Legislation has been assented to but is as yet unproclaimed in the Province of Alberta that, upon becoming effective, will provide that a Unitholder will not be, as a beneficiary, liable for any act, default, obligation or liability of the Trustee that arises after the particular provision of such legislation comes into force.

Deductibility of Expenses

Although the General Partner is of the view that all expenses to be claimed by the Trust, Holding Trust, AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 will be reasonable and deductible, there can be no assurance that the CRA will agree. If the CRA successfully challenges the deductibility of any such expenses, the return to Unitholders may be adversely affected.

Potential Conflicts of Interest

Circumstances may arise where directors and officers of AltaGas and the General Partner are directors or officers of other entities which are in competition to the interests of AltaGas and the Trust. Pursuant to an agreement with the Trust dated May 1, 2004, Enbridge Inc. is presently entitled to and has appointed two directors to the board of the General Partner. These directors are not elected by Unitholders. There may be situations in which the interests of Enbridge Inc. will conflict with those of the Trust and its subsidiaries, including AltaGas.

The General Partner owes a fiduciary duty to AltaGas and the Trust. While the General Partner has agreed to indemnify the Trust in certain circumstances, the General Partner may not have sufficient assets to honour such indemnification.

Risks Inherent in the Ongoing Business of AltaGas

The following are the primary risks associated with the business and affairs of AltaGas and should be considered carefully in light of the fact that the Trust depends entirely on the operations and assets of AltaGas for its cash flow, and thereby its ability to pay distributions to Unitholders. These risks are applicable to AltaGas' current operations and AltaGas' expecte d future operations.

Operating Risk

As AltaGas continues to grow and diversify its midstream energy business the risk profile of AltaGas may change. AltaGas may enter into or expand business components where there is greater economic exposure and more "at risk" capital. AltaGas' expectation of higher returns from these businesses justifies the level of risk. In addition, AltaGas enters into these businesses on the basis that these risks can be actively managed.

AltaGas' current operations are subject to the risks normally associated with the operation and development of natural gas and power facilities, including mechanical failure, physical degradation, operator error, manufacturer defects, sabotage, terrorism, failure of supply, catastrophic events and natural disasters. The occurrence or continuation of these events could increase AltaGas' costs and reduce its ability to process or transport natural gas or deliver power.

AltaGas believes that operational risk is best managed by maintaining control over the timing of capital expenditures, operational decisions and costs by becoming the operator of the facilities in which it invests. At the end of 2003, AltaGas operated 65 of its 67 field gathering and processing facilities, all of its transmission facilities and all of AltaGas Utilities' distribution assets.

AltaGas does not operate its extraction plant interests or the assets related to its power purchase agreement ("PPA") based arrangements. Failure by the operators of these facilities to operate at the cost or in the manner projected by AltaGas could negatively affect AltaGas' results.

Facility Throughput

The majority of AltaGas' gathering and processing facilities process or transport natural gas from the Western Canadian Sedimentary Basin. Continuing use of these systems is dependent on a number of factors including the level of exploration and development within the basin, remaining reserves and the ability of producers to discover or develop new reserves within the areas serviced by AltaGas' facilities, the longer term price of natural gas, the ability of natural gas producers to deliver natural gas to the various pipeline systems and the regulatory environment for producers, transporters and consumers of natural gas.

Throughput at AltaGas' gathering and processing facilities is influenced by production of natural gas in the areas serviced by AltaGas. At all of its field gathering and processing facilities, AltaGas actively pursues opportunities to maintain or increase throughput and has been successful in offsetting production declines. AltaGas' contract provisions mitigate the impact of volume declines, generate additional volumes for gathering and processing at its facilities, encourage expansion into areas where AltaGas' facilities are located and allow AltaGas to recover its invested capital in a relatively short period of time. The majority of AltaGas' field processing facilities are skid-mounted and can be moved to areas with favourable production potential should a particular area's production decline significantly.

Market Risk

AltaGas is exposed to market risks resulting from movements in commodity prices and interest rates. AltaGas manages its exposure to these risks through the use of various physical and financial instruments.

AltaGas' Commodity Risk Management Policy details the parameters used to measure, monitor and report commodity price risks. It also includes risk management guidelines and objectives, risk tolerance and approved products. This policy prohibits the use of physical and financial instruments for speculative purposes.

Electricity Prices

AltaGas' revenue from electricity sales related to PPAs are subject to Alberta electricity market factors such as fluctuating supply and demand, which may be affected by weather, customer usage, economic activity and growth. AltaGas reduces its exposure to floating electricity prices by supplying internal electrical demand requirements and locking in margins with financial instruments.

Natural Gas Liquids Fractionation Price

AltaGas' extraction business depends in part on the level of demand for and pricing of NGLs. AltaGas cannot predict the impact of future economic conditions, fuel conservation measures, alternative fuel requirements, governmental regulation or technological advances in fuel economy and energy generation devices, all of which could reduce the demand for natural gas and NGLs. Because NGLs are a feedstock to the petrochemical industry, there is a historical relationship between NGLs prices and crude oil prices. As crude oil prices fall, NGLs prices will generally decrease subject to other factors that influence the supply and demand. All of AltaGas' net share of the ethane production and approximately 50% of AltaGas' share of NGLs bear no commodity price risk. The remaining NGLs are subject to the spread between the price received for the NGLs extracted and the price paid for the natural gas purchased to make up the heating value of the NGLs extracted, after subtracting operating costs.

Interest Rate

AltaGas is exposed to interest rate fluctuations on variable rate debt. AltaGas monitors its level of fixed to floating and variable rate debt instruments and from time to time interest rate swaps are used to help maintain balances of each commensurate with AltaGas' target to have 70% to 75% of its debt at fixed interest rates. At May 1, 2004, AltaGas had fixed interest rates on $205.0 million, or approximately 71%, of its floating rate debt through interest rate swaps. At May 1, 2004, approximately $305.0 million, or approximately 78%, of AltaGas' total debt, including its Medium Term Notes and swaps, was at fixed interest rates.

Weather

The Alberta Energy Utilities Board sets rates based upon a deemed capital structure, an allowed rate of return on common equity, an approved rate base and costs expected to be incurred by the utility assuming normal weather conditions. As customers are billed on an actual volume basis, the utility's ability to recover the allowed rate of return depends upon achieving the forecast distribution volumes under "normal weather" conditions. In addition, warmer than normal weather may result in lower than expected demand and a lower rate of return than allowed.

Regulatory

AltaGas' businesses are subject to regulation in the jurisdictions in which they carry on business. Pipelines and facilities can be subject to common carrier and common processor applications and to rate setting by the regulatory authorities in the event an agreement on fees or tariffs cannot be reached with producers. To the extent that producers believe processing fees or tariffs respecting pipelines and facilities are too high, they may seek relief through regulatory intervention. In the natural gas distribution business under return on rate base regulation, rates are set which allow the regulated entity the opportunity to cover its costs and earn a reasonable return. However there is no guarantee that the entity will earn its fair return because rates are set to cover future estimated costs based on future estimated demand and "normal weather" conditions and the entity's actual revenues may be more or less than the actual costs.

Credit Risk

AltaGas is exposed to credit-related losses in the event that counterparties to contracts fail to fulfill their present or future financial obligations to AltaGas. AltaGas minimizes counterparty risk by conducting credit reviews on clients prior to providing services, by participating in contract negotiations to include credit mitigation clauses and by obtaining financial or performance assurances from clients. AltaGas provides an allowance for doubtful accounts in the normal course of its business.

AUDITORS, TRANSFER AGENT AND REGISTRAR

The auditors of the Trust are Ernst & Young LLP, Chartered Accountants, Calgary, Alberta.

The transfer agent and registrar for the Units is Computershare Trust Company of Canada at its principal offices in Toronto and Calgary.

PURCHASERS' STATUTORY RIGHTS

Securities legislation in several of the provinces of Canada provides purchasers with the right to withdraw from an agreement to purchase securities. This right may be exercised within two business days after receipt or deemed receipt of a prospectus and any amendment. In several of the provinces, the securities legislation further provides a purchaser with remedies for rescission or, in some jurisdictions, damages if the prospectus and any amendment contains a misrepresentation or is not delivered to the purchaser, provided that such remedies for rescission or damages are exercised by the purchaser within the time limit prescribed by the securities legislation of the purchaser's province. The purchaser should refer to any applicable provisions of the securities legislation of the purchaser's province for the particulars of these rights or consult with a legal adviser.

Short Form Prospectus

New Issue June 3, 2004

AltaGas

ALTAGAS INCOME TRUST

4,300,000 Trust Units

This short form prospectus qualifies the distribution of 4,300,000 trust units ("Units") of AltaGas Income Trust (the "Trust"). The outstanding Units are listed on the Toronto Stock Exchange (the "TSX") under the trading symbol "ALA.UN". On May 26, 2004, the last trading day prior to the announcement of the offering, the closing price of the Units on the TSX was $19.08 and on June 2, 2004, the closing price of the Units on the TSX was $18.80. The TSX has conditionally approved the listing of the Units offered hereby subject to the Trust fulfilling all of the listing requirements of the TSX on or before August 25, 2004. The price of the Units was determined by negotiation between AltaGas General Partner Inc., on behalf of the Trust, and RBC Dominion Securities Inc., Clarus Securities Inc., BMO Nesbitt Burns Inc., Scotia Capital Inc., CIBC World Markets Inc., National Bank Financial Inc., Canaccord Capital Corporation and Peters & Co. Limited (collectively, the "Underwriters").

Price: $18.70 per Unit

	Price to Public	Underwriters' Fee	Net Proceeds to the Trust[1]
Per Unit	$18.70	$0.935	$17.765
Total[2]	$80,410,000	$4,020,500	$76,389,500

(1) Before deducting expenses of the offering, estimated to be $200,000, which will be paid from general funds of the Trust.

(2) The Trust has also granted to the Underwriters an option (the "Over-Allotment Option") to purchase up to an additional 430,000 Units at a price of $18.70 per Unit, exercisable in whole or in part, at any time prior to 30 days after the closing of the offering, solely to cover over-allotments, if any, and for market stabilization purposes. If the Over-Allotment Option is exercised in full, the Price to Public, Underwriters' Fee and Net Proceeds to the Trust will be $88,451,000, $4,422,550 and $84,028,450, respectively. This short form prospectus qualifies the distribution of the Units issuable upon exercise of the Over-Allotment Option. See "Plan of Distribution."

Subscribers who purchase Units pursuant to the offering and who hold such Units on the relevant record date will be eligible to receive distributions commencing with the distribution anticipated to be payable on or about July 15, 2004, provided closing of the offering occurs by June 25, 2004, the anticipated record date for such distribution. Subscribers will not be eligible to receive the distribution to be paid on June 15, 2004, the record date for which was May 25, 2004.

The Underwriters, as principals, conditionally offer the Units, subject to prior sale, if, as and when issued and sold by the Trust and accepted by the Underwriters in accordance with the conditions contained in the underwriting agreement referred to under "Plan of Distribution" and subject to approval of certain legal matters on behalf of the Trust by Stikeman Elliott LLP and on behalf of the Underwriters by Blake, Cassels & Graydon LLP. Subscriptions for Units will be received subject to rejection or allotment in whole or in part and the right is reserved to close the subscription books at any time without notice. The Underwriters may over-allot or effect transactions which stabilize or maintain the market price for the Units at levels other than those which otherwise might prevail in the open market. See "Plan of Distribution". Definitive Unit certificates will be available for delivery at closing, which is expected to occur on or about June 10, 2004 but in any event not later than June 24, 2004.

RBC Dominion Securities Inc., BMO Nesbitt Burns Inc., Scotia Capital Inc., CIBC World Markets Inc. and National Bank Financial Inc. are subsidiaries of Canadian banks that are lenders to AltaGas Ltd. ("AltaGas"), an indirect subsidiary of the

Trust, and to which AltaGas is currently indebted. Accordingly, under applicable securities laws, the Trust may be considered a "connected issuer" to RBC Dominion Securities Inc., BMO Nesbitt Burns Inc., Scotia Capital Inc., CIBC World Markets Inc. and National Bank Financial Inc. See "Relationships Among the Trust, AltaGas and Certain Underwriters."

The Units are not "deposits" within the meaning of the Canada Deposit Insurance Corporation Act (Canada) and are not insured under the provisions of that Act or any other legislation. Furthermore, the Trust is not a trust company and, accordingly, it is not registered under any trust and loan company legislation as it does not carry on or intend to carry on the business of a trust company.

NOTE REGARDING FORWARD LOOKING STATEMENTS

This short form prospectus and the documents incorporated by reference herein contain forward-looking statements. When used in this short form prospectus and the documents incorporated by reference herein, the words "may", "would", "could", "will", "intend", "plan", "anticipate", "believe", "seek", "propose", "estimate", "expect", and similar expressions, as they relate to the Trust or an affiliate of the Trust, are intended to identify forward-looking statements. These statements involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors that may cause actual results or events to differ materially from those anticipated in such forward-looking statements. Such statements reflect the Trust's current views with respect to future events and are subject to certain risks, uncertainties and assumptions, including, without limitation, those described in this short form prospectus under the heading "Risk Factors". Many factors could cause the Trust's actual results, performance or achievements to vary from those described in this short form prospectus and the documents incorporated by reference herein. Should one or more of these risks or uncertainties materialize, or should assumptions underlying forward-looking statements prove incorrect, actual results may vary materially from those described in this short form prospectus and the documents incorporated by reference herein as intended, planned, anticipated, believed, estimated or expected, and such forward-looking statements included in this short form prospectus or the documents incorporated by reference herein should not be unduly relied upon. These statements speak only as of the date of this short form prospectus or as of the date specified in the documents incorporated by reference herein, as the case may be. The Trust does not intend, and does not assume any obligation, to update these forward-looking statements.

In particular, this short form prospectus and the documents incorporated by reference herein contain forward-looking statements pertaining to the following: the amount and timing of distributions in respect of the Units; treatment under applicable tax legislation; expectations regarding the ability to maintain its competitive position; expectations regarding the ability to raise capital; treatment under governmental regulatory regimes; and commodity prices.

Actual results could differ materially from those anticipated in these forward-looking statements as a result of the risk factors set forth below and elsewhere in this short form prospectus: general economic conditions in Canada and the United States; industry conditions; governmental regulations; volatility of commodity prices; currency fluctuations; environmental risks; competition; lack of availability of qualified personnel or management; the ability to integrate technological advances and match advances of competition; the availability of capital; and the other factors considered under "Risk Factors".

These factors should not be construed as exhaustive.

"Trustee" means Computershare Trust Company of Canada, as initial trustee pursuant to the Declaration of Trust;

"Unitholders" means the holders from time to time of Units;

"Voting and Exchange Trust Agreement" means the voting and exchange trust agreement dated May 1, 2004 among the Trust, AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2 and the Voting and Exchange Trustee, as from time to time amended, supplemented or restated; and

"Voting and Exchange Trustee" means Computershare Trust Company of Canada, as initial trustee under the Voting and Exchange Trust Agreement, or such other person as becomes the trustee under the Voting and Exchange Trust Agreement in accordance with such agreement.

All dollar amounts in this short form prospectus are in Canadian dollars unless otherwise stated.

DESCRIPTION OF CASH FLOW OF THE TRUST

Throughout this short form prospectus and the documents incorporated by reference herein, the Trust uses the term "Cash Flow of the Trust" to refer to the amount of cash that is to be available for distributions to Unitholders. "Cash Flow of the Trust" is not a measure recognized by Canadian generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP") and does not have a standardized meaning prescribed by GAAP, but is an amount calculated in accordance with the terms of the Declaration of Trust. Therefore, Cash Flow of the Trust may not be comparable to similar measures presented by other issuers, and investors are cautioned that Cash Flow of the Trust should not be considered as an alternative to net earnings, cash flow from operating activities or other measures of financial performance calculated in accordance with GAAP.

ELIGIBILITY FOR INVESTMENT

Based in part upon representations made by AltaGas as to certain factual matters, in the opinion of Stikeman Elliott LLP and Blake, Cassels & Graydon LLP, the Units offered hereby will, on the date of closing, be qualified investments under the Tax Act for Exempt Plans and will not, on the date of closing, be foreign property for purposes of the Tax Act.

It is not certain whether the Trust would be a "business income trust" or whether the Units would constitute "restricted investment property" as described in proposed amendments to the Tax Act announced by the Minister of Finance (Canada) in the Budget. Under that Budget proposal, certain investors, including registered pension funds or plans and pension corporations, but not Exempt Plans, were to be liable to a penalty tax commencing in 2005 in respect of their holdings of restricted investment property and units of business income trusts in excess of the limits described in the Budget proposal. On May 18, 2004, the Minister of Finance (Canada) announced that this Budget proposal will be suspended pending further consultation and review. See "Certain Canadian Federal Income Tax Considerations" and "Risk Factors."

DOCUMENTS INCORPORATED BY REFERENCE

Information has been incorporated by reference in this short form prospectus from documents filed with securities commissions or similar authorities in Canada. For the purpose of the Province of Québec, this simplified prospectus contains information to be completed by consulting the permanent information record. Copies of the documents incorporated herein by reference and of the permanent information record may be obtained on request without charge from the Vice-President, General Counsel and Corporate Secretary of AltaGas at 1700, 355 – 4th Avenue S.W., Calgary, Alberta, T2P 0J1, Telephone: (403) 691-7540. These documents are also available through the Internet on the System for Electronic Document Analysis and Retrieval (SEDAR), which can be accessed at www.sedar.com.

The following documents of the Trust or AltaGas, filed with the various provincial securities commissions or similar authorities in Canada, are specifically incorporated into and form an integral part of this short form prospectus:

(a) the Renewal Annual Information Form of AltaGas Services dated March 18, 2004 (the "AIF"), including management's discussion and analysis of the financial condition and operations of AltaGas Services for the year ended December 31, 2003 incorporated by reference therein;

(b) the audited consolidated financial statements of AltaGas Services as at and for the years ended December 31, 2003 and 2002, together with the auditors' report thereon;

(c) the unaudited consolidated financial statements of AltaGas Services as at and for the three months ended March 31, 2004 and 2003;

(d) management's discussion and analysis of the financial condition and operations of AltaGas Services for the three months ended March 31, 2004 and 2003;

(e) the Information Circular and Proxy Statement dated March 26, 2004 relating to the Special Meeting of Securityholders of AltaGas Services held on April 29, 2004 (the "Information Circular"), excluding the sections entitled "Report on Employee and Executive Compensation", "Performance Graph" and "Statement of Corporate Governance Practices";

(f) the material change report of AltaGas Services dated March 22, 2004 with respect to the reorganization of the business of AltaGas Services into an income trust; and

(g) the material change report of the Trust dated May 10, 2004 with respect to the completion of reorganization of the business of AltaGas Services into an income trust.

Any material change reports (except confidential material change reports), comparative interim financial statements, comparative annual financial statements and the auditors' report thereon and information circulars (excluding the disclosure in an information circular relating to the downward repricing of options or stock appreciation rights, the composition of the Trust's compensation committee and its report on executive compensation, the performance graph and corporate governance practices) filed by the Trust with the provincial securities commissions or similar authorities in Canada after the date of this short form prospectus and before the termination of the offering, are deemed to be incorporated by reference in this short form prospectus.

Any statement contained in a document incorporated or deemed to be incorporated by reference herein shall be deemed to be modified or superseded for the purposes of this short form prospectus to the extent that a statement contained herein or in any other subsequently filed document which also is, or is deemed to be, incorporated by reference herein modifies or supersedes such statement. The modifying or superseding statement need not state that it has modified or superseded a prior statement or include any other information set forth in the document that it modifies or supersedes. The making of a modifying or superseding statement shall not be deemed an admission for any purposes that the modified or superseded statement, when made, constituted a misrepresentation, an untrue statement of a material fact or an omission to state a material fact that is required to be stated or that is necessary to make a statement not misleading in light of the circumstances in which it was made. Any statement so modified or superseded shall not be deemed, except as so modified or superseded, to constitute a part of this short form prospectus.

General

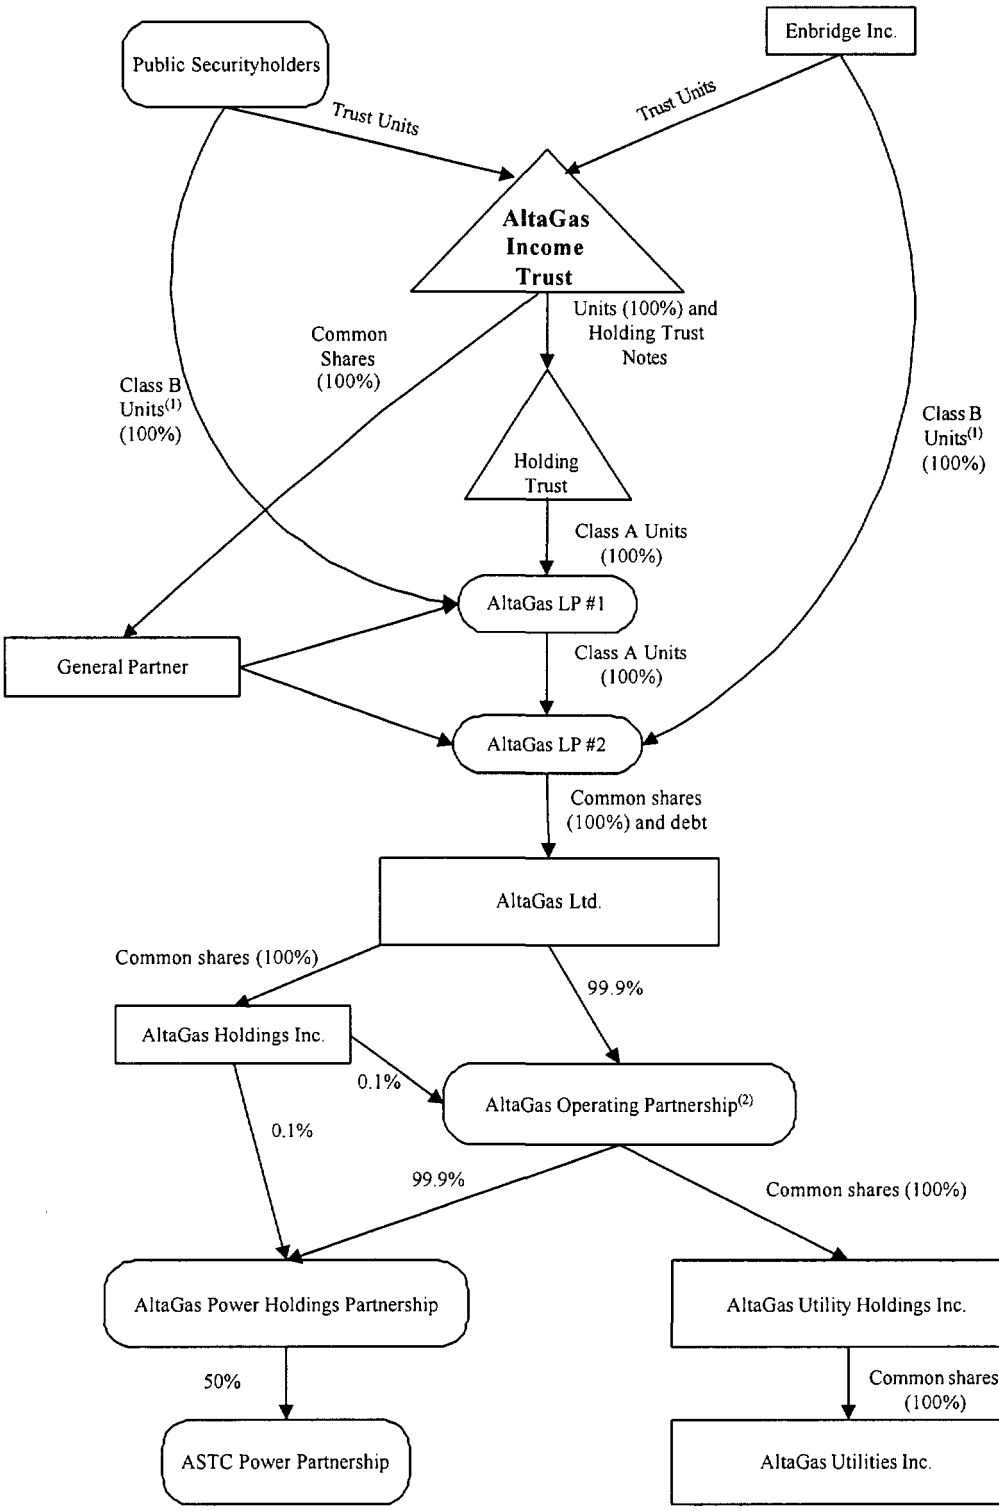
The Trust is an unincorporated open-ended investment trust governed by the laws of Alberta and created pursuant to the Declaration of Trust. The head and principal office of the Trust is located at 1700, 355 - 4th Avenue S.W., Calgary, Alberta T2P 0J1. The Trust was established for the purposes of acquiring or investing in the securities of entities involved in the business of, or the ownership, lease or operation of assets or property in connection with gathering, processing, transporting, extracting, buying, storing or selling petroleum, natural gas, natural gas liquids or other related products, power or other forms of energy and related businesses and such other investments as the Trust may determine.

Holders of Units are the sole beneficiaries of the Trust. Computershare Trust Company of Canada is the initial trustee of the Trust.

General Partner

The Trust is administered by the General Partner, which is also the general partner of AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2. The board of directors of the General Partner also has the power to manage, or supervise the management of, the business and affairs of AltaGas pursuant to a unanimous shareholder agreement.

Business of AltaGas



AltaGas is an energy infrastructure based company and an indirect subsidiary of the Trust. AltaGas, directly and indirectly:

- Physically gathers, processes, extracts and transports natural gas;
- Contractually markets and transports natural gas and electrical power;
- Converts energy across and along the energy value chain to create higher-value added products; and
- Consumes natural gas and electrical power to operate its facilities.

AltaGas expects to continue to develop its asset base by seeking opportunities for expansion and acquisition in the natural gas, NGLs and power business in Canada and the northern United States.

Organizational Structure of the Trust

The following diagram shows the inter-entity relationships among the Trust and its material subsidiaries.

Notes:

(1) Class B limited partnership units of AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 are exchangeable for Trust Units at the option of the holder on a one-for-one basis, are entitled to vote with Unitholders pursuant to the Special Voting Unit and are entitled to the same cash payments per unit as the cash distributions made on a Unit.

(2) Subsequent to the Arrangement, substantially all of the operating assets formerly owned by AltaGas were contributed to, and certain obligations of AltaGas were assumed by, the AltaGas Operating Partnership.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

Trust Conversion

Effective May 1, 2004, the business of AltaGas Services was reorganized pursuant to the Arrangement and holders of common shares of AltaGas Services received Units and/or Exchangeable Securities in exchange for their common shares. AltaGas Services became an indirect subsidiary of the Trust and was amalgamated to form AltaGas. Additional information relating to the Arrangement is contained in the Information Circular, which is incorporated by reference herein.

Edmonton Ethane Extraction Plant Acquisition

On March 18, 2004, AltaGas Services announced that it had entered into a purchase and sale agreement with BP Canada Energy Resources Company ("BP") to acquire BP's 48 2/3% interest in the Edmonton Ethane Extraction Plant located at Edmonton, Alberta for approximately $46 million. The acquisition, expected to close during the second quarter of 2004, will increase AltaGas' net extraction processing capacity to 539 million cubic feet of gas per day.

Adoption of Distribution Reinvestment Plans

On May 20, 2004, the Trust adopted a Premium Distribution™, Distribution Reinvestment and Optional Unit Purchase Plan for Unitholders and each of AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 adopted a Premium Distribution™, Distribution Reinvestment and Optional Unit Purchase Plan for holders of Exchangeable Securities (collectively, the "DRIP Plans"), available in respect of monthly cash distributions or cash payments payable on or after June 15, 2004.

Under the DRIP Plans, eligible Unitholders and eligible holders of Exchangeable Securities may elect to receive a cash distribution of up to 102% of the cash distribution from the Trust, in the case of Units, or up to 102% of the cash payment from AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as applicable, in the case of Exchangeable Securities, that such Unitholder or holder of Exchangeable Securities would have otherwise been entitled to receive. Alternatively, Unitholders or holders of Exchangeable Securities can direct cash distributions or cash payments, as applicable, to be reinvested in additional Units at 95% of the "average market price" as defined in the DRIP Plans.

PremStar Energy Canada Ltd.

On May 26, 2004, the Trust announced that a subsidiary of the trust has executed a letter of intent to purchase the business of PremStar Energy Canada Ltd. and its subsidiaries, ECNG Inc. and Energistics Group Inc. (collectively, "PremStar"), for approximately $22.0 million, payable by way of 993,789 Trust Units issued from treasury plus approximately $1.2 million cash. The transaction is conditional on the execution of a purchase and sale agreement, which is expected to occur prior to July 1, 2004.

The PremStar group specializes in the procurement and supply of energy to end use customers. The PremStar acquisition will build on AltaGas' low risk, fee for service business through the provision of physical energy supply from the gas field directly to end use customers located primarily in Ontario. On a fee for service basis, the PremStar group provides energy supply, arranges for transportation services, and supports customers with valuable market information.

PLAN OF DISTRIBUTION

Pursuant to an agreement dated June 3, 2004 (the "Underwriting Agreement") between the Trust, AltaGas, AltaGas Operating Partnership and the Underwriters, the Trust has agreed to issue and sell 4,300,000 Units and the Underwriters have severally agreed to purchase all of such Units on June 10, 2004 or on such other date as may be agreed among the parties to the Underwriting Agreement (such date not to be later than June 24, 2004) at a price of $18.70 per Unit. The Underwriting Agreement provides that the Underwriters will be paid a fee of $0.935 per Unit purchased by the Underwriters from the Trust in consideration for their services in connection with the offering. The offering price of the Units was determined by negotiation between General Partner, on behalf of the Trust, and the Underwriters.

The Trust has granted to the Underwriters the Over-Allotment Option to purchase up to an additional 430,000 Units at a price of $18.70 per Unit, exercisable in whole or in part, at any time prior to 30 days after the closing of the offering, solely to cover over-allotments, if any, and for market stabilization purposes. If the Over-Allotment Option is exercised in full, the total offering, Underwriters' fee and net proceeds to the Trust will be $88,451,000, $4,422,550 and $84,028,450, respectively. This short form prospectus qualifies the distribution of the Units issuable upon exercise of the Over-Allotment Option.

The obligations of the Underwriters under the Underwriting Agreement are several, and not joint, and may be terminated upon the occurrence of certain stated events. If an Underwriter fails to purchase the Units which it has agreed to purchase, the remaining Underwriter or Underwriters may terminate their obligation to purchase their allotment of Units, or may, but are not obligated to, purchase the Units not purchased by the Underwriter or Underwriters which fail to purchase. The Underwriters are, however, obligated to take up and pay for all of the securities if any of the securities are purchased under the Underwriting Agreement. Pursuant to the Underwriting Agreement, the Trust, AltaGas and AltaGas Operating Partnership have agreed to indemnify the Underwriters and their respective agents, shareholders, directors, officers and employees against certain liabilities.

The Trust has applied to list the Units offered hereby on the TSX. The TSX has conditionally approved the listing of the Units offered hereby subject to the Trust fulfilling all of the listing requirements of the TSX on or before August 25, 2004.

The Trust has agreed with the Underwriters that it will not, during the period ending 90 days following the closing of the offering, issue or sell any Units or any securities convertible into or exchangeable for Units, without the prior written consent of RBC Dominion Securities Inc., such consent not to be unreasonably withheld, other than any issue of options pursuant to the Trust's Trust Unit Option Plan, and any issue of Units pursuant to options under such Plan, upon the exchange of Exchangeable Securities, pursuant to the Trust's DRIP Plans or in connection with the PremStar acquisition described under "Recent Developments." Enbridge has agreed with the Underwriters that it will not, during the period ending 90 days following the closing of the offering, sell any Units or any securities convertible into or exchangeable for Units without the prior written consent of RBC Dominion Securities Inc., such consent not to be unreasonably withheld.

Pursuant to applicable securities laws, the Underwriters may not, throughout the period of distribution under this short form prospectus, bid for or purchase Units. The foregoing restriction is subject to certain exceptions including: (i) a bid or purchase permitted under the by-laws and rules of the TSX relating to market stabilization and passive market making activities; and (ii) a bid or purchase made for or on behalf of a customer where the order was not solicited during the period of the distribution, provided that the bid or purchase was not engaged in for the purpose of creating actual or apparent active trading in, or raising the price of the Units. In connection with the offering, the Underwriters may over-allot or effect transactions that stabilize or maintain the market price of the Units at a level other than that which might otherwise prevail in the open market. Such transactions, if commenced, may be discontinued at any time.

The Units offered hereby have not been and will not be registered under the 1933 Act or any state securities laws, and accordingly may not be offered or sold within the United States of America or to U.S. Persons (as such term is defined in Regulation S under the 1933 Act) except in transactions exempt from the registration requirements of the 1933 Act and applicable state securities laws. However, the Underwriting Agreement permits the Underwriters to offer and resell the Units acquired pursuant to the Underwriting Agreement to qualified institutional buyers (as defined in Rule 144A under the 1933 Act) in the United States, provided such offers and sales are made in accordance with Rule 144A under the 1933 Act. In addition, the Underwriting Agreement provides that the Underwriters will offer and sell Units outside the United States only in accordance with Regulation S under the 1933 Act. In addition, until 40 days after the commencement of this offering, any offer or sale of Units offered hereby within the United States by any dealer (whether or not participating in the offering) may violate the registration requirements of the 1933 Act if such offer or sale is made otherwise than in accordance with Rule 144A under the 1933 Act.

USE OF PROCEEDS

The net proceeds of the offering to the Trust, after payment of the Underwriters' fee of $4,020,500 and expenses of the offering estimated to be $200,000, will be approximately $76,189,500. If the Over-Allotment Option is exercised in full, the net proceeds of the offering to the Trust, after payment of the Underwriters' fee of $4,422,550 and expenses of the offering estimated to be $200,000, will be approximately $83,828,450. See "Plan of Distribution." The net proceeds of the offering will be used by the Trust to indirectly subscribe for securities of AltaGas or will be indirectly loaned to AltaGas. AltaGas will use the net proceeds of the offering to reduce bank indebtedness, which may be redrawn and used for general corporate purposes including AltaGas' ongoing capital program, funding the acquisition of the Edmonton Ethane Extraction Plant referred to under "Recent Developments" and funding future acquisitions. See "Capitalization of the Trust" and "Relationship Among the Trust, AltaGas and Certain Underwriters."

CERTAIN CANADIAN FEDERAL INCOME TAX CONSIDERATIONS

In the opinion of Stikeman Elliott LLP and Blake, Cassels & Graydon LLP (collectively, "Counsel"), the following summary fairly describes the principal Canadian federal income tax considerations generally applicable under the Tax Act to a subscriber who acquires Units pursuant to the offering and who, for purposes of the Tax Act and at all relevant times, holds the Units as capital property and deals at arm's length with, and is not affiliated with, the Trust and the Underwriters. Generally, Units will be considered to be capital property to a holder provided the holder does not hold the Units in the course of carrying on a business of buying or selling securities and does not acquire them in one or more transactions considered to be an adventure in the nature of trade. Certain holders who are Residents and who might not otherwise be considered to hold their Units as capital property may, in certain circumstances, be entitled to make an irrevocable election in accordance with subsection 39(4) of the Tax Act to have them, and any other "Canadian securities" (as defined in the Tax Act), deemed to be capital property. Holders contemplating making such an election should first consult their own tax advisors.

This summary is not applicable to a Unitholder that is a "specified financial institution" as defined in the Tax Act or a "financial institution" as defined in the Tax Act for purposes of the mark-to-market rules, nor is it applicable to a Unitholder an interest in which would be a "tax shelter investment" under the Tax Act.

This summary is based upon the provisions of the Tax Act in force as of the date hereof, all specific proposals to amend the Tax Act publicly announced by the Minister of Finance (Canada) prior to the date hereof (the "Proposed Amendments"), and Counsel's understanding of the current published administrative practices of the Canada Revenue Agency ("CRA"). This summary is not exhaustive of all possible Canadian federal income tax considerations, and except for the Proposed Amendments, does not take into account or anticipate any changes in law or administrative practice, whether by legislative, governmental or judicial action, nor does it take into account provincial, territorial or foreign income tax legislation or considerations which may differ significantly from the Canadian federal income tax considerations discussed herein. No assurance can be given that the Proposed Amendments will be enacted as currently proposed or at all.

A Budget proposal to impose a tax on a registered pension plan's investment in trust units above certain limits unless 90% or more of the fair market value of the particular trust's property is attributable to, inter alia, real property was suspended by the Minister of Finance (Canada) on May 18, 2004 pending further consultation and review. Further, the Budget proposes to introduce changes to the Tax Act that will subject persons who are not Residents to tax in respect of certain distributions made by mutual fund trusts that currently are not subject to taxation in Canada. It is not clear whether these proposals, if enacted, will result in tax consequences to Unitholders that are materially different from those disclosed herein. Prospective Unitholders that are registered pension plans or who are not Residents should consult their own tax advisors regarding the income tax considerations applicable to them in their particular circumstances.

Based in part upon representations made by AltaGas as to certain factual matters, in the opinion of Counsel, the Trust presently qualifies as a "mutual fund trust" as defined in the Tax Act, and this summary assumes that the Trust will continue to so qualify at all times. In the event the Trust were not to so qualify, the income tax considerations would in some respects be materially different from those described below.

Taxation of the Trust

The Trust is subject to tax in each taxation year on its taxable income for the year, including net realized taxable capital gains, less the portion thereof that is paid or payable in the year to Unitholders and that is deducted by the Trust in computing its income for purposes of the Tax Act. An amount will be considered to be payable in a taxation year to a Unitholder if the Unitholder is entitled in the year to enforce payment of the amount. The taxation year of the Trust is the calendar year.

All or substantially all of the income of the Trust will consist of the income of Holding Trust (including net realized taxable capital gains) that is paid or becomes payable in the year by Holding Trust to the Trust and that is deducted by Holding Trust in computing its income for purposes of the Tax Act.

In computing its income, the Trust may deduct reasonable administrative, interest and other expenses incurred to earn income (provided such amounts are not reimbursed to it) and may amortize, over a five year period (subject to prorating for short taxation years) the underwriting fees and other expenses of the offering.

Under the Declaration of Trust, an amount equal to all of the income of the Trust for each year, including net realized capital gains, but excluding income which is designated by the Trust to a redeeming Unitholder and capital gains the tax on which may be offset by capital losses carried forward from prior years or is recoverable by the Trust, generally will be payable in the year to Unitholders by way of cash distributions, subject to the following exceptions. Income of the Trust which is applied to finance cash redemptions of Units or is otherwise unavailable for cash distributions will be distributed to Unitholders in the form of additional Units.

Capital gains of the Trust realized in connection with an in specie redemption of Units and certain income of the Trust may be designated to the redeeming Unitholder, with the result that the taxable portion of such gains and such income generally should be taxable to the redeeming Unitholder and not to the Trust.

Counsel has been advised that the Trust intends to make sufficient distributions in each year (in cash or by way of additional Units) of its income for tax purposes and any net realized taxable capital gains so that the Trust generally will not be liable for income tax under the Tax Act. The Trust generally is expected to designate to the Unitholders any taxable dividends or net taxable capital gains received or realized by it or designated to it by Holding Trust so that such amounts retain their character when received by Unitholders.

Taxation of Holding Trust

Holding Trust is subject to tax in each taxation year on its taxable income for the year, including net realized taxable capital gains, less the portion thereof that is paid or payable in the year to the Trust and that is deducted by Holding Trust in computing its income for purposes of the Tax Act. The taxation year of Holding Trust is the calendar year.

All or substantially all of the income of Holding Trust will consist of the portion of the income of AltaGas LP #1 that is allocated to Holding Trust. Amounts received or realized by AltaGas LP #1 as taxable dividends or net taxable capital gains will retain their character and be treated as such in the hands of Holding Trust to the extent allocated to Holding Trust. The amount of income allocated to Holding Trust from AltaGas LP #1 may exceed or be less than the amount of cash distributed by AltaGas LP #1 to Holding Trust.

In computing its income for tax purposes, Holding Trust may deduct reasonable administrative, interest and other expenses incurred to earn income (provided such amounts are not reimbursed to it).

Under the Holding Trust declaration of trust, an amount equal to all of the income of Holding Trust, including net realized capital gains, generally will be payable to the Trust and, therefore, deductible in computing Holding Trust's income for tax purposes. Accordingly, Holding Trust generally will not be liable for income tax. Holding Trust generally is expected to designate to the Trust any taxable dividends and net taxable capital gains received under the Tax Act so that such amounts retain their character as such when received by the Trust.

Taxation of AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2

Neither AltaGas LP #1 nor AltaGas LP #2 is subject to tax under the Tax Act. AltaGas LP #1, as a partner of AltaGas LP #2, is required to include in computing its income for a particular fiscal year its share of the income or loss of AltaGas LP #2 for the fiscal year of AltaGas LP #2 ending in that fiscal year of AltaGas LP #1, whether or not any such income is distributed to AltaGas LP #1 in the year. Similarly, Holding Trust, as a partner of AltaGas LP #1, is required to include in computing its income for a particular taxation year its share of the income or loss of AltaGas LP #1 for the fiscal year of AltaGas LP #1 ending in that taxation year of Holding Trust, whether or not any such income is distributed to Holding Trust in the year.

For these purposes, the income or loss of AltaGas LP #2 and AltaGas LP #1 will be computed for each of their respective fiscal years as if each of them was a separate person resident in Canada, and in making those computations, each of AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 will be entitled to deduct reasonable administrative, interest and other expenses incurred to earn income (provided such amounts are not reimbursed to it). All or substantially all of the income of AltaGas LP #2 for a fiscal year will consist of interest on the indebtedness of AltaGas that accrues to AltaGas LP #2 to the end of the year, or is received or becomes receivable by it before the end of the year, to the extent that such interest was not included in computing its income for a preceding year. Also, AltaGas LP #2 will include in its income for a fiscal year any dividends received by it on shares of AltaGas in that year. Such amounts will then be included in the income of AltaGas LP #1 to the extent they are allocated to AltaGas LP #1.

Residents

The following portion of this summary is applicable to a Unitholder who at all relevant times is, or is deemed to be, a Resident. The taxation of Unitholders who are not Residents is described below under "Persons other than Residents".

This summary does not address the tax considerations of participating in the DRIP Plans.

Trust Distributions

A Unitholder generally will be required to include in computing income for a particular taxation year of the Unitholder such portion of the net income of the Trust for a taxation year, including net realized taxable capital gains, as is paid or becomes payable to the Unitholder in that particular taxation year, whether received in cash, additional Units or otherwise. Provided that appropriate designations are made by the Trust and Holding Trust, such portion of any taxable dividends received from taxable Canadian corporations and net taxable capital gains as is paid or payable to a Unitholder will effectively retain its character and be treated as such in the hands of the Unitholder for purposes of the Tax Act. All other income of the Trust that is paid or becomes payable to a Unitholder generally will be considered income from property, irrespective of its source. Any loss of the Trust or Holding Trust for the purposes of the Tax Act cannot be allocated to, and cannot be treated as a loss of, a Unitholder.

The non-taxable portion of any net realized capital gains of the Trust that is paid or payable to a Unitholder in a taxation year will not be included in computing the Unitholder's income for the year and will not reduce the adjusted cost base ("ACB") of the Units held by the Unitholder. Any other amount in excess of the income of the Trust that is paid or payable to a Unitholder in a taxation year (otherwise than as proceeds of disposition on a redemption of Units) generally will not be included in the Unitholder's income for the year but will reduce the ACB of the Units held by the Unitholder. To the extent that the ACB of a Unit to a Unitholder would otherwise be a negative amount, that negative amount will be deemed to be a capital gain of the Unitholder from the disposition of the Unit in the year in which the negative amount arises, and the ACB of the Unit to the Unitholder will be reset to nil.

The cost to a Unitholder of a Unit will include all amounts paid or payable by the Unitholder for the Unit with certain adjustments. The cost to a Unitholder of additional Units received in lieu of a cash distribution of income (including net capital gains) will be the amount of such income paid in additional Units. The cost to a Unitholder of all Units held as capital property will be averaged to determine the ACB of each such Unit.

Acquisition of Units

Since the income of the Trust will be distributed on a monthly basis, a purchaser of a Unit may become taxable on a portion of the income of the Trust accrued or realized by the Trust in a month before the time the Unit was purchased but which was not paid or made payable to Unitholders until the end of the month and after the time the Unit was purchased. A similar result may apply on an annual basis in respect of a portion of net taxable capital gains accrued or realized by the Trust in a year before the time the Unit was purchased but which is paid or made payable to Unitholders at year end and after the time the Unit was purchased.

Disposition of Units

The disposition or deemed disposition by a Unitholder of a Unit, whether on redemption or otherwise, generally will result in the Unitholder realizing a capital gain (or a capital loss) equal to the amount by which the proceeds of disposition exceed (or are less than) the aggregate of the Unitholder's ACB of the Unit and any reasonable costs of disposition. Proceeds of disposition will not include an amount payable by the Trust that is otherwise required to be included in the Unitholder's income. The treatment of capital gains and losses is described below under "Residents – Taxation of Capital Gains and Capital Losses".

Where a Unitholder receives Holding Trust Notes on a redemption of Units, the proceeds of disposition to the Unitholder of the Units will be equal to the fair market value ("FMV") of the Holding Trust Notes so distributed less any amount designated by the Trust to be an income distribution from the Trust. The Declaration of Trust provides that the Trustee has the discretion to designate certain income and any capital gain realized by the Trust as a result of the redemption of Units to the Unitholder redeeming Units, as is reasonable in the circumstances. The Unitholder will be required to include in income any such income so designated.

The cost of any Holding Trust Notes distributed by the Trust to a Unitholder upon a redemption of Units will be equal to the FMV of the Holding Trust Notes at the time of the distribution. For this purpose, the Unitholder will be required to determine the FMV of the Holding Trust Notes on a reasonable basis. A Unitholder who is a Resident will thereafter be required to include in income, in accordance with the provisions of the Tax Act, interest received, receivable or accruing on such Holding Trust Notes.

Taxation of Capital Gains and Capital Losses

Under the Tax Act, one-half of any capital gain realized by a Unitholder, and the amount of any net taxable capital gains designated by the Trust in respect of a Unitholder, will be included in such holder's income as a taxable capital gain. Subject to certain specific rules in the Tax Act, one-half of any capital loss (an "allowable capital loss") realized by a Unitholder must be deducted from taxable capital gains realized by, or designated to, the Unitholder in the year of disposition, and allowable capital losses in excess of taxable capital gains in the year of disposition may be deducted against taxable capital gains realized in any of the three preceding taxation years or any subsequent taxation year.

A Unitholder that throughout the relevant taxation year is a "Canadian-controlled private corporation", as defined in the Tax Act, may be liable to pay an additional refundable tax of $6^2/_3\%$ on certain investment income, including taxable capital gains.

A capital loss realized on the disposition of a Unit by a Unitholder that is a corporation or trust (other than a mutual fund trust), whether directly or as a member of a partnership, may be reduced in respect of certain distributions to the Unitholder out of dividends received by the Trust directly or through Holding Trust, AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2 and designated by the Trust in respect of the Unitholder, to the extent and under the circumstances described in the Tax Act.

Minimum Tax

Net income of the Trust that is paid or payable to a Unitholder that is designated as taxable dividends or as net taxable capital gains, and capital gains realized on the disposition of Units may increase the Unitholder's liability for minimum tax if the Unitholder is an individual.

Qualified Investment Status

Units will be qualified investments for Exempt Plans (subject to the specific provisions of any particular Exempt Plan) provided that the Trust qualifies as a mutual fund trust or a registered investment for purposes of the Tax Act. Counsel has been advised that the Trust intends to apply to be a registered investment under the Tax Act effective from the date of its formation. If the Trust does not become a registered investment, the Units would immediately cease to be qualified investments for Exempt Plans if the Trust ceased to be a mutual fund trust. If the Trust becomes a registered investment and subsequently ceases to qualify as a mutual fund trust, and consequently (or for any other reason) loses its status as a registered investment, the Units would cease to be qualified investments for Exempt Plans effective January 1st of the second calendar year following the year in which the Trust ceases to be a registered investment.

Holding Trust Notes received as a result of an in specie redemption of Units by the Trust will not be qualified investments for Exempt Plans, which could give rise to adverse consequences to the Exempt Plan or the annuitant thereunder. Accordingly, Exempt Plans that own Units should consult their own tax advisors before deciding to exercise the redemption right attached to the Units.

Registered Pension Plans

It is not certain whether the Trust would be a "business income trust" or whether the Units would constitute "restricted investment property" as described in certain Proposed Amendments announced by the Minister of Finance (Canada) in the Budget. Under those Proposed Amendments, certain investors, including registered pension funds or plans and pension corporations, but not Exempt Plans, were to be liable to a penalty tax commencing in 2005 in respect of their holdings of restricted investment property and units of business income trusts in excess of the limits described in those Proposed Amendments. On May 18, 2004, the Minister of Finance (Canada) announced that those Proposed Amendments will be suspended pending further consultation and review.

Foreign Property

Based in part on representations of the Trust, Holding Trust, AltaGas and the General Partner as to certain factual matters, the Units will not constitute foreign property for purposes of the Tax Act.

The Units may become foreign property at any time (unless the Trust is a registered investment) if the Trust either (i) ceases to qualify as a mutual fund trust, or (ii) does not restrict its holdings of foreign property within the limits provided under the Tax Act.

Persons other than Residents

The following portion of this summary generally is applicable to a Unitholder who at all relevant times is not, and is not deemed to be, a Resident ("Non-Resident") and who does not use or hold, and is not deemed to use or hold Units in connection with carrying on a business in Canada. Special rules, which are not discussed herein, may apply to a Unitholder that is a Non-Resident and that is an insurer carrying on business in Canada and elsewhere.

Trust Distributions

Generally, amounts in respect of income of the Trust that are paid or credited or deemed to be paid or credited, to a Non-Resident Unitholder, other than amounts designated by the Trust to be net taxable capital gains, will be subject to Canadian withholding tax at a rate of 25%, unless such rate is reduced under an applicable income tax convention. The rate of withholding tax is reduced to 15% where such distributions are paid or credited, or deemed to be paid or credited, to Unitholders who are Non-Residents and who are residents of the United States for purposes of the Canada-United States Tax Convention.

Pursuant to certain Proposed Amendments included in the Budget, the Trust will be required to maintain a separate account (the "TCP Gains Distribution Account") to which it will add its net capital gains from dispositions after March 22, 2004 of "taxable Canadian property" and from which it will deduct losses from dispositions of such property and distributions designated by the Trust to be capital gains. Amounts paid by the Trust to a Non-Resident Unitholder, which the Trust designates as capital gains, will be subject to Canadian withholding tax at the same rate as distributions in respect of Trust income to the extent the Trust has a positive balance in its TCP Gains Distribution Account.

Also under the Proposed Amendments, effective for distributions after 2004, if the value of the Units is considered to be primarily attributable to real property in Canada, all distributions by the Trust that would otherwise not be subject to withholding tax as described above may be subject to a special Canadian withholding tax of 15% of the amount of the distribution. This withholding tax, if applicable, may be refunded in certain circumstances where the holder disposes of Units at a loss, subject to detailed provisions contained in the Proposed Amendments. It is not certain whether this special withholding tax will apply to distributions by the Trust.

A Non-Resident Unitholder generally will not be subject to tax under the Tax Act in respect of any capital gain realized on a disposition or deemed disposition of a Unit (whether the disposition of such Unit is on sale, redemption, by virtue of capital distributions in excess of the Unitholder's ACB or otherwise) unless the Unit constitutes "taxable Canadian property" for purposes of the Tax Act of the Non-Resident Unitholder and no relief is available to the Non-Resident Unitholder under an applicable income tax convention.

A Unit generally will not be considered to be taxable Canadian property of a Unitholder unless either: (i) at any time during the 60 month period that ends at the time of the disposition of the Unit, 25% or more of the issued Units were owned by the Unitholder, by persons with whom the Unitholder did not deal at arm's length or by any combination thereof; or (ii) at the time of disposition, the Trust is not a "mutual fund trust" as defined in the Tax Act.

If a Non-Resident's Units are considered to be taxable Canadian property, on the disposition or deemed disposition thereof, the capital gain (or capital loss) generally will be treated in the manner described above under "Certain Canadian Federal Income Tax Considerations – Residents – Taxation of Capital Gains and Capital Losses". However, an applicable income tax convention may provide relief from Canadian tax on any such capital gain realized by the Unitholder.

Interest paid or credited on any Holding Trust Notes received by a Non-Resident Unitholder on an in specie redemption of Units will be subject to Canadian withholding tax at a rate of 25%, subject to a reduction in such rate under the terms of an applicable income tax treaty. Such rate of withholding tax generally will be reduced to 10% in the case of a non-resident who is a resident of the United States for purposes of the Canada-United States Tax Convention.

RELATIONSHIP AMONG THE TRUST, ALTAGAS AND CERTAIN UNDERWRITERS

RBC Dominion Securities Inc., BMO Nesbitt Burns Inc., Scotia Capital Inc., CIBC World Markets Inc. and National Bank Financial Inc. are subsidiaries of Canadian banks that are lenders to AltaGas. Accordingly, pursuant to applicable securities legislation, the Trust may be considered a "connected issuer" to RBC Dominion Securities Inc., BMO Nesbitt Burns Inc., Scotia Capital Inc., CIBC World Markets Inc. and National Bank Financial Inc. As at May 1, 2004, AltaGas was indebted to such banks in the amount of approximately $290.7 million. In addition, such banks have issued letters of credit to AltaGas in the aggregate amount of $28.7 million as at May 1, 2004. AltaGas is not in default of its obligations to such banks and none of such banks has waived any breach by AltaGas of the agreements relating to such obligations since their execution. The financial position of AltaGas has not changed substantially since the indebtedness under the credit facilities was incurred. The indebtedness is unsecured. The net proceeds of the offering to the Trust will be used to indirectly subscribe for securities of AltaGas or indirectly loaned to AltaGas. AltaGas will use the net proceeds of the offering to reduce bank indebtedness which may be redrawn and used for general corporate purposes including expanding AltaGas' ongoing capital program and funding future acquisitions. The decision to issue the Units offered hereby and the determination of the terms of the distribution were made through negotiation among the General Partner, on behalf of the Trust, and the Underwriters. The Canadian banks of which RBC Dominion Securities Inc., BMO Nesbitt Burns Inc., Scotia Capital Inc., CIBC World Markets Inc. and National Bank Financial Inc. are subsidiaries did not have any involvement in such decision or determination. As a consequence of the offering, each of RBC Dominion Securities Inc., BMO Nesbitt Burns Inc., Scotia Capital Inc., CIBC World Markets Inc. and National Bank Financial Inc. will receive its proportionate share of the Underwriters' fee.

CAPITALIZATION OF THE TRUST

The following table sets forth the consolidated capitalization of the Trust as at May 1, 2004, both before and after giving effect to the offering.

Designation	As at May 1, 2004 before giving effect to the offering	As at May 1, 2004 after giving effect to the offering
	(unaudited)	(unaudited)
Debt:
Operating loans [1][3]	$290,704,000	$214,514,500
Medium Term Notes [2]	$100,000,000	$100,000,000
Unit Capital:
Units [3][4]	$200,474,000 (33,668,068 Units)	$276,663,500 (37,968,068 Units)
Exchangeable Securities [5][6]	$73,002,000 (12,260,225 units)	$73,002,000 (12,260,225 units)

(1) At May 1, 2004, AltaGas had: i) a $50.0 million demand operating credit facility with a Canadian chartered bank (the "Operating Facility"); ii) a $300.0 million extendible revolving term credit facility with a syndicate of Canadian chartered banks (the "Extendible Facility"); and iii) a $75.0 million 364 day extendible revolving letter of credit facility with a Canadian chartered bank (the "LC Facility") (collectively, the "Operating Loans"). See "Relationship among the Trust, AltaGas and Certain Underwriters." The Operating Facility bears interest at the lender's prime rate or at the bankers' acceptance rate plus a stamping fee. The Extendible Facility bears interest at the lenders' prime rate or at the bankers' acceptance rate plus a stamping fee. The Extendible Facility matures on October 10, 2004 and may be extended for an additional 364 days or can be converted by AltaGas on that date to a two year term loan. The term loan is repayable over the two year period or at the end of the two year period, depending on the bond rating category of the long term senior unsecured indebtedness of AltaGas. The LC Facility bears fees and interest at market rates. It matures on July 31, 2004 but can be extended at AltaGas' request and acceptance by the bank. AltaGas has issued letters of credit under the Operating Loans in the aggregate amount of $28.7 million. See "Risk Factors – Debt Service".

(2) On October 4, 2000, AltaGas Services issued $100 million of 7.28% medium term notes (the "Medium Term Notes"). Interest is payable semi-annually and the principal is due on October 4, 2005. Following the Arrangement, AltaGas Operating Partnership became the obligor for the Medium Term Notes and is in compliance with all covenants and requirements contained in the indenture pursuant to which such notes were issued. See "Risk Factors."

(3) In the event the Over-Allotment Option is exercised in full, the number of outstanding Units will be 38,398,068 ($284,302,450) and the outstanding indebtedness under the Operating Loans will be reduced to $206,875,550.

(4) As at May 1, 2004, the Trust had outstanding, to officers, directors and employees, options to purchase an aggregate of 1,382,988 Units at prices ranging from $4.80 to $15.87 per Unit.

(5) There is one Special Voting Unit outstanding, representing, in aggregate, a maximum of 12,260,225 votes at meetings of Unitholders, subject to proportionate reduction upon exchange of Exchangeable Securities. See "Description of Units – Special Voting Units".

(6) Class B limited partnership units of AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 are exchangeable for Units at the option of the holder on a one-for-one basis, are entitled to vote with Unitholders pursuant to the Special Voting Unit and are entitled to the same cash payments per unit as the cash distributions made on a Unit.

(7) As at March 31, 2004, AltaGas Services' retained earnings were $100,943,000.

DESCRIPTION OF UNITS

Units

An unlimited number of Units may be created and issued pursuant to the Declaration of Trust. Each Unit entitles the holder thereof to one vote at any meeting of the Unitholders or in respect of any written resolution of Unitholders and represents an equal undivided beneficial interest in any distribution from the Trust (whether of income, net realized capital gains or other amounts) and in any net assets of the Trust in the event of termination or winding-up of the Trust. All Units shall rank among themselves equally and rateably without discrimination, preference or priority, whatever may be the actual date or terms of issue thereof. Each Unit is transferable, is not subject to any conversion or pre-emptive rights and entitles the holder thereof to require the Trust to redeem any or all of the Units held by such holder for cash or, in certain circumstances, Holding Trust Notes.

Issuance of Units

The Declaration of Trust provides that Units, including exchangeable securities, rights, warrants, options or other securities convertible into or exchangeable for Units, may be created, issued, sold and delivered on such terms and conditions and at such times as the Trustee may determine. The Declaration of Trust also provides that the Trustee may authorize the creation and issuance of any type of debt securities or convertible debt securities of the Trust from time to time on such terms and conditions to such persons and for such consideration as the Trustee may determine.

Special Voting Units

The Declaration of Trust allows for the creation of special voting units that will enable the Trust to provide voting rights to holders of Exchangeable Securities. A Special Voting Unit was issued pursuant to the Arrangement to enable the holders of Exchangeable Securities issued by AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 to vote at meetings of Unitholders.

The holder of a special voting unit, including the Voting and Exchange Trustee in respect of the Special Voting Unit, is not entitled to any interest or share in the distributions or net assets of the Trust and is only entitled to such number of votes at meetings of Unitholders as is equal to the number of Units into which the exchangeable securities to which such special voting unit relates are exchangeable or convertible.

Under the terms of the Voting and Exchange Trust Agreement, the Trust issued the Special Voting Unit to the Voting and Exchange Trustee for the benefit of every person who received Exchangeable Securities pursuant to the Arrangement. The Voting and Exchange Trustee is obligated to vote the Special Voting Unit at meetings of Unitholders pursuant to the instructions of the holders of Exchangeable Securities. However, if no instructions are provided by the holders of Exchangeable Securities, the votes associated therewith in the Special Voting Unit will be withheld from voting.

The special voting units will be subject to such other rights and limitations as may be determined by the Trustee at the time of issuance of the special voting unit. The Declaration of Trust provides that, upon the exchange of Exchangeable Securities for Units, the entitlement to vote pursuant to the special voting unit will be eliminated in respect of those Exchangeable Securities.

Cash Distributions

Pursuant to the Declaration of Trust, the Trust is required to make cash distributions to Unitholders each calendar month (or such other periods as may be determined by the Trustee) of all or any part of the Cash Flow of the Trust. Cash received by the Trust from its subsidiaries will be managed by the General Partner, giving consideration to the consolidated net income of the Trust, the consolidated growth and maintenance capital requirements of the Trust, the consolidated debt repayment requirements of the Trust and other factors. The intent of the General Partner is to maximize the cash received by the Trust from its subsidiaries giving consideration to these various factors.

Distributions in respect of a month will be paid to Unitholders of record as at the close of business on each determined distribution record date. The distribution for any month will be paid on the determined distribution payment date. In addition, the Declaration of Trust provides that, if necessary, on December 31st of each year, the Trust will distribute an additional amount such that the Trust will not be liable for ordinary income taxes for such year.

Subscribers who purchase Units pursuant to the offering and who hold such Units on the relevant record date will be eligible to receive distributions commencing with the distribution anticipated to be payable on or about July 15, 2004, provided closing of the offering occurs by June 25, 2004, the anticipated record date for such distribution. Subscribers will not be eligible to receive the distribution to be paid on June 15, 2004, the record date for which was May 25, 2004. The General Partner expects that substantially all of the cash distributions to Unitholders will be taxed as ordinary income or as dividends.

For additional information in respect of the Units, including information respecting Unitholders' limited liability, restrictions on non-resident Unitholders, the redemption right attached to the Units, meetings of Unitholders, and amendments to the Declaration of Trust, see "Declaration of Trust and Description of Units" on pages 79 through 85, inclusive, of the Information Circular.

LEGAL MATTERS

Certain legal matters in connection with the issuance of the Units offered hereby will be passed upon on behalf of the Trust by Stikeman Elliott LLP, Calgary, Alberta, and on behalf of the Underwriters by Blake, Cassels & Graydon LLP, Calgary, Alberta.

INTERESTS OF EXPERTS

The partners and associates of Stikeman Elliott LLP, as a group, and the partners and associates of Blake, Cassels & Graydon LLP, as a group, each own, directly or indirectly, less than 1% of the outstanding Units and Exchangeable

Securities. As of the date hereof, the partners and professional staff of Ernst & Young LLP, as a group, do not beneficially own, directly or indirectly, any of the Units or Exchangeable Securities. In addition, none of the aforementioned persons or companies, nor any director, officer or employee of any of the aforementioned persons or companies, is or is expected to be elected, appointed or employed as a director, officer or employee of the Trust or of any associate or affiliate of the Trust.

RISK FACTORS

A prospective investor should consider carefully the risk factors set out below and in the AIF incorporated by reference herein. In addition, prospective investors should carefully review and consider all other information contained in this short form prospectus before making an investment decision and consult their own experts where necessary.

Risks Inherent in an Investment in Units

Nature of Units

The Units do not represent a traditional investment in the diversified energy services business and should not be viewed by Unitholders as shares in AltaGas. The Units represent a fractional interest in the Trust. As holders of Units, Unitholders will not have the statutory rights normally associated with ownership of shares of a corporation including, for example, the right to bring "oppression" or "derivative" actions. The Trust's sole assets are the shares of the General Partner, the units of the Holding Trust, Holding Trust Notes and may include other investments in securities.

Cash distributions of the Trust are not guaranteed and the price per Unit is a function of anticipated distributions, the underlying assets of the Trust and management's ability to effect long-term growth in the value of AltaGas and other entities now or hereafter owned directly or indirectly by the Trust. The market price of the Units will be sensitive to a variety of market conditions including, but not limited to, interest rates, electricity prices and natural gas and natural gas liquids prices. Changes in market conditions may adversely affect the trading price of the Units.

The Units are not "deposits" within the meaning of the Canada Deposit Insurance Corporation Act (Canada) and are not insured under the provisions of that Act or any other legislation. Furthermore, the Trust is not a trust company and, accordingly, is not registered under any trust and loan company legislation as it does not carry on or intend to carry on the business of a trust company.

Potential Sales of Additional Units

The Trust may issue additional Units or securities convertible into or exchangeable for Units in the future to directly or indirectly fund capital expenditure requirements of AltaGas and other entities now or hereafter owned directly or indirectly by the Trust, including to finance acquisitions by those entities. Such additional Units may be issued without the approval of Unitholders. Unitholders will have no pre-emptive rights in connection with such additional issues. The Board of Directors of the General Partner has discretion in connection with the price and the other terms of the issue of such additional Units.

Nature of Distributions

Unlike interest payments on an interest-bearing security, cash distributions by income trusts on trust units (including those of the Trust) are, for Canadian tax purposes, composed of different types of payments (portions of which may be fully or partially taxable or may constitute non-taxable "returns of capital"). The composition for tax purposes of those cash distributions may change over time, thus affecting the after-tax return to Unitholders. Therefore, a Unitholder's rate of return over a defined period may not be comparable to the rate of return on a fixed-income security that provides a return on capital over the same period. This is because a Unitholder may receive cash distributions that constitute a return of capital (rather than a return on capital) to some extent during the relevant period. Returns on capital are generally taxed as ordinary income or as dividends in the hands of a Unitholder while returns of capital are generally non-taxable to a Unitholder (but reduce a Unitholder's cost base in the Unit for tax purposes). The General Partner expects that substantially all of the cash distributions to Unitholders will be taxed as ordinary income or as dividends. See "Description of Units – Cash Distributions". Unitholders are advised to consult their own tax advisors with respect to the implications of the distinction discussed above in their own circumstances.

Variability of Distributions

As the Cash Flow of the Trust available for distribution to Unitholders is a function of numerous factors, including AltaGas' financial performance, the impact of interest rates, electricity prices, natural gas and natural gas liquids prices, weather, debt covenants and obligations, working capital requirements, future capital requirements and the number of Units and Exchangeable Securities outstanding, depending on the operations of AltaGas and the performance of its assets, distributions may be reduced or suspended entirely.

The market value of the Units may deteriorate if the Trust is unable to meet its distribution targets in the future, and that deterioration may be material.

Changes in Legislation

Income tax laws relating to the Trust, such as the status of mutual fund trusts, may be changed in a manner which adversely affects Unitholders. If the Trust ceases to qualify as a mutual fund trust, and is not a registered investment, the Units will cease to be qualified investments for Exempt Plans. If the Trust ceases to qualify as a "mutual fund trust", the income tax considerations described under the heading "Certain Canadian Federal Income Tax Considerations" would be materially and adversely different in certain respects.

The Budget contained a proposal to subject distributions of capital after 2004 to non-residents by certain income trusts (which distributions currently are not subject to Canadian income tax) to a new 15% withholding tax. This tax will apply to Unitholders only if the value of the Units is "primarily attributable to real property in Canada or a Canadian resource property". It is not clear whether the Trust would meet this test and thereby be subject to the application of this proposal. If this proposal applies with respect to the Trust, it may adversely affect non-resident Unitholders who are not entitled to a deduction or credit for such withholding tax against income taxes otherwise payable by them in another jurisdiction.

The Budget also contained several proposals relating specifically to the tax treatment of certain tax exempt holders of units of certain income trusts. After 2004, a penalty tax is proposed for certain Canadian tax exempt entities, such as registered pension funds, which hold excess amounts of units or debt of "business income trusts". Generally, the restrictions limit the aggregate amount of such holdings to 1% of the cost of all of the entity's property and limit the holdings of such entities (together with entities with which they do not deal at arm's length) to 5% of the total fair market value of any class of units of a particular trust. These proposals do not apply to Exempt Plans. Due to the nature of the assets held indirectly by the Trust, it is not clear for the purposes of these rules whether the Trust will be considered to be a "business income trust" to which these restrictions will apply. The Minister of Finance (Canada) announced on May 18, 2004 that this proposal would be suspended pending further consultation and review. There can be no assurance as to whether such suspension will be permanent or, alternatively, such restrictions on "business income trusts" will be applied as previously announced or in some modified form.

Environmental and applicable operating legislation may be changed in a manner which adversely affects AltaGas through the imposition of restrictions on its business activities or by the introduction of regulations that increase AltaGas' operating costs thereby indirectly affecting the Trust and potentially reducing distributions to Unitholders.

Loss of Mutual Fund Trust Status

The General Partner intends that the Trust will continue to qualify as a mutual fund trust for purposes of the Tax Act. The Trust may not, however, always be able to satisfy any future requirements for the maintenance of mutual fund trust status. See "– Changes in Legislation" above. Should the status of the Trust as a mutual fund trust be lost or successfully challenged by a relevant tax authority, certain adverse consequences may arise for the Trust and Unitholders. Some of the significant consequences of losing mutual fund trust status are listed below.

(a) If at the time the Trust ceased to be a mutual fund trust it had not become a registered investment, the Units would immediately cease to be qualified investments for Exempt Plans. If the Trust were a registered investment, it may, as a consequence of ceasing to be a mutual fund trust, also cease to be a registered investment. In that event, Units would cease to be qualified investments for Exempt Plans effective January 1st of the second calendar year following the year in which the Trust ceases to be a registered investment. If, at the end of any month, an Exempt Plan holds Units that are not qualified investments, the plan must pay a tax equal to 1% of the fair market value of the Units at the time the Units were acquired by the Exempt Plan. A registered retirement savings plan or registered retirement income fund holding Units that are not qualified investments would be subject to taxation on income attributable to the Units, including the full amount of any capital gain from a disposition of such Units. If a registered education savings plan holds Units that are not qualified investments, it may have its registration revoked by the CRA.

(b) Units held by Non-Resident Unitholders would become taxable Canadian property. Non-Resident Unitholders would be subject to Canadian income tax and reporting requirements on any gains realized on a disposition of Units held by them.

(c) The Trust would be taxed on certain types of income distributed to Unitholders. Payment of this tax may have adverse consequences for some Unitholders, particularly Unitholders that are not residents of Canada and residents of Canada that are otherwise exempt from Canadian income tax.

(d) The Trust would cease to be eligible for the capital gains refund mechanism available under Canadian tax laws if it ceased to be a mutual fund trust.

(e) The Trust would no longer be exempt from the application of the alternative minimum tax provisions of the Tax Act.

(f) If the Trust either does not become a registered investment, or having become a registered investment also ceased to be a registered investment, the Units would constitute "foreign property" for the purposes of the Tax Act.

In addition, the Trust may take certain measures in the future to the extent it believes necessary to ensure that the Trust maintains its status as a mutual fund trust. These measures could be adverse to certain Unitholders, particularly Non-Residents. See "- Risks Associated With the Level of Foreign Ownership" below.

Risks Associated With the Level of Foreign Ownership

The Declaration of Trust contains a number of provisions designed to protect the status of the Trust as a "mutual fund trust" under the Tax Act which, inter alia, requires that a mutual fund trust cannot be established or maintained primarily for the benefit of Non-Residents. There is no indication that the mutual fund trust status of the Trust currently is in jeopardy. If, in the future, the General Partner determines that any such risk exists, it is entitled to take a number of actions under the Declaration of Trust, including to require Unitholders that it believes are Non-Residents to sell their Units, which action may have an adverse effect on the market price of the Units. In addition, there can be no assurances that the Tax Act will not be amended in the future in a manner that would have a material adverse impact on the mutual fund trust status of the Trust.

Distribution of Holding Trust Notes or Other Securities on Redemption or Termination of the Trust

It is anticipated that the redemption right will not be the primary mechanism for Unitholders to liquidate their investment. Holding Trust Notes which may be received as a result of a redemption of Units will not be listed on any stock exchange and no market for Holding Trust Notes is expected to develop. The Holding Trust Notes will not be qualified investments for Exempt Plans. On termination of the Trust, the Trustee may distribute securities directly to Unitholders, subject to obtaining all of the necessary regulatory approvals. In addition, there may be resale restrictions imposed by applicable law upon the recipients of Holding Trust Notes pursuant to the redemption right. The Holding Trust Notes will not be guaranteed by any other party, and the provisions of the Holding Trust Note Indenture governing events of default and the remedies available thereunder will not provide protection to the holders of Holding Trust Notes which would be comparable to the provisions generally found in debt securities issued to the public.

Debt Service

AltaGas may, from time to time, finance a significant portion of its operations through debt. Amounts paid in respect of interest and principal on debt incurred by AltaGas may impair AltaGas' ability to satisfy its obligations under indebtedness held indirectly by the Trust. Variations in interest rates and scheduled principal repayments could result in significant changes in the amount required to be applied to debt service before payment by AltaGas of its obligations under its indirect indebtedness to the Trust. Ultimately, this may result in lower levels of Cash Flow of the Trust and could reduce distributions to Unitholders.

The Operating Loans are unsecured and subject to customary covenants and financial tests which may in certain circumstances restrict AltaGas' ability to make distributions to AltaGas LP #2 and ultimately to Unitholders. The Medium Term Notes are subject to customary covenants and financial tests, including a restriction on total funded obligations as a ratio of total capitalization, and may in certain circumstances restrict AltaGas Operating Partnership's ability to make distributions to AltaGas and ultimately to Unitholders.

Structural and Contractual Subordination

In the event of a bankruptcy, liquidation or reorganization of AltaGas or AltaGas Operating Partnership, holders of their respective indebtedness and trade payables will generally be entitled to payment of their claims from the assets of AltaGas or AltaGas Operating Partnership, as applicable, before any assets are made available for distribution to the Trust. The Units are therefore effectively junior to indebtedness under the Operating Loans and the Medium Term Notes and most other liabilities (including trade payables) of AltaGas and AltaGas Operating Partnership. Neither AltaGas nor AltaGas Operating Partnership is limited in its ability (except pursuant to restrictive covenants under the Operating Loans and the Medium Term Notes) to incur secured or unsecured indebtedness.

AltaGas distributes a substantial portion of its cash flow to AltaGas LP #2 pursuant to an interest bearing loan agreement. Payments by AltaGas under this loan agreement are expressly subordinated to the prior payment in full of all indebtedness of AltaGas to third parties, including all indebtedness and obligations under the Operating Loans. Upon a default under the Operating Loans or the Medium Term Notes, AltaGas may be prevented from distributing cash to AltaGas LP #2 thereby ultimately reducing cash available for distribution to Unitholders.

Dependence on AltaGas

The Trust will be entirely dependent upon the success of the operations of AltaGas through its indirect ownership of AltaGas. Accordingly, the distributions to the Unitholders will be dependent on the ability of AltaGas to generate cash flow.

Taxation of AltaGas

Income fund structures often involve significant amounts of inter-entity debt, generating substantial interest expense, which serves to reduce earnings and therefore income tax payable. The Board of Directors of the General Partner expects this to be the case in respect of AltaGas and its interest expense on its indirect indebtedness to the Trust. There can be no assurance that taxation authorities will not seek to challenge the amount of interest expense deducted. If such a challenge were to succeed against AltaGas, it could have a materially adverse effect on the Cash Flow of the Trust available for distribution to Unitholders.

Unitholder Limited Liability

The Declaration of Trust provides that no Unitholder will be subject to any liability in connection with the Trust or its obligations and affairs and, in the event that a court determines Unitholders are subject to any such liabilities, the liabilities will be enforceable only against, and will be satisfied only out of the Trust's assets. Pursuant to the Declaration of Trust, the Trust will indemnify and hold harmless each Unitholder from any costs, damages, liabilities, expenses, charges and losses suffered by a Unitholder resulting from or arising out of such Unitholder not having such limited liability. There is no assurance that at the relevant time the Trust will have sufficient assets to be able to satisfy such indemnity.

The Declaration of Trust provides that all written instruments signed by or on behalf of the Trust must contain a provision to the effect that obligations under those instruments will not be binding upon Unitholders personally. Personal liability may however arise in respect of claims against the Trust that do not arise under contracts, including claims in tort, claims for taxes and possibly certain other statutory liabilities. The possibility of any personal liability of this nature arising is considered unlikely.

The operations of the Trust will be conducted, upon the advice of counsel to the Trust, in such a way and in such jurisdictions as to avoid as far as possible any material risk of liability to the Unitholders for claims against the Trust, including by obtaining appropriate insurance, where available and to the extent commercially feasible.

Legislation has been assented to but is as yet unproclaimed in the Province of Alberta that, upon becoming effective, will provide that a Unitholder will not be, as a beneficiary, liable for any act, default, obligation or liability of the Trustee that arises after the particular provision of such legislation comes into force.

Deductibility of Expenses

Although the General Partner is of the view that all expenses to be claimed by the Trust, Holding Trust, AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 will be reasonable and deductible, there can be no assurance that the CRA will agree. If the CRA successfully challenges the deductibility of any such expenses, the return to Unitholders may be adversely affected.

Potential Conflicts of Interest

Circumstances may arise where directors and officers of AltaGas and the General Partner are directors or officers of other entities which are in competition to the interests of AltaGas and the Trust. Pursuant to an agreement with the Trust dated May 1, 2004, Enbridge Inc. is presently entitled to and has appointed two directors to the board of the General Partner. These directors are not elected by Unitholders. There may be situations in which the interests of Enbridge Inc. will conflict with those of the Trust and its subsidiaries, including AltaGas.

The General Partner owes a fiduciary duty to AltaGas and the Trust. While the General Partner has agreed to indemnify the Trust in certain circumstances, the General Partner may not have sufficient assets to honour such indemnification.

Risks Inherent in the Ongoing Business of AltaGas

The following are the primary risks associated with the business and affairs of AltaGas and should be considered carefully in light of the fact that the Trust depends entirely on the operations and assets of AltaGas for its cash flow, and thereby its ability to pay distributions to Unitholders. These risks are applicable to AltaGas' current operations and AltaGas' expected future operations.

Operating Risk

As AltaGas continues to grow and diversify its midstream energy business the risk profile of AltaGas may change. AltaGas may enter into or expand business components where there is greater economic exposure and more "at risk" capital. AltaGas' expectation of higher returns from these businesses justifies the level of risk. In addition, AltaGas enters into these businesses on the basis that these risks can be actively managed.

AltaGas' current operations are subject to the risks normally associated with the operation and development of natural gas and power facilities, including mechanical failure, physical degradation, operator error, manufacturer defects, sabotage, terrorism, failure of supply, catastrophic events and natural disasters. The occurrence or continuation of these events could increase AltaGas' costs and reduce its ability to process or transport natural gas or deliver power.

AltaGas believes that operational risk is best managed by maintaining control over the timing of capital expenditures, operational decisions and costs by becoming the operator of the facilities in which it invests. At the end of 2003, AltaGas operated 65 of its 67 field gathering and processing facilities, all of its transmission facilities and all of AltaGas Utilities' distribution assets.

AltaGas does not operate its extraction plant interests or the assets related to its power purchase agreement ("PPA") based arrangements. Failure by the operators of these facilities to operate at the cost or in the manner projected by AltaGas could negatively affect AltaGas' results.

Facility Throughput

The majority of AltaGas' gathering and processing facilities process or transport natural gas from the Western Canadian Sedimentary Basin. Continuing use of these systems is dependent on a number of factors including the level of exploration and development within the basin, remaining reserves and the ability of producers to discover or develop new reserves within the areas serviced by AltaGas' facilities, the longer term price of natural gas, the ability of natural gas producers to deliver natural gas to the various pipeline systems and the regulatory environment for producers, transporters and consumers of natural gas.

Throughput at AltaGas' gathering and processing facilities is influenced by production of natural gas in the areas serviced by AltaGas. At all of its field gathering and processing facilities, AltaGas actively pursues opportunities to maintain or increase throughput and has been successful in offsetting production declines. AltaGas' contract provisions mitigate the impact of volume declines, generate additional volumes for gathering and processing at its facilities, encourage expansion into areas where AltaGas' facilities are located and allow AltaGas to recover its invested capital in a relatively short period of time. The majority of AltaGas' field processing facilities are skid-mounted and can be moved to areas with favourable production potential should a particular area's production decline significantly.

Market Risk

AltaGas is exposed to market risks resulting from movements in commodity prices and interest rates. AltaGas manages its exposure to these risks through the use of various physical and financial instruments.

AltaGas' Commodity Risk Management Policy details the parameters used to measure, monitor and report commodity price risks. It also includes risk management guidelines and objectives, risk tolerance and approved products. This policy prohibits the use of physical and financial instruments for speculative purposes.

Electricity Prices

AltaGas' revenue from electricity sales related to PPAs are subject to Alberta electricity market factors such as fluctuating supply and demand, which may be affected by weather, customer usage, economic activity and growth. AltaGas reduces its exposure to floating electricity prices by supplying internal electrical demand requirements and locking in margins with financial instruments.

Natural Gas Liquids Fractionation Price

AltaGas' extraction business depends in part on the level of demand for and pricing of NGLs. AltaGas cannot predict the impact of future economic conditions, fuel conservation measures, alternative fuel requirements, governmental regulation or technological advances in fuel economy and energy generation devices, all of which could reduce the demand for natural gas and NGLs. Because NGLs are a feedstock to the petrochemical industry, there is a historical relationship between NGLs prices and crude oil prices. As crude oil prices fall, NGLs prices will generally decrease subject to other factors that influence the supply and demand. All of AltaGas' ethane production is sold under cost of service type contracts under which AltaGas bears no commodity price risk. AltaGas' NGL production is sold under market based contracts, where AltaGas bears the market or commodity price risk, and under long term fixed fee revenue plus reimbursement of operating costs contracts, where AltaGas bears no commodity price risk. Approximately 50% of AltaGas' NGL production is sold under the latter type of contract where AltaGas bears no commodity price risk. The remaining NGLs are subject to the spread between the price received for the NGLs extracted and the price paid for the natural gas purchased to make up the heating value of the NGLs extracted, after subtracting operating costs.

Interest Rate

AltaGas is exposed to interest rate fluctuations on variable rate debt. AltaGas monitors its level of fixed to floating and variable rate debt instruments and from time to time interest rate swaps are used to help maintain balances of each commensurate with AltaGas' target to have 70% to 75% of its debt at fixed interest rates. At May 1, 2004, AltaGas had fixed interest rates on $205.0 million, or approximately 71%, of its floating rate debt through interest rate swaps. At May 1, 2004, approximately $305.0 million, or approximately 78%, of AltaGas' total debt, including its Medium Term Notes and swaps, was at fixed interest rates.

Weather

The Alberta Energy Utilities Board sets rates based upon a deemed capital structure, an allowed rate of return on common equity, an approved rate base and costs expected to be incurred by the utility assuming normal weather conditions. As customers are billed on an actual volume basis, the utility's ability to recover the allowed rate of return depends upon achieving the forecast distribution volumes under "normal weather" conditions. In addition, warmer than normal weather may result in lower than expected demand and a lower rate of return than allowed.

Regulatory

AltaGas' businesses are subject to regulation in the jurisdictions in which they carry on business. Pipelines and facilities can be subject to common carrier and common processor applications and to rate setting by the regulatory authorities in the event an agreement on fees or tariffs cannot be reached with producers. To the extent that producers believe processing fees or tariffs respecting pipelines and facilities are too high, they may seek relief through regulatory intervention. In the natural gas distribution business under return on rate base regulation, rates are set which allow the regulated entity the opportunity to cover its costs and earn a reasonable return. However there is no guarantee that the entity will earn its fair return because rates are set to cover future estimated costs based on future estimated demand and "normal weather" conditions and the entity's actual revenues may be more or less than the actual costs.

Credit Risk

AltaGas is exposed to credit-related losses in the event that counterparties to contracts fail to fulfill their present or future financial obligations to AltaGas. AltaGas minimizes counterparty risk by conducting credit reviews on clients prior to providing services, by participating in contract negotiations to include credit mitigation clauses and by obtaining financial or performance assurances from clients. AltaGas provides an allowance for doubtful accounts in the normal course of its business.

