Dear Mr. Crapo:

This is in response to your letter dated November 7, 2004 concerning a shareholder proposal you submitted to IDACORP. On October 21, 2004, we issued our response expressing our informal view that IDACORP could exclude the proposal from its proxy materials. You have asked us to reconsider our position.

After reviewing the information contained in your letter, we find no basis to reconsider our position.

Sincerely,

Commission (The "Commission") in its objections to my shareholder proposal in deliberately making misleading comments and other objection to said proposal.

IDACORP like all publicly held corporations and other companies prior to including a shareholder proposal in its proxy statement must make objection to the Commission carefully examining precedents for omitting shareholder proposal of all shareholder proposals. The Corporation knew that proponent had a similar proposal before the Money Group. THE MONEY GROUP
INC Stockholder Meeting 24 February 2004 at 9:30 AM at Manhattan New York which failed to take place and was postponed to 18 May 2004 at 10:30 AM at Manhattan, New York State.

Proponent courteously informed the Corporation of the problem AND his reasons

Counsel for IDACORP is at New York City could easily have understood my reasons for not getting to IDACORP at Boise. Many things Mr Powers couldn't do - at IDACORP expense could've provided proponent with round trip air-more craft

Ticket between Boston & Boise, etc etc which would've been at the cost of IDACORP, could've arranged for Shareholder meetings to be closer to proponents but she failed to do it, etc.

it was irrelevant of Mr Powers to accuse proponents of failure to do his fiduciary duty to IDACORP. He couldn't get to Boise in the time after he presented his shareholder proposal at Money Group Inc
at TIME Square New York City

I checked Amtrak there was an Amtrak bus which left Spokane

7:35 PM. IDACORP shareholder meeting was at Boise ID 9:30 AM

There was an earlier train which arrived at SANDPOINT ID 11:49 PM
but NO BUS from there to Boise

There is something to be said for getting to the meeting AND being able to present the shareholder proposal, and other ways be capable.

as I write I noticed my comment

UNITED STATES TAX COURT
Washington, D.C. 20217

November 3, 2004

John Jennings Crapo
Petitioner,

Docket No.: 5376-04S

COMMISSIONER OF INTERNAL REVENUE, Respondent.

Trial At: Room 1013, Thomas P. O'Neill
Federal Building
10 Causeway Street
Boston, MA 02233

NOTICE SETTING CASE FOR TRIAL

The parties are hereby notified that the above-entitled case is set for trial at the Trial Session beginning on January 24, 2005.

The calendar for that Session will be called at 10:00 A.M. on that date and both parties are expected to be present at that time and be prepared to try the case. YOUR FAILURE TO APPEAR MAY RESULT IN DISMISSAL OF THE CASE AND ENTRY OF DECISION AGAINST YOU.

Your attention is called to the Court's requirement that, if the case cannot be settled on a mutually satisfactory basis, the parties, before trial, must agree in writing to all facts and all documents about which there should be no disagreement. Therefore, the parties should contact each other promptly and cooperate fully so that the necessary steps can be taken to comply with this requirement. YOUR FAILURE TO COOPERATE MAY ALSO RESULT IN DISMISSAL OF THE CASE AND ENTRY OF DECISION AGAINST YOU.

If there are a number of cases to be tried, the Court will fix the time of each trial at the end of the calendar call. The Court makes every effort to suit the convenience of the petitioners in fixing trial times, but because of conflicting requests received from petitioners, the final determination of trial times must rest in the Court's discretion.

Lynne L. Glasser
Clerk of the Court

John Jennings Crapo
P.O. Box 400151
Cambridge, MA 02140-0002

STANDING PRETRIAL NOTICE

To: Petitioners (Taxpayers) and Respondent (IRS) in the attached
Notice Setting Case For Trial:

1. Status of the Court. The U.S. Tax Court hears disputes between taxpayers and the IRS. The Court is not a part of the IRS.
2. Settlement Conferences. Before the calendar call date, the parties should meet and try to settle the case. "Settle" means that all matters in dispute in the case have been resolved. Settlement documents should be signed by all parties or counsel and submitted to the Court before or at the call of the calendar.
3. Readiness for Trial. If the parties have not submitted to the Court signed settlement documents, the case will be called at the calendar call at the date and time set forth in the notice setting case for trial. The parties must be ready for trial at any time during the session, which may last as little as 1 day or as long as 2 weeks.
 - a. Cases will not be continued other than under exceptional circumstances.
 - b. Failure to appear may result in a dismissal of the case and a decision against the non-appearing party.
 - c. Within 2 weeks before the start of the trial session, the parties may jointly contact the judge's chambers to request a time and date certain for the trial. If practicable, the Court will attempt to accommodate the request.
4. Stipulation Agreement. The parties must enter into a written stipulation about all relevant facts and documents that are not in dispute. Failure or refusal by a party to stipulate may result in a finding against that party.
5. The Trial. The parties are responsible for presenting all evidence to the Court at the time of trial. Evidence consists of the stipulation, sworn testimony at trial, and any documentary evidence accepted by the Court as exhibits at the trial. Accordingly, the parties should bring to court all books and records, and any other documents on which they intend to rely.

The only opportunity for the parties to present their evidence to the Court is at the trial. Information or documents previously presented to the IRS are not before this Court. Therefore, at trial, the parties must present all documents and the testimony of all witnesses that they want the Court to consider in deciding the case, even though this evidence may have previously been presented to the IRS.

Iowa diocese to pay $9m to settle 37 claims of sex abuse by priests

Bankruptcy filing

trials are averted

By Todd Dvorak

DAVENPORT, Iowa — The Roman Catholic Diocese of Davenport agreed to pay $9 million yesterday to settle 37 claims of sexual abuse by priests — a deal that could lift any immediate threat of bankruptcy.

