Spain).

The sale of ADA is part of Arcelor's Long Carbon Steel sector effort to optimize its value chain.

ARCELOR is the world's largest steel producer, with a turnover of 25.9 billion euros and shipments of 40.2 million tones in 2003. The Group employs 98 000 workers in more than 60 countries and it is a major player in all its main markets: automotive, construction, household appliances, packaging and general industry.

\ Billets are semi-finished long carbon steel products*