AUDITORS, TRANSFER AGENT AND REGISTRAR

The auditors of the Trust are Ernst & Young LLP, Chartered Accountants, Calgary, Alberta.

The transfer agent and registrar for the Units is Computershare Trust Company of Canada at its principal offices in Toronto and Calgary.

PURCHASERS' STATUTORY RIGHTS

Securities legislation in several of the provinces of Canada provides purchasers with the right to withdraw from an agreement to purchase securities. This right may be exercised within two business days after receipt or deemed receipt of a prospectus and any amendment. In several of the provinces, the securities legislation further provides a purchaser with remedies for rescission or, in some jurisdictions, damages if the prospectus and any amendment contains a misrepresentation or is not delivered to the purchaser, provided that such remedies for rescission or damages are exercised by the purchaser within the time limit prescribed by the securities legislation of the purchaser's province. The purchaser should refer to any applicable provisions of the securities legislation of the purchaser's province for the particulars of these rights or consult with a legal adviser.

AUDITORS' CONSENT

We have read the short form prospectus of AltaGas Income Trust (the "Trust") dated June 3, 2004 relating to the issue and sale of 4,300,000 trust units of the Trust. We have complied with Canadian generally accepted standards for an auditor's involvement with offering documents.

We consent to the incorporation by reference in the above-mentioned short form prospectus of our report to the shareholders of AltaGas Services Inc. on the consolidated balance sheets of AltaGas Services Inc. as at December 31, 2003 and 2002 and the consolidated statements of earnings and retained earnings and cash flows for the years then ended. Our report is dated February 13, 2004.

ALTAGAS HOLDING LIMITED PARTNERSHIP NO. 2, a limited partnership established under the laws of Alberta (the "AltaGas LP #2")

WHEREAS on the date hereof, Trust Units, LP #1 B Units and LP #2 B Units have been issued pursuant to the Arrangement;

AND WHEREAS the Trust, Holding Trust, the General Partner, AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 wish to retain the Administrator to provide certain administrative and support services;

AND WHEREAS the Administrator is willing to render such administrative and support services on the terms and conditions hereinafter set forth;

NOW THEREFORE in consideration of the premises and the mutual covenants and agreements herein contained, the sufficiency of which is hereby acknowledged by each of the parties to this Agreement, the parties agree as follows:

INTERPRETATION

1.1 Definitions

In this Agreement, unless the context otherwise requires:

"Administrator Event of Termination" means any of the events described in Section 7.5;

"affiliate" or "associate" when used to indicate a relationship with a person or company has the same meaning as set forth in the Securities Act (Alberta);

"AltaGas LP #1 Limited Partnership Agreement" means the limited partnership agreement dated as of March 26, 2004, among the General Partner, Holding Trust and each person who from time to time is accepted as and becomes a limited partner pursuant thereto, as from time to time amended, supplemented or restated;

"AltaGas LP #2 Limited Partnership Agreement" means the limited partnership agreement dated as of March 26, 2004 among the General Partner, AltaGas LP #1 and each person who from time to time is accepted as and becomes a limited partner pursuant thereto, as from time to time amended, supplemented or restated;

"applicable law" means any applicable law including any statute, regulation, by-law, treaty, guideline, directive, rule, standard, requirement, policy, order, judgement, decision, injunction, award, decree or resolution of any governmental authority, whether or not having the force of law, binding on the parties;

"Business Day" means a day, other than a Saturday, Sunday or statutory holiday, when banks are generally open in Calgary, Alberta, for the transaction of banking business;

"Declaration of Trust" means the declaration of trust of the Trust dated as of March 26, 2004, between the settlor and the Trustee, as from time to time amended, supplemented or restated;

"Delegation Agreement" means the delegation agreement dated as of May 1, 2004 among the Trust, the General Partner and the Trustee, as from time to time amended, restated or supplemented;

"Exchangeable Securities" means, collectively, the LP #1 B Units and the LP #2 B Units;

"Expenses" means all reasonable out-of-pocket expenses incurred by the Administrator in connection with carrying out its duties and obligations hereunder, including, without limitation, salary, wages, and other forms of compensation paid to employees engaged in rendering the services to be provided hereunder and/or management fees paid to management entities which might be engaged to provide such services;

"Force Majeure" means for the purposes hereof, an event, condition or circumstance (and the effect thereof) which is not within the reasonable control of the party claiming Force Majeure and which, by the exercise of due diligence the party claiming Force Majeure is unable to prevent or overcome, including acts of god, fire, explosion, civil disturbance, war, riot, insurrection, military or guerrilla action, terrorist activity, economic sanction, blockade or embargo, sabotage, flooding, earthquake, drought and action or restraint by the order of any governmental authority (so long as the party claiming Force Majeure has not applied for or assisted in the application for, and has opposed where and to the extent commercially reasonable, such action or restraint by such governmental authority); provided, however, that a party's own lack of funds shall not constitute "Force Majeure" in respect of such party;

"General Partner" means AltaGas General Partner Inc., a corporation incorporated pursuant to the CBCA as a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Trust and the general partner of AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2;

"Governing Instruments" means, collectively, the Declaration of Trust, the Holding Declaration of Trust, the AltaGas LP #1 Limited Partnership Agreement and the AltaGas LP #2 Limited Partnership Agreement;

"governmental authority" includes any court (including a court of equity); any multinational, federal, provincial, state, regional, municipal or other government or governmental department, ministry, commission, board, bureau, agency or instrumentality; any securities commission, stock exchange or other regulatory or self-regulatory body; any arbitrator or arbitration authority; or any other governmental authority;

"Holding Declaration of Trust" means the declaration of trust of Holding Trust dated as of March 26, 2004 between the Holding Trust Trustee and the Trust, as settlor, as from time to time amended, supplemented or restated;

"Holding Trust Units" means trust units issued by Holding Trust;

"Holding Trust Trustee" means AltaGas Holding Trust Corp., as initial trustee of Holding Trust, or such other person as becomes the trustee of Holding Trust in accordance with the Holding Declaration of Trust;

"Insolvent" means, in relation to any person, being insolvent, bankrupt, making a proposal under the Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act (Canada) or having a trustee or receiver or manager appointed in respect of its assets;

"person" includes any individual, body corporate, partnership, association, joint venture, trust, other organization or entity (whether or not a legal entity) or governmental authority;

"Special Voting Unit" means the special voting unit of the Trust issued by the Trust which entitles the holders of Exchangeable Securities to such number of votes at meetings of Unitholders as equals the number of Trust Units issuable from time to time upon the redemption, retraction or exchange of those Exchangeable Securities;

"Term" has the meaning ascribed thereto in Section 7.1;

"Trust Event of Termination" means any of the events described in Section 7.3;

"Trust Units" means trust units issued by the Trust;

"Trust Unitholders" means holders from time to time of the Trust Units;

"Trustee" means Computershare Trust Company of Canada, as the initial trustee of the Trust, or such other person as becomes the trustee of the Trust in accordance with the Declaration of Trust; and

"Units" means the Trust Units and the special voting units of the Trust (including the Special Voting Unit); and

"Unitholders" means holders from time to time of Units;

and each of the capitalized terms used in this Agreement not otherwise defined herein, have the same meaning herein as ascribed thereto in the Declaration of Trust.

1.2 Interpretation Not Affected by Headings, etc.

The division of this Agreement into sections and other portions, the provisions of a table of contents and the insertion of headings are for convenience of reference only and shall not affect the construction or interpretation hereof. Unless otherwise indicated, all references in this Agreement to an "Article" or a "Section" followed by a number and/or a letter refer to the specified article or section of this Agreement. Unless otherwise indicated, the terms "this Agreement", "hereof", "herein", "hereunder" and "hereby" and similar expressions refer to this Administration Agreement, as from time to time amended, supplemented or restated, and not to any particular article, section, schedule or other portion hereof.

1.3 Currency

Unless otherwise indicated, all sums of money referred to in this Agreement are expressed in lawful money of Canada.

1.4 Number, etc.

Unless the context otherwise requires, words importing the singular shall include the plural and vice versa and words importing any gender shall include all genders.

1.5 Date for Any Action

In the event that any date on which any action is required to be taken hereunder by any of the parties hereto is not a Business Day, such action shall be required to be taken on the next succeeding day which is a Business Day.

1.6 Entire Agreement

This Agreement and the agreements and other documents referred to herein constitute the entire agreement between the parties with respect to the transactions contemplated hereby and supersede all other prior agreements, understandings, negotiations and discussions, whether oral or written, between the parties with respect thereto.

1.7 Accounting Principles

Wherever in this Agreement reference is made to generally accepted accounting principles, such reference shall be deemed to be a reference to consistently applied accounting principles generally accepted in Canada, including those set forth in the CICA Handbook as published from time to time by the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants, or any successor institute, applicable as at the date on which such accounting principles are to be applied.

1.8 Construction

In this Agreement, unless otherwise indicated:

(a) the words "include", "including" or "in particular", when following any general term or statement, shall not be construed as limiting the general term or statement to the specific items or matters set forth or to similar items or matters, but rather as permitting the general term or statement to refer to all other items or matters that could reasonably fall within the broadest possible scope of the general term or statement;

(b) a reference to a statute means that statute, as amended and in effect as of the date of this Agreement, and includes each and every regulation and rule made thereunder and in effect as of the date hereof;

(c) where a word, term or phrase is defined, its derivatives or other grammatical forms have a corresponding meaning;

(d) time is of the essence; and

(e) references to a "party" or "parties" are references to a party or parties to this Agreement.

ARTICLE 2
SERVICES

2.1 Administrative and Support Services for the Trust

Subject to and in accordance with the terms, conditions and limitations of the Declaration of Trust, the Trust hereby delegates to the Administrator, and the Administrator hereby agrees to be responsible for, the management and general administration of the affairs of the Trust, including, without limitation, the following:

(a) undertake any matters required by the terms of the Declaration of Trust to be performed by the Trustee, which are not otherwise delegated therein, pursuant to the Delegation Agreement or herein and generally provide all other services as may be necessary or as requested by the Trustee for the administration of the Trust;

(b) prepare all returns, filings and documents and make all determinations necessary for the discharge of the Trustee's obligations under the Declaration of Trust;

(c) the retention and monitoring, on behalf of the Trustee, of the transfer agent and other organizations serving the Trust;

(d) the authorization and payment on behalf of the Trust of operation expenses incurred on behalf of the Trust and the negotiation of contracts with third party providers of services (including, but not limited to, transfer agents, legal counsel, auditors and printers);

(e) the provision of office space, telephone, office equipment, facilities, supplies and executive, secretarial and clerical services;

(f) subject to the direction and approval of the General Partner: (i) dealing with banks and other institutional lenders, including, without limitation, in respect of the maintenance of bank records and the negotiation and securing of bank financing or refinancing of one or more credit or debt facilities, hedging or swap facilities or other ancillary facilities; (ii) any and all other arrangements for the borrowing of funds in any manner whatsoever; and (iii) the grant or issue of covenants, guarantees and/or security of any nature whatsoever to ensure or secure any such facilities or other arrangements, in respect of the Trust or any entity in which the Trust holds any direct or indirect interest and any amendment, deletion or supplement thereto or termination thereof, including without limitation the execution and delivery of all agreements, indentures and other documents giving effect thereto;

(g) subject to the approval of the General Partner, prepare and provide to the Unitholders annual audited and interim unaudited financial statements of the Trust, as well as relevant tax information;

(h) submit all income tax returns and filings to the Trustee in sufficient time prior to the dates upon which they must be filed so that the Trustee has a reasonable opportunity to review them, execute them and return them to the Administrator, and arrange for their filing within the time required by applicable tax law;

(i) subject to the approval of the General Partner, compute, determine and make on the Trust's behalf distributions to Trust Unitholders of distributions properly payable by the Trust and administer on behalf of the Trust such distribution reinvestment plans and other similar plans as the Trust may establish from time to time;

(j) ensure compliance by the Trust with, and enforcing all rights of the Trust under, all agreements entered into by the Trust, including the Support Agreement and the Voting and Exchange Trust Agreement;

(k) ensure compliance by the Trust with all applicable securities legislation including, without limitation, continuous disclosure obligations;

(l) subject to the approval of the General Partner, prepare on behalf of the Trust any circular or other disclosure document required under applicable securities legislation with respect to an offer to acquire securities of another person or in response to an offer to purchase Trust Units;

(m) provide investor relations services to the Trust;

(n) call and hold all annual and/or special meetings of Unitholders pursuant to the Declaration of Trust and subject to the approval of the General Partner, prepare and arrange for the distribution of all materials (including notices of meetings and information circulars) in respect thereof;

(o) subject to the approval of the General Partner, prepare and provide or cause to be provided to Unitholders on a timely basis all information to which Unitholders are entitled under the Declaration of Trust and under applicable laws, including information or proxy circulars, annual information forms, prospectuses, quarterly and annual reports, notices, financial reports and tax information relating to the Trust;

(p) take all steps necessary to complete the issuance of securities of the Trust as directed by the General Partner;

(q) attend to all administrative and other matters arising in connection with any redemptions of Trust Units;

(r) obtain and maintain appropriate liability insurance for the benefit of the directors and officers of the Holding Trust Trustee, the General Partner and the Administrator and its subsidiaries;

(s) ensure that the Trust elects in the prescribed manner and within the prescribed time under subsection 132(6.1) of the Tax Act to be a "mutual fund trust" within the meaning of that act since inception, and assuming the requirements for such election are met, monitor on behalf of the General Partner, the Trust's status as such a mutual fund trust and provide the Trustee and the General Partner with written notice when the Trust ceases or is at risk of ceasing to be such a mutual fund trust;

(t) monitor the investments of the Trust to ensure that the aggregate cost amount of the "foreign property" of the Trust does not exceed the limits prescribed in the Tax Act, the result of which would be to expose the Trust to Part XI tax under such Act;

(u) under the direction of the General Partner, undertake, manage and prosecute any and all proceedings from time to time before or in respect of governmental authorities on behalf of the Trust;

(v) subject to the approval of the General Partner, prepare any prospectus or comparable documents of the Trust to qualify the sale of securities of the Trust from time to time; and

(w) promptly notify the Trust of any event that might reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the affairs of the Trust; provided that if and to the extent the Trust delegates responsibility for any matter set forth above to the General Partner, the Administrator agrees to be responsible therefor on behalf of and subject to the direction and authority of the General Partner.

2.2 Administrative and Support Services for Holding Trust

Subject to and in accordance with the terms, conditions and limitations of the Holding Declaration of Trust, the Holding Trust Trustee hereby delegates to the Administrator, and the Administrator hereby agrees to be responsible for, the management and general administration of the affairs of Holding Trust including, without limitation, matters of the nature referred to in subsections 2.1(a) to (l) inclusive, (n), (p) - (r), (u) and (w), mutatis mutandis.

2.3 Administrative and Support Services for General Partner

General Partner hereby engages the Administrator, and the Administrator hereby agrees, to be responsible for the management and general administration of the affairs of General Partner including, without limitation, matters of the nature referred to in subsections 2.1(a) to (h) inclusive, (n), (r) and (w), mutatis mutandis.

2.4 Administrative and Support Services for AltaGas LP #1

Subject to and in accordance with the terms, conditions and limitations of the AltaGas LP #1 Limited Partnership Agreement, General Partner hereby engages the Administrator, and the Administrator hereby agrees, to be responsible for the management and general administration of the affairs of AltaGas LP #1 including, without limitation, matters of the nature referred to in subsections 2.1(a) to (l) inclusive, (n), (p), (r), (u) and (w), mutatis mutandis.

2.5 Administrative and Support Services for AltaGas LP #2

Subject to and in accordance with the terms, conditions and limitations of the AltaGas LP #2 Limited Partnership Agreement, General Partner hereby engages the Administrator, and the Administrator hereby agrees, to be responsible for the management and general administration of the affairs of AltaGas LP #2 including, without limitation, matters of the nature referred to in subsections 2.1(a) to (l) inclusive, (n), (p), (r), (u) and (w), mutatis mutandis.

2.6 Termination or Suspension of Service

Any of the Trust, Holding Trust, the General Partner, AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2 may at any time terminate or suspend the provision of any particular service to be provided under this Agreement by the Administrator.

2.7 Covenants of the Administrator

The Administrator covenants and agrees that in the performance of its services under this Agreement it shall:

(a) perform all such services at all times in compliance with applicable laws;

(b) comply with all instructions of the Trustee, the Holding Trust Trustee and the General Partner, as applicable, in relation to the performance of its services hereunder; and

(c) observe and perform or cause to be observed and performed on behalf of each of the Trust, the Holding Trust, the General Partner, AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 in every material respect the provisions of (i) the agreements from time to time entered into in connection with the activities of the Trust, the Holding Trust, the General Partner, AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2 (as the case may be) and, (ii) all applicable laws.

2.8 Administrator's Acknowledgement

The Administrator acknowledges that it has received a copy of each of the Governing Instruments and is familiar with and understands the duties of the respective parties thereto, including those duties of the Trustee and the Holding Trust Trustee which are being delegated to the Administrator under this Agreement.

2.9 Non-Resident Unitholders

The Administrator shall use reasonable efforts to monitor the residence status of holders of Trust Units and, as reasonably required, any issued and outstanding Special Voting Unit. If, at any time, the Administrator is of the opinion that the Trustee should require declarations as to the residence status of holders of Trust Units under Section 12.5 of the Declaration of Trust, it shall so advise the Trustee and the General Partner and provide the form of the declaration therefor to the Trustee. In addition and, as requested by the General Partner from time to time, the Administrator shall provide the Trustee and the General Partner the form of notice(s) for non-resident holders of Trust Units, requiring them to sell their Units or a specified portion thereof within a specified period of time of not less than 60 days, in accordance with the Declaration of Trust. The Trustee shall provide the Administrator with such information regarding the residence status of holders of the Trust Units or Special Voting Unit(s) and the order of acquisition or registration thereof as the Administrator may reasonably request, from time to time, and the Trustee may have in its possession in order to assist the Administrator in fulfilling its obligations under this Section 2.9.

2.10 Authority of Administrator

Subject to Section 2.12 and the terms of any of the Governing Instruments (as the case may be), the Administrator shall have full right, power and authority to execute and deliver all contracts, leases, licenses, and other documents and agreements to make applications and filings with governmental authorities and to take such other actions as the Administrator considers appropriate in connection with:

(a) the business of the Trust in the name of and on behalf of the Trust and no person shall be required to determine the authority of the Administrator to give any undertaking or enter into any commitment on behalf of the Trust, provided that the Administrator shall not have the authority to commit to any transaction which would require the approval of the Unitholders in accordance with the Declaration of Trust, and provided further that the Administrator shall exercise all voting rights attached to the Holding Trust Units in accordance with the terms of the Declaration of Trust and the Holding Declaration of Trust;

(b) the business of Holding Trust in the name of and on behalf of Holding Trust and no person shall be required to determine the authority of the Administrator to give any undertaking or enter into any commitment on behalf of Holding Trust, provided that the Administrator shall not have the authority to commit to any transaction which would require the approval of the holders of Holding Trust Units in accordance with the Holding Declaration of Trust and provided further that the Administrator shall exercise all voting rights attached to Holding Trust's interests in AltaGas LP #1 in accordance with the Holding Declaration of Trust;

(c) the business of the General Partner in the name of and on behalf of the General Partner and no person shall be required to determine the authority of the Administrator to give any undertaking or enter into any commitment on behalf of the General Partner, provided that the Administrator shall not have the authority to commit to any transaction which would require the approval of the Board of Directors in accordance with the Delegation Agreement or any other agreement to which the General Partner is subject;

(d) the business of AltaGas LP #1 in the name of and on behalf of AltaGas LP #1 and no person shall be required to determine the authority of the Administrator to give any undertaking or enter into any commitment on behalf of AltaGas LP #1, provided that the Administrator shall not have the authority to commit to any transaction which would require the approval of the holders of limited partnership units of AltaGas LP #1 in accordance with the AltaGas LP #1 Limited Partnership Agreement; and

(e) the business of AltaGas LP #2 in the name of and on behalf of AltaGas LP #2 and no person shall be required to determine the authority of the Administrator to give any undertaking or enter into any commitment on behalf of AltaGas LP #2, provided that the Administrator shall not have the authority to commit to any transaction which would require the approval of the holders of limited partnership units of AltaGas LP #2 in accordance with the AltaGas LP #2 Limited Partnership Agreement.

2.11 Powers and Authorities of the Administrator

The Administrator shall have, subject to the provisions of this Agreement and the Governing Instruments, all requisite powers and authorities, during the Term, to provide the services to be provided under this Agreement to the Trust, Holding Trust, the General Partner, AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2.

2.12 Execution of Documents

(a) The Administrator may execute any document required to be executed pursuant to the terms hereof on behalf of the Trust in the following forms or such variations thereof as the Administrator shall from time to time determine:

ALTAGAS INCOME TRUST by its Administrator, ALTAGAS LTD.

2.13 Limitation of Liability

(a) All commercially reasonable efforts shall be made to ensure that every contract entered into on behalf of the Trust by the Administrator shall (except as the Administrator may otherwise expressly agree in writing with respect to personal liability of the Administrator) include a provision substantially to the following effect:

> The parties hereto acknowledge that the Administrator is entering into this agreement solely in its capacity as agent on behalf of the Trust and the obligations of the Trust hereunder shall not be personally binding upon any of the Trustee, the Administrator or any of the Unitholders of the Trust and that any recourse against the Trust, the Trustee, the Administrator or any Unitholder of the Trust in any > manner in respect of any indebtedness, obligation or liability of the Trust arising hereunder or arising in connection herewith or from the matters to which this agreement relates, if any, including without limitation claims based on negligence or otherwise tortious behaviour, shall be limited to, and satisfied only out of, the Trust Assets as defined in the Declaration of Trust of the Trust dated as of March 26, 2004 as from time to time amended, supplemented or restated.

This provision shall be enforced by the Administrator for the benefit of the holders of Trust Units and Special Voting Unit of the Trust, as the case may be. The omission of such a provision from any such written agreement shall not operate to impose personal liability on the Trustee, the Administrator or any holder of Trust Units and Special Voting Unit of the Trust.

(b) All commercially reasonable efforts shall be made to ensure that every contract entered into on behalf of the Holding Trust by the Administrator shall (except as the Administrator may otherwise expressly agree in writing with respect to personal liability of the Administrator) include a provision substantially to the following effect:

> The parties hereto acknowledge that the Administrator is entering into this agreement solely in its capacity as agent on behalf of the Holding Trust and the obligations of the Holding Trust hereunder shall not be personally binding upon any of the Holding Trust Trustee, the Administrator or any of the holders of Holding Trust Units and that any recourse against the Holding Trust, the Holding Trust Trustee, the Administrator or any holder of Holding Trust Units in any manner in respect of any indebtedness, obligation or liability of the Holding Trust arising hereunder or arising in connection herewith or from the matters to which this agreement relates, if any, including without limitation claims based on negligence or otherwise tortious behaviour, shall be limited to, and satisfied only out of, the Trust Assets as defined in the Declaration of Trust of the Holding Trust dated as of March 26, 2004 as from time to time amended, supplemented or restated.

This provision shall be enforced by the Administrator for the benefit of the holders of Holding Trust Units. The omission of such a provision from any such written agreement shall not operate to impose personal liability on the Holding Trust Trustee, the Administrator or any holder of a Holding Trust Unit.

(c) All commercially reasonable efforts shall be made to ensure that every contract entered into on behalf of AltaGas LP #1 by the Administrator shall (except as the Administrator may otherwise expressly agree in writing with respect to personal liability of the Administrator) include a provision substantially to the following effect:

> The parties hereto acknowledge that the Administrator is entering into this agreement solely in its capacity as agent on behalf of AltaGas LP #1 and the obligations of AltaGas LP #1 and, further AltaGas LP #1 is a limited partnership formed under the laws of Alberta, a limited partner of which is only liable for any of the limited partnership's liabilities or any of the limited partnership's losses to the extent of the amount that the limited partner has contributed or agreed to contribute to the limited partnership's capital and the limited partner's pro rata share of any undistributed income.

This provision shall be enforced by the Administrator for the benefit of the limited partners of AltaGas LP #1. The omission of such a provision from any such written agreement shall not operate to impose personal liability on the Administrator or any limited partner of AltaGas LP #1.

(d) All commercially reasonable efforts shall be made to ensure that every contract entered into on behalf of AltaGas LP #2 by the Administrator shall (except as the Administrator may otherwise expressly agree in writing with respect to personal liability of the Administrator) include a provision substantially to the following effect:

> The parties hereto acknowledge that the Administrator is entering into this agreement solely in its capacity as agent on behalf of AltaGas LP #2 and the obligations of AltaGas LP #2 and, further AltaGas LP #2 is a limited partnership formed under the laws of Alberta, a limited partner of which is only liable for any of the limited partnership's liabilities or any of the limited partnership's losses to the extent of the amount that the limited partner has contributed or agreed to contribute to the limited partnership's capital and the limited partner's pro rata share of any undistributed income.

This provision shall be enforced by the Administrator for the benefit of the limited partners of AltaGas LP #2. The omission of such a provision from any such written agreement shall not operate to impose personal liability on the Administrator or any limited partner of AltaGas LP #2.

2.14 Ratification of Prior Acts

Each of the Trust, Holding Trust, AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2 and the General Partner acknowledge, authorize, ratify and confirm all acts undertaken and completed by the Administrator on its behalf prior to the date hereof, which if undertaken or completed during the term of this Agreement would have been within the scope of the authority provided to the Administrator herein.

ARTICLE 3
MATTERS PERTAINING TO PERFORMANCE OF SERVICES

3.1 Standard of Care and Delegation

(a) In exercising its powers and discharging its duties under this Agreement, the Administrator shall exercise the powers and discharge the duties conferred hereunder honestly, in good faith and in the best interests of the Trust, Holding Trust, the General Partner, AltaGas LP #1, and AltaGas LP #2 and in connection therewith shall exercise that degree of care, diligence and skill that a reasonably prudent administrator in Canada having responsibilities of a similar nature would exercise in comparable circumstances.

(b) Subject to the prior approval of the Trustee, the Holding Trust Trustee or the General Partner (as applicable) of the delegation of any material obligations, which approval will not be unreasonably withheld, the Administrator may delegate specific aspects of its obligations hereunder to any other person, provided that such delegation shall not relieve the Administrator of any of its obligations under this Agreement.

(c) Notwithstanding subsection 3.1(b), the Administrator shall not in any manner, directly or indirectly, be liable or held to account for the activities or inactivity of any person to which any such obligations may have been delegated, provided that in making such specific delegation, the Administrator acted in accordance with this Section 3.1. Where possible, the Administrator will structure any delegation in a manner that will permit the Trustee on behalf of the Trust, the Holding Trust Trustee on behalf of Holding Trust or General Partner on its own behalf and on behalf of AltaGas LP #1 and/or AltaGas LP #2 (as the case may be), to bring an action directly against the delegatee.

3.2 Reliance

In carrying out its duties hereunder, the Administrator and its delegates shall be entitled to rely on:

(a) statements of fact of other persons (any of which may be persons with whom the Administrator is affiliated or associated) who are considered by the Administrator, acting reasonably, to be knowledgeable of such facts; and

(b) statements, the opinion or advice of or information from any solicitor, auditor, valuer, engineer, surveyor, appraiser or other expert selected by the Administrator, provided that the Administrator exercised reasonable care and diligence in selecting such person to provide such statements, opinion, advice or information; and may employ such experts as may be necessary to the proper discharge of its duties.

The Administrator may rely, and shall be protected in acting, upon any instrument or other documents believed by it to be genuine and in force.

3.3 No Liability for Advice

The Administrator shall not be liable, answerable or accountable to any of the Trust, the Trustee, the Unitholders, Holding Trust, the Holding Trust Trustee, any holder of Holding Trust Units, AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2, the General Partner or any holder of limited partnership units of AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2 for any loss or damage resulting from, incidental to or relating to the provision of services hereunder by the Administrator, including any exercise or refusal to exercise a discretion or its refusal to exercise a discretion, any mistake or error of judgement or any act or omission believed by the Administrator to be within the scope of authority conferred on it by this Agreement, unless such loss or damage resulted from the fraud, wilful default or gross negligence of the Administrator in performing its obligations hereunder or from the failure of the Administrator to satisfy the standard of care set forth in Section 3.1.

3.4 Additional Information

The Trustees, the Holding Trust Trustee and the General Partner acknowledge that conducting the activities contemplated herein may have the incidental effect of providing additional information with respect to or augmenting the value of properties in which the Administrator or its affiliates or associates have an interest and the Trustees, the Holding Trust Trustee and the General Partner agree that neither the Administrator nor its affiliates or associates shall be liable to account to any of the Trust, the Trustee, the Unitholders, Holding Trust, the Holding Trust Trustee, any holder of Holding Trust Units, AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2, the General Partner or any holder of limited partnership units of AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, with respect to such activities or results; provided, however, that the Administrator shall not, in making any use of any such information, do so in any manner that the Administrator knew, or ought reasonably to have known, would cause or result in a breach of any confidentiality provision of agreements to which any of the Trustee, the Trust, the Holding Trust Trustee, Holding Trust, the General Partner, AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2 is a party or is bound.

INDEMNIFICATION

4.1 Indemnification of the Administrator

The Administrator and any person who is serving or shall have served as a director, officer or employee of the Administrator (the "Administrator Indemnitees") shall be indemnified and saved harmless by the Trust, Holding Trust, AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2 and the General Partner (in each case in relation to services provided in respect of or for the benefit of such party) from and against all losses, claims, damages, liabilities, obligations, costs and expenses (including judgements, fines, penalties, amounts paid in settlement and counsel and accountants' fees) of whatsoever kind or nature incurred by, borne by or asserted against any of such indemnified parties in any way arising from or related in any manner to this Agreement or the provision of services hereunder, unless such indemnified party is found liable for or guilty of fraud, wilful default or gross negligence. The foregoing right of indemnification shall not be exclusive of any other rights to which the Administrator or any person referred to in this Section 4.1 may be entitled as a matter of law or equity or which may be lawfully granted to such person.

4.2 Indemnification of the Other Parties

The Trust, Holding Trust, AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2, the Trustee, the Holding Trust Trustee, the General Partner and any person who is serving or shall have served as a director, officer or employee of the Trustee, the Holding Trust Trustee and/or the General Partner (the "Trust Indemnitees") shall be indemnified and saved harmless by the Administrator from and against all losses, claims, damages, liabilities, obligations, costs and expenses (including judgements, fines, penalties, amounts paid in settlement and counsel and accountants' fees) of whatsoever kind or nature incurred by, borne by or asserted against any of such indemnified parties in any way arising from or related in any manner to the fraud, wilful default or gross negligence of the Administrator in the performance of its obligations hereunder, except to the extent that such losses, claims, damages, liabilities, obligations, costs and expenses (including judgements, fines, penalties, amounts paid in settlement and counsel and accountants' fees) arise from the fraud, wilful default or gross negligence of such indemnified party. The foregoing right of indemnification shall not be exclusive of any other rights to which the Trust, Holding Trust, AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2, the Trustee, the Holding Trust Trustee, the General Partner or any person referred to in this Section 4.2 may be entitled as a matter of law or equity or which may be lawfully granted to such person.

4.3 Method of Asserting Claims

If a party entitled to indemnification pursuant to the terms hereof (the "Indemnified Party") intends to seek indemnification under this Section 4.3 from the other party (the "Indemnifying Party"), the Indemnified Party shall give the Indemnifying Party notice of such claim for indemnification promptly following the receipt or determination by the Indemnified Party of actual knowledge or information as to the factual and legal basis of any claim which is subject to indemnification and, where such claim results from the commencement of any claim or action by a third party, promptly following receipt of written notice of such third party claim or action. The failure of or delay by an Indemnified Party to so notify the Indemnifying Party (as set forth above) shall not relieve the Indemnifying Party of its indemnification obligations hereunder to the Indemnified Party, however the liability which the Indemnifying Party has to the Indemnified Party pursuant to the terms of this Section 4.3 (and for which the Indemnifying Party will be obligated to indemnify the Indemnified Party in respect of) shall be reduced to the extent that any such delay in or failure to give notice as herein required prejudices the defence of any such action, suit, proceeding, investigation or claim, or otherwise results in any increase in the liability which the Indemnifying Party has under its indemnity provided for herein.

The Indemnifying Party, at its sole cost and expense, shall have the right to assume the defence of any claim, action, suit, proceeding or investigation brought against the Indemnified Party with counsel designated by the Indemnifying Party and reasonably satisfactory to the Indemnified Party; provided that the Indemnifying Party will not, without the Indemnified Party's prior written consent (such consent not to be unreasonably withheld), settle, compromise, consent to the entry of any judgment in or otherwise seek to terminate any action, suit, proceeding, investigation or claim in respect of which indemnification may be sought hereunder (whether or not the Indemnified Party is a party thereto) unless such settlement, compromise, consent or termination includes a release of the Indemnified Party from all liabilities arising out of such action, suit, proceeding, investigation or claim. The Indemnified Party will give to the Indemnifying Party and its counsel reasonable access to all business records and other documents relevant to such defence or settlement, and shall permit them to consult with the employees and counsel (if any) of the Indemnified Party.

Notwithstanding the foregoing:

(a) if the defendants in any such action, suit, proceeding or investigation include both the Indemnified Party and the Indemnifying Party, and the Indemnified Party is advised by counsel that there are legal defences available to the Indemnified Party that are additional to those available to the Indemnifying Party and that in such circumstances representation by the same counsel would be inappropriate; or

(b) if the Indemnified Party shall have reasonably concluded that the Indemnifying Party is not taking or has not taken, all necessary steps to diligently defend such claim, action, suit, proceeding or investigation, the Indemnified Party has provided written notice of same to the Indemnifying Party, and the Indemnifying Party has not rectified the situation within a reasonable time;

then the Indemnified Party shall have the right to retain separate counsel, the reasonable costs of which shall be at the Indemnifying Party's expense, to represent the Indemnified Party and to otherwise participate in the defence of such claim, action, suit, proceeding or investigation on behalf of such Indemnified Party. For further certainty, only one legal firm may be engaged at the expense of the Indemnifying Party.

Notwithstanding anything herein contained, an Indemnified Party shall have the right, at its sole cost and expense, to retain counsel to separately represent it in connection with the negotiation, settlement or defence of any claim, action, suit, proceeding or investigation brought by a third party provided, for further certainty, that such counsel shall not, unless agreed by the Indemnifying Party, assume control of the negotiation, settlement or defence.

Except to the extent expressly provided herein, no Indemnified Party shall settle any claim or action with respect to which it has sought or intends to seek indemnification pursuant to this Section 4.3 without the prior written consent of the Indemnifying Party, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld or delayed.

If the Indemnifying Party does not assume the defence of any claim, action, suit, proceeding or investigation brought against the Indemnified Party, then the Indemnified Party shall have the right to do so on its own behalf and all such expense in so doing shall be added to the amount of the claim for indemnification hereunder by such Indemnified Party as against the Indemnifying Party.

4.4 Net Amount

In the event that an Indemnifying Party is obligated to indemnify and hold any Indemnified Party harmless under this Section 4.4, the amount owing to the Indemnified Party shall be the amount of such Indemnified Party's out-of-pocket losses (whether paid or payable), net of any such out-of-pocket losses recovered by the Indemnified Party from any other person; provided that the foregoing shall not be construed so as to obligate an Indemnified Party to pursue or seek recovery of any of its out-of-pocket losses from any other person whomsoever, including insurers.

4.5 Third Party Beneficiaries

Each of the parties hereby acknowledges and agrees that the rights of indemnification provided for in this Article 4 shall not only be enforceable by the parties hereto but shall be enforceable directly by each of the Administrator Indemnitees and each of the Trust Indemnitees, and in this respect:

(a) each of the Trust, Holding Trust, AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2 and the General Partner appoints the Administrator to act as agent and trustee for the Administrator Indemnitees as regards the covenants of indemnification by the Trust, Holding Trust, AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2 and the General Partner given in favour of the Administrator Indemnitees pursuant to Section 4.1, and the Administrator accepts such appointment; and

(b) the Administrator appoints the Trust to act as agent and trustee for the Trust Indemnitees as regards the covenants by the Administrator given in favour of the Trust Indemnitees pursuant to Section 4.2, and the Trust accepts such appointment.

4.6 Subrogation Rights

If an Indemnified Party has a right against a person (other than as against one of the other parties to be indemnified by the Indemnifying Party) with respect to any damages or other amounts paid by the Indemnifying Party, then the Indemnifying Party shall, to the extent of such payment and to the extent permitted by Applicable law, be subrogated to the rights of such Indemnified Party as against such person. Notwithstanding the foregoing, no Indemnifying Party shall be subrogated to any insurance rights of any Indemnified Party.

EXPENSES

5.1 Expense Reimbursement

The Administrator shall be reimbursed by each of the Trust, Holding Trust, AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2 and the General Partner, without duplication, for such of the Expenses incurred by the Administrator in carrying out its obligations or duties under this Agreement as are, in the opinion of the Administrator acting reasonably, reasonably allocable respectively thereto. The Administrator shall calculate the Expenses and allocation thereof for each month and by the 15th day of the month following the end of such month (or on such other basis as the parties determine, provided that reimbursement shall be not less frequent than annually) shall invoice each of the Trust, Holding Trust, AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2 and the General Partner, without duplication, in respect thereof by setting out the details of the services provided by the Administrator and the Expenses and GST incurred by the Administrator in connection therewith. Such amounts shall be payable by each of the Trust, Holding Trust, AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2 and the General Partner, without duplication, not later than 30 days after such month. Notwithstanding the foregoing, each of the Trust, Holding Trust, AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2 and the General Partner, without duplication, shall have the right from time to time on written notice to the Administrator to assign the obligation to reimburse the Administrator, whereupon the assignee shall be responsible for such reimbursements until further notice and shall be invoiced for such.

5.2 Non-Fully-Deductible Expenses

Notwithstanding Section 5.1, in respect of any Expenses allocable to the Trust, Holding Trust, AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2 or the General Partner that are not, in accordance with the Tax Act, properly deductible against the respective income in the fiscal year thereof in which the Expense is incurred, the Administrator agrees to waive reimbursement in such year of such portion of the Expense which is not so deductible in such year. The Administrator shall provide AltaGas LP #2 (or, if AltaGas LP #2 has been wound-up or otherwise no longer exists, AltaGas LP #1) with the funds necessary to pay the non-deductible portion of Expenses of the Trust, Holding Trust, AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2 or the General Partner by repayment of loan, return of capital or otherwise. AltaGas LP #2 (or, if AltaGas LP #2 has been wound-up or otherwise no longer exists, AltaGas LP #1) shall lend the amount not deductible to such party. Any amount so loaned shall be non-interest bearing and repayable at the end of the first calendar quarter of each subsequent fiscal year of such party as to the amount then deductible in accordance with the Tax Act by such party in such fiscal year, until fully repaid.

5.3 Payment of GST

Unless otherwise provided in this Agreement, all amounts payable to the Administrator pursuant to this Agreement shall be exclusive of any goods and services tax required to be paid thereon pursuant to the Excise Tax Act (Canada) or otherwise (collectively, the "GST") and the Administrator shall be paid, in addition to such amounts, all amounts of GST collectible by the Administrator with respect thereto and such amounts shall be included by the Administrator in the invoice described in Section 5.1 hereto.

5.4 Failure to Pay When Due

Any amount payable to the Administrator hereunder and which is not remitted to the Administrator when so due shall remain due (whether on demand or otherwise) and interest will accrue on such overdue amounts (both before and after judgement), at a rate per annum equal to the prime rate charged by the Trust's principal banker plus one percent per annum from the date payment is due until the date payment is made.

5.5 Restrictions on the Administrator's Powers and Authorities

In the exercise of its powers and authority and in the performance of its obligations, covenants and responsibilities hereunder, the Administrator shall not, without first obtaining the written approval of the Trustee, the Holding Trust Trustee or the General Partner (as the case may be), charge or receive fees from any of the parties other than the reimbursement of expenses pursuant to Section 5.1 hereunder.

FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND RECORDS

6.1 Books and Records

The Administrator shall keep proper books, records and accounts in which full, true and correct entries in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles and all requirements of applicable laws will be made of all dealings and transactions in relation to the activities of the Trust, Holding Trust, AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2 and the General Partner and the performance by the Administrator of the services under this Agreement at the Administrator's head office in Alberta.

6.2 Examination of Records

The Administrator shall make available to the Trustee, the Holding Trust Trustee and the General Partner and their respective authorized representatives at any time during normal business hours on a Business Day all records, documents or information related to the activities of the Trust, Holding Trust, AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2 or the General Partner (as the case may be), wherever maintained. The Administrator shall permit the Trustee, the Holding Trust Trustee and the General Partner (as the case may be) and their respective authorized representatives at any time during normal business hours on a Business Day to examine the books, records, drawings, computer-stored data, correspondence, accounting procedures and practices, cost analyses and any other supporting financial data, including invoices, payments or claims and receipts pertaining to the activities of the Trust, Holding Trust, AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2 and the General Partner (as the case may be) maintained by the Administrator at its head office. Any examination at the Administrator's head office shall be conducted in a manner which will not unduly interfere with the conduct of the Administrator's business in the ordinary course. The Administrator shall furnish to the Trustee, the Holding Trust Trustee or the General Partner or their respective authorized representatives such financial and operating data and other information with respect to the activities of the Trust, Holding Trust, AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2 and the General Partner and as they shall from time to time reasonably request.

6.3 Compliance

The Administrator shall deliver to the Trustee within 90 days after the end of each fiscal year a certificate signed on behalf of the Administrator by the chief executive officer and the chief financial officer of the Administrator stating that a review of the activities of the Administrator and the Trust during the preceding fiscal year has been made under the supervision of such officers and that, based on that review and their best knowledge, the Administrator has fulfilled all of its obligations, and complied with all of the terms of, this Agreement in all material respects and that no default hereunder (or event which, with notice or lapse of time or both, could become a default hereunder) occurred during such fiscal year. The Administrator shall contemporaneously deliver an analogous certificate to the Holding Trust Trustee and the General Partner in respect of the activities of Holding Trust, AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2 and the General Partner (as the case may be) during each such period.

6.4 Provision of Information

Each of the Trust, Holding Trust, AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2 and the General Partner shall:

(a) grant access or cause access to be granted to the Administrator to the information necessary in order for the Administrator to perform its obligations, covenants and responsibilities pursuant to the terms hereof; and

(b) provide, or cause to be provided, all information as may be reasonably requested by the Administrator, and promptly notify the Administrator of any material facts or information of which it is aware, in relation to and which may affect the performance of the obligations, covenants or responsibilities of the Administrator pursuant to this Agreement, including any known material facts or material changes in the business, operations or capital of the Trust, Holding Trust, AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2 and the General Partner (as the case may be), or any known pending or threatened suits, actions, claims, proceedings or orders by or against the Trust, Holding Trust, AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2 and the General Partner or any of their affiliates before any court or administrative tribunal.

TERM AND TERMINATION

7.1 Term

Subject to Section 2.14, this Agreement shall become effective as of the date hereof and shall continue in full force and effect until the earlier of termination of the Trust and termination in the circumstances described in Article 7, provided that any one or more of the Trust, Holding Trust, AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2 and the General Partner may terminate this Agreement in respect of such person or persons on 30 days' notice to the Administrator.

7.2 Survival

Any obligation of the parties pursuant to the terms hereof which accrued prior to the termination of the Agreement and was intended to continue after the termination of the Agreement shall survive the termination of the Agreement.

7.3 Events of Default

Any party shall be in default ("Default") under this Agreement on:

(a) such party breaching or failing to observe or perform any of its material obligations under this Agreement and, within 30 days after its receipt of a notice from any of the other parties specifying the nature of such breach or failure, such party failing to cure such breach or failure or provide satisfactory evidence that such breach or failure will be cured or remedied within a reasonable period of time or after providing such satisfactory evidence thereafter failing to diligently pursue such cure or remedy; and

(b) (i) becoming Insolvent; (ii) being subject to any proceeding, voluntary or involuntary, with a view to postponing or rescheduling its debts generally or of distributing its assets among its creditors under the provisions of the Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act (Canada), the Companies Creditors' Arrangement Act (Canada), or any other applicable laws for the benefit of creditors; (iii) being liquidated; (iv) being wound up either voluntarily or under an order of a court of competent jurisdiction; (v) making a general assignment for the benefit of its creditors; or (vi) otherwise taking any action that acknowledges its being Insolvent.

7.4 Remedies of the Administrator

Upon the occurrence of an event of Default by any of the Trust, Holding Trust or AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2 or the General Partner that has not been remedied, the Administrator may, without recourse to legal process and without limiting any other rights or remedies which it may have at law or otherwise, immediately terminate this Agreement with respect to such party in Default by delivery of a written notice of termination to the Trust, Holding Trust, AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2 or the General Partner, as applicable.

7.5 Remedies of the Other Parties

Upon the occurrence of an event of Default by the Administrator that has not been remedied, any of the Trust, Holding Trust, AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2 or the General Partner may, without recourse to legal process and without limiting any other rights or remedies it may have at law or otherwise, immediately terminate this Agreement with respect to itself by delivery of a written notice of termination to the Administrator and the other parties.

7.6 Post Termination Arrangements

In the event of a termination of this Agreement with respect to the Trust, Holding Trust, AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2 or the General Partner:

(a) the Administrator shall deliver to such party all books, records, accounts, documents, systems and manuals which the Administrator has developed and maintained relating to such party pursuant to this Agreement; and

(b) such party and the Administrator shall take all steps as may be reasonably required to complete any final accounting as between them and to provide, if applicable, for the completion of any other matter contemplated by this Agreement.

FORCE MAJEURE

8.1 Consequences of Force Majeure

During the occurrence of an event of Force Majeure, the obligations of the party affected by such event of Force Majeure, to the extent and for the period that such obligations are not performed as a result of such event of Force Majeure, shall be suspended, and such party shall not be considered to be in breach or default hereunder, for the period of such occurrence, except that the occurrence of an event of Force Majeure (i) affecting the Trust, Holding Trust, AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2 and/or the General Partner but not affecting the performance of the Administrator's obligations hereunder, shall not relieve any of the parties hereto of its obligation to make payments of the expenses of the Administrator or (ii) affecting the Administrator but not affecting the performance of the obligations of the Trust, Holding Trust, AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2 and the General Partner hereunder, shall not relieve any of the parties hereto of its obligation to make payments of the expenses of the Administrator incurred before the event of Force Majeure in respect of services performed by the Administrator prior to such event of Force Majeure. The suspension of performance shall be of no greater scope and of no longer duration than is required by the event of Force Majeure. No obligation of either party that arose prior to the event of Force Majeure causing the suspension of performance shall be excused as a result of the event of Force Majeure.

8.2 Notice

A party whose obligations under this Agreement are affected by an event of Force Majeure: (i) shall give the other parties prompt written notice of the particulars of the event of Force Majeure and its expected duration, and (ii) shall use its best efforts to remedy its inability to perform such obligations.

MISCELLANEOUS

9.1 No Partnership, Joint Venture, Agency or Trust

The parties are not and shall not be deemed to be partners or joint venturers with one another and nothing herein shall be construed so as to impose any liability as such on any of them. The parties agree that the Administrator shall perform its obligations under this Agreement as an independent contractor and shall not be, and shall not be deemed to be, a trustee for any person, whether or not a party, in connection with the discharge by the Administrator of such obligations.

9.2 Amendments

Except as otherwise provided herein, this Agreement shall not be amended or varied in its terms by oral agreement or by representations or otherwise except by instrument in writing executed by the duly authorized representatives of the parties hereto or their respective successors or assigns.

9.3 Assignment

This Agreement may be assigned by any party hereto only with the prior written consent of the other parties.

9.4 Notices

Any notice, consent, waiver, direction or other communication required or permitted to be given under this Agreement by a party to any other party shall be in writing and shall be delivered by hand delivery, facsimile transmission or (provided that the mailing party does not know and should not reasonably have known of any disruption or anticipated disruption of postal service which might affect delivery of the mail) by registered mail (postage prepaid), addressed to the party to whom the notice is to be given, at its specified address herein. Any notice, consent, waiver, direction or other communication aforesaid shall, if hand delivered or delivered by facsimile transmission, be deemed to have been given and received on the date on which it was hand delivered or delivered (based on facsimile confirmation) by facsimile transmission (if prior to 4:30 pm (local time at the place of receipt) on a Business Day and, if not, the next succeeding Business Day) and if sent by registered mail be deemed to have been given and received on the fourth Business Day at the point of delivery following the date on which it was so sent. 9.5 Successors and Assigns

The provisions of this Agreement shall entire to the benefit of, and be binding upon, the parties and their respective successors and permitted assigns.

9.6 Severability

If any one or more of the provisions or parts thereof contained in this Agreement should be or become invalid, illegal or unenforceable in any respect in any jurisdiction, the remaining provisions or parts thereof contained herein shall be and shall be conclusively deemed to be, as to such jurisdiction, severable therefrom and:

(a) the validity, legality or enforceability of such remaining provisions or parts thereof shall not in any way be affected or impaired by the severance of the provisions or parts thereof severed; and

(b) the invalidity, illegality or unenforceability of any provision or part thereof contained in this Agreement in any jurisdiction shall not affect or impair such provision or part thereof or any other provisions of this Agreement in any other jurisdiction.

9.7 Further Assurances

Each party hereto shall, from time to time, and at all times hereafter, at the request of any other party hereto, but without further consideration, do all such further acts and execute and deliver all such further documents and instruments as shall be reasonably required in order to fully perform and carry out the terms and intent hereof.

9.8 Execution in Counterparts

This Agreement may be executed in counterparts, each of which is and is hereby conclusively deemed to be an original and counterparts collectively are to be conclusively deemed one instrument. Delivery of counterparts may be effected by facsimile transmission.

9.9 Waiver

No waiver by, any party hereto shall be effective unless such waiver is in writing and any waiver shall affect only the matter, and the occurrence thereof, specifically identified and shall not extend to any other matter or occurrence.

9.10 Liability of Administrator

The Administrator shall be liable to the Trust, Holding Trust, AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as applicable, for any loss occasioned by any breach by it of the standard of care and duty prescribed by Section 3.1

9.11 Limitations on Liability

The parties hereto acknowledge that:

(a) Computershare Trust Company of Canada, as trustee of the Trust, is entering into this Agreement solely in its capacity as trustee on behalf of the Trust and the obligations of the Trust hereunder shall not be personally binding upon the Trustee or any of the Unitholders and that any recourse against the Trust, the Trustee or any Unitholder in any manner in respect of any indebtedness, obligation or liability of the Trust arising hereunder or arising in connection herewith or from the matters to which this Agreement relates, if any, including without limitation claims based on negligence or otherwise tortious behaviour, shall be limited to, and satisfied only out of, the Trust Assets as defined in the Declaration of Trust;

(b) AltaGas Holding Trust Corp. is entering into this Agreement solely in its capacity as Holding Trust Trustee on behalf of the Holding Trust and the obligations of the Holding Trust hereunder shall not be personally binding upon the Holding Trust Trustee or any of the holders of Holding Trust Units and that any recourse against the Holding Trust, the Holding Trust Trustee or any holder of Holding Trust Units in any manner in respect of any indebtedness, obligation or liability of the Holding Trust arising hereunder or arising in connection herewith or from the matters to which this Agreement relates, if any, including without limitation claims based on negligence or otherwise tortious behaviour, shall be limited to, and satisfied only out of, the Trust Assets as defined in the Holding Declaration of Trust;

(c) AltaGas Holding Limited Partnership No. 1 is a limited partnership formed under the laws of Alberta, a limited partner of which is only liable for any of the limited partnership's liabilities or any of the limited partnership's losses to the extent of the amount that the limited partner has contributed or agreed to contribute to the limited partnership's capital and the limited partner's pro rata share of any undistributed income; and

(d) AltaGas Holding Limited Partnership No. 2 is a limited partnership formed under the laws of Alberta, a limited partner of which is only liable for any of the limited partnership's liabilities or any of the limited partnership's losses to the extent of the amount that the limited partner has contributed or agreed to contribute to the limited partnership's capital and the limited partner's pro rata share of any undistributed income.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF the parties have executed this Agreement at Calgary, Alberta as of the date first written above.

1.2 Interpretation Not Affected by Headings, etc.

The division of this Agreement into sections and other portions and the insertion of headings are for convenience of reference only and shall not affect the construction or interpretation hereof. Unless otherwise indicated, all references in this Agreement to an "Article" or "Section" followed by a number and/or a letter refer to the specified article or section of this Agreement.

1.3 Currency

Unless otherwise indicated, all sums of money referred to in this Agreement are expressed in lawful money of Canada.

1.4 Number, etc.

Unless the context otherwise requires, words importing the singular shall include the plural and vice versa and words importing any gender shall include all genders.

1.5 Date For Any Action

In the event that any date on which any action is required to be taken hereunder by any of the parties hereto is not a Business Day, such action shall be required to be taken on the next succeeding day which is a Business Day.

1.6 Entire Agreement

This Agreement and the agreements and other documents referred to herein constitute the entire agreement between the parties with respect to the Arrangement and other transactions contemplated hereby and supersede all other prior agreements, understandings, negotiations and discussions, whether oral or written, between the parties with respect thereto.

1.7 Accounting Matters

Unless otherwise indicated, all accounting terms used in this Agreement shall have the meanings attributable thereto under Canadian generally accepted accounting principles and all determinations of an accounting nature required to be made shall be made in a manner consistent with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles and past practice.

1.8 Construction

In this Agreement, unless otherwise indicated:

(a) the words "include", "including" or "in particular", when following any general term or statement, shall not be construed as limiting the general term or statement to the specific items or matters set forth or to similar items or matters, but rather as permitting the general term or statement to refer to all other items or matters that could reasonably fall within the broadest possible scope of the general term or statement;

(b) a reference to a statute means that statute, as amended and in effect as of the date of this Agreement, and includes each and every regulation and rule made thereunder and in effect as of the date hereof;

(c) a reference to an "approval", "authorization", "consent", "designation", "notice" or "agreement" means an approval, authorization, consent, designation, notice or agreement, as the case may be, in writing, signed by an authorized representative of the party or parties thereto;

(d) the phrase "ordinary course of business", or any variation thereof, of any person refers to the business of such person, carried on in the regular and ordinary course including commercially reasonable and businesslike actions that are in the regular and ordinary course of business for a company operating in the industry in which such business is conducted;

(e) where a word, term or phrase is defined, its derivatives or other grammatical forms have a corresponding meaning;

(f) time is of the essence; and

(g) references to a "party" or "parties" are references to a party or parties to this Agreement.

1.9 Governing Law

This Agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of Alberta and the federal laws of Canada applicable therein.

ARTICLE 2
PURPOSE OF AGREEMENT

2.1 Establishment of the Trust

The purpose of this Agreement is to create the Trust for the benefit of the Beneficiaries and the AltaGas Trust, as herein provided. The Trustee shall hold the Special Voting Unit in order to enable the Trustee to exercise the Voting Rights and will hold the Exchange Right and the Automatic Exchange Rights in order to enable the Trustee to exercise such rights, in each case as trustee for and on behalf of the Beneficiaries as provided in this Agreement. The Trustee shall hold the Special Voting Unit for and on behalf of the AltaGas Trust for all other rights associated with such Special Voting Unit other than the Voting Rights.

SPECIAL VOTING UNIT

3.1 Issue and Ownership of the Special Voting Unit

The AltaGas Trust, concurrently with its execution of this Agreement, issues to, and deposits with, the Trustee the Special Voting Unit to be hereafter held of record by the Trustee as trustee for and on behalf of, and for the use and benefit of, the Beneficiaries and in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement. The AltaGas Trust hereby acknowledges receipt from the Trustee as trustee for and on behalf of the Beneficiaries of good and valuable consideration (and the adequacy thereof) for the issuance of the Special Voting Unit by the AltaGas Trust to the Trustee. During the term of the Trust and subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, the Trustee shall possess and be vested with full legal ownership of such Special Voting Unit and shall be entitled to exercise all of the rights and powers of an owner with respect to such Special Voting Unit provided that the Trustee shall:

(a) hold such Special Voting Unit and the legal title thereto as trustee solely for the use and benefit of the Beneficiaries in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement; and

(b) except as specifically authorized by this Agreement, have no power or authority to sell, transfer, vote or otherwise deal in or with such Special Voting Unit and such Special Voting Unit shall not be used or disposed of by the Trustee for any purpose other than the purposes for which this Trust is created pursuant to this Agreement.

3.2 Legended Share Certificates

Each of AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 will cause each certificate representing Exchangeable Securities issued by it to bear an appropriate legend notifying the Beneficiaries of their right to instruct the Trustee with respect to the exercise of the portion of the Voting Rights in respect of the Exchangeable Securities held by the Beneficiaries.

3.3 Safe Keeping of Certificate

The physical certificate representing the Special Voting Unit shall at all times be held in safe keeping by the Trustee or its duly authorized agent.

ARTICLE 4
EXERCISE OF VOTING RIGHTS

4.1 Voting Rights

The Trustee, as the holder of record of the Special Voting Unit forming part of the Trust Estate, shall be entitled to all of the Voting Rights, including the right to vote in person or by proxy the Special Voting Unit held by the Trustee on any matter, question, proposal or proposition whatsoever that may properly come before the Unitholders at a Trust Meeting or in connection with a Trust Consent. The Voting Rights shall be and remain vested in and exercised by the Trustee. Subject to Section 6.15, the Trustee shall exercise the Voting Rights only on the basis of instructions received pursuant to this Article 4 from Beneficiaries entitled to instruct the Trustee as to the voting thereof at the time at which the Trust Meeting is held or a Trust Consent is sought. To the extent that no instructions are received from a Beneficiary with respect to the Voting Rights to which such Beneficiary is entitled, the Trustee shall not exercise or permit the exercise of such Voting Rights.

4.2 Number of Votes

With respect to all meetings of Unitholders at which Unitholders are entitled to vote (each, a "Trust Meeting") and with respect to all written consents sought from the Unitholders (each, a "Trust Consent"), each Beneficiary shall be entitled to instruct the Trustee to cast and exercise, in the manner instructed, a number of votes equal to the Equivalent Vote Amount for each Exchangeable Security owned of record by such Beneficiary on the record date established by the AltaGas Trust or by applicable law for such Trust Meeting or Trust Consent, as the case may be, (collectively, the "Beneficiary Votes") in respect of each matter, question, proposal or proposition to be voted on at such Trust Meeting or consented to in connection with such Trust Consent.

4.3 Mailings to Unitholders

With respect to each Trust Meeting and Trust Consent, the Trustee will use its reasonable efforts promptly to mail or cause to be mailed (or otherwise communicate in the same manner as the AltaGas Trust utilizes in communications to holders of Trust Units subject to applicable regulatory requirements and provided such manner of communication is reasonably available to the Trustee) to each of the Beneficiaries named in the List, such mailing or communication to commence on the same day as the mailing or notice (or other communication) with respect thereto is commenced by the AltaGas Trust to its Trust Unitholders:

(a) a copy of such notice, together with any related materials, including any proxy or information statement, to be provided to Trust Unitholders of the AltaGas Trust;

(b) a statement that such Beneficiary is entitled to instruct the Trustee as to the exercise of the Beneficiary Votes with respect to such Trust Meeting or Trust Consent or, pursuant to Section 4.7, to attend such Trust Meeting and to exercise personally thereat the Beneficiary Votes of such Beneficiary;

(c) a statement as to the manner in which such instructions may be given to the Trustee, including an express indication that instructions may be given to the Trustee to give:

(i) a proxy to such Beneficiary or its designee to exercise personally the Beneficiary Votes; or

(ii) a proxy to a designated agent or other representative of the management of the AltaGas Trust to exercise such Beneficiary Votes;

(d) a statement that if no such instructions are received from the Beneficiary, the Beneficiary Votes to which such Beneficiary is entitled will not be exercised;

(e) a form of direction whereby the Beneficiary may so direct and instruct the Trustee as contemplated herein; and

(f) a statement of the time and date by which such instructions must be received by the Trustee in order to be binding upon it, which in the case of a Trust Meeting shall not be earlier than the close of business on the second Business Day prior to such meeting, and of the method for revoking or amending such instructions.

For the purpose of determining Beneficiary Votes to which a Beneficiary is entitled in respect of any Trust Meeting or Trust Consent, the number of Exchangeable Securities owned of record by the Beneficiary shall be determined at the close of business on the record date established by the AltaGas Trust or by applicable law for purposes of determining Unitholders entitled to vote at such Trust Meeting or to give written consent in connection with such Trust Consent. The AltaGas Trust shall notify the Trustee of any decision of the trustee of the AltaGas Trust with respect to the calling of any Trust Meeting or the seeking of any Trust Consent and shall provide all necessary information and materials to the Trustee in each case promptly and in any event in sufficient time to enable the Trustee to perform its obligations contemplated by this Section 4.3.

The materials referred to in this Section 4.3 are to be provided to the Trustee by the AltaGas Trust and the materials referred to in Sections 4.3(c), 4.3(e) and 4.3(f) shall be subject to reasonable comment by the Trustee in a timely manner. The AltaGas Trust shall ensure that the materials to be provided to the Trustee are provided in sufficient time to permit the Trustee to comment as aforesaid and to send all materials to each Beneficiary at the same time as such materials are first sent to holders of Trust Units. The AltaGas Trust agrees not to communicate with holders of Trust Units with respect to the materials referred to in this Section 4.3 otherwise than by mail unless such method of communication is also reasonably available to the Trustee for communication with the Beneficiaries. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the AltaGas Trust may at its option exercise the duties of the Trustee to deliver copies of all materials to each Beneficiary as required by this Section 4.3 so long as in each case the AltaGas Trust delivers a certificate to the Trustee stating that the AltaGas Trust has undertaken to perform the obligations set forth in this Section 4.3.

4.4 Copies of Unitholder Information

The AltaGas Trust will deliver to the Trustee copies of all proxy materials (including notices of Trust Meetings but excluding proxies to vote Trust Units), information statements, reports (including all interim and annual financial statements) and other written communications that, in each case, are to be distributed from time to time to Unitholders in sufficient quantities and in sufficient time so as to enable the Trustee to send those materials to each Beneficiary, to the extent possible, at the same time as such materials are first sent to Unitholders. The Trustee will mail or otherwise send to each Beneficiary, at the expense of the AltaGas Trust, copies of all such materials (and all materials specifically directed to the Beneficiaries or to the Trustee for the benefit of the Beneficiaries by the AltaGas Trust) received by the Trustee from the AltaGas Trust, to the extent possible, at the same time as such materials are sent to Unitholders. The Trustee will make copies of all such materials available for inspection by any Beneficiary at the Trustee's principal office in Calgary, Alberta. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the AltaGas Trust at its option may exercise the duties of the Trustee to deliver copies of all materials to each Beneficiary as required by this Section 4.4 so long as in each case the AltaGas Trust delivers a certificate to the Trustee stating that the AltaGas Trust has undertaken to perform the obligations set forth in this Section 4.4.

4.5 Other Materials

As soon as reasonably practicable after receipt by the AltaGas Trust or holders of Trust Units (if such receipt is known by the AltaGas Trust) of any materials sent or given by or on behalf of a third party to holders of Trust Units generally, including dissident proxy and information circulars (and related information and material) and tender and exchange offer circulars (and related information and material), the AltaGas Trust shall use its reasonable best efforts to obtain and deliver to the Trustee copies thereof in sufficient quantities so as to enable the Trustee to forward such materials (unless the same has been provided directly to Beneficiaries by such third party) to each Beneficiary as soon as possible thereafter. As soon as reasonably practicable after receipt thereof, the Trustee will mail or otherwise send to each Beneficiary, at the expense of the AltaGas Trust, copies of all such materials received by the Trustee from the AltaGas Trust. The Trustee will also make available for inspection by any Beneficiary at the Trustee's principal office in Calgary, Alberta, copies of all such materials. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the AltaGas Trust at its option may exercise the duties of the Trustee to deliver copies of all such materials to each Beneficiary as required by this Section 4.5 so long as in each case the AltaGas Trust delivers a certificate to the Trustee stating that the AltaGas Trust has undertaken to perform the obligations set forth in this Section 4.5.

4.6 List of Persons Entitled to Vote

Each of AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 shall, (a) prior to each annual and special Trust Meeting or the seeking of any Trust Consent and (b) forthwith upon each request made at any time by the Trustee in writing, prepare or cause to be prepared a list (a "List") of the names and addresses of the Beneficiaries arranged in alphabetical order and showing the number of Exchangeable Securities issued by it held of record by each such Beneficiary, in each case at the close of business on the date specified by the Trustee in such request or, in the case of a List prepared in connection with a Trust Meeting or a Trust Consent, at the close of business on the record date established by the AltaGas Trust or pursuant to applicable law for determining the holders of Trust Units entitled to receive notice of and/or to vote at such Trust Meeting or to give consent in connection with such Trust Consent. Each such List shall be delivered to the Trustee promptly after receipt by AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as the case may be, of such request or the record date for such meeting or seeking of consent, as the case may be, and in any event within sufficient time as to permit the Trustee to perform its obligations under this Agreement. The AltaGas Trust agrees to give each of AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 notice (with a copy to the Trustee) of the calling of any Trust Meeting or the seeking of any Trust Consent by the AltaGas Trust or its management, together with the record dates therefor, sufficiently prior to the date of the calling of such meeting or seeking of such consent so as to enable each of AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 to perform its obligations under this Section 4.6.

4.7 Entitlement to Direct Votes

Any Beneficiary named in a List prepared in connection with any Trust Meeting or Trust Consent will be entitled (a) to instruct the Trustee in the manner described in Section 4.2 with respect to the exercise of the Beneficiary Votes to which such Beneficiary is entitled or (b) to attend such meeting and personally exercise thereat (or to personally exercise with respect to any Trust Consent), as the proxy of the Trustee, the Beneficiary Votes to which such Beneficiary is entitled.

4.8 Voting by the Trustee and Attendance of Trustee Representative at Meeting

(a) In connection with each Trust Meeting and Trust Consent, the Trustee shall exercise, either in person or by proxy, in accordance with the instructions received from a Beneficiary pursuant to Section 4.2, the Beneficiary Votes as to which such Beneficiary is entitled to direct the vote (or any lesser number thereof as may be set forth in the instructions); provided, however, that such written instructions are received by the Trustee from the Beneficiary prior to the time and date fixed by the Trustee for receipt of such instruction in the notice given by the Trustee to the Beneficiary pursuant to Section 4.3.

(b) Subject to receipt of instructions contemplated by 4.3(f), the Trustee shall cause a representative who is empowered by it to sign and deliver, on behalf of the Trustee, proxies for Voting Rights to attend each Trust Meeting. Upon submission by a Beneficiary (or its designee) of identification satisfactory to the Trustee's representative, and at the Beneficiary's request, such representative shall sign and deliver to such Beneficiary (or its designee) a proxy to exercise personally the Beneficiary Votes as to which such Beneficiary is otherwise entitled hereunder to direct the vote, if such Beneficiary either (i) has not previously given the Trustee instructions pursuant to Section 4.2 in respect of such meeting or (ii) submits to such representative written revocation of any such previous instructions. At such meeting, upon receipt of a proxy from the Trustee's representative, the Beneficiary exercising such Beneficiary Votes shall have the same rights as the Trustee to speak at the meeting in respect of any matter, question, proposal or proposition, to vote by way of ballot at the meeting in respect of any matter, question, proposal or proposition, and to vote at such meeting by way of a show of hands in respect of any matter, question or proposition.

4.9 Distribution of Written Materials

Any written materials distributed by or on behalf of the Trustee pursuant to this Agreement shall be sent by mail (or otherwise communicated in the same manner as the AltaGas Trust utilizes in communications to holders of Trust Units, subject to applicable regulatory requirements and provided such manner of communication is reasonably available to the Trustee) to each Beneficiary at its address as shown on the books of AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas

LP #2, as applicable. The AltaGas Trust agrees not to communicate with holders of Trust Units with respect to such written material otherwise than by mail unless such method of communication is also reasonably available to the Trustee for communication with the Beneficiaries. Each of AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 shall provide or cause to be provided to the Trustee for purposes of communication, on a timely basis and without charge or other expense:

(a) a current List; and

(b) upon the request of the Trustee, mailing labels to enable the Trustee to carry out its duties under this Agreement.

Each of AltaGas LP #1's and AltaGas LP #2's obligations under this Section 4.9 shall be deemed satisfied to the extent the AltaGas Trust exercises its option to perform the duties of the Trustee to deliver copies of materials to each Beneficiary and AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as the case may be, provides the required information and materials to the AltaGas Trust.

4.10 Termination of Voting Rights

Except as otherwise provided herein or in the Exchangeable Securities Provisions, all of the rights of a Beneficiary with respect to the Beneficiary Votes exercisable in respect of the Exchangeable Securities held by such Beneficiary, including the right to instruct the Trustee as to the voting of or to vote personally such Beneficiary Votes, shall be deemed to be surrendered by the Beneficiary and such Beneficiary Votes and the Voting Rights represented thereby shall cease and be terminated immediately, upon:

(a) the delivery by such Beneficiary to the Trustee of the certificates representing such Exchangeable Securities in connection with the exercise by the Beneficiary of the Exchange Right (unless the AltaGas Trust shall not have delivered the Class B Unit Consideration deliverable in exchange therefor to the Trustee for delivery to the Beneficiary);

(b) the occurrence of the automatic exchange of Exchangeable Securities for Trust Units, as specified in Article 5 (unless the AltaGas Trust shall not have delivered the Class B Unit Consideration deliverable in exchange therefor to the Trustee for delivery to the Beneficiary);

(c) the redemption of Exchangeable Securities pursuant to Article 6 or Article 7 of the Exchangeable Securities Provisions, or upon the effective date of the liquidation, dissolution or winding-up of whichever of AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2 issued the Exchangeable Securities held by such Beneficiary pursuant to Article 5 of the Exchangeable Securities Provisions;

(d) the automatic redemption of Exchangeable Securities pursuant to Article 8 of the Exchangeable Securities Provisions;

(e) the purchase of Exchangeable Securities from the holder thereof by whichever of AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2 issued the Exchangeable Securities held by such holder; or

(f) the purchase of Exchangeable Securities from the holder thereof by Holding Trust pursuant to the Liquidation Call Right pursuant to Article 10 of the Exchangeable Securities Provisions.

5.1 Grant and Ownership of the Exchange Right

The AltaGas Trust hereby grants to the Trustee as trustee for and on behalf of, and for the use and benefit of, the Beneficiaries the right (the "Exchange Right"), upon the occurrence and during the continuance of an Insolvency Event, to require the AltaGas Trust to purchase from each or any Beneficiary all or any part of the Exchangeable Securities held by such Beneficiary and the Automatic Exchange Rights, all in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement. The AltaGas Trust hereby acknowledges receipt from the Trustee as trustee for and on behalf of the Beneficiaries of good and valuable consideration (and the adequacy thereof) for the grant of the Exchange Right and the Automatic Exchange Rights by the AltaGas Trust to the Trustee. During the term of the Trust and subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, the Trustee shall possess and be vested with full legal ownership of the Exchange Right and the Automatic Exchange Rights and shall be entitled to exercise all of the rights and powers of an owner with respect to the Exchange Right and the Automatic Exchange Rights, provided that the Trustee shall:

(a) hold the Exchange Right and the Automatic Exchange Rights and the legal title thereto as trustee solely for the use and benefit of the Beneficiaries in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement; and

(b) except as specifically authorized by this Agreement, have no power or authority to exercise or otherwise deal in or with the Exchange Right or the Automatic Exchange Rights, and the Trustee shall not exercise any such rights for any purpose other than the purposes for which the Trust is created pursuant to this Agreement.

5.2 Legended Share Certificates

Each of AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 shall cause each certificate representing Exchangeable Securities to bear an appropriate legend notifying the Beneficiaries of:

(a) their right to instruct the Trustee with respect to the exercise of the Exchange Right in respect of the Exchangeable Securities held by a Beneficiary; and

(b) the Automatic Exchange Rights.

5.3 General Exercise of Exchange Right

The Exchange Right shall be and remain vested in and exercisable by the Trustee. Subject to Section 6.15, the Trustee shall exercise the Exchange Right only on the basis of instructions received pursuant to this Article 5 from Beneficiaries entitled to instruct the Trustee as to the exercise thereof. To the extent that no instructions are received from a Beneficiary with respect to the Exchange Right, the Trustee shall not exercise or permit the exercise of the Exchange Right.

5.4 Purchase Price

The purchase price payable by the AltaGas Trust for each Exchangeable Security to be purchased by the AltaGas Trust under the Exchange Right shall be: an amount per Exchangeable Security equal to the Class B Unit Price on the last Business Day prior to the day of closing of the purchase and sale of such Exchangeable Securities under the Exchange Right; and the assumption by AltaGas Trust of any Partnership Loan Indebtedness in respect of such Exchangeable Security. In connection with each exercise of the Exchange Right, the AltaGas Trust shall provide to the Trustee an Officer's Certificate setting forth the calculation of the Class B Unit Price for each Exchangeable Security. The Class B Unit Price for each such Exchangeable Security so purchased may be satisfied only by the AltaGas Trust delivering or causing to be delivered to the Trustee, on behalf of the relevant Beneficiary, the Class B Unit Consideration representing the total Class B Unit Price. Upon payment by the AltaGas Trust of such purchase price to the Trustee for the benefit of the Beneficiary, the relevant Beneficiary shall cease to have any right to be paid any amount in respect of declared and unpaid loans or distributions on each such Exchangeable Security by AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as the case may be.

5.5 Exercise Instructions

Subject to the terms and conditions herein set forth, a Beneficiary shall be entitled, upon the occurrence and during the continuance of an Insolvency Event, to instruct the Trustee to exercise the Exchange Right with respect to all or any part of the Exchangeable Securities registered in the name of such Beneficiary on the books of AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as the case may be. To cause the exercise of the Exchange Right by the Trustee, the Beneficiary shall deliver to the Trustee, in person or by certified or registered mail, at its principal office in Calgary, Alberta or at such other places in Canada as the Trustee may from time to time designate by written notice to the Beneficiaries, the certificates representing the Exchangeable Securities which such Beneficiary desires the AltaGas Trust to purchase, duly endorsed in blank for transfer, and accompanied by such other documents and instruments as may be required to effect a transfer of Exchangeable Securities under the Limited Partnership Agreement of AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as the case may be, and such additional documents and instruments as the Trustee, AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as the case may be, and the AltaGas Trust may reasonably require together with (a) a duly completed form of notice of exercise of the Exchange Right, contained on the reverse of or attached to the Exchangeable Securities certificates, stating (i) that the Beneficiary thereby instructs the Trustee to exercise the Exchange Right so as to require the AltaGas Trust to purchase from the Beneficiary the number of Exchangeable Securities specified therein, (ii) that such Beneficiary has good title to and owns all such Exchangeable Securities to be acquired by the AltaGas Trust free and clear of all liens, claims, security interests and encumbrances, (iii) the names in which the certificates representing Trust

Units issuable in connection with the exercise of the Exchange Right are to be issued and (iv) the names and addresses of the persons to whom such new certificates should be delivered, and (b) payment (or evidence satisfactory to the Trustee, AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as the case may be, and the AltaGas Trust of payment) of the taxes (if any) payable as contemplated by Section 5.8. If only a part of the Exchangeable Securities represented by any certificate or certificates delivered to the Trustee are to be purchased by the AltaGas Trust under the Exchange Right, a new certificate for the balance of such Exchangeable Securities shall be issued to the holder at the expense of AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as the case may be.

5.6 Delivery of Trust Units; Effect of Exercise

Promptly after the receipt by the Trustee of the certificates representing the Exchangeable Securities which the Beneficiary desires the AltaGas Trust to purchase under the Exchange Right, together with such documents and instruments of transfer and a duly completed form of notice of exercise of the Exchange Right (and payment of taxes, if any payable as contemplated by Section 5.8 or evidence thereof), duly endorsed for transfer to the AltaGas Trust, the Trustee shall notify the AltaGas Trust and AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as applicable, of its receipt of the same, which notice to the AltaGas Trust and AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as applicable, shall constitute exercise of the Exchange Right by the Trustee on behalf of the Beneficiary in respect of such Exchangeable Securities, and the AltaGas Trust shall promptly thereafter deliver or cause to be delivered to the Trustee, for delivery to the Beneficiary in respect of such Exchangeable Securities (or to such other persons, if any, properly designated by such Beneficiary) the Class B Unit Consideration deliverable in connection with the exercise of the Exchange Right; provided, however, that no such delivery shall be made unless and until the Beneficiary requesting the same shall have paid (or provided evidence satisfactory to the Trustee, AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as applicable, and the AltaGas Trust of the payment of) the taxes (if any) payable as contemplated by Section 5.8. Immediately upon the giving of notice by the Trustee to the AltaGas Trust and AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as applicable, of the exercise of the Exchange Right, as provided in this Section 5.6, the closing of the transaction of purchase and sale contemplated by the Exchange Right shall be deemed to have occurred, and the Beneficiary of such Exchangeable Securities shall be deemed to have transferred to the AltaGas Trust all of such Beneficiary's right, title and interest in and to such Exchangeable Securities and in the related interest in the Trust Estate and shall cease to be a holder of such Exchangeable Securities and shall not be entitled to exercise any of the rights of a holder in respect thereof, other than the right to receive his proportionate part of the total purchase price therefor, unless such Class B Unit Consideration is not delivered by the AltaGas Trust to the Trustee for delivery to such Beneficiary (or to such other person, if any, properly designated by such Beneficiary) within five Business Days of the date of the giving of such notice by the Trustee, in which case the rights of the Beneficiary shall remain unaffected until such Class B Unit Consideration is delivered by the AltaGas Trust and any cheque included therein is paid. Upon delivery of such Class B Unit Consideration by the AltaGas Trust to the Trustee, the Trustee shall deliver such Class B Unit Consideration to such Beneficiary (or to such other person, if any, properly designated by such Beneficiary). Concurrently with such Beneficiary ceasing to be a holder of Exchangeable Securities, the Beneficiary (or such other person properly designated by such Beneficiary) shall be considered and deemed for all purposes to be the holder of the Trust Units delivered to it pursuant to the Exchange Right.

Notwithstanding anything contained in this Agreement or the Limited Partnership Agreements (including the Exchangeable Securities Provisions), upon the exercise of the Exchange Right by the Trustee on behalf of the Beneficiary, all obligations under or pertaining to Partnership Loan Indebtedness of the Beneficiary in respect of each Exchangeable Security in respect of which such Exchange Right is exercised shall be, and be deemed to be, assumed by AltaGas Trust, and AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as the case may be, shall release, and be deemed to release, such Beneficiary from and in respect of all such obligations without further act or formality.

5.7 Exercise of Exchange Right Subsequent to Retraction

In the event that a Beneficiary has exercised its right under Article 6 of the Exchangeable Securities Provisions to require AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as applicable, to redeem any or all of the Exchangeable Securities held by the Beneficiary (the "Retracted Securities") and is notified by AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as applicable, pursuant to Section 6.5 of the Exchangeable Securities Provisions that AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as applicable, will not be permitted as a result of applicable law to redeem all such Retracted Securities, and provided that the Beneficiary has not revoked the retraction request delivered by the Beneficiary to AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as applicable, pursuant to Section 6.6 of the Exchangeable Securities Provisions, and provided further that the Trustee has received written notice of same from AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as applicable, or the AltaGas Trust, the retraction request will constitute and will be deemed to constitute notice from the Beneficiary to the Trustee instructing the Trustee to exercise the Exchange Right with respect to those Retracted Securities that AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as applicable, is unable to redeem. In any such event, AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as applicable, hereby agrees with the Trustee and in favour of the Beneficiary promptly to forward or cause to be forwarded to the Trustee all relevant materials delivered by the Beneficiary to AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as applicable, or to the transfer agent of the Exchangeable Securities (including a copy of the Retraction Request delivered pursuant to Section 6.1 of the Exchangeable Securities Provisions) in connection with such proposed redemption of the Retracted Securities and the Trustee will thereupon exercise the Exchange Right with respect to the Retracted Securities that AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as applicable, is not permitted to redeem and will require the AltaGas Trust to purchase such Retracted Securities in accordance with the provisions of this Article 5.

5.8 Stamp or Other Transfer Taxes

Upon any sale of Exchangeable Securities to the AltaGas Trust pursuant to the Exchange Right or the Automatic Exchange Rights, the certificate or certificates representing Trust Units to be delivered in connection with the payment of the purchase price therefor shall be issued in the name of the Beneficiary in respect of the Exchangeable Securities so sold or in such names as such Beneficiary may otherwise direct in writing without charge to the holder of the Exchangeable Securities so sold; provided, however, that such Beneficiary shall pay (and none of the AltaGas Trust, AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as applicable, or the Trustee shall be required to pay) any documentary, stamp, transfer or other taxes that may be payable in respect of any transfer involved in the issuance or delivery of such shares to a person other than such Beneficiary or evidenced to the satisfaction of the AltaGas Trust and AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as applicable, that such taxes, if any, have been paid.

5.9 Notice of Insolvency Event

As soon as practicable following the occurrence of an Insolvency Event or any event that with the giving of notice or the passage of time or both would be an Insolvency Event, AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as applicable, and the AltaGas Trust shall give written notice thereof to the Trustee. As soon as practicable following the receipt of notice from AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as applicable, or the AltaGas Trust of the occurrence of an Insolvency Event, or upon the Trustee becoming aware of an Insolvency Event, the Trustee will mail to each Beneficiary, at the expense of the AltaGas Trust (such funds to be received in advance), a notice of such Insolvency Event in the form provided by the AltaGas Trust, which notice shall contain a brief statement of the rights of the Beneficiaries with respect to the Exchange Right.

5.10 Qualification of Trust Units

The AltaGas Trust covenants that if any Trust Units issuable pursuant to the Exchange Right or the Automatic Exchange Rights require registration or qualification with or approval of or the filing of any document, including any registration statement, prospectus or similar document, or the taking of any proceeding with or the obtaining of any order, ruling or consent from any governmental authority or the fulfilment of any other Canadian federal, provincial or territorial legal requirement before such Trust Units may be issued and delivered by the AltaGas Trust to the initial holder thereof or in order that such Trust Units may be freely traded thereafter (other than any restrictions of general application on transfer by reason of a holder being a "control person" of the AltaGas Trust for purposes of Canadian provincial securities law), the AltaGas Trust will in good faith use its reasonable best efforts to take all such actions and do all such things as are necessary or desirable to cause such Trust Units to be and remain duly registered, qualified or approved under Canadian law. The AltaGas Trust will use its reasonable best efforts and in good faith expeditiously take all such actions and do all such things as are reasonably necessary or desirable to cause all the Trust Units to be delivered pursuant to the Exchange Right or the Automatic Exchange Rights to be listed, quoted or posted for trading on all stock exchanges and quotation systems on which outstanding Trust Units are listed, quoted or posted for trading at such time.

5.11 Trust Units

The AltaGas Trust hereby represents, warrants and covenants that the Trust Units issuable to Beneficiaries as described herein will be duly authorized and validly issued, fully paid and non-assessable and shall be free and clear of any lien, claim or encumbrance.

5.12 Automatic Exchange on Liquidation of the AltaGas Trust

(a) The AltaGas Trust will give the Trustee written notice of each of the following events at the time set forth below:

(i) in the event of any determination by the trustee of the AltaGas Trust to institute voluntary liquidation, dissolution or winding-up proceedings with respect to the AltaGas Trust or to effect any other distribution of assets of the AltaGas Trust among its Trust Unitholders for the purpose of winding up its affairs, at least 60 days prior to the proposed effective date of such liquidation, dissolution, winding-up or other distribution; and

(ii) promptly following the earlier of (A) receipt by the AltaGas Trust of notice of, and (B) the AltaGas Trust otherwise becoming aware of, any threatened or instituted claim, suit, petition or other proceedings with respect to the involuntary liquidation, dissolution or winding-up of the AltaGas Trust or to effect any other distribution of assets of the AltaGas Trust among its Trust Unitholders for the purpose of winding up its affairs, in each case where the AltaGas Trust has failed to contest in good faith any such proceeding commenced in respect of the AltaGas Trust within 30 days of becoming aware thereof.