The settlement averts a potentially lengthy series of trials over the church's handling of abuse claims dating

He said the diocese agreed to provide stronger protections for children, including better monitoring of priests.

He noted that most of the claims date back to the 1950s and 1960s.

"Prior bishops are no longer living to explain their decisions," he said. "All I know for certain is that, in fact, we failed to protect children from harm. I am profoundly sorry and I express deep apology to the victims from the entire Catholic community."

Cathy Layton, the attorney representing most of the victims, said the settlement will help heal the mental and emotional wounds caused by the priests' abuse.

by a priest's abuse.

"This has been a tragic time for our church," Bishop William Franklin said. "It is my prayer that true healing may begin in the Diocese of Davenport."

The settlement, reached after weeks of negotiations, will be covered by insurance and diocesan funds, Franklin said.

Before the settlement, the diocese had warned that it might file for bankruptcy, a step taken by dioceses in Tucson and Portland, Ore.

Franklin said it is unclear how the settlement would affect the diocese and the services it provides to its 102,000 parishioners.

Earlier this month, he announced layoffs and early resignations to trim diocesan staff from 46 employees to 18.

He also mentioned selling church property, including a retirement home for priests.

"All I can say right now is we're looking at these possibilities," Franklin said. "I hope this, for the moment, puts bankruptcy aside."

Franklin declined to reveal the payment received by the diocese's insurer. In a court hearing this month, diocese attorneys calculated church assets at $10 million.

Franklin said he expects the diocese to be hit with more claims of abuse, which would make its financial situation uncer-tainable.

"The victims have suffered physically, emotionally, mentally and spiritually," Layton said. "For years, the victims have waited for vindication, validation, support and closure."

The 37 claims target the past 13 years of as many as 11 priests, three of whom were individually named in the lawsuits.

The settlement was reached just days before the first of the cases was set for trial.

Layton said the settlement eliminates the diocese as a defendant in all the lawsuits, but that the claims remain against the priests accused of abusing the victims.

Big-city violence invades farm town

Gunfire, gang conflict shatter community's atmosphere of security

By Bob Fick
 ASSOCIATED PRESS

CALDWELL, Idaho — Gunfire and gang violence are alarming people in this farm town where the usual background noise is the chug of field machinery.

Since July, police have received more than 160 reports of shots fired in Caldwell, a town of 30,000 halfway between Boise and the Oregon line. Two young men have been killed and several more wounded in drive-by shootings. Police believe most of the violence is gang-related.

Authorities are increasing patrols, and for the first time, neighborhood watches are springing up in Caldwell, a community that for decades has typified small-town conservatism and the farmland work ethic. Many are asking themselves how big-city gang problems reached their quiet corner of the West.

"I can't let my kids go outside," said

Maria Salenes. "I don't know what to do anymore. I'm so scared."

Gunfire has plagued Salenes' neighborhood in the past, but the trouble came too close on Oct. 11 when the 37-year-old mother of four heard a midday thump on her door. When she opened it, a man she did not know fell into her living room, mortally wounded in a drive-by.

"He was breathing real hard," she recalled. "He tried to tell me something, but it was his throat. He couldn't talk at all. I feel like nothing is safe."

Two men have been charged in the slaying of the man, Sigmund Goode, 21. The shooting was the fourth in a week in the mostly Hispanic neighborhood of working-class homes and tree-lined streets, where many people go home for lunch. It also follows the slaying of 22-year-old Carlos Chavez in August. No arrest has been made in that slaying.

For more than a century, Caldwell has been a hub for one of the most agriculturally productive counties in the nation. Hops, onions, potatoes, beans, sugar beets, and hybrid sweet-corn are grown here.

Thanks to a booming state economy,

Caldwell's population has jumped 25 percent in the past four years, up from 41 percent in the 1990s. The town has a long history of Hispanic farm families migrating here every year to work the summer crops. But since the 1990s, more and more of the families have been settling here.

Police said gang activity, involving both young Hispanics and whites, has grown with the population.

Police Captain Chris Allgood said he has spent most of his 41 years in Caldwell and watched as the town slowly changed. "Fifteen or 20 years ago, we used to have a homicide every three or four years, and now we have three or four every year," he said.

More than 150 people turned out for a recent community meeting at the Hispanic Cultural Center.

"I want to make it an area where my children can go outside and play in the yard and not worry about getting shot," said Jennifer Bennett, 33. "We want to take back our neighborhood."

Police said their efforts have been hindered by witnesses and victims who are afraid to cooperate.

Ohio Precincts Stay Open, Delaying Count And Outcome

By JAMES DAO
and FORD FESSENDEN

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 2 — Many precincts in Ohio continued to accept waiting voters long after they were supposed to close on Tuesday night, delaying the count and leaving the fate of the state's critical electoral votes up in the air.

A state judge issued an order for election boards to use paper ballots if necessary to make sure everyone waiting could vote. Voting continued in some places at 10 p.m., though the polls were scheduled to close at 7:30.

COLORADO

Electoral Vote Redistribution Is Defeated

By KIRK JOHNSON

DENVER, Nov. 2 — Voters overwhelmingly rejected a ballot proposal on Tuesday that would have made Colorado the first state to replace the winner-take-all distribution of Electoral College votes in presidential elections with a proportional system based on the popular vote.

The measure, Amendment 36, would have meant that candidates, beginning with this election, would split the state's nine electoral votes, so that a candidate receiving, say, 33 percent of the popular vote would also get one-third of the Electoral College total, or three votes.
