Subsidiaries, which are those companies in which Lietuvos Telekomas' Group (the Group), directly or indirectly, has an interest of more than one half the voting rights or otherwise has power to govern the financial and operating policies are consolidated. Subsidiaries are consolidated from the date on which control is transferred to the Group and are no longer consolidated from the date that control ceases. The purchase method of accounting is used to account for the acquisition of subsidiaries. The cost of an acquisition is measured as the fair value of the assets given up, shares issued or liabilities undertaken at the date of acquisition plus costs directly attributable to the acquisition. The excess of the cost of acquisition over the fair value of the net assets of the subsidiary acquired is recorded as goodwill. Intercompany transactions, balances and unrealised gains on transactions between group companies are eliminated; unrealised losses are also eliminated unless cost cannot be recovered.

Report for the 1st quarter of the year 2005

Investments in associates are accounted for by the equity method of accounting. Under this method the company's share of the post-acquisition profits or losses of associates is recognised in the income statement and its share of post-acquisition movements in reserves is recognised in reserves. The cumulative post-acquisition movements are adjusted against the cost of the investment. Associates are entities over which the Group generally has between 20% and 50% of the voting rights, or over which the Group has significant influence, but which it does not control. Unrealised gains on transactions between the Group and its associates are eliminated to the extent of the Group's interest in the associates; unrealised losses are also eliminated unless the transaction provides evidence of an impairment of the asset transferred. Goodwill arising on acquisition of associates is included under intangible assets in the Group accounts. When the Group's share of losses in an associate equals or exceeds its interest in the associate, the Group does not to recognise further losses, unless the Group has incurred obligations or made payments on behalf of the associates.

Comparing revenue from fixed-line telephony services for the first quarter of 2005 with the same period a year ago it should be noted that from 14 February 2004 the Company improved its local calls' payment plan, Vietinis, and domestic long distance calls' payment plan, Šalies, by additionally giving 30 hours free of charge calls during off peak time and weekends for the same subscription fee as before. This resulted in an increase of traffic volume but had a certain negative effect on revenue from traffic charges (down by 11 per cent).

Compared with the first quarter of 2004 the total local calls' traffic in the first quarter of 2005 increased by 8.2 per cent, long distance calls' traffic slightly increased by 0.2 per cent, fixed to mobile network traffic went up by 3.4 per cent and international calls' traffic increased by 12.7 per cent.

Number of payment plans subscribed by Lietuvos Telekomas' customers increased by 14.4 per cent from 371 thousand in March 2004 to 424 thousand in March 2005. The most popular payment plan is the one designed for local calls that represents almost 80 per cent of all payment plans. The second most popular is international calls payment plan, Pasaulis.

In spite of decline in number of main lines in service over the year by 1.6 per cent to 812,254 lines in services as of 31 March 2005, revenue from subscription fees declined by just 1.3 per cent. Revenue from networks interconnection services for the first quarter of 2005 decreased by 5.5 per cent, year-on-year, due to lower interconnection tariffs.

Revenue from internet services went up by 23.1 per cent, particular growth area is internet broadband services. During the first three months of 2005 total number of ADSL connections increased by 23.4 per cent from 50,199 (31 December 2004) to 61,928 (31 March 2005) whereof 59,066 connections are sold to Lietuvos Telekomas' customers and 2,862 on wholesales market. Due to substitution effect number of internet dial up services users is not growing but remains roughly on the same level of 35 thousand users. Revenue from internet services growth was partly offset by 2.8 per cent decline in revenue from data communication services, nevertheless, total revenue from internet and data communication services for the first quarter of 2005 compared with the same period year ago increased by 12.1 per cent.

According to the Company's estimations Lietuvos Telekomas' market share on fixed-line telephony market in terms of lines remains on the same level of 99 per cent and in terms of revenue amounts to 94 per cent. At the end of March 2005 total fixed-line telephony penetration rate in Lithuania was 23.9 per cent. During the first quarter of 2005 the Company' internet broadband market share in terms of users (retail market) increased from 36.9 per cent to 39.4 per cent and the broadband penetration per 100 inhabitants should stand at 4.4 per cent (3.8 per cent at the end of 2004). Lietuvos Telekomas' market share on internet providers market in terms of revenue is estimated to be at the level of 47 per cent.

In March, the Company improved its ADSL technology based internet plans Takas iD1 and Takas iD2 by offering to download eight and five times, respectively, bigger amounts of data not changing the pricing. From March, users of internet broadband service Takas iD3 for additional 19 litas could browse the internet without restrictions not only during the evening and weekends but during the business hours too. In order to promote usage of internet in Lithuania and simply let the people "taste" it, Lietuvos Telekomas launched a campaign Night on the Web for One Litas that offers dial-up internet access from midnight to 7 a.m. for just one litas.