(b) Promptly following receipt by the Trustee from the AltaGas Trust of notice of any event (a "Liquidation Event") contemplated by Section 5.12(a) above, the Trustee will give notice thereof to the Beneficiaries. Such notice shall be provided to the Trustee by the AltaGas Trust and shall include a brief description of rights of the Beneficiaries with respect to the Automatic Exchange Rights provided for in Section 5.12(c).

(c) In order that the Beneficiaries will be able to participate on a pro rata basis with the holders of Trust Units in the distribution of assets of the AltaGas Trust in connection with a Liquidation Event, immediately prior to the effective time (the "Liquidation Event Effective Time") of a Liquidation Event all of the then outstanding Exchangeable Securities shall be automatically exchanged for Trust Units. To effect such automatic exchange, the AltaGas Trust shall purchase each Exchangeable Security outstanding immediately prior to the Liquidation Event Effective Time and held by Beneficiaries, and each Beneficiary shall sell the Exchangeable Securities held by such Beneficiary at such time, for a purchase price per Exchangeable Security equal to the Class B Unit Price applicable at that time. The AltaGas Trust shall provide the Trustee with an Officer's Certificate in connection with any automatic exchange setting forth the calculation of the Class B Unit Price for each Exchangeable Security.

(d) The closing of the transaction of purchase and sale contemplated by the automatic exchange of Exchangeable Securities for Trust Units shall be deemed to have occurred immediately prior to the Liquidation Event Effective Time, and each Beneficiary shall be deemed to have transferred to the AltaGas Trust all of the Beneficiary's right, title and interest in and to such Beneficiary's Exchangeable Securities and the related interest in the Trust Estate. Any right of each such Beneficiary to receive loans from AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as the case may be, shall be deemed to be satisfied and discharged and each such Beneficiary shall cease to be a holder of such Exchangeable Securities and the AltaGas Trust shall deliver to the Beneficiary the Class B Unit Consideration deliverable upon the automatic exchange of Exchangeable Securities. Concurrently with such Beneficiary ceasing to be a holder of Exchangeable Securities, the Beneficiary shall be considered and deemed for all purposes to be the holder of the Trust Units issued pursuant to the automatic exchange of Exchangeable Securities for Trust Units and the certificates held by the Beneficiary previously representing the Exchangeable Securities exchanged by the Beneficiary with the AltaGas Trust pursuant to such automatic exchange shall thereafter be deemed to represent Trust Units issued to the Beneficiary by the AltaGas Trust pursuant to such automatic exchange. Upon the request of a Beneficiary and the surrender by the Beneficiary of Exchangeable Securities certificates deemed to represent Trust Units, duly endorsed in blank and accompanied by such instruments of transfer as the AltaGas Trust may reasonably require, the AltaGas Trust shall deliver or cause to be delivered to the Beneficiary certificates representing Trust Units of which the Beneficiary is the holder.

5.13 Withholding Rights

Each of the AltaGas Trust, AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2 and the Trustee shall be entitled (without duplication) to deduct and withhold from any consideration otherwise payable under this Agreement to any holder of Exchangeable Securities or Trust Units such amounts as the AltaGas Trust, AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2 or the Trustee is required to deduct and withhold with respect to such payment under the Income Tax Act (Canada) or any provision of federal, provincial, state, local or foreign tax law, in each case as amended or succeeded. The Trustee may act on the advice of counsel with respect to such matters. To the extent that amounts are so withheld, such withheld amounts shall be treated for all purposes as having been paid to the holder of the securities in respect of which such deduction and withholding was made, provided that such withheld amounts are actually remitted to the appropriate taxing authority. To the extent that the amount so required to be deducted or withheld from any payment to a holder exceeds the cash portion of the consideration otherwise payable to the holder, the AltaGas Trust, AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2 and the Trustee are hereby authorized to sell or otherwise dispose of such portion of the consideration as is necessary to provide sufficient funds to the AltaGas Trust, AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2 or the Trustee, as the case may be, to enable it to comply with such deduction or withholding requirement and the AltaGas Trust, AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as the case may be, or the Trustee shall notify the holder thereof and remit to such holder any unapplied balance of the net proceeds of such sale.

ARTICLE 6
CONCERNING THE TRUSTEE

6.1 Powers and Duties of the Trustee

The rights, powers, duties and authorities of the Trustee under this Agreement, in its capacity as trustee of the Trust, shall include:

(a) receipt and deposit of the Special Voting Unit from the AltaGas Trust as trustee for and on behalf of the Beneficiaries in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement;

(b) granting proxies and distributing materials to Beneficiaries as provided in this Agreement;

(c) casting and exercising the Beneficiary Votes in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement;

(d) receiving the grant of the Exchange Right and the Automatic Exchange Rights from the AltaGas Trust as trustee for and on behalf of the Beneficiaries in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement;

(e) exercising the Exchange Right and enforcing the benefit of the Automatic Exchange Rights, in each case in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement, and in connection therewith receiving from Beneficiaries Exchangeable Securities and other requisite documents and distributing to such Beneficiaries Trust Units, cheques and other property, if any, to which such Beneficiaries are entitled upon the exercise of the Exchange Right or pursuant to the Automatic Exchange Rights, as the case may be;

(f) holding title to the Trust Estate;

(g) investing any moneys forming, from time to time, a part of the Trust Estate as provided in this Agreement;

(h) taking action on its own initiative or at the direction of a Beneficiary or Beneficiaries to enforce the obligations of the AltaGas Trust and AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as the case may be, under this Agreement; and

(i) taking such other actions and doing such other things as are specifically provided in this Agreement.

In the exercise of such rights, powers, duties and authorities, the Trustee shall have (and is granted) such incidental and additional rights, powers, duties and authority not in conflict with any of the provisions of this Agreement as the Trustee, acting in good faith and in the reasonable exercise of its discretion, may deem necessary, appropriate or desirable to effect the purpose of the Trust. Any exercise of such discretionary rights, powers, duties and authorities by the Trustee shall be final, conclusive and binding upon all persons.

The Trustee in exercising its rights, powers, duties and authorities hereunder shall act honestly and in good faith and with a view to the best interests of the Beneficiaries and shall exercise the care, diligence and skill that a reasonably prudent trustee would exercise in comparable circumstances.

The Trustee shall not be bound to give notice or do or take any act, action or proceeding by virtue of the powers conferred on it hereby unless and until it shall be specifically required to do so under the terms hereof, nor shall the Trustee be required to take any notice of, or to do, or to take any act, action or proceeding as a result of any default or breach of any provision hereunder, unless and until notified in writing of such default or breach, which notices shall distinctly specify the default or breach desired to be brought to the attention of the Trustee, and in the absence of such notice the Trustee may for all purposes of this Agreement conclusively assume that no default or breach has been made in the observance or performance of any of the representations, warranties, covenants, agreements or conditions contained herein.

6.2 No Conflict of Interest

AltaGas Trust, AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 acknowledge that the Trustee also serves as registrar and transfer agent for the AltaGas Trust, as trustee for the AltaGas Medium Term Notes pursuant to a Trust Indenture dated September 27, 2000, as trustee of the AltaGas Trust pursuant to the Declaration of Trust and as trustee for the Holding Trust Notes pursuant to a Trust Indenture dated as of March 26, 2004 and is expected to become the distribution agent in respect of AltaGas Trust and the registrar, transfer agent and distribution agent in respect of AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 (collectively, the "Related Appointments"). The Trustee represents to the AltaGas Trust, AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 that at the date of execution and delivery of this Agreement there exists no material conflict of interest in the role of the Trustee as a fiduciary hereunder and the role of the Trustee in any other capacity and is aware of no potential conflicts of interest other than those that may arise in connection with the Related Appointments. The Trustee shall, within 90 days after it becomes aware that any material conflict of interest exists, including in connection with any Related Appointments, either (a) eliminate such material conflict of interest, (b) resign from any of the Related Appointments so that a material conflict of interest no longer exists, or (c) resign in the manner and with the effect specified in Article 10. If, notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this Section 6.2, the Trustee has such a material conflict of interest, the validity and enforceability of this Agreement shall not be affected in any manner whatsoever by reason only of the existence of such material conflict of interest. If the Trustee contravenes the foregoing provision of this Section 6.2, any interested party may apply to the Court for an order that the Trustee be replaced as the trustee hereunder.

6.3 Dealings with Transfer Agents, Registrars, etc.

Each of the AltaGas Trust, AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 irrevocably authorize the Trustee, from time to time, to:

(a) consult, communicate and otherwise deal with the respective registrars and transfer agents, and with any such subsequent registrar or transfer agent, of the Exchangeable Securities and Trust Units; and

(b) requisition, from time to time, (i) from any such registrar or transfer agent any information readily available from the records maintained by it which the Trustee may reasonably require for the discharge of its duties and responsibilities under this Agreement and (ii) from the transfer agent of Trust Units, and any subsequent transfer agent of such shares, the share certificates issuable upon the exercise from time to time of the Exchange Right and pursuant to the Automatic Exchange Rights.

Each of the AltaGas Trust, AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 irrevocably authorize their respective registrars and transfer agents to comply with all such requests. The AltaGas Trust covenants that it will supply its transfer agent with duly executed share certificates for the purpose of completing the exercise from time to time of the Exchange Right and the Automatic Exchange Rights.

6.4 Books and Records

The Trustee shall keep available for inspection by the AltaGas Trust, AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 at the Trustee's principal office in Calgary, Alberta correct and complete books and records of account relating to the Trust created by this Agreement, including all relevant data relating to mailings and instructions to and from Beneficiaries and all transactions pursuant to the Exchange Right and the Automatic Exchange Rights. On or before January 15 in every year, so long as any Special Voting Units are on deposit with the Trustee, the Trustee shall transmit to the AltaGas Trust, AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 a brief report, dated as of the preceding December 31, with respect to:

(a) the property and funds comprising the Trust Estate as of that date;

(b) the number of exercises of the Exchange Right, if any, and the aggregate number of Exchangeable Securities received by the Trustee on behalf of Beneficiaries in consideration of the issuance by the AltaGas Trust of Trust Units in connection with the Exchange Right, during the calendar year ended on such December 31; and

(c) any action taken by the Trustee in the performance of its duties under this Agreement which it had not previously reported and which, in the Trustee's opinion, materially affects the Trust Estate.

6.5 Income Tax Returns and Reports

The Trustee shall, to the extent necessary, prepare and file on behalf of the Trust appropriate Canadian income tax returns and any other returns or reports as may be required by applicable law or pursuant to the rules and regulations of any securities exchange or other trading system through which the Exchangeable Securities are traded. In connection therewith, the Trustee may obtain the advice and assistance of such experts or advisors as the Trustee reasonably considers necessary or advisable (who may be experts or advisors to the AltaGas Trust, AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2). If requested by the Trustee, the AltaGas Trust, AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2 shall retain qualified experts or advisors for the purpose of providing such tax advice or assistance.

6.6 Indemnification Prior to Certain Actions by the Trustee

Subject to Section 6.15, the Trustee shall exercise any or all of the rights, duties, powers or authorities vested in it by this Agreement at the request, order or direction of any Beneficiary upon such Beneficiary furnishing to the Trustee reasonable funding, security or indemnity against the costs, expenses and liabilities which may be incurred by the Trustee therein or thereby, provided that no Beneficiary shall be obligated to furnish to the Trustee any such security or indemnity in connection with the exercise by the Trustee of any of its rights, duties, powers and authorities with respect to the Special Voting Unit held by the Trustee pursuant to Article 4, with respect to the Exchange Right pursuant to Article 5, and with respect to the Automatic Exchange Rights pursuant to Article 5.

None of the provisions contained in this Agreement shall require the Trustee to expend or risk its own funds or otherwise incur financial liability in the exercise of any of its rights, powers, duties, or authorities unless funded, given security or indemnified as aforesaid.

6.7 Action of Beneficiaries

No Beneficiary shall have the right to institute any action, suit or proceeding or to exercise any other remedy authorized by this Agreement for the purpose of enforcing any of its rights or for the execution of any trust or power hereunder unless the Beneficiary has requested the Trustee to take or institute such action, suit or proceeding and furnished the Trustee with the funding, security or indemnity required by Section 6.6 and the Trustee shall have failed to act within a reasonable time thereafter. In such case, but not otherwise, the Beneficiary shall be entitled to take proceedings in any court of competent jurisdiction such as the Trustee might have taken; it being understood and intended that no one or more Beneficiaries shall have any right in any manner whatsoever to affect, disturb or prejudice the rights hereby created by any such action, or to enforce any right hereunder or the Voting Rights, the Exchange Rights or the Automatic Exchange Rights except subject to the conditions and in the manner herein provided, and that all powers and trusts hereunder shall be exercised and all proceedings at law shall be instituted, had and maintained by the Trustee, except only as herein provided, and in any event for the equal benefit of all Beneficiaries.

6.8 Reliance Upon Declarations

The Trustee shall not be considered to be in contravention of any of its rights, powers, duties and authorities hereunder if, when required, it acts and relies in good faith upon statutory declarations, certificates, opinions, Lists, reports or other papers or documents furnished pursuant to the provisions hereof or required by the Trustee to be furnished to it in the exercise of its rights, powers, duties and authorities hereunder if such statutory declarations, certificates, opinions, Lists, reports or other papers or documents comply with the provisions of Section 6.9, if applicable, and with any other applicable provisions of this Agreement.

6.9 Evidence and Authority to the Trustee

The AltaGas Trust and/or AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as the case may be, shall furnish to the Trustee evidence of compliance with the conditions provided for in this Agreement relating to any action or step required or permitted to be taken by the AltaGas Trust and/or AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as the case may be, or the Trustee under this Agreement or as a result of any obligation imposed under this Agreement, including in respect of the Voting Rights or the Exchange Right or the Automatic Exchange Rights and the taking of any other action to be taken by the Trustee at the request of or on the application of the AltaGas Trust and/or AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as the case may be, promptly if and when:

(a) such evidence is required by any other section of this Agreement to be furnished to the Trustee in accordance with the terms of this Section 6.9; or

(b) the Trustee, in the exercise of its rights, powers, duties and authorities under this Agreement, gives the AltaGas Trust and/or AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as the case may be, written notice requiring it to furnish such evidence in relation to any particular action or obligation specified in such notice.

Such evidence shall consist of an Officer's Certificate of the AltaGas Trust and/or of the General Partner on behalf of AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as the case may be, or a statutory declaration or a certificate made by persons entitled to sign an Officer's Certificate stating that any such condition has been complied with in accordance with the terms of this Agreement.

Whenever such evidence relates to a matter other than the Voting Rights or the Exchange Right or the Automatic Exchange Rights or the taking of any other action to be taken by the Trustee at the request or on the application of the AltaGas Trust and/or AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as the case may be, and except as otherwise specifically provided herein, such evidence may consist of a report or opinion of any solicitor, attorney, auditor, accountant, appraiser, valuer, engineer or other expert or any other person whose qualifications give authority to a statement made by him, provided that if such report or opinion is furnished by a director, officer or employee of the trustee of AltaGas Trust and/or of the General Partner on behalf of AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as the case may be, it shall be in the form of an Officer's Certificate or a statutory declaration.

Each statutory declaration, Officer's Certificate, opinion or report furnished to the Trustee as evidence of compliance with a condition provided for in this Agreement shall include a statement by the person giving the evidence:

(c) declaring that such person has read and understands the provisions of this Agreement relating to the condition in question;

(d) describing the nature and scope of the examination or investigation upon which such person based the statutory declaration, certificate, statement or opinion; and

(e) declaring that such person has made such examination or investigation as such person believes is necessary to enable such person to make the statements or give the opinions contained or expressed therein.

6.10 Experts, Advisers and Agents

The Trustee may:

(a) in relation to these presents act and rely on the opinion or advice of or information obtained from any solicitor, attorney, auditor, accountant, appraiser, valuer, engineer or other expert, whether retained by the Trustee or by the AltaGas Trust and/or AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as the case may be, or otherwise, and may retain or employ such assistants as may be necessary to the proper discharge of its powers and duties and determination of its rights hereunder and may pay proper and reasonable compensation for all such legal and other advice or assistance as aforesaid; and

(b) employ such agents and other assistants as it may reasonably require for the proper determination and discharge of its powers and duties hereunder, and may pay reasonable remuneration for all services performed for it (and shall be entitled to receive reasonable remuneration for all services performed by it) in the discharge of the trusts hereof and compensation for all disbursements, costs and expenses made or incurred by it in the discharge of its duties hereunder and in the management of the Trust.

6.11 Investment of Moneys Held by the Trustee

Unless otherwise provided in this Agreement, any moneys held by or on behalf of the Trustee which under the terms of this Agreement may or ought to be invested or which may be on deposit with the Trustee or which may be in the hands of the Trustee may be invested and reinvested in the name or under the control of the Trustee, in trust for AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as the case may be, in securities in which, under the laws of Alberta, trustees are authorized to invest trust moneys, provided that such securities are stated to mature within two years after their purchase by the Trustee, and the Trustee shall so invest such moneys on the written direction of AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as the case may be. Pending the investment of any moneys as hereinbefore provided, such moneys may be deposited in the name of the Trustee in any chartered bank in Canada or, with the consent of AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as the case may be, in the deposit department of the Trustee or any other loan or trust company authorized to accept deposits under the laws of Canada or any province thereof at the rate of interest then current on similar deposits.

6.12 Trustee Not Required to Give Security

The Trustee shall not be required to give any bond or security in respect of the execution of the trusts, rights, duties, powers and authorities of this Agreement or otherwise in respect of the premises.

6.13 Trustee Not Bound to Act on Request

Except as in this Agreement otherwise specifically provided, the Trustee shall not be bound to act in accordance with any direction or request of the AltaGas Trust and/or AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as the case may be, or of the directors thereof until a duly authenticated copy of the instrument or resolution containing such direction or request shall have been delivered to the Trustee, and the Trustee shall be empowered to act and rely upon any such copy purporting to be authenticated and believed by the Trustee to be genuine.

6.14 Authority to Carry on Business

The Trustee represents to the AltaGas Trust, AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 that at the date of execution and delivery by it of this Agreement it is authorized to carry on the business of a trust company in each of the provinces of Canada but if, notwithstanding the provisions of this Section 6.14, it ceases to be so authorized to carry on business, the validity and enforceability of this Agreement and the Voting Rights, the Exchange Right and the Automatic Exchange Rights shall not be affected in any manner whatsoever by reason only of such event but the Trustee shall, within 90 days after ceasing to be authorized to carry on the business of a trust company in any province of Canada, either become so authorized or resign in the manner and with the effect specified in Article 10.

6.15 Conflicting Claims

If conflicting claims or demands are made or asserted with respect to any interest of any Beneficiary in any Exchangeable Securities, including any disagreement between the heirs, representatives, successors or assigns succeeding to all or any part of the interest of any

Beneficiary in any Exchangeable Securities, resulting in conflicting claims or demands being made in connection with such interest, then the Trustee shall be entitled, at its sole discretion, to refuse to recognize or to comply with any such claims or demands. In so refusing, the Trustee may elect not to exercise any Voting Rights, Exchange Right or Automatic Exchange Rights subject to such conflicting claims or demands and, in so doing, the Trustee shall not be or become liable to any person on account of such election or its failure or refusal to comply with any such conflicting claims or demands. The Trustee shall be entitled to continue to refrain from acting and to refuse to act until:

(a) the rights of all adverse claimants with respect to the Voting Rights, Exchange Right or Automatic Exchange Rights subject to such conflicting claims or demands have been adjudicated by a final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction and all rights of appeal have expired; or

(b) all differences with respect to the Voting Rights, Exchange Right or Automatic Exchange Rights subject to such conflicting claims or demands have been conclusively settled by a valid written agreement binding on all such adverse claimants, and the Trustee shall have been furnished with an executed copy of such agreement certified to be in full force and effect.

If the Trustee elects to recognize any claim or comply with any demand made by any such adverse claimant, it may in its discretion require such claimant to furnish such surety bond or other security satisfactory to the Trustee as it shall deem appropriate to fully indemnify it as between all conflicting claims or demands.

6.16 Acceptance of the Trust

The Trustee hereby accepts the Trust created and provided for by and in this Agreement and agrees to perform the same upon the terms and conditions herein set forth and to hold all rights, privileges and benefits conferred hereby and by law in trust for the various persons who shall from time to time be Beneficiaries, subject to all the terms and conditions herein set forth.

6.17 Maintenance of Office or Agency

The AltaGas Trust will maintain in Calgary, Alberta an office or agency where certificates representing Exchangeable Securities may be presented or surrendered for exchange by Beneficiaries and where notices and demands to or upon the AltaGas Trust, AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2 in respect of the Exchangeable Securities may be served. The AltaGas Trust will give prompt written notice to the Trustee of the location, and any change in the location, of such office or agency. If at any time the AltaGas Trust shall fail to maintain any such office or agency or shall fail to furnish the Trustee with the address thereof, such presentations, surrenders, notices and demands may be served at the Corporate Trust Office of the Trustee, and the AltaGas Trust, AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 hereby appoint the Trustee as their agent to receive all such presentations, surrenders, notices and demands. Furthermore, copies of all the AltaGas Trust proxy materials will be made available for inspection by any Beneficiary at such office or agency.

COMPENSATION

7.1 Fees and Expenses of the Trustee

The AltaGas Trust, AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 jointly and severally agree to pay the Trustee reasonable compensation for all of the services rendered by it under this Agreement and will reimburse the Trustee for all reasonable expenses (including taxes other than taxes based on the net income of the Trustee, fees paid to legal counsel and other experts and advisors and travel expenses) and disbursements, including the cost and expense of any suit or litigation of any character and any proceedings before any governmental agency reasonably incurred by the Trustee in connection with its duties under this Agreement; provided that the AltaGas Trust, AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 shall have no obligation to reimburse the Trustee for any expenses or disbursements paid, incurred or suffered by the Trustee in any suit or litigation in which the Trustee is determined to have acted fraudulently or in bad faith or with negligence, recklessness or wilful misconduct.

ARTICLE 8
INDEMNIFICATION AND LIMITATION OF LIABILITY

8.1 Indemnification of the Trustee

Each of the AltaGas Trust, AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 jointly and severally agree to indemnify and hold harmless the Trustee and each of its directors, officers, employees and agents appointed and acting in accordance with this Agreement (collectively, the "Indemnified Parties") against all claims, losses, damages, reasonable costs, penalties, fines and reasonable expenses (including reasonable expenses of the Trustee's legal counsel) which, without fraud, gross negligence or wilful misconduct on the part of such Indemnified Party, may be paid, incurred or suffered by the Indemnified Party by reason or as a result of the Trustee's acceptance or administration of the Trust, its compliance with its duties set forth in this Agreement, or any written or oral instruction delivered to the Trustee by the AltaGas Trust, AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2 pursuant hereto.

If any of the Indemnified Parties intends to seek indemnification under this indemnity from AltaGas Trust, AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, the Indemnified Party shall give AltaGas Trust, AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 notice of such claim for indemnification promptly following the receipt of a written assertion of a claim, actual knowledge or information as to the factual and legal basis of any claim which is subject to indemnification and, where such claim results from the commencement of any claim or action by a third party, promptly following receipt of written notice of such third party claim or action. The failure of or delay by an Indemnified Party to so notify AltaGas Trust, AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 (as set forth above) shall not relieve AltaGas Trust, AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as the case may be, of its indemnification obligations hereunder to the Indemnified Party, however the liability which AltaGas Trust, AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 have to the Indemnified Party pursuant to the terms of this indemnity (and for which AltaGas Trust, AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 will be obligated to indemnify the Indemnified Party in respect of) shall be reduced to the extent that any such delay in or failure to give notice as herein required prejudices the defence of any such action, suit, proceeding, investigation or claim, or otherwise results in any increase in the liability which AltaGas Trust, AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 has under this indemnity. Subject to

(ii) below, the AltaGas Trust, AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 shall be entitled to participate at their own expense in the defense and, if the AltaGas Trust, AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 so elect at any time after receipt of such notice, either of them may assume the defense of any suit brought to enforce any such claim. The Trustee shall have the right to employ separate counsel in any such suit and participate in the defense thereof, but the fees and expenses of such counsel shall be at the expense of the Trustee unless: (i) the employment of such counsel has been authorized by the AltaGas Trust, AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2; or (ii) the named parties to any such suit include both the Trustee and the AltaGas Trust, AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2 and the Trustee shall have been advised by counsel acceptable to the AltaGas Trust, AltaGas LP #1 or and AltaGas LP #2 that there may be one or more legal defenses available to the Trustee that are different from or in addition to those available to the AltaGas Trust, AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2 and that, in the judgment of such counsel, would present a conflict of interest were a joint representation to be undertaken (in which case the AltaGas Trust, AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 shall not have the right to assume the defense of such suit on behalf of the Trustee but shall be liable to pay the reasonable fees and expenses of counsel for the Trustee). This indemnity shall survive the termination of this Agreement and the resignation or removal of the Trustee.

8.2 Limitation of Liability

The Trustee shall not be held liable for any loss which may occur by reason of depreciation of the value of any part of the Trust Estate or any loss incurred on any investment of funds pursuant to this Agreement, except to the extent that such loss is attributable to the fraud, negligence, recklessness, wilful misconduct or bad faith on the part of the Trustee.

ARTICLE 9
CHANGE OF TRUSTEE

9.1 Resignation

The Trustee, or any trustee hereafter appointed, may at any time resign by giving written notice of such resignation to the AltaGas Trust, AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 specifying the date on which it desires to resign, provided that such notice shall not be given less than 60 days before such desired resignation date unless the AltaGas Trust, AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 otherwise agree and provided further that such resignation shall not take effect until the date of the appointment of a successor trustee and the acceptance of such appointment by the successor trustee. Upon receiving such notice of resignation, the AltaGas Trust, AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 shall promptly appoint a successor trustee, which shall be a corporation organized and existing under the laws of Canada or any province thereof, by written instrument in duplicate, one copy of which shall be delivered to the resigning trustee and one copy to the successor trustee. Failing the appointment and acceptance of a successor trustee, a successor trustee may be appointed by order of a court of competent jurisdiction upon application of one or more of the parties to this Agreement. If the retiring trustee is the party initiating an application for the appointment of a successor trustee by order of a court of competent jurisdiction, the AltaGas Trust, AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 shall be jointly and severally liable to reimburse the retiring trustee for its legal costs and expenses in connection with same.

9.2 Removal

The Trustee, or any trustee hereafter appointed, may (provided a successor trustee is appointed) be removed at any time on not less than 30 days' prior notice by written instrument executed by the AltaGas Trust, AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2, in duplicate, one copy of which shall be delivered to the trustee so removed and one copy to the successor trustee.

9.3 Successor Trustee

Any successor trustee appointed as provided under this Agreement shall execute, acknowledge and deliver to the AltaGas Trust, AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 and to its predecessor trustee an instrument accepting such appointment. Thereupon the resignation or removal of the predecessor trustee shall become effective and such successor trustee, without any further act, deed or conveyance, shall become vested with all the rights, powers, duties and obligations of its predecessor under this Agreement, with the like effect as if originally named as trustee in this Agreement. However, on the written request of the AltaGas Trust, AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 or of the successor trustee, the trustee ceasing to act shall, upon payment of any amounts then due it pursuant to the provisions of this Agreement, execute and deliver an instrument transferring to such successor trustee all the rights and powers of the trustee so ceasing to act. Upon the request of any such successor trustee, the AltaGas Trust, AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2 and such predecessor trustee shall execute any and all instruments in writing for more fully and certainly vesting in and confirming to such successor trustee all such rights and powers.

9.4 Notice of Successor Trustee

Upon acceptance of appointment by a successor trustee as provided herein, the AltaGas Trust, AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 shall cause to be mailed notice of the succession of such trustee hereunder to each Beneficiary specified in a List. If the AltaGas Trust, AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2 shall fail to cause such notice to be mailed within 10 days after acceptance of appointment by the successor trustee, the successor trustee shall cause such notice to be mailed at the expense of the AltaGas Trust, AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2.

ARTICLE 10
ALTAGAS TRUST SUCCESSORS

10.1 Certain Requirements in Respect of Combination, etc.

The AltaGas Trust shall not consummate any transaction (whether by way of reconstruction, reorganization, consolidation, merger, transfer, sale, lease or otherwise) whereby all or substantially all of its undertaking, property and assets would become the property of any other person or, in the case of a merger, of the continuing corporation resulting therefrom, but may do so if:

(a) such other person or continuing corporation (herein called the "Trust Successor"), by operation of law, becomes, without more, bound by the terms and provisions of this Agreement or, if not so bound, executes, prior to or contemporaneously with the consummation of such transaction, a trust agreement supplemental hereto and such other instruments (if any) as are satisfactory to the Trustee, acting reasonably, and in the opinion of legal counsel to the Trustee are reasonably necessary or advisable to evidence the assumption by the Trust Successor of liability for all moneys payable and property deliverable hereunder (including without limitation one or more voting securities of such Trust Successor to allow Beneficiaries to exercise voting rights in respect of the Trust Successor substantially similar to those provided for in this Agreement in respect of the AltaGas Trust) and the covenant of such Trust Successor to pay and deliver or cause to be delivered the same and its agreement to observe and perform all the covenants and obligations of the AltaGas Trust under this Agreement; and

(b) such transaction shall be upon such terms and conditions as substantially to preserve and not to impair in any material respect any of the rights, duties, powers and authorities of the Trustee or of the Beneficiaries hereunder.

10.2 Vesting of Powers in Successor

Whenever the conditions of Section 10.1 have been duly observed and performed, the Trustee, Trust Successor, AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 shall, if required by Section 10.1, execute and deliver the supplemental trust agreement provided for in Article 11 and thereupon Trust Successor shall possess and from time to time may exercise each and every right and power of the AltaGas Trust under this Agreement in the name of the AltaGas Trust or otherwise and any act or proceeding by any provision of this Agreement required to be done or performed by the trustee of the AltaGas Trust or any officers of the AltaGas Trust may be done and performed with like force and effect by the directors or officers of such Trust Successor.

10.3 Wholly-Owned Subsidiaries

Nothing herein shall be construed as preventing the merger of any wholly-owned direct or indirect subsidiary of the AltaGas Trust with or into the AltaGas Trust or the winding-up, liquidation or dissolution of any wholly-owned subsidiary of the AltaGas Trust provided that all of the assets of such subsidiary are transferred to the AltaGas Trust or another wholly-owned direct or indirect subsidiary of the AltaGas Trust and any such transactions are expressly permitted by this Article 10.

10.4 Successorship Transaction

Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this Article 10, in the event of a Trust Control Transaction:

(a) which does not result in an acceleration of the Redemption Date in accordance with paragraph (b) of the definition of "Redemption Date"; and

(b) in which all or substantially all of the then outstanding Trust Units are converted into or exchanged for securities or rights to receive such securities (the "Other Securities") of another entity (the "Other Entity") that, immediately after such Trust Control Transaction, owns or controls, directly or indirectly, the AltaGas Trust;

then (i) all references herein to the "AltaGas Trust" shall thereafter be and be deemed to be references to "Other Entity" and all references herein to "Trust Units" shall thereafter be and be deemed to be references to "Other Securities" (with appropriate adjustments, if any, as are required to result in a holder of Exchangeable Securities on the exchange, redemption or retraction of such Exchangeable Securities pursuant to the Exchangeable Securities Provisions or exchange of such Exchangeable Securities pursuant to this Agreement immediately subsequent to the Trust Control Transaction being entitled to receive that number of Other Securities equal to the number of Other Securities such holder of Exchangeable Securities would have received if the exchange, redemption or retraction of such Exchangeable Securities pursuant to the Exchangeable Securities Provisions, or exchange of such Exchangeable Securities pursuant to this Agreement had occurred immediately prior to the Trust Control Transaction and the Trust Control Transaction was completed) without any need to amend the terms and conditions of this Agreement and without any further action required; and (ii) the AltaGas Trust shall cause the Other Entity to deposit one or more voting securities of such Other Entity to allow Beneficiaries to exercise voting rights in respect of the Other Entity substantially similar to those provided for in this Agreement.

AMENDMENTS AND SUPPLEMENTAL TRUST AGREEMENTS

11.1 Amendments, Modifications, etc.

This Agreement may not be amended or modified except by an agreement in writing executed by the AltaGas Trust, AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2 and the Trustee and approved by the Beneficiaries in accordance with Section 11.2 of the Exchangeable Securities Provisions.

11.2 Administrative Amendments

Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 11.1, the parties to this Agreement may in writing, at any time and from time to time, without the approval of the Beneficiaries, amend or modify this Agreement for the purposes of

(a) adding to the covenants of any or all parties hereto for the protection of the Beneficiaries hereunder provided that the General Partner shall be of the good faith opinion that such additions will not be prejudicial to the rights or interests of the Beneficiaries;

(b) making such amendments or modifications not inconsistent with this Agreement as may be necessary or desirable with respect to matters or questions which, in the good faith opinion of the General Partner and in the opinion of the Trustee, having in mind the best interests of the Beneficiaries it may be expedient to make, provided that the General Partner and the Trustee, acting on the advice of counsel, shall be of the opinion that such amendments and modifications will not be prejudicial to the interests of the Beneficiaries; or

(c) making such changes or corrections which, on the advice of counsel to the General Partner and the Trustee, are required for the purpose of curing or correcting any ambiguity or defect or inconsistent provision or clerical omission or mistake or manifest error, provided that the Trustee, acting on the advice of counsel, and the General Partner shall be of the opinion that such changes or corrections will not be prejudicial to the rights and interests of the Beneficiaries.

11.3 Meeting to Consider Amendments

Each of AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2, at the request of the AltaGas Trust, agree to call a meeting or meetings of the Beneficiaries for the purpose of considering any proposed amendment or modification requiring approval pursuant hereto. Any such meeting or meetings shall be called and held in accordance with the limited partnership agreements of AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2, the Exchangeable Securities Provisions and all applicable laws; provided that any such meeting shall only be called for a bona fide business purpose and not for the principal purpose of causing a Redemption Date (as defined in the Exchangeable Securities Provisions) to occur or transpire.

11.4 Changes in Capital of the AltaGas Trust, AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2

At all times after the occurrence of any event contemplated pursuant to Section 2.7 or 2.8 of the Support Agreement or otherwise, as a result of which either Trust Units or the Exchangeable Securities or both are in any way changed, this Agreement shall forthwith be deemed amended and modified as necessary in order that it shall apply with full force and effect, mutatis mutandis, to all new securities into which Trust Units or the Exchangeable Securities or both are so changed.

11.5 Execution of Supplemental Trust Agreements

No amendment to or modification or waiver of any of the provisions of this Agreement otherwise permitted hereunder shall be effective unless made in writing and signed by all of the parties hereto. From time to time AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2, the AltaGas Trust and the Trustee may, subject to the provisions of these presents, and they shall, when so directed by these presents, execute and deliver by their proper officers, trust agreements or other instruments supplemental hereto, which thereafter shall form part hereof, for any one or more of the following purposes:

(a) evidencing the succession of Trust Successors and the covenants of and obligations assumed by each such Trust Successor in accordance with the provisions of Article 10 and the successors of any successor trustee in accordance with the provisions of Article 9;

(b) making any additions to, deletions from or alterations of the provisions of this Agreement or the Voting Rights, the Exchange Right or the Automatic Exchange Rights which, in the opinion of the Trustee, will not be prejudicial to the interests of the Beneficiaries or are, in the opinion of counsel to the Trustee, necessary or advisable in order to incorporate, reflect or comply with any legislation the provisions of which apply to the AltaGas Trust, AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2, the Trustee or this Agreement; and

(c) for any other purposes not inconsistent with the provisions of this Agreement, including to make or evidence any amendment or modification to this Agreement as contemplated hereby, provided that, in the opinion of the Trustee, the rights of the Trustee and Beneficiaries will not be prejudiced thereby.

TERMINATION

12.1 Term

The Trust created by this Agreement shall continue until the earliest to occur of the following events:

(a) no outstanding Exchangeable Securities are held by a Beneficiary;

(b) each of the AltaGas Trust, AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 elects in writing to terminate the Trust and such termination is approved by the Beneficiaries in accordance with Section 11.2 of the Exchangeable Securities Provisions; and

12.2 Survival of Agreement

This Agreement shall survive any termination of the AltaGas Trust and shall continue until there are no Exchangeable Securities outstanding held by a Beneficiary; provided, however, that the provisions of Article 7 and Article 8 shall survive any such termination of this Agreement.

13.1 Assignment

No party hereto may assign this Agreement or any of its rights, interests or obligations under this Agreement (whether by operation of law or otherwise).

13.2 Binding Effect

Subject to Section 13.1, this Agreement and the Arrangement shall be binding upon, enure to the benefit of and be enforceable by the parties hereto and their respective successors and assigns and to the benefit of the Beneficiaries.

13.3 Notices to Parties

Any notice, consent, waiver, direction or other communication required or permitted to be given under this Agreement by a party to any other party shall be in writing and shall be delivered by hand delivery, facsimile transmission or (provided that the mailing party does not know and should not reasonably have known of any disruption or anticipated disruption of postal service which might affect delivery of the mail) by registered mail (postage prepaid), addressed to the party to whom the notice is to be given, at its specified address herein. 13.4 Notice to Beneficiaries

Any and all notices to be given and any documents to be sent to any Beneficiaries may be given or sent to the address of such Beneficiary shown on the register of holders of Exchangeable Securities in any manner permitted by the Limited Partnership Agreements, as applicable, from time to time in force in respect of notices to Limited Partners and shall be deemed to be received (if given or sent in such manner) at the time specified in such Limited Partnership Agreements, the provisions of which Limited Partnership Agreements shall apply mutatis mutandis to notices or documents as aforesaid sent to such Beneficiaries.

If any one or more of the provisions or parts thereof contained in this Agreement should be or become invalid, illegal or unenforceable in any respect in any jurisdiction, the remaining provisions or parts thereof contained herein shall be and shall be conclusively deemed to be, as to such jurisdiction, severable therefrom and:

(a) the validity, legality or enforceability of such remaining provisions or parts thereof shall not in any way be affected or impaired by the severance of the provisions or parts thereof severed; and

(b) the invalidity, illegality or unenforceability of any provision or part thereof contained in this Agreement in any jurisdiction shall not affect or impair such provision or part thereof or any other provisions of this Agreement in any other jurisdiction.

13.6 Further Assurances

Each party hereto shall, from time to time, and at all times hereafter, at the request of any other party hereto, but without further consideration, do all such further acts and execute and deliver all such further documents and instruments as shall be reasonably required in order to fully perform and carry out the terms and intent hereof.

13.7 Execution in Counterparts

This Agreement may be executed in counterparts, each of which is and is hereby conclusively deemed to be an original and counterparts collectively are to be conclusively deemed one instrument. Delivery of counterparts may be effected by facsimile transmission.

13.8 Waiver

No waiver by, any party hereto shall be effective unless such waiver is in writing and any waiver shall affect only the matter, and the occurrence thereof, specifically identified and shall not extend to any other matter or occurrence.

13.9 Limitations on Liability

(a) The parties hereto acknowledge that Computershare Trust Company of Canada, as trustee of the AltaGas Trust, is entering into this Agreement solely in its capacity as trustee on behalf of the AltaGas Trust and the obligations of the AltaGas Trust hereunder shall not be personally binding upon such trustee or any of the Unitholders and that any recourse against the AltaGas Trust, such trustee or any Unitholder in any manner in respect of any indebtedness, obligation or liability of the AltaGas Trust arising hereunder or arising in connection herewith or from the matters to which this Agreement relates, if any, including without limitation claims based on negligence or otherwise tortious behaviour, shall be limited to, and satisfied only out of, the Trust Assets as defined in the Declaration of Trust of the AltaGas Trust dated as of March 26, 2004, as from time to time amended, supplemented or restated.

(b) AltaGas Holding Limited Partnership No. 1 is a limited partnership formed under the laws of Alberta, a limited partner of which is only liable for any of the limited partnership's liabilities or any of the limited partnership's losses to the extent of the amount that the limited partner has contributed or agreed to contribute to the limited partnership's capital and the limited partner's pro rata share of any undistributed income.

(c) AltaGas Holding Limited Partnership No. 2 is a limited partnership formed under the laws of Alberta, a limited partner of which is only liable for any of the limited partnership's liabilities or any of the limited partnership's losses to the extent of the amount that the limited partner has contributed or agreed to contribute to the limited partnership's capital and the limited partner's pro rata share of any undistributed income.

RESOLUTIONS
of OFI GP Inc. (the "Corporation"), acting as attorney of
OFI INCOME FUND

WHEREAS OFI Income Fund (the "Fund") is an unincorporated open-ended trust created by the Fund Declaration of Trust made as of July 11, 2005 between the trustees and the Initial Unitholder thereof;

WHEREAS the preliminary prospectus has been filed on July 14, 2005;

WHEREAS the Fund will propose to make a public offering of trust units (the "Units") in all provinces of Canada (the "Offering");

AND WHEREAS pursuant to a power of attorney, the Corporation can act as the attorney of the Fund;

BE IT THEREFORE RESOLVED THAT:

Pursuant to the Fund's power of attorney, constituting the Corporation with full power of substitution, as their true and lawful attorney to act on behalf of the Fund with full power and authority in their name, place and stead and to execute, under seal or otherwise, swear to, acknowledge, deliver, make or file or record when, as and where required, any instrument, deed, agreement or document in connection with carrying out the activities of the Fund in connection with the Offering, including, without limitation, to execute on the Fund's behalf the amended and restated preliminary prospectus of the Fund dated ● 2005, relating to the Offering (the "Amended and Restated Preliminary Prospectus"), the Corporation, on behalf of the Fund, resolves as follows:

1. The English and French language versions of the Amended and Restated Preliminary Prospectus, copies of which have been submitted to the directors of the Corporation, be and are hereby authorized and approved, and Joseph Skarzenski acting as Chief Executive Officer of the Corporation and Catherine Skarzenski acting as Chief Financial Officer of the Corporation, be and they are hereby authorized to sign the certificate contained in the Amended and Restated Preliminary Prospectus and the acting Chief Executive Officer and the acting Chief Financial Officer of the Corporation be and the same are authorized to make such additions or amendments to the Amended and Restated Preliminary Prospectus or deletions therefrom, including, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, any amendments thereto under the provisions of any securities regulations in Canada, as they, on the advice of counsel, may consider necessary or advisable, such approval by such officers of any such additions, amendments or deletions to be conclusively proved by their execution of the certificate contained in the Amended and Restated Preliminary Prospectus, if necessary.

2. The Corporation be and is hereby authorized to file the executed Amended and Restated Preliminary Prospectus, as the same may be amended from time to time in accordance with paragraph 1, with the Ontario Securities Commission, selected as principal regulator, and with the securities administrators in each of the other provinces of Canada.

3. The Corporation hereby approves and authorizes the inclusion of the following financial statements in the Amended and Restated Preliminary Prospectus:

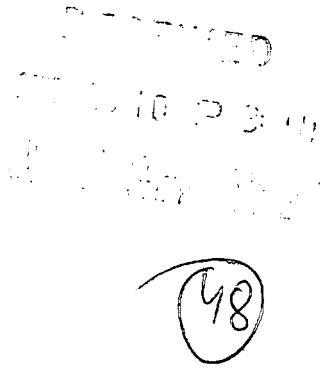
   (i) the Audited Balance Sheet of the Fund as at _____, 2005 and the related notes;

   (ii) the Audited Consolidated Financial Statements of OFI Holdings Ltd. as at December 31, 2004 and 2003 and for the years ended December 31, 2004, 2003 and 2002 and Unaudited Interim Consolidated Financial Statements of OFI Holdings Ltd. for the six-month periods ended June 30, 2005 and June 30, 2004 and the related notes;

   (iii) the Unaudited Pro Forma Consolidated Financial Statements of the Fund as at June 30, 2005 and the twelve months ended June 30, 2005 and the related notes;

   all as contained in the Amended and Restated Preliminary Prospectus and subject to such revisions as any officer or director of the Corporation may approve.

4. Any two directors of the Corporation be and they are hereby authorized to sign the approval by the Board of Directors of the Corporation of the above financial statements and to signify such approval in the manner prescribed by regulations.



5. Application will be made to the Toronto Stock Exchange for the listing of the Units on such exchange.

6. Stikeman Elliott LLP, counsel to the Fund and to the Corporation, or any director or officer of the Corporation, be and they are authorized to take all necessary or useful actions in connection with such application.

7. Any one director or officer of the Corporation be and he is hereby authorized to do, or cause to be done, all such acts and things and to make, execute and deliver, or cause to be made, executed and delivered, all such agreements, documents, instruments, orders and certificates, in the name and on behalf of the Corporation or otherwise as he may deem necessary, advisable or appropriate to carry out the purpose and intent of the foregoing resolutions.

The foregoing resolutions are hereby consented to by the signature of all the directors of OFI GP INC., pursuant to subsection 117(1) of the Canada Business Corporations Act, effective as of the _____th day of _____, 2005.

THIS UNANIMOUS SHAREHOLDER AGREEMENT is dated as of May 1, 2004.

AMONG:

ALTAGAS LTD., a corporation formed by amalgamation under the laws of Canada (the "Corporation")

- and -

ALTAGAS HOLDING LIMITED PARTNERSHIP NO. 1, a limited partnership created pursuant to the laws of Alberta (the "AltaGas LP #1")

- and -

ALTAGAS HOLDING LIMITED PARTNERSHIP NO. 2, a limited partnership created pursuant to the laws of Alberta (the "AltaGas LP #2")

- and -

ALTAGAS GENERAL PARTNER INC., a corporation incorporated under the laws of Canada (the "General Partner")

WHEREAS the authorized and issued capital of the Corporation consists of an unlimited number of common shares of which all of the issued and outstanding, common shares are legally and beneficially owned by AltaGas LP #2;

AND WHEREAS AltaGas LP #1 is the legal and beneficial owner of the Class A limited partnership units of AltaGas LP #2;

AND WHEREAS the General Partner is the general partner of each of the Limited Partnerships;

AND WHEREAS the parties wish to provide for the restriction of the powers of the directors to manage, or supervise the management of, the business and affairs of the Corporation and election of directors of the Corporation as hereinafter set forth;

AND WHEREAS the parties intend that this Agreement shall operate and be construed as a unanimous shareholder agreement under the Canada Business Corporations Act; and

AND WHEREAS the parties have agreed to do all such things as may be necessary in order to give effect to this Agreement;

NOW THEREFORE IN CONSIDERATION of the covenants and agreements herein contained and other good and valuable consideration (the receipt and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged), the parties hereto covenant and agree as follows:

INTERPRETATION

1.1 Definitions

In this Agreement, unless the context otherwise requires:

"Agreement", "herein", "hereof', "hereto", "hereunder" and similar expressions mean and refer to this Arrangement Agreement (including the schedules hereto) as from time to time amended, supplemented or restated and not to any particular article, section, schedule or other portion hereof;

"AltaGas LP #2" means AltaGas Holding Limited Partnership No. 2, a limited partnership established under the laws of Alberta pursuant to the AltaGas LP #2 Limited Partnership Agreement;

"AltaGas LP #2 Limited Partnership Agreement" means the limited partnership agreement dated as of May 26, 2004 between the General Partner and AltaGas LP #1, as from time to time amended, supplemented or restated;

"appoint" includes "elect" and vice versa;

"Articles" means the articles of incorporation of the Corporation, as the same may be amended or amended and restated from time to time;

"Board of Directors" means the board of directors of the Corporation;

"Business Day" means a day, other than a Saturday, Sunday or statutory holiday, when banks are generally open in Calgary, Alberta, for the transaction of banking business;

"By-Laws" means the by-laws of the Corporation from time to time in force and effect;

"CBCA" means the Canada Business Corporations Act, R.S.C. 1985, c. C-44, as amended from time to time, including the regulations from time to time promulgated thereunder;

"Limited Partnerships" means, collectively, AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2;

"Limited Partnership Nominees" means initially, David W. Cornhill, Patricia M. Newson, Gary M. Holden and Dennis A. Dawson and thereafter means those members of the Board of Directors who from time to time are nominated by the General Partner;

"person" includes any individual, body corporate, partnership, association, joint venture, trust, other organization or entity (whether or not a legal entity) or governmental authority;

"Shareholders" means the holders from time to time of the Shares; provided that at the date hereof the sole Shareholder is AltaGas LP #2; and

"Shares" means the shares of the Corporation of any class from time to time outstanding.

1.2 Interpretation Not Affected by Headings, etc.

The division of this Agreement into sections and other portions and the insertion of headings are for convenience of reference only and shall not affect the construction or interpretation hereof. Unless otherwise indicated, all references in this Agreement to an "Article" or "Section" followed by a number and/or a letter refer to the specified article or section of this Agreement, and all references in this Agreement to a "Schedule" followed by a letter refer to the specified schedule to this Agreement.

1.3 Currency

Unless otherwise indicated, all sums of money referred to in this Agreement are expressed in lawful money of Canada.

1.4 Number, etc.

Unless the context otherwise requires, words importing the singular shall include the plural and vice versa and words importing any gender shall include all genders.

1.5 Date For Any Action

In the event that any date on which any action is required to be taken hereunder by any of the parties hereto is not a Business Day, such action shall be required to be taken on the next succeeding day which is a Business Day.

1.6 Entire Agreement

This Agreement and the agreements and other documents referred to herein constitute the entire agreement between the parties with respect to the subject matter hereof and supersede all other prior agreements, understandings, negotiations and discussions, whether oral or written, between the parties with respect thereto.

1.7 Construction

In this Agreement, unless otherwise indicated:

(a) the words "include", "including" or "in particular", when following any general term or statement, shall not be construed as limiting the general term or statement to the specific items or matters set forth or to similar items or matters, but rather as permitting the general term or statement to refer to all other items or matters that could reasonably fall within the broadest possible scope of the general term or statement;

(b) a reference to a statute means that statute, as amended and in effect as of the date of this Agreement, and includes each and every regulation and rule made thereunder and in effect as of the date hereof;

(c) a reference to an "approval", "authorization", "consent", "designation", "notice" or "agreement" means an approval, authorization, consent, designation, notice or agreement, as the case may be, in writing, signed by an authorized representative of the party or parties thereto;

(d) the phrase "ordinary course of business", or any variation thereof, of any person refers to the business of such person, carried on in the regular and ordinary course including commercially reasonable and businesslike actions that are in the regular and ordinary course of business for a company operating in the industry in which such business is conducted;

(e) where a word, term or phrase is defined, its derivatives or other grammatical forms have a corresponding meaning;

(f) time is of the essence; and

(g) references to a "party" or "parties" are references to a party or parties to this Agreement.

1.8 Governing Law

This Agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of Alberta and the federal laws of Canada applicable therein.

ARTICLE 2
EFFECT AND IMPLEMENTATION OF AGREEMENT

2.1 Unanimous Shareholder Agreement

This Agreement constitutes a unanimous shareholder agreement within the meaning of the CBCA.

2.2 Conflicts

In the event of any conflict between the provisions of this Agreement on the one hand, and the Articles or By-laws on the other, the provision of this Agreement shall govern. The Shareholders agree to vote or to cause to be voted the Shares owned by them so as to cause the Articles or By-laws, or both, as the case may be, to be amended to resolve any such conflict in favour of the provisions of this Agreement.

2.3 Notice to the Corporation

The Corporation by its execution hereof acknowledges that it has actual notice of the terms of this Agreement, consents hereto and hereby covenants with the Shareholders that it will at all times during the term of this Agreement be governed by the terms and provisions hereof in carrying out its business and affairs and, accordingly, shall give or cause to be given such notices, execute or cause to be executed such documents and do or cause to be done all such acts, matters and things as may from time to time be necessary or required to carry out the terms and intent hereof.

DIRECTORS

3.1 Board of Directors

The Board of Directors shall be comprised of a minimum of one and a maximum of fifteen members and shall, at the date hereof and so long as the Limited Partnerships hold, directly or indirectly, more than 50% of the issued and outstanding voting securities (as defined in the Securities Act (Alberta)) of the Corporation, be comprised of the persons nominated by the General Partner from time to time.

3.2 Vacancies

Where a vacancy in the Board of Directors occurs between meetings of Shareholders, the Limited Partnership Nominees shall be entitled to appoint a replacement director to fill the vacancy until the next meeting of Shareholders.

3.3 Powers of Directors

All of the powers of the directors of the Corporation to manage, or supervise the management of, the business and affairs of the Corporation are hereby wholly restricted and are given to the General Partner and the General Partner shall have all of the rights, powers, duties and liabilities of the directors of the Corporation, including any defences available to the directors and the directors of the Corporation are relieved of their rights, powers, duties and liabilities, including their liabilities under section 119 of the CBCA.

VOTING

4.1 Voting of Shares

The Shareholders shall, except as otherwise permitted herein, vote their Shares at any and all meetings of the Shareholders in the manner to comply with, and give effect to, the terms and conditions of this Agreement.

WAIVER

5.1 Waiver

To the extent permitted by law, each of the Corporation and AltaGas LP #2 waives each and every provision contained in the Articles or By-laws insofar as they may conflict with the provisions of this Agreement.

ARTICLE 6
SUBSEQUENT PARTIES TO THIS AGREEMENT

6.1 Subsequent Parties

Any person who shall hereafter become the registered owner of one or more Shares shall, prior to becoming such registered holder, execute one or more counterparts of this Agreement (whether or not the same has previously been executed by any other person(s)) and shall thereafter be, entitled to all of the benefits of and be bound by the terms and conditions of this Agreement in the same manner as if it had been an original party hereto.

ARTICLE 7
TERM OF AGREEMENT

7.1 Term

This Agreement shall be in effect until terminated, cancelled or amended in writing by the mutual agreement of the parties.

AMONG:

ALTAGAS INCOME TRUST, an unincorporated open-ended investment trust established under the laws of Alberta (the "Trust")

- and -

ALTAGAS HOLDING TRUST, an unincorporated investment trust established under the laws of Alberta ("Holding Trust")

- and -

ALTAGAS HOLDING LIMITED PARTNERSHIP NO. 1, a limited partnership established under the laws of Alberta (the "AltaGas LP #1")

- and -

ALTAGAS HOLDING LIMITED PARTNERSHIP NO. 2, a limited partnership established under the laws of Alberta (the "AltaGas LP #2")

- and -

ALTAGAS SERVICES INC., a corporation incorporated pursuant to the laws of Canada (the "AltaGas")

WHEREAS in connection with an arrangement agreement dated as of March 26, 2003 among, inter alia, AltaGas, the Trust, Holding Trust, AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2, as from time to time amended, supplemented or restated (the "Arrangement Agreement") and pursuant to the Plan, (a) each of AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 may issue Exchangeable Securities to certain holders of Common Shares and/or Participating Shares in the capital of AltaGas or Holdco Shares and (b) AltaGas may issue Trust Options to certain holders of options to purchase Common Shares in the capital of AltaGas (all as defined in and contemplated by the Plan); and

AND WHEREAS pursuant to the Arrangement Agreement, each of the parties hereto has agreed to execute a support agreement substantially in the form of this Agreement on the Effective Date (as defined in the Arrangement Agreement);

NOW THEREFORE in consideration of the respective covenants and agreements provided in this Agreement and for other good and valuable consideration (the receipt and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged), the parties hereto covenant and agree as follows:

INTERPRETATION

1.1 Defined Terms

Each term denoted herein by initial capital letters and not otherwise defined herein shall have the meaning ascribed thereto in the rights, privileges, restrictions and conditions

(collectively, the "Exchangeable Securities Provisions") attaching to the Exchangeable Securities; "Trust Options" means options to purchase Trust Units issued by AltaGas from time to time (including without limitation those issued pursuant to the Plan); and "Agreement", "herein", "hereof", "hereto", "hereunder" and similar expressions mean and refer to this Support Agreement, as from time to time amended, supplemented or restated and not to any particular article, section, schedule or other portion hereof.

1.2 Interpretation Not Affected by Headings, etc.

The division of this Agreement into sections and other portions and the insertion of headings are for convenience of reference only and shall not affect the construction or interpretation hereof. Unless otherwise indicated, all references in this Agreement to an "Article" or "Section" followed by a number and/or a letter refer to the specified article or section of this Agreement, and all references in this Agreement to a "Schedule" followed by a letter refer to the specified schedule to this Agreement.

1.3 Currency

Unless otherwise indicated, all sums of money referred to in this Agreement are expressed in lawful money of Canada.

1.4 Number, etc.

Unless the context otherwise requires, words importing the singular shall include the plural and vice versa and words importing any gender shall include all genders.

1.5 Date For Any Action

In the event that any date on which any action is required to be taken hereunder by any of the parties hereto is not a Business Day, such action shall be required to be taken on the next succeeding day which is a Business Day.

1.6 Entire Agreement

This Agreement and the agreements and other documents referred to herein constitute the entire agreement between the parties with respect to the Arrangement and other transactions contemplated hereby and supersede all other prior agreements, understandings, negotiations and discussions, whether oral or written, between the parties with respect thereto.

1.7 Accounting Matters

Unless otherwise indicated, all accounting terms used in this Agreement shall have the meanings attributable thereto under Canadian generally accepted accounting principles and all determinations of an accounting nature required to be made shall be made in a manner consistent with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles and past practice.

1.8 Construction

In this Agreement, unless otherwise indicated:

(a) the words "include", "including" or "in particular", when following any general term or statement, shall not be construed as limiting the general term or statement to the specific items or matters set forth or to similar items or matters, but rather as permitting the general term or statement to refer to all other items or matters that could reasonably fall within the broadest possible scope of the general term or statement;

(b) a reference to a statute means that statute, as amended and in effect as of the date of this Agreement, and includes each and every regulation and rule made thereunder and in effect as of the date hereof;

(c) a reference to an "approval", "authorization", "consent", "designation", "notice" or "agreement" means an approval, authorization, consent, designation, notice or agreement, as the case may be, in writing, signed by an authorized representative of the party or parties thereto;

(d) the phrase "ordinary course of business", or any variation thereof, of any person refers to the business of such person, carried on in the regular and ordinary course including commercially reasonable and businesslike actions that are in the regular and ordinary course of business for a company operating in the industry in which such business is conducted;

(e) where a word, term or phrase is defined, its derivatives or other grammatical forms have a corresponding meaning;

(f) time is of the essence; and

(g) references to a "party" or "parties" are references to a party or parties to this Agreement.

1.9 Governing Law

This Agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of Alberta and the federal laws of Canada applicable therein.

ARTICLE 2
COVENANTS OF TRUST, ALTAGAS LP #1 AND ALTAGAS LP #2

2.1 Covenants Regarding Exchangeable Securities

So long as any Exchangeable Securities not owned by the Trust or its affiliates are outstanding, the Trust shall:

(a) not pay any distribution on the Trust Units unless (i) each of AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 shall (w) simultaneously make a loan equal or economically equivalent to each such distribution per Trust Unit (as provided for in the Exchangeable Securities Provisions) on each Exchangeable Security (an "Equivalent Loan") and (x) have sufficient money or other assets available to enable the due and punctual advance of such loan in accordance with applicable law and the terms of the Exchangeable Securities Provisions or, if the distribution is a distribution of Trust Units, (ii) each of AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 shall (y) effect a corresponding, contemporaneous and economically equivalent subdivision of the Exchangeable Securities (as provided for in the Exchangeable Securities Provisions) (an "Equivalent Securities Subdivision"), and (z) have sufficient authorized but unissued securities available to enable the Equivalent Securities Subdivision;

(b) advise each of AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 sufficiently in advance of the declaration by the Trust of any distribution on Trust Units and take all such other actions as are reasonably necessary, in cooperation with each of AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2, to ensure that (i) the respective record date and loan advance date for an Equivalent Loan on the Exchangeable Securities shall be the same as the record date and payment date, for the corresponding distribution on the Trust Units, or (ii) the record date and effective date for an Equivalent Securities Subdivision shall be the same as the record date and payment date for the distribution of Trust Units;

(c) ensure that the record date for any distribution declared on Trust Units is not less than ten (10) Business Days after the declaration date of such distribution;

(d) take all such actions and do all such things as are reasonably necessary or desirable to enable and permit each of AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2, in accordance with applicable law, to pay and otherwise perform its obligations with respect to the satisfaction of the Liquidation Amount, the Retraction Price, the Redemption Price or Automatic Redemption Price in respect of each of its issued and outstanding Exchangeable Securities (other than Exchangeable Securities owned by the Trust or its affiliates) upon its liquidation, dissolution or winding-up or any other distribution of its assets among its Partners for the purpose of winding-up its affairs, the delivery of a Retraction Request by a holder of Exchangeable Securities issued by it or a redemption of Exchangeable Securities by it, as the case may be, including all such actions and all such things as are necessary or desirable to enable and permit it to cause to be delivered to the holders of Exchangeable Securities the requisite Trust Units, cash and other property in accordance with the provisions of Article 5, 6, 7 or 8, as the case may be, of the Exchangeable Securities Provisions;

(e) take all such actions and do all such things as are reasonably necessary or desirable to enable and permit Holding Trust, in accordance with applicable law, to perform its obligations arising upon the exercise by it of the Liquidation Call Right, including all such actions and all such things as are necessary or desirable to enable and permit Holding Trust to cause to be delivered to the holders of Exchangeable Securities the requisite Trust Units, cash and other property in accordance with the provisions of the Liquidation Call Right, as the case may be; and

(f) (unless all of the limited partnership interests therein are owned directly or indirectly by the Trust) not (and will ensure that each of Holding Trust and its affiliates does not) exercise its vote as a Partner to initiate the voluntary liquidation, dissolution or winding-up of AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2 or any other distribution of the assets of AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2 among its Partners for the purpose of winding up its affairs nor take any action or omit to take any action (and the Trust will not permit Holding Trust or any of its affiliates to take any action or omit to take any action) that is designed to result in the liquidation, dissolution or winding up of AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2 or any other distribution of the assets of AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2 among its respective Partners for the purpose of winding up its affairs; and so long as any Trust Options are outstanding take all such actions and do all such things as are reasonably necessary or desirable to enable and permit AltaGas, in accordance with applicable law, to perform its obligations arising upon the exercise of any Trust Option by the holder thereof, including all such actions and all such things as are necessary or desirable to enable and permit AltaGas to cause to be delivered Trust Units upon the exercise of the rights to purchase Trust Units pursuant to the Trust Options in accordance with the provisions of the Trust Options to the holders thereof so exercising the Trust Options.

2.2 Segregation of Funds

(a) The Trust will cause each of AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 to deposit a sufficient amount of funds in a separate account of each of AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 and segregate a sufficient amount of such other assets and property as is necessary to enable each of AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 to make the loans when required and to pay or otherwise satisfy its respective obligations under Article 5, 6, 7 or 8 of the Exchangeable Securities Provisions or, if required, to pay the purchase price for Trust Units as contemplated by Section 2.5, as applicable.

(b) The Trust will cause Holding Trust to deposit a sufficient amount of funds in a separate account of Holding Trust and segregate a sufficient amount of such other assets and property as is necessary to enable Holding Trust to pay the purchase price for Trust Units as contemplated by Section 2.5.

2.3 Reservation of Trust Units

The Trust hereby represents, warrants and covenants in favour of each of AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2, Holding Trust and AltaGas that the Trust has reserved for issuance and will, at all times while any Exchangeable Securities (other than Exchangeable Securities held by the Trust or its affiliates) or Trust Options are outstanding, keep available, free from preemptive and other rights, that number of Trust Units (or other securities into which Trust Units may be reclassified or changed as contemplated by Section 2.7):

(a) as is equal to the sum of:

(i) the number of Exchangeable Securities issued and outstanding from time to time; and

(ii) the number of Exchangeable Securities issuable upon the exercise of all rights to acquire Exchangeable Securities outstanding from time to time;

(b) as are now or may hereafter be required to enable and permit the Trust to meet its obligations under the Voting and Exchange Trust Agreement and under any other security or commitment with respect to which the Trust may now or may hereafter be required to issue Trust Units, to enable and permit Holding Trust to meet its obligations arising upon exercise by it of the Liquidation Call Right and to enable and permit each of AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 to meet its obligations hereunder and under the Exchangeable Securities Provisions; and

(c) as are now or may hereafter be required to enable and permit AltaGas to meet its obligations under the Trust Options issued and outstanding from time to time.

2.4 Notification of Certain Events

In order to assist the Trust in compliance with its obligations hereunder each of AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 shall notify the Trust and Holding Trust of each of the following events at the times set forth below:

(a) in the event of any proposed liquidation, dissolution or winding-up of it or any other distribution of its assets for the purpose of winding-up its affairs, at least 60 days prior to the proposed effective date of such liquidation, dissolution, winding-up or other distribution;

(b) promptly, upon the earlier of receipt by it of notice of or it otherwise becoming aware of any threatened or instituted claim, suit, petition or other proceeding with respect to its involuntary liquidation, dissolution or winding-up or to effect any other distribution of its assets among its unitholders for the purpose of winding up its affairs;

(c) promptly, upon its receipt of a Retraction Request;

(d) promptly following the date on which notice of redemption is given to holders of its Exchangeable Securities, upon the determination of a Redemption Date in accordance with the Exchangeable Securities Provisions;

(e) promptly upon its issuance of any Exchangeable Securities or rights to acquire Exchangeable Securities (other than the issuance of Exchangeable Securities and rights to acquire Exchangeable Securities pursuant to the Plan); and

(f) promptly upon receipt of notification of any event which would result in any holder of Exchangeable Securities becoming a Non-Resident; and AltaGas shall notify the Trust promptly of its receipt of any notice of exercise of a Trust Option.

2.5 Delivery of Trust Units

(a) In furtherance of its obligations under Sections 2.1(d) and (e), upon notice from AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2 or Holding Trust of any event that requires AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2 or Holding Trust to cause to be delivered Trust Units to any holder of Exchangeable Securities, the Trust shall forthwith issue and deliver the requisite number of Trust Units to be received by, and issued to or to the order of, the former holder of the surrendered Exchangeable Securities, as AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2 or Holding Trust shall direct. All such Trust

Units shall be duly authorized, validly issued and fully paid and non-assessable and shall be free and clear of any lien, claim or encumbrance.

(b) In furtherance of its obligations under Section 2.1, upon notice from AltaGas of any exercise of Trust Options in accordance with the terms thereof, the Trust shall forthwith issue and deliver the requisite number of Trust Units to be received by, and issued to or to the order of, the holder of the Trust Options so exercised, as AltaGas shall direct. All such Trust Units shall be duly authorized, validly issued and fully paid and non-assessable and shall be free and clear of any lien, claim or encumbrance.

2.6 Qualification of Trust Units

The Trust covenants that if any Trust Units (or other securities into which Trust Units may be reclassified or changed as contemplated by Section 2.7) to be issued and delivered hereunder (including for greater certainty, pursuant to the Exchangeable Securities Provisions, or pursuant to the Exchange Right or the Automatic Exchange Rights (each as defined in the Voting and Exchange Trust Agreement)) require registration or qualification with, or approval of, or the filing of any document, including any prospectus or similar document, the taking of any proceeding with, or the obtaining of any order, ruling or consent from, any governmental or regulatory authority under any Canadian federal, provincial or territorial securities or other law or regulation or pursuant to the rules and regulations of any securities or other regulatory authority, or the fulfilment of any other Canadian legal requirement before such Trust Units (or other securities into which Trust Units may be reclassified or changed as contemplated by Section 2.7) may be issued and delivered by the Trust at the direction of AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2, Holding Trust or AltaGas if applicable, to the holder of surrendered Exchangeable Securities or the holder of Trust Options exercising such Trust Options in accordance with the terms thereof or in order that such Trust Units (or other securities into which Trust Units may be reclassified or changed as contemplated by Section 2.7) may be freely traded thereafter (other than any restrictions of general application on transfer by reason of a holder being a "control person" of the Trust for purposes of Canadian provincial securities law), the Trust will use its reasonable best efforts and in good faith expeditiously take all such actions and do all such things as are necessary or desirable and within its power to cause such Trust Units (or other securities into which Trust Units may be reclassified or changed as contemplated by Section 2.7) to be and remain duly registered, qualified or approved under Canadian provincial securities laws, as the case may be. The Trust will use its reasonable best efforts and in good faith expeditiously take all such actions and do all such things as are reasonably necessary or desirable to cause all Trust Units (or other securities into which Trust Units may be reclassified or changed as contemplated by Section 2.7) to be delivered hereunder to be listed, quoted or posted for trading on all stock exchanges and quotation systems on which outstanding Trust Units (or other securities into which Trust Units may be reclassified or changed as contemplated by Section 2.7) are listed and are quoted or posted for trading at such time.

2.7 Economic Equivalence

So long as any Exchangeable Securities not owned by the Trust or its affiliates are outstanding:

(a) the Trust will not, without prior approval of AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2 and the holders of the Exchangeable Securities given in accordance with Section 11.1 of the Exchangeable Securities Provisions:

(i) issue or distribute Trust Units (or securities exchangeable for or convertible into or carrying rights to acquire Trust Units) to the holders of all or substantially all of the then outstanding Trust Units by way of distribution, other than an issue of Trust Units (or securities exchangeable for or convertible into or carrying rights to acquire Trust Units) to holders of Trust Units (A) who exercise an option to receive distributions in Trust Units (or securities exchangeable for or convertible into or carrying rights to acquire Trust Units) in lieu of receiving cash distributions, or (B) pursuant to any distribution reinvestment plan; or

(ii) issue or distribute rights, options or warrants to the holders of all or substantially all of the then outstanding Trust Units entitling them to subscribe for or to purchase Trust Units (or securities exchangeable for or convertible into or carrying rights to acquire Trust Units); or

(iii) issue or distribute to the holders of all or substantially all of the then outstanding Trust Units:

(A) securities of the Trust of any class other than Trust Units (other than securities exchangeable for or convertible into or carrying rights to acquire Trust Units);

(B) rights, options or warrants other than those referred to in Section 2.7(a)(ii);

(C) evidences of indebtedness of the Trust; or

(D) assets of the Trust,

unless the economic equivalent on a per Exchangeable Security basis of such rights, options, warrants, securities, evidences of indebtedness or other assets is issued or loaned simultaneously to holders of the Exchangeable Securities; provided that, for greater certainty, the above restrictions shall not apply to any securities issued or distributed by the Trust in order to give effect to and to consummate the transactions contemplated by, and in accordance with, the Arrangement Agreement or to give effect to a redemption by the Trust of Trust Units in accordance with the Declaration of Trust;

(b) The Trust will not without the prior approval of AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 and the prior approval of the holders of the Exchangeable Securities given in accordance with Section 11.1 of the Exchangeable Securities Provisions:

(i) subdivide, redivide or change the then outstanding Trust Units into a greater number of Trust Units; or

(ii) reduce, combine, consolidate or change the then outstanding Trust Units into a lesser number of Trust Units; or unless the same or an economically equivalent change shall simultaneously be made to, or in the rights of the holders of, the Exchangeable Securities; provided that, for greater certainty, the above restrictions shall not apply to any securities issued or distributed by the Trust in order to give effect to and to consummate the transactions contemplated by, and in accordance with, the Arrangement Agreement.

(iii) reclassify or otherwise change Trust Units or effect a merger, reorganization or other transaction affecting the Trust Units,

(c) The Trust will ensure that the record date for any event referred to in Section 2.7(a) or Section 2.7(b), or (if no record date is applicable for such event) the effective date for any such event, is not less than five Business Days after the date on which such event is declared or announced by the Trust (with contemporaneous notification thereof by the Trust to AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2).

(d) The Board of Directors shall determine, in good faith and in its sole discretion, economic equivalence for the purposes of any event referred to in Section 2.7(a) or Section 2.7(b) and each such determination shall be conclusive and binding on the Trust and the holders of Exchangeable Securities. In making each such determination, the following factors shall, without excluding other factors determined by the Board of Directors to be relevant, be considered by the Board of Directors:

(i) in the case of the distribution of any rights, options or warrants to subscribe for or purchase Trust Units (or securities exchangeable for or convertible into or carrying rights to acquire Trust Units), the relationship between the exercise price of each such right, option or warrant and the Current Market Price, the volatility of the Trust Units and the term of any such instrument;

(ii) in the case of the distribution of any other form of property (including any securities of the Trust of any class other than Trust Units, any rights, options or warrants other than those referred to in Section 2.7(d)(i), any evidences of indebtedness of the Trust or any assets of the Trust), the relationship between the fair market value (as determined by the board of directors of General Partner in the manner above contemplated) of such property to be issued or distributed with respect to each outstanding Trust Unit and the Current Market Price;

(iii) in the case of any subdivision, redivision or change of the then outstanding Trust Units into a greater number of Trust Units or the reduction, combination, consolidation or change of the then outstanding Trust Units into a lesser number of Trust Units or any merger, reorganization or other transaction affecting Trust Units, the effect thereof upon the then outstanding Trust Units; and

(iv) in all such cases, the general taxation consequences of the relevant event to holders of Exchangeable Securities to the extent that such consequences may differ from the taxation consequences to holders of Trust Units (except for any differing consequences arising as a result of differing marginal taxation rates and without regard to the individual circumstances of holders of Class B Units); and

(e) each of AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 agrees that, to the extent required, upon due notice from the Trust, each will use its best efforts to take or cause to be taken such steps as may be necessary for the purposes of ensuring that appropriate loans are made by it, or subdivisions, redivisions or changes are made to the Exchangeable Securities, in order to implement the required economic equivalent with respect to Trust Units and Exchangeable Securities as provided for in this Section 2.7.

2.8 Tender Offers

For so long as Exchangeable Securities remain outstanding (other than Exchangeable Securities held by the Trust or its affiliates), in the event that a tender offer, share exchange offer, issuer bid, take-over bid or similar transaction with respect to Trust Units (an "Offer") is proposed by the Trust or is proposed to the Trust or the Trust Unitholders and is recommended by the Trustee of the Trust, or the Board of Directors on its behalf, or is otherwise effected or to be effected with the consent or approval of the Trustee of the Trust, or the Board of Directors on its behalf, and the Exchangeable Securities are not redeemed by AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as applicable, the Trust will use its reasonable best efforts expeditiously and in good faith to take all such actions and do all such things as are necessary or desirable to enable and permit holders of Exchangeable Securities (other than the Trust or its affiliates) to participate in such Offer to the same extent and on an economically equivalent basis as the holders of Trust Units, without discrimination. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the Trust will use its reasonable best efforts expeditiously and in good faith to ensure that holders of Exchangeable Securities may participate in each such Offer without being required to retract Exchangeable Securities as against AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as applicable, (or, if so required, to ensure that any such retraction, shall be effective only upon, and shall be conditional upon, the closing of such Offer and only to the extent necessary to tender or deposit to the Offer). Nothing herein shall affect the rights of AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as applicable, to redeem Exchangeable Securities, as applicable, in the event of a Trust Control Transaction.

2.9 Ownership of Outstanding Interests

Without the prior approval of AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 and the prior approval of the holders of the Exchangeable Securities given in accordance with Section 11.1 of the Exchangeable Securities Provisions, the Trust covenants and agrees in favour of AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 that, as long as any outstanding Exchangeable Securities are owned by any person other than the Trust or any of its affiliates, the Trust will be and remain the direct or indirect beneficial owner of all issued and outstanding voting interests in the capital of AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2, the General Partner and Holding Trust. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Trust shall not be in violation of this section if any person or group of persons acting jointly or in concert acquires all or substantially all of the assets of the Trust or the Trust Units pursuant to any merger of the Trust pursuant to which the Trust is not the surviving entity.

2.10 The Trust and Affiliates Not to Vote Exchangeable Securities

Each of the Trust, Holding Trust and, in respect of Exchangeable Securities of AltaGas LP #2, AltaGas LP #1 covenants and agrees that it will not, and will cause its affiliates not to, exercise any voting rights which may be exercisable by holders of Exchangeable Securities from time to time pursuant to the Exchangeable Securities Provisions or the Limited Partnership Agreement with respect to AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as applicable, with respect to any Exchangeable Security held by it or by its affiliates in respect of any matter considered at any meeting of holders of Exchangeable Securities.

2.11 Consideration For Trust Units

(a) In respect of each Trust Unit required to be delivered by Holding Trust pursuant to Article 10 of the Exchangeable Securities Provisions:

(i) Holding Trust agrees and shall be deemed to issue to the Trust, in exchange for such Trust Unit, that principal amount of Series 1 Notes of Holding Trust as is equal to the fair market value of such Trust Unit on the date Holding Trust is required to deliver the Trust Unit pursuant to the Exchangeable Securities Provisions;

(ii) if the Exchangeable Security acquired by Holding Trust in respect of the delivery of such Trust Unit is a Class B Unit of AltaGas LP #1, Holding Trust agrees and shall be deemed to transfer such Class B Unit to AltaGas LP #1 in exchange and as a subscription for, and AltaGas LP #1 agrees and shall be deemed to issue to Holding Trust in respect thereof, one Class A Unit of AltaGas LP #1, whereupon the Class B Unit of AltaGas LP #1 shall be and be deemed to be cancelled; and

(iii) if the Exchangeable Security acquired by Holding Trust in respect of the delivery of such Trust Unit is a Class B Unit of AltaGas LP #2, Holding Trust agrees and shall be deemed to transfer such Class B Unit to AltaGas LP #1 in exchange and as a subscription for, and AltaGas LP #1 agrees and shall be deemed to issue to Holding Trust in respect thereof, one Class A Unit of AltaGas LP #1, and AltaGas LP #1 agrees and shall be deemed to transfer such Class B Unit to AltaGas LP #2 in exchange and as a subscription for, and AltaGas LP #2 agrees and shall be deemed to issue to AltaGas LP #1 in respect thereof, one Class A Unit of AltaGas LP #2, whereupon the Class B Unit of AltaGas LP #2 shall be and be deemed to be cancelled;

(b) In respect of each Trust Unit required to be delivered by AltaGas LP #1 pursuant to Article 5, 6, 7 or 8 of the Exchangeable Securities Provisions relating to AltaGas LP #1:

(i) Holding Trust agrees and shall be deemed to issue to the Trust, in exchange for such Trust Unit, that principal amount of Series 1 Notes of Holding Trust as is equal to the fair market value of such Trust Unit on the date AltaGas LP #1 is required to deliver the Trust Unit pursuant to the Exchangeable Securities Provisions; and

(ii) Holding Trust agrees and shall be deemed to transfer such Trust Unit to AltaGas LP #1 in exchange and as a subscription for, and AltaGas LP #1 agrees and shall be deemed to issue to Holding Trust in respect thereof, one Class A Unit of AltaGas LP #1;

(c) In respect of each Trust Unit required to be delivered by AltaGas LP #2 pursuant to Article 5, 6, 7 or 8 of the Exchangeable Securities Provisions relating to AltaGas LP #2:

(i) Holding Trust agrees and shall be deemed to issue to the Trust, in exchange for such Trust Unit, that principal amount of Series 1 Notes of Holding Trust as is equal to the fair market value of such Trust Unit on the date AltaGas LP #2 is required to deliver the Trust Unit pursuant to the Exchangeable Securities Provisions;

(ii) Holding Trust agrees and shall be deemed to transfer such Trust Unit to AltaGas LP #1 in exchange and as a subscription for, and AltaGas LP #1 agrees and shall be deemed to issue to Holding Trust in respect thereof, one Class A Unit of AltaGas LP #1; and

(iii) AltaGas LP #1 agrees and shall be deemed to transfer such Trust Unit to AltaGas LP #2 in exchange and as a subscription for, and AltaGas LP #2 agrees and shall be deemed to issue to AltaGas LP #1 in respect thereof, one Class A Unit of AltaGas LP #2.

(d) In respect of each Trust Unit required to be delivered by the Trust pursuant to the Voting and Exchange Trust Agreement:

(i) Holding Trust agrees and shall be deemed to issue to the Trust, in exchange for such Trust Unit, that principal amount of Series 1 Notes of Holding Trust as is equal to the fair market value of such Trust Unit on the date the Trust is required to deliver the Trust Unit pursuant to the Voting and Exchange Trust Agreement;

(ii) Holding Trust agrees and shall be deemed to transfer the Exchangeable Security acquired by Trust in respect of the delivery of such Trust Unit to AltaGas LP #1 in exchange and as a subscription for, and AltaGas LP #1 agrees and shall be deemed to issue to Holding Trust in respect thereof, one Class A Unit of AltaGas LP #1, whereupon, if the Exchangeable Security acquired by the Trust in respect of the delivery of such Trust Unit is a Class B Unit of AltaGas LP #1, the Class B Unit of AltaGas LP #1 shall be and be deemed to be cancelled; and

(iii) if the Exchangeable Security acquired by the Trust in respect of the delivery of such Trust Unit is a Class B Unit of AltaGas LP #2, AltaGas LP #1 agrees and shall be deemed to transfer such Class B Unit to AltaGas LP #2 in exchange and as a subscription for, and AltaGas LP #2 agrees and shall be deemed to issue to AltaGas LP #1 in respect thereof, one Class A Unit of AltaGas LP #2, whereupon the Class B Unit of AltaGas LP #2 shall be and be deemed to be cancelled.

(e) In respect of each Trust Unit required to be delivered by AltaGas pursuant to any Trust Option:

(i) Holding Trust agrees and shall be deemed to issue to the Trust, in exchange for such Trust Unit, that principal amount of Series 1 Notes of Holding Trust as is equal to the fair market value of such Trust Unit on the date AltaGas is required to deliver the Trust Unit pursuant to the Trust Option;

(ii) Holding Trust agrees and shall be deemed to transfer such Trust Unit to AltaGas LP #1 in exchange and as a subscription for, and AltaGas LP #1 agrees and shall be deemed to issue to Holding Trust in respect thereof, one Class A Unit of AltaGas LP #1;

(iii) AltaGas LP #1 agrees and shall be deemed to transfer such Trust Unit to AltaGas LP #2 in exchange and as a subscription for, and AltaGas LP #2 agrees and shall be deemed to issue to AltaGas LP #1 in respect thereof, one Class A Unit of AltaGas LP #2; and

(iv) AltaGas LP #2 agrees and shall be deemed to transfer such Trust Unit to AltaGas in exchange and as a subscription for, and AltaGas agrees and shall be deemed to issue to AltaGas LP #2 in respect thereof, that principal amount of LP Subco Debt as is equal to the fair market value of such Trust Unit on the date AltaGas is required to deliver the Trust Unit pursuant to the Trust Option.

TRUST SUCCESSORS

3.1 Certain Requirements in Respect of Combination, etc.

Neither the Trust nor Holding Trust shall consummate any transaction (whether by way of reconstruction, reorganization, consolidation, merger, transfer, sale, lease or otherwise) whereby all or substantially all of its undertaking, property and assets would become the property of any other person or, in the case of a merger, of the continuing entity resulting therefrom unless, but may do so if:

(a) such other person (the "Trust Successor") by operation of law, becomes, without more, bound by the terms and provisions of this Agreement or, if not so bound, executes, prior to or contemporaneously with the consummation of such transaction, an agreement supplemental hereto and such other instruments (if any)

as are reasonably necessary or advisable to evidence the assumption by the Trust Successor of liability for all moneys payable and property deliverable hereunder and the covenant of such Trust Successor to pay and deliver or cause to be delivered the same and its agreement to observe and perform all the covenants and obligations of the Trust or Holding Trust, as the case may be, under this Agreement;

(b) in the event that the Trust Units are reclassified or otherwise changed as part of such transaction, the same or an economically equivalent change is simultaneously made to, or in the rights of the holders of, the Exchangeable Securities; and

(c) such transaction shall be upon such terms and conditions as substantially to preserve and not to impair in any material respect any of the rights, duties, powers and authorities of the other parties hereunder or the holders of Exchangeable Securities.

3.2 Vesting of Powers in Successor

Whenever the conditions of Section 3.1 have been duly observed and performed, the parties, if required by Section 3.1, shall execute and deliver the supplemental agreement provided for in Section 3.1(a) and thereupon the Trust Successor shall possess and from time to time may exercise each and every right and power of the Trust or Holding Trust, as the case may be, under this Agreement in the name of the Trust or otherwise and any act or proceeding by any provision of this Agreement required to be done or performed by the Trustee of the Trust or any officers of the Trust or by the Board of Directors, on behalf of the Trust, may be done and performed with like force and effect by the directors or officers of such Trust Successor.

