ASX Announcement

WORLEYPARSONS LIMITED (ASX:WOR)

Tennessee Valley Authority (TVA) contract extension Progress Energy contract award Exmouth Energy Project achieves Financial Close

WorleyParsons announces today a number of developments in the power sector including the extension of a material contract for the TVA, the award of a new material contract for Progress Energy and the Exmouth Energy Project achieving Financial Close.

Tennessee Valley Authority (TVA) contract extension

WorleyParsons joint venture company G•UB•MK Constructors has been awarded a contract extension by the Tennessee Valley Authority (TVA) for its work on modifications, supplemental maintenance work, and selective catalytic/non-catalytic reduction (removal of nitrogen oxide from the flue gas) projects at various TVA coal-fired and hydroelectric facilities. The contract extension increases the contract ceiling by US $575 million and exercises the second option extending the contract for an additional four years to June 27, 2009. No minimum amount of work is guaranteed.

WorleyParsons is the sponsor and holder of 34% of G•UB•MK, an unincorporated joint venture formed in 1991 which has been providing services to TVA since that time. The current contract was awarded in 1999 and has a two-year option period remaining after 2009.

G•UB•MK is headquartered south of Knoxville, Tennessee and works at six TVA coal-fired generating stations in Kentucky, Tennessee, and Alabama and twenty-nine hydroelectric plants located throughout the Tennessee Valley.

Progress Energy contract award

Progress Energy of North Carolina has awarded WorleyParsons the engineering contract for the Clean Smokestacks Program at Units 3 and 4 of the company's Roxboro plant. The project will be executed in the WorleyParsons Reading, Pennsylvania office.

The USD $50 million contract covers the installation of flue gas desulfurization (FGD) systems and associated work on two 700 MW coal-fired units at the North Carolina plant. WorleyParsons scope of work includes project management, engineering, procurement, and site support services.

WorleyParsons

The project includes a limestone grinding and slurry dewatering facility that will process wall board quality gypsum, a by-product of the operation for a proposed wall board production facility. A wastewater treatment facility is also part of the project.

Exmouth Energy Project achieves Financial Close

WorleyParsons is also announcing today that joint venture company Burns & Roe Worley has reached Financial Close on the Exmouth Energy Project. This project is the second of its type following the Esperance Energy Project. The project is backed by a Power Purchase Agreement (PPA) signed with Western Power in September 2003 and is part of its regional power procurement process.

The power station comprises seven gas engines and one diesel engine generating 8 MW of electrical power for Exmouth and its surrounds which is located in Western Australia. The plant is to be fueled by compressed natural gas transported from a compressor station on the Dampier to Bunbury gas pipeline some 240 km from Exmouth. Total capital cost of the project is approximately $32m with WorleyParsons providing 100% of the $6m equity. It is anticipated that the development phase will take approximately 13 months.

Commenting on these developments WorleyParsons Chief Executive Officer, Mr. John Grill, said:

“We are delighted with the strong capability of the power business that was acquired as part of the Parsons E&C business as evidenced by the TVA and Progress Energy awards.

Development opportunities such as the Exmouth and Esperance Energy Projects remain an important part of WorleyParsons’ strategy.”

WorleyParsons to undertake BFS for Hellyer Metals Project

On 21 June 2005 Intec Ltd (ASX Code: INL) appointed WorleyParsons (ASX Code: WOR) to undertake the A$2.7 million Bankable Feasibility Study (BFS) for the Hellyer Metals Project, which amount is exclusive of Burnie demonstration plant operations. As a global provider of quality engineering and project services to the resources industry, WOR's Minerals & Metals Division has shown particular strength in developing, implementing and optimising complex process plants.

The preliminary draft of the BFS is scheduled to be made available by mid-December 2005, with the completed document due early in the first quarter of calendar 2006. The BFS will be specifically oriented towards providing the necessary platform for the financing of the Hellyer Metals Project. With this in mind, and as the BFS develops, WOR will begin to work closely with an independent technical expert to be nominated by the Metals and Energy Capital Division of Macquarie Bank Limited (ASX Code: MBL), the intending project financiers (see separate ASX announcement of 23 June 2005). WOR will also work closely with a financial consultant to be nominated by INL to optimise the presentation of the BFS to the financial markets.

