To whom it may concern;

We have decided to publish our IFRS statements on an annual basis as the statutory statements are now being produced on the basis of nominal accounting whereas IFRS statements continue to be based on inflationary accounting and this is resulting in some confusion.

Besides that, the bank's taxes and dividends are based on the statutory statements that use nominal accounting.

We are therefore sending enclosed the new timetable for Akbank's financial disclosure which has also been published on our internet site.

Very truly yours,
