News Release

SingTel offers SMEs and individuals BlackBerry Internet Service™

- BlackBerry® users benefit from SingTel's GPRS roaming to over 100 networks worldwide
- New quad-band and Bluetooth-enabled BlackBerry 7290 Wireless Handheld™ to be available in retail shops next month

Singapore, 30 November 2004 – Small and medium-sized enterprises (SMEs) and retail customers can now subscribe to the BlackBerry Internet Service™ from Singapore Telecommunications Limited (SingTel). The service operates on SingTel's GPRS (General Packet Radio Service) network to deliver email to customers automatically.

This wireless email solution enables customers to have their email automatically 'pushed' to their BlackBerry Wireless Handheld™. They can choose to receive messages from up to ten email accounts, including Microsoft® Exchange, IBM Lotus® Domino and POP3-enabled ISP accounts such as SingNet.

Mr Paul Kitchin, SingTel's Vice President (Consumer Marketing), said that email is one of the most preferred communications tools around today¹. Increasingly, the demand is for access to email even when a user is away from his office or home PC.

"Most SMEs here often outsource their IT functions and they might not have the space or resources to put in an additional server to integrate with their corporate email and have these pushed wirelessly to them. BlackBerry Internet Service from SingTel is thus a safe, efficient and convenient way for them to manage their email on the go. They need not have to worry about missing any important email from clients, and they can be kept in the loop of business developments via email at all times," Mr Kitchin said.

"For individuals who love being able to access their email for personal purposes, it is also another way of making sure that they do not miss out on a message from their contacts or friends wherever they are".

The BlackBerry® handheld also functions as a mobile phone, a personal organiser and offers wireless Internet access capabilities.

¹ According to a recent survey by the Economist Intelligence Unit, email is king when it comes to communication tools for conducting business. A total of 84 per cent of the survey respondents said that while on the road, email is the application they prefer when traveling on business.

SingTel will be offering its customers the new BlackBerry 7290™ handheld in December 2004. It boasts Bluetooth® support for hands-free voice communications and comes with 32MB of memory for application and data storage and an enhanced screen and keyboard.

The quad-band handheld allows users to roam among North America, Europe and Asia Pacific.

Mr Kitchin said: "Our customers can look forward to SingTel's robust GPRS network and strong international roaming capabilities for support when they subscribe to our BlackBerry service. Currently, we offer GPRS roaming to over 100 networks in more than 90 destinations worldwide."

The BlackBerry 7290 also embraces the powerful features of the BlackBerry 7200 Series, including a compact and ergonomic handheld design, high-resolution color screen that supports over 65,000 colors, easy-to-use QWERTY keyboard, thumb-operated navigation trackwheel, excellent battery performance, plus integrated support for corporate and personal email, phone, SMS, PIM, Internet and Intranet applications.

From today, customers can subscribe to BlackBerry Internet Service from SingTel for S$39.90 (with GST) for 4MB of data usage every month at hello!@Orchard and hello!@Comcentre.

SingTel also offers the BlackBerry Enterprise Solution™ for corporate customers. The take-up for the service has been very encouraging since its launch in July this year.

Corporate customers who also wish to subscribe to BlackBerry Internet Service can approach their SingTel Corporate Account Manager or call 1800 733 7788 for more details.

Developed by Research In Motion (RIM), BlackBerry is deployed by thousands of corporations worldwide. The company recently announced that it has exceeded two million active wireless subscribers worldwide.

The BlackBerry and RIM families of related marks, images and symbols are the exclusive properties and trademarks of Research In Motion Limited.

News Release

Leading global logistics company chooses SingTel

SingTel wins multi-million dollar contract from logistics company Schenker

Singapore, 2 December 2004 -- Singapore Telecommunications Limited (SingTel) today announced that it has signed a multi-million dollar contract extension with Schenker, Germany-based leading logistics giant and one of the top five logistics providers in the world.

The 132-year old logistics company chose SingTel to link 64 of their 94 offices and locations across Asia Pacific.

Schenker's 4,000 employees in Asia and their communications needs, as well as demand for faster and larger amount of data and information, will be supported by SingTel's fully managed ConnectPlus IP-VPN.

Mr Peter Schumann, Schenker's Chief Information Officer & member of the board, said: "Schenker has a growing business in Asia and has planned for new centralised systems like a global air and sea freight system. The company needs more bandwidth, capacity and a better network to meet our requirements. We based our choice on long standing relationship, coverage, quality, capacity and service level guarantees. Also, SingTel owns and manages the cables offered to us. It's not a third party business."

Mr Lucas Chow, SingTel's Executive Vice President of Corporate Business, said: "We are proud to be chosen by Schenker as its network service provider for Asia Pacific. We hope this will help their regional business grow even stronger."

"Last month, we also announced that SingTel had won contracts with other big European companies – BMW and Decathlon. We are seeing the fruits of our marketing efforts in reaching out to European companies that need a strategic partner to drive their expansion into Asia, particularly China and India."

"The fact that these companies have chosen SingTel speaks volumes of the unique offering delivered by SingTel. Together with other European carriers like KPN, SingTel is able to provide more than 1,000 points of presence in Asia Pacific and Europe, giving our customers a very comprehensive connectivity network."

SingTel recently hosted a successful customer event in Frankfurt, Germany, attended by over 100 decision makers. They were looking for a reliable and cost-efficient telecommunications service provider to manage and support their growing needs and businesses in Asia Pacific.

SingTel today has 32 offices in 16 countries to support its multinational customers worldwide. Besides its existing European offices in London and Paris, SingTel plans to set up an office in Frankfurt early next year.

About SingTel