In discussion with INL, WOR has engaged the following sub-consultants responsible for developing specific aspects of the BFS:

Hellyer tailings resource confirmation – AMC Consultants Pty Ltd

New retreatment tailings disposal dam – GHD Pty Ltd

Tailings recovery – Trevor Jackson/Neumann Dredging

Environmental Assessment – Caloundra Environmental (assisted by Golders, Katestone & PEC, Earth Systems and Environmental Chemistry)

Burnie Demonstration Plant report – Ammtec Limited (Burnie Research Laboratory) (ASX Code: AEC)

Intec Polymetallic Process Plant design – HG Engineering (Toronto, Canada)

Conceptual Zinc Tankhouse Design – Umicore Zinc Smelting

Plant Instrumentation and Control – Honeywell Process Systems

In addition to its Owner's Responsibilities, INL will be responsible for on-site plant infrastructure (jointly with WOR) and secondary feedstocks resource identification. Regarding the latter, the Burnie demonstration plant, commissioning of which began yesterday, has already received 25 tonnes of Electric Arc Furnace (EAF) dust from Smorgon Steel, while another consignment from a separate EAF dust producer is on its way. INL's input into the BFS will be led by its previously announced Owner's Representative Mr Phil Evans, who until recently has been President of H.G. Engineering of Toronto, Canada.

In addition to WOR's overall responsibility for the BFS, it will provide specialised input for secondary feedstock off-site recovery and transport, detailed design of the zinc cell tankhouse, on-site plant infrastructure (jointly with INL), off-site infrastructure, socio-economic assessment, project implementation and control, project economics and occupational health and safety.

Yours faithfully

North West Shelf LNG Phase V Project – EPCM Contract

Woodside Energy Ltd. (Operator of the North West Shelf Venture) has today confirmed that it will award the engineering, procurement and construction management (EPCM) contract for the LNG Phase V expansion project to a joint venture of WorleyParsons (25%) and Foster Wheeler (75%).

This confirmation follows positive final investment decisions by all of the North West Shelf Venture participant companies on the project which will expand the onshore liquefied natural gas (LNG) facilities at Karratha in Western Australia.

The A$2 billion LNG Phase V expansion project will include a fifth train to process 4.2 million tonnes of liquefied natural gas a year and will increase the plant's capacity to 15.9 million tonnes a year.

The expansion project also includes an additional fractionation unit, acid gas recovery unit, boil-off gas compressor, fuel gas system compressor, two new gas turbine power generation units and a second loading berth.

WorleyParsons Chief Executive Officer, Mr John Grill, said:

“I am delighted that this important project has now been confirmed by the North West Shelf Venture. The Award of this contract extends our position in the rapidly expanding global LNG business. The project team will be focused on delivering a safe, successful and high quality facility for Woodside.”

NORTH WEST SHELF VENTURE APPROVES LNG EXPANSION

Work will begin immediately on expanding the North West Shelf Venture's onshore liquefied natural gas (LNG) facilities at Karratha in Western Australia following final investment decisions by all of the joint-venture participants.

The A$2 billion Phase V expansion project will include a fifth train to process 4.2 million tonnes of liquefied natural gas a year and will increase the plant's capacity to 15.9 million tonnes a year.

The project, which is operated by Woodside Energy on behalf of BP, BHP Billiton, ChevronTexaco Australia, MIMI (a company that is ultimately owned by Mitsubishi and Mitsui) and Shell, will include additional processing facilities and associated infrastructure.

Site work will start in July 2005 and the project is expected to take approximately three years to complete with commissioning due to start around mid-2008 and first LNG cargoes planned from Q4 2008.

By mid-2007, the project's construction workforce is expected to peak at up to 1500 people.

Woodside's Director of North West Shelf Ventures, Jack Hamilton, said the expansion would bring significant economic and social benefits to the Pilbara region, Western Australia and Australia.

