Corporate Governance and Organizational Structure of the New Group

Tokyo, April 20, 2005 --- Mitsubishi Tokyo Financial Group, Inc. (MTFG; President and CEO: Nobuo Kuroyanagi), UFJ Holdings, Inc. (UFJ; President and CEO: Ryosuke Tamakoshi), The Bank of Tokyo-Mitsubishi, Ltd. (BTM; President: Nobuo Kuroyanagi), UFJ Bank Limited (UFJ Bank; President: Takamune Okihara), The Mitsubishi Trust and Banking Corporation (MTB; President: Haruya Uehara), UFJ Trust Bank Limited (UFJ Trust Bank; President: Shintaro Yasuda), Mitsubishi Securities Co., Ltd. (Mitsubishi Securities; President: Koichi Kane) and UFJ Tsubasa Securities Co., Ltd. (UFJ Tsubasa Securities; President: Kimisuke Fujimoto), have been preparing for the two group's management integration in October 2005, subject to the approval of their shareholders and relevant authorities, and have agreed on establishing the following corporate governance and organizational structure for the new group.

1. Corporate Governance Structure

(1) Corporate Governance Structure of the New Holding Company

The new holding company will establish a more stable and effective corporate governance system with both directors and corporate auditors, while enhancing various "outsiders' viewpoints" and introducing a voluntary committee system. The holding company will enhance management transparency and accountability to its shareholders through three "outsiders' viewpoints." The first outsider's viewpoint will be that three (majority) of the corporate auditors will be outside auditors. The second outsider's viewpoint will be that by appointing four outside directors, more than 30% of the board members (directors and corporate auditors) will be outsiders. The outside directors will be given an enhanced role in the holding company's management by serving as the chairs of board committees comprised mainly of outside members, such as the internal audit and compliance committee, the nomination committee and remuneration committee, to be established under the board of directors. The third outsider's viewpoint will be that the new holding company will also establish an advisory board comprised of outside experts. The advisory board will provide expert advice on important management issues, including the holding company's business strategies and financial plan.

In particular, the internal audit and compliance committee will receive reports from the Internal Audit Unit, deliberate important matters relating to internal audit and compliance and propose necessary improvement measures to the board of directors. This is intended to ensure sufficient independence of the Internal Audit Unit from business operations of the company. The holding company also aims to enhance the effectiveness of internal audits conducted by corporate auditors and continuously improve the internal audit function by enhancing the coordination between corporate auditors and the Internal Audit Unit through the internal audit and compliance committee.

The new holding company will also aim to develop its group-wide corporate governance structure that is appropriate for a “premier global comprehensive financial group” by implementing group-wide risk management and internal audit systems, promoting coordination among the group companies’ internal audit units and sending senior management to its major subsidiaries.

The new combined group aims to provide customer-focused services and establish an “integrated organizational structure” to offer timely, value-added financial products and services as a group, to each customer segment going beyond the boundaries of existing business entities. In addition, the combined group will also strive to establish risk management and internal control functions appropriate for a financial group that is aiming to become a “Global Top 5” financial institution. In order to achieve this, we have decided on the organizations of the new holding company and the affiliated bank, trust bank and securities company as described in Appendices 3 to 6.

(1) Common aim of the new group

➤We intend to eliminate the duplication of functions between the holding company and the group companies and to implement an efficient organizational structure which is well balanced between the holding company and the group companies.

(2) Characteristics of each business category

[New Holding Company]

With respect to the three main businesses (retail, corporate and trust assets business), under close cooperation of the subsidiary bank, trust bank and securities company, we will strive to establish an integrated strategy, according to each customer segment, and establish an Integrated Business Group to promote business as a group.

[New Bank]

We aim to establish a market-based organizational structure according to each customer segment, taking into account the holding company's integrated business group systems. A "business unit system" will be introduced to promote a decentralized management system where more responsibilities and decision-making authority will be given to each business unit.

We aim to establish head office functions such as service supply and credit analysis functions in Nagoya and Osaka to respond to the needs of customers in each area and provide a community-based business management system.

[New Trust Bank]

With respect to retail and corporate banking businesses, a "business unit system" will be introduced according to each customer segment. A "business unit system" will also be introduced to operations specific to the trust business area in order to strengthen the professionalism and clarify business responsibilities in this area.

[New Securities Company]

We aim to establish a business promotion system to provide sophisticated products and services according to each customer segment and will establish a "head office system" in front operations in order to clarify business responsibilities in each business areas.

Conviction of UFJ Bank and Former Executive Officers for Breaches of Japan's Banking Law

Regarding prosecution by the Tokyo District Public Prosecutors Office in December 2004, UFJ Bank Limited ("UFJ Bank") and its former executive officers were convicted of breaches of Japan's Banking Law today. UFJ Bank was fined JPY 90 million. A former executive officer was sentenced to ten months imprisonment with a stay of execution for three years. Two of former executive officers were sentenced to eight months imprisonment with a stay of execution for three years.

The UFJ Group takes the court judgement very seriously and reaffirms its commitment to improve its compliance and internal control systems continuously in order to restore trust and confidence as soon as possible.

The group regrettably apologizes to its customers, shareholders and other interested parties for any concern and worry that this may have caused.