3.3 Wholly-Owned Subsidiaries

Nothing herein shall be construed as preventing the amalgamation or merger of any wholly-owned direct or indirect subsidiary of the Trust (other than AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2 or Holding Trust) with or into the Trust or the winding-up, liquidation or dissolution of any wholly-owned subsidiary of the Trust provided that all of the assets of such subsidiary are transferred to the Trust or another wholly-owned direct or indirect subsidiary of the Trust and any such transactions are expressly permitted by this Article 3.

3.4 Successorship Transaction

Notwithstanding Article 2 and the foregoing provisions of Article 3, in the event of a Trust Control Transaction:

(a) which does not result in an acceleration of the Redemption Date in accordance with paragraph (b) of the definition of "Redemption Date"; and then all references herein to the "Trust" shall thereafter be and be deemed to be references to the "Other Entity" and all references herein to "Trust Units" shall thereafter be and be deemed to be references to the "Other Securities" (with appropriate adjustments, if any, as are required to result in a holder of Exchangeable Securities on the exchange, redemption or retraction of such securities pursuant to the Exchangeable Securities Provisions or exchange of such securities pursuant to the Voting and Exchange Trust Agreement immediately subsequent to the Trust Control Transaction being entitled to receive that number of Other Securities equal to the number of Other Securities such holder of Exchangeable Securities would have received if the exchange, redemption or retraction of such securities pursuant to the Exchangeable Securities Provisions or exchange of such securities pursuant to the Voting and Exchange Trust Agreement had occurred immediately prior to the Trust Control Transaction and the Trust Control Transaction was completed) without any need to amend the terms and conditions of the Exchangeable Securities and without any further action required.

(b) in which all or substantially all of the then outstanding Trust Units are converted into or exchanged for securities or rights to receive such securities (the "Other Securities") of another person (the "Other Entity") that, immediately after such Trust Control Transaction, owns or controls, directly or indirectly, the Trust;

4.1 Term

This Agreement shall come into force and be effective as of the date hereof and shall terminate and be of no further force and effect at such time as no Exchangeable Securities (or securities or rights convertible into or exchangeable for or carrying rights to acquire Exchangeable Securities) or Trust Options are held by any person other than the Trust and any of its affiliates.

4.2 Changes in Capital of the Trust, AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2

At all times after the occurrence of any event contemplated pursuant to Sections 2.7 and 2.8 or otherwise as a result of which either Trust Units or the Exchangeable Securities or both are in any way changed, this Agreement shall forthwith be deemed amended and modified as necessary in order that it shall apply with full force and effect, mutatis mutandis, to all new securities into which Trust Units or the Exchangeable Securities or both are so changed and the parties hereto shall execute and deliver an agreement in writing giving effect to and evidencing such necessary amendments and modifications.

4.3 Notices to Parties

Any notice, consent, waiver, direction or other communication required or permitted to be given under this Agreement by a party to any other party shall be in writing and shall be delivered by hand delivery, facsimile transmission or (provided that the mailing party does not know and should not reasonably have known of any disruption or anticipated disruption of postal service which might affect delivery of the mail) by registered mail (postage prepaid), addressed to the party to whom the notice is to be given, at its specified address herein. Any notice, consent, waiver, direction or other communication aforesaid shall, if hand delivered or delivered by facsimile transmission, be deemed to have been given and received on the date on which it was hand delivered or delivered (based on facsimile confirmation) by facsimile transmission (if prior to 4:30 pm (local time at the place of receipt) on a Business Day and, if not, the next succeeding Business Day) and if sent by registered mail be deemed to have been given and received on the fourth Business Day at the point of delivery following the date on which it was so sent. or such other address as may be designated by any of the parties by notice to the other parties given in accordance with this Section.

4.4 Assignment

No party hereto may assign this Agreement or any of its rights, interests or obligations under this Agreement (whether by operation of law or otherwise) except that AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2 may assign in its sole discretion, any or all of its rights, interests and obligations hereunder to any wholly-owned subsidiary of the Trust.

4.5 Binding Effect

Subject to Section 4.4, this Agreement and the Plan shall be binding upon, enure to the benefit of and be enforceable by the parties hereto and their respective successors and assigns.

4.6 Amendments, Modifications

Subject to Sections 4.2, 4.7 and 4.10, this Agreement may not be amended or modified except by an agreement in writing executed by AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2, AltaGas, Holding Trust and the Trust and approved by the holders of the Exchangeable Securities in accordance with Section 11.1 of the Exchangeable Securities Provisions.

4.7 Administrative Amendments

Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 4.6, the parties to this Agreement may in writing at any time and from time to time, without the approval of the holders of the Exchangeable Securities, amend or modify this Agreement for the purposes of:

(a) adding to the covenants of any or all parties provided that the Board of Directors shall be of the good faith opinion that such additions will not be prejudicial to the rights or interests of the holders of the Exchangeable Securities;

(b) making such amendments or modifications not inconsistent with this Agreement as may be necessary or desirable with respect to matters or questions which, in the good faith opinion of the Board of Directors, it may be expedient to make, provided that such board of directors shall be of the good faith opinion that such amendments or modifications will not be prejudicial to the rights or interests of the holders of the Exchangeable Securities; or

(c) making such changes or corrections which, on the advice of counsel to General Partner are required for the purpose of curing or correcting any ambiguity or defect or inconsistent provision or clerical omission or mistake or manifest error, provided that the Board of Directors shall be of the good faith opinion that such changes or corrections will not be prejudicial to the rights or interests of the holders of the Exchangeable Securities.

4.8 Meeting to Consider Amendments

Each of AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2, at the request of the Trust, agrees to call a meeting or meetings of the holders of its Exchangeable Securities for the purpose of considering any proposed amendment or modification requiring approval pursuant to Section 4.6; provided that any such meeting shall only be called for a bona fide business purpose and not for the principal purpose of causing a Redemption Date to occur or transpire. Any such meeting or meetings shall be called and held in accordance with the Limited Partnership Agreement of AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as applicable, the Exchangeable Securities Provisions and all applicable laws.

4.9 Amendments Only in Writing

No amendment to or modification or waiver of any of the provisions of this Agreement otherwise permitted hereunder shall be effective unless made in writing and signed by all of the parties hereto.

4.10 Severability

If any one or more of the provisions or parts thereof contained in this Agreement should be or become invalid, illegal or unenforceable in any respect in any jurisdiction, the remaining provisions or parts thereof contained herein shall be and shall be conclusively deemed to be, as to such jurisdiction, severable therefrom and:

(a) the validity, legality or enforceability of such remaining provisions or parts thereof shall not in any way be affected or impaired by the severance of the provisions or parts thereof severed; and

(b) the invalidity, illegality or unenforceability of any provision or part thereof contained in this Agreement in any jurisdiction shall not affect or impair such provision or part thereof or any other provisions of this Agreement in any other jurisdiction.

4.11 Further Assurances

Each party hereto shall, from time to time, and at all times hereafter, at the request of any other party hereto, but without further consideration, do all such further acts and execute and deliver all such further documents and instruments as shall be reasonably required in order to fully perform and carry out the terms and intent hereof.

4.12 Execution in Counterparts

This Agreement may be executed in counterparts, each of which is and is hereby conclusively deemed to be an original and counterparts collectively are to be conclusively deemed one instrument. Delivery of counterparts may be effected by facsimile transmission.

4.13 Waiver

No waiver by, any party hereto shall be effective unless such waiver is in writing and any waiver shall affect only the matter, and the occurrence thereof, specifically identified and shall not extend to any other matter or occurrence.

4.14 Limitations on Liability

The parties hereto acknowledge that:

(a) Computershare Trust Company of Canada is entering into this Agreement solely in its capacity as Trustee on behalf of the Trust and the obligations of the Trust hereunder shall not be personally binding upon the Trustee or any of the Unitholders and that any recourse against the Trust, the Trustee or any Unitholder in any manner in respect of any indebtedness, obligation or liability of the Trust arising hereunder or arising in connection herewith or from the matters to which this Agreement relates, if any, including without limitation claims based on negligence or otherwise tortious behaviour, shall be limited to, and satisfied only out of, the Trust Assets as defined in the Declaration of Trust of AltaGas Income Trust dated as of March 26, 2004, as from time to time amended, supplemented or restated;

(b) AltaGas Holding Trust Corp. is entering into this Agreement solely in its capacity as trustee on behalf of the Holding Trust and the obligations of the Holding Trust hereunder shall not be personally binding upon such trustee or any of the unitholders of the Holding Trust and that any recourse against the Holding Trust, such trustee or any unitholder of the Holding Trust in any manner in respect of any indebtedness, obligation or liability of the Holding Trust arising hereunder or arising in connection herewith or from the matters to which this Agreement relates, if any, including without limitation claims based on negligence or otherwise tortious behaviour, shall be limited to, and satisfied only out of, the Trust Assets as defined in the Declaration of Trust of AltaGas Holding Trust dated as of March 26, 2004, as from time to time amended, supplemented or restated;

(c) AltaGas Holding Limited Partnership No. 1 is a limited partnership formed under the laws of Alberta, a limited partner of which is only liable for any of the limited partnership's liabilities or any of the limited partnership's losses to the extent of the amount that the limited partner has contributed or agreed to contribute to the limited partnership's capital and the limited partner's pro rata share of any undistributed income; and

(d) AltaGas Holding Limited Partnership No. 2 is a limited partnership formed under the laws of Alberta, a limited partner of which is only liable for any of the limited partnership's liabilities or any of the limited partnership's losses to the extent of the amount that the limited partner has contributed or agreed to contribute to the limited partnership's capital and the limited partner's pro rata share of any undistributed income.

THIS NOTE INDENTURE is dated as of March 26, 2004,

BETWEEN:

> ALTAGAS HOLDING TRUST, an unincorporated investment trust established under the laws of Alberta ("Holding Trust");
> COMPUTERSHARE TRUST COMPANY OF CANADA, a trust corporation incorporated under the laws of Canada, having an office in the City of Calgary in the Province of Alberta (the "Trustee").

WITNESSETH THAT:

WHEREAS Holding Trust is authorized to create and issue the Notes as herein provided;

AND WHEREAS the Holding Trust Trustee has duly authorized the execution of this Indenture and the creation and issue of the Notes proposed to be issued hereunder;

AND WHEREAS, while it is currently anticipated that the Notes of all series authorized hereunder will only be issued to the current sole holder of Holding Trust Units, some or all of the Notes may be issued or transferred to other persons;

AND WHEREAS the Trustee has full power and authority to execute this Indenture and to accept and execute the rights, powers, duties, obligations and responsibilities and any trusts herein imposed upon it;

NOW THEREFOR THIS NOTE INDENTURE WITNESSETH THAT the parties hereto hereby agree and declare as follows:

ARTICLE 1
DEFINITIONS

1.1 Definitions

In this Indenture, including the recitals hereto, unless the context otherwise requires:

> "Administrator" means AltaGas, a corporation amalgamated under the laws of Canada, in its capacity as administrator of Holding Trust;

1.2 Meaning of "outstanding" for Certain Purposes

Every Note shall be deemed to be outstanding until it shall be cancelled or delivered to the Trustee for cancellation, or until moneys for the payment thereof shall be set aside under Article 7, or until it shall have become void pursuant to Section 2.7. Where a new Note has been issued in substitution for a Note which has been lost, stolen or destroyed, only one of such Notes shall be counted for all purposes, including, without limitation, the purpose of determining the aggregate principal amount of Notes outstanding.

1.3 Trust Provisions

The Trustee hereby accepts any and all trusts created or constituted for the purposes of such sections, agrees to perform the same upon the terms and conditions herein set forth and, to the extent any such terms and conditions conflict with any provisions of applicable law, such terms and conditions shall prevail to the extent that such provisions do not constitute provisions of public order.

1.4 Number and Gender

In this Indenture, unless herein otherwise expressly provided or unless the context otherwise requires, words importing the singular number include the plural, and vice versa; and words importing a gender shall include the feminine, masculine and neuter genders.

1.5 Headings for Reference Only

The division of this Indenture into Articles and Sections, the provision of a table of contents and the insertion of headings are for convenience of reference only and shall not affect the construction or interpretation of this Indenture. Unless otherwise indicated, all references in this Indenture to an "Article" or "Section" followed by a number and/or a letter refer to the specified article or section of this Indenture.

THE NOTES

2.1 Notes Issuable in Series

The Notes may be issued in one or more of the series, as provided in Sections 2.2, 2.3 and 2.4. No additional series of Notes are authorized to be created or issued hereunder.

2.2 Designation, Terms and Form of Series 1 Notes

The first series of Notes authorized to be issued under this Indenture shall:

(a) consist of an unlimited aggregate principal amount thereof;

(b) be designated as "Series 1 Notes";

(c) with respect to each Series 1 Note, bear the date such Series 1 Note is issued;

(d) with respect to each Series 1 Note, be payable on demand and, in any event, mature on the 25th anniversary of the date of issuance of such Series 1 Note with the effect that, for greater certainty, Series 1 Notes issued on different dates will have correspondingly different Maturity Dates;

(e) be non-interest bearing until the Maturity Date thereof and thereafter bear interest from and including the date of demand in respect of each such Note at the rate of 6% per annum (with interest on overdue interest at the same rate), payable in monthly instalments in arrears on each Interest Payment Date;

(f) be unsecured debt obligations of Holding Trust;

(g) be issuable in denominations of at least $10 and integral multiples of $10 thereafter or in such other denominations as is authorized by the Holding Trust Trustee or the Administrator;

(h) be substantially in the form set out in Schedule "A" hereto with such appropriate insertions, deletions, substitutions and variations as may be required or permitted by the terms of this Indenture, as may be required to comply with any law or the rules of any securities exchange or as may be not inconsistent with the terms hereof and as the Holding Trust Trustee or officers of Holding Trust executing any Series 1 Notes may deem necessary or desirable, in their sole discretion;

(i) bear such distinguishing letters and numbers as the Trustee may approve; and

(j) be redeemable as provided in Article 3.

2.3 Designation, Terms and Form of Series 2 Notes

The second series of Notes authorized to be issued under this Indenture shall:

(a) consist of an unlimited aggregate principal amount thereof;

(b) be issuable at any time and from time to time exclusively to holders of Holding Trust Units in full or in partial payment of the redemption price of such Holding Trust Units for an aggregate principal amount on each such issuance equal to the aggregate redemption price so paid;

(c) be designated as "Series 2 Notes";

(d) with respect to each such Series 2 Note, bear the date such Series 2 Note is issued;

(e) with respect to each such Series 2 Note, mature on a date determined at the time of issuance by the Holding Trust Trustee, but not to exceed the fifth anniversary of the date of issuance of such Series 2 Note with the effect that for greater certainty, Series 2 Notes issued on different dates will have correspondingly different Maturity Dates;

(f) bear interest from and including the date of issuance of each such Note at a market rate of interest determined at the time of issuance by the Holding Trust Trustee (after as well as before maturity, default and judgement, with interest on overdue interest at such rate), payable in monthly instalments in arrears on each Interest Payment Date;

(g) be unsecured debt obligations of Holding Trust;

(h) be issuable in denominations of at least $10 and integral multiples of $10 thereafter or such other denominations as is authorized by the Holding Trust Trustee or the Administrator;

(i) be substantially in the form set out in Schedule "B" hereto with such appropriate insertions, deletions, substitutions and variations as may be required or permitted by the terms of this Indenture, as may be required to comply with any law or the rules of any securities exchange or as may be not inconsistent with the terms hereof and as the Holding Trust Trustee or officers of Holding Trust executing any

Series 2 Notes may deem necessary or desirable, in their sole discretion;

(j) bear such distinguishing letters and numbers as the Trustee may approve; and

(k) be redeemable as provided in Article 3.

2.4 Designation, Terms and Form of Series 3 Notes

The third series of Notes authorized to be issued under this Indenture shall:

(a) consist of an unlimited aggregate principal amount thereof;

(b) be issuable at any time and from time to time exclusively to holders of Series 1 Notes in full or in partial payment of the redemption price of such Series 1 Notes for an aggregate principal amount on each such issuance equal to the aggregate redemption price so paid;

(c) be designated as "Series 3 Notes";

(d) with respect to each such Series 3 Note, bear the date such Series 3 Note is issued;

(e) with respect to each such Series 3 Note, mature on the 25th anniversary of the date of issuance thereof, with the effect that, for greater certainty, Series 3 Notes issued on different dates will have correspondingly different Maturity Dates;

(f) bear interest from and including the date of issuance of each such Note at the market rate of interest determined at the time of issuance by the Holding Trust Trustee (after as well as before maturity, default and judgment, with interest on overdue interest at such rate), payable in monthly instalments in arrears on each Interest Payment Date;

(g) be unsecured debt obligations of Holding Trust;

(h) be issuable in denominations of at least $10 and integral multiples of $10 thereafter or in such other denominations as is authorized by the Holding Trust Trustee or the Administrator;

(i) be substantially in the form set out in Schedule "C" hereto with such appropriate insertions, deletions, substitutions and variations as may be required or permitted by the terms of this Indenture, as may be required to comply with any law or the rules of any securities exchange or as may be not inconsistent with the terms hereof and as the Holding Trust Trustee or officers of Holding Trust executing any Series 3 Notes may deem necessary or desirable, in their sole discretion;

(j) bear such distinguishing letters and numbers as the Trustee may approve; and

(k) be redeemable as provided in Article 3.

2.5 Payment of Principal

The principal of each Note will be payable on the Maturity Date of such Note in lawful money of Canada against the surrender of such Note by the registered Holder thereof at any of the places at which a register (including any branch register) is maintained pursuant to Section 2.14.

2.6 Interest

Each Note issued hereunder shall bear interest from and including the date of issuance thereof (except in the case of Series 1 Notes which shall bear interest from and including the Maturity Date) and from and including the last Interest Payment Date on which interest shall have been paid or made available for payment on such outstanding series of Notes, whichever shall be the later, to the earlier of:

(a) if called for redemption, the Redemption Date; and

(b) the Maturity Date thereof,

unless such payment is improperly withheld or refused upon due presentation and surrender thereof for payment on or after the appropriate date and prior to the setting aside of the appropriate amount pursuant to Article 7.

Wherever in this Indenture the payment of interest is referred to, such reference shall be deemed to include the payment of interest on amounts in default to the extent that, in such context, such interest is, was or would be payable, and express mention of interest on amounts in default in any provisions hereof shall not be construed as excluding such interest in those provisions hereof where such express mention is not made

2.7 Prescription

The right of a Noteholder to exercise such Noteholder's rights under this Indenture with respect to a Note shall become void unless the Note is presented for payment within a period of six (6) years from the Maturity Date thereof, after which payment with respect to such Note shall be governed by the provisions of Article 7. Holding Trust shall have satisfied its obligations under each Note upon remittance to the Trustee for the account of the Holder of such Note upon redemption or at the Maturity Date thereof of any and all consideration due hereunder in cash with respect to such Note, subject to and in accordance with the provisions of this Indenture. Such remittance shall for all purposes be deemed a payment to the Noteholder, and to such extent such Note shall thereafter not be considered as outstanding and the Noteholder shall have no right with respect to such Note, except to receive payment out of the moneys so paid and deposited upon surrender of the Note.

2.8 Issue of Series 1 Notes

Series 1 Notes, as issued from time to time, shall be executed by Holding Trust and, immediately after such execution, shall be delivered to the Trustee and shall be certified by the Trustee and delivered by the Trustee to or to the order of Holding Trust upon receipt by the Trustee of the following:

(a) a Written Order for the certification and delivery of such Series 1 Notes;

(b) an Officer's Certificate that, so far as is known to the persons signing the same, Holding Trust is not in default in the performance of any of its covenants herein contained and that Holding Trust has complied with the requirements of this Indenture in connection with the issue of the Series 1 Notes; and

(c) such Officer's Certificate, if any, as may be required by any provision of applicable indenture legislation in connection with the issue, certification and delivery of the Series 1 Notes.

2.9 Reservation and Issuance of Series 2 Notes

Series 2 Notes will be reserved by Holding Trust to be issued exclusively to holders of Holding Trust Units as full or part payment of the redemption price of Holding Trust Units at the times and in accordance with the terms of Article 6 of the Holding Declaration of Trust.

Upon the decision of the Holding Trust Trustee to pay all or part of the redemption price for Holding Trust Units in Series 2 Notes, Holding Trust shall forthwith execute the aggregate principal amount of Series 2 Notes required to satisfy all or such part of the redemption price for such Holding Trust Units in accordance with the terms hereof. Immediately after such execution, such Series 2 Notes shall be delivered to the Trustee and shall be certified by the Trustee and delivered by the Trustee to or to the order of Holding Trust upon receipt by the Trustee of the following:

(a) a Written Order for the certification and delivery of such Series 2 Notes;

(b) an Officer's Certificate that, so far as is known to the persons signing the same, Holding Trust is not in default in the performance of any of its covenants herein contained and that Holding Trust has complied with the requirements of this Indenture in connection with the issue of the Series 2 Notes; and

(c) such Officer's Certificate, if any, as may be required by any provision of applicable indenture legislation in connection with the issue, certification and delivery of Series 2 Notes.

For greater certainty, such execution, certification and delivery of Series 2 Notes may occur at any time and from time to time upon the redemption of Holding Trust Units pursuant to which the Holding Trust Trustee has decided to pay all or part of the redemption price thereof in Series 2 Notes.

2.10 Reservation and Issuance of Series 3 Notes

Series 3 Notes will be reserved by Holding Trust to be issued exclusively to holders of Series 1 Notes as full or part payment of the redemption price thereof at the times and in accordance with the terms of Article 3.

Upon the decision of the Holding Trust Trustee to pay all or part of the redemption price for Series 1 Notes in Series 3 Notes, Holding Trust shall forthwith execute the aggregate principal amount of Series 3 Notes required to satisfy all or such part of the redemption price for such Series 1 Notes in accordance with the terms hereof. Immediately after such execution, such Series 3 Notes shall be delivered to the Trustee and shall be certified by the Trustee and delivered by the Trustee to or to the order of Holding Trust upon receipt by the Trustee of the following:

(a) a Written Order for the certification and delivery of such Series 3 Notes;

(b) an Officer's Certificate that, so far as is known to the persons signing the same, Holding Trust is not in default in the performance of any of its covenants herein contained and that Holding Trust has complied with the requirements of this Indenture in connection with the issue of the Series 3 Notes; and

(c) such Officer's Certificate, if any, as may be required by any provision of applicable indenture legislation in connection with the issue, certification and delivery of Series 3 Notes.

For greater certainty, such execution, certification and delivery of Series 3 Notes may occur at any time and from time to time upon the redemption of Series 1

Notes pursuant to which the Holding Trust Trustee has decided to pay all or part of the redemption price thereof in Series 3 Notes.

2.11 Trustee's Reliance

The Trustee, prior to the certification of the Notes, shall not be bound to make any enquiry or investigation as to the correctness of the matters set forth in any of the opinions, certificates or other documents required by the provisions hereof. The Trustee may rely and shall be protected in acting upon any such opinions, certificates or other documents, but may in its discretion require additional evidence before acting or relying thereon. The Trustee shall have no duty or responsibility with respect to the use or application of any of the Notes so certified and delivered or of the proceeds thereof.

2.12 Execution of Notes

Notes shall be signed by the Holding Trust Trustee or an officer of Holding Trust holding office at the time of signing. The signatures of the Holding Trust Trustee or an officer of Holding Trust required on Notes may be printed or otherwise mechanically reproduced thereon and Notes so signed are as valid as if they had been signed manually. If a Note contains a printed or mechanically reproduced signature of a person, then Holding Trust may issue the Note even though the person has ceased to be the Holding Trust Trustee or an officer of Holding Trust and such Note is as valid as if the person were a Holding Trust Trustee or an officer of Holding Trust at the date of its issue.

2.13 Certification by the Trustee

No Note shall be issued or, if issued, shall be obligatory or entitle the Holder to the benefit hereof, until it has been certified by or on behalf of the Trustee substantially in the form of, in the case of Series 1 Notes, the certificate set out in Schedule "A" hereto, in the case of Series 2 Notes, the certificate set out in Schedule "B" hereto and, in the case of Series 3 Notes, the certificate set out in Schedule "C" hereto, or in some other form approved by the Trustee. Such certification by the Trustee upon any Note shall be conclusive evidence that the Note has been duly issued hereunder, is a valid obligation of Holding Trust and that the Holder is entitled to the benefit hereof.

The certificate of the Trustee on Notes issued hereunder shall not be construed as a representation or warranty by the Trustee as to the validity of this Indenture or of the Notes (except the due certification thereof) and the Trustee shall in no respect be liable or answerable for the use made of the Notes or any of them or of the proceeds thereof (other than disbursement of amounts received from Holding Trust in respect of the payment of interest or principal pursuant to the terms hereof).

2.14 Registration of Notes

Holding Trust shall cause to be kept by and at the principal corporate trust office of the Trustee in Calgary, Alberta, a central Notes register (or by such other registrar or registrars, if any, as Holding Trust with the approval of the Trustee may designate) and in such other place or places as Holding Trust with the approval of the Trustee may designate, branch registers, in which shall be entered the names and latest known addresses of the Noteholders of each series and the other particulars, prescribed by law, of the Notes held by them respectively and of all transfers of Notes. Such name registration shall be noted on the Notes by the Trustee or other registrar. No transfer of a Note shall be effective as against Holding Trust unless made on one of the appropriate registers and made by the registered Holder or his executors or administrators or other legal representatives or his or their attorney duly appointed by an instrument in writing in form and execution satisfactory to the Trustee, upon compliance with such requirements as the Trustee or other registrar may prescribe, and unless such transfer shall have been duly noted on such Note by the Trustee or other registrar.

The registers referred to in this Section shall at all reasonable times be open for inspection by Holding Trust, by the Trustee and by any Noteholder.

The Noteholder may at any time and from time to time have such Note transferred at any of the places at which a register is kept pursuant to the provisions of this Section and in accordance with such reasonable regulations as the Trustee may prescribe.

The Noteholder may at any time and from time to time have the registration of such Note transferred from the register in which the registration thereof appears to another register maintained in another place authorized for that purpose under the provisions of this Indenture upon payment of a reasonable fee to be fixed by the Trustee.

Neither Holding Trust nor the Trustee nor any registrar shall be required to transfer or exchange any Notes of a series on any Interest Payment Date with respect to such series of Notes and for a period of 10 days next preceding any such Interest Payment Date.

None of the Trustee or any registrar for any of the Notes or Holding Trust shall be charged with notice of or be bound to see to the execution of any trust, whether express, implied or constructive, in respect of any Note and may transfer any Note on the direction of the Holder thereof, whether named as trustee or otherwise, as though that person were the beneficial owner thereof.

Except in the case of the central register required to be kept at Calgary, Holding Trust shall have the power at any time to close, with the prior approval of the Trustee, any branch register upon which the registration of any Notes appears and in that event it shall transfer the records thereof to another existing register or to a new register and thereafter such Notes shall be deemed to be registered on such existing or new register, as the case may be. In the event that the register in any place is closed and the records transferred to a register kept in another place, notice of such change shall be given, in the manner provided in Section 12.1, to the Holders of the Notes registered in the register so closed and in addition the particulars of such change shall be recorded in the central register required to be kept in Calgary.

Every registrar shall, when requested to do so by Holding Trust or the Trustee, furnish Holding Trust or the Trustee, as the case may be, with a list of the names and addresses of the Noteholders showing the principal amounts and serial numbers of such Notes held by each Holder.

2.15 Person Entitled to Payment

The person in whose name any Notes shall be registered shall be deemed the owner thereof for all purposes of this Indenture and payment of or on account of the principal and accrued interest on such Notes shall be made only to or upon the order in writing of such Holder thereof and such payment shall be a good and sufficient discharge to the Trustee and any registrar and to Holding Trust and any paying agent for the amount so paid.

Unless waived by a Holder, as the pre-maturity interest on the Notes becomes payable (including interest payable at maturity or on redemption), Holding Trust, at least three Business Days prior to each Interest Payment Date, shall forward or cause to be forwarded by prepaid post (or in the event of mail service interruption by such other means as the Trustee and Holding Trust shall determine to be appropriate), to the Holder for the time being of each such Note, at such Holder's address appearing on the appropriate register hereinbefore mentioned, or in the case of joint Holders, to the one whose name appears first on such register, a cheque for such interest (less any tax required by law to be deducted) payable to the order of such Holder or Holders and negotiable at par at each of the places at which interest upon such Notes is payable. The forwarding of such cheque shall satisfy and discharge the liability for the interest on the Notes to the extent of the sums represented thereby (plus the amount of any tax deducted as aforesaid), unless such cheque be not paid on presentation; provided that, in the event of the non-receipt of such cheque by the Holder, or the loss or destruction thereof, Holding Trust, on being furnished with reasonable evidence of such non-receipt, loss or destruction and indemnity reasonably satisfactory to it shall issue to such Holder a replacement cheque for the amount of such cheque.

The registered Holder for the time being of any Note shall be entitled to the principal and interest, if any, evidenced by such Note, free from all equities or rights of set-off, compensation or counterclaim between Holding Trust and the original or any intermediate Holder thereof and all persons may act accordingly, and a transferee of a Note shall, after the appropriate form of transfer is lodged with the Trustee or other registrar and upon compliance with all other conditions in such respect required by this Indenture or by any conditions contained in such Note or by law, be entitled to be entered on the appropriate register or on any one of the appropriate registers as the owner of such Note, free from all equities or rights of set-off, compensation or counterclaim between Holding Trust and such Holder's transferor or any previous Holder thereof, save in respect of equities of which Holding Trust is required to take notice by statute or by order of a court of competent jurisdiction.

Where Notes are registered in more than one name, the principal and interest, if any, from time to time payable in respect thereof in accordance with this Section 2.15 may be paid by cheque payable to the order of all such Holders, failing written instructions from them to the contrary, and such payment shall be a valid discharge to the Trustee and any registrar and to Holding Trust and any paying agent for the amount so paid.

2.16 Replacement of Notes

If any of the Notes shall become mutilated or defaced, or be lost, stolen or destroyed and in the absence of notice that such Notes have been acquired by a bona fide purchaser for value, Holding Trust shall issue and thereupon the Trustee shall certify and deliver a new Note of like date and tenor as the one mutilated, defaced, lost, stolen or destroyed in exchange for, in place of and upon cancellation of such mutilated or defaced Note or in lieu of and in substitution for such lost, stolen or destroyed Note and the new Note shall be in a form approved by the Trustee. The new Note shall be entitled to the benefit hereof and shall rank equally in accordance with its terms with all other Notes issued hereunder.

The applicant for the issue of a new Note shall bear the cost of the issue thereof and in case of loss, destruction or theft shall, as a condition precedent to the issue thereof, furnish to Holding Trust and the Trustee such evidence of ownership and of the loss, destruction or theft of the Note so lost, destroyed or stolen as shall be satisfactory to Holding Trust and the Trustee in their discretion and such applicant may also be required to furnish indemnity in amount and form satisfactory to Holding Trust and the Trustee in their discretion, and shall pay the reasonable charges of Holding Trust and the Trustee in connection therewith.

2.17 Exchange of Notes

Notes in any denomination may be exchanged at any time for Notes of the same aggregate principal amount in any other authorized denomination. Notes may be so exchanged at any of the places at which a register (including any branch register) is maintained pursuant to Section 2.14 or other convenient place of delivery by Holding Trust and acceptable to the Trustee.

Holding Trust shall execute and the Trustee shall certify all Notes necessary to carry out exchanges pursuant to this Section 2.17. All Notes surrendered for exchange shall be cancelled.

The party requesting any exchange pursuant to this Section 2.17 shall, as a condition precedent to such exchange, reimburse the Trustee for any stamp or other security transfer tax or governmental charge required to be paid in respect of such exchange or the related issue of Notes and in addition a reasonable charge for its services for each Note exchanged or transferred and a reasonable charge for every Note issued upon such exchange or transfer, and payment of the said charges shall be made by the party requesting such exchange or transfer as a condition precedent thereto.

2.18 Payment of Interest and Principal

Except as herein otherwise provided, all sums which may at any time become payable, whether at maturity or otherwise, on account of any Note or any interest thereon, if any, shall be payable at the option of the Holder at any of the places at which the principal and interest, if any, of such Note are payable.

Whenever any payment of principal or interest to be made hereunder shall be stated to be due on a day which is not a Business Day in the place in which a Note is presented for payment, then the Noteholder shall not be entitled to payment of the amount due in such place until the next succeeding Business Day in that place and will not be entitled to interest or other payment in respect of such delay.

2.19 Rank and Subordination

The Notes certified and issued under this Indenture rank pari passu with one another. The Notes within each series certified and issued under this Indenture rank pari passu with one another in accordance to their tenor without discrimination, preference or priority, provided, however, that principal and interest, if any, may, prior to any accelerated payment thereof pursuant to Section 6.2 upon the occurrence of an Event of Default, be payable at different times for each series of Notes and, in the case of Series 2 Notes and Series 3 Notes, Series 2 Notes and Series 3 Notes issued at different times in accordance with the tenor of all series of Notes and of Series 2 Notes and Series 3 Notes issued at different times. The payment of the principal and interest, if any, on the Notes is expressly subordinated to the prior payment in full of Senior Indebtedness, as provided in Article 4.

ARTICLE 3
REDEMPTION, PURCHASE AND CANCELLATION

3.1 Redemption of Notes; Notice to Trustee

Holding Trust shall have the right, at its option, to redeem either in whole at any time or in part from time to time Notes outstanding hereunder on such date as the Holding Trust Trustee determines, in its sole discretion, before the Maturity Date(s) thereof upon payment in lawful money of Canada of an amount equal to the principal amount of Notes to be redeemed plus all accrued but unpaid interest on such principal amount to the Redemption Date, if any, (the "Redemption Amount"), provided however, that in the case of Series 1 Notes called for redemption by Holding Trust, the Holding Trust Trustee has the right, in its sole discretion, to elect to issue Series 3 Notes in whole or in part payment of the Redemption Amount payable for such Series 1 Notes called for redemption.

The election of Holding Trust to redeem any Notes shall be evidenced by a resolution of the Holding Trust Trustee adopted no more than 60 days prior to the Redemption Date. In case of any redemption at the election of Holding Trust of less than all of the Notes, Holding Trust shall, at least 30 days prior to the Redemption Date (unless a shorter notice shall be satisfactory to the Trustee) notify the Trustee of such Redemption Date and of the principal amount of Notes to be redeemed, the Redemption Amount, and in the case of the redemption of Series 1 Notes, the amount (if any) of the Redemption Amount which is to be satisfied by the issuance and delivery of Series 3 Notes.

3.2 Places of Payment

The Redemption Amount will be payable upon presentation and surrender of the Notes called for redemption at any of the places where a register (including any branch register) is maintained pursuant to Section 2.14 and at any other places specified in the notice of redemption.

3.3 Notice of Redemption

Notice of redemption of Notes of any series shall be given to Holders of the series of Notes called for redemption at least 10 days prior to the Redemption Date (the "Redemption Notice") substantially in the form set forth in Schedule "D" hereof and in the manner provided in Section 12.1. Such Redemption Notice shall be irrevocable and shall specify:

(a) the aggregate principal amount of Notes called for redemption;

(b) the Redemption Date;

(c) the Redemption Amount;

(d) the places of payment;

(e) in the case of redemption of Series I Notes, the amount (if any) of the Redemption Amount which is to be satisfied by the issuance and delivery of Series 3 Notes;

(f) if less than all outstanding Notes are to be redeemed, the identification (and in the case of partial redemption, the respective principal amounts) of the Notes to be redeemed; and

(g) a statement that, subject to Section 3.4, interest upon the principal amount of Notes called for redemption shall cease to be payable from and after the Redemption Date.

3.4 Notes Due on Redemption Date

Upon a Redemption Notice being given in accordance with Section 3.3, the Redemption Amount with respect to the Notes so to be redeemed shall be and become due and payable on the Redemption Date specified in such notice and with the same effect as if it were the Maturity Date of such Notes, the provisions hereof or of any such Notes notwithstanding, and, from and after such Redemption Date, interest shall cease in respect of those Notes being redeemed, unless payment of the Redemption Amount shall not be made on presentation for surrender of such Notes at any of the places specified in Section 3.2 on or after the Redemption Date and prior to the setting aside of the Redemption Amount pursuant to Article 7.

3.5 Deposit of Redemption Monies

Upon Notes being called for redemption as provided for in Section 3.3 hereof, Holding Trust shall deposit with the Trustee or any paying agent to the order of the Trustee or for the account of the Trustee, on or prior to the Redemption Date specified in the Redemption Notice, such sums (and/or, if applicable, certificates representing Series 3 Notes) as are sufficient to pay the Redemption Amount of the Notes which are to be redeemed on such Redemption Date (less any tax required to be deducted, if any). The Trustee shall pay or cause to be paid to the Holders, upon surrender of the Notes, the Redemption Amount thereof from the sums (and/or Series 3 Note certificates, if applicable) so deposited.

3.6 Failure to Surrender Notes Called for Redemption

If the Holder of any Notes called for redemption in accordance with Section 3.3 should, within 30 days from the Redemption Date, fail to surrender any of such Notes or fail within such time to (a) accept payment of the Redemption Amount payable in respect thereof or (b) give such receipt therefor, if any, as the Trustee may require, such Redemption Amount shall be set aside in trust for such Holder, in accordance with Article 7 and Section 11.5, and such setting aside shall for all purposes be deemed a payment to the Noteholder of the sum and, if applicable, the Series 3 Notes so set aside, and, to that extent, such Notes shall thereafter not be considered as outstanding hereunder and the Noteholder shall have no right, as of the Redemption Date, except to receive payment out of the moneys (and/or Series 3 Note certificates, if applicable) so paid and, upon surrender of its Notes, without interest thereon.

3.7 Less than all Notes Redeemed

If less than all of the Notes outstanding of a particular series are to be redeemed, each Holder of Notes of such series shall have a proportion of the Notes of such series held by such Holder redeemed equal to the proportion which the aggregate principal amount of Notes of such series to be redeemed is to the aggregate principal amount of all Notes of such series outstanding at such time, rounded up to the next whole multiple of $10 of principal amount of Notes of such series held by such Noteholder.

3.8 Purchase of Notes

Holding Trust may purchase all or any of the Notes in the open market or by tender or by private contract at a price determined by the Holding Trust Trustee in compliance with applicable laws.

If, upon an invitation for tenders, more Notes than Holding Trust is prepared to accept are tendered at the same lowest price, the Notes to be purchased by Holding Trust will be selected by the Holding Trust Trustee in such manner as the Holding Trust Trustee may deem equitable, from the Notes tendered by each tendering Noteholders who tendered at such lowest price. For this purpose, the Holding Trust Trustee may make, and from time to time amend, regulations with respect to the manner in which Notes may be so selected, and regulations so made shall be valid and binding upon all Noteholders and notwithstanding the fact that, as a result thereof, one or more of such Notes become subject to purchase in part only. The Holder of any Note of which a part only is purchased, upon surrender of such Note for payment, shall be entitled to receive, without expense to such Holder, a new Note for the unpurchased part so surrendered and the Trustee shall certify and deliver such new Note upon receipt of the Note so surrendered.

3.9 Cancellation of Purchased Notes

All Notes redeemed or purchased in whole or in part pursuant to this Article 3 shall be forthwith delivered to and cancelled by the Trustee and may not be reissued or resold and no Notes shall be issued in substitution therefor.

ARTICLE 4
SUBORDINATION TO SENIOR INDEBTEDNESS

4.1 Agreement to Subordinate

Holding Trust covenants and agrees, and each Noteholder, by its acceptance thereof, likewise agrees, (i) that the payment of the principal and of any interest on the Notes is hereby expressly subordinated, to the extent and in the manner hereinafter set forth, in right of payment of the prior payment in full of all Senior Indebtedness, and (ii) that any and all Liens now or hereinafter held by the Trustee or the Noteholders (or on their behalf) in connection with the indebtedness of Holding Trust under the Notes or any part thereof, as well as all of the rights, remedies and recourses which now are or may hereafter be granted to the Trustee or the Noteholders in connection therewith are hereby and shall hereafter be completely subordinated to any and all Liens now or hereafter held by the holders of all Senior Indebtedness (or on their behalf) securing the Senior Indebtedness or any part thereof, notwithstanding any ranking that might otherwise be established by law resulting from the nature of the Lien which now is or may be created in connection with the indebtedness of Holding Trust under the Notes or the Senior Indebtedness or the date or time of execution, issue, delivery registration, filing, notification, publication or perfection of any deed, document, application for registration, notice, or otherwise howsoever.

Without prejudice to the rights of any other holder of Senior Indebtedness not having done so, the benefit of this Article 4 and of any other provision hereof and of the Notes relating to the subordination and postponement thereof may be accepted at any time by or on behalf of any other holder of Senior Indebtedness by written notice to the Trustee.

4.2 Distribution on Insolvency or Liquidation

In the event of any insolvency or bankruptcy proceedings, or any receivership, liquidation, reorganization or other similar proceedings relative to Holding Trust, or to its property or assets, or in the event of any proceedings for voluntary liquidation or termination or other winding-up of Holding Trust:

(a) the holders of all Senior Indebtedness will first be entitled to receive payment in full of the principal thereof, premium or penalty (or any other amount payable under such Senior Indebtedness), if any, and interest due thereon, before the Noteholders are entitled to receive any payment or distribution of any kind or character, whether in cash, property or securities, which may be payable or deliverable in respect of any of the Notes;

(b) any payment by, or distribution of assets of, Holding Trust of any kind or character, whether in cash, property or securities (other than securities of Holding Trust or any other person provided for by a plan of reorganization or readjustment the payment of which is subordinate at least to the extent provided in this Article 4 with respect to the Notes, to the payment of all Senior Indebtedness, provided that (i) the Senior Indebtedness is assumed by the new person, if any, resulting from such reorganization or readjustment and (ii) without prejudice to the rights of such holders with respect to any such plan (including without limitation as to whether or not to approve same and on what conditions to do so), the rights of the holders of Senior Indebtedness are not altered adversely by such reorganization or readjustment) to which the Noteholders or the Trustee would be entitled, except for the provisions of this Article 4, will be paid or delivered by the person making such payment or distribution, whether a trustee in bankruptcy, a receiver, a receiver manager, a liquidator or otherwise, directly to the holders of Senior Indebtedness or their representative or representatives or to the trustee or trustees under any indenture under which any instruments evidencing any of such Senior Indebtedness may have been issued, rateably according to the aggregate amounts remaining unpaid on account of the Senior Indebtedness held or represented by each, to the extent necessary to make payment in full of all Senior Indebtedness remaining unpaid after giving effect to any concurrent payment or distribution (or provision therefor) to the holders of such Senior Indebtedness; and

(c) subject to Section 4.4, if, notwithstanding the foregoing, any payment by, or distribution of assets of, Holding Trust of any kind or character, whether in cash, property or securities (other than securities of Holding Trust as reorganized or readjusted or securities of Holding Trust or any other person provided for by a plan of reorganization or readjustment the payment of which is subordinate, at least to the extent provided in this Article 4 with respect to the Notes, to the payment of all Senior Indebtedness, provided that (i) the Senior Indebtedness is assumed by the new person, if any, resulting from such organization or readjustment and (ii) without prejudice to the rights of such holders with respect to any such plan (including without limitation as to whether or not to approve same and on what conditions to do so), the rights of the holders of Senior Indebtedness are not altered adversely by such reorganization or readjustment), is received by the Trustee or the Noteholders before all Senior Indebtedness is paid in full, such payment or distribution will be held in trust for the benefit of, and will be paid over to the holders of such Senior Indebtedness or their representative or representatives or to the trustee or trustees under any indenture under which any instruments evidencing any of such Senior Indebtedness may have been issued, rateably as aforesaid, for application to the payment of all Senior Indebtedness remaining unpaid until such Senior Indebtedness has been paid in full, after giving effect to any concurrent payment or distribution (or provision therefor) to the holders of such Senior Indebtedness.

4.3 Subrogation of Notes

Subject to the payment in full of all Senior Indebtedness, the Noteholders shall be subrogated to the rights of the holders of Senior Indebtedness to receive payments and distributions of assets of Holding Trust in respect of and on account of Senior Indebtedness, to the extent of the application thereto of moneys or other assets which would have been received by the Noteholders, but for the provisions of this Article 4, until the principal of and interest on, if any, the Notes shall be paid in full. No payment or distribution of assets of Holding Trust to the Noteholders which would be payable or distributable to the holders of Senior Indebtedness pursuant to this Article 4 shall, as among Holding Trust, its creditors (other than the holders of Senior Indebtedness) and the Noteholders, be deemed to be a payment by Holding Trust to or on account of the Noteholders, it being understood that the provisions of this Article 4 are, and are intended, solely for the purpose of defining the relative rights of the Noteholders, on the one hand, and the holders of the Senior Indebtedness, on the other hand. Nothing contained in this Article 4 or elsewhere in this Indenture or in the Notes is intended to or shall impair, as between Holding Trust and its creditors (other than the holders of Senior Indebtedness and the Noteholders), the obligation of Holding Trust, which is unconditional and absolute, to pay to the Noteholders the principal of and interest on, if any, the Notes, as and when the same shall become due and payable in accordance with their terms, or to affect the relative rights of the Noteholders and the creditors of Holding Trust, other than the holders of the Senior Indebtedness, nor shall anything herein or therein prevent the Trustee or the Holder of any Notes from exercising all remedies otherwise permitted by applicable law upon default under this Indenture, subject to the rights, if any, under this Article 4, of the holders of Senior Indebtedness upon the exercise of any such remedy.

4.4 No Set-Off

Each of Holding Trust and the Trustee agree, and each Holder of a Note, by his acceptance thereof, likewise agrees, that it shall have no rights of set-off or counterclaim with respect to the principal of, premium, if any, and the interest on the Notes at any time when any payment of, or in respect of, such amounts to the Trustee or the Holders is prohibited by this Article 4 or is otherwise required to be paid to the holders of Senior Indebtedness or their representative or to the trustee under any indenture under which any instruments evidencing any of such Senior Indebtedness may have been issued, as their respective interests may appear.

4.5 No Payment to Noteholders if Maturity of or Event of Default under the Senior Indebtedness

(a) Upon the maturity of any Senior Indebtedness by lapse of time, acceleration or otherwise, then, except as hereinafter otherwise provided in Subsection 4.5(c), all principal of and premium or penalty (or any other amounts payable under such Senior Indebtedness), if any, and interest on all such matured Senior Indebtedness shall first be paid in full or shall first have been duly provided for, before any payment on account of principal of and interest on, if any, the Notes is made.

(b) Except as hereinafter otherwise provided in Subsection 4.5(c), Holding Trust shall not make any payment, and the Noteholders shall not be entitled to demand, institute proceedings for the collection of, or receive any payment or benefit (including without limitation by compensation, set-off, combination of accounts or realization of security or otherwise in any manner whatsoever) on account of the indebtedness represented by the Notes (i) in a manner inconsistent with the terms (as they exist on the date hereof) of this Indenture or of the Notes, or (ii) at any time when a default or an event of default, as defined or described in any Senior Indebtedness or any instrument evidencing the same and permitting, by the lapse of time or giving of notice, the holders thereof to accelerate the maturity thereof, has occurred under Senior Indebtedness having an outstanding principal amount of $10 million or more and is continuing and notice of such default or event of default has been given by or on behalf of the holders of Senior Indebtedness to Holding Trust and the Trustee, in each case, unless and until such Senior Indebtedness shall have been paid and satisfied in full, or unless and until such default or event of default shall have been cured or waived or shall have ceased to exist in accordance with the provisions of such Senior Indebtedness.

(c) For greater certainty but without limiting the generality of the foregoing, this Section 4.4 shall not be construed so as to prevent the Trustee from receiving and retaining any payments on account of Notes which are made (i) in a manner that is consistent with the terms of this Indenture or of the Notes and (ii) at any time when no default or event of default, as defined or described in any Senior Indebtedness or any instrument evidencing the same and permitting, by the lapse of time or giving of notice, the holders thereof to accelerate the maturity thereof, has occurred and is continuing and in respect of which notice has not been given by or on behalf of the holders of Senior Indebtedness to Holding Trust.

(d) The fact that any payment which is required to be made pursuant to this Indenture or the Notes is prohibited by this Section 4.5 shall not prevent the failure to make such payment from being an Event of Default hereunder.

4.6 Authorization of Noteholders to Trustee to Effect Subordination

Each Holder of Notes, by his acceptance thereof, authorizes and directs the Trustee, on his behalf, to take such action as may be necessary or appropriate to effect the subordination provided for in this Article 4 and appoints the Trustee his attorney-in-fact for any and all such purposes.

4.7 Knowledge of Trustee

Notwithstanding the provisions of this Article 4, the Trustee will not be charged with knowledge of the existence of any facts that would prohibit the making of any payment of moneys to or by the Trustee, or the taking of any other action by the Trustee, unless and until the Trustee has received written notice thereof from Holding Trust, any Noteholder or any holder or representative of any class of Senior Indebtedness or on its behalf.

4.8 Trustee May Hold Senior Indebtedness

The Trustee is entitled to all the rights set forth in this Article 4 with respect to any Senior Indebtedness at the time held by it, to the same extent as any other holder of Senior Indebtedness, and nothing in this Indenture deprives the Trustee of any of its rights as such holder.

4.9 Rights of Holders of Senior Indebtedness Not Impaired

No right of any present or future holder of any Senior Indebtedness to enforce the subordination herein will at any time or in any way be prejudiced or impaired by any act or failure to act on the part of Holding Trust or by any non-compliance by Holding Trust with the terms, provisions and covenants of this Indenture, regardless of any knowledge thereof any such holder may have or be otherwise charged with.

4.10 Altering the Senior Indebtedness

The holders of the Senior Indebtedness have the right to extend, renew, modify or amend the terms of the Senior Indebtedness or any security therefor and to release, sell or exchange such security and otherwise to deal freely with Holding Trust, all without notice to or consent of the Noteholders or the Trustee and without affecting the liabilities and obligations of the parties to this Indenture or the Noteholders or the Trustee.

4.11 Additional Indebtedness

This Indenture does not restrict Holding Trust from incurring additional Indebtedness or granting Liens on its properties to secure any Indebtedness.

4.12 Amendments to Article 4

Each of Holding Trust and the Trustee agrees, and each Holder of a Note, by his acceptance thereof, likewise agrees, not to make any changes to this Indenture or the Notes, including this Article and the definition of Senior Indebtedness, which materially prejudice the rights of the holders of Senior Indebtedness under this Article 4 without the consent of each holder of Senior Indebtedness (other than trade creditors), or their representative or the trustee under any indenture under which any instruments evidencing any of such Senior Indebtedness may have been issued.

ARTICLE 5
COVENANTS OF HOLDING TRUST

5.1 General Covenants

Holding Trust covenants with the Trustee that so long as any of the Notes remain outstanding:

(a) subject to Article 4, it will well, duly and punctually pay or cause to be paid to every Noteholder, or to the Trustee on behalf of every Noteholder, all principal thereof and accrued interest, if any, on the Notes, at the dates and places, in the currency and in the manner mentioned herein and in the Notes;

(b) it will carry on and conduct, and will cause to be carried on and conducted, its business in a proper and efficient manner and do or cause to be done all things necessary to preserve and keep in full force and effect its existence as a trust, provided that Holding Trust may cease to operate any business, premises, property or operations or dispose of or allow to lapse any of its rights or franchises if, in the opinion of Holding Trust, it would be advisable and in the best interests of Holding Trust to do so; but Holding Trust may not cease to operate or dispose of all or substantially all of its undertaking or assets, except in accordance with Article 8, and it will keep or cause to be kept proper books of account, and will if and whenever required in writing by the Trustee, forthwith file with the Trustee copies of all annual and periodic reports of Holding Trust furnished to its unitholders after the date hereof, and at all reasonable times it will furnish or cause to be furnished to the Trustee or its duly authorized agent or attorney such information relating to its business as the Trustee may reasonably require;

(c) it will annually, within 90 days of the end of each fiscal year of Holding Trust, deliver to the Trustee (i) an Officer's Certificate confirming that it has complied with all requirements contained in this Indenture that, if not complied with, would, with the giving of notice, lapse of time or otherwise, constitute an Event of Default, or, if there has been any failure to comply, giving particulars thereof and (ii) audited consolidated financial statements for the previous fiscal year;

(d) provide to the Trustee unaudited quarterly financial statements within 60 days of each fiscal quarter end;

(e) subject to Article 4, in order to prevent any accumulation after maturity of unpaid interest, it will not, except with the approval of the Noteholders expressed by Special Resolution, directly or indirectly extend or assent to the extension of time for payment of any interest payable hereunder or be a party to or approve any such arrangement by funding any of such interest or in any other manner. In case the time for payment of any such interest shall be so extended, whether for a definite period or otherwise, such interest shall not be entitled in case of default hereunder to the benefit of this Indenture, except subject to the prior payment in full of the principal of all Notes then outstanding and of all interest on such Notes, the payment of which has not been so extended;

(f) it will, forthwith upon becoming aware of, or being notified by the holders of Senior Indebtedness as contemplated in Subsection 4.5(b) of any default or event of default, notify the Trustee of such default or event of default; and

(g) generally, it will well, duly and punctually perform and carry out all of the acts or things to be done by it as provided in this Indenture.

5.2 Trustee's Remuneration and Expenses

Holding Trust will cause to be paid to the Trustee from time to time such reasonable remuneration for its services hereunder as shall be negotiated by the Holding Trust Trustee and the Trustee, and Holding Trust will cause reimbursement to be provided to the Trustee upon its request for all reasonable expenses, disbursements and advances incurred or made by the Trustee in the execution of its rights, powers, duties and obligations hereunder and in the administration or execution of the trusts hereby created (including the reasonable compensation and the disbursements of its Counsel and all other advisers and assistants not regularly in its employ), both before any default hereunder and thereafter until all duties of the Trustee hereunder shall be finally and fully performed, except any such expense, disbursement or advance as may arise from the negligence or wilful misconduct of the Trustee. Any amount due under this Section and unpaid 30 days after a request for such payment shall bear interest at the then current rate charged by the Trustee. After default all amounts so payable and the interest thereon shall be payable out of any funds coming into the possession of the Trustee in priority to the principal of and interest on, if any, the Notes.

5.3 Trustee to Give Notice of Default

The Trustee shall give to Holding Trust and the Noteholders in the manner provided in Section 12.1 promptly after the Trustee becomes aware of any default in writing (as provided in Section 11.1) on the part of Holding Trust in the performance of any covenant or condition herein or of the occurrence of any Event of Default, notice of every such default or Event of Default, as the case may be.

5.4 Performance of Covenants by Trustee

If Holding Trust shall fail to perform any of its covenants contained in this Indenture, the Trustee may itself perform any of such covenants capable of being performed by it, but shall be under no obligation to do so. All sums so expended or advanced by the Trustee shall be repayable as provided in Section 5.2. No such performance or advance by the Trustee shall be deemed to relieve Holding Trust of a default hereunder.

ARTICLE 6
DEFAULT AND ENFORCEMENT

6.1 Events of Default

Each of the following events is herein referred to as an "Event of Default":

(a) if default is made in the payment of any principal due on any of the Notes of any series when the same becomes due under any provision hereof or of the Notes as required hereunder and such default shall have continued for a period of 10 Business Days; or

(b) if default is made in the payment of any interest due on any of the Notes and such default shall have continued for a period of 15 Business Days; or

(c) if default is made in the performance or breach by Holding Trust of any other covenant or agreement under the provisions of the Notes or this Indenture which shall continue for 30 days after written notice

specifying such default and requiring such default to be remedied shall have been given to Holding Trust by the Trustee; or

(d) if there occurs with respect to any issue or issues of Indebtedness of Holding Trust having an outstanding principal amount of $10 million or more an event of default that has caused the holder thereof to dec`lare such Indebtedness to be due and payable prior to its maturity and such Indebtedness has not been discharged in full or such acceleration has not been rescinded or annulled within 30 days of such acceleration; or

(e) if a proceeding or action shall be commenced against Holding Trust, except in the course of carrying out, or pursuant to, a transaction which is permitted by Article 8, in any court of competent jurisdiction, seeking (i) its reorganization, liquidation, termination or winding-up, or the composition or readjustment of its debts, (ii) the appointment of a receiver, custodian, liquidator or the like of Holding Trust or all or any substantial part of its property, or (iii) similar relief in respect of Holding Trust under any law relating to bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, winding-up or composition or adjustment of debts, and such proceeding or action shall continue undismissed, or an order, judgment or decree approving or ordering any of the foregoing shall be entered and continue unstayed and in effect, for a period of 60 or more days, or an order for relief against Holding Trust shall be entered in an involuntary case under the Bankruptcy Act; or

(f) if Holding Trust shall (i) apply for or consent to the appointment of, or the taking of possession by, a receiver, custodian, examiner, liquidator or the like of itself or of all or any substantial part of its property, (ii) make a general assignment for the benefit of its creditors, (iii) commence a voluntary case under the Bankruptcy Act or any other similar foreign statute, (iv) institute any proceeding or file a petition seeking to take advantage of any other law relating to bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, liquidation, termination, winding-up or composition or readjustment of debts, (v) fail to contest in a timely and appropriate manner, or acquiesce in writing to, any petition filed against it in an involuntary case under the Bankruptcy Act or any other similar foreign statute, or (vi) take any action for the purpose of effecting any of the foregoing; or

(g) if a creditor shall have taken possession of all or substantially all of the assets of Holding Trust.

6.2 Acceleration on Default

In case of any Event of Default that has occurred and is continuing, the Trustee may in its discretion and shall, if so directed by a Special Resolution, subject to the provisions of 6.3, declare the principal of and interest on, if any, all Notes then outstanding and all other moneys payable hereunder to be due and payable and the same shall forthwith become immediately due and payable to the Trustee on written demand, anything therein or herein to the contrary notwithstanding. Subject to Article 4, Holding Trust shall in either case forthwith pay to the Trustee for the benefit of the Noteholders the principal of and accrued and unpaid interest on, if any, such Notes and all other moneys payable hereunder, together with subsequent interest thereon at the rate borne by the Notes from the date of such declaration until the date payment is received by the Trustee, such subsequent interest to be payable at the times and places and according to the tenor of the Notes. Such payment when made shall be deemed to have been made in discharge of Holding Trust's obligations hereunder and any moneys so received by the Trustee shall be applied in the manner provided in Section 6.6.

6.3 Waiver of Default or Breach

In case any Event of Default hereunder has occurred:

(a) the Holders of not less than 66 2/3% in principal amount of the Notes then outstanding shall have the power (in addition to and subject to the powers exercisable by Special Resolution) to instruct the Trustee to waive the default and/or to annul any declaration and/or demand made by the Trustee pursuant to Section 6.2 and the Trustee shall thereupon waive the default and/or annul such declaration and/or demand upon such terms and conditions as such Noteholders may prescribe; and

(b) the Trustee, so long as it has not become bound to institute any proceedings hereunder, shall have power to waive the default if, in the Trustee's opinion, the same shall have been cured or adequate satisfaction made therefor, and in such event to annul any such declaration and/or demand therefor, made by the Trustee in the exercise of its discretion, upon such terms and conditions as the Trustee may deem advisable, provided, however, that no act or omission of the Trustee or the Noteholders shall extend to or be taken in any manner whatsoever to affect any subsequent default or the rights resulting therefrom. The Trustee may waive or authorize any breach or proposed breach of any of the terms, conditions or provisions of this Indenture or the Notes if, in the opinion of the Trustee, such breach or proposed breach is not materially prejudicial to the interests of the Noteholders.

6.4 Proceedings by the Trustee

Whenever any Event of Default hereunder has occurred and is continuing, but subject to the provisions of Article 4 and Section 6.3 and to the provisions of any Special Resolution:

(a) the Trustee, in the exercise of its discretion and without further notice, may proceed to enforce the rights of the Trustee and the Noteholders by any action, suit, remedy or proceeding authorized or permitted by law or by equity and may file such proofs of claim and other papers or documents as may be necessary or advisable in order to have the claims of the Trustee and of the Holders lodged in any bankruptcy, termination or other proceedings relative to Holding Trust; and

(b) if so directed by a Special Resolution and, upon being indemnified to its satisfaction as provided in Section 11.2, the Trustee shall exercise or take such one or more of such remedies as the Special Resolution may direct or, if such Special Resolution contains no direction, as the Trustee may deem expedient.

No delay or omission of the Trustee or of the Noteholders to exercise any remedy referred to in this paragraph shall impair any such remedy or shall be construed to be a waiver of any default hereunder or acquiescence therein.

Holding Trust shall be liable to the Trustee for all costs incurred by the Trustee in connection with the enforcement of rights under this Indenture.

No such remedy for the enforcement of the rights of the Trustee or of the Noteholders shall be exclusive of or dependent on any other such remedy but any one or more of such remedies may from time to time be exercised independently or in combination.

Upon the exercise or taking by the Trustee of any such remedies, whether or not a declaration and demand have been made pursuant to Section 6.2, the principal and interest on, if any, all Notes and other moneys payable under Section 6.2 shall forthwith become due and payable to the Trustee as though such a declaration and a demand therefor had actually been made.

All rights of action hereunder may be enforced by the Trustee, without the possession of any of the Notes or the production thereof on the trial or other proceedings relative thereto.

6.5 Suits by Noteholders

No Holder of any Note shall have the right to institute any action or proceedings or to exercise any other remedy authorized by this Indenture for the purpose of enforcing any right hereunder or under any Note or for the execution of any trust or power hereunder or for the appointment of a liquidator or receiver or for a receiving order under any bankruptcy legislation or to have Holding Trust terminated or to file or prove a claim in any liquidation or bankruptcy proceedings, unless a Special Resolution and indemnity referred to in Section 11.2 have been tendered to the Trustee and the Trustee shall have failed to act within a reasonable time thereafter. In such case, but not otherwise, any Noteholder acting on behalf of himself and all other Noteholders shall be entitled to take proceedings in any court of competent jurisdiction such as the Trustee might have taken under Section 6.4. No one or more Noteholders shall have any right in any manner whatsoever to affect, disturb or prejudice the rights hereby created by his or their action, or to enforce any right hereunder or under any Note, except subject to the conditions and in the manner herein provided, and all powers and trusts hereunder shall be exercised and all proceedings at law shall be instituted, had and maintained by the Trustee, except only as herein provided, and in any event for the equal benefit of all Noteholders.

6.6 Application of Moneys Received by Trustee

Except as otherwise herein provided, the moneys arising from any enforcement hereof shall be held in trust by the Trustee and applied, together with any other moneys then or thereafter in the hands of the Trustee available for the purpose, as follows:

(a) first, in payment or reimbursement to the Trustee of the reasonable remuneration, expenses, disbursements and advances of the Trustee earned, incurred or made in the execution of its obligations and responsibilities hereunder and in the administration or execution of any trusts hereunder or otherwise in relation to this Indenture with interest thereon as herein provided;

(b) thereafter in or towards payment rateably and proportionately firstly of the principal of the Notes, secondly of the accrued and unpaid interest on the Notes and thirdly of the other moneys payable hereunder, unless the order or priority of payment shall be otherwise directed by Special Resolution and, in that case, in such order or priority as between such principal and interest as may be directed by such Special Resolution; and

(c) lastly, the surplus (if any) of such moneys shall be paid to Holding Trust or its assigns, unless otherwise required by law.

6.7 Distribution of Proceeds

Payments to Holders pursuant to Section 6.6 shall be made as follows:

(a) at least 10 days' notice of every such payment shall be given in the manner provided in Section 12.1 specifying the time when and the place or places where the Notes are to be presented and the amount of the payment and the application thereof as between principal, interest and any other moneys payable hereunder;

(b) payment of any Note shall be made upon presentation thereof at any one of the places specified in such notice, any such Note thereby paid in full shall be surrendered and otherwise such payment shall be recorded by endorsement thereon; but the Trustee may in its discretion dispense with presentation and surrender in any special case upon such indemnity being given as it shall deem sufficient;

(c) from and after the date of payment specified in the notice, interest shall accrue only on the amount owing on each Note after giving credit for the amount of the payment specified in such notice, unless such Note be duly presented on or after the date so specified and payment of such amount be not made; and

(d) the Trustee shall not be required to make any interim payment to Noteholders, unless the moneys in its hands, after reserving therefrom such amount as the Trustee may think necessary to provide for the payments mentioned in Subsection 6.6(a), exceed 5% of the principal amount of the Notes.

6.8 Immunity of Holding Trust Trustee, etc.

The Noteholders and the Trustee hereby waive and release any right, cause of action or remedy now or hereafter existing in any jurisdiction against any past, present or future settlor, the Holding Trust Trustee (in its personal capacity and not as trustee), holder of Holding Trust Units or officer, employee or agent of Holding Trust for the payment of the principal or interest on any of the Notes or on any covenant, agreement, representation or warranty by Holding Trust herein or in the Notes contained; provided, however, that nothing in this Section 6.8 shall prevent recourse to and the enforcement of liability of any such settlor, Holding Trust Trustee, holder of Holding Trust Units, officer, employee or agent of Holding Trust based upon the wilful misconduct or fraud of such settlor, Holding Trust Trustee, holder of Holding Trust Units, officer, employee or agent.

6.9 Remedies Cumulative

Each and every remedy herein conferred upon or reserved to the Trustee, or upon or to the Noteholders, shall, to the extent permitted by law, be cumulative and shall be in addition to every other remedy given hereunder or now existing or hereafter to exist by law or by statute.

6.10 Judgment Against Holding Trust

Holding Trust covenants and agrees with the Trustee that, in case of any proceedings to obtain judgment for the principal of or interest on, if any, the Notes, judgment may be rendered against it in favour of the Noteholders hereunder, or in favour of the Trustee, as trustee for all the Noteholders, for any amount which may remain due in respect of the Notes and interest thereon and any other moneys payable hereunder by Holding Trust.

ARTICLE 7
SATISFACTION AND DISCHARGE

7.1 Payment of Principal Amount

The principal amount and any interest due upon maturity of any Note outstanding shall be paid by Holding Trust to the Trustee on the Maturity Date for payment to the Holder upon presentation and surrender of the Note by the Holder to the Trustee at any principal office of the Trustee in Calgary.

7.2 Cancellation and Destruction

All Notes shall forthwith after full payment thereof be delivered to the Trustee or to a person appointed by it or by Holding Trust with the approval of the Trustee and cancelled. All Notes cancelled or required to be cancelled under this or any other provision of this Indenture may be destroyed by or under the direction of the Trustee (in the presence of a representative of Holding Trust, if Holding Trust shall so require) and the Trustee shall prepare and retain a certificate of such destruction and deliver a duplicate thereof to Holding Trust.

7.3 Non-Presentation of Notes

In case the Holder of any Note should fail to present the same for payment on the date on which the principal thereon or represented thereby becomes payable at maturity or otherwise or should fail to accept payment on account thereof or give such receipt therefor, as may be required by the Trustee:

(a) Holding Trust shall be entitled to pay to the Trustee and direct it to set aside; or

(b) in respect of moneys in the hands of the Trustee which may or should be applied to the payment of the Notes, Holding Trust shall be entitled to direct the Trustee to set aside, the principal and interest in trust to be paid without interest to the Holder of such Note, upon due presentation or surrender thereof in accordance with the provisions of this Indenture; and thereupon the principal and interest payable on or represented by each Note in respect whereof such moneys have been set aside shall be deemed to have been paid and the Holder thereof shall thereafter have no right in respect thereof, except that of receiving payment of the moneys so set aside by the Trustee upon due presentation and surrender thereof, subject always to the provisions of Section 7.4.

7.4 Repayment of Unclaimed Moneys to Holding Trust

Any moneys in the hands of the Trustee and set aside under Section 7.3 and not claimed by and paid or delivered as provided in Section 7.3 to Holders of Notes within six (6) years after the date of such setting aside shall be repaid to Holding Trust by the Trustee on demand or otherwise as required by the provisions of applicable laws of public order, and thereupon the Trustee shall be released from all further liability with respect to such moneys and thereafter the Holders of the Notes in respect of which such moneys were so repaid or delivered to Holding Trust shall have no rights in respect thereof, except to obtain payment of the moneys due thereon from Holding Trust.

7.5 Release from Covenants

Upon Written Request and proof being given to the reasonable satisfaction of the Trustee that the principal of all the Notes and interest thereon, if any, and other moneys payable hereunder have been paid or satisfied, or that all the outstanding Notes having matured, such payments have been duly and effectually provided for by payment to the Trustee or otherwise and upon payment of all costs, charges and expenses properly incurred by the Trustee in relation to these presents and all interest thereon and the remuneration of the Trustee, or upon provision satisfactory to the Trustee being made therefor, the Trustee shall, at the request and at the expense of Holding Trust, execute and deliver to Holding Trust such deeds or other instruments as shall be requisite to release Holding Trust from the terms of the Indenture and the Notes, except those terms of the Indenture relating to the indemnification of the Trustee.

ARTICLE 8
CONSOLIDATION, MERGER, CONVEYANCE OR TRANSFER

8.1 Certain Requirements in Respect of Merger, etc.

Holding Trust shall not enter into any transaction (whether by way of merger, consolidation, reorganization, lease, sale, conveyance, transfer, or otherwise) whereby all or substantially all of its undertaking or assets would become the property of any other person as long as any Notes are outstanding or may be issued pursuant to the Holding Trust Declaration of Trust (other than pursuant to arrangements for the giving of collateral in respect of a debt made in good faith), unless:

(a) such other person (herein called the "Successor") is a trust, partnership or corporation constituted under the laws of a province of Canada or the laws of Canada;

(b) the Successor executes, prior to the consummation of such transaction, such indenture supplemental hereto and other instruments (if any) as are satisfactory to the Trustee and in the opinion of Counsel necessary or advisable to evidence the assumption by the Successor of the liability for the due and punctual payment of all the Notes and the interest thereon, if any, and all other moneys payable hereunder and the covenant of such Successor to pay the same and its agreement to observe and perform all the covenants and obligations of Holding Trust under this Indenture, the Notes;

(c) such transaction is to the satisfaction of the Trustee and in the opinion of Counsel upon such terms as substantially to preserve and not to impair any of the rights and powers of the Trustee and of the Noteholders hereunder; and

(d) at the time of or immediately after the consummation of such transaction, no condition or event shall exist which constitutes or which would, after the lapse of time or giving of notice or both, constitute an Event of Default hereunder.

8.2 Vesting of Powers in Successor

Upon satisfaction of the conditions of Section 8.1, the Successor shall succeed to and be substituted for Holding Trust with the same effect as if the Successor had been named herein and the Successor shall possess and from time to time may exercise each and every right and power of Holding Trust under this Indenture in the name of Holding Trust or otherwise and any act or proceeding by any provisions of this Indenture required to be done or performed by any trustees or officers of Holding Trust may be done and performed with like force and effect by the like trustees (if any), directors (if any) or officers of such Successor.

8.3 Execution of Supplemental Indenture

Upon being satisfied that the conditions of Section 8.1 have been duly observed and performed, the Trustee shall execute any supplemental indenture required, as provided in Article 10.

ARTICLE 9
MEETINGS OF NOTEHOLDERS

9.1 Right to Convene Meeting

The Trustee shall have power at any time to call meetings of the Noteholders at such time and place as the Trustee may determine. Noteholders or the Holding Trust Trustee may, by Noteholders' Request or Written Request, respectively, requisition the Trustee to call a meeting of the Noteholders for the purposes stated in the requisition. The requisition shall state in reasonable detail the business to be transacted at the meeting and shall be sent to the Trustee at the head office of Holding Trust. Upon receiving the requisition, the Trustee shall call a meeting of Noteholders to transact the business referred to in the requisition, unless:

(a) a record date for a meeting of the Noteholders has been fixed;

(b) the Trustee has called a meeting of the Noteholders and has given notice thereof pursuant to Section 9.2; or

(c) in connection with the business as stated in the requisition:

(i) the requisition is not submitted to the Trustee at least 90 days before the date of the next scheduled meeting, if any, of the Noteholders;

(ii) it clearly appears that the matter covered by the requisition is submitted by the Noteholders primarily for the purpose of enforcing a personal claim or redressing a personal grievance against Holding Trust, the Trustee, the Holding Trust Trustee, the officers of Holding Trust or the holders of Holding Trust Units, or primarily for the purpose of promoting general economic, political, religious, social or similar causes;

(iii) the Trustee, at one or more Noteholders' request, included a matter covered by a requisition on an order of business relating to a meeting of Noteholders held within two years preceding the receipt of such request and such Noteholders failed to present the matter, in person or by proxy, at the meeting;

(iv) substantially the same matter covered by the requisition was submitted to Noteholders at a meeting of Noteholders held within two years preceding the receipt of the Noteholders' request and the matter covered by the requisition was defeated; or

(v) the rights conferred by this Section 9.1 are being abused to secure publicity.

If the Trustee does not within 21 days after receiving the requisition call a meeting, any Noteholders who signed the requisition or the Holding Trust Trustee may call the meeting in accordance with the provisions of Sections 9.2 and 9.9, mutatis mutandis. If there shall be no Trustee, Holding Trust shall promptly appoint a successor Trustee in the manner provided in Section 11.9.

9.2 Notice of Meeting of Noteholders

Notice of all meetings of the Noteholders shall be mailed or delivered by the Trustee to each Noteholder and the Holding Trust Trustee in the manner provided in Section 12.1 and to the auditors of the Holding Trust not less than 21 nor more than 50 days (or within such other delays as required by law) before the meeting but may be waived in writing by any Noteholders either before or after such meeting. The attendance of a Noteholder at a meeting shall constitute a waiver of notice of such meeting except where a Noteholder attends a meeting for the express purpose of objecting to the transaction of any business on the ground that the meeting has not been lawfully called or convened. Notice of any meeting of the Noteholders shall state the purposes of the meeting.

9.3 Quorum

A quorum for any meeting of Noteholders shall be individuals present not being less than one in number and being Noteholders or representing by proxy Noteholders who hold in the aggregate not less than 25% in principal amount of the Notes then outstanding of all series.

If a quorum of the Noteholders shall not be present within 30 minutes from the time fixed for holding any meeting, the meeting, if convened by the Noteholders on a Noteholders' Request, shall be dissolved; but in any other case the meeting shall be adjourned to the same day in the next week (unless such day is not a business day in the place where the meeting is to be held, in which case it shall be adjourned to the next following business day in such place) at the same time and place. At the adjourned meeting the Noteholders present in person or represented by proxy shall form a quorum and may transact the business for which the meeting was originally convened, notwithstanding that they may not represent 25% of the principal amount of the Notes then outstanding.

9.4 Chairman

An individual, who need not be a Noteholder, nominated in writing by the Trustee shall be chairman of the meeting and if no individual is so nominated, or if the individual so nominated is not present within 15 minutes from the time fixed for the holding of the meeting, the Noteholders present in person or by proxy shall choose an individual present to be chairman.

9.5 Power to Adjourn

The chairman of any meeting at which a quorum of the Noteholders is present may with the consent of the Holders of a majority in principal amount of Notes represented thereat and voting thereon adjourn any such meeting and no notice of such adjournment need be given, except such notice (if any) as the meeting may prescribe.

9.6 Show of Hands

Every question submitted to a meeting shall be decided in the first place by a majority of the votes given on a show of hands, except that a vote on any Special Resolution shall be given in the manner hereinafter provided. At any such meeting, unless a poll is required or duly demanded as herein provided, a declaration by the chairman that a resolution has been carried or carried unanimously or by a particular majority or lost or not carried by a particular majority shall be conclusive evidence of the fact.

9.7 Poll

On every Special Resolution, and on any other question submitted to a meeting when demanded, after a vote by a show of hands, by the chairman or by one or more of the Noteholders acting in person or by proxy and holding at least 5% of the principal amount of the Notes then outstanding, a poll shall be taken in such manner as the chairman shall direct. Questions other than Special Resolutions shall be decided by the votes of the Holders of a majority of the principal amount of the Notes represented at the meeting who voted on the poll.

9.8 Voting

Holders of Notes may attend and vote at all meetings of the Noteholders either in person or by proxy. On a show of hands every individual who is present and entitled to vote, whether as a Noteholder or as proxy for one or more absent Noteholders, or both, shall have one vote. On a poll, each Noteholder present in person or represented by proxy shall be entitled to one vote in respect of each $100 principal amount of Notes of which he shall be a Holder. The chairman of any such meeting shall not have a second or casting vote.

9.9 Record Dates

For the purpose of determining the Noteholders who are entitled to receive notice of and vote at any meeting or any adjournment thereof, or for the purpose of any other action, the Trustee may from time to time, without notice to Noteholders, close the transfer books for such period, not exceeding 30 days, as the Trustee may determine; or with or without closing the transfer books the Trustee may fix a date not more than 60 days prior to the date of any meeting of the Noteholders or other action as a record date for the determination of Noteholders entitled to receive notice of and to vote at such meeting or any adjournment thereof or to be treated as Noteholders of record for purposes of such other action, as the case may be, and any Noteholder who was a Noteholder at the time so fixed shall be entitled to receive notice of and vote at such meeting or any adjournment thereof, even though he has since that date disposed of his Notes, and no person who becomes a Noteholder after that date shall be entitled to receive notice of and vote at such meeting or any adjournment thereof or to be treated as a Noteholder of record for purposes of such other action.

9.10 Proxies

Whenever the vote or consent of Noteholders is required or permitted under this Indenture, such vote or consent may be given either directly by the Noteholder or by a proxy in such form as is acceptable to the Trustee acting reasonably. A Noteholder may appoint a maximum of five proxyholders to act singly, jointly, unanimously, in succession or in the alternative. A proxyholder need not be a Noteholder. The Trustee may solicit such proxies from the Noteholders or any of them in any matter requiring or permitting the Noteholders' vote, approval or consent in such manner as may be required by applicable law.

The Trustee may adopt, amend or repeal such rules relating to the appointment of proxyholders and the solicitation, execution, validity, revocation and deposit of proxies, as it in its discretion from time to time determines.

9.11 Resolution in Lieu of Meeting

A resolution signed in writing by Noteholders holding a proportion of the principal amount of the aggregate principal amount of all outstanding Notes equal to the proportion of the principal amount of Notes required to vote in favour thereof at a meeting of Noteholders to approve that resolution is as valid as if it had been passed at a duly called meeting of Noteholders, provided that such resolution is signed by the Fund if at the relevant time the Fund owns in excess of 25% of the said aggregate principal amount.

9.12 Holding Trust and Trustee may be Represented

The officers of Holding Trust, the Holding Trust Trustee and the Trustee, by their respective representatives, and with their respective advisers, may attend any meeting of the Noteholders but shall have no vote as such.

9.13 Powers Exercisable by Special Resolution

In addition to all other powers stated in this Indenture to be exercisable by Special Resolution and all other powers conferred by law, a meeting of the Noteholders shall have the following powers exercisable from time to time by Special Resolution:

(a) power to agree to any modification, abrogation, alteration, compromise or arrangement of the rights of Noteholders or the Trustee (subject to the approval of the Trustee) against Holding Trust whether such rights arise under this Indenture, the Notes or otherwise and to authorize the Trustee to concur in and to execute any deed or instrument supplemental hereto or thereto embodying any such modification, abrogation, alteration, compromise or arrangement, provided that any such modification, abrogation, alteration, compromise or arrangement shall have been agreed to by Holding Trust;

(b) power to direct or authorize the Trustee to exercise any power, right, remedy or authority given to it by this Indenture or the Notes in any manner specified in such Special Resolution or to refrain from exercising any such power, right, remedy or authority;

(c) power to waive and direct the Trustee to waive any default on the part of Holding Trust in complying with any provision of this Indenture or the Notes, or to annul and to direct the Trustee to annul any declaration in respect of such default made by the Trustee pursuant to Section 6.2 either unconditionally or upon any conditions specified in such Special Resolution;

(d) power, with the approval of Holding Trust, to sanction the exchange of Notes for any other securities or obligations' of Holding Trust or any other person;

(e) power to restrain any Noteholder from taking or instituting any suit, action or proceeding for the purpose of enforcing payment by Holding Trust of principal or interest or for the execution of any trust or power under this Indenture or the Notes or for the appointment of a liquidator or a receiver or a trustee in bankruptcy or for any other remedy hereunder or thereunder;

(i) power to direct any Noteholder who, as such, has brought any suit, action or proceeding, to stay or discontinue or otherwise deal with the same upon payment, if the taking of such suit, action or proceeding shall have been permitted by Section 6.5, of the costs, charges and expenses reasonably and properly incurred by such Noteholder in connection therewith;

(f) power to sanction any scheme for the reconstruction or reorganization of Holding Trust or for the consolidation or merger of Holding Trust with any other person or for the sale, leasing, transfer or other disposition of the undertaking, property and assets of Holding Trust or any part thereof, provided that no such sanction shall be necessary in respect of any such transaction if the provisions of Section 8.1 shall have been complied with;

(g) power to assent to any compromise or arrangement with any creditor or creditors or any class or classes of creditors, whether secured or otherwise, and with holders of any Holding Trust Units or other securities of Holding Trust;

(h) power to amend, alter or repeal any Special Resolution previously passed or sanctioned by the Noteholders or Noteholders' Request previously provided by Noteholders;

(i) power to appoint and remove a committee to consult with the Trustee and to delegate to such committee (subject to such limitations, if any, as may be prescribed in such Special Resolution) all or any of the powers which the Noteholders could exercise by Special Resolution under this Section 9.13. The Special Resolution making such appointment may provide for payment of the expenses and disbursements of and compensation to such committee. Such committee shall consist of such number of persons as shall be prescribed in the Special Resolution appointing it, and the members need not be themselves Noteholders. Subject to the Special Resolution appointing it, every such committee may elect its chairman and may make regulations respecting its quorum, the calling of its meetings, the filling of vacancies occurring in its number, the manner in which it may act and its procedure generally and such regulations may provide that the committee may act at a meeting at which a quorum is present or may act by minutes signed by a majority of the members thereof or the number of members thereof necessary to constitute a quorum, whichever is the greater. All acts of any such committee within the authority delegated to it shall be binding upon all Noteholders. Neither such committee nor any member thereof shall be liable for any loss arising from or in connection with any action taken or omitted to be taken in good faith;

(j) power to remove the Trustee and appoint a new Trustee; and

(k) power to authorize the Trustee to grant extensions of time for payment of any principal or interest on the Notes, whether or not the principal or interest, the payment of which is extended, is at the time due or overdue.

Notwithstanding paragraphs (a) to (k) above, no resolution shall modify, abrogate, alter, compromise, arrange or otherwise affect the rights of the Trustee hereunder without the Trustee's written consent, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld.

9.14 Meaning of "Special Resolution"

The expression "Special Resolution" when used in this Indenture means, subject to Section 9.11 provided, a resolution proposed at a meeting of Noteholders duly convened for the purpose of passing a Special Resolution and held in accordance with the provisions in this Article 9 at which, subject as hereinafter provided, the Holders of at least 51% of the principal amount of the Notes then outstanding are present in person or represented by proxy and passed by the favourable votes of the Holders of not less than 66 2/3% of the principal amount of Notes represented at the meeting and voted on a poll upon such resolution, provided, in each case, that if at the relevant time the Fund owns in excess of 25% of the said aggregate principal amount of the Notes then outstanding the Fund shall have voted in favour of the said Special Resolution.