"Our plant will be one of the largest single LNG complexes in the Asia-Pacific region following expansion," Dr Hamilton said.

"The Venture's latest investment follows last year's successful commissioning of a fourth LNG processing train and second trunkline and, combined, these major projects will have enabled the Venture to effectively double its LNG capacity in approximately four years.

"As a result of the Venture's growth, Australia will continue to reap associated economic benefits through annual royalty payments which will exceed A$800 million when the project is finished and operating at full production."

Dr Hamilton said the Venture's decision to continue investing was underpinned by long-term customer relationships and contracts and market opportunities in major growth regions including Japan, China, Korea and the United States.

"We remain confident that we will extend important relationships with our current long-term customers and secure new supply contracts with existing and new customers for LNG volumes," he said.

"We also believe that the timing of our project will enhance our marketing success and reinforce the Venture's current position as a safe and highly reliable supplier of LNG throughout the world."

Dr Hamilton said the Venture was committed to providing full, fair and reasonable opportunities for Australian industry in the expansion project.

"With the assistance of the Industry Capability Network Western Australia, the Venture has developed an Australian Industry Participation Plan for the project which will ensure local industry has the opportunity to tender on key procurement packages," Dr Hamilton said.

"It will also allow local suppliers to bid for lower-tier supply chain opportunities."

Australian companies and suppliers without specialist knowledge or with capacity limits will also be encouraged to form joint ventures with foreign companies to improve their competitiveness.

Woodside, as North West Shelf Venture Operator, will award the engineering, procurement and construction management contract for the expansion project to Foster Wheeler WA Pty Ltd and WorleyParsons Services Pty Ltd following a letter of intent agreed between the companies in February 2005.

The six equal participants in the North West Shelf Venture are Woodside Energy Ltd. (16.67%) (operator); BHP Billiton Petroleum (North West Shelf) Pty Ltd (16.67%); BP Developments Australia Pty Ltd (16.67%); ChevronTexaco Australia Pty Ltd (16.67%); Japan Australia LNG (MIMI) Pty Ltd (16.67%); and Shell Development (Australia) Proprietary Limited (16.67%).

CNOOC NWS Private Limited is also a member of the North West Shelf Venture but does not have an interest in North West Shelf Venture infrastructure.

“It is likely that the market for WorleyParsons’ services will continue to be very strong. Our key markets and sectors continue to experience positive conditions.

“We indicated our expectation that the acquisition of Parsons E&C would be earnings per share accretive (pre amortization) on the expected nine month contribution for the year ended 30 June 2005. We are pleased with the result for the half year but would note that the unusually strong contribution from the newly acquired Parsons E&C group reflects specific operational circumstances that may not be duplicated in the remainder of the financial year.

“Even so, based on the results achieved so far and subject to reasonable conditions in the markets in which we operate for the remainder of this financial year, we expect to deliver on our prospectus undertaking and would expect further earnings growth in the second half of the year.”

- Growing at about 1.5% per annum - amounts to an increase of between 40 and 50 million BPD over current production levels by 2030
- Driven by demand from Asia/transportation sector
- Significant shifts occurring within this growth envelope:
 - Output from mature fields is reducing (only 15% of 2030 production will be from fields in current production)
 - New fields are becoming more expensive to develop – global capex is increasing faster than production
 - Sustaining capital/opex on offshore projects is increasing faster than capex
 - High oil prices mean that new frontiers like deep and ultra-deepwater fields and oil sands are becoming feasible
- 60% of new upstream oil production capacity will come from OPEC countries
- A further 20% will come from Russia and Kazakhstan

- Production is growing faster than oil at just over 2% per annum, and gas reserves are growing even faster
- 58% of the world's gas reserves are in Qatar, Iran and Russia

WorleyParsons

- Major independent oil companies (IOCs) are having difficulty replacing reserves and are consolidating to provide growth
- National oil companies (NOCs) dominate oil and gas reserves and are taking a more prominent role in production, pushing the IOCs to a more subservient role to the NOCs