If, at any such meeting called for the purpose of passing a Special Resolution, the Holders of at least 51% of the principal amount of the Notes are not present in person or represented by proxy within 30 minutes after the time appointed for the meeting, then the meeting if convened by Noteholders on a Noteholders' Request, shall be dissolved, but in any other case it shall stand adjourned to such date, being not less than 14 nor more than 21 days later, and to such place and time as may be appointed by the chairman. Not less than 7 days' notice shall be given of the time and place of such adjourned meeting in the manner provided in Section 12.1. Such notice shall state that at the adjourned meeting the Noteholders present in person or represented by proxy shall form a quorum but it shall not be necessary to set forth the purposes for which the meeting was originally called or any other particulars. At the adjourned meeting the Noteholders present in person or represented by proxy shall form a quorum and may transact the business for which the meeting was originally convened and a resolution proposed at such adjourned meeting and passed by the requisite vote as provided in the preceding paragraph shall be a Special Resolution within the meaning of this Indenture, notwithstanding that the Holders of at least 51% of the principal amount of the Notes then outstanding are not present in person or represented by proxy at such adjourned meeting.

9.15 Series Approval

(a) If any business to be transacted at any meeting is to affect only the rights of the Holders of Notes of a series, which rights are specifically limited herein to such Holders, the provisions of this Article 9 shall apply as if only the Notes of such series were outstanding and notice of any such meeting need not be given to the Holders of Notes of any other series.

(b) If any business to be transacted at a meeting of Noteholders could affect the rights of the Holders of Notes of a series in an adverse manner materially different from the Holders of Notes of another series (as to which an opinion of Trustee's Counsel shall be binding on all Noteholders, the Trustee and Holding Trust for all purposes hereof), then:

(i) reference to such fact, indicating the series so affected, will be made in the notice of such meeting; and

(ii) the Noteholders of the series so affected will not be bound by any action taken at such meeting unless in addition to compliance with the other provisions of this Article at such meeting:

(A) there are present in person or by proxy Holders of at least 51% of the principal amount of the outstanding Notes of such series, subject to the provisions of this Article as to quorum at adjourned meetings called for the purpose of passing a Special Resolution; and

(B) the resolution is passed by the affirmative vote of the holders of at least 66 2/3% of the principal amount of Notes of such series represented at the meeting, provided that if the Fund then owns in excess of 25% of the aggregate principal amount of the Notes outstanding in such class, the Fund shall have approved the said resolution.

9.16 Minutes

Minutes of all resolutions and proceedings at every such meeting as aforesaid shall be made and duly entered in books to be from time to time provided for that purpose by the Trustee at the expense of Holding Trust, and any such minutes as aforesaid, if signed by the chairman of the meeting at which such resolutions were passed or proceedings had, shall be prima facie evidence of the matters therein stated and, until the contrary is proved, every such meeting, in respect of the proceedings of which minutes shall have been made and signed as aforesaid, shall be deemed to have been duly held and convened and all resolutions passed or proceedings had thereat to have been duly passed and had.

9.17 Effect of Resolutions

Every resolution and every Special Resolution passed in accordance with the provisions of this Article 9 at a meeting of Noteholders shall be binding upon all the Noteholders, whether present at or absent from such meeting, and every instrument in writing signed by the Noteholders in accordance with Section 9.11 shall be binding upon all the Noteholders, whether signatories thereto or not, and each and every Noteholder and the Trustee (subject to any provisions for its indemnity herein contained) shall be bound to give effect accordingly to every such resolution, Special Resolution and instrument in writing. Unless the Trustee agrees otherwise, notice of the passing of every resolution and every Special Resolution shall be given to the Noteholders in the manner provided in Section 12.1.

ARTICLE 10
SUPPLEMENTAL INDENTURES

10.1 Provision for Supplemental Indentures for Certain Purposes

From time to time Holding Trust and the Trustee may, without any further approval or consent of the Noteholders (subject to the provisions of this Indenture), and they shall, when so directed by the provisions hereof, execute and deliver indentures or instruments supplemental hereto, which thereafter shall form part hereof, for any one or more or all of the following purposes:

(a) evidencing the succession of Successors and the covenants of and obligations assumed by such Successors in accordance with the provisions of Article 8;

(b) giving effect to any Special Resolution passed as provided in Article 9;

(c) adding to the provisions hereof such additional covenants, enforcement provisions, release provisions and other provisions as, in the opinion of Counsel, are necessary or advisable, provided that, in the opinion of the Trustee, the same are not prejudicial to the legal rights of the Noteholders;

(d) making any modification of any of the provisions of this Indenture or the Notes which is of a formal, minor or technical nature;

(e) making any additions to, deletions from or alterations of the provisions of this Indenture (including any of the terms and conditions of the Notes) which in the opinion of the Trustee, upon the advice of counsel, are not prejudicial to the interests of the Noteholders and which are necessary or advisable in order to incorporate, reflect or comply with any legislation the provisions of which apply to this Indenture;

(f) adding to or altering the provisions hereof in respect of the transfer of Notes, including provision for the exchange of Notes of different denominations and making any modification in the form of the Notes which does not affect the substance thereof and which, in the opinion of the Trustee, upon the advice of counsel, is not prejudicial to the interests of the Noteholders;

(g) correcting or rectifying any ambiguities, defective provisions, errors or omissions herein, provided that, in the opinion of the Trustee, upon the advice of counsel, the rights of the Trustee and the Noteholders are not materially prejudiced thereby; and

(h) any other purpose not inconsistent with the terms of this Indenture provided that, in the opinion of the Trustee, upon the advice of counsel, the rights of the Trustee and of the Noteholders are not materially prejudiced thereby.

10.2 Binding Effect of Modifications

Every modification, addition, deletion, alteration, correction or rectification to, from or of the provisions hereof shall bind the Noteholders and notice thereof shall be given as soon as practicable in accordance with Section 12.1, unless the Trustee agrees otherwise.

ARTICLE 11
CONCERNING THE TRUSTEE

11.1 Conditions Precedent to Trustee's Obligation to Act

The Trustee shall not be bound to give any notice or do or take any act, action or proceeding in virtue of the powers conferred on it hereby unless and until it shall have been required so to do under the terms hereof. Nor, subject to any default which may come to the attention of the Trustee by virtue of Holding Trust's compliance with Subsection 5.1(c), shall the Trustee be required to take notice of any default hereunder, other than in payment of any moneys required by any provision hereof to be paid to it, unless and until notified in writing of such default, which notice shall distinctly specify the default desired to be brought to the attention of the Trustee, and in the absence of any such notice the Trustee may for all purposes of this Indenture conclusively assume that Holding Trust is not in default hereunder and that no default has been made with respect to the payment of principal or interest on the Notes or in the observance or performance of any of the covenants, agreements or conditions contained herein. Any such notice or requisition shall in no way limit any discretion herein given to the Trustee to determine whether or not the Trustee shall take action with respect to any default or take action without any such requisition.

11.2 Requirement for Funds and Indemnity

The obligation of the Trustee to commence or continue any act, action or proceeding for the purpose of enforcing any right of the Trustee or the Noteholders hereunder shall be conditional upon the Noteholders furnishing, when required by notice in writing by the Trustee, sufficient funds to commence or continue such act, action or proceeding and an indemnity reasonably satisfactory to the Trustee to protect and hold harmless the Trustee and its officers directors and employees against the costs, charges and expenses and liabilities to be incurred thereby and any loss and damage it may suffer by reason thereof None of the provisions contained in this Indenture shall require the Trustee to expend or risk its own funds or otherwise incur financial liability in the performance of any of its duties or in the exercise of any of its rights or powers, unless indemnified as aforesaid.

The Trustee may, before commencing or at any time during the continuance of any such act, action or proceeding, require the Noteholders at whose instance it is acting to deposit with the Trustee the Notes held by them, for which Notes the Trustee shall issue receipts.

11.3 Evidence

Whenever it is provided in this Indenture, with reference to any application to the Trustee for the certification and delivery of Notes or other action hereunder, that Holding Trust shall deposit with the Trustee resolutions, certificates, opinions, requests, orders or other documents, it is intended that the truth, accuracy and good faith at the time of the granting of such application (or on the effective date of any such certificate or report, as the case may be) of the facts and opinions stated in all documents so deposited shall, in each and every such case, be conditions precedent to the right of Holding Trust to have such application granted. The Trustee may rely and shall be protected in acting upon any such documents deposited with it in purported compliance with any such provision or of any other purpose hereof, but may in its discretion require further evidence before acting or relying thereon.

The Trustee may rely and shall be protected in acting upon any resolution, certificate, statement, instrument, opinion, report, notice, request, consent, order, letter, or other paper or document believed by it to be genuine and to have been signed, sent or presented by or on behalf of the proper party or parties.

11.4 Experts and Advisers

The Trustee may employ or retain such Counsel, accountants, appraisers or other experts or advisers as it may reasonably require for the purpose of discharging its duties hereunder and may pay reasonable remuneration for all services so performed by any of them, and shall not be responsible for any misconduct on the part of any of them provided that the Trustee has satisfied its standard of care set forth in Section 11.12.

The Trustee may act and shall be protected in acting in good faith on the opinion or advice of or information obtained from any counsel, accountant, appraiser or other expert or adviser, whether retained or employed by Holding Trust or by the Trustee, in relation to any matter arising in the administration of the trusts hereunder and the fulfilment of its obligations and the exercise of its rights hereunder.

11.5 Documents, Moneys, etc. Held by Trustee

Any securities, documents of title or other instruments that may at any time be held by the Trustee subject to the trusts hereof may be placed in the deposit vaults of the Trustee or of any Canadian chartered bank or deposited for safe-keeping in Alberta or Ontario with any such bank. Unless herein otherwise expressly provided, any moneys so held, pending the application or withdrawal thereof under any provisions of this Indenture, may be deposited in the name of the Trustee in any Canadian chartered bank at the rate of interest (if any) then current on similar deposits or, with the consent of Holding Trust, may be (a) deposited in the deposit department of the Trustee or any other loan or trust corporation authorized to accept deposits under the laws of Canada or a province thereof, or (b) invested in securities issued or guaranteed by the government of Canada or of any province thereof, maturing not more than 90 days from the date of investment. All interest or other income received by the Trustee in respect of such deposits and investments shall belong to Holding Trust and be remitted to Holding Trust or in accordance with the provisions of applicable laws of public order, three (3) years from Maturity Date of the Notes in respect of which such moneys were held by the Trustee, unless an Event of Default shall have occurred and be continuing, in which case all such interest and income shall be held by the Trustee and applied in accordance with Section 6.6.

11.6 Action by Trustee to Protect Interests

The Trustee shall have power to institute and to maintain such actions and proceedings as it may consider necessary or expedient to preserve, protect and enforce its interests and the interests of the Noteholders.

11.7 Trustee not Required to give Security

The Trustee shall not be required to give any bond or security in respect of the execution of the trusts and powers of this Indenture or otherwise in respect of this Indenture.

11.8 Protection of Trustee

By way of supplement to the provisions of any law for the time being relating to trustees:

(a) the Trustee shall not be liable for or by reason of any statements of fact or recitals in this Indenture or in the Notes (except the representation contained in Section 11.10 and in the certificate of the Trustee on the Notes) or required to verify the same, but any such statements or recitals are and shall be deemed to be made by Holding Trust;

(b) nothing herein contained shall impose any obligation on the Trustee to see to or require evidence of the registration or filing (or renewal thereof) of this Indenture or any instrument ancillary or supplemental hereto or thereto;

(c) the Trustee shall not be bound to give to any person notice of the execution hereof;

(d) the Trustee shall not incur any liability or responsibility whatever or be in any way responsible for the consequence of any breach on the part of Holding Trust of any of the covenants contained in this Indenture or of any acts of the agents or servants of Holding Trust; and

(e) Holding Trust hereby indemnifies and saves harmless the Trustee and its officers, directors and employees from and against any and all liabilities, losses, costs, claims, actions or demands whatsoever which may be brought against the Trustee or which it may suffer or incur as a result or arising out of the performance of its duties and obligations hereunder (including without limitation the fees and disbursements of any advisers and legal counsel it may retain), save only in the event of gross negligence, wilful misconduct or fraud of the Trustee or any of its officers, directors or employees. This indemnification shall survive the termination of this Indenture.

11.9 Replacement of Trustee

The Trustee may resign and be discharged from all further duties and liabilities hereunder by giving to Holding Trust not less than 90 days' notice in writing or such shorter notice as Holding Trust may accept as sufficient. The Noteholders, by Special Resolution, shall have power at any time to remove the Trustee and to appoint a new trustee. In the event of the Trustee resigning or being removed as aforesaid or being dissolved, becoming bankrupt, going into liquidation or otherwise becoming incapable of acting hereunder, Holding Trust shall forthwith appoint a new trustee unless a new trustee has already been appointed by the Noteholders; failing such appointment by Holding Trust, the retiring Trustee or any Noteholder may apply to the Court of Queen's Bench of Alberta, on such notice as the Court may direct, for the appointment of a new trustee; but any new trustee so appointed by Holding Trust or by the Court shall be subject to removal as aforesaid by the Noteholders. Any new trustee appointed under these provisions must be a corporation authorized to carry on the business of a trust company in the Province of Alberta. On any new appointment, the new trustee shall be vested with the same powers, rights, duties and responsibilities as if it had been originally named herein as Trustee without any further assurance, conveyance, act or deed, but there shall be immediately executed, at the expense of Holding Trust, all such conveyances or other instruments as may, in the opinion of Counsel, be necessary or advisable for the purpose of assuring the same to the new trustee. At the request of Holding Trust or the new trustee, the retiring Trustee, upon payment of the amounts, if any, due to it pursuant to Section 5.2, shall duly assign, transfer and deliver to the new trustee all property and money held and all records kept by the retiring Trustee hereunder or in connection herewith.

Any corporation into which the Trustee may be merged or with which it may be consolidated or amalgamated or any corporation resulting from any merger, consolidation or amalgamation to which the Trustee shall be a party, shall be the successor trustee under this Indenture without the execution of any instrument or any further act.

11.10 Conflict of Interest

Holding Trust acknowledges that the Trustee also serves as registrar and transfer agent for the Trust, as trustee for the AltaGas Medium Term Notes pursuant to a Trust Indenture dated September 27, 2000 and as trustee of the Trust pursuant to the Declaration of Trust, is expected to become the distribution agent in respect of the Trust and the registrar, transfer agent and distribution agent in respect of AltaGas Holding Limited Partnership No. 1 and AltaGas Holding Limited Partnership 2 and is expected to become the trustee under a Voting and Exchange Trust Agreement to be entered into among the Trust, AltaGas Holding Limited Partnership No. 1, AltaGas Holding Limited Partnership No. 2 and the Trustee (collectively, the "Related Appointments"). The Trustee represents to the Holding Trust that at the date of execution and delivery of this Indenture there exists no material conflict of interest in the role of the Trustee as a fiduciary hereunder and the role of the Trustee in any other capacity and is aware of no potential conflicts of interest other than those that may arise in connection with the Related Appointments. The Trustee shall, within 90 days after it becomes aware that any material conflict of interest exists, including in connection with any Related Appointments, either (a) eliminate such material conflict of interest, (b) resign from any of the Related Appointments so that a material conflict of interest no longer exists, or (c) resign its trust hereunder. If, notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this Section 11.10, the Trustee has such a material conflict of interest, the validity and enforceability of this Indenture shall not be affected in any manner whatsoever by reason only of the existence of such material conflict of interest. If the Trustee contravenes the foregoing provision of this Section 11.10, any interested party may apply to the Court for an order that the Trustee be replaced as the trustee hereunder.

Subject to the preceding paragraph, the Trustee, in its personal or any other capacity, may buy, lend upon and deal in securities of Holding Trust and generally may contract and enter into business transactions with Holding Trust or any of its affiliates without being liable to account for any profit made thereby.

11.11 Delegation of Powers

The Trustee may delegate to any person the performance of any of the trusts and powers vested in it by this Indenture and any such delegation may be made upon such terms and conditions and subject to such regulations as the Trustee may think to be in the interests of the Noteholders.

11.12 Acceptance of Trust and Standard of Care

Computershare Trust Company of Canada hereby accepts any and all trusts created or constituted for the purposes of this Indenture and agrees to perform same in accordance with the terms and conditions herein set forth.

The standard of care required of the Trustee in exercising its powers and carrying out its duties and obligations under this Indenture shall be that it exercise its powers and carry out its duties and obligations hereunder honestly and in good faith with a view to the best interests of Holding Trust and the Noteholders, and that in connection therewith it exercise that degree of care, diligence and skill that a prudent trustee would exercise in comparable circumstances.

11.13 Other

Notwithstanding any other provision hereof and except as may be otherwise set forth in a Special Resolution, Noteholders' Request or other resolution, written instrument, request or direction of any of the Noteholders pursuant to this Indenture, relating thereto, no Noteholder shall be liable to third parties for acts performed by the Trustee (or any other person appointed by the Trustee to perform all or any of its rights, powers, duties, trusts, obligations or responsibilities hereunder) during the exercise of its rights, powers and trusts and the performance of its duties, obligations and responsibilities under this Indenture or for injury caused to such parties by the fault of the Trustee (or any such person), or for contracts entered into in favour of such parties, during such performance and the Trustee (or any such person) alone shall be so liable, subject to any rights or recourses which the Trustee (or any such person) may have hereunder or under any applicable law against Holding Trust or any other person (other than a Noteholder) in connection with any such liability.

Except as otherwise expressly provided herein or in a Special Resolution, Noteholders' Request or other resolution, written instrument, request or direction of any of the Noteholders pursuant to this Indenture, the Trustee shall not be entitled to receive from the Noteholders any remuneration or compensation for any services rendered by the Trustee hereunder or reimbursement of any costs, expenses, liabilities, disbursements or advances incurred or made by the Trustee in accordance with any provision of this Indenture or interest thereon.

Notwithstanding any other provision hereof and except as may be otherwise set forth in a Special Resolution, Noteholders' Request or other resolution, written instrument, request or direction of any of the Noteholders pursuant to this Indenture, relating thereto, no Noteholder shall be liable to compensate the Trustee for any injury suffered by it by reason of the performance of its rights, powers, duties, trusts, obligations or responsibilities hereunder, subject to any rights or recourses which the Trustee may have hereunder or under any applicable law against Holding Trust or any other person (other than a Noteholder) in connection with such injury.

The bankruptcy of the Trustee shall not terminate its rights, powers, duties, trusts, obligations or responsibilities hereunder, provided that such rights, powers, duties, trusts, obligations and responsibilities are assumed by a successor trustee appointed in accordance with the provisions of Section 11.9;

So long as any Notes remain outstanding, (i) each Noteholder hereby renounces to its right to revoke any mandate relationship created between such Holder and the Trustee hereunder and (ii) the Trustee hereby agrees that it will not revoke any such mandate relationship, except through a resignation pursuant to and in compliance with the provisions of Section 11.9.

Except as otherwise expressly provided herein or in a Special Resolution, Noteholders' Request or other resolutions, written instrument, request or direction of any of the Noteholders pursuant to this Indenture, the Trustee shall not be obliged to render any account to the Noteholders, nor return to the Noteholders any amounts which it has received in the performance of its rights, powers, duties, trusts, obligations and responsibilities hereunder, nor pay any interest to the Noteholders on such amounts.

MISCELLANEOUS

12.1 Manner of Giving Notice

Any notice required or permitted by the provisions of this Indenture to be given to a Noteholder, the Trustee, Holding Trust or the Holding Trust Trustee shall be deemed conclusively to have been made if given either by hand delivery or by prepaid first class mail addressed:

(a) in the case of the Noteholders, at their addresses shown on the register kept by the Trustee pursuant to Section 2.14;

(b) in the case of the Trustee, as follows:

Computershare Trust Company of Canada
710, 530 - 8th Avenue S.W.
Calgary, Alberta T2P 3S8

Attention: Manager, Corporate Trust
Telecopier: (403) 267-6598

(c) in the case of Holding Trust or the Holding Trust Trustee, as follows:

AltaGas Holding Trust Corp.
4300, 888 – 3rd Street S.W.
Calgary, Alberta T2P 5C5

Attention: Managing Partner
Telecopier: (403) 266-9034

provided that if there is a general discontinuance of postal service due to strike, lockout or otherwise, such notice may be given by publication twice in the Report on Business Section of the National Edition of The Globe and Mail or a similar Section of any other newspaper having national circulation in Canada; provided further that if there is no such newspaper having national circulation, then by publishing twice in the business Section or a newspaper in the city where the registers referred to in Section 2.14 are maintained. Any notice so given shall be deemed to have been given on the day of hand delivery or the day following that on which the notice was mailed or, in the case of notice being given by publication, after publishing such notice twice in the designated newspaper or newspapers. In proving notice was mailed, it shall be sufficient to prove that such notice was properly addressed, stamped and mailed. Notice to any one of several joint Holders of Notes shall be deemed effective notice to the other joint Holders. Any notice sent by mail to or left at the address of a Noteholder pursuant to this Section shall, notwithstanding the death or bankruptcy of such Noteholder, and whether or not the Trustee has notice of such death or bankruptcy, be deemed to have been fully given and shall be deemed sufficient notice to all persons having an interest in the Notes concerned.

12.2 Day not a Business Day

In the event that any day on which any action is required to be taken hereunder is not a Business Day, then such action shall be required to be taken at or before the requisite time on the next succeeding day that is a Business Day.

12.3 Execution and Effect of Restated Indenture

Subject to Article 10, a restated Indenture, setting forth the terms of this Indenture, as amended to the time of execution, may be executed at any time or from time to time by the Trustee and such restated Indenture as so executed shall thereafter be effective and may thereafter be referred to in lieu of the original Indenture as so amended; provided, however, that no such execution of a restated Indenture shall be deemed to constitute a termination of this Indenture or the trusts constituted hereunder.

12.4 Consolidations

The Trustee may prepare consolidated copies of this Indenture as it may from time to time be amended or amended and restated and may certify the same to be a true consolidated copy of this Indenture, as amended or amended and restated.

12.5 Counterparts

This Indenture may be executed in several counterparts, each of which when so executed shall be deemed to be an original and such counterparts together shall constitute one and the same instrument, which shall be sufficiently evidenced by any such original counterpart and notwithstanding their date of execution shall be deemed to be dated the date of this Indenture.

12.6 Severability

The provisions of this Indenture are severable and if any provisions are in conflict with any applicable law, the conflicting provisions shall be deemed never to have constituted a part of this Indenture and shall not affect or impair any of the remaining provisions thereof. If any provision of this Indenture shall be held invalid or unenforceable in any jurisdiction, such invalidity or unenforceability shall attach only to such provision in such jurisdiction and shall not in any manner affect or render invalid or unenforceable such provision in any other jurisdiction or any other provision of this Indenture in any jurisdiction.

12.7 Successors and Assigns

The provisions of this Indenture shall enure to the benefit of, and be binding upon, the parties and their respective successors and assigns.

12.8 Time of the Essence

Time shall be of the essence of this Indenture.

12.9 Governing Law

This Indenture and the Notes shall be interpreted and governed by, take effect and be construed exclusively in accordance with the laws of Alberta and the laws of Canada applicable therein. Any and all disputes arising under this Indenture, whether as to interpretation, performance or otherwise, shall be subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of the Province of Alberta and the parties hereto hereby irrevocably attorn, and each Noteholder shall be deemed to hereby irrevocably attorn, to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of such province.

12.10 Limitation on Liability

The parties hereto acknowledge that the Holding Trust Trustee is entering into this Indenture solely in its capacity as trustee on behalf of the Holding Trust and the obligations of the Holding Trust hereunder shall not be personally binding upon the Holding Trust Trustee or any of the unitholders of the Holding Trust and that any recourse against the Holding Trust, the Holding Trust Trustee, or any unitholder of the Holding Trust in any manner in respect of any indebtedness, obligation or liability of the Holding Trust arising hereunder or arising in connection herewith or from the matters to which this Indenture relates, if any, including without limitation claims based on negligence or otherwise tortious behaviour, shall be limited to, and satisfied only out of, the Trust Assets as defined in the Holding Declaration of Trust.

12.11 Language

The parties acknowledge that they have requested this Indenture and all documents, notices, correspondence and legal proceedings arising from this agreement or relating hereto be drawn up in English, but without prejudice to any documents, notices, correspondence and legal proceedings which may from time to time be drawn up in French. Les parties reconnaissent qu'elles ont exige que cette convention soient rediges en anglais, mais sans prejudice a tout document, tout avis, toute correspondance et toute procedure legale qui, de temps a autre, peuvent itre rediges enfrancais.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF each of the parties has caused these presents to be executed as of the date indicated on the first page of this Indenture.

SCHEDULE "A"

To the Note Indenture between AltaGas Holding Trust and Computershare Trust Company of Canada providing for the issue of Series 1 Notes, Series 2 Notes and Series 3 Notes of AltaGas Holding Trust.

FORM OF SERIES 1 NOTES

NO. ● ALTAGAS HOLDING TRUST $●
(A trust constituted under the laws of Alberta)
SERIES 1 NOTE
DUE ON DEMAND

AltaGas Holding Trust ("Holding Trust") for value received hereby promises to pay to the order of _____ ON DEMAND or on such earlier date as the principal amount hereof may become due in accordance with the provisions of the Indenture hereinafter mentioned and, in any event, on ●, the sum of in lawful money of Canada, on presentation and surrender of this Series 1 Note at the principal office of the Trustee in Calgary and such other cities as the Trustee may keep branch registers for these Series 1 Notes from time to time, and to pay interest on the principal amount hereof at the rate of 6% per annum from the date of demand hereof or from the last interest payment date to which interest has been paid or made available for payment on the outstanding Series 1 Notes, whichever is later.

This Note is one of the Series 1 Notes which may be issued from time to time in an indeterminate aggregate amount under a Note Indenture (the "Indenture") dated as of March 26, 2004, and made between Holding Trust and Computershare Trust Company of Canada, as trustee (the "Trustee"), as the same may be amended, supplemented or restated. Reference is hereby made to the Indenture for a complete description of the rights of the holders of the said Series 1 Notes, Holding Trust and the Trustee and of the terms and conditions upon which the Series 1 Notes are issued and held, all to the same effect as if the provisions of the Indenture were herein set forth, to all of which provisions the holder of this Series 1 Note, by acceptance hereof, assents. All capitalized terms used herein have the meaning ascribed thereto in the Indenture unless otherwise indicated.

The Series 1 Notes are issuable as fully registered Series 1 Notes in denominations of $10 and integral multiples of $10 and in other authorized denominations. The Series 1 Notes of any authorized denomination may be exchanged, as provided in the Indenture, for Series 1 Notes in an equal aggregate principal amount in any other authorized denomination or denominations.

This Series 1 Note ranks pari passu with all other Series 1 Notes. The payment of the principal and interest on the Series 1 Notes is subordinated to the prior payment in full of Senior Indebtedness. The Indenture does not restrict Holding Trust from incurring additional Indebtedness for borrowed money or from mortgaging, pledging or charging its properties to secure any Indebtedness.

At any time, upon at least 10 days' prior notice, Holding Trust has the right to redeem all or less than all of the Series 1 Notes upon payment in lawful money of Canada of an amount equal to the principal amount of Series 1 Notes to be redeemed plus all accrued but unpaid interest on such principal amount to the Redemption Date. If less than all of the Series 1 Notes are to be redeemed, each Holder of Series 1 Notes shall have a proportion of the Series 1 Notes held by such Holder redeemed equal to the proportion which the aggregate dollar amount of Series 1 Notes to be redeemed is to the aggregate dollar amount of all Series 1 Notes outstanding, rounded to the next closest $10 of principal amount of Series 1 Notes held by such Noteholder. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the redemption price may, as the Holding Trust Trustee in its discretion decides, be satisfied in whole or in part by the issuance of Series 3 Notes to the holder(s) of the Series 1 Notes being so redeemed.

In all cases, if taxes are required to be deducted from a payment in cash payable to a Holder, such Holder shall receive such payment less all such applicable taxes.

The Indenture contains provisions for the holding of meetings of Noteholders and rendering resolutions passed at such meetings and instruments in writing signed by the holders of 66 2/3% of the Notes of all series outstanding binding upon all Noteholders, subject to the provisions of the Indenture.

This Series 1 Note may only be transferred upon compliance with the conditions precedent in the Indenture on one of the registers kept at the above-mentioned principal offices of the Trustee and at such other place or places, if any, and/or by such other registrar or registrars, if any, as Holding Trust with the approval of the Trustee may designate, and may be exchanged at any such place, by the registered holder hereof or his executors or administrators or other legal representatives or his or their attorney duly appointed by an instrument in writing in form and execution satisfactory to the Trustee, and upon compliance with such reasonable requirements as the Trustee and/or registrar may prescribe, and such transfer shall be duly noted thereon by the Trustee or other registrar. No transfer or exchange of any Series 1

Notes shall be registered during the 15 days immediately preceding any Interest Payment Date.

This Series 1 Note shall not become obligatory for any purpose until it shall have been certified by the Trustee for the time being under the Indenture.

The holder of this Series 1 Note, by receiving and holding same, hereby accepts and agrees to be bound by the terms, and to be entitled to the benefits of this Series 1 Note and of the Indenture and confirms and ratifies the appointment of the Indenture Trustee as trustee for the holder of this Series 1 Note to the extent necessary for the purposes hereof and of the Indenture, the whole in accordance with and subject to the respective provisions thereof.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF Holding Trust has caused this Series I Note to be signed by its administrator, AltaGas Ltd.

THIS DECLARATION OF TRUST is dated as of March 26, 2004.

BETWEEN:

COMPUTERSHARE TRUST COMPANY OF CANADA, a corporation incorporated pursuant to the laws of Canada, being the first trustee (the "Initial Trustee") of the trust (the "Trust") constituted by this Declaration of Trust, and each person who after the date hereof becomes a trustee of the Trust as herein provided (each person, while a trustee of the Trust as herein provided, hereinafter called a "Trustee"),

OF THE FIRST PART

- and -

CHRISTOPHER W. NIXON (hereinafter called the "Initial Unitholder") and all persons who after the date hereof become holders of units of the Trust as herein provided.

OF THE SECOND PART

WHEREAS for the purpose of settling the Trust, the Initial Unitholder is concurrent with the execution hereof paying to the Trustee an amount of $20.00 in lawful money of Canada;

AND WHEREAS the Trust has been created for investment purposes, including investing in securities of AltaGas Holding Trust and the General Partner;

AND WHEREAS the Trustee has agreed to hold the Initial Contribution and all amounts and assets subsequently received under this Declaration of Trust or in respect of the investment of the assets of the Trust in accordance with the provisions hereinafter set forth;

AND WHEREAS the Initial Unitholder and the Trustee desire that the beneficiaries of the Trust, including the Initial Unitholder, shall be the holders of Trust Units;

AND WHEREAS the Initial Unitholder and the Trustee desire that the Trust shall qualify as a "mutual fund trust" pursuant to Subsection 132(6) of the Tax Act;

AND WHEREAS the parties hereto desire to set out the agreements, terms and conditions which shall govern their mutual and respective rights, powers and obligations with respect to the settlement and administration of the Trust;

NOW THEREFORE THIS DECLARATION OF TRUST WITNESSETH THAT in consideration of the premises and the mutual and respective covenants and agreements contained herein, the Trustee declares, covenants and agrees with the Unitholders, and the Unitholders covenant and agree with the Trustee, as follows:

1.2 References to Acts Performed by the Trust

For greater certainty, where any reference is made in this Declaration of Trust to an act to be performed by the Trust, such reference shall be construed and applied for all purposes as if it referred to an act to be performed by the Trustee on behalf of the Trust or by some other person duly authorized to do so by the Trustee or pursuant to the provisions hereof and where reference is made in this Declaration of Trust to actions, rights or obligations of the Trustee, such reference shall be construed and applied for all purposes to refer to actions, rights or obligations of the Trustee in its capacity as Trustee of the Trust, and not in its other capacities, unless the context otherwise requires.

1.3 Tax Act

Any reference herein to a particular provision of the Tax Act shall include a reference to that provision as it may be renumbered or amended from time to time. Where there are proposals for amendments to the Tax Act which have not been enacted into law or proclaimed into force on or before the date on which such proposals are to become effective, the Trustee may take such proposals into consideration and apply the provisions hereof as if such proposals had been enacted into law and proclaimed into force.

1.4 Number and Gender

In this Declaration of Trust, unless herein otherwise expressly provided or unless the context otherwise requires, words importing the singular number include the plural, and vice versa; and words importing a gender shall include the feminine, masculine and neuter genders.

1.5 Headings for Reference Only

The division of this Declaration of Trust into Articles and Sections, the provision of a table of contents and the insertion of headings are for convenience of reference only and shall not affect the construction or interpretation of this Declaration of Trust. Unless otherwise indicated, all references in this Declaration of Trust to an "Article" or "Section" followed by a number and/or a letter refer to the specified article or section of this Declaration of Trust.

1.6 Day Not a Business Day

In the event that any day on which any amount is to be determined or any action is required to be taken hereunder is not a Business Day, then such amount shall be determined or such action shall be required to be taken at or before the requisite time on the next succeeding day that is a Business Day. This Section is not applicable to Sections 5.1, 5.2, 5.3 and 5.4.

ARTICLE 2
DECLARATION OF TRUST

2.1 Establishment of Trust

The Trustee hereby acknowledges and declares that it holds the Trust Assets in trust for, and agrees to administer the Trust Assets for, the use and benefit of holders of Trust Units, their successors, permitted assigns and personal representatives, and subject to the terms and conditions hereinafter declared and set forth, such trust to constitute the Trust hereunder.

2.2 Initial Contribution

It is acknowledged that the Initial Unitholder has paid, concurrently with the execution of this Declaration of Trust, the Initial Contribution to the Trustee for the purpose of settling the Trust, and the Initial Unitholder is issued one Trust Unit in the Trust.

2.3 Name of Trust

The Trust shall be known and designated as the "AltaGas Income Trust" and, whenever practicable, lawful and convenient, the property of the Trust shall be held and the affairs of the Trust shall be conducted and transacted under that name. If the Trustee determines that the use of such name is not practicable, legal or convenient, the Trust may use such other designation or may adopt such other name as the Trustee deems appropriate, and the Trust may hold property and conduct and transact its affairs under such other designation or name. Without limiting the foregoing, the Trustee may enter into agreements and other documents for and on behalf of the Trust under the name "AltaGas Income Trust" and the Trustee hereby acknowledges and confirms that any such agreement or document so entered into shall for all be and be deemed to have been entered into by, and binding on, the Trustee, as trustee for and on behalf of the Trust.

2.4 Head Office

The head office of the Trust hereby created shall be located at 1700, 335 - 4th Avenue S.W., Calgary, Alberta T2P 0J1 or such other place or places in Canada as the Trustee may from time to time designate.

2.5 Nature of the Trust

The Trust is an unincorporated open-ended investment trust, established for the purposes specified in Section 4.1. The Trust is not, shall not be deemed to be and shall not be treated as, a general partnership, limited partnership, syndicate, association, joint venture, company, corporation or joint stock company, nor shall the Trustee or the Unitholders or any of them or any person be, or be deemed to be, treated in any way whatsoever as, or liable or responsible hereunder as, partners or joint venturers. The Trustee is not and shall not be, or be deemed to be, an agent of the Unitholders. The relationship of the Unitholders to the Trustee shall be solely that of beneficiaries of the Trust and their rights shall be limited to those conferred upon them by this Declaration of Trust.

2.6 Rights of Unitholders

The rights of each Unitholder to call for a distribution or division of assets, monies, funds, income and capital gains held, received or realized by the Trustee are limited to those contained herein. Except as provided herein, no Unitholder shall be entitled to call for any partition or division of the Trust Assets or for a distribution of any particular asset forming part of the Trust Assets or of any particular monies or funds received by the Trustee. The legal ownership of the assets of the Trust and the right to conduct the activities of the Trust are vested exclusively in the Trustee, or such other persons as the Trustee may determine, and no Unitholder has or is deemed to have any right of ownership in any of the Trust Assets, except as specifically provided herein. Except as specifically provided herein, no Unitholder or Unitholders shall be entitled to interfere with or give any direction to the Trustee with respect to the affairs of the Trust or in connection with the exercise of any powers or authorities conferred upon the Trustee under this Declaration of Trust. The Units shall be personal property and shall confer upon the holders thereof only the interest and rights specifically set forth in this Declaration of Trust. No Unitholder has or is deemed to have any right of ownership of any assets of the Trust.

2.7 Unitholders Bound

This Declaration of Trust shall be binding upon all persons who become Unitholders from time to time, including holders of Special Voting Units. By acceptance of a Unit Certificate representing any Units or, during use of the Book-Entry System for the Units, upon completion of a purchase or other acquisition of a Unit, including pursuant to the Plan, the Unitholder thereof shall be deemed to have agreed to be bound, and shall be so bound, by this Declaration of Trust.

2.8 Liability of Unitholders

(a) No Unitholder, in its capacity as such, shall incur or be subject to any liability, direct or indirect, absolute or contingent, in contract or in tort or of any other kind to any person, and no resort shall be had to, nor shall recourse or satisfaction be sought from the private property of any Unitholder for any liability whatsoever in connection with:

(i) the Trust Assets or the ownership, use, operation, acquisition or disposition thereof or exercise or enjoyment of the rights, privileges, conditions or benefits attached thereto, associated therewith or derived therefrom;

(ii) the obligations or the activities or affairs of the Trust;

(iii) any actual or alleged act or omission of the Trustee or by any other person in respect of the activities or affairs of the Trust (whether or not authorized by or pursuant to this Declaration of Trust);

(iv) any act or omission of the Trustee or any other person in the performance or exercise, or purported or attempted performance or exercise, of any obligation, power, discretion or authority conferred upon the Trustee or such other person in respect of the activities or affairs of the Trust (whether or not authorized by or pursuant to this Declaration of Trust);

(v) any transaction entered into by the Trustee or by any other person in respect of the activities or affairs of the Trust (whether or not authorized by or pursuant to this Declaration of Trust); or

(vi) any taxes, levies, imposts or charges or fines, penalties or interest in respect thereof payable by the Trust or by the Trustee or by any other person on behalf of or in connection with the activities or affairs of the Trust, (collectively, "Trust Liabilities").

(b) No Unitholder, in its capacity as such, shall be liable to indemnify the Trustee or any other person with respect to any Trust Liabilities.

(c) To the extent that, notwithstanding the provisions of this Section 2.8, any Unitholder, in its capacity as such, may be determined by a judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction to be subject to or liable in respect of any Trust Liabilities, such judgment and any writ of execution or similar process in respect thereof, shall be enforceable only against, and shall be satisfied only out of, the Unitholder's share of the Trust Assets represented by its Trust Units.

2.9 Contractual Obligations of Trust

In respect of any obligations or liabilities being incurred by the Trust, or the Trustee, the Administrator or the General Partner on behalf of the Trust, the Trustee, the Administrator, the General Partner and the Trust shall make all reasonable efforts to include as a specific term of such obligations or liabilities a contractual provision substantially to the following effect:

> The parties hereto acknowledge that [the Trustee] [the Administrator] [the General Partner] is entering into this agreement solely [in its capacity as Trustee] [on behalf] of the Trust and the obligations of the Trust hereunder shall not be personally binding upon [the Trustee] [the Administrator] [the General Partner] or any of the Unitholders of the Trust and that any recourse against the Trust [, the Trustee] [, the Administrator] [, the General Partner] or any Unitholder in any manner in respect of any indebtedness, obligation or liability arising hereunder or arising in connection herewith or from the matters to which this agreement relates, including without limitation claims based on negligence or otherwise tortious behaviour, shall be limited to, and satisfied only out of, the Trust Assets as defined in the Declaration of Trust dated as of March 26, 2004, as from time to time amended, supplemented or restated.

The omission of such statement from any such document or instrument shall not render the Trustee, the Administrator, the General Partner or the Unitholders liable to any person, nor shall the Trustee, the Administrator, the General Partner or the Unitholders be liable for such omission. If, notwithstanding this provision, the Trustee, the Administrator, the General Partner or any Unitholder shall be held liable to any person by reason of the omission of such statement from any such agreement, undertaking or obligation such Trustee, the Administrator, the General Partner or Unitholder shall be entitled to indemnity and reimbursement out of the Trust Assets to the full extent of such liability.

2.10 Conduct of Operations

The activities of the Trust will be conducted, upon the advice of counsel, in such a way and in such jurisdictions as to avoid as far as possible any material risk of liability to the Unitholders for claims against the Trust including by obtaining appropriate insurance, where available.

ARTICLE 3
ISSUE AND SALE OF UNITS

3.1 Nature of Units

(a) The beneficial interests in the Trust shall be divided into interests of two classes, described and designated as "Trust Units" and "Special Voting Units", respectively, which shall be entitled to the rights and subject to the limitations, restrictions and conditions set out herein, and the interest of each Unitholder shall be determined by the number of Trust Units and/or Special Voting Units registered in the name of the Unitholder.

(b) Subject to Section 6.5, each Trust Unit represents an equal undivided beneficial interest in any distribution from the Trust (whether of Income of the Trust, Net Realized Capital Gains or other amounts) and in any net assets of the Trust in the event of termination or winding-up of the Trust. All Trust Units shall rank among themselves equally and rateably without discrimination, preference or priority, whatever may be the actual date or terms of issue thereof. Each Trust Unit shall entitle the holder of record thereof to one vote at all meetings of Unitholders or in respect of any written resolution of Unitholders.

(c) No Special Voting Unit shall be entitled to any interest or share in the distributions or net assets of the Trust. Special Voting Units may be issued in series and shall only be issued in connection with or in relation to Exchangeable Securities on such terms and conditions as may be determined by the Trustee. A Special Voting Unit shall be issued in conjunction with Exchangeable Securities issued. Each Special Voting Unit shall entitle the holder(s) of record thereof to a number of votes at all meetings of Unitholders or in respect of any written resolution of Unitholders equal to the number of Trust Units into which the Exchangeable Securities to which such Special Voting Unit relates are, directly or indirectly, exchangeable or convertible (other than in respect of Exchangeable Securities which have been so exchanged or converted and are held by the Trust or an affiliate thereof). For greater certainty, holders of Special Voting Units shall not be entitled to any distributions of any nature whatsoever from the Trust or have any beneficial interests in any assets of the Trust on termination or winding-up of the Trust.

(d) Concurrently with the issuance of any Exchangeable Securities and associated Special Voting Units, the Trust shall enter into such agreements, including voting and exchange trust agreements and exchangeable security support agreements, as may be necessary or desirable to properly provide for the terms of the Exchangeable Securities, including to provide for voting of such Special Voting Units.

3.2 Authorized Number of Units

The aggregate number of Trust Units and Special Voting Units which is authorized and may be issued hereunder is unlimited.

3.3 Issue of Units

(a) Units shall be issued pursuant to and in accordance with the Plan.

(b) In addition, Units may be issued by the Trust at the times, to the persons, for the consideration and on the terms and conditions that the Trustee determines including pursuant to any unitholder rights plan, distribution reinvestment plan or any incentive option or other compensation plan established by the Trust, and, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the Trustee may authorize the Trust to pay a reasonable commission to any person in consideration of such person purchasing or agreeing to purchase Units from the Trust or from any other person or procuring or agreeing to procure purchasers for Units. Without limitation of the foregoing, the Trustee may create and issue rights, warrants (including so-called "special warrants" or "subscription receipts" which may be exercisable for no additional consideration) or options to subscribe for Units which rights, warrants or options or other convertible securities may be exercisable at such subscription price or prices and at such time or times as the Trustee may determine. The rights, warrants or options so created may be issued for such consideration or for no consideration, all as the Trustee may determine. A right, warrant or option shall not be a Unit and the holder thereof shall not be Unitholder.

(c) Units shall only be issued as and when fully paid in money, property, including indebtedness, or past services, and are not to be subject to future calls or assessments, except that Units to be issued under an offering may be issued for a consideration payable in instalments and the Trust may take a security interest over such Units for unpaid instalments.

3.4 No Fractional Units

Fractions of Units shall not be issued, except pursuant to distributions of additional Units to all Unitholders pursuant to Section 5.7. Fractions of Units will not be entitled to vote at meetings of Unitholders.

3.5 Re-Purchase of Initial Trust Unit by Trust

Immediately after the Effective Date, the Trust shall purchase the initial Trust Unit from the Initial Unitholder, and the Initial Unitholder shall sell the initial Trust Unit to the Trust, for a purchase price of $20.00 and, upon the completion of such purchase and sale, the initial Trust Unit shall be cancelled and shall no longer be outstanding for any of the purposes of this Declaration of Trust.

3.6 Consolidation of Trust Units

Immediately after any pro rata distribution of additional Trust Units to all holders of Trust Units pursuant to Section 5.7, the number of the outstanding Trust Units will automatically be consolidated such that each such holder will hold after the consolidation the same number of Trust Units as such holder held before the distribution of additional Trust Units and each Trust Unit Certificate representing a number of Trust Units prior to the distribution of additional Trust Units is deemed to represent the same number of Trust Units after the distribution of additional Trust Units and the consolidation. Notwithstanding the foregoing, where tax is required to be withheld in respect of a Unitholder's share of the distribution, the Trust shall withhold from the cash portion of such distribution, if any, or the Unitholder shall make a cash payment to the Trust, of an amount equal to the amount of tax required to be remitted to the appropriate taxation authority by the Trust, or, if such withholding cannot be made by the Trust or such payment is not made by the Unitholder: (a) the consolidation of the Trust Units held by such Unitholder will result in such Unitholder holding that number of Trust Units equal to the number of Trust Units held by such Unitholder prior to the distribution minus the number of Trust Units withheld by the Trust on account of withholding taxes payable by the Unitholder in respect of the distribution; and (b) the consolidation shall not apply to any Trust Units so withheld. Any Trust Units so withheld shall either be delivered to the appropriate taxation authority or sold, in which case the net proceeds shall be remitted to the appropriate taxation authority. Such Unitholder will be required to surrender the Trust Unit Certificates, if any, representing such Unitholder's original Trust Units, in exchange for a Trust Unit Certificate representing such Unitholder's post-consolidation Trust Units other than the withheld Trust Units.

3.7 No Pre-Emptive Rights

No person shall be entitled, as a matter of right, to subscribe for or purchase any Unit.

ARTICLE 4
INVESTMENTS OF TRUST

4.1 Purpose of the Trust

The Trust is an investment trust and its operations and activities shall be restricted to:

(a) acquiring, investing in, holding, transferring, disposing of and otherwise dealing with securities of whatever nature or kind of, or issued by, Holding Trust, the General Partner, AltaGas, or any associate or affiliate of any thereof, or of, or issued by, any other corporation, partnership, trust or other person involved, directly or indirectly, in the business of, or the ownership, lease or operation of assets or property in connection with, gathering, processing, transporting, extracting, buying, storing or selling petroleum, natural gas, natural gas liquids or other related products, electricity or other forms of energy and related businesses and such other investments as the Trustee may determine;

(b) acquiring, holding, maintaining, improving, leasing or managing any real property (or interest in real property) that is capital property of the Trust for purposes of the Tax Act;

(c) borrowing funds and issuing debt securities for the purposes, directly or indirectly, set forth in Sections 4.1(a) and 4.1(b) and entering into hedging arrangements in relation thereto;

(d) temporarily holding cash and other short term investments in connection with and for the purposes of the Trust's activities, including paying administration and trust expenses, paying any amounts required in connection with the redemption of Trust Units and making distributions to holders of Trust Units;

(e) issuing Units and other securities of the Trust (including Exchangeable Securities, or warrants, options, subscription receipts or other rights to acquire Units or other securities of the Trust), for the purposes of:

(i) obtaining funds to conduct the activities described above, including raising funds for further acquisitions;

(ii) repaying any indebtedness or borrowings of the Trust;

(iii) establishing and implementing unitholder rights plans, distribution reinvestment plans, Trust Unit purchase plans, incentive option plans or other compensation plans, if any, established by the Trust; and

(iv) making non-cash distributions to holders of Trust Units as contemplated by this Declaration of Trust including in specie redemptions and distributions pursuant to distribution reinvestment plans, if any, established by the Trust;

(f) guaranteeing the obligations of its affiliates pursuant to any good faith debt for borrowed money or any other obligation incurred by such entity in good faith for the purpose of carrying on its business, and pledging securities and other property owned by the Trust as security for any obligations of the Trust, including obligations under any such guarantee;

(g) granting security in any form, over any or all of the Trust Assets to secure any or all of the obligations of the Trust;

(h) repurchasing or redeeming securities of the Trust, including Units, subject to the provisions of this Declaration of Trust and applicable law;

(i) carrying out any of the transactions, and entering into and performing any of the obligations of the Trust under any agreements contemplated by this Declaration of Trust;

(j) engaging in all activities ancillary or incidental to any of those activities set forth in paragraphs (a) through (i) above; and

(k) undertaking such other activities or taking such actions including investing in securities as shall be approved by the Trustee from time to time, provided that the Trust shall not, in any event, undertake any activity, take any action, or make any investment which would result in the Trust not being considered a "unit trust" or a "mutual fund trust" for purposes of the Tax Act or the Units being considered "foreign property" for the purposes of the Tax Act or the Trust itself being liable for any tax under Part XI of the Tax Act.

4.2 Other Investments

To the extent that any monies or other property received by the Trust or the Trustee are not to be immediately used by the Trustee for the purpose of making distributions under Article 5, the Trustee is hereby authorized and, where prudent to do so, shall invest such monies in:

(a) obligations issued or guaranteed by the Government of Canada or a province of Canada or any agency or instrumentality thereof;

(b) short term commercial paper obligations of a corporation whose short term commercial paper is rated R-1 or higher by Dominion Bond Rating Service Limited or A-1 or higher by Standard & Poor's, division of The McGraw-Hill Companies, Inc.; or

(c) term deposits, interest-bearing accounts, certificates of deposit or banker's acceptances of or guaranteed by one of the six largest (in terms of total assets) Canadian chartered banks.

For the purpose hereof, "short term" shall mean having a date of maturity or call for payment not more than 60 days from the date on which the investment is made.

The Trustee shall not purchase or authorize the purchase of any investment which is "foreign property" under Subsection 206(1) of the Tax Act if such purchase would result in the Trust exceeding the foreign property limitations contained in the Tax Act.

DISTRIBUTIONS

5.1 Computation of Cash Flow of the Trust

The Cash Flow of the Trust, for, or in respect of, any Distribution Period, shall be equal to the sum of:

(a) all cash amounts which are received by the Trust for, or in respect of, the Distribution Period, including, without limitation, interest, dividends, distributions, proceeds from the disposition of securities, returns of capital and repayments of indebtedness; and

(b) the proceeds of any issuance of Units or any other securities of the Trust, net of the expenses of distribution, and, if applicable, the use of proceeds of any such issuance for the intended purpose;

less the sum of:

(c) all amounts which relate to the redemption of Trust Units and which have become payable in cash by the Trust in such Distribution Period and any expenses of the Trust in such Distribution Period; and

(d) any other amounts (including taxes) required by law or hereunder to be deducted, withheld or paid by or in respect of the Trust in such Distribution Period.

5.2 Computation of Income and Net Realized Capital Gains

(a) The Income of the Trust for any taxation year of the Trust shall be the net income for the year determined pursuant to the provisions of the Tax Act (other than Subsection 104(6) and paragraph 82(1)(b)) having regard to the provisions thereof which relate to the calculation of income of a trust, and taking into account such adjustments thereto as are determined by the Trustee in respect of dividends received from taxable Canadian corporations, amounts paid or payable by the Trust to holders of Trust Units and such other amounts as may be determined in the discretion of the Trustee; provided, however, that capital gains and capital losses shall be excluded from the computation of net income.

(b) The "Net Realized Capital Gains" of the Trust for any taxation year of the Trust shall be determined as the amount, if any, by which the aggregate of the capital gains of the Trust for the year exceeds (i) the aggregate of the capital losses of the Trust for the year, (ii) any capital gains which are realized by the Trust as a result of a redemption of Trust Units pursuant to Article 6, and (iii) the amount determined by the Trustee in respect of any net capital losses for prior taxation years which the Trust is permitted by the Tax Act to deduct in computing the taxable income of the Trust for the year.

5.3 Distributions of Cash Flow of the Trust

The Trustee shall, subject to any limitations contained in any Offering Document, on or before each Distribution Record Date on or after May 1, 2004, declare payable to the holders of Trust Units on such Distribution Record Date all or any part of the Cash Flow of the Trust for the Distribution Period which includes such Distribution Record Date. The proportionate share for each Trust Unit of the amount of such Cash Flow of the Trust (or portion thereof declared payable) shall be determined by dividing such amount by the number of issued and outstanding Trust Units on such Distribution Record Date. The share of such Cash Flow of the Trust (or portion thereof declared payable) attributable to each holder of Trust Units shall be an amount equal to the proportionate share for each Trust Unit of the amount of such Cash Flow of the Trust (or portion thereof declared payable) multiplied by the number of Trust Units owned of record by each such holder of Trust Units on such Distribution Record Date. Subject to Sections 5.7 and 5.8, Cash Flow of the Trust which has been declared to be payable to holders of Trust Units in respect of a Distribution Period shall be paid in cash on the Distribution Payment Date in respect of such Distribution Period.

5.4 Other Distributions

(a) In addition to the distributions which are made payable to holders of Trust Units pursuant to Section 5.3, the Trustee may declare to be payable and make distributions to holders of Trust Units, from time to time, out of Income of the Trust, Net Realized Capital Gains, the capital of the Trust or otherwise, in any year, in such amount or amounts, and on such dates as the Trustee may determine.

(b) Having regard to the present intention of the Trustee to allocate, distribute and make payable to holders of Trust Units all of the Income of the Trust, Net Realized Capital Gains and any other applicable amounts so that the Trust will not have any liability for tax under Part I of the Tax Act in any taxation year, the following amounts shall, without any further actions on the part of the Trustee, be due and payable to holders of Trust Units of record on December 31 in each such year:

(i) an amount equal to the amount, if any, by which the Income of the Trust for such year exceeds the aggregate of the portions, if any, of each distribution made by the Trust pursuant to Section 5.3 and Section 5.4(a) which have been determined by the Trustee, pursuant to Section 5.5, to have been payable by the Trust out of Income of the Trust for such year; and

(ii) an amount equal to the amount, if any, by which the Net Realized Capital Gains of the Trust for such year exceeds the aggregate of the portions, if any, of each distribution made by the Trust pursuant to Section 5.3 and Section 5.4(a) which have been determined by the Trustee, pursuant to Section 5.5, to have been payable by the Trust out of Net Realized Capital Gains for such year.

(c) The proportionate share of each Trust Unit of the amount of any distribution made pursuant to either or both of Sections 5.4(a) and (b) shall be determined by dividing such amount by the number of issued and outstanding Trust Units on the applicable record date in respect of a distribution pursuant to Section 5.4(a) and on December 31 in respect of a distribution pursuant to Section 5.4(b). Each holder of Trust Units' share of the amount of any such distribution shall be an amount equal to the proportionate share of each Trust Unit of such amount multiplied by the number of Trust Units owned of record by each such holder of Trust Units on such applicable record date or December 31 in the year of such distribution, as the case may be. Subject to Section 5.7, amounts which are payable to holders of Trust Units pursuant to either Section 5.4(a) or (b) shall be paid in cash on the Distribution Payment Date which immediately follows the applicable record date in respect of a distribution pursuant to Section 5.4(a) or December 31 in the applicable year in respect of a distribution pursuant to Section 5.4(b).

5.5 Character of Distributions and Designations

In accordance with and to the extent permitted by the Tax Act, the Trustee in each year shall make designations in respect of the amounts payable to holders of Trust Units for such amounts that the Trustee considers to be reasonable in all of the circumstances, including, without limitation, designations relating to taxable dividends received by the Trust in the year on shares of taxable Canadian corporations (or designated in respect of the Trust where the Trust is a beneficiary of another trust), net capital gains realized by the Trust in the year (or designated in respect of the Trust where the Trust is a beneficiary of another trust) and foreign source income of the Trust for the year, as well as elect under Subsections 104(13.1) and/or (13.2) of the Tax Act that income be taxed to the Trust, rather than to such Unitholders. Distributions payable to holders of Trust Units pursuant to this Article 5 shall be deemed to be distributions of Income of the Trust, Net Realized Capital Gains, trust capital or other items in such amounts as the Trustee shall, in its absolute discretion, determine. For greater certainty, it is hereby declared that any distribution of Net Realized Capital Gains shall include the non-taxable portion of the capital gains of the Trust which are encompassed in such distribution. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing and in addition to the distributions which are made payable to holders of Trust Units, the Trustee may designate any capital gain realized by the Trust as a result of the redemption of Units pursuant to Section 6.5, and any income attributable to interest accrued on Holding Trust Notes distributed, to the redeeming Unitholders in accordance with that Section 6.5.

5.6 Enforceability of Right to Receive Distributions

For greater certainty, it is hereby declared that each holder of Trust Units shall have the legal right to enforce payment of any amount payable to such Unitholder as a result of any distribution, which are payable to such Unitholder pursuant to this Article 5.

5.7 Method of Payment of Distributions

(a) Where the Trustee determines that the Trust does not have available cash in an amount sufficient to make payment of the full amount of any distribution which has been declared to be payable pursuant to this Article 5 on the due date for such payment, the payment may, at the option of the Trustee, include the issuance of additional Trust Units, or fractions of Trust Units, if necessary, having a value equal to the difference between the amount of such distribution and the amount of cash which has been determined by the Trustee to be available for the payment of such distribution.

(b) The value of each Trust Unit which is issued pursuant to Section 5.7(a) shall be the closing market price (as defined in Section 6.3) of the Trust Units on the applicable Distribution Record Date in respect of a distribution pursuant to Section 5.3, on the applicable Distribution Record Date in respect of a distribution under Section 5.4(a) or December 31 in respect of a distribution under Section 5.4(b), provided that if the particular date is not a Business Day then the closing market price shall be determined on the last Business Day which precedes such particular date.

5.8 Withholding Taxes

The Trustee may deduct or withhold from distributions payable to any holder of Trust Units all amounts required by law to be withheld from such distribution. In addition, Non-Resident holders of Trust Units will be required to pay all withholding taxes payable in respect of any distributions in the form of additional Trust Units under Section 5.7.

5.9 Definitions

Unless otherwise specified or the context otherwise requires, any term in this Article 5 which is defined in the Tax Act shall have for the purposes of this Article 5 the meaning that it has in the Tax Act.

5.10 Distribution Reinvestment and Unit Purchase Plan

Subject to any required regulatory approvals (and any Unitholder approval imposed by regulatory requirements), the Trustee may, as directed by the General Partner, establish one or more Unitholder rights plans, distribution reinvestment plans, Trust Unit purchase plans, Trust Unit option plans, incentive option plans or other compensation plans at any time and from time to time.

ARTICLE 6
REDEMPTION OF TRUST UNITS

6.1 Right of Redemption

Each holder of Trust Units shall be entitled to require the Trust to redeem at any time or from time to time at the demand of such holder of Trust Units all or any part of the Trust Units registered in the name of such holder of Trust Units at the prices determined and payable in accordance with the conditions hereinafter provided.

6.2 Exercise of Redemption Right

(a) To exercise a right to require redemption of Trust Units under this Article 6, a duly completed and properly executed notice requesting the Trust to redeem Trust Units, in a form reasonably acceptable to the Trustee, specifying the number of Trust Units to be so redeemed, shall be sent by a holder of Trust Units to the Trust at the head office of the Trust and to CDS. No form or manner of completion or execution shall be sufficient unless the same is in all respects satisfactory to the Trustee and CDS and is accompanied by any further evidence that the Trustee or CDS may reasonably require with respect to the identity, capacity or authority of the person giving such notice.

(b) Upon receipt by the Trust of the notice to redeem Trust Units, the holder of Trust Units shall thereafter cease to have any rights with respect to the Trust Units tendered for redemption (other than to receive the redemption payment therefor unless the redemption payment is not made as provided for herein) including the right to receive any distributions thereon which are declared payable to the holders of Trust Units of record on a date which is subsequent to the day of receipt by the Trust of such notice. Trust Units shall be considered to be tendered for redemption on the date that the Trust and CDS have, to their satisfaction, received the notice and other required documents or evidence as aforesaid.

6.3 Cash Redemption

(a) Subject to Section 6.4, upon receipt by the Trust of the notice to redeem Trust Units in accordance with Section 6.2, the holder of the Trust Units tendered for redemption shall be entitled to receive a price per Trust Unit (hereinafter called the "Redemption Price") equal to the lesser of:

(i) 90% of the "market price" per Trust Unit on the principal stock exchange on which the Trust Units are listed (or, if the Trust Units are not listed on any such exchange, on the principal market on which the Trust Units are quoted for trading) during the period of the last 10 trading days immediately prior to the date on which the Trust Units were tendered for redemption; and

(ii) 100% of the "closing market price" on the principal stock exchange on which the Trust Units are listed (or, if the Trust Units are not listed on any such exchange, on the principal market on which the Trust Units are quoted for trading) on the date that the Trust Units were tendered for redemption.

For the purposes of Section 6.3(a)(i), the "market price" shall be an amount equal to the simple average of the closing price of the Trust Units for each of the trading days on which there was a closing price; provided that if the applicable exchange or market does not provide a closing price but only provides the highest and lowest prices of the Trust Units traded on a particular day, the market price shall be an amount equal to the simple average of the highest and lowest prices for that trading day if there was a trade; and provided further that if there was trading on the applicable exchange or market for fewer than five of the ten trading days, the market price shall be the simple average of the following prices established for each of the ten trading days: the average of the bid and ask prices for each day on which there was no trading; the weighted average trading price of the Trust Units for each day that there was trading if the exchange or market provides a weighted average trading price; and the average of the highest and lowest prices of the Trust Units for each day that there was trading, if the market provides only the highest and lowest prices of Trust Units traded on a particular day.

For the purposes of Section 6.3(a)(ii), the "closing market price" shall be: an amount equal to the closing price of the Trust Units if there was a trade on the date on which the Trust Units were tendered for redemption and the exchange or market provides a closing price; an amount equal to the average of the highest and lowest prices of Trust Units on the date on which the Trust Units were tendered for redemption if there was trading and the exchange or other market provides only the highest and lowest trading prices of Trust Units traded on a particular day; or the average of the last bid and ask prices on the date if there was no trading on the date.

(b) Subject to Sections 6.4 and 6.5, the Redemption Price payable in respect of the Trust Units surrendered for redemption during any calendar month shall be satisfied by way of cash payment within five Business Days after the end of the calendar month in which the Trust Units were tendered for redemption. Payments made by the Trust of the Redemption Price are conclusively deemed to have been made upon the mailing of a cheque in a postage prepaid envelope addressed to the former holder of Trust Units unless such cheque is dishonoured upon presentment. Upon such payment, the Trust shall be discharged from all liability to the former holders of Trust Units in respect of the Trust Units so redeemed.

6.4 No Cash Redemption in Certain Circumstances

Section 6.3(b) shall not be applicable to Trust Units tendered for redemption by a holder of Trust Units, if:

(a) the total amount payable by the Trust pursuant to Section 6.3 in respect of such Trust Units and all other Trust Units tendered for redemption in the same calendar month exceeds $50,000 (the "Monthly Limit"); provided that the Trustee may, in its sole discretion, waive such limitation in respect of all Trust Units tendered for redemption in any calendar month. Trust Units tendered for redemption in any calendar month in which the total amount payable by the Trust pursuant to Section 6.3(b) exceeds the Monthly Limit will be redeemed for cash pursuant to Section 6.3(b) and, unless any applicable regulatory approvals are required, by a distribution in specie under Section 6.5, on a pro rata basis;

(b) at the time such Trust Units are tendered for redemption, the outstanding Trust Units are not listed for trading on the Toronto Stock Exchange or traded or quoted on any stock exchange or market which the Trustee considers, in its sole opinion, provides representative fair market value prices for the Trust Units;

(c) the normal trading of the Trust Units is suspended or halted on any stock exchange on which the Trust Units are listed for trading or, if not so listed, on any market on which the Trust Units are quoted for trading, on the date that such Trust Units tendered for redemption were tendered to the Trust for redemption or for more than five trading days during the 10-day trading period prior to the date on which such Trust Units were tendered for redemption; or

(d) the redemption of Trust Units will result in the delisting of the Trust Units on the principal stock exchange on which the Trust Units are listed.

6.5 In Specie Redemption

If, pursuant to Section 6.4, Section 6.3(b) is not applicable to Trust Units tendered for redemption by a holder of Trust Units, then such holder of Trust Units shall, instead of the Redemption Price per Trust Unit specified in Section 6.3, be entitled to receive a price per Trust Unit (the "in specie Redemption Price") equal to the fair market value of a Trust Unit as determined by the Trustee in its sole discretion, and the in specie Redemption Price shall, subject to all necessary regulatory approvals, be paid and satisfied by way of a distribution in specie of Trust Assets which may include Series 3 Holding Trust Notes or other assets held by the Trust (other than Holding Trust Units), as determined in the sole discretion of the Trustee. In the event of distributions of Holding Trust Notes, each Holding Trust Note so distributed to the redeeming holder of Trust Units shall be in the principal amount of $10. No fractional Holding Trust Notes shall be distributed and where the number of Holding Trust Notes to be received upon redemption by a holder of Trust Units would otherwise include a fraction, that number shall be rounded down to the next lowest whole number.

The in specie Redemption Price payable in respect of the Trust Units tendered for redemption during any calendar month shall be paid by the transfer, to or to the order of the holder of Trust Units who exercised the right of redemption, within five Business Days after the end of the calendar month in which the Trust Units were tendered for redemption, of Trust Assets determined as aforesaid. In respect of any Trust Assets being transferred in payment of the in specie Redemption Price, the Trust shall be entitled to all interest paid or accrued and unpaid in respect of such Trust Assets (including Holding Trust Notes and any other instruments on which interest is accruing), to and including the date of transfer thereof. Payments by the Trust of the in specie Redemption Price are conclusively deemed to have been made upon the mailing of the documents evidencing ownership of the property so distributed by registered mail in a postage prepaid envelope addressed to the former holder of Trust Units. Upon such payment, the Trust shall be discharged from all liability to the former holder of Trust Units in respect of Trust Units so redeemed.

6.6 Purchase for Cancellation

The Trust may from time to time purchase for cancellation some or all of the Units (or other securities of the Trust which may be issued and outstanding from time to time) in the market, by private agreement or upon any recognized stock exchange on which such Units are traded or pursuant to tenders received by the Trust upon request for tenders addressed to all holders of record of Units, provided in each case that the Trustee has determined that such purchases are in the best interests of the Trust.

6.7 Cancellation of all Redeemed Trust Units

All Trust Units which are redeemed or purchased for cancellation under this Article 6 shall be cancelled and such Trust Units shall no longer be outstanding and shall not be reissued.

6.8 Withholdings by the Trustee

The Trustee may deduct or withhold from all payments or other distributions payable to any Unitholder pursuant to this Article 6 all amounts required by applicable law to be so withheld.

6.9 Retraction of Special Voting Units

At such time as no Exchangeable Securities (other than Exchangeable Securities owned by the Trust and its affiliates) relating to a Special Voting Unit are outstanding, and no shares of stock, debt, options or other securities or agreements which could give rise to the issuance of any such Exchangeable Securities to any person (other than the Trust and its affiliates) exist, the applicable Special Voting Unit shall automatically be redeemed by the Trust and cancelled. Upon any such redemption or other purchase or acquisition of a Special Voting Unit by the Trust, such Special Voting Unit shall be deemed retired and cancelled and may not be reissued.

THE TRUSTEE

7.1 Trustee's Term of Office

Subject to Sections 7.2 and 7.4, the Initial Trustee is hereby appointed as the Trustee of the Trust for an initial term of office which shall expire at the conclusion of the 3rd annual meeting of Unitholders. A decision to reappoint, or to appoint a successor to, the Trustee shall be made at the 3rd annual meeting of Unitholders and thereafter at each 3rd annual meeting of Unitholders following the meeting at which any reappointment or appointment is made. Any such reappointment or appointment shall be made either by an Ordinary Resolution at such meeting of Unitholders or in the manner set out in Section 7.5. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if the Trustee is not reappointed at the meeting of Unitholders held immediately before the term of office of the Trustee expires and if no successor to the Trustee is appointed at that meeting, the Trustee shall continue to hold the office of trustee under this Declaration of Trust until a successor has been appointed under Section 7.5.

7.2 Qualifications of Trustee

The Trustee and any successor to the Trustee or any new trustee appointed under this Article 7 shall be a corporation incorporated under the laws of Canada or of a province thereof and shall be a resident of Canada for the purposes of the Tax Act. Such corporation must at all times when it is the Trustee be registered under the laws of Alberta to carry on the business of a trust corporation and must have undertaken in writing to discharge all of the obligations and responsibilities of the Trustee under this Declaration of Trust.

7.3 Resignation of Trustee

The Trustee may resign from the office of trustee hereunder by giving to the Administrator not less than 60 days' written notice, but no such resignation shall be effective until:

(a) a new trustee has been appointed in the place of the Trustee in the manner set out in Section 7.5; and

(b) the new trustee has accepted such appointment and has legally and validly assumed all obligations of the Trustee related hereto.

7.4 Removal of Trustee

The Trustee may be removed at any time with or without cause by an Ordinary Resolution at a meeting of Unitholders duly called for that purpose. The Trustee may also be removed at any time by the Administrator or the General Partner by notice in writing to the Trustee if, at any time:

(a) the Trustee no longer satisfies all the requirements of Section 7.2;

(b) the Trustee shall be declared bankrupt or insolvent or shall enter into liquidation, whether compulsory or voluntary, to wind-up its affairs;

(c) the assets of the Trustee, or a substantial part thereof, shall otherwise become subject to seizure or confiscation;

(d) the Trustee shall otherwise become incapable of performing its responsibilities under this Declaration of Trust; or

(e) as a result of a material increase in the fees charged by the Trustee.

No notice to remove the Trustee under this Section 7.4 shall become effective until:

(a) the removal of the Trustee has been approved by an Ordinary Resolution at a meeting of Unitholders duly called for that purpose;

(b) a new trustee has been appointed in the place of the Trustee in the manner set out in Section 7.5; and

(c) the new trustee has accepted such appointment and has legally and validly assumed all obligations of the Trustee related hereto.

7.5 Appointment of Successor to Trustee

A successor to a Trustee which has been removed under Section 7.4 or which has given notice of resignation under Section 7.3 shall be appointed by an Ordinary Resolution passed at a meeting of Unitholders duly called for that purpose, provided the successor meets the requirements of Section 7.2.

Subject to Section 7.2, the General Partner may appoint a successor to any Trustee which has been removed under Section 7.4, which has given a notice of resignation under Section 7.3, or which has not been reappointed under Section 7.1, if the Unitholders fail to do so at the relevant meeting.

No appointment of any successor trustee shall be effective until such successor trustee has accepted such appointment and has legally and validly assumed all of the obligations of the Trustee related hereto.

7.6 Failure to Appoint Successor

In the event that no successor to a Trustee which has delivered a notice of resignation in accordance with Section 7.3 or which has received notice of removal in accordance with Section 7.4 has accepted an appointment within 60 days after the receipt by the General Partner of the notice of resignation or 60 days after the receipt by the Trustee of the notice of removal, the Trustee, the General Partner or any Unitholder may apply to a court of competent jurisdiction for the appointment of a successor to the Trustee. The appointment of such successor by such court shall not require the approval of Unitholders.

7.7 Consequences of Resignation or Removal

Upon the resignation or removal of the Trustee, or the Trustee otherwise ceasing to be the Trustee, it shall:

(a) cease to have rights, privileges, powers and authorities of the Trustee hereunder;

(a) execute and deliver such documents as the Administrator shall reasonably require for the conveyance of any Trust Assets held in the Trustee's name; and

(b) account to the Administrator, as the Administrator may require, for all property which the Trustee holds as Trustee.

Upon the Trustee ceasing to hold office as such hereunder, the Trustee shall cease to be a party (as Trustee) to this Declaration of Trust; provided, however, that such Trustee shall continue to be entitled to be paid any amounts owing by the Trust to the Trustee and to the benefits of the indemnity provided in Section 8.8 which accrued prior to its vacation of the office of Trustee.

7.8 Vacancies

No vacancy of the office of the Trustee shall operate to annul this Declaration of Trust or affect the continuity of the Trust.

7.9 Successor and Additional Trustee

The rights of the Trustee to control and exclusively administer the Trust and to have the title to the Trust Assets and all other rights of the Trustee at law shall vest automatically in any person who may hereafter become the Trustee upon its due appointment and qualification without any further act and it shall thereupon have all the rights, privileges, powers, obligations and immunities of the Trustee hereunder. Such rights shall vest in the Trustee whether or not conveyancing or transfer documents have been executed and delivered pursuant to Section 7.7 or otherwise.

7.10 Compensation and Other Remuneration

The Trustee shall be paid by the Trust such fees as may be agreed upon in writing from time to time by the General Partner and the Trustee, and if any such fees are not paid by the Trust within 30 days of the date of any invoice in respect thereof, the Trustee shall be entitled to have such fees paid out of the Trust Assets. As part of the expenses of the Trust, the Trustee may pay or cause to be paid all reasonable fees, costs and expenses incurred in connection with the administration and management of the Trust or in connection with the discharge of any of the duties herein, including, without limitation, fees, costs and expenses of the Administrator, Auditors, accountants, lawyers, appraisers and other agents, consultants, and professional advisors employed by or on behalf of the Trust and the cost of reporting or giving notices to Unitholders, including remuneration of the Trustee for services rendered to the Trust in any other capacity (including as Transfer Agent or Depository). All costs, charges and expenses properly incurred by the Trustee on behalf of the Trust shall be payable out of the Trust Assets. All costs, charges and expenses (including any amounts payable to the Trustee under Sections 8.8) properly incurred by the Trustee on behalf of the Trust shall be payable by the Trust, and if any such costs, charges and expenses are not paid by the Trust within 30 days of the date of any invoice in respect thereof, the Trustee shall be entitled to have such costs, charges and expenses paid out of the Trust Assets. The Trustee shall have a lien on the Trust Assets (which shall have priority over the interests of the Unitholders pursuant hereto) to enforce payment of the fees, costs, expenses and other amounts payable or reimbursable by the Trust to the Trustee.

7.11 Validity of Acts

Any act of a Trustee is valid notwithstanding any irregularity in the appointment of the Trustee or a defect in the qualifications of the Trustee.

ARTICLE 8
CONCERNING THE TRUSTEE

8.1 Powers of the Trustee

(a) The Trustee, subject to the specific limitations contained in this Declaration of Trust, shall have, without further or other action or consent, and free from any power or control on the part of the Unitholders, full, absolute and exclusive power, control and authority over the Trust Assets and over the affairs of the Trust to the same extent as if the Trustee was the sole and absolute beneficial owner of the Trust Assets in its own right, to do all such acts and things as in its sole judgment and discretion are necessary or incidental to, or desirable for, carrying out the trust created hereunder. In construing the provisions of this Declaration of Trust, presumption shall be in favour of the granted powers and authority to the Trustee. The enumeration of any specific power or authority herein (including in Section 8.2) shall not be construed as limiting the general powers or authority or any other specified power or authority conferred herein on the Trustee. To the maximum extent permitted by applicable law, the Trustee shall, in carrying out investment activities, not be in any way restricted by the provisions of the laws of any jurisdiction limiting or purporting to limit investments which may be made by trustees.

(b) Without limiting the foregoing, the Trustee is authorized to, and may, enter into the Delegation Agreement and thereby delegate to the General Partner: (i) the power, authority and responsibility to make all decisions required to be made by the Trustee from time to time in relation to the Trust including, without limitation, the power, authority and responsibility for any and all matters referred to in the Delegation Agreement; and (ii) the powers and authorities of the Trust that are necessary or desirable to enable the General Partner to fully implement each decision made by the General Partner within the scope of the power, authority and responsibility delegated to it under the Delegation Agreement including, without limitation, the power to further delegate from time to time, such powers and authorities, or any of them, to such person or persons the General Partner determines appropriate and qualified to exercise such power and authorities; provided that in accepting the delegation, the General Partner agrees that, in respect of such matters, it shall carry out its functions honestly, in good faith and in the best interests of the Trust and the Unitholders and, in connection therewith, shall exercise that degree of care, diligence and skill that a reasonably prudent person would exercise in comparable circumstances. The General Partner may, and if directed by the General Partner in writing, the Trustee shall, execute any agreements on behalf of the Trust as the General Partner shall have authorized within the scope of any authority delegated to it under the Delegation Agreement.

8.2 Specific Powers and Authorities

Subject only to the express limitations contained in this Declaration of Trust or contracts or obligations of the Trustee or the Trust and in addition to any other powers and authorities conferred by this Declaration of Trust or which the Trustee may have by virtue of any present or future statute or rule of law, the Trustee without any action or consent by the Unitholders shall have and may exercise at any time and from time to time the following powers and authorities which may or may not be exercised by the Trustee in such manner and upon such terms and conditions as they may from time to time determine proper including the powers and authorities to do the following or to cause the same to be done:

(a) supervise the activities and manage the investments and conduct the affairs of the Trust;

(b) maintain records and provide reports to Unitholders;

(c) collect, sue for and receive all sums of money due to the Trust;

(d) effect payment of distributions to the holders of Trust Units as provided in Article 5;

(e) invest funds of the Trust as provided in Article 4;

(f) arrange for the procedures regarding the limitations on Non-Resident ownership as provided in Section 12.5 to be implemented as therein set forth;

(g) possess and exercise all the rights, powers and privileges pertaining to the ownership of the Holding Trust Units and the Holding Trust Notes subject to the Holding Trust Note Indenture and all or any part of the assets of the Trust, to the same extent that an individual might, unless otherwise limited herein, and, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, to vote or give any consent, request or notice, or waive any notice, either in person or by proxy or power of attorney, with or without power of substitution, to one or more persons, which proxies and powers of attorney may be for meetings or actions generally or for any particular meeting or action and may include the exercise of discretionary power;

(h) where reasonably required, engage or employ on behalf of the Trust any persons as agents, representatives, administrators, employees or independent contractors (including, without limitation, investment advisors, registrars, transfer agents, underwriters, accountants, lawyers, appraisers, brokers or otherwise) in one or more capacities;

(i) except as prohibited by applicable law, delegate any of the powers and duties of the Trustee in relation to the Trust as provided hereunder or otherwise to any one or more agents, representatives, administrators, officers, employees, independent contractors or other persons (including but not limited to the General Partner or the Administrator) without liability to the Trustee, except as provided in this Declaration of Trust, and may, from time to time, with the consent of the General Partner, change the Administrator;

(j) engage in, intervene in, prosecute, join, defend, compromise, abandon or adjust, by arbitration or otherwise, any actions, suits, disputes, claims, demands or other litigation or proceedings, regulatory or judicial, relating to the Trust, the Trust Assets or the Trust's affairs, to enter into agreements therefor, whether or not any suit or proceeding is commenced or claim asserted and, in advance of any controversy, to enter into agreements regarding the arbitration, adjudication or settlement thereof;

(k) arrange for insurance contracts and policies insuring the Trust, the Trust Assets, the business of the AltaGas Entities and/or any or all of the Trustee or the Unitholders, including against any and all claims and liabilities of any nature asserted by any person arising by reason of any action alleged to have been taken or omitted by the Trust or by the Trustee or Unitholders;

(l) cause legal title to any of the Trust Assets to be held by and/or in the name of a Trustee, or except as prohibited by law, by and/or in the name of the Trust or any other custodian or person, on such terms, in such manner, with such powers in such person as the Trustee may determine and with or without disclosure that the Trust or the Trustee is interested therein; provided, however, that should legal title to any of the Trust Assets be held by and/or in the name of any person or persons other than a Trustee or the Trust, the Trustee shall require such person or persons to execute a trust agreement acknowledging that legal title to such assets is held in trust for the benefit of the Trust;

(m) as directed by the Board of Directors, issue Units, Exchangeable Securities or other rights, warrants, options or other securities convertible into or exchangeable for Units, in accordance with Offering Documents, such issuance to be subject to the terms and conditions of the Declaration of Trust;

(n) enter into or perform the obligations of the Trust under any Underwriting Agreement approved by the General Partner;

(o) enter into or perform the obligations of the Trust under and in respect of any and all agreements to which the Trust becomes a party including, but not limited to, the Arrangement Agreement, the Delegation Agreement, the Administration Agreement, the Support Agreement and the Voting and Exchange Trust Agreement;

(p) in addition to the mandatory indemnification provided for in Section 8.7, to the extent permitted by law, indemnify, or enter into agreements with respect to the indemnification of, any person with whom the Trust has dealings including, without limitation, the Trustee, the Depository, the Transfer Agent, any other registrar and transfer agent or escrow agent, to such extent as the Trustee shall determine;

(q) with the approval or confirmation of Unitholders, enact and from time to time adopt, amend or repeal by-laws consistent with this Declaration of Trust containing provisions relating to the Trust, the Trust Assets and the conduct of the affairs of the Trust;

(r) without limit as to amount, issue any type of debt securities or convertible debt securities and borrow money or incur any other form of indebtedness for the purpose of carrying out the purposes of the Trust or for other expenses incurred in connection with the Trust and enter into hedging arrangements with respect thereto and for such purposes may draw, make, execute and issue promissory notes and other negotiable and non-negotiable instruments or securities and evidences of indebtedness, secure the payment of sums so borrowed or indebtedness incurred and mortgage, pledge, assign or grant a security interest in any money owing to the Trust or in Trust Assets or engage in any other means of financing the Trust;

(s) pay all taxes or assessments, of whatever kind or nature, whether within or outside Canada, imposed upon or against the Trustee in connection with the Trust Assets, or undertaking or income of the Trust, or imposed upon or against the Trust Assets, or undertaking or income of the Trust, or any part thereof and to settle or compromise disputed tax liabilities and for the foregoing purposes to make such returns, take such deductions, and make such designations, elections and determinations in respect of Income of the Trust or Net Realized Capital Gains distributed to holders of Trust Units in the year and any other matter as shall be permitted under the Tax Act (provided that to the extent necessary the Trustee will seek the advice of the Trust's counsel or the Auditor), and do all such other acts and things as may be deemed by the Trustee in its sole discretion to be necessary, desirable or convenient;

(t) guarantee the obligations of any of the AltaGas Entities and any subsidiary of any of them and any other subsidiary of the Trust pursuant to any debt for borrowed money or other obligation incurred by such entity in good faith for the purpose of carrying on its business, and pledging securities and other property owned by the Trust as security for such guarantee as directed by the General Partner;

(u) grant security, in any form, over any or all of the Trust Assets to secure any or all of the obligations of the Trust including its obligations under any guarantee as directed by the General Partner; and

(v) do all such other acts and things as are incidental to or related to the foregoing, and exercise all powers which are necessary or useful to carry on the purpose and activities of the Trust, to promote any of the purposes for which the Trust is formed and to carry out the provisions of this Declaration of Trust.

The Trustee shall, except as may be prohibited by applicable law, have the right to delegate authority for the above-referenced matters to a manager or administrator (including to the Administrator under the Administration Agreement) where the Trustee determine in its sole discretion that such delegation is desirable to effect the administration of the duties of the Trustee under the Declaration of Trust.

8.3 Securities Held by the Trust

Subject to the provisions hereof:

(a) the Holding Trust Units and the Holding Trust Notes held from time to time by the Trustee as part of the Trust Assets may be voted by the Trustee at any and all meetings of unitholders or noteholders of Holding Trust at which the holders of such Holding Trust Units or the Holding Trust Notes are entitled to vote; and

(b) the shares of the General Partner held from time to time by the Trustee as part of the Trust Assets may be voted by the Trustee at any and all meetings of shareholders of the General Partner and shall be voted so as to elect to the Board of Directors such persons as the Unitholders, by Ordinary Resolution, direct subject, as applicable, to the provisions of the Shareholder Agreement.

8.4 Restrictions on Trustee's Powers

(a) Notwithstanding Section 8.3, the Trustee may not under any circumstances whatsoever: vote the Holding Trust Units, the Trust's securities of the General Partner or, where applicable, the Holding Trust Notes; or vote the Trust's securities of, or permit Holding Trust or the General Partner to vote their interests in, AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2; or AltaGas LP #1 to vote its interests in AltaGas LP #2; or AltaGas LP #2 to vote its securities of AltaGas, to authorize:

(i) any sale, lease or other disposition of all or substantially all of the assets of the General Partner, Holding Trust, AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2 or AltaGas, except in conjunction with an internal reorganization or a pledge in accordance with Section 8.2(r);

(ii) any merger, amalgamation, arrangement, reorganization, recapitalization, business combination or similar transaction involving Holding Trust, AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2 or AltaGas, except in conjunction with an internal reorganization;

(iii) any material amendment to the Holding Trust Note Indenture, other than an amendment which is not prejudicial to the Trust;

(iv) the winding-up, liquidation or dissolution of the General Partner, Holding Trust, AltaGas or (unless all of such limited partnership interests therein are owned directly or indirectly by the Trust) AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2 prior to the end of the term of the Trust; or

(v) any material amendment to the declaration of trust by which Holding Trust will be created, the limited partnership agreement to govern AltaGas LP #1, the limited partnership agreement to govern AltaGas LP #2 or the constating documents of Holding Trust Trustee, the General Partner or AltaGas, in a manner prejudicial to the Trust, without the approval of the Unitholders by Special Resolution at a meeting of Unitholders duly called for that purpose.

(b) Except as part of an internal reorganization of the direct or indirect assets of the Trust as a result of which the Trust has the same interest, whether direct or indirect, in the assets as the interest, whether direct or indirect, that it had prior to the reorganization, the Trustee shall have no power to:

(i) sell or otherwise dispose of any securities of the General Partner, Holding Trust Units or Holding Trust Notes, except pursuant to a pledge in accordance with Section 8.2(r) or an in specie redemption under Section 6.5; or

(ii) sell all or substantially all of the Trust Assets or cause Holding Trust to sell all or substantially all of its assets, or cause Holding Trust to cause any subsidiary thereof to sell all or substantially all of the direct or indirect assets of the Trust, in each case in a single transaction or a series of related transactions, except with the approval of the Unitholders by Special Resolution.

8.5 Banking

The banking activities of the Trust, or any part thereof, including, without limitation, the operation of the Trust's accounts; the making, signing, drawing, accepting, endorsing, negotiation, lodging, depositing or transferring of any cheques, promissory notes, drafts, acceptances, bills of exchange and orders for the payment of money; the giving of receipts for orders relating to any property of the Trust; the execution of any agreement relating to any property of the Trust; the execution of any agreement relating to any such banking activities and defining the rights and powers of the parties thereto; and the authorizing of any officer of such banker to do any act or thing on the Trust's behalf to facilitate such banking activities, shall be transacted with such bank, trust company, or other firm or corporation carrying on a banking business as the Trustee may designate, appoint or authorize from time to time and shall be transacted on the Trust's behalf by the Trustee or officers of the Trust, the General Partner or the Administrator as the Trustee may designate, appoint or authorize from time to time.

8.6 Standard of Care and Duties

The Trustee shall act honestly and in good faith with a view to the best interests of the Trust and in connection therewith shall exercise the degree of care, diligence and skill that a reasonably prudent person would exercise in comparable circumstances. Unless otherwise required by law, the Trustee shall not be required to give bond surety or security in any jurisdiction for the performance of any duties or obligations hereunder. The Trustee shall not be required to devote their entire time to the investments or business or affairs of the Trust.

8.7 Limitations on Liability of Trustee

(a) Except in the event of a breach of the standard of care, diligence and skill set forth in Section 8.6, the Trustee shall not be liable to any Unitholder for any action taken in good faith in reliance on any documents that are, prima facie, properly executed; for any depreciation of, or loss to, the Trust incurred by reason of the sale of any security; for the loss or disposition of monies or securities; or for any other action or failure to act including, without limitation, the failure to compel in any way any former trustee to redress any breach of trust or any failure by Holding Trust to perform obligations or pay monies owed to the Trust. If the Trustee has retained an appropriate expert or advisor with respect to any matter connected with its duties under this Declaration of Trust, the Trustee may act or refuse to act based on the advice of such expert or advisor and, notwithstanding any provision of this Declaration of Trust, including, without limitation, the standard of care, diligence and skill set out in Section 8.6, the Trustee shall not be liable for any action or refusal to act based on the advice of any such expert or advisor which it is reasonable to conclude is within the expertise of such expert or advisor to give.

(b) Subject to the standard of care set forth in Section 8.6, none of the Trustee nor any officer, director, employee or agent thereof shall be subject to any liability whatsoever in tort, contract or otherwise, in connection with Trust Assets or the affairs of the Trust, including, without limitation, in respect of any loss or diminution in value of any Trust Assets to the Trust or to the Unitholders or to any other person for anything done or permitted to be done by the Trustee. The Trustee shall not be subject to any personal liability for any debts, liabilities, obligations, claims, demands, judgments, costs, charges or expenses against or with respect to the Trust arising out of anything done or permitted or omitted to be done in respect of the execution of the duties of the office of Trustee for or in respect of the affairs of the Trust. No property or assets of the Trustee, owned in its personal capacity or otherwise, will be subject to any levy, execution or other enforcement procedure with regard to any obligations under this Declaration of Trust or under any other related agreements. No recourse may be had or taken, directly or indirectly, against the Trustee in its personal capacity. The Trust shall be solely liable therefor and resort shall be had solely to the Trust Assets for payment or performance thereof.

8.8 Indemnification of Trustee

The Trustee and each former Trustee and each of their respective directors, officers, agents and employees (the "Indemnified Parties") shall be entitled to be and shall be indemnified and reimbursed out of the Trust Assets in respect of any and all taxes, penalties or interest in respect of unpaid taxes or other governmental charges imposed upon such person in consequence of its performance of its duties hereunder and in respect of any and all costs, charges and expenses, including amounts paid to settle an action or satisfy a judgment, reasonably incurred in respect of any civil, criminal or administrative action or proceeding to which such person is made a party by reason of being or having been a Trustee or, at the request of the Trust, a trustee, director or officer of any AltaGas Entity unless any of the foregoing arises out of the gross negligence, wilful misconduct or fraud of the applicable Indemnified Party. An Indemnified Party shall not be entitled to satisfy any right of indemnity or reimbursement granted herein, or otherwise existing under applicable law, except out of the Trust Assets, and no Unitholder or other Trustee or former Trustee shall be personally liable to any person with respect to any claim for such indemnity or reimbursement as aforesaid.

8.9 Apparent Authority

No person dealing with the Trustee or with any officer, employee or agent of the Trustee shall be bound to make any inquiry concerning the validity of any transaction purported to be made by the Trustee or by such officer, employee or agent or to make any inquiry concerning, or be liable for, the application of money or property paid, lent or delivered to or on the order of the Trustee or of such of officer, employee or agent. Any person dealing with the Trustee in respect of any matter pertaining to the Trust Assets and any right, title or interest therein shall be entitled to rely on a certificate, statutory declaration or resolution executed or certified on behalf of the Trustee as to the capacity, power and authority of any officer, employee or any other person to act for and on behalf and in the name of the Trust.

8.10 Notice to Unitholders of Non-Eligibility for Deferred Income Plans

If the Trustee becomes aware that the Units have ceased to be qualified investments for registered retirement savings plans, registered retirement income funds, registered education savings plans and deferred profit sharing plans (all within the meaning of the Tax Act) or any of such plans, the Trustee shall give notice to Unitholders that Units have ceased to be qualified investments for such plans. The Trustee shall not be liable to the Trust or to any Unitholder for any costs, expenses, charges, penalties or taxes imposed upon a Unitholder as a result of or by virtue of a Unit not being a qualified investment for any such plan, notwithstanding any failure or omission of the Trustee to have given such notice, provided the Trustee has complied with Section 8.6.

8.11 Declaration as to Beneficial Owner

The Trustee may require any Unitholder as shown on the register of Unitholders to provide a declaration, in form prescribed by the Trustee, as to the beneficial owner of Units registered in such Unitholder's name and as to the jurisdiction in which such beneficial owner is resident.

8.12 Conditions Precedent

The obligation of the Trustee to call any meeting pursuant to Article 11 or to commence to wind up the affairs of the Trust pursuant to Article 13 shall be conditional upon the General Partner, the Administrator, Unitholders or any other person furnishing sufficient funds to commence or continue such act, action or proceeding and furnishing an indemnity (to the extent sufficient funds for such purpose are not available in the Trust Assets) reasonably satisfactory to the Trustee to protect and hold harmless the Trustee against the costs, charges, expenses and liabilities to be incurred thereby and any loss and damage it may suffer by reason thereof, and the obligation of the Trustee to commence or continue any other act, action or proceeding for the purpose of performing its duties under this Declaration of Trust or enforcing the rights of the Trustee and of the Unitholders shall, if required by notice in writing by the Trustee, be subject to the same conditions as to funding and indemnity. None of the provisions contained in this Declaration of Trust shall require the Trustee to expend or risk its own funds or otherwise incur financial liability in the performance of any of its duties or in the exercise of any of its rights or powers unless it is indemnified as aforesaid.

8.13 Survival of Indemnities

The indemnities provided in Section 8.8 shall survive the termination of this Declaration of Trust under Article 13 and the removal or resignation of the Trustee under Article 7.

8.14 Trustee May Have Other Interests

Subject to applicable laws and the qualifications of Trustee provided in Section 7.2, and without affecting or limiting the duties and responsibilities or the limitations and indemnities provided in this Declaration of Trust, the Trustee is hereby expressly permitted to:

(a) be an associate or an affiliate of a person from or to whom assets of the Trust have been or are to be purchased or sold;

(b) be, or be an associate or an affiliate of, a person with whom the Trust or AltaGas contracts or deals or which supplies services to the Trust or AltaGas;

(c) acquire, hold and dispose of, either for its own account or the accounts of its customers, any assets not constituting part of the Trust Assets, even if such assets are of a character which could be held by the Trust, and exercise all rights of an owner of such assets as if it were not a trustee;

(d) carry on its business as a trust company in the usual course while it is the Trustee, including the rendering of trustee or other services to other trusts and other persons for gain; and

(e) derive direct or indirect benefit, profit or advantage from time to time as a result of dealing with the Trust or the relationships, matters, contracts, transactions, affiliations or other interests stated in this Section 8.14 without being liable to the Trust or any Unitholder for any such direct or indirect benefit, profit or advantage.

Subject to applicable laws, none of the relationships, matters, contracts, transactions, affiliations or other interests permitted above shall be, or shall be deemed to be or to create, a material conflict of interest with the Trustee's duties hereunder.

8.15 Documents Held by Trustee

Any securities, documents of title or other instruments that may at any time be held by the Trustee subject to the trusts hereof may be placed in the deposit vaults of the Trustee or of any chartered bank in Canada, including an affiliate of the Trustee, or deposited for safekeeping with any such bank.

ARTICLE 9
MANAGEMENT OF THE TRUST

9.1 The Administrator

Except as otherwise provided herein or as expressly prohibited by applicable law, the Trustee may grant or delegate to the Administrator such authority as the Trustee may in its sole discretion deem necessary or desirable to effect the actual administration of the duties of the Trustee under this Declaration of Trust, without regard to whether such authority is normally granted or delegated by trustees. The Trustee may grant broad discretion to the Administrator to administer and manage the day-to-day operations of the Trust, to act as agent for the Trust, to execute documents on behalf of the Trust and to make decisions which conform to general policies and general principles set forth herein or established by the Trustee. The Administrator shall have the powers and duties expressly provided for herein and in the Administration Agreement, including the power to further delegate administration of the Trust, provided that no further delegation shall be effective until the Administrator shall have notified the Trustee of the name of the person or persons to whom such further delegation is made and the terms and conditions thereof. The Trustee may enter into a contract with the Administrator relating to the Administrator's authority, term of appointment, compensation and any other matters deemed desirable by the Trustee. The Trustee is authorized to, and may, enter into the Administration Agreement.

9.2 Power of Attorney

Without limiting any of the other provisions of this Article 9, the Trustee shall irrevocably delegate to the General Partner from time to time the full power and authority, and irrevocably constitute the General Partner its true and lawful attorney in fact, to sign on behalf of the Trust all prospectuses, annual information forms, management proxy circulars, other Offering Documents and any other documents ancillary or similar thereto or to complete the transactions contemplated thereby that are required to be signed by the Trust from time to time.

9.3 Liability of Trustee

The Trustee shall have no liability or responsibility for any matters delegated to the General Partner or the Administrator pursuant to the Delegation Agreement or the Administration Agreement, respectively, or hereunder, and the Trustee shall have no duty to supervise the General Partner or the Administrator and, in relying upon the General Partner or the Administrator, shall be deemed to have complied with its obligations under Section 8.6 and shall be entitled to the benefit of the indemnity provided in Section 8.8.

9.4 Performance of Obligations

In the event that the Administrator is unable or unwilling to perform its obligations under the Administration Agreement, or there is no Administrator, the Trustee shall either perform all obligations of the Administrator thereunder or shall be entitled to engage another person that is duly qualified to perform such obligations.

ARTICLE 10
AMENDMENT

10.1 Amendment

The provisions of this Declaration of Trust, except where specifically provided otherwise, may only be amended by Special Resolution; provided that the provisions of this Declaration of Trust may be amended by the Trustee without the consent, approval or ratification of the Unitholders or any other person at any time:

(a) for the purpose of ensuring continuing compliance with applicable laws;

(b) in a manner which, in the opinion of the Trustee, provides additional protection for the Unitholders;

(c) to remove any conflicts or inconsistencies in this Declaration of Trust or to make minor corrections which are, in the opinion of the Trustee, necessary or desirable and not prejudicial to the Unitholders;

(d) in a manner which, in the opinion of the Trustee, are necessary or desirable as a result of changes in Canadian taxation laws; or

(e) to change the situs of, or the laws governing, the Trust which, in the opinion of the Trustee is desirable in order to provide Unitholders with the benefit of any legislation limiting their liability, but notwithstanding the foregoing, no such amendment shall modify the voting rights of any Unit or reduce the fractional undivided interest in the Trust Assets represented by any Trust Unit without the consent of the holder of such Unit, and no amendment shall reduce the percentage of votes required to be cast at a meeting of the Unitholders for the purpose of this Section 10.1 without the consent of the holders of all of the Units then outstanding.

10.2 Notification of Amendment

As soon as shall be practicable after the making of any amendment pursuant to Section 10.1 and in any event not later than the date the Trust is required to provide the financial disclosure in Section 15.7, the Trustee shall furnish written notification of the substance of such amendment to each Unitholder.

10.3 Amendments Prior to the Effective Date

Notwithstanding Sections 11.5 and 14.1, on or before the Effective Date, the Trustee shall execute and deliver such indentures or instruments supplemental hereto or in restatement hereof, which may add to, delete, amend, vary or change any of the provisions hereof, as the General Partner may direct in writing and as may be necessary to give proper effect to the intent and purpose of the Arrangement.

ARTICLE 11
MEETINGS OF UNITHOLDERS

11.1 Annual and Special Meetings of Unitholders

(a) Annual meetings of the Unitholders shall be called, commencing in 2005, on a day on or before June 30 in each year, at a time and at a place in Canada set by the Trustee. The business transacted at such meetings shall include the presentation of the audited financial statements of the Trust for the immediately preceding fiscal year, the direction of the Trustee as to the persons to be elected to the Board of Directors for the ensuing year subject, as applicable, to the provisions of the Shareholder Agreement, the appointment of Auditors for the ensuing year, and the transaction of such other business as Unitholders may be entitled to vote upon as hereinafter provided in this Article 11 or as the Trustee may determine or as may be properly brought before the meeting.

(b) Special meetings of the Unitholders may be called at any time and for any purpose by the Trustee.

(c) Unitholders holding in the aggregate not less than 5% of all votes entitled to be voted at a meeting of Unitholders may requisition the Trustee to call a special meeting of Unitholders for the purposes stated in the requisition. The requisition shall:

(i) be in writing;

(ii) set forth the name and address of, and number of Trust Units and Exchangeable Securities (and votes attached thereto which, in the aggregate, must not be less than 5% of all votes entitled to be voted at a meeting of Unitholders) held by, each person who is supporting the requisition; and

(iii) shall state in reasonable detail the business to be transacted at the meeting and shall be sent to the Trustee. Upon receiving a requisition complying with the foregoing, the Trustee shall call a meeting of Unitholders to transact the business referred to in the requisition, unless:

(A) a record date for a meeting of Unitholders has been fixed and notice thereof has been given to each stock exchange in Canada on which the Trust Units are listed for trading;

(B) the Trustee has called a meeting of Unitholders and has given notice thereof pursuant to Section 11.3; or

(C) in connection with the business as stated in the requisition:

1. it clearly appears that a matter covered by the requisition is submitted by the Unitholder primarily for the purpose of enforcing a personal claim or redressing a personal grievance against the Trust, the Trustee, the Administrator (or any associate or affiliate of the Administrator), the Unitholders or one or more of the AltaGas Entities, or primarily for the purpose of promoting general economic, political, religious, social or similar causes or primarily for a purpose that does not relate in a significant way to the business or affairs of the Trust;

2. the Trust, at the Unitholder's request, had previously included a matter substantially the same as a matter covered by the requisition in an information circular relating to a meeting of Unitholders held within 30 months preceding the receipt of such requisition and the Unitholder failed to present the matter, in person or by proxy, at the meeting;

3. substantially the same matter covered by the requisition was submitted to Unitholders in an information circular relating to a meeting of Unitholders held within 30 months preceding the receipt of such requisition and the matter covered by the requisition was defeated; or

4. the rights conferred by this Section 11.2 are being abused to secure publicity.

(d) If the Trustee does not, within 21 days after receiving the requisition, call a meeting (except where the grounds for not calling the meeting are one or more of those set forth in subsection 11.1(c) above), any Unitholder who signed the requisition may call the meeting in accordance with the provisions of Article 11, mutatis mutandis.

(e) Meetings of Unitholders (other than annual meetings) shall be held in Calgary, Alberta, or at such other place as the Trustee shall designate.

(f) The chair of any annual or special meeting shall be a person designated by the Trustee for the purpose of such meeting except that, on the motion of any Unitholder, any person may be elected as chair by a majority of the votes cast by Unitholders represented at the meeting instead of such designated person or in the event that no person shall be designated by the Trustee.

(g) The Trustee, officers of the Administrator, officers of the General Partner, members of the Board of Directors, the Auditors and any other person approved by the Trustee, the chair of the meeting or by resolution passed by a majority of the votes cast by Unitholders represented at the meeting may attend meetings of the Unitholders.

(h) Any person entitled to attend a meeting of Unitholders may participate in the meeting, subject to and in accordance with applicable securities laws, if any, by means of a telephonic, electronic or other communication facility that permits all participants to communicate adequately with each other during the meeting, if the Trust makes available such a communication facility. A person participating in a meeting by such means is deemed for the purposes of this Declaration of Trust to be present at the meeting.

(i) If the Trustee or the Unitholders call a meeting of Unitholders pursuant to this Declaration of Trust, the Trustee or Unitholders, as the case may be, may determine that the meeting shall be held, subject to and in accordance with applicable securities laws, if any, entirely by means of a telephonic, electronic or other communication facility that permits all participants to communicate adequately with each other during the meeting.

11.2 Notice of Meetings

Notice of all meetings of Unitholders shall be given by unregistered mail, postage prepaid, addressed to each Unitholder at the Unitholder's last address on the books of the Trust, mailed at least 21 days and not more than 50 days before the meeting. Such notice shall specify the time when, and the place where, such meeting is to be held and shall specify the nature of the business to be transacted at such meeting in sufficient detail to permit a Unitholder to form a reasoned judgment thereon, together with the text of any Special Resolution, at the time of mailing of the notice, proposed to be passed. Any adjourned meeting, other than a meeting adjourned for lack of a quorum under Section 11.3, may be held as adjourned without further notice. The accidental omission to give notice or the non-receipt of such notice by a Unitholder shall not invalidate any resolution passed at any such meeting. Notwithstanding the foregoing, a meeting of Unitholders may be held at any time without notice if all the Unitholders are present or represented thereat or those not so present or represented have waived notice. Any Unitholder (or a duly appointed proxy of a Unitholder) may waive any notice required to be given under the provisions of this Section 11.2, and such waiver, whether given before or after the meeting, shall cure any default in the giving of such notice.

11.3 Quorum

At any meeting of the Unitholders, subject as hereinafter provided, a quorum shall consist of two or more individuals present in person either holding personally or representing as proxies not less in aggregate than 5% of the votes attached to all outstanding Units. In the event of such quorum not being present at the appointed place on the date for which the meeting is called within 30 minutes after the time fixed for the holding of such meeting, the meeting, if called by request of Unitholders, shall be terminated and, if otherwise called, shall stand adjourned to such day being not less than 7 days later and to such place and time as may be appointed by the chair of the meeting. If at such adjourned meeting a quorum as above defined is not present, the Unitholders then present either personally or by proxy shall form a quorum, and any business may be brought before or dealt with at such an adjourned meeting which might have been brought before or dealt with at the original meeting in accordance with the notice calling the same.

11.4 Voting Rights of Unitholders

Subject to the Voting and Exchange Trust Agreement, only Unitholders of record shall be entitled to vote and each Unit shall entitle the holder or holders of that Unit on a poll vote at any meeting of Unitholders to the voting rights set out herein. Every question submitted to a meeting, other than a Special Resolution, shall, unless a poll vote is demanded, be decided by a show of hands vote, on which every person present and entitled to vote shall be entitled to one vote. At any meeting of Unitholders, any holder of Units entitled to vote thereat may vote by proxy and a proxyholder need not be a Unitholder, provided that no proxy shall be voted at any meeting unless it shall have been received by the Transfer Agent for verification at least 24 hours prior to the commencement of such meeting. When any Unit is held jointly by several persons, any one of them may vote at any meeting in person or by proxy in respect of such Unit, but if more than one of them shall be present at such meeting in person or by proxy, and such joint owners or their proxies so present disagree as to any vote to be cast, such vote purporting to be executed by or on behalf of a Unitholder shall be deemed valid unless

11.6 Meaning of "Special Resolution" and "Ordinary Resolution"

(a) "Special Resolution" when used in this Declaration of Trust means, subject to this Article 11, a resolution proposed to be passed as a special resolution at a meeting of Unitholders (including an adjourned meeting) duly convened for that purpose and held in accordance with the provisions of this Article 11 and passed by more than 66 2/3% of the votes cast on such resolution by Unitholders represented at the meeting.

(b) "Ordinary Resolution" when used in this Declaration of Trust means, subject to this Article 11, a resolution passed at a meeting of Unitholders (including an adjourned meeting) duly convened and held in accordance with the provisions of this Article 11 and passed by more than 50% of the votes cast on such resolution by Unitholders represented at the meeting.

(c) Votes on any resolution shall be by show of hands unless the Chair of the meeting or a Unitholder requests a poll.

11.7 Meaning of "Outstanding"

Every Unit issued, certified and delivered hereunder shall be deemed to be outstanding until it shall be cancelled or delivered to the Trustee or Transfer Agent for cancellation provided that:

(a) when a new certificate has been issued in substitution for a Unit Certificate which has been lost, stolen, mutilated or destroyed, only the new certificates shall be counted for the purposes of determining the number of Units outstanding;

(b) for the purpose of any provision of this Declaration of Trust entitling Unitholders to vote, sign consents, requisitions or other instruments or take any action under this Declaration of Trust, Units owned directly or indirectly, legally or equitably, by the Trust or any AltaGas Entity shall be disregarded, except that:

(i) for the purpose of determining whether the Trustee shall be protected in relying on any such vote, consent, requisition or other instrument or action only the Units which the Trustee knows are so owned shall be so disregarded; and

(ii) Units so owned which have been pledged in good faith other than to the Trust or any AltaGas Entity shall not be so disregarded if the pledgee shall establish to the satisfaction of the Trustee the pledgee's right to vote such Units in his or her discretion free from the control of the Trust or any AltaGas Entity; and challenged at or prior to its exercise, and the burden of proving invalidity shall rest on the challenger.

11.5 Resolutions Binding the Trust

Unitholders shall be entitled to pass resolutions that will bind the Trust only with respect to the following matters:

(a) the election or removal of a Trustee as provided in Article 7;

(b) the appointment or removal of Auditors as provided in Article 16;

(c) the appointment of an inspector as provided in Section 11.10;

(d) amendments of this Declaration of Trust as provided in Section 10.1;

(e) the termination of the Trust as provided in Section 13.2;

(f) the sale of all or substantially all of the Trust Assets;

(g) the exercise of voting rights attached to the voting securities of the General Partner and Holding Trust held by the Trust as provided in Section 8.3, including voting for the Trust's nominees to act as members of the Board of Directors;

(h) the dissolution of the Trust prior to the end of its term;

(i) the ratification of any Unitholder rights plan, distribution reinvestment plan, Trust Unit purchase plan, Trust Unit option plan, incentive option plan or other compensation plan contemplated by Section 5.10 requiring Unitholder approval; and

(j) the appointment or removal of the trustee to serve as trustee of Holding Trust.

Except with respect to the above matters set out in this Section 11.5, no action taken by the Unitholders or any resolution of the Unitholders at any meeting shall in any way bind the Trustee. Any action taken or resolution passed in respect of any matter on which Unitholder approval is required under this Declaration of Trust shall be by Special Resolution, unless the contrary is otherwise expressly provided under any specific provision of this Declaration of Trust and except for the matters set out in Sections 11.5(a), 11.5(b) and 11.5(g) above which matters may be dealt with by Ordinary Resolution.

(c) for the purposes of Section 11.7(b), the Transfer Agent shall provide a certificate which will state the number of Units and the certificate numbers of certificates, if certificates are issued, held by the Trust or any AltaGas Entity. The Trustee shall be entitled to rely on such certificate in order to disregard the votes of any of such parties.

11.8 Record Date for Voting

For the purpose of determining the Unitholders who are entitled to vote or act at any meeting or any adjournment thereof, the Trustee may fix a date not more than 60 days and not less than 21 days prior to the date of any meeting of Unitholders as a record date for the determination of Unitholders entitled to vote at such meeting or any adjournment thereof, and any Unitholder who was a Unitholder at the time so fixed shall be entitled to vote at such meeting or any adjournment thereof even though the Unitholder has since that time disposed of his or her Units, and no Unitholder becoming such after that time shall be so entitled to vote at such meeting or any adjournment thereof. In the event that the Trustee does not fix a record date for any meeting of Unitholders, the record date for such meeting shall be the Business Day immediately proceeding the date upon which notice of the meeting is given as provided under Section 11.2.

11.9 Binding Effect of Resolutions

Every Ordinary Resolution and every Special Resolution passed in accordance with the provisions of this Declaration of Trust at a meeting of Unitholders shall be binding upon all the Unitholders, whether present at or absent from such meeting, and each Unitholder shall be bound to give effect accordingly to every such Ordinary Resolution and Special Resolution.

11.10 Appointment of Inspector

The Trustee shall call a meeting of Unitholders upon the written request of Unitholders holding in the aggregate not less than 25% of the votes attached to Units then outstanding for the purpose of considering the appointment of an inspector to investigate the performance by the Trustee of its responsibilities and duties in respect of the Trust. An inspector may be appointed for such purpose, at the expense of the Trust, at such meeting by a resolution approved by a majority of the votes, cast by Unitholders represented at the meeting. Any such inspector shall on reasonable notice have reasonable access during normal business hours to (i) all books, records and accounts of the Trust and the AltaGas Entities, (ii) the Trustee, directors, officers and senior management of the Trust and the AltaGas Entities, and (iii) such financial and operating data and other information with respect to the Trust and the AltaGas Entities as the inspector may reasonably request.

11.11 Solicitation of Proxies

A Unitholder shall have the right to appoint a proxy to attend and act for the Unitholder at any meeting of Unitholders. The Trustee shall solicit proxies from Unitholders in connection with all meetings of Unitholders. In connection therewith, the Trustee shall comply, to the extent possible, with all provisions of the CBCA and the requirements of Canadian securities legislation applicable to the solicitation of proxies.

11.12 Resolutions in Writing

Notwithstanding any other provision of this Declaration of Trust, a resolution in writing executed by Unitholders holding more than 66 2/3% votes attached to outstanding Units at any time shall be as valid and binding for all purposes of this Declaration of Trust as if such Unitholders had exercised at that time all of the voting rights to which they were then entitled under Section 11.5 or Section 11.6 in favour of such resolution at a meeting of Unitholders duly called for the purpose.

11.13 No Breach

Notwithstanding any provision of this Declaration of Trust, Unitholders shall have no power to effect any amendment hereto which would require the Trustee to take any action or conduct the affairs of the Trust in a manner which would constitute a breach or default by the Trust or the Trustee under any agreement binding on or obligation of the Trust or the Trustee.

ARTICLE 12
CERTIFICATES, REGISTRATION AND TRANSFER OF UNITS

12.1 Nature of Units

(a) The provisions of this Article 12 shall not in any way alter the nature of Units or the relationships of a Unitholder to the Trustee and of one Unitholder to another but are intended only to facilitate the issuance of certificates evidencing the ownership of Units if desirable to issue them to Unitholders and the recording of all transactions in respect of Units and Unit Certificates whether by the Trust, securities dealers, stock exchanges, transfer agents, registrars or other persons. The Trust Units shall be evidenced by certificates in the form of a Trust Unit Certificate. One or more Global Trust Unit Certificates (a "Global Trust Unit Certificate") may be issued in the name of, or the name of the nominee of, and deposited by the Transfer Agent with, or on behalf of, CDS or a successor (collectively, the "Depository"), as custodian of such Global Trust Unit Certificate and registered by the Transfer Agent in the name of the Depository or its nominee. No purchaser of Trust Units represented by a Global Trust Unit Certificate will be entitled to a certificate or other instrument from the Trust or the Depository evidencing that purchaser's ownership thereof except in the circumstances described in Section 12.1(d). Beneficial interests in a Global Trust Unit Certificate will be represented only through the Book-Entry System. Transfers of Trust Units between CDS Participants shall occur in accordance with the Depository's rules and procedures.

(b) All references herein to actions by, notices given or payments made to holders of Trust Units shall, where such Trust Units are held through the Depository, refer to actions taken by, or notices given or payments made to, the Depository upon instruction from the CDS Participants in accordance with the Depository's rules and procedures. For the purposes of any provision hereof requiring or permitting actions with the consent of or at the direction of Unitholders evidencing a specified percentage of the aggregate Units outstanding, such direction or consent may be given, subject to the voting rights of the holders of Special Voting Units, by holders of Trust Units acting through the Depository and the CDS Participants. The rights of a holder of Trust Units whose Trust Units are held through the Depository shall be exercised only through the Depository and the CDS Participants and shall be limited to those established by law and agreements between such holders of Trust Units and the Depository and/or the CDS Participants or upon instruction from the CDS Participants. Each of the Transfer Agent and the Trustee may deal with the Depository for all purposes (including the making of payments) as the authorized representative of the respective holders of Trust Units and such dealing with the Depository shall constitute satisfaction or performance, as applicable, towards their respective obligations hereunder.

(c) For so long as Trust Units are held through the Depository, if any notice or other communication is required to be given to holders of such Trust Units, the Trustee and the Transfer Agent will give all such notices and communications to the Depository.

(d) If (i) the Trust determines that the Depository is no longer willing or able to discharge properly its responsibilities as depository with respect to the Units and the Trust is unable to locate a qualified successor, (ii) the Trust at its option elects, or is required by law, to terminate the Book-Entry System with respect to the Trust Units, or (iii) Unitholders determine by Special Resolution that the continuation of the Book-Entry System with respect to the Trust Units is no longer in the best interests of the Unitholders, then the Depository shall surrender the Global Trust Unit Certificate to the Transfer Agent with instructions from the Depository for registration of Trust Units in the name and in the amounts specified by the Depository and the Trust shall issue and the Trustee and Transfer Agent shall execute and deliver the aggregate number of Trust Units then outstanding in the form of definitive Trust Unit Certificates representing such Trust Units.

12.2 Unit Certificates

(a) Unit Certificates shall, subject to the provisions hereof, be in such form as is authorized from time to time by the Trustee.

(b) If issued, Unit Certificates are issuable only in fully registered form.

(c) The definitive form of the Unit Certificates shall:

(i) be in the English language;

(ii) be dated as of the date of issue thereof;

(iii) contain the CUSIP number (if any) for the Units; and

(iv) contain such distinguishing letters and numbers as the Trustee shall prescribe.

(d) In the event that any Unit Certificate is translated into the French language and any provision of any Unit Certificates in the French language shall be susceptible of an interpretation different from the equivalent provision in the English language, the interpretation of such provision in the English language shall be determinative.

(e) Each Unit Certificate shall be signed on behalf of the Trustee and the Transfer Agent of such Units. The signature of the Trustee required to appear on such certificate may be printed, lithographed or otherwise mechanically reproduced thereon and, in such event, certificates so signed are as valid as if they had been signed manually. If a Unit Certificate contains a printed or mechanically produced signature of any person, then the Trust may issue the Unit Certificate even though the person has ceased to be a Trustee and such Unit Certificate is as valid as if the person continued to be a Trustee at the date of its issue.

12.3 Contents of Unit Certificates

(a) Until otherwise determined by the Trustee, each Unit Certificate shall legibly set forth on the face thereof, inter alia, the following:

(i) the name of the Trust and the words "A trust created under the laws of Alberta by a Declaration of Trust dated as of March 26, 2004" or words of like effect;

(ii) the name of the person to whom the Unit Certificate is issued as Unitholder;

(iii) the number and class of Units represented thereby and whether or not the Units represented thereby are fully paid;

(iv) that the Units represented thereby are, subject to the provisions of this Declaration of Trust, transferable;

(v) "The Units represented by this certificate are issued upon the terms and subject to the conditions of the Declaration of Trust, which Declaration of Trust is binding upon all holders of Units and, by acceptance of this certificate, the holder assents to the terms and conditions of the Declaration of Trust. A copy of the Declaration of Trust pursuant to which this certificate and the Units represented thereby are issued may be obtained by a Unitholder on demand and without fee from the head office of the Trust" or words of like effect; and

(vi) "For information as to personal liability of a Unitholder, see the reverse side of this certificate" or words of like effect.

(b) Until otherwise determined by the Trustee, each such certificate shall legibly set forth on the face or the reverse side thereof, inter alia, the following:

(i) "The Declaration of Trust provides that no Unitholder shall be subject to any personal liability whatsoever, in tort, contract or otherwise, to any person in connection with the assets of the Trust or the obligations or the affairs of the Trust and all such persons shall look solely to the assets of the Trust for satisfaction of claims of any nature arising out of or in connection therewith and the assets of the Trust only shall be subject to levy or execution", or words of like effect; and

(ii) appropriate forms of notice of exercise of the right of redemption and of powers of attorney for transferring Units.

The Unit Certificates may be engraved, printed or lithographed, or partly in one form and partly in another, as the Trustee may determine.

12.4 Register of Unitholders

If the Book-Entry System is discontinued in accordance with Section 12.1(d), or if not all Trust Units are represented by a Global Trust Unit Certificate(s), a register may be kept at the principal stock transfer offices in Calgary, Alberta of the Transfer Agent, which register, if maintained, shall contain the names and addresses of the Unitholders, the respective numbers of Units held by them, the certificate numbers of certificates representing such Units and a record of all transfers and redemptions thereof. Branch transfer registers shall be maintained at such other offices of the Transfer Agent as the Trustee may from time to time designate. Only Unitholders whose certificates are so recorded shall be entitled to receive distributions or to exercise or enjoy the rights of Unitholders hereunder. The Trustee shall have the right to treat the person registered as a Unitholder on the register of the Trust as the owner of such Units for all purposes, including, without limitation, payment of any distribution, giving notice to Unitholders and determining the right to attend and vote at meetings of Unitholders.

12.5 Limitation of Non-Resident Ownership

It is in the best interest of Unitholders that the Trust always qualify as a "mutual fund trust" under the Tax Act and in order to ensure the maintenance of such status:

(a) The General Partner shall: (i) prior to the consummation of any transaction involving the acquisition by the Trust of any properties or assets other than securities of the General Partner or Holding Trust; (ii) prior to any material modification to the Trust other than as contemplated by (i); (iii) promptly following any proposed amendment to paragraph 132(7)(a) of the Tax Act or the publication of any administrative bulletin or other notice of interpretation relating to the interpretation or application of such section; or (iv) otherwise at any time when requested by the Trustee, obtain an opinion of Counsel confirming whether the Trust is, at the date thereof and following such transaction or event (which in the case of (iii) shall mean the coming into effect of the amendment or change of interpretation), entitled to rely on paragraph 132(7)(a) of the Tax Act (or any successor provision thereto) for purposes of qualifying as a "mutual fund trust" under the Tax Act.

(b) If at any time the Board of Directors determines, in its sole discretion, or becomes aware, pursuant to Section 12.5(a) or otherwise, that the Trust's ability to continue to rely on paragraph 132(7)(a) of the Tax Act (or any successor provision thereto) for purposes of qualifying as a "mutual fund trust" thereunder is in jeopardy, then forthwith after such determination:

(i) the Trust shall not be maintained primarily for the benefit of Non-Residents and it shall be the sole responsibility of the General Partner to monitor the holdings by Non-Residents; and

(ii) the General Partner shall take such steps as are necessary or desirable to ensure that the Trust is not maintained primarily for the benefit of Non-Residents.

(c) The General Partner may, at any time and from time to time, in its sole discretion, request that the Trustee make reasonable efforts, as practicable in the circumstances, to obtain declarations as to beneficial ownership of Trust Units, perform residency searches of holders of Units and Exchangeable Securities and beneficial holders of Units and Exchangeable Securities mailing address lists and take such other steps specified by the General Partner, at the cost of the Trust, to determine or estimate as best possible the residence of the beneficial owners of Trust Units.

(d) If at any time the Board of Directors, in its sole discretion, determines that it is in the best interest of the Trust, the General Partner, notwithstanding the ability of the Trust to continue to rely on subsection 132(7)(a) of the Tax Act for the purpose of qualifying as a "mutual fund trust" under the Tax Act or otherwise, may:

(i) require the Trustee to refuse to accept a subscription for Trust Units from, or issue or register a transfer of Trust Units to, a person unless the person provides a declaration to the Trust that the Trust Units to be issued or transferred to such person will not when issued or transferred be beneficially owned by a Non-Resident;

(ii) to the extent practicable in the circumstances, send a notice to registered holders of Trust Units which are beneficially owned by Non-Residents, chosen in inverse order to the order of acquisition or registration of such Trust Units beneficially owned by Non-Residents or in such other manner as the General Partner may consider equitable and practicable, requiring them to sell their Trust Units which are beneficially owned by Non-Residents or a specified portion thereof within a specified period of not less than 60 days. If the Unitholders receiving such notice have not sold the specified number of such Trust Units or provided the General Partner with satisfactory evidence that such Trust Units are not beneficially owned by Non-Residents within such period, the General Partner may, on behalf of such registered Unitholder, sell such Trust Units and, in the interim, suspend the voting and distribution rights attached to such Trust Units and make any distribution in respect of such Trust Units by depositing such amount in a separate bank account in a Canadian chartered bank (net of any applicable taxes). Any sale shall be made on any stock exchange on which the Trust Units are then listed and, upon such sale, the affected holders shall cease to be holders of Trust Units so deposited of and their rights shall be limited to receiving the net proceeds of sale, and any distribution in respect thereof deposited as aforesaid, net of applicable taxes and costs of sale, upon surrender of the Trust Certificates representing such Trust Units;

(iii) delist the Trust Units from non-Canadian stock exchanges; and/or

(iv) take such other actions as the Board of Directors determines, in its sole discretion, are appropriate in the circumstances that will reduce or limit the number of Trust Units held by Non-Resident Unitholders to ensure that the Trust is not maintained primarily for the benefit of Non-Residents.

(e) The Trustee shall have no liability for amounts received pursuant to sales of Trust Units made pursuant to Section 12.5(d)(ii). Except as specifically set out herein, the Trustee shall not be bound to do or take any proceeding or action with respect to this Section 12.5 by virtue of the powers conferred on it under this Declaration of Trust. The Trustee shall not be deemed to have notice of any violation of this Section 12.5 unless and until it has been given written notice of such violation and shall be required to act only as required by this Declaration of Trust and upon an indemnity satisfactory to the Trustee being provided by the Trust. The Trustee shall not be required to actively monitor the Non-Resident holdings of the Trust. It is acknowledged that the Trustee cannot monitor the Non-Resident holders of the Trust Units given that the Trust Units are registered in the name of depositories and other non-beneficial holders. The Trustee shall not be liable for any violation of the Non-Resident ownership restriction in this Section 12.5 which may occur during the term of the Trust.

(f) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Declaration of Trust, Non-Residents, whether registered holders or beneficial holders of Trust Units, shall not be entitled to vote in respect of any Special Resolution to amend this Section 12.5.

12.6 Transfer of Units

(a) For so long as the Book-Entry System is in effect, transfers of ownership of Units represented by a Global Trust Unit Certificate(s) may be effected only through the records maintained by the Depository with respect to interests of CDS Participants, and on the records of CDS Participants with respect to interests of persons other than CDS Participants.

(b) Subject to the provisions of this Article 12, the Units shall be fully transferable as between persons.

(c) If the Book-Entry System is discontinued in accordance with Subsection 12.1(d) then, subject to the provisions of this Article 12, or if not all Trust Units are represented by a Global Trust Unit Certificate(s) Units shall be transferable on the register or one of the branch transfer registers only by the Unitholders of record thereof or their executors, administrators or other legal representatives or by their agents or attorneys duly authorized in writing, and only upon delivery to the Trust or to the Transfer Agent of the certificate therefor, properly endorsed or accompanied by a duly executed instrument of transfer or power of attorney and accompanied by all necessary transfer or other taxes imposed by law, together with such evidence of the genuineness of such endorsement, execution and authorization and other matters that may reasonably be required by the Trustee or the Transfer Agent, and no transfer of Units shall be effective as against the Trustee or shall be in any way binding upon the Trustee until the transfer has been recorded on the register or one of the branch transfer registers maintained by the Trustee, the Trust or the Transfer Agent. Upon such delivery the transfer shall be recorded on the register or branch transfer registers and a new certificate for the Units shall be issued to the transferee and a new certificate for the balance of Units not transferred shall be issued to the transferor.

(d) Any person becoming entitled to any Units as a consequence of the death, bankruptcy or mental incompetence of any Unitholder, or otherwise by operation of law, shall be recorded as the holder of such Units (and, if the Book-Entry System has been duly discontinued, shall receive a new certificate therefor upon submission of the existing certificate for cancellation) only upon production of satisfactory evidence, but until such record is made the Unitholder of record shall continue to be and be deemed to be the holder of such Units for all purposes whether or not notice of such death or other event has been given.

(e) If the Book-Entry System has been duly discontinued, or if not all Trust Units are represented by a Global Trust Unit Certificate(s), Unit

Certificates representing any number or class of Units may be exchanged without charge for Unit Certificates representing an equivalent number and class of Units in the aggregate. Any exchange of Unit Certificates may be made at the offices of the Trust or the Transfer Agent where registers are maintained for Unit Certificates pursuant to the provisions of this Article 12. Any Unit Certificates tendered for exchange shall be surrendered to the Trustee or appropriate Transfer Agent and then shall be cancelled.

12.7 Units Held Jointly or in a Fiduciary Capacity

Except as herein provided, the Trustee may treat two or more persons holding any Units as joint owners of the entire interest therein unless their ownership is expressly otherwise recorded on the register of the Trust, but no entry shall be made in the register or on any certificate that any person is in any other manner entitled to any future, limited or contingent interest in any Units; provided, however, that any person recorded as a Unitholder may, subject to the provisions hereinafter contained, be described in the register or on any certificate as a fiduciary of any kind and any customary words may be added to the description of the holder to identify the nature of such fiduciary relationship.

12.8 Performance of Trust

The Trustee and the Transfer Agent shall not be bound to be responsible for or otherwise inquire into or ensure the performance of any trust, express, implied or constructive, or of any pledge or equity to which any of the Units or any interest therein are or may be subject, or to ascertain or enquire whether any transfer of any such Units or interests therein by any such Unitholder or by his or her personal representatives is authorized by such trust, pledge, or equity, or to recognize any person as having any interest therein except for the person recorded as Unitholder.

12.9 Lost Certificates

In the event that any Unit Certificate is lost, stolen, destroyed or mutilated, the Trustee may authorize the issuance of a new certificate for the same number and class of Units in lieu thereof. The Trustee may in their sole discretion, before the issuance of such new certificate, require the owner of the lost, stolen, destroyed or mutilated certificate, or the legal representative of the owner, to make an affidavit or statutory declaration setting forth such facts as to the loss, theft, destruction or mutilation as the Trustee may deem necessary, to surrender any mutilated certificate and may require the applicant to supply to the Trust a "lost certificate bond" or a similar bond in such reasonable sum as the Trustee or the Transfer Agent may direct indemnifying the Trust for so doing.

12.10 Death of a Unitholder

The death of a Unitholder during the continuance of the Trust shall not terminate the Trust or any of the mutual or respective rights and obligations created by or arising under this Declaration of Trust nor give such Unitholder's personal representatives a right to an accounting or take any action in court or otherwise against other Unitholders or the Trustee or the Trust Assets, but shall merely entitle the personal representatives of the deceased Unitholder to demand and receive, pursuant to the provisions hereof, a new certificate for Units in place of the certificate held by the deceased Unitholder, if any, and upon the acceptance thereof such personal representatives shall succeed to all rights of the deceased Unitholder under this Declaration of Trust.

12.11 Unclaimed Distribution

In the event that the Trustee shall hold any distributable amount which is unclaimed or which cannot be paid for any reason, the Trustee shall be under no obligation to invest or reinvest the same but shall only be obliged to hold the same in a current interest bearing account pending payment to the person or persons entitled thereto. The Trustee shall, as and when required by law, and may at any time prior to such required time, pay all or part of such distributable amount so held, including interest earned thereon, if any, to the appropriate government official or agency whose receipt shall be a good discharge and release of the Trustee.

12.12 Take-Over Bids

(a) In the event of a take-over bid for Trust Units, any holder of Exchangeable Securities may, unless prohibited by the terms and conditions of the Exchangeable Security, convert, exercise or exchange such Exchangeable Security, as applicable, for the purpose of tendering Trust Units to such take-over bid on the condition that such Trust Units are taken up under such bid, unless an identical offer (in terms of price per Trust Unit issuable upon the conversion, exercise or exchange of the Exchangeable Security and percentage of outstanding securities to be taken up exclusive of securities owned immediately prior to the offer by the offeror, or associates or affiliates of the offeror and in all other material respects) is made concurrently by the offeror to purchase the Exchangeable Securities, which identical offer has no condition attached other than the right not to take up and pay for securities tendered if no securities are purchased pursuant to the offer for Trust Units. In the event that a holder of Exchangeable Securities elects to conditionally convert, exercise or exchange such Exchangeable Securities for the purpose of tendering Trust Units to such take-over bid, the tendering of a certificate issued by the Trust indicating that the Trust Unit is issuable upon and subject to completion of the take-over bid shall be good delivery under such bid and after payment of the consideration therefor to the former holder of the Exchangeable Security such holder shall cease to have any rights as a holder of Exchangeable Securities or Trust Units to the extent that the Trust Units issuable upon the conversion, exercise or exchange of such Exchangeable Securities have been taken up.

(b) If, within 120 days after the date of a take-over bid for all of the outstanding Trust Units (including Trust Units issuable upon conversion, exercise or exchange of Exchangeable Securities), the bid is accepted by the holders of not less than 90% of the aggregate of outstanding Trust Units and the Trust Units issuable upon the conversion, exercise or exchange of the Exchangeable Securities, other than outstanding Trust Units and Exchangeable Securities held by or on behalf of, or issuable to, the offeror or an affiliate or associate of the offeror on the date of the take-over bid, the offeror is entitled, on complying with this Section 12.12, to acquire the Trust Units and Exchangeable Securities held by the non-tendering offerees.

(c) An offeror may acquire Trust Units and Exchangeable Securities held by a non-tendering offeree by sending by registered mail within 60 days after the date of termination of the take-over bid and in any event within 180 days after the date of the take-over bid, an offeror's notice to each non-tendering offeree stating that:

(i) offerees holding not less than 90% of the outstanding Trust Units and the Trust Units issuable upon the conversion, exercise or exchange of the Exchangeable Securities which the bid relates accepted the take-over bid;

(ii) the offeror has taken up and paid for the Trust Units and Exchangeable Securities of the offerees who accepted the take-over bid;

(iii) a non-tendering offeree is required to transfer its Trust Units and/or Exchangeable Securities to the offeror on the terms on which the offeror acquired the Trust Units and Exchangeable Securities of the offerees who accepted the take-over bid; and

(iv) a non-tendering offeree which does not transfer its Trust Units and/or Exchangeable Securities in accordance with Section 12.2(b) within 20 days after it receives the offeror's notice is deemed to have elected to transfer, and to have transferred, its Trust Units on the same terms that the offeror acquired the Trust Units and/or Exchangeable Securities from the offerees who accepted the take-over bid.

(d) Concurrently with sending the offeror's notice under Section 12.12(c), the Offeror shall send to the Trust a notice of adverse claim disclosing the name and address of the offeror and the name of the non-tendering offeree with respect to each Trust Unit and/or Exchangeable Security held by a non-tendering offeree.

(e) A non-tendering offeree to whom an offeror's notice is sent under Section 12.12(c) shall, within 20 days after it receives that notice, instruct its CDS Participant to cause its Trust Units and/or Exchangeable Securities to be sent to the Trust, or, if Unit Certificates have been issued to the non-tendering offeree, send the certificates representing such securities, duly endorsed for transfer, to the Trust.

(f) Within 20 days after the offeror sends an offeror's notice under Section 12.12(c), the offeror shall pay or transfer to the Trust the amount of money or other consideration that the offeror would have had to pay or transfer to a non-tendering offeree if the non-tendering offeree had tendered under the take-over bid.

(g) The Trust is deemed to hold on behalf of the non-tendering offeree the money or other consideration it receives under Section 12.12(f), and the Trust shall deposit the money in a separate account in a bank or other body corporate any of whose deposits are insured by the Canada Deposit Insurance Corporation (or any successor thereof), and shall place the other consideration in the custody of a bank or such other body corporate for safekeeping. No such monies or other consideration shall form any part of the Trust Assets.

(h) Within 30 days after the date of the sending of an offeror's notice under Section 12.12(c), the Trustee, if the offeror has complied with Section 12.12(f), shall:

(i) do all acts and things and execute and cause to be executed all instruments as in the Trustee' opinion may be necessary or desirable to cause the transfer of the Trust Units and/or Exchangeable Securities of the non-tendering offerees to the offeror;

(ii) send to each non-tendering offeree who has complied with Section 12.12(e) the consideration to which such non-tendering offeree is entitled under this Section 12.12; and

(iii) send to each non-tendering offeree who has not complied with Section 12.12(e) a notice stating that:

(A) his or her Trust Units and/or Exchangeable Securities have been transferred to the offeror;

(B) the Trustee or some other person designated in such notice are holding in trust the consideration for such Trust Units and/or Exchangeable Securities; and

(C) the Trustee, or such other person, will send the consideration to such non-tendering offeree as soon as practicable after receiving such non-tendering offeree's Trust Unit Certificate(s) or certificate(s) representing Exchangeable Securities (subject to the use of a Global Unit Certificate as contemplated in Article 12) or such other documents as the Trustee or such other person may require in lieu thereof; and the Trustee are hereby appointed the agent and attorney of the non-tendering offerees for the purposes of giving effect to the foregoing provisions.

The Trust shall cause the terms, conditions, restrictions, rights and obligations of Exchangeable Securities to contain corresponding provisions as may be reasonably necessary or desirable to give effect to this Section 12.12, including, without limitation, provisions to effect the automatic conversion, exercise or exchange of Exchangeable Securities by a non-tendering offeree holder thereof.

12.13 Power of Attorney

Each Unitholder hereby grants to the Trustee, its successors and assigns, a power of attorney constituting the Trustee, with full power of substitution, as such Unitholder's true and lawful attorney to act on the Unitholder's behalf, with full power and authority in the Unitholder's name, place and stead, and to execute, under seal or otherwise, swear to, acknowledge, deliver, make or file or record when, as and where required:

(a) this Declaration of Trust, any amendment, supplement or restatement of this Declaration of Trust and any other instrument required or desirable to qualify, continue and keep in good standing the Trust as a mutual fund trust;

(b) any instrument, deed, agreement or document in connection with carrying on the affairs of the Trust as authorized in this Declaration of Trust including all conveyances, transfers and other documents required in connection with any disposition of Trust Units required under Section 12.5;

(c) all conveyances, transfers and other documents required in connection with the dissolution, liquidation or termination of the Trust in accordance with the terms of this Declaration of Trust;

(d) any and all elections, determinations or designations whether jointly with third parties or otherwise, under the Tax Act or any other taxation or other legislation or similar laws of Canada or of any other jurisdiction in respect of the affairs of the Trust or of a Unitholder's interest in the Trust;

(e) any amendment to this Declaration of Trust which is authorized from time to time as contemplated by Article 9; and

(f) all transfers, conveyances and other documents required to facilitate the acquisition of Trust Units and/or Exchangeable Securities of non-tendering offerees pursuant to Section 12.12.

The Power of Attorney granted herein is, to the extent permitted by applicable law, irrevocable and will survive the assignment by the Unitholder of all or part of the Unitholder's interest in the Trust and will extend to and bind the heirs, executors, administrators and other legal representatives and successors and assigns of the Unitholder.

TERMINATION

13.1 Term of Trust

Subject to the other provisions of this Declaration of Trust, the Trust shall continue for a term ending on the earlier of March 24, 2104 and the date which is one day prior to the date, if any, the Trust would otherwise be void by virtue of any applicable rule against perpetuities then in force in Alberta. For the purpose of terminating the Trust by such date, the Trustee shall commence to wind-up the affairs of the Trust on such date as may be determined by the Trustee, being not more than two years prior to the end of the term of the Trust.

13.2 Termination with the Approval of Unitholders

The Unitholders may vote by Special Resolution to terminate the Trust at any meeting of Unitholders duly called for such purpose, following which the Trustee shall commence to wind-up the affairs of the Trust. Such Special Resolution may contain such directions to the Trustee as the Unitholders determine, including a direction to distribute the Holding Trust Units and the Holding Trust Notes, in specie to holders of Trust Units.

13.3 Procedure Upon Termination

Forthwith upon being required to commence to wind-up the affairs of the Trust, the Trustee shall give notice thereof to the Unitholders, which notice shall designate the time or times at which Unitholders may surrender their Units for cancellation and the date at which the registers of Units of the Trust shall be closed.

13.4 Powers of the Trustee Upon Termination

After the date on which the Trustee is required to commence to wind-up, the affairs of the Trust, the Trustee shall undertake no activities except for the purpose of winding-up the affairs of the Trust as hereinafter provided and, for this purpose, the Trustee shall continue to be vested with and may exercise all or any of the powers conferred upon the Trustee under this Declaration of Trust.

13.5 Sale of Investments

After the date referred to in Section 13.3, the Trustee shall proceed to wind-up the affairs of the Trust as soon as may be reasonably practicable and for such purpose shall, subject to any direction to the contrary in respect of a termination authorized under Section 13.2, sell and convert into money the Holding Trust Units and the Holding Trust Notes and all other assets comprising the Trust in one transaction or in a series of transactions at public or private sales and do all other acts appropriate to liquidate the Trust, and shall in all respects act in accordance with the directions, if any, of the Unitholders (in respect of a termination authorized under Section 13.2). If the Trustee is unable to sell all or any of the Holding Trust Units or the Holding Trust Notes or other assets which comprise part of the Trust by the date set for termination, the Trustee may, subject to obtaining all necessary regulatory approvals, distribute the remaining shares or other assets directly to the holders of Trust Units in accordance with their pro rata interests. The Trustee shall have no liability for any amounts received provided that they shall have acted in good faith.

13.6 Distribution of Proceeds or Assets

After paying, retiring or discharging or making provision for the payment, retirement or discharge of all known liabilities and obligations of the Trust and providing for indemnity against any other outstanding liabilities and obligations, the Trustee shall, subject to obtaining all necessary regulatory approvals, distribute the remaining part of the proceeds of the sale of the Holding Trust Units and the Holding Trust Notes and other assets together with any cash forming part of the Trust Assets among the holders of Trust Units in accordance with their pro rata interests.

13.7 Further Notice to Unitholders

In the event that less than all of the Unitholders have surrendered their Units for cancellation within six months after the time specified in the notice referred to in Section 13.3, the Trustee shall give further notice to the remaining Unitholders to surrender their Units for cancellation and if, within one year after the further notice, all the Units shall not have been surrendered for cancellation, such remaining Units shall be deemed to be cancelled without prejudice to the rights of the holders of Trust Units comprising such Units to receive their pro rata share of the remaining Trust Assets, and the Trustee may either take appropriate steps, or appoint an agent to take appropriate steps, to contact such Unitholders (deducting all expenses thereby incurred from the amounts to which such Unitholders are entitled as aforesaid) or, in the discretion of the Trustee or the Administrator, may pay such amounts into court.

13.8 Responsibility of the Trustee after Sale and Conversion

The Trustee shall be under no obligation to invest the proceeds of any sale of investments or other assets or cash forming part of the Trust Assets after the date referred to in Section 13.3 and, after such sale, the sole obligation of the Trustee under this Declaration of Trust shall be to hold such proceeds or assets in trust for distribution under Section 13.6.

SUPPLEMENTAL INDENTURES

14.1 Provision for Supplemental Indentures for Certain Purposes

The Trustee may, without approval of the Unitholders and subject to the provisions hereof, and it shall, when so directed in accordance with the provisions hereof, execute and deliver indentures or instruments supplemental hereto which thereafter shall form part hereof, for any one or more or all of the following purposes:

(a) modifying or amending any provisions of this Declaration of Trust in the circumstances set forth in Section 10.1 where the Trustee may do so without the consent, approval or ratification of the Unitholders or any other person; and

(b) modifying or amending any provisions of this Declaration of Trust where the modification or amendment has been approved by Special Resolution or, if required, with the consent of the holders of all of the Units; provided that the Trustee may in its sole discretion decline to enter into any such supplemental indenture which in its opinion may not afford adequate protection to the Trustee when the same shall become operative.

15.1 Notices

(a) Any notice, communication or other document required to be given or sent to Unitholders under this Declaration of Trust shall be given or sent through ordinary post addressed to each registered holder at his or her last address appearing on the register or in any other manner from time to time permitted by applicable law (including Canadian securities legislation), including without limitation, Internet-based or other electronic communication; provided that if there is a general discontinuance of postal service due to strike, lockout or otherwise, such notice may be given by personal service or by internet-based or other electronic communications (provided it is done in accordance with applicable law) or by publication twice in the Report on Business section of the National Edition of The Globe and Mail or similar section of any other newspaper having national circulation in Canada; provided further that if there is no newspaper having national circulation, then by publishing twice in the business section of a newspaper in each city where the register or a branch register is maintained. Any notice so given shall be deemed to have been given and delivered (i) on the day following that on which the letter or circular was mailed or, (ii) in the case of notice being given by publication, after publishing such notice twice in the designated newspaper or newspapers, or (iii) in the case of notice given by Internet-based or other electronic communication, on the later of (A) the Business Day following the day on which such notice is sent or made available, and (B) the earliest time and date as is permissible under applicable law governing the Internet-based or other electronic communication. In proving notice was mailed, it shall be sufficient to prove that such letter or circular was properly addressed, stamped and mailed.

(b) Any written notice or written communication given to the Trustee shall be addressed to the Trustee at Computershare Trust Company of Canada, 530 - 8th Avenue S.W., Suite 710, Calgary, Alberta T2P 3S8, Attention: Manager, Corporate Trust (or such other address as the Trustee gives written notice of to the Unitholders), and shall be deemed to have been given on the date of delivery or, if mailed, five days from the date of mailing. If any such notice or communication shall have been mailed and if regular mail service shall be interrupted by strikes or other irregularities, such notice or communication shall be deemed to have been received 48 hours after 12:01 a.m. on the day following the resumption of normal mail service, provided that during the period that regular mail service shall be interrupted any notice or other communication shall be given by personal delivery or by cable, telegram, telex, facsimile or other means of prepaid, transmitted or recorded communication.

15.2 Failure to Give Notice

The failure by the Trustee, by accident or omission or otherwise unintentionally, to give any Unitholder any notice provided for herein shall not affect the validity, effect or taking effect of any action referred to in such notice, and the Trustee shall not be liable to any Unitholder for any such failure.

15.3 Joint Holders

Service of a notice or document on any one of several joint holders of Units shall be deemed effective service on the other joint holders.

15.4 Service of Notice

Any notice or document sent by post to or left at the address of a Unitholder pursuant to this Article shall, notwithstanding the death or bankruptcy of such Unitholder, and whether or not the Trustee have notice of such death or bankruptcy, be deemed to have been fully served and such service shall be deemed sufficient service on all persons having an interest in the Units concerned.

15.5 Information Available to Unitholders

Each Unitholder shall have the right to obtain, on demand and without fee, from the head office of the Trust a copy of this Declaration of Trust and any amendments thereto relating to Units held by that Unitholder.

15.6 Fiscal Year and Taxation Year

Each fiscal year and taxation year of the Trust shall end on December 31 of such year.

15.7 Financial Disclosure

The Trust will furnish, in accordance with and subject to applicable securities law to Unitholders such consolidated financial statements of the Trust and other reports as are from time to time required by applicable securities laws, including prescribed forms needed for the completion of Unitholders' tax returns. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the Trust will send to Unitholders:

(a) within 140 days after the end of each Fiscal Year, or such shorter time period as is required under applicable securities laws, and at least 21 days prior to the date of each annual meeting of Unitholders (or within such shorter time as may be required by applicable securities laws), the annual financial statements of the Trust for the fiscal year ended immediately prior to such annual meeting, together with comparative financial statements for the preceding fiscal year, if any, and the report of the Auditors thereon referred to in Section 16.4; and

(b) within 60 days after the end of each fiscal quarter of the Trust (other than the fourth quarter of each year) (or within such shorter time as may be required by applicable securities laws), unaudited quarterly financial statements of the Trust for such fiscal quarter, together with comparative financial statements for the same fiscal quarter in the preceding fiscal year, if any.

Such financial statements shall be prepared in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles as recommended from time to time in the Handbook of the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants; provided that such statements and the obligations to deliver such statements may vary from such principles to the extent required to comply with applicable securities laws or securities regulatory requirements or to the extent permitted by applicable securities regulatory authorities.

15.8 Unitholder Meeting Information

Prior to each meeting of Unitholders, the Trustee will provide to each Unitholder, together with the notice of the meeting:

(a) a form of proxy which can be used by a Unitholder to appoint a proxy, who need not be a Unitholder, to attend and act at the meeting on behalf of the Unitholder, in the manner and to the extent authorized by the proxy; and

(b) all information required by either applicable securities laws or by this Declaration of Trust.

15.9 Taxation Information

On or before March 15 in each year, the Trust will provide to Unitholders who received distributions from the Trust in the prior calendar year, such information regarding the Trust required by Canadian law to be submitted to Unitholders for income tax purposes to enable Unitholders to complete their tax returns in respect of the prior calendar year.

15.10 Unitholder List

(a) Any person, on payment of a reasonable fee and on sending to the Trust or its agent the statutory declaration referred to in Section 15.10(e) may on application require the Trust or its agent to furnish within 10 days from the receipt of the statutory declaration a list, referred to in this section as the "basic list", made up to a date not more than 10 days before the date of receipt of the statutory declaration setting out:

(i) the names of the Unitholders;

(ii) the number of Units owned by each Unitholder;

(iii) the address of each Unitholder;

as shown on the records of the Trust.

(b) A person requiring the Trust to supply a basic list may, if the person states in the statutory declaration referred to in Section 15.10(a) that the person requires supplemental lists, require the Trust or its agent on payment of a reasonable fee to furnish supplemental lists setting out any changes from the basic list in the information provided in it for each business day following the date the basic list is made up to.

(c) The Trust or its agent shall furnish a supplemental list required under Section 15.10(b):

(i) on the date the basic list is furnished, if the information relates to changes that took place prior to that date; and

(ii) on the Business Day following the day to which the supplemental list relates, if the information relates to changes that take place on or after the date the basic list is furnished.

(d) A person requiring the Trust to supply a basic list or supplemental list may also require the Trust to include in that list the name and address of any known holder of an option or right to acquire Units of the Trust.

(e) The statutory declaration required under Section 15.10(a) shall state:

(i) the name and address of the applicant;

(ii) the name and address for service of the body corporate if the applicant is a body corporate; and

(iii) that the basic list and any supplemental lists obtained pursuant to Section 15.10(b) will not be used except as permitted under Section 15.10(g).

(f) If the applicant is a body corporate, the statutory declaration shall be made by a director or officer of the body corporate.

(g) A list of Unitholders obtained under this Section 15.6 must not be used by any person except in connection with:

(i) an effort to influence the voting of Unitholders;

(ii) an offer to acquire Units of the Trust; or

(iii) any other matter relating to the affairs of the Trust.

ARTICLE 16
AUDITORS

16.1 Qualification of Auditors

The Auditors shall be an independent recognized firm of chartered accountants which has an office in Calgary, Alberta.

16.2 Appointment of Auditors

Ernst & Young LLP, Chartered Accountants are appointed as the auditor of the Trust, to hold such office until the first annual meeting of the Unitholders. The Auditors will be selected at each succeeding annual meeting of Unitholders. The Auditors will receive such remuneration as may be approved by the Trustee from time to time.

16.3 Change of Auditors

The Auditors may at any time voluntarily resign or be removed by the Trustee with the approval of a majority of the votes cast by Unitholders at a meeting of Unitholders duly called for the purpose and, upon the resignation or the removal of Auditors as aforesaid, a new auditor may be appointed by a majority of votes cast by Unitholders at a meeting duly called for the purpose or, in the absence of such meeting, by the Trustee.

16.4 Report of Auditors

The Auditors shall audit the accounts of the Trust at least once in each year and a report of the Auditors with respect to the annual financial statements of the Trust shall be provided to each Unitholder with the annual financial statements referred to in Section 15.7(a).

MISCELLANEOUS

17.1 Counterparts

This Declaration of Trust may be simultaneously executed in several counterparts, each of which when executed shall be deemed to be an original, and such counterparts, together, shall constitute but one and the same instrument, which shall be sufficiently evidenced by any such original counterparts.

17.2 Severability

If any provision of this Declaration of Trust shall be held invalid or unenforceable in any jurisdiction, such invalidity or unenforceability shall attach only to such provision in such jurisdiction and shall not in any manner affect or render invalid or unenforceable such provision in any other jurisdiction or any other provision of this Declaration of Trust in any jurisdiction.

17.3 Time of the Essence

Time shall be of the essence in this Declaration of Trust.

17.4 Governing Law

This Declaration of Trust and the Unit Certificates shall be construed in accordance with the laws of Alberta and the federal laws of Canada applicable therein and shall be treated in all respects as Alberta contracts. The parties hereto hereby irrevocably submit and attorn to the jurisdiction of the courts of Alberta.

17.5 Language

Les parties aux présentes ont exigés que la présente convention ainsi que tons les documents et avis qui s'y rattachent et/ou qui en découleront soient rédigés en la langue anglaise . The parties hereto have required that this Declaration of Trust and all documents and notices resulting herefrom be drawn up in English.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF each of the parties has caused this Declaration of Trust to be executed as of the date set out above.

1.2 Interpretation Not Affected by Headings, etc.

The division of this Agreement into sections and other portions, the provisions of a table of contents and the insertion of headings are for convenience of reference only and shall not affect the construction or interpretation hereof. Unless otherwise indicated, all references in this Agreement to an "Article" or a "Section" followed by a number and/or a letter refer to the specified article or section of this Agreement. Unless otherwise indicated, the terms "this Agreement", "hereof", "herein", "hereunder" and "hereby" and similar expressions refer to this Delegation Agreement, as from time to time amended, supplemented or restated, and not to any particular article, section, schedule or other portion hereof.

1.3 Currency

Unless otherwise indicated, all sums of money referred to in this Agreement are expressed in lawful money of Canada.

1.4 Number, etc.

Unless the context otherwise requires, words importing the singular shall include the plural and vice versa and words importing any gender shall include all genders.

1.5 Date for Any Action

In the event that any date on which any action is required to be taken hereunder by any of the parties hereto is not a Business Day, such action shall be required to be taken on the next succeeding day which is a Business Day.

1.6 Entire Agreement

This Agreement and the agreements and other documents referred to herein constitute the entire agreement between the parties with respect to the transactions contemplated hereby and supersede all other prior agreements, understandings, negotiations and discussions, whether oral or written, between the parties with respect thereto.

1.7 Accounting Principles

Wherever in this Agreement reference is made to generally accepted accounting principles, such reference shall be deemed to be a reference to consistently applied accounting principles generally accepted in Canada, including those set forth in the CICA Handbook as published from time to time by the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants, or any successor institute, applicable as at the date on which such accounting principles are to be applied.

1.8 Construction

In this Agreement, unless otherwise indicated:

(a) the words "include", "including" or "in particular", when following any general term or statement, shall not be construed as limiting the general term or statement to the specific items or matters set forth or to similar items or matters, but rather as permitting the general term or statement to refer to all other items or matters that could reasonably fall within the broadest possible scope of the general term or statement;

(b) a reference to a statute means that statute, as amended and in effect as of the date of this Agreement, and includes each and every regulation and rule made thereunder and in effect as of the date hereof;

(c) where a word, term or phrase is defined, its derivatives or other grammatical forms have a corresponding meaning;

(d) time is of the essence; and

(e) references to a "party" or "parties" are references to a party or parties to this Agreement.

ARTICLE 2
DELEGATION OF AUTHORITY

2.1 Delegation

Subject to and in accordance with the terms, conditions and limitations herein contained, the Trustee hereby delegates to the General Partner, and the General Partner hereby accepts delegation of, all of the Trustee's rights, power, authority and duties to act on behalf of the Trust and be responsible for each of the following (hereinafter the "Services"):

(a) undertaking responsibility to make all determinations, and take, or cause to be taken, all such actions as relate to the determination of distributions (including the designation of any capital gain) to Trust Unitholders and, without limitation, the determination from time to time of the record dates for and payment dates of such distributions;

(b) undertaking responsibility to make all determinations, and take, or cause to be taken, all such actions as relate to the redemption of Trust Units;

(c) undertaking responsibility to make all determinations, and take, or cause to be taken, all such actions as relate to all matters relating to Section 12.5 of the Declaration of Trust;

(d) undertaking responsibility to make all determinations, and take, or cause to be taken, all such actions as relate to all matters related to the direct or indirect acquisition of Trust Assets by the Trust and the negotiation of agreements in respect thereof;

(e) undertaking responsibility to make all determinations, and take, or cause to be taken, all such actions as relate to all matters related to any Offering including:

(i) the listing and maintaining of the listing on the Toronto Stock Exchange of the Trust Units;

(ii) the filing of documents or obtaining of permission from any governmental authority or the taking of any other step under federal or provincial law to enable securities which a Trust Unitholder is entitled to receive to be properly and legally delivered and thereafter traded;

(iii) ensuring compliance with all applicable laws;

(iv) the content of any Offering Documents, the accuracy of the disclosure contained therein, and the certification thereof; and

(v) all matters concerning the terms of the sale or issuance of Trust Units or rights to Trust Units including without limitation all matters concerning any Underwriting Agreement;

(f) undertaking responsibility to make all directions and approve: (i) the negotiation and securing of bank financing or refinancing of one or more credit or debt facilities, hedging or swap facilities or other ancillary facilities; (ii) any and all other arrangements for the borrowing of funds in any manner whatsoever; and (iii) the grant or issue of covenants, guarantees and/or security of any nature whatsoever to ensure or secure any such facilities or other arrangements, in respect of the Trust or any entity in which the Trust holds any direct or indirect interest and any amendment, deletion or supplement thereto or any termination thereof;

(g) approve on behalf of the Trust the annual audited and interim unaudited financial statements of the Trust, as well as relevant tax information;

(h) approve on behalf of the Trust all information to which Unitholders are entitled under the Declaration of Trust and under applicable laws, including information or proxy circulars, annual information forms, prospectuses, quarterly and annual reports, notices, financial reports and tax information relating to the Trust;

(i) undertaking responsibility to make all determinations, and take, or cause to be taken, all such actions as relate to any and all proceedings from time to time before or in respect of governmental authorities on behalf of the Trust;

(j) approve on behalf of the Trust, any prospectus or comparable documents of the Trust to qualify the sale of securities of the Trust from time to time;

(k) undertaking and performing, by and through the audit committee of the Board of Directors, all acts and making all decisions and doing all other things, for, on behalf or in relation to the Trust, as is required by applicable law or desirable of an audit committee of the Trust;

(l) undertaking and performing, by and through committees of the Board of Directors, all acts and making all decisions and doing all other things, for, on behalf of or in relation to the Trust, as is required by applicable law or desirable of the applicable committee of the governing body of the Trust;

(m) undertaking responsibility to make all decisions and take, or cause to be taken, all such actions relating to all matters pertaining to the Trust in respect of which the Administrator has a conflict of interest;

(n) determining the timing and terms of any offer by the Trust for, and repurchase by the Trust of, previously issued Trust Units;

(o) determining whether to make any amendments to the Declaration of Trust, as in the opinion of the Board of Directors may be necessary or appropriate, in order to provide Unitholders with the benefit of any legislation limiting their liability (including, if appropriate, amendments to effect a change in the situs of the Trust or the laws governing the Trust); and

(p) undertaking all matters in connection with any take-over bid, merger, amalgamation, arrangement, reorganization, recapitalization, purchase or repurchase of any securities or assets of any person, any business combination, or any other similar transaction involving the Trust (the foregoing individually referred to as a "Transaction" and collectively as the "Transactions"), including, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the right, power and authority to:

(i) establish, implement and amend (when and as required, once established) any Unitholder rights plan as the General Partner may determine to be desirable for the Trust to establish;

(ii) issue news releases and ensure compliance by the Trust with its continuous disclosure obligations under all applicable securities legislation;

(iii) provide, or arrange for the provision of, investor relations services to the Trust;

(iv) approve, prepare or cause to be prepared, and send or cause to be sent to Unitholders, any circular or other disclosure documents (and all amendments thereto) required under applicable securities legislation in response to any offer for the Trust Units; and

(v) call and hold, as well as prepare or cause to be prepared all materials (including notices of meetings and information circulars) in respect of, all special meetings of Unitholders required in connection with any Transaction; and

(q) make all determinations, enter all agreements, prepare all documents and take all other actions with respect to any Transaction which the General

Partner may determine to be necessary, expedient, desirable or advisable for the best interests of the Trust and its Unitholders, and so as to comply with all applicable laws; and

(r) doing all such other acts and things whatsoever as may be incidental to or required in connection with the foregoing.

For further certainly, the General Partner is under no obligation to consult with, seek advice from or otherwise communicate with any person whomsoever (including the Trustee) pertaining to the performance and discharge of the Services, or otherwise.

2.2 Covenants of General Partner

The General Partner covenants and agrees that in the performance of the Services under this Agreement it shall:

(a) perform all such Services at all times in compliance with applicable laws;

(b) comply with all instructions of the Trustee in relation to the performance of Services hereunder; and

(c) observe and perform or cause to be observed and performed on behalf of the Trust in every material respect the provisions of (i) the agreements from time to time entered into in connection with the activities of the Trust, and, (ii) all applicable laws.

2.3 General Partner's Acknowledgement

The General Partner acknowledges that it has received a copy of the Declaration of Trust and is familiar with and understands the duties of the respective parties thereto, including those duties of the Trustee and the Holding Trust Trustee which are being delegated to the General Partner under this Agreement.

2.4 Power and Authority

In accordance with Sections 8.1 and 8.2 of the Declaration of Trust, the General Partner is hereby delegated by the Trustee and, to the extent applicable or required, granted by the Trust, full and absolute right, power and authority during the continuance of this Agreement to provide, for and on behalf of the Trust, all of the Services and to take and do, for and on behalf of the Trust, in connection with the provision of all such Services, all such actions and all such things which the General Partner deems appropriate, in its sole discretion, in connection with the provision of such Services, including the right, power and authority to execute and deliver all contracts, leases, licenses, and other documents, instruments and agreements, and to make all applications and filings with any governmental authorities.

In the exercise of its powers and authority and in the performance of its obligations, covenants and responsibilities hereunder, the General Partner shall not have the authority to enter into or commit to any Transaction or other matter which in accordance with the terms of the Declaration of Trust requires the approval of the Unitholders, without first obtaining such approval.

2.5 Execution of Documents

In carrying out the Services to be provided by the General Partner hereunder, the General Partner may execute, for and on behalf of the Trust, any instrument or document which the General Partner considers appropriate, in its sole discretion. Any such instrument or document shall be executed in accordance with, or substantially in accordance with, the following:

> By its agent, ALTAGAS GENERAL PARTNER INC.
> By: _____
> Authorized Trustee

The General Partner may execute any document required to be executed on behalf of the Trust in connection with a prospectus as follows:

> By: AltaGas General Partner Inc.

and provide for such signatures as may be required by applicable laws.

All commercially reasonable efforts shall be made to ensure that every contract entered into on behalf of the Trust by the General Partner shall (except as the General Partner may otherwise expressly agree in writing with respect to the liability of the General Partner) include a provision substantially to the following effect:

> The parties hereto acknowledge that [the General Partner] is entering into this agreement solely in its capacity as agent on behalf of the Trust and the obligations of the Trust hereunder shall not be personally binding upon the [Trustee], [the General Partner], [the Administrator], or any of the unitholders of the Trust ("Unitholder") and that any recourse against the Trust, the [Trustee], [the General Partner], [the Administrator] or any Unitholder in any manner in respect of any indebtedness, obligation or liability of the Trust arising hereunder or arising in connection herewith or from the matters to which this agreement relates, if any, including without limitation claims based on negligence or otherwise tortious behavior, shall be limited to, and satisfied only out of, the Trust Assets as defined in the Declaration of Trust of the Trust dated as of March 26, 2004, as from time to time amended, supplemented or restated.

The rights conferred by any such provision shall be enforced by the General Partner for its benefit and the benefit of the Trust and shall be held in trust and enforced by the General Partner for the benefit of the Trustee, the Administrator and the Unitholders. The omission of such a provision from any such written agreement shall not operate to impose personal liability on the Trustee, the General Partner, the Administrator or any Unitholder.

2.6 Ratification of Prior Acts

Each of the Trust and the Trustee acknowledge, authorize, ratify and confirm all acts undertaken and completed by the General Partner on its behalf prior to the date hereof, which if undertaken or completed during the term of this Agreement would have been within the scope of the authority provided to the General Partner herein.

ARTICLE 3
MATTERS PERTAINING TO PERFORMANCE OF SERVICES

3.1 Standard of Care

The General Partner shall exercise the powers and discharge the duties conferred upon it hereunder honestly, in good faith and in the best interests of the Trust and in connection therewith shall exercise that degree of care, diligence and skill that a reasonably prudent person, in Canada having responsibilities of a similar nature would exercise in comparable circumstances.

3.2 No Additional Duty

The General Partner shall only be responsible for the Services and the other duties and obligations expressly provided for in this Agreement and no other obligation or duty (fiduciary or otherwise) in respect to the General Partner shall be implied. No other standard of care, other than as set forth in Section 3.1, shall apply or be implied in relation to the performance of the Services or the other duties and obligations hereunder.

3.3 Reliance

In carrying out the duties delegated hereunder, the General Partner shall be entitled to rely on:

(a) statements of fact of persons who are considered by the General Partner to be knowledgeable of such facts, provided that the General Partner has satisfied its standard of care set out in Section 3.1 in making the assessment as to whether such persons are knowledgeable of such facts; and

(b) statements from, the opinion or advice of, or information from any solicitor, auditor, valuator, engineer, surveyor, appraiser or other expert (whose profession gives authority to a statement made by them on the subject matter in question), as selected by the General Partner (herein "Experts"), provided the General Partner has satisfied its standard of care set out in Section 3.1 in selecting such Experts to provide such statements, opinion, advice or information. The General Partner may, from time to time, employ such Experts as may be necessary for the proper discharge of the duties delegated to the General Partner hereunder.

The General Partner and the Board of Directors may rely, and shall be protected in acting, upon any instrument or other documents believed by it, acting reasonably, to be genuine and in force.

3.4 Delegation and Sub-Delegation

Subject to and in accordance with the terms and conditions herein contained (including Section 3.1), the General Partner may delegate (by subcontract or otherwise) the performance of the Services to any person without the prior written consent of the Trustee, provided that such delegation shall not relieve the General Partner of the responsibility for performance of the Services.

In particular, it is agreed that the General Partner may, in its discretion, delegate responsibility to the Administrator for carrying out some or all of the requisite actions or matters necessary to execute the decisions made by the General Partner in connection with those matters for which the General Partner has been given responsibility hereunder, as set forth in Section 2.1. Where the General Partner expressly or impliedly delegates such responsibility to the Administrator, then such activities and matters for which the Administrator is delegated responsibility shall be considered and deemed to be part of the duties and services being provided by the Administrator to the Trust pursuant to the Administration Agreement, the performance of which shall be subject to the terms, conditions and limitations set forth therein.

3.5 Liability of General Partner and Others

(a) The parties hereto acknowledge that any recourse against the General Partner or the Board of Directors in any manner arising in connection herewith or from the matters to which this Agreement relates including, without limitation, claims for indemnification and claims based on negligence or otherwise tortious behaviour, shall be limited to, and satisfied only out of, the Trust Assets(as defined in the Declaration of Trust).

(b) Notwithstanding anything contained herein, neither the General Partner, nor the Board of Directors (or any one of them) (collectively, the "Service Providers") shall, either directly or indirectly, be liable to the Trust, the Trustee, any Unitholder or a Trust Annuitant, for:

(i) any loss or damage resulting from, incidental to or relating to the performance or non-performance of the Services by any of the Service Providers, including any exercise or refusal to exercise a discretion, any mistake or error of judgement or any act or omission believed by a Service Provider to be within the scope of authority conferred thereon by this Agreement, unless such loss or damage resulted from the fraud, wilful default or gross negligence of a Service Provider in performing the Services in which case the benefit of this subsection 3.5(b)(i) shall not apply to that Service Provider;

(ii) any loss or damage resulting from, incidental to or relating to the performance or non-performance of the Services by any of the Service Providers where such loss or damage is attributable to acting in accordance with the instructions of the Trustee, provided that the Service Providers will bear, on a several basis, their proportionate share of liability in the event of joint or contributory liability with the Trustee;

(iii) any loss or damage resulting from, incidental to, or relating to the acts or omissions of any person to whom the General Partner has delegated performance of any of the Services, provided that in making such delegation the General Partner has acted in accordance with Section 3.1;

(iv) any loss or damage resulting from, incidental to, or relating to any act or omission by any of the Service Providers provided that such act or omissions is based upon the Service Provider's reliance on (i) statements of fact of persons who are considered by the General Partner to be knowledgeable of such facts; or (ii) the opinion or advice of or information obtained from any Expert, provided the General Partner has satisfied its standard of care set out in Section 3.1 in selecting such Expert;

(v) any damage, injury or loss of an indirect or consequential nature, including loss of profits, suffered by the Trust, the Trustee (or their respective employees, agents, servants, or those for whom each is in law responsible), or any Unitholder or Trust Annuitant, or any of their respective affiliates, which is in any way connected with the performance or non-performance of the Services or any other aspect of this Agreement, howsoever and whensoever caused, and whether arising in contract, tort or otherwise; and

(vi) any loss or damage of any nature resulting from, incidental to or relating to the disclosure to anyone whomsoever, by the Trustee, of information of a confidential nature (which includes all information, regardless of format, in connection with any Transaction), whether or not such information was obtained from the General Partner, the Board of Directors or any of their respective financial advisors or legal advisors, or otherwise.

(c) Each of the parties hereby acknowledges and agrees that the limits of liability provided for in this Section shall not only be enforceable by the General Partner but shall also be enforceable directly by each of the Board of Directors and, in this respect, it is agreed that the General Partner is acting as agent and trustee for the Board of Directors as regards the limitations of liability conferred by this Section 3.5 (and shall hold and enforce same, to the extent necessary, for the benefit of the Board of Directors).

INDEMNIFICATION

4.1 Indemnification of General Partner

The General Partner and each of the members of the Board of Directors and any respective heirs, legal representatives and successors of any of the foregoing (the "General Partner Indemnitees"), shall be indemnified and saved harmless by the Trust (to the extent of the assets of the Trust) from and against all losses, claims, damages, liabilities, obligations, costs and expenses (including judgements, fines, penalties, amounts paid in settlement, and legal fees on a solicitor-client basis, including reasonable disbursements) of whatsoever kind or nature (collectively "Claims") incurred by, borne by or asserted against any of the General Partner Indemnitees in any way arising from or related in any manner to a Transaction or the performance or non-performance of the Services, unless such Claims arise from the fraud, wilful default or gross negligence of any of the General Partner Indemnitees. The foregoing right of indemnification shall not be exclusive of any other rights to which the General Partner or the Board of Directors may be entitled as a matter of law or equity.

4.2 Indemnification of the Trust and the Trustee

Subject to limitations on liability of the General Partner contained in this Agreement, the Trust, the Trustee and any person who is serving or shall have served as a director, officer or employee of the Trustee, and any respective heirs, legal representatives and successors of any of the foregoing (the "Trust Indemnitees"), shall be indemnified and saved harmless by the General Partner from and against all losses, claims, damages, liabilities, obligations, costs and expenses (including judgements, fines, penalties, amounts paid in settlement, and legal fees on a solicitor-client basis, including reasonable disbursements) of whatsoever kind or nature (collectively "Trust Claims") incurred by, borne by or asserted against any of the Trust Indemnitees which arise from the fraud, wilful default or gross negligence of the General Partner in the performance of the Services, unless such Trust Claims arise from the fraud, wilful default or gross negligence on the part of any Trust Indemnitees, or are attributable to actions undertaken on the instructions of the Trust or the Trustee. The foregoing right of indemnification shall not be exclusive of any other rights to which the Trust Indemnitees may be entitled as a matter of law or equity or which may be lawfully granted to such person.

4.3 Method of Asserting Claims

(a) If a party entitled to indemnification pursuant to the terms hereof (the "Indemnified Party") intends to seek indemnification under this Article 4 from the other party (the "Indemnifying Party"), the Indemnified Party shall give the Indemnifying Party notice of such claim for indemnification promptly following the receipt or determination by the Indemnified Party of actual knowledge or information as to the factual and legal basis of any claim which is subject to indemnification and, where such claim results from the commencement of any claim or action by a third party, promptly following receipt of written notice of such third party claim or action. The failure of or delay by an Indemnified Party to so notify the Indemnifying Party (as set forth above) shall not relieve the Indemnifying Party of its indemnification obligations hereunder to the Indemnified Party, however the liability which the Indemnifying Party has to the Indemnified Party pursuant to the terms of this Article 4 (and for which the Indemnifying Party will be obligated to indemnify the Indemnified Party in respect of) shall be reduced to the extent that any such delay in or failure to give notice as herein required prejudices the defence of any such action, suit, proceeding, investigation or claim, or otherwise results in any increase in the liability which the Indemnifying Party has under its indemnity provided for herein.

(b) The Indemnifying Party, at its sole cost and expense, shall have the right to assume the defence of any claim, action, suit, proceeding or investigation brought against the Indemnified Party with counsel designated by the Indemnifying Party and reasonably satisfactory to the Indemnified Party; provided that the Indemnifying Party will not, without the Indemnified Party's prior written consent (such consent not to be unreasonably withheld), settle, compromise, consent to the entry of any judgment in or otherwise seek to terminate any action, suit, proceeding, investigation or claim in respect of which indemnification may be sought hereunder (whether or not the Indemnified Party is a party thereto) unless such settlement, compromise, consent or termination includes a release of the Indemnified Party from all liabilities arising out of such action, suit, proceeding, investigation or claim. The Indemnified Party will give to the Indemnifying Party and its counsel reasonable access to all business records and other documents relevant to such defence or settlement, and shall permit them to consult with the employees and counsel (if any) of the Indemnified Party.

(c) Notwithstanding the foregoing:

(i) if the defendants in any such action, suit, proceeding or investigation include both the Indemnified Party and the Indemnifying Party, and the Indemnified Party is advised by counsel that there are legal defences available to the Indemnified Party that are additional to those available to the Indemnifying Party and that in such circumstances representation by the same counsel would be inappropriate; or

(ii) if the Indemnified Party shall have reasonably concluded that the Indemnifying Party is not taking or has not taken, all necessary steps to diligently defend such claim, action, suit, proceeding or investigation, the Indemnified Party has provided written notice of same to the Indemnifying Party, and the Indemnifying Party has not rectified the situation within a reasonable time;

then the Indemnified Party shall have the right to retain separate counsel, the reasonable costs of which shall be at the Indemnifying Party's expense, to represent the Indemnified Party and to otherwise participate in the defence of such claim, action, suit, proceeding or investigation on behalf of such Indemnified Party. For further certainty, only one legal firm may be engaged at the expense of the Indemnifying Party.

(d) Notwithstanding anything herein contained, an Indemnified Party shall have the right, at its sole cost and expense, to retain counsel to separately represent it in connection with the negotiation, settlement or defence of any claim, action, suit, proceeding or investigation brought by a third party provided, for further certainty, that such counsel shall not, unless agreed by the Indemnifying Party, assume control of the negotiation, settlement or defence.

(e) Except to the extent expressly provided herein, no Indemnified Party shall settle any claim or action with respect to which it has sought or intends to seek indemnification pursuant to this Article 4 without the prior written consent of the Indemnifying Party, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld or delayed.

(f) If the Indemnifying Party does not assume the defence of any claim, action, suit, proceeding or investigation brought against the Indemnified Party, then the Indemnified Party shall have the right to do so on its own behalf and all such expense in so doing shall be added to the amount of the claim for indemnification hereunder by such Indemnified Party as against the Indemnifying Party.

4.4 Net Amount

In the event that an Indemnifying Party is obligated to indemnify and hold any Indemnified Party harmless under this Article 4, the amount owing to the Indemnified Party shall be the amount of such Indemnified Party's out-of-pocket losses (whether paid or payable), net of any such out-of-pocket losses recovered by the Indemnified Party from any other person; provided that the foregoing shall not be construed so as to obligate an Indemnified Party to pursue or seek recovery of any of its out-of-pocket losses from any other person whomsoever, including insurers.

4.5 Third Party Beneficiaries

Each of the parties hereby acknowledges and agrees that the rights of indemnification provided for in this Article 4 shall not only be enforceable by the parties hereto but shall be enforceable directly by each of the Board of Directors and each of the Trust Indemnitees, and in this respect:

(a) the Trust appoints the General Partner to act as agent and trustee for the Board of Directors as regards the covenants of indemnification by the Trust given in favour of the Board of Directors pursuant to Section 4.1, and the General Partner accepts such appointment; and

(b) the General Partner appoints the Trust to act as agent and trustee for the Trust Indemnitees as regards the covenants by the General Partner given in favour of the Trust Indemnitees pursuant to Section 4.2, and the Trust accepts such appointment.

4.6 Subrogation Rights

If an Indemnified Party has a right against a person (other than as against one of the other parties to be indemnified by the Indemnifying Party) with respect to any damages or other amounts paid by the Indemnifying Party, then the Indemnifying Party shall, to the extent of such payment and to the extent permitted by Applicable law, be subrogated to the rights of such Indemnified Party as against such person. Notwithstanding the foregoing, no Indemnifying Party shall be subrogated to any insurance rights of any Indemnified Party.

EXPENSES

5.1 Expense Reimbursement

All costs, charges and expenses reasonably incurred by the General Partner and the Board of Directors in carrying out the General Partner's obligations and duties hereunder in connection with the provision and performance of the Services (including, without limitation, salary, wages, and other forms of compensation paid to employees engaged in rendering the services to be provided hereunder and/or management fees paid to management entities which might be engaged to provide such services) (the "Expenses") shall be payable by the Trust out of the Trust Assets. From time to time the General Partner shall invoice the Trust setting out the Expenses payable and the related GST (if any). Each invoice shall provide reasonably sufficient detail pertaining to the composition of the aggregate Expenses set forth therein. The General Partner shall provide such additional detail pertaining to the Expenses as is requested by the Trust, acting reasonably, and within the possession of the General Partner. Any invoice rendered shall be paid by the Trust within 15 days of invoicing.

5.2 Non-Fully-Deductible Expenses

Notwithstanding Section 5.1, in respect of any Expenses that are not, in accordance with the Tax Act, properly deductible against the respective income in the fiscal year thereof in which the Expense is incurred, the General Partner agrees to waive reimbursement in such year of such portion of the Expense which is not so expensable in such fiscal year. The General Partner shall require the Administrator to provide AltaGas LP #2 (or, if AltaGas LP #2 has been wound-up or otherwise no longer exists, AltaGas LP #1) with the funds necessary to pay the non-deductible portion of Expenses by repayment of loan, return of capital or otherwise. AltaGas LP #2 (or, if AltaGas LP #2 has been wound-up or otherwise no longer exists, AltaGas LP #1) shall lend the amount not deductible to the Trust. Any amount so loaned shall be non-interest bearing and repayable at the end of the first calendar quarter of each subsequent fiscal year of the Trust as to the amount then deductible in accordance with the Tax Act by the Trust in such fiscal year, until fully repaid.

5.3 Payment of GST

Unless otherwise provided in this Agreement, all amounts payable to the General Partner pursuant to this Agreement shall be exclusive of any goods and services tax required to be paid thereon pursuant to the Excise Tax Act (Canada) or otherwise (collectively, the "GST") and the General Partner shall be paid, in addition to such amounts, all amounts of GST collectible by the General Partner with respect thereto and such amounts shall be included by the General Partner in the invoice described in Section 5.1.

5.4 Failure to Pay When Due

Any amount payable to the General Partner hereunder and which is not remitted to the General Partner when so due shall remain due (whether on demand or otherwise) and interest will accrue on such overdue amounts (both before and after judgement), at a rate per annum equal to the prime rate charged by the Trust's principal banker plus one percent per annum from the date payment is due until the date payment is made.

5.5 Restrictions on General Partner's Powers and Authorities

In the exercise of its powers and authority and in the performance of its obligations, covenants and responsibilities hereunder, the General Partner shall not, without first obtaining the written approval of the Trustee, charge or receive fees from any of the parties other than the reimbursement of expenses pursuant to Section 5.1 hereunder.

ARTICLE 6
FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND RECORDS

6.1 Books and Records

The General Partner shall keep proper books, records and accounts in which full, true and correct entries in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles and all requirements of applicable laws will be made of all dealings and transactions in relation to the activities of the Trust and the General Partner and the performance by the General Partner of the Services under this Agreement at the General Partner's head office in Alberta.

6.2 Examination of Records

The General Partner shall make available to the Trustee and its respective authorized representatives at any time during normal business hours on a Business Day all records, documents or information related to the activities of the Trust or the General Partner (as the case may be), wherever maintained. The General Partner shall permit the Trustee and its respective authorized representatives at any time during normal business hours on a Business Day to examine the books, records, drawings, computer-stored data, correspondence, accounting procedures and practices, cost analyses and any other supporting financial data, including invoices, payments or claims and receipts pertaining to the activities of the Trust and the General Partner (as the case may be) maintained by the General Partner at its head office. Any examination at the General Partner's head office shall be conducted in a manner which will not unduly interfere with the conduct of the General Partner's business in the ordinary course. The General Partner shall furnish to the Trustee or its respective authorized representatives such financial and operating data and other information with respect to the activities of the Trust and the General Partner and as it shall from time to time reasonably request.

6.3 Compliance

The General Partner shall deliver to the Trustee within 90 days after the end of each fiscal year a certificate signed on behalf of the General Partner by the chief executive officer and the chief financial officer of the General Partner stating that a review of the activities of the General Partner and the Trust during the preceding fiscal year has been made under the supervision of such officers and that, based on that review and their best knowledge, the General Partner has fulfilled all of its obligations, and complied with all of the terms of, this Agreement in all material respects and that no default hereunder (or event which, with notice or lapse of time or both, could become a default hereunder) occurred during such fiscal year.

6.4 Provision of Information

The Trust shall:

(a) grant access or cause access to be granted, to the General Partner to the information necessary in order for the General Partner to perform its obligations, covenants and responsibilities pursuant to the terms hereof; and

(b) provide, or cause to be provided, all information as may be reasonably requested by the General Partner, and promptly notify the General Partner of any material facts or information of which it is aware, in relation to and which may affect the performance of the obligations, covenants or responsibilities of the General Partner pursuant to this Agreement, including any known material facts or material changes in the business, operations or capital of the Trust or any of its affiliates, or any known pending or threatened suits, actions, claims, proceedings or orders by or against the Trust or any of its affiliates before any court or administrative tribunal.

TERM AND TERMINATION

7.1 Term

Subject to Section 2.6, this Agreement shall be effective as of the date hereof and shall continue in full force and effect until such time as the first of the following occurs:

(a) the Trust or the General Partner decides, in its discretion, to terminate this Agreement in which case the Trust or the General Partner (as the case may be) shall provide the other parties with a notice specifying that such Party has elected to terminate this Agreement, and such termination shall thereafter become effective 30 days after receipt of such notice by the last of the parties to receive same;

(b) the parties mutually agree, as evidenced in writing, to terminate this Agreement, in which case the effective date of termination shall be such date as is specified by the parties, failing which, it shall be the date of the aforesaid mutual agreement; or

(c) termination of the Trust in accordance with the terms of the Declaration of Trust, in which case this Agreement shall be deemed to be terminated effective the same date as the termination of the Trust.

7.2 Survival

Notwithstanding any expiration or termination of this Agreement, any obligation or liability of the parties which arises pursuant to the terms hereof and which occurred or is attributable to the period prior to the expiration or termination of this Agreement shall survive such expiration or termination, including, for further certainty, (a) any payment obligations under Section 5.1, and (b) all indemnification obligations under Article 4 pertaining to any Claims or Trust Claims (as the case may be) provided that the subject matter of such claims relate to or arise out of events, conditions or circumstances which occurred or are attributable to the period prior to the expiration or termination (as the case may be) of this Agreement.

7.3 Post Termination Arrangements

In the event of a termination of this Agreement:

(a) the General Partner shall deliver to such party all books, records, accounts, documents, systems and manuals which the General Partner has developed and maintained relating to such party pursuant to this Agreement; and

(b) such party and the General Partner shall take all steps as may be reasonably required to complete any final accounting as between them and to provide, if applicable, for the completion of any other matter contemplated by this Agreement.

ARTICLE 8
FORCE MAJEURE

8.1 Consequences of Force Majeure

During the occurrence of an event of Force Majeure, the obligations of the party affected by such event of Force Majeure, to the extent and for the period that such obligations are not performed as a result of such event of Force Majeure, shall be suspended, and such party shall not be considered to be in breach or default hereunder, for the period of such occurrence, except that the occurrence of an event of Force Majeure: (i) affecting the Trust, or any of its affiliates and/or but not affecting the performance of the General Partner's obligations hereunder, shall not relieve any of the parties hereto of its obligation to make payments of the expenses of the General Partner; or (ii) affecting the General Partner but not affecting the performance of the obligations of the Trust hereunder shall not relieve any of the parties hereto of its obligation to make payments of the expenses of the General Partner incurred before the event of Force Majeure in respect of Services performed by the General Partner prior to such event of Force Majeure. The suspension of performance shall be of no greater scope and of no longer duration than is required by the event of Force Majeure. No obligation of either party that arose prior to the event of Force Majeure causing the suspension of performance shall be excused as a result of the event of Force Majeure.

8.2 Notice

A party whose obligations under this Agreement are affected by an event of Force Majeure: (i) shall give the other parties prompt written notice of the particulars of the event of Force Majeure and its expected duration, and (ii) shall use its best efforts to remedy its inability to perform such obligations.

MISCELLANEOUS

9.1 No Partnership, Joint Venture, Agency or Trust

The parties are not and shall not be deemed to be partners or joint venturers with one another and nothing herein shall be construed so as to impose any liability as such on any of them. The parties agree that the General Partner shall perform its obligations under this Agreement as an independent contractor and shall not be, and shall not be deemed to be, a trustee for any person, whether or not a party, in connection with the discharge by the General Partner of such obligations.

9.2 Amendments

Except as otherwise provided herein, this Agreement shall not be amended or varied in its terms by oral agreement or by representations or otherwise except by instrument in writing executed by the duly authorized representatives of the parties hereto or their respective successors or assigns.

9.3 Assignment

This Agreement may be assigned by any party hereto only with the prior written consent of the other parties.

9.4 Notices

Any notice, consent, waiver, direction or other communication required or permitted to be given under this Agreement by a party to any other party shall be in writing and shall be delivered by hand delivery, facsimile transmission or (provided that the mailing party does not know and should not reasonably have known of any disruption or anticipated disruption of postal service which might affect delivery of the mail) by registered mail (postage prepaid), addressed to the party to whom the notice is to be given, at its specified address herein. Any notice, consent, waiver, direction or other communication aforesaid shall, if hand delivered or delivered by facsimile transmission, be deemed to have been given and received on the date on which it was hand delivered or delivered (based on facsimile confirmation) by facsimile transmission (if prior to 4:30 pm (local time at the place of receipt) on a Business Day and, if not, the next succeeding Business Day) and if sent by registered mail be deemed to have been given and received on the fourth Business Day at the point of delivery following the date on which it was so sent. The specified address herein shall be, in the case of:

(a) the Trust, addressed to:

or such other address as may be designated by any of the parties by notice to the other parties given in accordance with this Section.

9.5 Successors and Assigns

The provisions of this Agreement shall entire to the benefit of, and be binding upon, the parties and their respective successors and permitted assigns.

9.6 Severability

If any one or more of the provisions or parts thereof contained in this Agreement should be or become invalid, illegal or unenforceable in any respect in any jurisdiction, the remaining provisions or parts thereof contained herein shall be and shall be conclusively deemed to be, as to such jurisdiction, severable therefrom and:

(a) the validity, legality or enforceability of such remaining provisions or parts thereof shall not in any way be affected or impaired by the severance of the provisions or parts thereof severed; and

(b) the invalidity, illegality or unenforceability of any provision or part thereof contained in this Agreement in any jurisdiction shall not affect or impair such provision or part thereof or any other provisions of this Agreement in any other jurisdiction.

9.7 Further Assurances

Each party hereto shall, from time to time, and at all times hereafter, at the request of any other party hereto, but without further consideration, do all such further acts and execute and deliver all such further documents and instruments as shall be reasonably required in order to fully perform and carry out the terms and intent hereof.

9.8 Execution in Counterparts

This Agreement may be executed in counterparts, each of which is and is hereby conclusively deemed to be an original and counterparts collectively are to be conclusively deemed one instrument. Delivery of counterparts may be effected by facsimile transmission.

9.9 Waiver

No waiver by, any party hereto shall be effective unless such waiver is in writing and any waiver shall affect only the matter, and the occurrence thereof, specifically identified and shall not extend to any other matter or occurrence.

9.10 Liability of General Partner

The General Partner shall be liable to the Trust or the Trustee, as applicable, for any loss occasioned by any breach by it of the standard of care and duty prescribed by Section 5.1.

9.11 Limitation on Liability

The parties hereto acknowledge that Computershare Trust Company of Canada, as trustee of the Trust, is entering into this Agreement solely in its capacity as trustee on behalf of the Trust and the obligations of the Trust hereunder shall not be personally binding upon the Trustee or any of the Unitholders and that any recourse against the Trust, the Trustee or any Unitholder in any manner in respect of any indebtedness, obligation or liability of the Trust arising hereunder or arising in connection herewith or from the matters to which this Agreement relates, if any, including without limitation claims based on negligence or otherwise tortious behaviour, shall be limited to, and satisfied only out of, the Trust Assets as defined in the Declaration of Trust.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF the parties have executed this Agreement as of the date first written above.

Attention: David W. Cornhill – Chairman and Chief Executive Officer

Dear Sirs:

Re: Offering of Trust Units

RBC Dominion Securities Inc. (the "Bookrunner") and Clarus Securities Inc., as co-lead underwriters, and each of the other underwriters listed in Schedule A to this Agreement (each an "Underwriter" and collectively, the "Underwriters") understand that AltaGas Income Trust (the "Trust") proposes to sell 4,300,000 Trust Units (as herein defined) (the "Firm Units") of the Trust at a price per Trust Unit of $18.70 for an aggregate purchase price of $80,410,000 (the "Purchase Price") and will prepare and file all documents necessary in order to qualify the Offered Units (as herein defined) for Distribution in each of the Provinces of Canada (the "Qualifying Jurisdictions").

Upon and subject to the terms and conditions contained herein, the Underwriters hereby severally and not jointly, in the respective percentages set forth in Schedule A attached hereto, agree to purchase from the Trust and, by its acceptance hereof, the Trust agrees to sell to the Underwriters, at the Closing Time (as herein defined), all but not less than all of the Firm Units. The Trust also proposes to issue and sell, at the election of the Underwriters, up to an additional 430,000 Trust Units (the "Option Units") pursuant to the Over-Allotment Option (as defined below) at a price per Option Unit of $18.70.

The Trust agrees to sell to the Underwriters, and the Underwriters will have the option to purchase from the Trust, for the purpose of covering over-allotments, if any, up to the full number of the Option Units (the "Over-Allotment Option"). The Over-Allotment Option may be exercised by written notice to the Trust given by the Bookrunner, on behalf of the Underwriters, at any time until 5:00 p.m. (Calgary time) on the date that is 30 days after the Closing Date (as herein defined). The notice shall specify the number of Option Units to be purchased pursuant to the Over-Allotment Option. If and to the extent the Over-Allotment Option is exercised by the Underwriters, upon and subject to the terms and conditions hereof, the Underwriters hereby severally, and not jointly, agree to purchase from the Trust in the respective percentages set forth in Schedule A attached hereto, and the Trust shall issue and sell as directed by the Underwriters, in accordance with and subject to the provisions of this Agreement, that number of Option Units as indicated in the notice.

In consideration of the Underwriters' agreement to purchase the Offered Units and in consideration of the services to be rendered by the Underwriters in connection therewith, including but not limited to acting as financial advisors to the Trust in respect of the sale of the Offered Units, assisting in preparing documentation relating to the Offered Units, distributing the Offered Units directly and through other investment dealers and brokers and performing administrative work in connection with the Distribution (as herein defined) of the Offered Units, the Trust agrees to pay to the Underwriters: (i) at the Closing Time an underwriting fee of $0.935 per Offered Unit, for an aggregate underwriting fee of $4,020,500; and, if applicable, (ii) at the Additional Closing Time (as herein defined) an underwriting fee of $0.935 per Option Unit (being an aggregate amount of $402,050 in respect of the Option Units, if the Over-Allotment Option is exercised in full) (collectively, the "Underwriting Fee"). For greater certainty, the services provided by the Underwriters in connection herewith will not be subject to the Goods and Services Tax provided for in the Excise Tax Act (Canada) and taxable supplies provided will be incidental to the exempt financial services provided.

In this Agreement, capitalized terms not otherwise defined herein shall have the meaning ascribed thereto in the Information Circular unless the context otherwise requires:

TERMS AND CONDITIONS

1. Qualification of Offered Units

The Trust shall fulfil all legal requirements to be fulfilled by it to enable the Offered Units to be offered for sale by the Trust and sold to the public in each of the Qualifying Jurisdictions by or through the Underwriters and other investment dealers and brokers who comply with the Securities Laws. All legal requirements to enable the Distribution of the Offered Units shall be fulfilled as soon as practicable. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the Trust shall as soon as possible, and in any event, not later than 5:00 p.m. (Calgary time) on June 3, 2004 (or such other time and/or date as the Trust and the Underwriters may agree) prepare and file the Final Prospectus in each of the Qualifying Jurisdictions, and will use its reasonable best efforts to obtain a receipt for the Final Prospectus, issued by the ASC in its capacity as the principal regulator in accordance with the MRRS, as soon as possible after the filing and the Trust will promptly take all other steps and proceedings that may be necessary in order to qualify the Offered Units for Distribution in the Qualifying Jurisdictions and shall provide the Final Prospectus in compliance with Section 3(e).

2. Distribution of Offered Units

The Underwriters will offer the Offered Units for sale to the public in Canada, directly and through other investment dealers and brokers (the Underwriters, together with such other investment dealers and brokers, the "Selling Firms" or each a "Selling Firm") only as permitted by Securities Laws and upon the terms and conditions set forth in the Final Prospectus and this Agreement. The Underwriters agree to sell the Offered Units only in accordance with, and in a manner permitted by, the laws of each of the Qualifying Jurisdictions and to require each Selling Firm to agree with the Underwriters to so sell the Offered Units. For purposes of this Section 2, the Underwriters shall be entitled to assume that the Offered Units are qualified for Distribution in any Province of Canada where a receipt or similar document (including an MRRS decision document) for the Final Prospectus shall have been obtained from the applicable Securities Commission following the filing of the Final Prospectus unless notice to the contrary from the Trust or the applicable Securities Commission is provided to the Underwriters. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this Section 2, an Underwriter will not be liable under this Section 2 with respect to a default under this Section 2 by another Underwriter.

The Underwriters shall use their reasonable best efforts to complete and cause the Selling Firms to complete Distribution of the Offered Units as promptly as possible, and shall give prompt notice to the Trust when, in the opinion of the Underwriters, such Distribution has been completed and shall give notice to the Trust of the proceeds realized in each Qualifying Jurisdiction from the Distribution of the Offered Units. The Underwriters may solicit offers to purchase or sell the Offered Units outside of Canada in accordance with applicable law (including, if applicable, U.S. Securities Laws and state securities laws), but will not solicit offers to purchase or sell the Offered Units so as to require registration of the Offered Units or the filing of a prospectus or registration statement with respect to the Distribution of the Offered Units under the laws of such jurisdiction (and will require each Selling Firm to agree with the Underwriters not to solicit or sell).

The Trust shall co-operate in all respects with the Underwriters to allow and assist the Underwriters to participate fully in the preparation of the Final Prospectus and any Amendment thereto and shall allow the Underwriters and their counsel to conduct all "due diligence" investigations which the Underwriters may reasonably require to fulfil the Underwriters' obligations as underwriters and to enable the Underwriters to execute any certificate required to be executed by the Underwriters in such documentation.

3. Documents to be Delivered

The Trust shall deliver to the Underwriters:

(a) on the date of filing of the Final Prospectus, a copy of the Final Prospectus signed as required by the laws of the Qualifying Jurisdictions;

(b) on or prior to the date of filing of any Amendment, copies of the Amendment signed as required by the laws of the Qualifying Jurisdictions;

(c) at the time of the delivery to the Underwriters pursuant to this Section 3 of copies of the Final Prospectus and any Amendment, in each case in the French language,

(i) opinions of Quebec counsel to the Trust dated the date of such document and stating that, except for any financial charts, financial statements, notes to financial statements or auditors' reports (collectively, the "Financial Information") contained or incorporated by reference in such document, the document in the French language is in all material respects a complete and accurate translation of the document in the English language and that such versions are not susceptible to any materially different interpretations with respect to any material matter contained therein; and

(ii) opinions of the auditors of the Trust dated the date of such document and stating that the Financial Information contained in such document in the French language is in all material respects a complete and proper translation of the Financial Information contained or incorporated by reference therein in the English language;

(d) at the time of the delivery to the Underwriters of the Final Prospectus pursuant to Section 3(a), a comfort letter dated the date of the Final Prospectus from the auditors of the Trust and AltaGas and acceptable in form and substance to the Underwriters, acting reasonably, with respect to the financial and accounting information contained in the Final Prospectus based on a review by the auditors having a cut-off date not more than two Business Days prior to the date of the comfort letter;

(e) forthwith when available, but in any case:

(i) in Toronto by 12:00 noon (local time) on the Business Day after the MRRS decision document for the Final Prospectus or the Amendment has been issued by the ASC; and

(ii) in such cities (other than Toronto) as the Underwriters may reasonably request by 5:00 p.m. (local time) on the Business Day after the MRRS decision document for the Final Prospectus or the Amendment has been issued by the ASC; without charge, such numbers of commercial copies of the Final Prospectus and any Amendment together with any documents incorporated by reference in such Final Prospectus or Amendment as the Underwriters may reasonably require. The commercial copies of the Final Prospectus and any Amendment shall be identical in content to the electronically transmitted versions thereof filed with Canadian securities regulatory authorities pursuant to the System for Electronic Document Analysis and Retrieval.

(f) During the period of Distribution of the Offered Units, the Trust will promptly provide to the Underwriters, for review and comment by the Underwriters and the Underwriters' counsel, prior to filing or issuance:

(i) any financial statement of the Trust or AltaGas;

(ii) any proposed document, including without limitation any amendment to or new annual information form, material change report, interim report, or information circular, which may be incorporated, or deemed to be incorporated, by reference in the Prospectus; and

(iii) any press release of the Trust.

4. Amendment

The Trust shall deliver to the Underwriters duly signed copies of all amendments or supplements or any other supplemental documents to the Prospectus, as the case may be, required to be prepared by the Trust under Securities Laws or to the documents incorporated therein by reference (collectively, the "Amendment") or other documents required to be filed under Section 5. The Amendment shall be in form and substance satisfactory to the Underwriters, acting reasonably. Prior to the filing of any Amendment, the Trust shall deliver to the Underwriters with respect to such Amendment letters and opinions similar to those referred to in Sections 3(c) and 3(d).

5. Material Changes

Commencing on the date hereof and until the completion of the Distribution, the Trust and AltaGas shall promptly notify the Underwriters in writing of:

(a) any change (actual, anticipated, contemplated or threatened, financial or otherwise) in the business, affairs, operations, assets, liabilities (contingent or otherwise), prospects or capital or ownership of the Trust taken as a whole;

(b) any material fact that has arisen or has been discovered which would have been required to have been stated in the Prospectus had the fact arisen or been discovered on, or prior to, the date of the Prospectus; and

(c) any change in any material fact in the Prospectus or any Amendment, or the existence of any new material fact, which change or new material fact is, or may be, of such a nature as:

(d) to render the Prospectus or Amendment, as they exist taken together in their entirety immediately prior to such change or new material fact, misleading or untrue in any material respect or would result in any of such documents, as they exist taken together in their entirety immediately prior to such change or new material fact, containing a misrepresentation;

(e) would result in the Prospectus or any Amendment, as they exist taken together in their entirety immediately prior to such change or new material fact, not complying with laws of the Qualifying Jurisdictions; or

(f) would reasonably be expected to have a significant effect on the market price or value of the Offered Units.

The Trust shall promptly, and in any event within any applicable time limitation, comply with all applicable filing and other requirements under Securities Laws arising as a result of such fact or change provided that the Trust shall not file any Amendment or other document without first consulting with the Underwriters as to the form and content thereof. The Trust and AltaGas shall, in good faith, discuss with the Underwriters any fact or change (actual, anticipated, contemplated or threatened, financial or otherwise) which is of such a nature that there is any doubt as to whether notice in writing need be given to the Underwriters pursuant to this Section 5 and, in any event, prior to making any filing referred to in this Section 5.

In addition, if, prior to the completion of the Distribution of the Offered Units, there is any change in any Securities Laws which results in the requirement to file an Amendment, the Trust shall, to the reasonable satisfaction of the Underwriters' counsel in the applicable jurisdictions, make any such filing required as soon as possible.

If a material change or a change in a material fact occurs prior to the Closing Date, then, subject to Section 13, the Closing Date shall be, unless the Trust and the Underwriters otherwise agree in writing, the sixth Business Day following the later of:

(i) the date on which all applicable filings or other requirements of Securities Laws with respect to such material change or change in a material fact have been complied with in all Qualifying Provinces and any appropriate MRRS decision documents obtained for such filings and notice of such filings have been received by the Underwriters; and

(ii) the date upon which the commercial copies of any Amendment have been delivered in accordance with Section 3(e),

provided, however, without the consent of the Underwriters, in no event shall the Closing Date be later than June 24, 2004.

6. Representations and Warranties of the Trust, AltaGas and Operating Partnership

The delivery to the Underwriters of the documents referred to in Sections 3(a), (b) and (c) shall constitute the consent of the Trust, AltaGas and Operating Partnership to the use by the Underwriters and the Selling Firms of such documents in connection with the Distribution of the Offered Units in compliance with the provisions of this Agreement and shall constitute the joint representation and warranty to the Underwriters by each of the Trust, AltaGas and Operating Partnership that:

(a) such documents at the time of their signing or filing fully complied with the requirements of the Securities Laws pursuant to which they were filed and all the information and statements relating to the Trust and the Subsidiaries contained therein (except for information or statements provided by and relating solely to the Underwriters and information or statements which are modified or superseded by information or statements contained in an Amendment) were, at the respective dates of delivery thereof, true and correct in all material respects, contained no misrepresentation and constituted full, true and plain disclosure of all material facts relating to the Offered Units as required by the Securities Laws;

(b) no material fact or information (except facts or information relating solely to the Underwriters) has been omitted from such documents and no other fact or information (except facts or information relating solely to the Underwriters) has been omitted therefrom which is necessary to make the statements contained therein not misleading in light of the circumstances in which they were made;

(c) the financial statements included in such documents or incorporated by reference therein present fairly in all material respects the financial position of the Trust or AltaGas, as applicable, as at the date indicated and, except as otherwise stated in such documents, such financial statements have been prepared in conformity with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles applied on a consistent basis;

(d) the pro forma financial statements, including the notes thereto, of the Trust incorporated by reference in the Prospectus have been prepared in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles, consistently applied, have been prepared and presented in accordance with Securities Laws, and include all adjustments necessary for a fair presentation; the assumptions contained in such pro forma financial statements are suitably supported and consistent with the financial results of the Trust and AltaGas Services Inc., and such statements provide a reasonable basis for the compilation of the pro forma financial statements and such pro forma financial statements accurately reflect such assumptions;

(e) the Arrangement was completed on the terms set forth in the Information Circular and all transactions included in the Arrangement have been consummated and all required filings in connection with the Arrangement have been made except for such filings which, if not completed, will not have a material adverse effect on the Trust and its Subsidiaries, taken as a whole; since the Effective Date (as defined in the Information Circular) there have been no amendments to any Material Agreements all of which agreements remain in full force and effect, unamended;

(f) the Registration Rights Agreement and the Securityholder Agreement constitute the entire agreement among the parties thereto with respect to the subject matter thereof and supersede all prior agreements and undertakings, both written and oral, among the parties thereto and their subsidiaries or affiliates, or any of them, with respect to the subject matter thereof, and each of the Registration Rights Agreement and the Securityholder Agreement remain in full force and effect unamended since the respective dates thereof, except for the waiver given in respect of the offering of Offered Units as described in Section 6(g);

(g) Enbridge Inc. ("Enbridge") will not purchase any Offered Units and further, Enbridge has, on behalf of itself and its affiliates, irrevocably waived and covenanted not to exercise any right under section 2.2 of the Registration Rights Agreement in respect of the offering of Offered Units;

(h) the Trust has been properly created, settled and organized and is a valid and subsisting trust under the laws of Alberta with all necessary power and authority to own and lease its properties and to conduct its business as described in the Final Prospectus including, without limitation to perform its obligations under the Material Agreements to which it is a party;

(i) the Subsidiaries include the only subsidiaries of the Trust (as the term "subsidiary" is defined in the Canada Business Corporations Act) the total assets of which constitute more than 10% of the consolidated assets of the Trust or the total revenues of which constitute more than 10% of the consolidated revenues of the Trust in each case as of the date of the most recent audited financial statements of AltaGas incorporated by reference in the Prospectus;

(j) each Subsidiary and Trust Corp has been duly incorporated, or in the case of the non-corporate Subsidiaries, formed and organized and is validly existing as a subsisting corporation, partnership or trust under the laws of its jurisdiction of incorporation or formation, as the case may be, with all necessary power and authority to own and lease its properties and to conduct its business as described in the Final Prospectus including, without limitation to perform its obligations under the Material Agreements to which it is a party;

(k) each of the Subsidiaries and Trust Corp is qualified to carry on business under the laws of each jurisdiction in which it carries on its business and the Trust is qualified to carry on its activities including, without limitation, owning the assets of the Trust in each jurisdiction where it carries on such activities;

(l) the Trust is the direct or indirect registered and beneficial owner of all of the issued and outstanding trust units, partnership units or interests, or common shares, as applicable, of the Subsidiaries (with the exception of Class B limited partnership units of each of AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 as described in Sections 6(z) and 6(aa)) and of a 50% interest in ASTC, with good and marketable title to all of such units, shares and interests, free and clear of any liens, pledges, charges, encumbrances, security interests or other adverse claims whatsoever, except as disclosed in the Final Prospectus;

(m) subject to applicable laws, none of the Trust or any Subsidiary is currently prohibited, directly or indirectly, from paying dividends, from making distributions on its capital stock, units or other interests or securities, or from paying any interest or repaying any loans, advances or other indebtedness of the Trust or such Subsidiary;

(n) the Trust is a "unit trust" and a "mutual fund trust" under the Income Tax Act (Canada) (the "Tax Act") and the Trust has conducted and at all times will conduct its affairs so as to continue to qualify as a "unit trust" and a "mutual fund trust" under the Tax Act, including by limiting its activities to investing the property of the Trust in accordance with the Declaration of Trust and in any event in property in which a "mutual fund trust" is permitted by the Tax Act to invest, and the Trust will not carry on any other business;

(o) to the best of the Trust's and AltaGas' knowledge, as at June 3rd, 2004 not less than 5.93% of the issued and outstanding Trust Units (4.36% on a diluted basis) were beneficially owned by "non-residents" (as defined in the Tax Act);

(p) the attributes and characteristics of the Offered Units to be issued at the Closing Time and, if applicable, the Additional Closing Time, will conform in all material respects to the attributes and characteristics thereof described in the Final Prospectus or any Amendment;

(q) except pursuant to this Agreement and as disclosed in the Final Prospectus and any Amendment, no person, firm or corporation has any agreement or option, or right or privilege (whether pre-emptive or contractual) capable of becoming an agreement, for the purchase, subscription or issuance of any of the unissued securities of the Trust or of any Subsidiary;

(r) the General Partner has the authority to enter into this Agreement on behalf of the Trust and AltaGas and to execute and deliver, on behalf of the Trust or a Subsidiary, as applicable, all other necessary documents in connection with the offering of the Offered Units, including the Prospectus and all necessary action has been taken by the General Partner to cause the execution and delivery of the Prospectus and the filing of such documents with the Securities Commissions;

(s) all authorizations, approvals and consents to be obtained by the Trust or any Subsidiary or Trust Corp under applicable laws, or under any agreements or documents by which the Trust or such Subsidiary or Trust Corp is bound, for the execution and delivery of this Agreement, and the failure of which to obtain would have a material adverse impact on the Trust, have been obtained and are in full force, and this Agreement will be a legal, valid and binding agreement of the Trust and each of the Subsidiaries that is a party hereto enforceable in accordance with its terms, subject as to enforcement to bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization and other laws of general applicability relating to or affecting creditors' rights and to general principles of equity;

(t) the Trust has full power and authority to issue the Firm Units and the Option Units and to grant the Over-Allotment Option and, at the Closing Date, the Firm Units and, at the Additional Closing Date, the Option Units will be duly and validly authorized, allotted and reserved for issuance and, upon receipt of the purchase price therefore, will be duly and validly issued as fully paid and non-assessable;

(u) the presently outstanding Trust Units are, and at the Closing Time the Offered Units will be, listed and posted for trading on the Toronto Stock Exchange;

(v) no authorization, approval or consent of any court or governmental authority or agency is required to be obtained by the Trust in connection with the sale and delivery of the Offered Units by the Trust in any Qualifying Jurisdictions except such as may be required under Securities Laws;

(w) the Trust is eligible in accordance with the provisions of National Instrument 44-101 of the Canadian securities regulatory authorities to file a short form prospectus in each of the Qualifying Jurisdictions;

(x) the Trust and each Subsidiary is current with all filings required to be made under the laws of all jurisdictions in which it exists or carries on any material business, is conducting its business in all material respects in compliance with all applicable laws, rules and regulations of each jurisdiction which it carries on business and has all necessary certificates, licences, leases, permits, authorizations and other approvals necessary to permit it to conduct its business, except where the absence of such power and authority or failure to make any filing or obtain any certificate, licence, lease, permit, authorization or other approval would not result in an adverse material change to the Trust and the Subsidiaries taken as a whole, and all such certificates, licenses, leases, permits, authorizations or other approvals are in full force and effect in accordance with their terms except where the failure to so maintain such certificates, licenses, leases, permits, authorizations or other approvals would not result in adverse material change;

(y) the authorized capital of the Trust consists of an unlimited number of Trust Units and an unlimited number of Special Voting Units; as at the date hereof 33,950,595 Trust Units and 1 Special Voting Unit (representing, in aggregate, 46,210,820 votes) are issued and outstanding as fully paid and non-assessable units in the capital of the Trust; and, as at June 3rd, 2004 3,800,000 Trust Units are reserved for issuance on exercise of options granted pursuant to the Trust Unit Option Plan of the Trust, 3,394,216 Trust Units are reserved for issuance on exchange of Class B limited partnership units of AltaGas LP #1, 8,866,009 Trust Units are reserved for issuance on exchange of Class B limited partnership units of AltaGas LP #2, 4,000,000 Trust Units are reserved for issuance pursuant to the DRIP Plans and no other Trust Units or Special Voting Units of the Trust are reserved for issuance;

(z) the authorized capital of AltaGas LP #1 consists of the interest of the General Partner in such partnership and an unlimited number of Class A limited partnership units and an unlimited number of Class B limited partnership units; as at the date hereof 33,668,068 Class A limited partnership units are issued and outstanding and legally and beneficially held by AltaGas Holding Trust and 3,394,216 Class B limited partnership units are issued and outstanding and no other units of AltaGas LP #1 are reserved for issuance;

(aa) the authorized capital of AltaGas LP #2 consists of the interest of the General Partner in such partnership and an unlimited number of Class A limited partnership units and an unlimited number of Class B limited partnership units; as at the date hereof 37,062,284 Class A limited partnership units are issued and outstanding and legally and beneficially held by AltaGas LP #1 and 8,866,009 Class B limited partnership units are issued and outstanding and legally and beneficially held by Enbridge and/or its affiliates and no other units of AltaGas LP #2 are reserved for issuance;

(bb) the Trust, each Subsidiary and Trust Corp is not (i) in breach or violation of any of the terms or provisions of, or in default under (whether after notice or lapse of time or both) any indenture, mortgage, note, contract, deed of trust, loan agreement, lease or other agreement (written or oral) or instrument to which it is a party or by which it is bound or to which any of its property or assets is subject, including the Material Agreements, which breach or violation or the consequences thereof would, alone or in the aggregate, result in an adverse material change to the Trust and the Subsidiaries taken as a whole, or (ii) in violation of the provisions of the Declaration of Trust, articles or resolutions or any statute or any judgment, decree, order, rule or regulation of any court or governmental agency or body having jurisdiction over it or any of its properties which violation or the consequences thereof would, alone or in the aggregate, result in an adverse material change to the Trust;

(cc) as at the date hereof, the principal amount outstanding under the Loan Agreement is $540,000,000 which amount is payable to AltaGas LP #2 by AltaGas, and the aggregate principal amount of the Series 1 Notes is $701,757,108, all of which notes are legally and beneficially held by the Trust and there are no other notes of any series outstanding pursuant to the Holding Trust Note Indenture;

(dd) except as disclosed in the Final Prospectus and any Amendment, the execution and delivery of this Agreement and the issue, sale and delivery of the Offered Units pursuant to this Agreement and the performance or the consummation of the transactions contemplated in this Agreement do not and will not conflict with or result in a breach or violation of any of the terms or provisions of, or constitute a default under (whether after notice or lapse of time or both), any indenture, mortgage, note, contract, deed of trust, loan agreement, lease or other agreement (written or oral) or instrument to which the Trust, any Subsidiary or Trust Corp is a party or by which it is bound or to which any of its property or assets is subject, including the Material Agreements, which breach or violation or the consequences thereof would, alone or in the aggregate, result in an adverse material change to the Trust and the Subsidiaries, taken as a whole, or the ability of the Trust or any Subsidiary to perform their obligations contemplated by this Agreement, nor will such action conflict with or result in any violation of provisions of the resolutions, articles, by-laws or constating documents of the Trust, AltaGas or any other Subsidiaries or any statute or any judgment, decree, order, rule or regulation of any court or governmental agency or body having jurisdiction over it or any of its properties which violation or the consequences thereof would, alone or in the aggregate, result in an adverse material change to the Trust and the Subsidiaries, taken as a whole or the ability of the Trust or any Subsidiary to perform their obligations contemplated by this Agreement;

(ee) except as disclosed in the Final Prospectus and any Amendment, there are no legal or governmental actions, suits, proceedings, investigations or inquiries pending or (to the knowledge of the Trust and AltaGas) contemplated or threatened against or affecting the Trust or any Subsidiary at law or in equity or before or by any federal, provincial, municipal or other governmental department, commission, board, bureau, agency or instrumentality, foreign or domestic, which materially adversely affect, or are reasonably likely to materially adversely affect, the business, affairs, business prospects, operations, assets or condition (financial or otherwise) of the Trust and the Subsidiaries, taken as a whole, or which affect or are reasonably likely to affect the Distribution of the Offered Units or the validity of any action taken or to be taken by the Trust or any Subsidiary pursuant to or in connection with this Agreement;

(ff) except as disclosed in the Final Prospectus and any Amendment, since December 31, 2003, the Trust or any Subsidiary has not incurred, assumed or suffered any liability or any tax liability (in either case, absolute, accrued, contingent or otherwise) or entered into any transaction which is or is reasonably expected to be material to the Trust and the Subsidiaries, taken as whole, and is not in the ordinary course of business;

(gg) except as disclosed in the Final Prospectus and any Amendment, since December 31, 2003, there has not been any material change or a change in material fact (actual, anticipated, contemplated, proposed or threatened, financial or otherwise) in the business, affairs, business prospects, operation, assets, liabilities or obligations (absolute, accrued, contingent or otherwise) or capital or ownership of the Trust and the Subsidiaries, taken as whole;

(hh) the Trust is a "reporting issuer" or has equivalent status in each of the Qualifying Jurisdictions within the meaning of Securities Laws;

(ii) no order, ruling or determination having the effect of suspending the sale or ceasing the trading of the Trust Units or any other securities of the Trust or any Subsidiary has been issued or made by any Securities Commission or other applicable regulatory authority and is continuing in effect and no proceedings for that purpose have been instituted or are pending or to the best of the knowledge of the General Partner, are contemplated or threatened by any such authority;

(jj) Computershare Trust Company of Canada at its principal offices in Calgary and Toronto has been duly appointed as the registrar and transfer agent for the Trust Units;

(kk) each of the agreements which are material agreements to the Trust and the Subsidiaries, taken as whole, including the Material Agreements, have been duly and validly executed and delivered by the Trust or the Subsidiary, constitutes a valid or binding obligation of the Trust or the Subsidiary enforceable against it in accordance with its terms, except as enforcement thereof may be limited by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium and other laws relating to or affecting the rights of creditors generally, and except as limited by the application of equitable principles when equitable remedies are sought and by the fact that rights to indemnity, contribution and waiver, and the ability to sever enforceable terms, may be limited by applicable law, is in good standing and, except as disclosed in the Final Prospectus and any Amendment, there has not been any default by or dispute with any party thereunder which might reasonably be expected to result in an adverse material change in the condition, financial or otherwise, or in the earnings, business affairs or business prospects of the Trust and the Subsidiaries, taken as a whole;

(ll) the information and statements set forth in the Public Record were (or will be, as applicable) true, correct, and complete and did not (or will not, as applicable) contain any misrepresentation, as of the date of such information or statements and the Trust is not in default of any material requirement of Securities Laws;

(mm) the records and minute books of the Trust and its Subsidiaries which have been made available to the Underwriters and counsel to the Underwriters for review contain, in all material respects, complete and accurate minutes of all relevant meetings held since organization and original signed copies of all resolutions duly passed or confirmed;

(nn) except as disclosed in the Final Prospectus and any Amendment, there are no outstanding claims, actions, suits, litigation, arbitration, investigations, proceedings or inquiries, whether or not purportedly on behalf of the Trust or any Subsidiary or, to the knowledge of the Trust or any Subsidiary, proposed or threatened in writing against the Trust or any Subsidiary which, if determined adversely to the Trust or any Subsidiary could have an adverse material affect on the Trust and the Subsidiaries, taken as a whole, their respective businesses, affairs, business prospects, operations, properties, liabilities or obligations (absolute, accrued, contingent or otherwise), capital or ownership, taken as a whole, or which may restrict or prohibit the ability of the Trust to perform its obligations hereunder;

(oo) the Trust and each Subsidiary have good and marketable title to all material property and assets free and clear of all liens and encumbrances and defects that would materially affect the value of such property and assets or materially interfere with the use made or to be made of such property and assets by them and, except as disclosed in the Prospectus and any Amendment, the Trust and each Subsidiary hold all of their material leased real or personal property under valid and enforceable leases with no exceptions that would materially interfere with the use made or to be made of such property by them and the Trust and each Subsidiary have not received notice of any material claim of any sort that has been asserted by anyone adverse to the rights of the Trust or any Subsidiary to the continued possession of the leased or subleased properties; and except as set forth in the Final Prospectus and any Amendment, the Trust and each Subsidiary own or lease all such properties as are necessary to their business as currently conducted; except in each case where such event might reasonably be expected to result in an adverse material change in the condition, financial or otherwise, or in the earnings, business affairs or business prospects of the Trust and the Subsidiaries, taken as a whole;

(pp) except as disclosed in the Final Prospectus and any Amendment, the Trust and the Subsidiaries are insured by insurers of recognized financial responsibility against such losses and risks and in such amounts as are customary in the businesses in which they are engaged; all policies of insurance and fidelity or surety bonds insuring the Trust and each Subsidiary or their business, assets, employees, officers and directors are in full force and effect; the Trust and the Subsidiaries are in compliance with the terms of such policies and instruments in all material respects; and there are no material claims by the Trust or any Subsidiary under any such policy or instrument as to which any insurance company is denying liability or defending under a reservation of rights clause; the Trust and each Subsidiary have no reason to believe that they will not be able to renew their existing insurance coverage as and when such coverage expires or to obtain similar coverage from similar insurers as may be necessary to continue their business at a cost that would not have a material adverse effect on the condition (financial or otherwise), prospects, earnings, business or properties of the Trust and its Subsidiaries, taken as a whole;

(qq) except as disclosed in the Final Prospectus and any Amendment, the Trust and the Subsidiaries (i) are in compliance with Environmental Laws, (ii) have received and are in compliance with all permits, licenses or other approvals required of them under applicable Environmental Laws to conduct their respective businesses; and (iii) have not received notice of any actual or potential liability for the investigation or remediation of any disposal or release of hazardous or toxic substances or wastes, pollutants or contaminants, except where such non-compliance with Environmental Laws, failure to receive required permits, licenses or other approvals, or liability would not, individually or in the aggregate, have a material adverse effect on the condition (financial or otherwise), prospects, earnings, business or properties of the Trust and the Subsidiaries, taken as a whole, whether or not arising from transactions in the ordinary course of business;

(rr) in the ordinary course of the business of the Trust and the Subsidiaries, such entities periodically review the effect of Environmental Laws on the business, operations and properties of the Trust and the Subsidiaries, in the course of which they identify and evaluate associated costs and liabilities (including, without limitation, any capital or operating expenditures required for clean-up, closure of properties or compliance with Environmental Laws, or any permit, license or approval, any related constraints on operating activities and any potential liabilities to third parties); the Trust and the Subsidiaries also conduct pre-acquisition investigations of new properties to identify potential violations of Environmental Laws, train management personnel in the recognition of and proper response to incidents of non-compliance with Environmental Laws and establish procedures for communicating such incidents to its senior management. On the basis of such review, except as set forth in or contemplated in the Final Prospectus and any Amendment, neither the Trust nor any Subsidiary has concluded that such associated costs and liabilities would not, singly or in the aggregate, have a material adverse effect on the condition (financial or otherwise), prospects, earnings, business or properties of the Trust and the Subsidiaries, taken as a whole, whether or not arising from transactions in the ordinary course of business;

(ss) other than pursuant to this Agreement, neither the Trust nor any Subsidiary is a party to any contract, agreement or understanding with any person that would give rise to a valid claim against it or the Underwriters for a brokerage commission, finder's fee or like payment in connection with the offering and sale of the Offered Units; and

(tt) the Trust, in making its decision to sell the Offered Units, did not rely on any material information concerning the Trust and the Subsidiaries, taken as a whole, that, to its knowledge, is not publicly disclosed or is not disclosed in the Final Prospectus.

7. Covenants of the Trust, AltaGas and Operating Partnership

Each of the Trust, AltaGas and Operating Partnership covenants to the Underwriters that:

(a) the Trust and AltaGas will advise the Underwriters, promptly after receiving notice thereof, of the time when the Final Prospectus and any Amendment has been filed and MRRS decision documents therefore have been obtained and will provide evidence reasonably satisfactory to the Underwriters of each such filing and copies of such MRRS decision documents;

(b) the Trust and AltaGas will advise the Underwriters, promptly after receiving notice or obtaining knowledge thereof, of: (i) the issuance by any securities regulatory authority of any order suspending or preventing the use of the Final Prospectus or any Amendment; (ii) the suspension of the qualification of the Offered Units in any of the Qualifying Jurisdictions; (iii) the institution, threatening or contemplation of any proceeding for any purposes listed in (i) or (ii) above; or (iii) any requests made by any securities regulatory authority for amending or supplementing the Final Prospectus or for additional information, and will use its commercially reasonable efforts to prevent the issuance of any order or suspension referred to in (i) and (ii) above and, if any such order is issued, to obtain the withdrawal thereof as quickly as possible;

(c) the Trust and AltaGas shall, prior to the completion of the Distribution of the Offered Units in the Qualifying Jurisdictions, take or use their reasonable best efforts to cause to be taken all steps and proceedings that may be required under Securities Laws to qualify the Offered Units for sale to the public in the Qualifying Jurisdictions through registrants registered under applicable laws who have complied with the relevant provisions of Securities Laws;

(d) prior to the completion of the Distribution of the Offered Units in the Qualifying Jurisdictions, the Final Prospectus and any Amendment will comply with the requirements of Securities Laws, will provide full, true and plain disclosure of all material facts relating to the Trust, its Subsidiaries and to the Offered Units to the extent required by Securities Laws and will not contain any misrepresentation (provided that the foregoing covenant of the Trust, AltaGas and Operating Partnership shall not apply to facts or information relating solely to the Underwriters or which are modified by or superseded by facts or information contained in the Final Prospectus or any Amendment); and

(e) they shall not authorize or permit section 9 of the LOI (including by the terms of any purchase and sale agreement (the "PremStar P&S") negotiated in accordance with the LOI) to be amended so as to reduce or modify the escrow arrangements contemplated by section 9 of the LOI without the prior consent of the Bookrunner.

8. Closing

The purchase by the Underwriters of the Offered Units under this Agreement shall take place at the offices of Stikeman Elliott LLP, Calgary, Alberta at 6:30 a.m. (Calgary time) (the "Closing Time") on June 10, 2004 or at such other date and time as may be agreed upon in writing and as such date may be extended pursuant to Sections 5 or 14 (the "Closing Date"), but in any event no later than June 24, 2004.

The purchase and sale of any Option Units will occur at the place and time (the "Additional Closing Time") and on the date (the "Additional Closing Date") specified in the written notice to the Trust given by the Bookrunner, on behalf of the Underwriters, in connection with the exercise of the Over-Allotment Option, which date will not be earlier than the Closing Date or the second Business day after the giving of the notice or later than the fifth Business Day after the giving of the notice (and which closing, for greater certainty, may occur on a date that is more than 30 days after the Closing Date).

9. Closing Conditions

The Underwriters' obligations under this Agreement are conditional upon and subject to the following conditions being fulfilled at or prior to the Closing Time, which conditions may be waived in writing in whole or in part by the Underwriters:

(a) the Underwriters shall have received at the Closing Time one or more definitive certificates representing in aggregate the Firm Units registered in the name of the Bookrunner, or in such other name or names as the Bookrunner shall notify the Trust in writing not more than 24 hours prior to the Closing Time against delivery of the Purchase Price, net of the Underwriting Fee, by bank draft or wire transfer payable to or to the order of the Trust;

(b) the Underwriters shall have received at the Closing Time a certificate dated as of the Closing Date and signed on behalf of the Trust by the Chairman and Chief Executive Officer and Senior Vice-President Finance and Chief Financial Officer, of the General Partner, on behalf of the Trust, and of AltaGas, or such other persons as may be agreed upon by the Underwriters, acting reasonably, certifying (in their capacity as officers of the Trust, or AltaGas, as the case may be, and not in their personal capacity) that to the knowledge, information and belief of such persons, after having made or caused to be made reasonable inquiries and having carefully examined the Final Prospectus and any Amendment and except as may be disclosed in the Final Prospectus or any Amendment:

(i) no order ceasing or suspending trading in the Trust Units has been issued and, to the knowledge of such persons, no proceedings for such purposes are pending or threatened;

(ii) since the date of the Final Prospectus, there has been no material change, occurrence or development as contemplated by Section 5 (other than a change, occurrence or development related to the Underwriters);

(iii) the representations and warranties of the Trust, AltaGas and Operating Partnership herein are true and correct in all material respects at the Closing Time as if made as at such time;

(iv) each of the Trust, AltaGas and Operating Partnership has complied in all material respects with all covenants and satisfied all terms and conditions hereof to be complied with and satisfied by it except to the extent that the same have been waived by the Underwriters in writing pursuant hereto; and

(v) as to such other matters as the Underwriters may reasonably request;

(c) the Underwriters shall have received at the Closing Time a favourable legal opinion dated the Closing Date and addressed to the Underwriters and their counsel, from counsel to the Trust and AltaGas with respect to:

(i) the Trust, each Subsidiary and Trust Corp being duly incorporated or formed and validly existing and the Trustee being duly appointed as the Trustee of the Trust and Trust Corp being duly appointed as the trustee of AltaGas Holding Trust;

(ii) all necessary actions having been taken by the Trust to authorize the signing and delivery by the Trust of the Final Prospectus and any Amendment;

(iii) all necessary action having been taken by the Trust to validly allot and issue to the Underwriters the Firm Units and the Option Units and to grant the Over-Allotment Option;

(iv) the Firm Units having been validly authorized and issued and outstanding as fully paid Trust Units;

(v) in reliance on the conditional listing letter of the TSX, the conditional approval of the TSX of the listing of the Firm Units and the Option Units, subject to standard listing conditions being completed on or before the date specified for such in such letter;

(vi) no consent, approval, authorization or order of or filing with any Canadian federal or provincial court or public, governmental or regulatory agency or body being required to be made or obtained by the Trust or any Subsidiary for the execution, delivery and performance by the Trust and the relevant Subsidiaries of this Agreement or for the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby, except for such as have been made or obtained under Securities Laws;

(vii) each of the Trust and the Subsidiaries having all requisite corporate or equivalent power and authority to own, lease and operate its property and assets and to carry on its business as described in the Prospectus and to execute, deliver and perform its obligations under the Material Agreements to which it is a party;

(viii) the conformity of the Trust Units and the Exchangeable Securities to the description thereof in the Final Prospectus;

(ix) the due execution and delivery by the Trust and of each Subsidiary a party thereto of each of the Material Agreements and the legality, validity and enforceability of the Material Agreements against the Trust and each Subsidiary a party thereto (subject to usual qualifications);

(x) the execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement and the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and the Prospectus and the sale of the Offered Units at the Closing Time not resulting in a breach of, and not creating a state of facts which, after notice or lapse of time, or both, results in a breach of, or a conflict with or a default under (a) any of the terms, conditions or provisions of the Declaration of Trust, the articles, by-laws or resolutions of the Unitholders, partners or shareholders of the Trust and the Subsidiaries, as applicable, (b) any laws of Canada or the Province of Alberta, or (c) to the knowledge of such counsel, any indenture, mortgage, note, contract, deed of trust, loan agreement, lease or other agreement (written or oral) or instrument to which the Trust or any Subsidiary is a party or by which it is bound or to which any of its property or assets is subject, including the Material Agreements, which breach or violation or the consequences thereof would, alone or in the aggregate, result in an adverse material change to the Trust and the Subsidiaries taken as a whole;

(xi) the qualification under Securities Laws of the Offered Units for Distribution in each of the Qualifying Jurisdictions;

(xii) the form and terms of the certificate for the Trust Units having been approved and adopted by the Trustee on behalf of the Trust, and the compliance of such form with all legal requirements and the Declaration of Trust;

(xiii) the appointment as transfer agent and registrar for the Trust Units of the Trustee at its principal offices in the Cities of Calgary and Toronto;

(xiv) the confirmation of the accuracy and completeness of the sections in the Final Prospectus entitled "Certain Canadian Federal Income Tax Considerations" and "Eligibility for Investment"; and

(xv) as to such other matters as the Underwriters or counsel to the Underwriters may reasonably request;

(d) the Underwriters shall have received at the Closing Time a favourable legal opinion dated the Closing Date of counsel to the Underwriters as to such matters relating to the offering of the Offered Units as the Underwriters may reasonably require, it being understood that counsel may rely on the opinions of local counsel acceptable to them as to matters governed by the laws of jurisdictions other than the provinces of Alberta or Canada and counsel to the Underwriters may rely on the opinions of counsel to the Trust and AltaGas as to matters which relate specifically to the Trust and the Subsidiaries;

(e) each of the Trust, AltaGas and Operating Partnership shall have complied in all material respects with all covenants and satisfied all terms and conditions of this Agreement on its part to be complied with or satisfied up to the Closing Time;

(f) AltaGas, or its predecessor (if applicable), shall not be or be deemed to be a reporting issuer or the equivalent thereof not in good standing and shall not be in default of any Securities Laws in the Qualifying Jurisdictions at the Closing Time if in the opinion of the Underwriters, acting reasonably, such failure to be in good standing or such default could have a material adverse effect on the Trust or the offering of Offered Units;

(g) the Underwriters shall have received at the Closing Time a comfort letter from the auditors of the Trust dated the date of delivery and acceptable in form and substance to the Underwriters bringing the information contained in any comfort letter referred to in Section 3(d) forward to the Closing Time, provided that such comfort letter shall be based on a review by the auditors having a cut-off date not more than two Business Days prior to the Closing Time;

(h) the Underwriters shall have received at the Closing Time an opinion of the Trust's counsel dated the Closing Date and acceptable in form and substance to the Underwriters' counsel, as to compliance with the laws of the Province of Quebec relating to the use of the French language; and

(i) evidence satisfactory to the Underwriters that the distribution expected to be payable to Unitholders of record on or about June 25, 2004 will be paid on the Firm Units and, if the Additional Closing Time occurs on or prior to June 25, 2004, on the Option Units.

If and when the Over-Allotment Option is exercised from time to time and as to all or any portion of the Option Units, a definitive certificate or certificates for such Option Units, and payment therefore, shall be delivered at the Additional Closing Time in the manner set forth in Section 12(a) above and upon the terms and conditions set forth above in Section 12(b) to (g) inclusive, except that references in Section 12 to the Closing Date and the Closing Time shall be deemed, for the purposes of this paragraph, to refer to the Additional Closing Date and the Additional Closing Time, respectively, and references in such Section to the Firm Units shall be deemed, for the purposes of this paragraph, to refer to the Option Units being purchased by the Underwriters at such time.

Whether or not specifically contemplated in this Agreement, all provisions of this Agreement shall apply in the same manner and on the terms and conditions in respect of the purchase of any Option Units as would apply to the purchase of the Firm Units, and any steps to be taken or conditions to be satisfied in order to complete the sale of the Firm Units shall apply equally in order to complete the sale of any Option Units.

10. Indemnity

(a) Indemnity. Each of the Trust, AltaGas and Operating Partnership (collectively, the "Indemnifying Parties") covenants and agrees that it shall (subject to Sections 10(e) and 11) protect and indemnify the Underwriters and their respective shareholders, directors, officers, partners, employees and agents (the "Indemnified Parties") from and against all losses (other than loss of profit and consequential damages in connection with the Distribution of the Offered Units), claims, costs, damages and liabilities caused by or arising directly or indirectly by reason of:

(i) any breach of or default under any representation, warranty, covenant or agreement made by the Trust, AltaGas or Operating Partnership in this Agreement or any other document to be delivered pursuant hereto;

(ii) any information or statement (except any information or statement furnished by or relating solely to the Underwriters or any of them) contained in the Prospectus, or any Amendment or any document incorporated by reference in such Prospectus or Amendment being or being alleged to be a misrepresentation or untrue or any omission or alleged omission to state therein any fact or information (except facts or information relating to the Underwriters or any of them) required to be stated therein or necessary to make any of the statements therein not misleading in light of the circumstances in which they were made; or

(iii) any order made or any inquiry, investigation or proceeding commenced or threatened by any securities regulatory authority or by any other competent authority, based upon any untrue statement, omission or misrepresentation or alleged untrue statement, omission or misrepresentation (except a statement, omission or misrepresentation relating solely to the Underwriters or any of them) in the Prospectus or any Amendment or any document incorporated by reference in such Prospectus or Amendment (except any document or material delivered or filed by the Underwriters or any of them) preventing or restricting the trading in, the sale or Distribution of the Offered Units in any of the Qualifying Jurisdictions.

(b) Notification of Claims. If any claim contemplated by this Section 10 shall be asserted against any of the Indemnified Parties, or if any potential claim contemplated by this Section 10 shall come to the knowledge of any of the Indemnified Parties, the Indemnified Party concerned shall give notice to the Indemnifying Parties as soon as possible of the nature of such claim (provided that any failure to so notify in respect of any potential claim shall not affect the Indemnifying Parties' liability and provided further that any failure to so notify in respect of any actual claim shall affect the Indemnifying Parties' liability under this Section 10 only to the extent that they are materially prejudiced by such failure).

(c) Retaining Counsel. The Indemnifying Parties shall, subject as hereinafter provided, be entitled (but not required) to assume conduct of any negotiations, defence or settlement on behalf of the Indemnified Party of any such claim or any suit brought to enforce such claim; provided that the conduct of any negotiations, defence or settlement shall be through legal counsel acceptable to the Indemnified Party, acting reasonably, and no admission of liability shall be made by the Indemnifying Parties without the prior written consent of all parties hereto, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld. An Indemnified Party shall have the right to retain separate counsel in any such suit and participate in the defence thereof but the fees and expenses of such counsel shall be at the expense of the Indemnified Party unless:

(i) the Indemnifying Parties fail to assume the defence of such suit on behalf of the Indemnified Party within seven Business Days of receiving notice of such suit;

(ii) the employment of such counsel has been authorized by the Indemnifying Parties; or

(iii) the named parties to any such suit (including any added or third parties) include both the Indemnified Party and one or more of the Indemnifying Parties and the Indemnified Party shall have been advised by counsel that the representation of both parties by the same counsel would be inappropriate due to the actual differing interests between them or there may be one or more legal defences available to the Indemnified Party which are different from or in addition to those available to the Indemnifying Parties;

(in the case of each of (c)(i), (ii) and (iii) the Indemnifying Parties shall not have the right to assume the defence of such suit on behalf of the Indemnified Party but shall be liable to pay the reasonable fees and expenses of one firm of separate counsel acceptable to the Indemnifying Parties, acting reasonably, for all Indemnified Parties and, in addition, one firm of local counsel acceptable to the Indemnifying Parties, acting reasonably, in each applicable jurisdiction).

(d) Right of Indemnity in Favour of Others. It is the intention of the Indemnifying Parties to constitute each Underwriter as the trustee for the respective Underwriters' directors, shareholders, officers, employees and agents of the covenants of the Indemnifying Parties under this Section 10 with respect to such Underwriter's directors, shareholders, officers, employees and agents and each Underwriter agrees to accept such trust and hold and enforce such covenants on behalf of such persons.

(e) Indemnity not Available. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 10, the foregoing rights of indemnity shall not enure to an Indemnified Party if the Indemnifying Parties have complied with the provisions of Section 5 and the claim for indemnification relates to a person asserting a claim in respect of an alleged untrue statement in or alleged omission from the Final Prospectus, or any Amendment thereto, and such person was not provided with a copy of the document which corrects such alleged untrue statement or alleged omission and which is required, under applicable law, to be sent or delivered to such person by such Indemnified Party.

11. Contribution

In order to provide for just and equitable contribution in circumstances in which the indemnity provided in Section 10 would otherwise be available in accordance with its terms but is, for any reason not attributable to any one or more of the Indemnified Parties, held to be unavailable to or unenforceable by an Indemnified Party or is insufficient to hold the Indemnified Party harmless, the Indemnifying Parties shall contribute to the aggregate of all claims, expenses, costs and liabilities and all losses (other than loss of profits and consequential damages) of the nature contemplated in Section 10 (including legal fees and disbursements) and suffered or incurred by the Indemnified Parties in such proportions so that the Indemnified Parties are responsible for that portion thereof as is represented by the percentage that the total Underwriting Fee payable by the Trust bears to the total gross proceeds to the Trust of the sale of the Offered Units (including the Underwriting Fee), both as determined pursuant to the provisions hereof, and the Indemnifying Parties shall be responsible for the balance whether or not they have been sued or sued separately; provided that the Indemnified Parties shall not in any event be liable to contribute, in the aggregate, any amount in excess of such total Underwriting Fee or any portion thereof actually received.

The rights to contribution provided in this Section 11 shall be in addition to and not in derogation of any other right to contribution which the Indemnified Parties may have by statute or otherwise at law. If an Indemnified Party has reason to believe that a claim for contribution may arise, the Indemnified Party shall give the Indemnifying Parties notice thereof in writing, but failure to so notify shall not relieve the Indemnifying Parties of any obligation which they may have to the Indemnified Party under this Section 11, except to the extent that they are materially prejudiced by such failure, and the right of the applicable Indemnifying Parties to assume the defence of such Indemnified Party shall apply as set out in Section 10, with necessary changes in detail.

The Indemnifying Parties further agree not to claim contribution from the Indemnified Parties in the event of any action brought against the Indemnifying Parties as a result of any information, statement or omission referred to in Section 10(a)(ii) (except any information or statement or omission relating to the Underwriters or any of them).

12. Expenses of the Offering

Whether or not the transactions herein contemplated shall be completed and except as provided below, all expenses of or incidental to the sale of the Offered Units shall be borne by the Trust, including, without limitation, expenses payable in connection with the qualification of the Offered Units, the fees and expenses of counsel and auditors to the Trust, all marketing expenses including printing of marketing materials (including the confidential information memorandum) and road show expenses, and all costs incurred in connection with the preparation, translation, printing and delivery of the Prospectus and any Amendment (including commercial copies thereof). The fees and expenses of counsel for the Underwriters and the out-of-pocket expenses of the Underwriters shall be borne by the Underwriters; provided that in the event that the sale of the Offered Units is not completed as contemplated hereby by reason of a breach of this Agreement by the Trust, the Trust shall assume and pay the reasonable fees and expenses of counsel to the Underwriters and the reasonable out-of-pocket expenses of the Underwriters.

13. Termination

In addition to any other remedies which may be available to the Underwriters, any Underwriter shall be entitled, at the Underwriter's option, to terminate and cancel the Underwriter's obligations under this Agreement:

(a) if any inquiry, action, suit, investigation or other proceeding whether formal or informal is announced, threatened or commenced or any order is issued under or pursuant to any statute, or otherwise (except for any inquiry, investigation or other proceeding, or any order, based upon the activities or alleged activities of the Underwriters or the Selling Firms); or any law or regulation is promulgated, changed or announced; or any change or proposed change in the income tax laws of Canada or the interpretation or administration thereof occurs or is announced or threatened which, in the opinion of the Underwriter, acting reasonably, operates to prevent or restrict the trading in the Offered Units or the completion of the offering of Offered Units or would be expected to have a material adverse effect on the market price or value of the Trust Units, by giving the Trust written notice to that effect at any time prior to the Closing Time;

(b) if, prior to the Closing Time, there shall occur any change, occurrence or development as is contemplated in Section 5 (other than a change, occurrence or development related to the Underwriter), which in the Underwriter's opinion could be reasonably expected to have a material adverse effect on the market price or value of the Offered Units, by giving the Trust written notice to that effect prior to Closing Time;

(c) if, prior to the Closing Time, there should develop, occur or come into effect any occurrence of national or international consequence or any action, government law or regulation or inquiry which in the Underwriter's opinion seriously adversely affects, or may seriously adversely affect, the financial markets or the business of the Trust in each case taken as a whole, by giving the Trust written notice to that effect prior to the Closing Time; or

(d) the Trust, AltaGas or Operating Partnership shall be in breach or default under or non-compliance with any representation, warranty, term or condition of this Agreement, in any material respect.

If any Underwriter terminates its obligations hereunder pursuant to this Section 13, the liability of the Trust, AltaGas and Operating Partnership hereunder to the Underwriter, if any, and the liability of the Underwriter hereunder to the Trust, AltaGas and Operating Partnership, if any, shall be limited to the respective obligations of such parties under Sections 10, 11 and 12.

14. Underwriting Percentages

(a) The Underwriters' obligation to purchase the Firm Units at the Closing Time (and the Option Units, if any, at the Additional Closing Time) shall be several and not joint, and the Underwriters' respective obligations in this respect shall be as to the percentages set forth in Schedule A of the aggregate amount of Firm Units to be purchased at the Closing Time (or the Option Units, if any, at the Additional Closing Time).

(b) If one or more of the Underwriters shall fail or refuse to purchase its or their applicable percentages set forth in Schedule A of the aggregate amount of the Firm Units at the Closing Time, the other Underwriter or Underwriters shall have the right, but shall not be obligated, to purchase on a pro rata basis, or such other basis as such other Underwriters may agree, all, but not less than all, of the principal amount of Firm Units which would otherwise have been purchased by the Underwriter or Underwriters which fail to purchase. If such right is exercised, either the non-defaulting Underwriters or the Trust shall have the right to postpone the Closing Date for such period, not exceeding five Business Days in order that the required changes, if any, in the Final Prospectus or in any other documents or arrangements may be effected. If such right is not exercised, the other Underwriters not in default shall be relieved of all obligations to the Trust under this Agreement upon submission to the Trust of reasonable evidence of its or their ability and willingness to fulfil its or their obligations hereunder at the Closing Time. Nothing in this Section 14 shall oblige the Trust to sell to any or all of the Underwriters less than all of the aggregate amount of the Firm Units or shall relieve any of the Underwriters in default hereunder from liability to the Trust.

15. Black-out Period

The Trust hereby agrees that without the prior consent of the Bookrunner, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, it will not, during the period ending 90 days after the Closing Date, (i) offer, issue, secure, pledge, sell, contract to sell, sell any option or contract to purchase, purchase any option or contract to sell, grant any option, right or warrant to purchase, or otherwise lend, transfer or dispose of, directly or indirectly, any Trust Units or Special Voting Units of the Trust or any securities convertible into or exercisable or exchangeable for such units (and will not permit any Subsidiary, including AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2 to undertake any of the aforementioned transactions) or (ii) enter into any swap or other arrangement that transfers to another, in whole or in part, any of the economic consequences of ownership of such units, whether any such transaction described in clause (i) or (ii) above is to be settled by delivery of such units, or such other securities, in cash or otherwise, provided that this Section 15(a) shall not restrict the grant of options, or the issue of Trust Units on exercise of options granted, pursuant to the Trust Unit Option Plan of AltaGas, Trust Units issued on exchange of Class B limited partnership units of AltaGas LP #1, Trust Units issued on exchange of Class B limited partnership units of AltaGas LP #2, Trust Units issued pursuant to the mid-term incentive plan of AltaGas and Trust Units issued pursuant to the DRIP Plans and the issuance of the PremStar Trust Units pursuant to the LOI or the PremStar P&S, subject to and in accordance with Section 7(e) of this Agreement and the consent of the Bookrunner dated May 27, 2004.

16. Termination/Waiver

All material terms and conditions of this offer shall be construed as conditions, and any breach or failure to comply with any material terms or conditions shall entitle the Underwriters, without limitation of any other remedies of the Underwriters, to terminate such Underwriters' obligations to purchase the Offered Units by giving written notice to that effect to the Trust prior to the Closing Time. It is understood that the Underwriters may waive in whole or in part, or extend the time for compliance with, any of such terms and conditions without prejudice to such Underwriters' rights in respect of any other of such terms and conditions or any other or subsequent breach or non-compliance, provided that to be binding on such Underwriters any such waiver or extension must be in writing.

17. Contracts of the Trust

The parties hereto acknowledge that the General Partner is entering into this Agreement solely on behalf of the Trust and the obligations of the Trust hereunder shall not be personally binding upon the General Partner or any of the Unitholders of the Trust and that any recourse against the Trust, the General Partner or any Unitholder in any manner in respect of indebtedness, obligation or liability arising hereunder or arising in connection herewith or from the matters to which this Agreement relates, including without limitation claims based on negligence or otherwise tortious behaviour, shall be limited to, and satisfied only out of, the Trust Assets as defined in the Declaration of Trust dated as of March 26, 2004, as from time to time amended, supplemented or restated.

18. Distributions

The Trust agrees that, provided the Closing Date occurs on or prior to June 25, 2004, it shall not prior to the Closing Date declare or pay or establish a record date for any distributions to Unitholders of the Trust prior to the Closing Date, other than the regular monthly distribution of $0.15 per Trust Unit which is payable on June 15, 2004 to Unitholders of record on May 25, 2004. The Trust agrees that it is a material term of this Agreement and the determination of the purchase price of the Offered Units that the distribution expected to be paid to Unitholders of record on June 25, 2004 be paid on Firm Units and, if the Additional Closing Date occurs on or prior to June 25, 2004, the Option Units. Accordingly, the Trust agrees that if for any reason the conditions referred to in Section 9 are not satisfied (other than as a result of the Closing Date or the Additional Closing Date (if it was otherwise scheduled to occur on or prior to June 25, 2004), as the case may be, not occurring before June 25, 2004 as a result of a default by the Underwriters hereunder), the Trust shall, at the Underwriters' election, reduce the purchase price for the Firm Units and, if the Additional Closing Date was scheduled to occur on or prior to June 25, 2004, the Option Units by the amount of the distribution referred to above (and the amount of any other distribution declared after the date hereof and before the Closing Time) and the Underwriters shall have the right to postpone the Closing Time for such period, not exceeding ten Business Days, in order that the required changes in the Prospectus and in any other document or arrangements may be effected.

19. Survival

The representations, warranties, obligations and agreements of the Trust, AltaGas and Operating Partnership contained herein or delivered pursuant hereto shall survive the purchase by the Underwriters of the Offered Units and shall continue in full force and effect for a period of three years from the Closing Date notwithstanding any subsequent disposition by the Underwriters of the Offered Units, but where expressly limited to a particular date shall continue to speak only as of such date, and the Underwriters shall be entitled to rely on the representations and warranties of the Trust, AltaGas and Operating Partnership contained herein or delivered pursuant hereto notwithstanding any investigation which the Underwriters may undertake or which may be undertaken on the Underwriters' behalf.

20. Notices

Any notice or other communication required or permitted to be given hereunder shall be delivered in the case of the Trust, AltaGas or Operating Partnership, 1700, 355 - 4th Avenue S.W., Calgary, Alberta, T2P 0J1, Attention: Dennis Dawson, Vice-President, General Counsel and Corporate Secretary, facsimile (403) 691-7576; in the case of the Underwriters to: 1100 Bankers Hall West, 888 - 3rd Street S.W., Calgary, Alberta, T2P 5C5, Attention: Timothy W. Watson, facsimile (403) 299-6901 and, in the case of notice to any one Underwriter, at such address as may be provided by the Underwriter from time to time upon request by any of the other parties. The parties and each of them may change their respective addresses for notices by notice given in the manner aforesaid. Any such notice or other communication shall be in writing, and unless delivered to a responsible officer of the addressee, shall be given by courier service or by facsimile transmission, and shall be deemed to have been received, if given by facsimile transmission, on the day of sending (if such day is a Business Day and, if not, on the next Business Day following the sending thereof) and, if given by courier service, on the next Business Day following the sending thereof.

21. Time

Time shall be of the essence in this Agreement.

22. Governing Law

This Agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of Alberta and the laws of Canada applicable therein, and the courts of the Province of Alberta shall have exclusive jurisdiction over any dispute hereunder.

23. Attornment

The parties hereby irrevocably and unconditionally consent to and submit to the courts of Alberta for any actions, suits or proceedings arising out of or relating to this Agreement or the matters contemplated hereby (and agree not to commence any action, suit or proceeding relating thereto except in such courts) and further agree that service of any process, summons, notice or document by single registered mail to the address of the parties set forth in this Agreement shall be effective service of process for any action, suit or proceeding brought against either party in such court. The parties hereby irrevocably and unconditionally waive any objection to the laying of venue of any action, suit or proceeding arising out of this Agreement or the matters contemplated hereby in the courts of Alberta and hereby further irrevocably and unconditionally waive and agree not to plead or claim in any such court that any such action, suit or proceeding so brought has been brought in an inconvenient forum.

24. Over-Allotment/Stabilization

In connection with the Distribution of the Offered Units, the Underwriters may over-allot or effect transactions which stabilize or maintain the market price of the Offered Units at levels other then those which might otherwise prevail in the open market, but in each case only as permitted by applicable law. Such stabilizing transactions, if any, may be discontinued at any time.

25. Severability

If any provision hereof is determined to be void or unenforceable in whole or in part, it shall be deemed not to impair or affect the validity of any other provision of this Agreement, and such void or unenforceable provision shall be severable from this Agreement.

26. Entire Agreement

This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement among the Trust, AltaGas, Operating Partnership and the Underwriters in connection with the offering of the Offered Units and supersedes all prior agreements, understandings, negotiations and discussions, whether oral or written.

27. Counterparts/Facsimile Signatures

This Agreement may be executed in one or more counterparts together constituting one original document which shall be effective as of the date hereof. The transmission by facsimile of a copy of the execution page hereof reflecting the execution of this Agreement by any party hereto shall be effective to evidence that party's intention to be bound by this Agreement and that party's agreement to the terms, provisions and conditions hereof, all without the necessity of having to produce an original copy of such execution page.

28. Authority of Bookrunner

The Bookrunner is hereby authorized by each of the other Underwriters to act on its behalf and the Trust, AltaGas and Operating Partnership shall be entitled to and shall act on any notice given in accordance with Section 20 or any agreement entered into by or on behalf of the Underwriters by the Bookrunner, which represents and warrants that it has irrevocable authority to bind the Underwriters, except in respect of any consent to a settlement pursuant to Section 10 which consent shall be given by the Indemnified Party, a notice of termination pursuant to Section 13, which notice may be given by any of the Underwriters, any exercise of the rights of the Underwriters, under Section 14, which shall be exercised by all the non-defaulting Underwriters, or any waiver pursuant to Section 16, which waiver must be signed by all of the Underwriters.

29. United States Selling Restrictions

The Trust, AltaGas, Operating Partnership and the Underwriters acknowledge that the attached Schedule B is incorporated into and forms part of this Agreement. The Underwriters agree that any offer or sale of the Offered Units in the United States or to U.S. persons will be made in accordance with Schedule B. The Trust, AltaGas and Operating Partnership and the Underwriters make the representations, warranties and covenants attributable to them as set forth in Schedule B.

If the foregoing accurately reflects our agreement, please confirm this by signing the enclosed copies of this letter at the place indicated and returning the same to the Bookrunner, on behalf of the Underwriters.

Schedule B

UNITED STATES SELLING RESTRICTIONS, REPRESENTATIONS AND COVENANTS

1. For the purpose of this Schedule, the following terms shall have the meanings indicated:

   (a) "Directed Selling Efforts" means "directed selling efforts" as defined in Regulation S. Without limiting the foregoing, but for greater clarity, it means subject to the exclusions from the definition of "directed selling efforts" contained in Regulation S, any activity undertaken for the purpose of, or that could reasonably be expected to have the effect of, conditioning the market in the United States for the Offered Units and shall include, without limitation, the placement of any advertisement in a publication with a general circulation in the United States that refers to the offering of the Offered Units;

   (b) "Qualified Institutional Buyer" means a "qualified institutional buyer" as defined in Rule 144A;

   (c) "Regulation S" means Regulation S adopted by the SEC under the U.S. Securities Act;

   (d) "Rule 144A" means Rule 144A adopted by the SEC under the U.S. Securities Act;

   (e) "SEC" means the United States Securities and Exchange Commission;

   (f) "Substantial U.S. Market Interest" means "substantial U.S. market interest" as defined in Regulation S;

   (g) "United States" means the United States of America, its territories and possessions, any state of the United States, and the District of Columbia;

   (h) "U.S. Exchange Act" means the United States Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended; and

   (i) "U.S. Securities Act" means the United States Securities Act of 1933, as amended.

   Unless otherwise defined herein, all additional initially capitalized terms used herein shall have the meaning ascribed thereto in the attached underwriting agreement (the "Agreement").

2. The Underwriters and the Trust understand and agree that the Offered Units have not been and will not be registered under the U.S. Securities Act and the Offered Units may be offered and sold only:

(a) outside the United States (i)(A) pursuant to a short-form prospectus under Canadian securities laws or (B) pursuant to the laws of another jurisdiction, and (ii) in reliance upon the exemption from registration under the U.S. Securities Act provided by Rule 903 of Regulation S; or

(b) in the United States by the Underwriters and their United States affiliates, as principals, in compliance with Rule 144A, in the manner contemplated in this Schedule and in compliance with all applicable United States federal and state laws relating to the registration and conduct of securities brokers and dealers and all applicable state securities ("blue sky") laws, to persons who are or who they have reasonable grounds to believe, and do believe, are Qualified Institutional Buyers who, in connection with each purchase of Offered Units, execute and deliver a U.S. subscription agreement in form satisfactory to the Trust and the Underwriters.

3. The Trust represents, warrants, covenants and agrees to and with the Underwriters as of the date hereof and as of the Closing Date that:

(a) the Trust is a Foreign Issuer as defined in Regulation S which has and at the commencement of the offering of the Offered Units had no Substantial U.S. Market Interest in the Offered Units;

(b) the Trust is not an open-end investment company or unit investment trust registered or required to be registered under the United States Investment Company Act of 1940;

(c) the Offered Units are not part of a class listed on a national securities exchange registered under section 6 of the U.S. Exchange Act, quoted in an automated interdealer system in the United States, or convertible or exchangeable at an effective conversion premium (calculated as specified in paragraph (a)(6) of Rule 144A under the U.S. Securities Act) of less than ten percent for securities so listed or quoted;

(d) for so long as any of the Offered Units which have been sold in the United States in reliance upon Rule 144A are outstanding and are "restricted securities" within the meaning of Rule 144(a)(3) under the U.S. Securities Act, if the Trust is not or ceases to be exempt, pursuant to Rule 12g3-2(b) under the U.S. Exchange Act, from the reporting requirements of the U.S. Exchange Act, and is not otherwise subject to such requirements pursuant to Section 13 or 15(d) of the U.S. Exchange Act, the Trust will provide to any holder of Offered Units and any prospective purchaser of Offered Units designated by such holder, upon the request of such holder or prospective purchaser, the information required to be provided to such holder or prospective purchaser by paragraph (d)(4) of Rule 144A;

(e) none of the Trust, its affiliates or any person acting on its or their behalf (except for the Underwriters, their respective affiliates and any person acting on their behalf, as to whom no representations are made) (i) has engaged or will engage in any Directed Selling Efforts with respect to the Offered Units, (ii) has taken or will take any action which would constitute a violation of Regulation M of the SEC under the U.S. Exchange Act or that would cause the exemption afforded by Rule 903 of Regulation S or Rule 144A to be unavailable for offers and sales of the Offered Units, or (iii) has solicited or will solicit offers for, or have made or will make offers to sell, the Offered Units by means of any form of general solicitation or general advertising (as those terms are used in Regulation D under the U.S. Securities Act) or in any manner involving a public offering within the meaning of the U.S. Securities Act; and

(f) the Trust has not, within six months before the commencement of the offer and sale of the Offered Units, and will not within six months after the Closing Date, offer or sell any securities in a manner that would be integrated with the offer and sale of the Offered Units and would cause the exemption from registration set forth in Rule 903 of Regulation S or Rule 144A to become unavailable with respect to the offer and sale of the Offered Units.

4. Each of the Underwriters severally but not jointly represents, warrants, covenants and agrees to and with the Trust as of the date hereof and as of the Closing Date that:

(a) neither it, nor any of its United States affiliates nor any person acting on its or their behalf (i) has engaged or will engage in any Directed Selling Efforts with respect to the Offered Units, (ii) except to the extent permitted by paragraph 2(b) of this Schedule, has made or will make (A) any offer to sell or solicitation of an offer to buy any of the Offered Units to any person or (B) any sale of the Offered Units to any person unless (1) the offer is not made to any person in the United States, (2) the seller of such Offered Units and any person acting on its behalf reasonably believes that at the time such person placed the order to purchase Offered Units such person was outside the United States and (3) such sale is otherwise in compliance with the applicable requirements of Regulation S, (iii) has taken or will take any action which would constitute a violation of Regulation M of the SEC under the U.S. Exchange Act or that would cause the exemption afforded by Rule 903 of Regulation S or Rule 144A to be unavailable for offers and sales of the Offered Units, or (iv) has solicited or will solicit offers for, or have made or will make offers to sell, the Offered Units by means of any form of general solicitation or general advertising (as those terms are used in Regulation D under the U.S. Securities Act) or in any manner involving a public offering within the meaning of the U.S. Securities Act;

(b) offers and sales of the Offered Units within the United States have been and will be made only (i) in compliance with Rule 144A, by the Underwriter or its United States affiliates, acting as principal, (ii) to persons who the seller (A) has informed or will prior to any sale inform that the Offered Units have not been and will not be registered under the U.S. Securities Act and are being sold to them without registration under the U.S. Securities Act in reliance upon Rule 144A thereunder, (B) has delivered or will prior to any sale deliver a U.S. private placement memorandum in form satisfactory to the Trust and the Underwriters, which will include a copy of the Final Prospectus, and (C) immediately prior to transmitting such materials and information and prior to any offer and at the time of any sale, has reasonable ground to believe and did believe was a Qualified Institutional Buyer, and (iii) in compliance with all applicable United States federal and state laws relating to the registration and conduct of securities brokers and dealers and all applicable blue sky laws;

(c) it has not entered, and will not enter, into any contractual arrangement without the prior written consent of the Trust with respect to the distribution of the Offered Units, except (i) with its affiliates or (ii) with one or more Underwriters in accordance with the Agreement and this Schedule;

(d) it has caused or will promptly cause its United States affiliates to acknowledge in writing their awareness of and agreement to be bound by and shall ensure that each of its affiliates complies with the provisions of the Agreement and this Schedule in connection with all offers and sales of the Offered Units;

(e) either (i) no offers or sales of Offered Units in the United States have been or will be made by it, its affiliates or any person acting on its or their behalf, or (ii)(A) at least one business day prior to the Closing Date, it shall provide the Trust with a list of all purchasers of Offered Units in the United States, and (B) on the Closing Date and prior to the Closing Time, it will deliver a certificate, substantially in the form of Exhibit I to this Schedule, relating to the manner of the offer and sale in the United States of the Offered Units.

Exhibit I

UNDERWRITERS' CERTIFICATE

In connection with the offering in the United States of Trust Units (the "Offered Units") of AltaGas Income Trust (the "Trust") pursuant to that certain Underwriting Agreement dated June 3, 2004 between the Trust and the Underwriters and the other parties named therein (the "Underwriting Agreement"), the undersigned, on its behalf and on behalf of its U.S. affiliates does hereby certify as follows:

(a) the Offered Units have been offered and sold in the United States only by our U.S. affiliates, each of which was on the dates of such offers and sales, and is on the date hereof, duly registered as a broker-dealer pursuant to Section 15(b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and under the securities laws of each state in which such offers and sales were made (unless exempted from the respective state's broker-dealer registration requirements) and was and is a member in good standing with the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc.;

(b) each offeree of the Offered Units in the United States was provided through such U.S. affiliates with a copy of the U.S. private placement memorandum, including a copy of the Canadian prospectus relating to the offering of the Offered Units;

(c) immediately prior to our transmitting through such U.S. affiliates such U.S. private placement memorandum, we had reasonable ground to believe and did believe that such offeree was a Qualified Institutional Buyer (as defined in Rule 144A) and, on the date hereof, we continue to believe that each person purchasing Offered Units from us in the United States through such U.S. affiliate is a Qualified Institutional Buyer;

(d) no form of general solicitation or general advertising was used by us or any of our U.S. affiliates, including advertisements, articles, notices or other communications published in any newspaper, magazine or similar media or broadcast over radio or television, or any seminar or meeting whose attendees had been invited by general solicitation or general advertising, in connection with the offer or sale of the Offered Units in the United States; and

(e) we conducted the offering in the United States of the Offered Units in accordance with the Underwriting Agreement, including Schedule B thereto.

Terms used in this certificate have the meanings given to them in the Underwriting Agreement.

DATED _____, 2004.

NEWS RELEASE

ALTAGAS INCOME TRUST PRICES TRUST UNIT OFFERING

Calgary, Alberta (June 3, 2004) -- AltaGas Income Trust ("AltaGas") (TSE:ALA.UN) announced today that it has filed a final short form prospectus with the securities commissions in each of the provinces of Canada with respect to the issue of 4,300,000 Trust Units at a price of $18.70 per Trust Unit to raise gross proceeds of $80,410,000. The syndicate of Underwriters is lead by RBC Capital Markets and Clarus Securities Inc., and includes BMO Nesbitt Burns Inc., Scotia Capital Inc., CIBC World Markets Inc., National Bank Financial Inc., Canaccord Capital Corporation and Peters & Co. Limited. AltaGas has granted the Underwriters an over-allotment option to purchase up to an additional 430,000 trust units (10 percent of the issue), exercisable on the same terms, in whole or in part, within 30 days following the date of closing. The offering is anticipated to close on June 10, 2004.

The net proceeds attributable to the sale of Trust Units will be used to reduce bank indebtedness, which may be redrawn and used for general corporate purposes including AltaGas' ongoing capital program, the funding of the Edmonton Ethane Extraction Plant acquisition announced on March 18, 2004 and future acquisitions. As a result of this issue and the predictable free cash flow generated by AltaGas' diversified asset base, AltaGas will be well positioned to continue to pursue attractive investment opportunities as they arise.

AltaGas moves energy from its source to the end user, adding value through the process. The Trust has assets totaling almost $950 million and a market capitalization of approximately $900 million. Its steadily expanding asset base today includes natural gas gathering and processing facilities, interests in ethane and natural gas liquids extraction plants, and transmission pipelines. AltaGas distributes natural gas to Alberta customers through AltaGas Utilities Inc., to customers in the Northwest Territories through the Ikhil Gas Project and distributes gas in Nova Scotia through its interest in Heritage Gas Limited. The Trust provides energy services to customers, including marketing of natural gas and natural gas liquids and sale of power from its power purchase based arrangements.

AltaGas' Trust Units are listed on the Toronto Stock Exchange under the symbol ALA.UN. The Trust is included in the S&P/TSX Capped Income Trust Index and the S&P/TSX Capped Energy Trust Index.

This news release does not constitute an offer to sell securities, nor is it a solicitation of an offer to buy securities, in any jurisdiction. All sales will be made through registered securities dealers in jurisdictions where the offering has been qualified for distribution. The Trust Units offered are not, and will not be, registered under the securities laws of the United States of America, nor any State thereof and may not be sold in the United States of America absent registration in the United States or the availability of an exemption from such registration.

When used in this press release, the words "anticipate", "estimate", and similar expressions are intended to identify forward-looking statements. NEWS RELEASE

ALTAGAS INCOME TRUST RAISES $88.5 MILLION THROUGH TRUST UNIT OFFERING

Calgary, Alberta (June 10, 2004) -- AltaGas Income Trust ("AltaGas") (TSE:ALA.UN) today closed the previously announced offering of 4,730,000 Trust Units, at a price of $18.70 per Trust Unit for gross proceeds of $88,451,000. The offering includes the concurrent exercise in whole by the Underwriters of an over-allotment option granted by AltaGas to purchase an additional 10 percent of the issue or 430,000 Trust Units on the same terms within 30 days following the date of closing. The syndicate of Underwriters was lead by RBC Capital Markets and Clarus Securities Inc., and included BMO Nesbitt Burns Inc., Scotia Capital Inc., CIBC World Markets Inc., National Bank Financial Inc., Canaccord Capital Corporation and Peters & Co. Limited.

The net proceeds attributable to the sale of Trust Units will be used to reduce bank indebtedness, which may be redrawn and used for general corporate purposes including AltaGas' ongoing capital program, the funding of the Edmonton Ethane Extraction Plant acquisition announced on March 18, 2004 and future acquisitions.

AltaGas Income Trust will commence monthly distributions on June 15, 2004 to holders of Trust and Exchangeable Units of record on May 25, 2004. The amount of the distribution on June 15 will be $0.15 per Unit. The purchasers of Trust Units under this offering will be eligible to receive the anticipated July 15, 2004 distribution.

AltaGas moves energy from its source to the end user, adding value through the process. The Trust has assets totaling almost $950 million and a market capitalization of approximately $1 billion. Its steadily expanding asset base today includes natural gas gathering and processing facilities, interests in ethane and natural gas liquids extraction plants, and transmission pipelines. AltaGas distributes natural gas to Alberta customers through AltaGas Utilities Inc., to customers in the Northwest Territories through the Ikhil Gas Project and distributes gas in Nova Scotia through its interest in Heritage Gas Limited. The Trust provides energy services to customers, including marketing of natural gas and natural gas liquids and sale of power from its power purchase based arrangements.

AltaGas' Trust Units are listed on the Toronto Stock Exchange under the symbol ALA.UN. The Trust is included in the S&P/TSX Capped Income Trust Index and the S&P/TSX Capped Energy Trust Index.

This news release does not constitute an offer to sell securities, nor is it a solicitation of an offer to buy securities, in any jurisdiction. All sales will be made through registered securities dealers in jurisdictions where the offering has been qualified for distribution. The Trust Units offered are not, and will not be, registered under the securities laws of the United States of America, nor any State thereof and may not be sold in the United States of America absent registration in the United States or the availability of an exemption from such registration.

When used in this press release, the words "anticipate", "estimate", and similar expressions are intended to identify forward-looking statements. Such statements are subject to certain risks, uncertainties and assumptions that could cause actual results to differ materially from those contemplated in the forward looking statements. These risks and uncertainties include operating performance, regulatory and environmental issues, weather and economic conditions, competition and financing availability. AltaGas NEWS RELEASE

ALTAGAS INCOME TRUST ANNOUNCES MONTHLY DISTRIBUTION

Calgary, Alberta (July 14, 2004) – AltaGas Income Trust (AltaGas or the Trust) (TSE:ALA.UN) announced today that a monthly distribution will be paid on August 16, 2004 to holders of record on July 26, 2004, of Trust Units and limited partnership units that are exchangeable into Trust Units (Exchangeable Units). The amount of the distribution will be $0.15 for each Trust Unit and each Exchangeable Unit.

On May 20, 2004 AltaGas adopted Premium Distribution™, Distribution Reinvestment and Optional Unit Purchase Plans (the Plans) for eligible holders of Trust Units and Exchangeable Units (collectively Unitholders) of AltaGas Income Trust, AltaGas Holding Limited Partnership No. 1 and AltaGas Holding Limited Partnership No. 2.

To participate in either of the Plans, registered Unitholders must deliver the appropriate properly completed and signed authorization forms provided by AltaGas for such purpose to Computershare Trust Company of Canada no later than 3:00 p.m. (Calgary time) on the business day immediately preceding a distribution record date in order for the cash distribution or cash payment to which such record date relates to be reinvested or invested, as the case may be, under the applicable Plan. Beneficial owners of Trust Units or Exchangeable Units (i.e. owners of Trust Units or Exchangeable Units that are held through a nominee such as a broker or custodian) who wish to participate in the applicable Plan should contact their broker, investment dealer, financial institution or other nominee who hold their Trust Units or Exchangeable Units to provide instructions regarding their participation in the applicable Plan. See additional information on the Plans on AltaGas' website at www.altagas.ca.

AltaGas moves energy from its source to the end user, adding value through the process. The Trust has consolidated assets totalling almost $950 million and a market capitalization of approximately $1 billion. Its steadily expanding asset base today includes natural gas gathering and processing facilities, interests in ethane and natural gas liquids extraction plants, and transmission pipelines. AltaGas distributes natural gas to Alberta customers through AltaGas Utilities Inc., to customers in the Northwest Territories through the Ikhil Gas Project and distributes gas in Nova Scotia through its interest in Heritage Gas Limited. The Trust provides energy services to customers, including marketing of natural gas and natural gas liquids and sale of power from its power purchase based arrangements.

AltaGas' Trust Units are listed on the Toronto Stock Exchange under the symbol ALA.UN. The Trust is included in the S&P/TSX Capped Income Trust Index and the S&P/TSX Capped Energy Trust Index.

NEWS RELEASE

Enbridge to Monetize Investment in AltaGas Income Trust

CALGARY, Alberta, July 20, 2004 – Enbridge Inc. ("Enbridge") and AltaGas Income Trust ("AltaGas") announced today that AltaGas has filed a preliminary prospectus with the securities regulatory authorities throughout Canada in connection with a secondary offering of Trust Units of AltaGas by Enbridge. The offering is being underwritten by a syndicate led by Scotia Capital Inc., CIBC World Markets Inc. and RBC Capital Markets. The offering will be approximately $225 million and is expected to close on or about August 10, 2004. AltaGas will not receive any of the proceeds from the offering.

"The AltaGas investment has been a good investment for Enbridge," said Patrick D. Daniel, President & Chief Executive Officer of Enbridge. "However, the timing is right to sell part of our AltaGas investment and prudently reinvest the gain, together with our original capital, in other North American energy infrastructure that is more closely aligned with our core businesses."

David Cornhill, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of AltaGas said "Since Enbridge made its initial investment in AltaGas five years ago we have tripled our asset base and grown our market capitalization by six times to over one billion dollars. Enbridge has been a good financial investor and received very good returns on their investment. We are supportive of their disposition and are pleased with the opportunity to realize our full growth potential and deliver substantial unitholder value to an expanded unitholder base."

Enbridge Inc. is a leader in energy delivery in North America. Enbridge owns and operates, in Canada and the U.S., the world's longest crude oil and liquids pipeline system, and Canada's largest natural gas distribution company, providing gas to 1.7 million customers in Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick and New York State. The Company also is involved in international energy projects, and the natural gas transmission and midstream businesses. The Company employs approximately 4,000 people, primarily in Canada, the U.S. and South America. Enbridge common shares trade on the Toronto Stock Exchange in Canada and on the New York Stock Exchange in the U.S. under the symbol "ENB".

AltaGas moves energy from its source to the end user, adding value through the process. Its steadily expanding asset base today includes natural gas gathering and processing facilities, interests in ethane and natural gas liquids extraction plants, and transmission pipelines. AltaGas distributes natural gas to Alberta customers through AltaGas Utilities Inc., to customers in the Northwest Territories through the Ikhil Gas Project and distributes gas in Nova Scotia through its interest in Heritage Gas Limited. The Trust provides energy services to customers, including marketing of natural gas and natural gas liquids and sale of power from its power purchase based arrangements. AltaGas' Trust Units are listed on the Toronto Stock Exchange under the symbol ALA.UN.

This news release does not constitute an offer to sell or a solicitation of an offer to buy the Trust Units in any jurisdiction. The Trust Units offered have not been, and will not be, registered under the United States Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and may not be offered or sold within the United States of America.

A copy of this preliminary short form prospectus has been filed with the securities regulatory authorities in each of the provinces of Canada but has not yet become final for the purpose of the sale of securities. Information contained in this preliminary short form prospectus may not be complete and may have to be amended. The securities may not be sold until a receipt for the short form prospectus is obtained from the securities regulatory authorities.

No securities regulatory authority has expressed an opinion about these securities and it is an offence to claim otherwise. This short form prospectus constitutes a public offering of these securities only in those jurisdictions where they may be lawfully offered for sale and therein only by persons permitted to sell such securities. These securities have not been and will not be registered under the United States Securities Act of 1933, as amended, (the "1933 Act") or any state securities laws. Accordingly, these securities may not be offered or sold within the United States of America or to a U.S. Person (as such term is defined in Regulation S under the 1933 Act) unless registered under the 1933 Act and applicable state securities laws or an exemption from such registration is available. This short form prospectus does not constitute an offer to sell or a solicitation of an offer to buy any of these securities within the United States of America. See "Plan of Distribution".

Preliminary Short Form Prospectus

Secondary Offering July 20, 2004

AltaGas

● Trust Units

This short form prospectus qualifies the distribution by Enbridge Inc. (the "Selling Unitholder") of ● trust units ("Units") of AltaGas Income Trust (the "Trust"). See "Selling Unitholder". The Trust will not receive any of the proceeds from the sale of Units by the Selling Unitholder. The outstanding Units, including those offered hereunder, are listed on the Toronto Stock Exchange (the "TSX") under the trading symbol "ALA.UN". On July 19, 2004, the last trading day prior to the announcement of the offering, the closing price of the Units on the TSX was $●. The price of the Units was determined by negotiation between the Selling Unitholder and Scotia Capital Inc., CIBC World Markets Inc., RBC Dominion Securities Inc. and ● (collectively, the "Underwriters").

Price: $● per Unit

	Price to Public	Underwriters' Fee	Net Proceeds to the Selling Unitholder[1]
Per Unit	$●	$●	$●
Total[2]	$●	$●	$●

(1) Before deducting expenses of the offering, estimated to be $●, which, together with the Underwriters' Fee, will be paid by the Selling Unitholder.

(2) The Selling Unitholder has also granted to the Underwriters an option (the "Over-Allotment Option") to purchase up to an additional ● Units at a price of $● per Unit, exercisable in whole or in part at any time prior to 30 days after the closing of the offering, solely to cover over-allotments, if any, and for market stabilization purposes. If the Over-Allotment Option is exercised in full, the Price to Public, Underwriters' Fee and Net Proceeds to the Selling Unitholder will be $●, $● and $●, respectively. This short form prospectus qualifies the distribution of the Units to be sold by the Selling Unitholder upon exercise of the Over-Allotment Option. See "Plan of Distribution."

Subscribers who purchase Units pursuant to the offering and who hold such Units on the relevant record date will be eligible to receive distributions commencing with the distribution anticipated to be payable on or about September 15, 2004, provided closing of the offering occurs by August 25, 2004, the anticipated record date for such distribution. Subscribers will not be eligible to receive the distribution to be paid on August 15, 2004, the record date for which will be July 26, 2004.

The Underwriters, as principals, conditionally offer the Units, subject to prior sale, if, as and when sold by the Selling Unitholder and accepted by the Underwriters in accordance with the conditions contained in the underwriting agreement referred to under "Plan of Distribution" and subject to approval of certain legal matters on behalf of the Trust by Stikeman Elliott LLP, on behalf of the Selling Unitholder by McCarthy Tétrault LLP and on behalf of the Underwriters by Blake, Cassels & Graydon LLP. Subscriptions for Units will be received subject to rejection or allotment in whole or in part and the right is reserved to close the subscription books at any time without notice. The Underwriters may over-allot or effect transactions which stabilize or maintain the market price for the Units at levels other than those which otherwise might prevail in the open market. See "Plan of Distribution". Definitive Unit certificates will be available for delivery at closing, which is expected to occur on or about August 10, 2004 but in any event not later than August 25, 2004.

The Units are not "deposits" within the meaning of the Canada Deposit Insurance Corporation Act (Canada) and are not insured under the provisions of that Act or any other legislation. Furthermore, the Trust is not a trust company and, accordingly, it is not registered under any trust and loan company legislation as it does not carry on or intend to carry on the business of a trust company.

NOTE REGARDING FORWARD LOOKING STATEMENTS

This short form prospectus and the documents incorporated by reference herein contain forward-looking statements. When used in this short form prospectus and the documents incorporated by reference herein, the words "may", "would", "could", "will", "intend", "plan", "anticipate", "believe", "seek", "propose", "estimate", "expect", and similar expressions, as they relate to the Trust or an affiliate of the Trust, are intended to identify forward-looking statements. These statements involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors that may cause actual results or events to differ materially from those anticipated in such forward-looking statements. Such statements reflect the Trust's current views with respect to future events and are subject to certain risks, uncertainties and assumptions, including, without limitation, those described in this short form prospectus under the heading "Risk Factors". Many factors could cause the Trust's actual results, performance or achievements to vary from those described in this short form prospectus and the documents incorporated by reference herein. Should one or more of these risks or uncertainties materialize, or should assumptions underlying forward-looking statements prove incorrect, actual results may vary materially from those described in this short form prospectus and the documents incorporated by reference herein as intended, planned, anticipated, believed, estimated or expected, and such forward-looking statements included in this short form prospectus or the documents incorporated by reference herein should not be unduly relied upon. These statements speak only as of the date of this short form prospectus or as of the date specified in the documents incorporated by reference herein, as the case may be. The Trust does not intend, and does not assume any obligation, to update these forward-looking statements.

In particular, this short form prospectus and the documents incorporated by reference herein contain forward-looking statements pertaining to the following: the amount and timing of distributions in respect of the Units; treatment under applicable tax legislation; expectations regarding the ability to maintain its competitive position; expectations regarding the ability to raise capital; treatment under governmental regulatory regimes; and commodity prices.

Actual results could differ materially from those anticipated in these forward-looking statements as a result of the risk factors set forth below and elsewhere in this short form prospectus: general economic conditions in Canada and the United States; industry conditions; governmental regulations; volatility of commodity prices; currency fluctuations; environmental risks; competition; lack of availability of qualified personnel or management; the ability to integrate technological advances and match advances of competition; the availability of capital; and the other factors considered under "Risk Factors".

These factors should not be construed as exhaustive.

All dollar amounts in this short form prospectus are in Canadian dollars unless otherwise stated.

DESCRIPTION OF CASH FLOW OF THE TRUST

Throughout this short form prospectus and the documents incorporated by reference herein, the Trust uses the term "Cash Flow of the Trust" to refer to the amount of cash that is to be available for distributions to Unitholders. "Cash Flow of the Trust" is not a measure recognized by Canadian generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP") and does not have a standardized meaning prescribed by GAAP, but is an amount calculated in accordance with the terms of the Declaration of Trust. Therefore, Cash Flow of the Trust may not be comparable to similar measures presented by other issuers, and investors are cautioned that Cash Flow of the Trust should not be considered as an alternative to net earnings, cash flow from operating activities or other measures of financial performance calculated in accordance with GAAP.

ELIGIBILITY FOR INVESTMENT

Based in part upon representations made by AltaGas as to certain factual matters, in the opinion of Stikeman Elliott LLP and Blake, Cassels & Graydon LLP, the Units offered hereby will, on the date of closing, be qualified investments under the Tax Act for Exempt Plans and will not, on the date of closing, be foreign property for purposes of the Tax Act.

It is not certain whether the Trust would be a "business income trust" or whether the Units would constitute "restricted investment property" as described in proposed amendments to the Tax Act announced by the Minister of Finance (Canada) in the Budget. Under that Budget proposal, certain investors, including registered pension funds or plans and pension corporations, but not Exempt Plans, were to be liable to a penalty tax commencing in 2005 in respect of their holdings of restricted investment property and units of business income trusts in excess of the limits described in the Budget proposal. On May 18, 2004, the Minister of Finance (Canada) announced that this Budget proposal will be suspended pending further consultation and review. See "Certain Canadian Federal Income Tax Considerations" and "Risk Factors."

DOCUMENTS INCORPORATED BY REFERENCE

Information has been incorporated by reference in this short form prospectus from documents filed with securities commissions or similar authorities in Canada. For the purpose of the Province of Québec, this simplified prospectus contains information to be completed by consulting the permanent information record. Copies of the documents incorporated herein by reference and of the permanent information record may be obtained on request without charge from the Vice-President, General Counsel and Corporate Secretary of AltaGas at 1700, 355 – 4th Avenue S.W., Calgary, Alberta, T2P 0J1, Telephone: (403) 691-7575. These documents are also available through the Internet on the System for Electronic Document Analysis and Retrieval (SEDAR), which can be accessed at www.sedar.com.

The following documents of the Trust or AltaGas, filed with the various provincial securities commissions or similar authorities in Canada, are specifically incorporated into and form an integral part of this short form prospectus:

(a) the Renewal Annual Information Form of AltaGas Services dated March 18, 2004 (the "AIF"), including management's discussion and analysis of the financial condition and operations of AltaGas Services for the year ended December 31, 2003 incorporated by reference therein;

(b) the audited consolidated financial statements of AltaGas Services as at and for the years ended December 31, 2003 and 2002, together with the auditors' report thereon;

(c) the unaudited consolidated financial statements of AltaGas Services as at and for the three months ended March 31, 2004 and 2003;

(d) management's discussion and analysis of the financial condition and operations of AltaGas Services for the three months ended March 31, 2004 and 2003;

(e) the Information Circular and Proxy Statement dated March 26, 2004 relating to the Special Meeting of Securityholders of AltaGas Services held on April 29, 2004 (the "Information Circular"), excluding the sections entitled "Report on Employee and Executive Compensation", "Performance Graph" and "Statement of Corporate Governance Practices";

(f) the material change report of AltaGas Services dated March 22, 2004 with respect to the reorganization of the business of AltaGas Services into an income trust; and

(g) the material change report of the Trust dated May 10, 2004 with respect to the completion of reorganization of the business of AltaGas Services into an income trust.

Any material change reports (except confidential material change reports), comparative interim financial statements, comparative annual financial statements and the auditors' report thereon and information circulars (excluding the disclosure in an information circular relating to the downward repricing of options or stock appreciation rights, the composition of the Trust's compensation committee and its report on executive compensation, the performance graph and corporate governance practices) filed by the Trust with the provincial securities commissions or similar authorities in Canada after the date of this short form prospectus and before the termination of the offering, are deemed to be incorporated by reference in this short form prospectus.

Any statement contained in a document incorporated or deemed to be incorporated by reference herein shall be deemed to be modified or superseded for the purposes of this short form prospectus to the extent that a statement contained herein or in any other subsequently filed document which also is, or is deemed to be, incorporated by reference herein modifies or supersedes such statement. The modifying or superseding statement need not state that it has modified or superseded a prior statement or include any other information set forth in the document that it modifies or supersedes. The making of a modifying or superseding statement shall not be deemed an admission for any purposes that the modified or superseded statement, when made, constituted a misrepresentation, an untrue statement of a material fact or an omission to state a material fact that is required to be stated or that is necessary to make a statement not misleading in light of the circumstances in which it was made. Any statement so modified or superseded shall not be deemed, except as so modified or superseded, to constitute a part of this short form prospectus.

General

The Trust is an unincorporated open-ended investment trust governed by the laws of Alberta and created pursuant to the Declaration of Trust. The head and principal office of the Trust is located at 1700, 355 - 4th Avenue S.W., Calgary, Alberta T2P 0J1. AltaGas is an energy infrastructure based company and an indirect subsidiary of the Trust. AltaGas, directly and indirectly:

- Physically gathers, processes, extracts and transports natural gas;
- Contractually markets and transports natural gas and electrical power;
- Converts energy across and along the energy value chain to create higher-value added products; and
- Consumes natural gas and electrical power to operate its facilities.

AltaGas expects to continue to develop its asset base by seeking opportunities for expansion and acquisition in the natural gas, NGLs and power business in Canada and the northern United States.

Organizational Structure of the Trust

The following diagram shows the inter-entity relationships among the Trust and its material subsidiaries prior to the completion of the offering.

Notes:

(1) Class B limited partnership units of AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 are exchangeable for Trust Units at the option of the holder on a one-for-one basis, are entitled to vote with Unitholders pursuant to the Special Voting Unit and are entitled to the same cash payments per unit as the cash distributions made on a Unit.

(2) Subsequent to the Arrangement, substantially all of the operating assets formerly owned by AltaGas were contributed to, and certain obligations of AltaGas were assumed by, the AltaGas Operating Partnership.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

Trust Conversion

Effective May 1, 2004, the business of AltaGas Services was reorganized pursuant to the Arrangement and holders of common shares of AltaGas Services received Units and/or Exchangeable Securities in exchange for their common shares. AltaGas Services became an indirect subsidiary of the Trust and was amalgamated to form AltaGas. Additional information relating to the Arrangement is contained in the Information Circular, which is incorporated by reference herein.

Edmonton Ethane Extraction Plant Acquisition

On March 18, 2004, AltaGas Services announced that it had entered into a purchase and sale agreement with BP Canada Energy Resources Company ("BP") to acquire BP's 48 2/3% interest in the Edmonton Ethane Extraction Plant located at Edmonton, Alberta for approximately $46 million. The acquisition, expected to close during the third quarter of 2004, will increase AltaGas' net extraction processing capacity to 539 million cubic feet of gas per day.

Adoption of Distribution Reinvestment Plans

On May 20, 2004, the Trust adopted a Premium Distribution™, Distribution Reinvestment and Optional Unit Purchase Plan for Unitholders and each of AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 adopted a Premium Distribution™, Distribution Reinvestment and Optional Unit Purchase Plan for holders of Exchangeable Securities (collectively, the "DRIP Plans"), available in respect of monthly cash distributions or cash payments.

Under the DRIP Plans, eligible Unitholders and eligible holders of Exchangeable Securities may elect to receive a cash distribution of up to 102% of the cash distribution from the Trust, in the case of Units, or up to 102% of the cash payment from AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as applicable, in the case of Exchangeable Securities, that such Unitholder or holder of Exchangeable Securities would have otherwise been entitled to receive. Alternatively, Unitholders or holders of Exchangeable Securities can direct cash distributions or cash payments, as applicable, to be reinvested in additional Units at 95% of the "average market price" as defined in the DRIP Plans.

PremStar Energy Canada Ltd.

On May 26, 2004, the Trust announced that a subsidiary of the trust has executed a letter of intent to purchase the business of PremStar Energy Canada Ltd. and its subsidiaries, ECNG Inc. and Energistics Group Inc. (collectively, "PremStar"), for approximately $22.0 million, payable by way of 993,789 Units issued from treasury plus approximately $1.2 million cash. The transaction is conditional on the execution of a purchase and sale agreement.

The PremStar group specializes in the procurement and supply of energy to end use customers. The PremStar acquisition will build on AltaGas' low risk, fee for service business through the provision of physical energy supply from the gas field directly to end use customers located primarily in Ontario. On a fee for service basis, the PremStar group provides energy supply, arranges for transportation services, and supports customers with valuable market information.

Recent Treasury Offering

On June 10, 2004, the Trust completed the offering and sale of 4,730,000 Units at $18.70 per Unit for gross proceeds of $88,451,000.

PLAN OF DISTRIBUTION

Pursuant to an agreement dated July ●, 2004 (the "Underwriting Agreement") between the Selling Unitholder, the Trust, AltaGas, AltaGas Operating Partnership and the Underwriters, the Selling Unitholder has agreed to sell ● Units and the Underwriters have severally agreed to purchase all of such Units on August 10, 2004 or on such other date as may be agreed among the parties to the Underwriting Agreement (such date not to be later than August 25, 2004) at a price of $● per Unit. The Underwriting Agreement provides that the Selling Unitholder will pay the Underwriters a fee of $● per Unit purchased by the Underwriters from the Selling Unitholder in consideration for their services in connection with the offering. The offering price of the Units was determined by negotiation between the Selling Unitholder and the Underwriters.

The Selling Unitholder has granted to the Underwriters the Over-Allotment Option to purchase up to an additional ● Units at a price of $● per Unit, exercisable in whole or in part at any time prior to 30 days after the closing of the offering, solely to cover over-allotments, if any, and for market stabilization purposes. If the Over-Allotment Option is exercised in full, the total offering, Underwriters' fee and net proceeds to the Selling Unitholder will be $●, $● and $●, respectively. This short form prospectus qualifies the distribution of the Units to be sold by the Selling Unitholder upon exercise of the Over-Allotment Option.

The obligations of the Underwriters under the Underwriting Agreement are several, and not joint, and may be terminated upon the occurrence of certain stated events. If an Underwriter fails to purchase the Units which it has agreed to purchase, the remaining Underwriter or Underwriters may terminate their obligation to purchase their allotment of Units, or may, but are not obligated to, purchase the Units not purchased by the Underwriter or Underwriters which fail to purchase. The Underwriters are, however, obligated to take up and pay for all of the securities if any of the securities are purchased under the Underwriting Agreement. Pursuant to the Underwriting Agreement, the Selling Unitholder, the Trust, AltaGas and AltaGas Operating Partnership have agreed to indemnify the Underwriters and their respective agents, shareholders, directors, officers and employees against certain liabilities.

The Selling Unitholder has agreed with the Underwriters that it will not, during the period ending 90 days following the closing of the offering, sell any Units or any securities convertible into or exchangeable for Units without the prior written consent of Scotia Capital Inc., CIBC World Markets Inc. and RBC Dominion Securities Inc., such consent not to be unreasonably withheld. The Trust has agreed with the Underwriters that it will not, during the period ending 60 days following July ●, 2004, sell any Units without the prior written consent of Scotia Capital Inc., CIBC World Markets Inc. and RBC Dominion Securities Inc., such consent not to be unreasonably withheld, other than any issue of options pursuant to the Trust's Trust Unit Option Plan, and any issue of Units pursuant to options under such Plan, upon the exchange of Exchangeable Securities, pursuant to the Trust's DRIP Plans or in connection with the PremStar acquisition described under "Recent Developments."

Pursuant to applicable securities laws, the Underwriters may not, throughout the period of distribution under this short form prospectus, bid for or purchase Units. The foregoing restriction is subject to certain exceptions including: (i) a bid or purchase permitted under the by-laws and rules of the TSX relating to market stabilization and passive market making activities; and (ii) a bid or purchase made for or on behalf of a customer where the order was not solicited during the period of the distribution, provided that the bid or purchase was not engaged in for the purpose of creating actual or apparent active trading in, or raising the price of the Units. In connection with the offering, the Underwriters may over-allot or effect transactions that stabilize or maintain the market price of the Units at a level other than that which might otherwise prevail in the open market. Such transactions, if commenced, may be discontinued at any time.

The Units offered hereby have not been and will not be registered under the 1933 Act or any state securities laws, and accordingly may not be offered or sold within the United States of America or to U.S. Persons (as such term is defined in Regulation S under the 1933 Act) except in transactions exempt from the registration requirements of the 1933 Act and applicable state securities laws. However, the Underwriting Agreement permits the Underwriters to offer and resell the Units acquired pursuant to the Underwriting Agreement to qualified institutional buyers (as defined in Rule 144A under the 1933 Act) in the United States, provided such offers and sales are made in accordance with Rule 144A under the 1933 Act. In addition, the Underwriting Agreement provides that the Underwriters will offer and sell Units outside the United States only in accordance with Regulation S under the 1933 Act. In addition, until 40 days after the commencement of this offering, any offer or sale of Units offered hereby within the United States by any dealer (whether or not participating in the offering) may violate the registration requirements of the 1933 Act if such offer or sale is made otherwise than in accordance with Rule 144A under the 1933 Act.

USE OF PROCEEDS

The Trust will not receive any of the proceeds from the sale of Units. The net proceeds of the offering to the Selling Unitholder, after payment of the Underwriters' fee of $● and expenses of the offering estimated to be $●, will be approximately $●. If the Over-Allotment Option is exercised in full, the net proceeds of the offering to the Selling Unitholder, after payment of the Underwriters' fee of $● and expenses of the offering estimated to be $●, will be approximately $●. The Underwriters' fee and the expenses of the offering will be paid by the Selling Shareholder. See "Plan of Distribution."

SELLING UNITHOLDER

The following table sets out information concerning the Selling Unitholder's ownership of Units and Exchangeable Securities as at July 20, 2004, and as adjusted as of that date to give effect to the offering. The Selling Unitholder owns its Units and Exchangeable Securities beneficially and of record and acquired such securities in exchange for common shares of AltaGas Services in connection with the conversion of AltaGas Services into an income trust on May 1, 2004. The Selling Unitholder has covenanted in the Underwriting Agreement to exchange, prior to closing of the offering, that number of Exchangeable Securities held beneficially and of record by the Selling Unitholder that, taken together with the Units it presently holds beneficially and of record, will comprise the Units to be sold in the offering.

	Securities Owned Before Offering	Percentage	Securities to be Sold in Offering	Securities Owned After Offering	Percentage[1]
Trust Units	9,331,491	23.9%	●	●	●%
Exchangeable Securities[2]	8,866,009	72.4%	●	●	●%
Total[3]	18,197,500	35.5%	●	●	●%

(1) If the Over-Allotment Option is exercised in full, the Selling Unitholder will, after giving effect to the offering, own ● Units (●% of the outstanding Units) and ● Exchangeable Securities (●% of the outstanding Exchangeable Securities).
(2) Class B limited partnership units of AltaGas LP #2.
(3) Giving effect to the exchange of Exchangeable Securities for Units in accordance with the terms of the Exchangeable Securities.

CERTAIN CANADIAN FEDERAL INCOME TAX CONSIDERATIONS

In the opinion of Stikeman Elliott LLP and Blake, Cassels & Graydon LLP (collectively, "Counsel"), the following summary fairly describes the principal Canadian federal income tax considerations generally applicable under the Tax Act to a subscriber who acquires Units pursuant to the offering and who, for purposes of the Tax Act and at all relevant times, holds the Units as capital property and deals at arm's length with, and is not affiliated with, the Trust, the Selling Unitholder and the Underwriters. Generally, Units will be considered to be capital property to a holder provided the holder does not hold the Units in the course of carrying on a business of buying or selling securities and does not acquire them in one or more transactions considered to be an adventure in the nature of trade. Certain holders who are Residents and who might not otherwise be considered to hold their Units as capital property may, in certain circumstances, be entitled to make an irrevocable election in accordance with subsection 39(4) of the Tax Act to have them, and any other "Canadian securities" (as defined in the Tax Act), deemed to be capital property. Holders contemplating making such an election should first consult their own tax advisors.

This summary is not applicable to a Unitholder that is a "specified financial institution" as defined in the Tax Act or a "financial institution" as defined in the Tax Act for purposes of the mark-to-market rules, nor is it applicable to a Unitholder an interest in which would be a "tax shelter investment" under the Tax Act.

This summary is based upon the provisions of the Tax Act in force as of the date hereof, all specific proposals to amend the Tax Act publicly announced by the Minister of Finance (Canada) prior to the date hereof (the "Proposed Amendments"), and Counsel's understanding of the current published administrative practices of the Canada Revenue Agency ("CRA"). This summary is not exhaustive of all possible Canadian federal income tax considerations, and except for the Proposed Amendments, does not take into account or anticipate any changes in law or administrative practice, whether by legislative, governmental or judicial action, nor does it take into account provincial, territorial or foreign income tax legislation or considerations which may differ significantly from the Canadian federal income tax considerations discussed herein. No assurance can be given that the Proposed Amendments will be enacted as currently proposed or at all.

A Budget proposal to impose a tax on a registered pension plan's investment in trust units above certain limits unless 90% or more of the fair market value of the particular trust's property is attributable to, inter alia, real property was suspended by the Minister of Finance (Canada) on May 18, 2004 pending further consultation and review. Further, the Budget proposes to introduce changes to the Tax Act that will subject persons who are not Residents to tax in respect of certain distributions made by mutual fund trusts that currently are not subject to taxation in Canada. It is not clear whether these proposals, if enacted, will result in tax consequences to Unitholders that are materially different from those disclosed herein. Prospective Unitholders that are registered pension plans or who are not Residents should consult their own tax advisors regarding the income tax considerations applicable to them in their particular circumstances.

Based in part upon representations made by AltaGas as to certain factual matters, in the opinion of Counsel, the Trust presently qualifies as a "mutual fund trust" as defined in the Tax Act, and this summary assumes that the Trust will continue to so qualify at all times. In the event the Trust were not to so qualify, the income tax considerations would in some respects be materially different from those described below.

Taxation of the Trust

The Trust is subject to tax in each taxation year on its taxable income for the year, including net realized taxable capital gains, less the portion thereof that is paid or payable in the year to Unitholders and that is deducted by the Trust in computing its income for purposes of the Tax Act. An amount will be considered to be payable in a taxation year to a Unitholder if the Unitholder is entitled in the year to enforce payment of the amount. The taxation year of the Trust is the calendar year.

All or substantially all of the income of the Trust will consist of the income of Holding Trust (including net realized taxable capital gains) that is paid or becomes payable in the year by Holding Trust to the Trust and that is deducted by Holding Trust in computing its income for purposes of the Tax Act.

In computing its income, the Trust may deduct reasonable administrative, interest and other expenses incurred to earn income (provided such amounts are not reimbursed to it).

Under the Declaration of Trust, an amount equal to all of the income of the Trust for each year, including net realized capital gains, but excluding income which is designated by the Trust to a redeeming Unitholder and capital gains the tax on which may be offset by capital losses carried forward from prior years or is recoverable by the Trust, generally will be payable in the year to Unitholders by way of cash distributions, subject to the following exceptions. Income of the Trust which is applied to finance cash redemptions of Units or is otherwise unavailable for cash distributions will be distributed to Unitholders in the form of additional Units.

Capital gains of the Trust realized in connection with an in specie redemption of Units and certain income of the Trust may be designated to the redeeming Unitholder, with the result that the taxable portion of such gains and such income generally should be taxable to the redeeming Unitholder and not to the Trust.

Counsel has been advised that the Trust intends to make sufficient distributions in each year (in cash or by way of additional Units) of its income for tax purposes and any net realized taxable capital gains so that the Trust generally will not be liable for income tax under the Tax Act. The Trust generally is expected to designate to the Unitholders any taxable dividends or net taxable capital gains received or realized by it or designated to it by Holding Trust so that such amounts retain their character when received by Unitholders.

Taxation of Holding Trust

Holding Trust is subject to tax in each taxation year on its taxable income for the year, including net realized taxable capital gains, less the portion thereof that is paid or payable in the year to the Trust and that is deducted by Holding Trust in computing its income for purposes of the Tax Act. The taxation year of Holding Trust is the calendar year.

All or substantially all of the income of Holding Trust will consist of the portion of the income of AltaGas LP #1 that is allocated to Holding Trust. Amounts received or realized by AltaGas LP #1 as taxable dividends or net taxable capital gains will retain their character and be treated as such in the hands of Holding Trust to the extent allocated to Holding Trust. The amount of income allocated to Holding Trust from AltaGas LP #1 may exceed or be less than the amount of cash distributed by AltaGas LP #1 to Holding Trust.

In computing its income for tax purposes, Holding Trust may deduct reasonable administrative, interest and other expenses incurred to earn income (provided such amounts are not reimbursed to it).

Under the Holding Trust declaration of trust, an amount equal to all of the income of Holding Trust, including net realized capital gains, generally will be payable to the Trust and, therefore, deductible in computing Holding Trust's income for tax purposes. Accordingly, Holding Trust generally will not be liable for income tax. Holding Trust generally is expected to designate to the Trust any taxable dividends and net taxable capital gains received under the Tax Act so that such amounts retain their character as such when received by the Trust.

Neither AltaGas LP #1 nor AltaGas LP #2 is subject to tax under the Tax Act. AltaGas LP #1, as a partner of AltaGas LP #2, is required to include in computing its income for a particular fiscal year its share of the income or loss of AltaGas LP #2 for the fiscal year of AltaGas LP #2 ending in that fiscal year of AltaGas LP #1, whether or not any such income is distributed to AltaGas LP #1 in the year. Similarly, Holding Trust, as a partner of AltaGas LP #1, is required to include in computing its income for a particular taxation year its share of the income or loss of AltaGas LP #1 for the fiscal year of AltaGas LP #1 ending in that taxation year of Holding Trust, whether or not any such income is distributed to Holding Trust in the year.

For these purposes, the income or loss of AltaGas LP #2 and AltaGas LP #1 will be computed for each of their respective fiscal years as if each of them was a separate person resident in Canada, and in making those computations, each of AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 will be entitled to deduct reasonable administrative, interest and other expenses incurred to earn income (provided such amounts are not reimbursed to it). All or substantially all of the income of AltaGas LP #2 for a fiscal year will consist of interest on the indebtedness of AltaGas that accrues to AltaGas LP #2 to the end of the year, or is received or becomes receivable by it before the end of the year, to the extent that such interest was not included in computing its income for a preceding year. Also, AltaGas LP #2 will include in its income for a fiscal year any dividends received by it on shares of AltaGas in that year. Such amounts will then be included in the income of AltaGas LP #1 to the extent they are allocated to AltaGas LP #1.

Residents

The following portion of this summary is applicable to a Unitholder who at all relevant times is, or is deemed to be, a Resident. The taxation of Unitholders who are not Residents is described below under "Persons other than Residents".

This summary does not address the tax considerations of participating in the DRIP Plans.

Trust Distributions

A Unitholder generally will be required to include in computing income for a particular taxation year of the Unitholder such portion of the net income of the Trust for a taxation year, including net realized taxable capital gains, as is paid or becomes payable to the Unitholder in that particular taxation year, whether received in cash, additional Units or otherwise. Provided that appropriate designations are made by the Trust and Holding Trust, such portion of any taxable dividends received from taxable Canadian corporations and net taxable capital gains as is paid or payable to a Unitholder will effectively retain its character and be treated as such in the hands of the Unitholder for purposes of the Tax Act. All other income of the Trust that is paid or becomes payable to a Unitholder generally will be considered income from property, irrespective of its source. Any loss of the Trust or Holding Trust for the purposes of the Tax Act cannot be allocated to, and cannot be treated as a loss of, a Unitholder.

The non-taxable portion of any net realized capital gains of the Trust that is paid or payable to a Unitholder in a taxation year will not be included in computing the Unitholder's income for the year and will not reduce the adjusted cost base ("ACB") of the Units held by the Unitholder. Any other amount in excess of the income of the Trust that is paid or payable to a Unitholder in a taxation year (otherwise than as proceeds of disposition on a redemption of Units) generally will not be included in the Unitholder's income for the year but will reduce the ACB of the Units held by the Unitholder. To the extent that the ACB of a Unit to a Unitholder would otherwise be a negative amount, that negative amount will be deemed to be a capital gain of the Unitholder from the disposition of the Unit in the year in which the negative amount arises, and the ACB of the Unit to the Unitholder will be reset to nil.

The cost to a Unitholder of a Unit will include all amounts paid or payable by the Unitholder for the Unit with certain adjustments. The cost to a Unitholder of additional Units received in lieu of a cash distribution of income (including net capital gains) will be the amount of such income paid in additional Units. The cost to a Unitholder of all Units held as capital property will be averaged to determine the ACB of each such Unit.

Acquisition of Units

Since the income of the Trust will be distributed on a monthly basis, a purchaser of a Unit may become taxable on a portion of the income of the Trust accrued or realized by the Trust in a month before the time the Unit was purchased but which was not paid or made payable to Unitholders until the end of the month and after the time the Unit was purchased. A similar result may apply on an annual basis in respect of a portion of net taxable capital gains accrued or realized by the Trust in a year before the time the Unit was purchased but which is paid or made payable to Unitholders at year end and after the time the Unit was purchased.

Disposition of Units

The disposition or deemed disposition by a Unitholder of a Unit, whether on redemption or otherwise, generally will result in the Unitholder realizing a capital gain (or a capital loss) equal to the amount by which the proceeds of disposition exceed (or are less than) the aggregate of the Unitholder's ACB of the Unit and any reasonable costs of disposition. Proceeds of disposition will not include an amount payable by the Trust that is otherwise required to be included in the Unitholder's income. The treatment of capital gains and losses is described below under "Residents – Taxation of Capital Gains and Capital Losses".

Where a Unitholder receives Holding Trust Notes on a redemption of Units, the proceeds of disposition to the Unitholder of the Units will be equal to the fair market value ("FMV") of the Holding Trust Notes so distributed less any amount designated by the Trust to be an income distribution from the Trust. The Declaration of Trust provides that the Trustee has the discretion to designate certain income and any capital gain realized by the Trust as a result of the redemption of Units to the Unitholder redeeming Units, as is reasonable in the circumstances. The Unitholder will be required to include in income any such income so designated.

The cost of any Holding Trust Notes distributed by the Trust to a Unitholder upon a redemption of Units will be equal to the FMV of the Holding Trust Notes at the time of the distribution. For this purpose, the Unitholder will be required to determine the FMV of the Holding Trust Notes on a reasonable basis. A Unitholder who is a Resident will thereafter be required to include in income, in accordance with the provisions of the Tax Act, interest received, receivable or accruing on such Holding Trust Notes.

Taxation of Capital Gains and Capital Losses

Under the Tax Act, one-half of any capital gain realized by a Unitholder, and the amount of any net taxable capital gains designated by the Trust in respect of a Unitholder, will be included in such holder's income as a taxable capital gain. Subject to certain specific rules in the Tax Act, one-half of any capital loss (an "allowable capital loss") realized by a Unitholder must be deducted from taxable capital gains realized by, or designated to, the Unitholder in the year of disposition, and allowable capital losses in excess of taxable capital gains in the year of disposition may be deducted against taxable capital gains realized in any of the three preceding taxation years or any subsequent taxation year.

A Unitholder that throughout the relevant taxation year is a "Canadian-controlled private corporation", as defined in the Tax Act, may be liable to pay an additional refundable tax of $6^2/_3\%$ on certain investment income, including taxable capital gains.

A capital loss realized on the disposition of a Unit by a Unitholder that is a corporation or trust (other than a mutual fund trust), whether directly or as a member of a partnership, may be reduced in respect of certain distributions to the Unitholder out of dividends received by the Trust directly or through Holding Trust, AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2 and designated by the Trust in respect of the Unitholder, to the extent and under the circumstances described in the Tax Act.

Minimum Tax

Net income of the Trust that is paid or payable to a Unitholder that is designated as taxable dividends or as net taxable capital gains, and capital gains realized on the disposition of Units may increase the Unitholder's liability for minimum tax if the Unitholder is an individual.

Qualified Investment Status

Units will be qualified investments for Exempt Plans (subject to the specific provisions of any particular Exempt Plan) provided that the Trust qualifies as a mutual fund trust or a registered investment for purposes of the Tax Act. Counsel has been advised that the Trust intends to apply to be a registered investment under the Tax Act effective from the date of its formation. If the Trust does not become a registered investment, the Units would immediately cease to be qualified investments for Exempt Plans if the Trust ceased to be a mutual fund trust. If the Trust becomes a registered investment and subsequently ceases to qualify as a mutual fund trust, and consequently (or for any other reason) loses its status as a registered investment, the Units would cease to be qualified investments for Exempt Plans effective January 1st of the second calendar year following the year in which the Trust ceases to be a registered investment.

Holding Trust Notes received as a result of an in specie redemption of Units by the Trust will not be qualified investments for Exempt Plans, which could give rise to adverse consequences to the Exempt Plan or the annuitant thereunder. Accordingly, Exempt Plans that own Units should consult their own tax advisors before deciding to exercise the redemption right attached to the Units.

Registered Pension Plans

It is not certain whether the Trust would be a "business income trust" or whether the Units would constitute "restricted investment property" as described in certain Proposed Amendments announced by the Minister of Finance (Canada) in the Budget. Under those Proposed Amendments, certain investors, including registered pension funds or plans and pension corporations, but not Exempt Plans, were to be liable to a penalty tax commencing in 2005 in respect of their holdings of restricted investment property and units of business income trusts in excess of the limits described in those Proposed Amendments. On May 18, 2004, the Minister of Finance (Canada) announced that those Proposed Amendments will be suspended pending further consultation and review.

Foreign Property

Based in part on representations of the Trust, Holding Trust, AltaGas and the General Partner as to certain factual matters, the Units will not constitute foreign property for purposes of the Tax Act.

The Units may become foreign property at any time (unless the Trust is a registered investment) if the Trust either (i) ceases to qualify as a mutual fund trust, or (ii) does not restrict its holdings of foreign property within the limits provided under the Tax Act.

Persons other than Residents

The following portion of this summary generally is applicable to a Unitholder who at all relevant times is not, and is not deemed to be, a Resident ("Non-Resident") and who does not use or hold, and is not deemed to use or hold Units in connection with carrying on a business in Canada. Special rules, which are not discussed herein, may apply to a Unitholder that is a Non-Resident and that is an insurer carrying on business in Canada and elsewhere.

Trust Distributions

Generally, amounts in respect of income of the Trust that are paid or credited or deemed to be paid or credited, to a Non-Resident Unitholder, other than amounts designated by the Trust to be net taxable capital gains, will be subject to Canadian withholding tax at a rate of 25%, unless such rate is reduced under an applicable income tax convention. The rate of withholding tax is reduced to 15% where such distributions are paid or credited, or deemed to be paid or credited, to Unitholders who are Non-Residents and who are residents of the United States for purposes of the Canada-United States Tax Convention.

Pursuant to certain Proposed Amendments included in the Budget, the Trust will be required to maintain a separate account (the "TCP Gains Distribution Account") to which it will add its net capital gains from dispositions after March 22, 2004 of "taxable Canadian property" and from which it will deduct losses from dispositions of such property and distributions designated by the Trust to be capital gains. Amounts paid by the Trust to a Non-Resident Unitholder, which the Trust designates as capital gains, will be subject to Canadian withholding tax at the same rate as distributions in respect of Trust income to the extent the Trust has a positive balance in its TCP Gains Distribution Account.

Also under the Proposed Amendments, effective for distributions after 2004, if the value of the Units is considered to be primarily attributable to real property in Canada, all distributions by the Trust that would otherwise not be subject to withholding tax as described above may be subject to a special Canadian withholding tax of 15% of the amount of the distribution. This withholding tax, if applicable, may be refunded in certain circumstances where the holder disposes of Units at a loss, subject to detailed provisions contained in the Proposed Amendments. It is not certain whether this special withholding tax will apply to distributions by the Trust.

Disposition of Units

A Non-Resident Unitholder generally will not be subject to tax under the Tax Act in respect of any capital gain realized on a disposition or deemed disposition of a Unit (whether the disposition of such Unit is on sale, redemption, by virtue of capital distributions in excess of the Unitholder's ACB or otherwise) unless the Unit constitutes "taxable Canadian property" for purposes of the Tax Act of the Non-Resident Unitholder and no relief is available to the Non-Resident Unitholder under an applicable income tax convention.

A Unit generally will not be considered to be taxable Canadian property of a Unitholder unless either: (i) at any time during the 60 month period that ends at the time of the disposition of the Unit, 25% or more of the issued Units were owned by the Unitholder, by persons with whom the Unitholder did not deal at arm's length or by any combination thereof; or (ii) at the time of disposition, the Trust is not a "mutual fund trust" as defined in the Tax Act.

If a Non-Resident's Units are considered to be taxable Canadian property, on the disposition or deemed disposition thereof, the capital gain (or capital loss) generally will be treated in the manner described above under "Certain Canadian Federal Income Tax Considerations – Residents – Taxation of Capital Gains and Capital Losses". However, an applicable income tax convention may provide relief from Canadian tax on any such capital gain realized by the Unitholder.

Interest paid or credited on any Holding Trust Notes received by a Non-Resident Unitholder on an in specie redemption of Units will be subject to Canadian withholding tax at a rate of 25%, subject to a reduction in such rate under the terms of an applicable income tax treaty. Such rate of withholding tax generally will be reduced to 10% in the case of a non-resident who is a resident of the United States for purposes of the Canada-United States Tax Convention.

CAPITALIZATION OF THE TRUST

The following table sets forth the consolidated capitalization of the Trust as at July 1, 2004, both before and after giving effect to the offering.

(1) At July 1, 2004, AltaGas had: i) a $50.0 million demand operating credit facility with a Canadian chartered bank (the "Operating Facility"); ii) a $300.0 million extendible revolving term credit facility with a syndicate of Canadian chartered banks (the "Extendible Facility"); and iii) a $75.0 million 364 day extendible revolving letter of credit facility with a Canadian chartered bank (the "LC Facility") (collectively, the "Operating Loans"). The Operating Facility bears interest at the lender's prime rate or at the bankers' acceptance rate plus a stamping fee. The Extendible Facility bears interest at the lenders' prime rate or at the bankers' acceptance rate plus a stamping fee. The Extendible Facility matures on October 10, 2004 and may be extended for an additional 364 days or can be converted by AltaGas on that date to a two year term loan. The term loan is repayable over the two year period or at the end of the two year period, depending on the bond rating category of the long term senior unsecured indebtedness of AltaGas. The LC Facility bears fees and interest at market rates. It matures on July 31, 2004 but can be extended at AltaGas' request and acceptance by the bank. At July 1, 2004 AltaGas has issued letters of credit under the Operating Loans in the aggregate amount of $29,701,304. See "Risk Factors – Debt Service".

(2) On October 4, 2000, AltaGas Services issued $100 million of 7.28% medium term notes (the "Medium Term Notes"). Interest is payable semi-annually and the principal is due on October 4, 2005. Following the Arrangement, AltaGas Operating Partnership became the obligor for the Medium Term Notes and is in compliance with all covenants and requirements contained in the indenture pursuant to which such notes were issued. See "Risk Factors."

(3) As at July 1, 2004, the Trust had outstanding, to officers, directors and employees, options to purchase an aggregate of 866,811 Units at prices ranging from $5.20 to $15.87 per Unit.

(4) If the Over-Allotment Option is exercised in full, as at July 1, 2004, after giving effect to the offering, the number of outstanding Units will be ● ($●) and the number of outstanding Exchangeable Securities will be ● ($●).

(5) There is one Special Voting Unit outstanding, representing as of July 1, 2004, in aggregate, a maximum of 12,245,745 votes at meetings of Unitholders, subject to proportionate reduction upon exchange of Exchangeable Securities. See "Description of Units – Special Voting Units".

(6) Class B limited partnership units of AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 are exchangeable for Units at the option of the holder on a one-for-one basis, are entitled to vote with Unitholders pursuant to the Special Voting Unit and are entitled to the same cash payments per unit as the cash distributions made on a Unit. The Selling Unitholder will exchange ● (● if the Over-Allotment Option is exercised in full) Exchangeable Securities into Units to be sold in the offering.

(7) As at March 31, 2004, AltaGas Services' retained earnings were $100,943,000.

Units

An unlimited number of Units may be created and issued pursuant to the Declaration of Trust. Each Unit entitles the holder thereof to one vote at any meeting of the Unitholders or in respect of any written resolution of Unitholders and represents an equal undivided beneficial interest in any distribution from the Trust (whether of income, net realized capital gains or other amounts) and in any net assets of the Trust in the event of termination or winding-up of the Trust. All Units shall rank among themselves equally and rateably without discrimination, preference or priority, whatever may be the actual date or terms of issue thereof. Each Unit is transferable, is not subject to any conversion or pre-emptive rights and entitles the holder thereof to require the Trust to redeem any or all of the Units held by such holder for cash or, in certain circumstances, Holding Trust Notes.

Issuance of Units

The Declaration of Trust provides that Units, including exchangeable securities, rights, warrants, options or other securities convertible into or exchangeable for Units, may be created, issued, sold and delivered on such terms and conditions and at such times as the Trustee may determine. The Declaration of Trust also provides that the Trustee may authorize the creation and issuance of any type of debt securities or convertible debt securities of the Trust from time to time on such terms and conditions to such persons and for such consideration as the Trustee may determine.

Special Voting Units

The Declaration of Trust allows for the creation of special voting units that will enable the Trust to provide voting rights to holders of Exchangeable Securities. A Special Voting Unit was issued pursuant to the Arrangement to enable the holders of Exchangeable Securities issued by AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 to vote at meetings of Unitholders.

The holder of a special voting unit, including the Voting and Exchange Trustee in respect of the Special Voting Unit, is not entitled to any interest or share in the distributions or net assets of the Trust and is only entitled to such number of votes at meetings of Unitholders as is equal to the number of Units into which the exchangeable securities to which such special voting unit relates are exchangeable or convertible.

Under the terms of the Voting and Exchange Trust Agreement, the Trust issued the Special Voting Unit to the Voting and Exchange Trustee for the benefit of every person who received Exchangeable Securities pursuant to the Arrangement. The Voting and Exchange Trustee is obligated to vote the Special Voting Unit at meetings of Unitholders pursuant to the instructions of the holders of Exchangeable Securities. However, if no instructions are provided by the holders of Exchangeable Securities, the votes associated therewith in the Special Voting Unit will be withheld from voting.

The special voting units will be subject to such other rights and limitations as may be determined by the Trustee at the time of issuance of the special voting unit. The Declaration of Trust provides that, upon the exchange of Exchangeable Securities for Units, the entitlement to vote pursuant to the special voting unit will be eliminated in respect of those Exchangeable Securities.

Cash Distributions

Pursuant to the Declaration of Trust, the Trust is required to make cash distributions to Unitholders each calendar month (or such other periods as may be determined by the Trustee) of all or any part of the Cash Flow of the Trust. Cash received by the Trust from its subsidiaries will be managed by the General Partner, giving consideration to the consolidated net income of the Trust, the consolidated growth and maintenance capital requirements of the Trust, the consolidated debt repayment requirements of the Trust and other factors. The intent of the General Partner is to maximize the cash received by the Trust from its subsidiaries giving consideration to these various factors.

Distributions in respect of a month will be paid to Unitholders of record as at the close of business on each determined distribution record date. The distribution for any month will be paid on the determined distribution payment date. In addition, the Declaration of Trust provides that, if necessary, on December 31st of each year, the Trust will distribute an additional amount such that the Trust will not be liable for ordinary income taxes for such year.

Subscribers who purchase Units pursuant to the offering and who hold such Units on the relevant record date will be eligible to receive distributions commencing with the distribution anticipated to be payable on or about September 15, 2004, provided closing of the offering occurs by August 25, 2004, the anticipated record date for such distribution. Subscribers will not be eligible to receive the distribution to be paid on August 15, 2004, the record date for which will be July 26, 2004. The General Partner expects that substantially all of the cash distributions to Unitholders will be taxed as ordinary income or as dividends.

For additional information in respect of the Units, including information respecting Unitholders' limited liability, restrictions on non-resident Unitholders, the redemption right attached to the Units, meetings of Unitholders, and amendments to the Declaration of Trust, see "Declaration of Trust and Description of Units" on pages 79 through 85, inclusive, of the Information Circular.

LEGAL MATTERS

Certain legal matters in connection with the issuance of the Units offered hereby will be passed upon on behalf of the Trust by Stikeman Elliott LLP, Calgary, Alberta, on behalf of the Selling Unitholder by McCarthy Tétrault LLP, Calgary, Alberta, and on behalf of the Underwriters by Blake, Cassels & Graydon LLP, Calgary, Alberta.

INTERESTS OF EXPERTS

The partners and associates of Stikeman Elliott LLP, as a group, the partners and associates of McCarthy Tétrault LLP, as a group, and the partners and associates of Blake, Cassels & Graydon LLP, as a group, each own, directly or indirectly, less than 1% of the outstanding Units and Exchangeable Securities. As of the date hereof, the partners and professional staff of Ernst & Young LLP, as a group, do not beneficially own, directly or indirectly, any of the Units or Exchangeable Securities. In addition, none of the aforementioned persons or companies, nor any director, officer or employee of any of the aforementioned persons or companies, is or is expected to be elected, appointed or employed as a director, officer or employee of the Trust or of any associate or affiliate of the Trust.

RISK FACTORS

A prospective investor should consider carefully the risk factors set out below and in the AIF incorporated by reference herein. In addition, prospective investors should carefully review and consider all other information contained in this short form prospectus before making an investment decision and consult their own experts where necessary.

Risks Inherent in an Investment in Units

Nature of Units

The Units do not represent a traditional investment in the diversified energy services business and should not be viewed by Unitholders as shares in AltaGas. The Units represent a fractional interest in the Trust. As holders of Units, Unitholders will not have the statutory rights normally associated with ownership of shares of a corporation including, for example, the right to bring "oppression" or "derivative" actions. The Trust's sole assets are the shares of the General Partner, the units of the Holding Trust, Holding Trust Notes and may include other investments in securities.

Cash distributions of the Trust are not guaranteed and the price per Unit is a function of anticipated distributions, the underlying assets of the Trust and management's ability to effect long-term growth in the value of AltaGas and other entities now or hereafter owned directly or indirectly by the Trust. The market price of the Units will be sensitive to a variety of market conditions including, but not limited to, interest rates, electricity prices and natural gas and natural gas liquids prices. Changes in market conditions may adversely affect the trading price of the Units.

The Units are not "deposits" within the meaning of the Canada Deposit Insurance Corporation Act (Canada) and are not insured under the provisions of that Act or any other legislation. Furthermore, the Trust is not a trust company and, accordingly, is not registered under any trust and loan company legislation as it does not carry on or intend to carry on the business of a trust company.

Potential Sales of Additional Units

The Trust may issue additional Units or securities convertible into or exchangeable for Units in the future to directly or indirectly fund capital expenditure requirements of AltaGas and other entities now or hereafter owned directly or indirectly by the Trust, including to finance acquisitions by those entities. Such additional Units may be issued without the approval of Unitholders. Unitholders will have no pre-emptive rights in connection with such additional issues. The Board of Directors of the General Partner has discretion in connection with the price and the other terms of the issue of such additional Units.

Nature of Distributions

Unlike interest payments on an interest-bearing security, cash distributions by income trusts on trust units (including those of the Trust) are, for Canadian tax purposes, composed of different types of payments (portions of which may be fully or partially taxable or may constitute non-taxable "returns of capital"). The composition for tax purposes of those cash distributions may change over time, thus affecting the after-tax return to Unitholders. Therefore, a Unitholder's rate of return over a defined period may not be comparable to the rate of return on a fixed-income security that provides a return on capital over the same period. This is because a Unitholder may receive cash distributions that constitute a return of capital (rather than a return on capital) to some extent during the relevant period. Returns on capital are generally taxed as ordinary income or as dividends in the hands of a Unitholder while returns of capital are generally non-taxable to a Unitholder (but reduce a Unitholder's cost base in the Unit for tax purposes). The General Partner expects that substantially all of the cash distributions to Unitholders will be taxed as ordinary income or as dividends. See "Description of Units – Cash Distributions". Unitholders are advised to consult their own tax advisors with respect to the implications of the distinction discussed above in their own circumstances.

Variability of Distributions

As the Cash Flow of the Trust available for distribution to Unitholders is a function of numerous factors, including AltaGas' financial performance, the impact of interest rates, electricity prices, natural gas and natural gas liquids prices, weather, debt covenants and obligations, working capital requirements, future capital requirements and the number of Units and Exchangeable Securities outstanding, depending on the operations of AltaGas and the performance of its assets, distributions may be reduced or suspended entirely.

The market value of the Units may deteriorate if the Trust is unable to meet its distribution targets in the future, and that deterioration may be material.

Changes in Legislation

Income tax laws relating to the Trust, such as the status of mutual fund trusts, may be changed in a manner which adversely affects Unitholders. If the Trust ceases to qualify as a mutual fund trust, and is not a registered investment, the Units will cease to be qualified investments for Exempt Plans. If the Trust ceases to qualify as a mutual fund trust, the income tax considerations described under the heading "Certain Canadian Federal Income Tax Considerations" would be materially and adversely different in certain respects.

The Budget contained a proposal to subject distributions of capital after 2004 to non-residents by certain income trusts (which distributions currently are not subject to Canadian income tax) to a new 15% withholding tax. This tax will apply to Unitholders only if the value of the Units is "primarily attributable to real property in Canada or a Canadian resource property". It is not clear whether the Trust would meet this test and thereby be subject to the application of this proposal. If this proposal applies with respect to the Trust, it may adversely affect non-resident Unitholders who are not entitled to a deduction or credit for such withholding tax against income taxes otherwise payable by them in another jurisdiction.

The Budget also contained several proposals relating specifically to the tax treatment of certain tax exempt holders of units of certain income trusts. After 2004, a penalty tax is proposed for certain Canadian tax exempt entities, such as registered pension funds, which hold excess amounts of units or debt of "business income trusts". Generally, the restrictions limit the aggregate amount of such holdings to 1% of the cost of all of the entity's property and limit the holdings of such entities (together with entities with which they do not deal at arm's length) to 5% of the total fair market value of any class of units of a particular trust. These proposals do not apply to Exempt Plans. Due to the nature of the assets held indirectly by the Trust, it is not clear for the purposes of these rules whether the Trust will be considered to be a "business income trust" to which these restrictions will apply. The Minister of Finance (Canada) announced on May 18, 2004 that this proposal would be suspended pending further consultation and review. There can be no assurance as to whether such suspension will be permanent or, alternatively, such restrictions on "business income trusts" will be applied as previously announced or in some modified form.

Environmental and applicable operating legislation may be changed in a manner which adversely affects AltaGas through the imposition of restrictions on its business activities or by the introduction of regulations that increase AltaGas' operating costs thereby indirectly affecting the Trust and potentially reducing distributions to Unitholders.

Loss of Mutual Fund Trust Status

The General Partner intends that the Trust will continue to qualify as a mutual fund trust for purposes of the Tax Act. The Trust may not, however, always be able to satisfy any future requirements for the maintenance of mutual fund trust status. See "– Changes in Legislation" above. Should the status of the Trust as a mutual fund trust be lost or successfully challenged by a relevant tax authority, certain adverse consequences may arise for the Trust and Unitholders. Some of the significant consequences of losing mutual fund trust status are listed below.

(a) If at the time the Trust ceased to be a mutual fund trust it had not become a registered investment, the Units would immediately cease to be qualified investments for Exempt Plans. If the Trust were a registered investment, it may, as a consequence of ceasing to be a mutual fund trust, also cease to be a registered investment. In that event, Units would cease to be qualified investments for Exempt Plans effective January 1st of the second calendar year following the year in which the Trust ceases to be a registered investment. If, at the end of any month, an Exempt Plan holds Units that are not qualified investments, the plan must pay a tax equal to 1% of the fair market value of the Units at the time the Units were acquired by the Exempt Plan. A registered retirement savings plan or registered retirement income fund holding Units that are not qualified investments would be subject to taxation on income attributable to the Units, including the full amount of any capital gain from a disposition of such Units. If a registered education savings plan holds Units that are not qualified investments, it may have its registration revoked by the CRA.

(b) Units held by Non-Resident Unitholders would become taxable Canadian property. Non-Resident Unitholders would be subject to Canadian income tax and reporting requirements on any gains realized on a disposition of Units held by them.

(c) The Trust would be taxed on certain types of income distributed to Unitholders. Payment of this tax may have adverse consequences for some Unitholders, particularly Unitholders that are not residents of Canada and residents of Canada that are otherwise exempt from Canadian income tax.

(d) The Trust would cease to be eligible for the capital gains refund mechanism available under Canadian tax laws if it ceased to be a mutual fund trust.

(e) The Trust would no longer be exempt from the application of the alternative minimum tax provisions of the Tax Act.

(f) If the Trust either does not become a registered investment, or having become a registered investment also ceased to be a registered investment, the Units would constitute "foreign property" for the purposes of the Tax Act.

In addition, the Trust may take certain measures in the future to the extent it believes necessary to ensure that the Trust maintains its status as a mutual fund trust. These measures could be adverse to certain Unitholders, particularly Non-Residents. See "- Risks Associated With the Level of Foreign Ownership" below.

Risks Associated With the Level of Foreign Ownership

The Declaration of Trust contains a number of provisions designed to protect the status of the Trust as a "mutual fund trust" under the Tax Act which, inter alia, requires that a mutual fund trust cannot be established or maintained primarily for the benefit of Non-Residents. There is no indication that the mutual fund trust status of the Trust currently is in jeopardy. If, in the future, the General Partner determines that any such risk exists, it is entitled to take a number of actions under the Declaration of Trust, including to require Unitholders that it believes are Non-Residents to sell their Units, which action may have an adverse effect on the market price of the Units. In addition, there can be no assurances that the Tax Act will not be amended in the future in a manner that would have a material adverse impact on the mutual fund trust status of the Trust.

Distribution of Holding Trust Notes or Other Securities on Redemption or Termination of the Trust

It is anticipated that the redemption right will not be the primary mechanism for Unitholders to liquidate their investment. Holding Trust Notes which may be received as a result of a redemption of Units will not be listed on any stock exchange and no market for Holding Trust Notes is expected to develop. The Holding Trust Notes will not be qualified investments for Exempt Plans. On termination of the Trust, the Trustee may distribute securities directly to Unitholders, subject to obtaining all of the necessary regulatory approvals. In addition, there may be resale restrictions imposed by applicable law upon the recipients of Holding Trust Notes pursuant to the redemption right. The Holding Trust Notes will not be guaranteed by any other party, and the provisions of the Holding Trust Note Indenture governing events of default and the remedies available thereunder will not provide protection to the holders of Holding Trust Notes which would be comparable to the provisions generally found in debt securities issued to the public.

Debt Service

AltaGas may, from time to time, finance a significant portion of its operations through debt. Amounts paid in respect of interest and principal on debt incurred by AltaGas may impair AltaGas' ability to satisfy its obligations under indebtedness held indirectly by the Trust. Variations in interest rates and scheduled principal repayments could result in significant changes in the amount required to be applied to debt service before payment by AltaGas of its obligations under its indirect indebtedness to the Trust. Ultimately, this may result in lower levels of Cash Flow of the Trust and could reduce distributions to Unitholders.

The Operating Loans are unsecured and subject to customary covenants and financial tests which may in certain circumstances restrict AltaGas' ability to make distributions to AltaGas LP #2 and ultimately to Unitholders. The Medium Term Notes are subject to customary covenants and financial tests, including a restriction on total funded obligations as a ratio of total capitalization, and may in certain circumstances restrict AltaGas Operating Partnership's ability to make distributions to AltaGas and ultimately to Unitholders.

Structural and Contractual Subordination

In the event of a bankruptcy, liquidation or reorganization of AltaGas or AltaGas Operating Partnership, holders of their respective indebtedness and trade payables will generally be entitled to payment of their claims from the assets of AltaGas or AltaGas Operating Partnership, as applicable, before any assets are made available for distribution to the Trust. The Units are therefore effectively junior to indebtedness under the Operating Loans and the Medium Term Notes and most other liabilities (including trade payables) of AltaGas and AltaGas Operating Partnership. Neither AltaGas nor AltaGas Operating Partnership is limited in its ability (except pursuant to restrictive covenants under the Operating Loans and the Medium Term Notes) to incur secured or unsecured indebtedness.

AltaGas distributes a substantial portion of its cash flow to AltaGas LP #2 pursuant to an interest bearing loan agreement. Payments by AltaGas under this loan agreement are expressly subordinated to the prior payment in full of all indebtedness of AltaGas to third parties, including all indebtedness and obligations under the Operating Loans. Upon a default under the Operating Loans or the Medium Term Notes, AltaGas may be prevented from distributing cash to AltaGas LP #2 thereby ultimately reducing cash available for distribution to Unitholders.

Dependence on AltaGas

The Trust will be entirely dependent upon the success of the operations of AltaGas through its indirect ownership of AltaGas. Accordingly, the distributions to the Unitholders will be dependent on the ability of AltaGas to generate cash flow.

Taxation of AltaGas

Income fund structures often involve significant amounts of inter-entity debt, generating substantial interest expense, which serves to reduce earnings and therefore income tax payable. The Board of Directors of the General Partner expects this to be the case in respect of AltaGas and its interest expense on its indirect indebtedness to the Trust. There can be no assurance that taxation authorities will not seek to challenge the amount of interest expense deducted. If such a challenge were to succeed against AltaGas, it could have a materially adverse effect on the Cash Flow of the Trust available for distribution to Unitholders.

Unitholder Limited Liability

The Declaration of Trust provides that no Unitholder will be subject to any liability in connection with the Trust or its obligations and affairs and, in the event that a court determines Unitholders are subject to any such liabilities, the liabilities will be enforceable only against, and will be satisfied only out of the Trust's assets. Pursuant to the Declaration of Trust, the Trust will indemnify and hold harmless each Unitholder from any costs, damages, liabilities, expenses, charges and losses suffered by a Unitholder resulting from or arising out of such Unitholder not having such limited liability. There is no assurance that at the relevant time the Trust will have sufficient assets to be able to satisfy such indemnity.

The Declaration of Trust provides that all written instruments signed by or on behalf of the Trust must contain a provision to the effect that obligations under those instruments will not be binding upon Unitholders personally. Personal liability may however arise in respect of claims against the Trust that do not arise under contracts, including claims in tort, claims for taxes and possibly certain other statutory liabilities. The possibility of any personal liability of this nature arising is considered unlikely.

The operations of the Trust will be conducted, upon the advice of counsel to the Trust, in such a way and in such jurisdictions as to avoid as far as possible any material risk of liability to the Unitholders for claims against the Trust, including by obtaining appropriate insurance, where available and to the extent commercially feasible.

On July 1, 2004, the Income Trusts Liability Act (Alberta) came into force, which provides that a Unitholder will not be, as a beneficiary, liable for any act, default, obligation or liability of the Trustee that arises after the particular provision of such legislation comes into force.

Deductibility of Expenses

Although the General Partner is of the view that all expenses to be claimed by the Trust, Holding Trust, AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 will be reasonable and deductible, there can be no assurance that the CRA will agree. If the CRA successfully challenges the deductibility of any such expenses, the return to Unitholders may be adversely affected.

Potential Conflicts of Interest

Circumstances may arise where directors and officers of AltaGas and the General Partner are directors or officers of other entities which are in competition to the interests of AltaGas and the Trust. Pursuant to an agreement with the Trust dated May 1, 2004, the Selling Unitholder is presently entitled to and has appointed two directors to the board of the General Partner. These directors are not elected by Unitholders. There may be situations in which the interests of Enbridge Inc. will conflict with those of the Trust and its subsidiaries, including AltaGas.

The General Partner owes a fiduciary duty to AltaGas and the Trust. While the General Partner has agreed to indemnify the Trust in certain circumstances, the General Partner may not have sufficient assets to honour such indemnification.

Risks Inherent in the Ongoing Business of AltaGas

The following are the primary risks associated with the business and affairs of AltaGas and should be considered carefully in light of the fact that the Trust depends entirely on the operations and assets of AltaGas for its cash flow, and thereby its ability to pay distributions to Unitholders. These risks are applicable to AltaGas' current operations and AltaGas' expected future operations.

Operating Risk

As AltaGas continues to grow and diversify its midstream energy business the risk profile of AltaGas may change. AltaGas may enter into or expand business components where there is greater economic exposure and more "at risk" capital. AltaGas' expectation of higher returns from these businesses justifies the level of risk. In addition, AltaGas enters into these businesses on the basis that these risks can be actively managed.

AltaGas' current operations are subject to the risks normally associated with the operation and development of natural gas and power facilities, including mechanical failure, physical degradation, operator error, manufacturer defects, sabotage, terrorism, failure of supply, catastrophic events and natural disasters. The occurrence or continuation of these events could increase AltaGas' costs and reduce its ability to process or transport natural gas or deliver power.

AltaGas believes that operational risk is best managed by maintaining control over the timing of capital expenditures, operational decisions and costs by becoming the operator of the facilities in which it invests. At the end of 2003, AltaGas operated 65 of its 67 field gathering and processing facilities, all of its transmission facilities and all of AltaGas Utilities' distribution assets.

AltaGas does not operate its extraction plant interests or the assets related to its power purchase agreement ("PPA") based arrangements. Failure by the operators of these facilities to operate at the cost or in the manner projected by AltaGas could negatively affect AltaGas' results.

Facility Throughput

The majority of AltaGas' gathering and processing facilities process or transport natural gas from the Western Canadian Sedimentary Basin. Continuing use of these systems is dependent on a number of factors including the level of exploration and development within the basin, remaining reserves and the ability of producers to discover or develop new reserves within the areas serviced by AltaGas' facilities, the longer term price of natural gas, the ability of natural gas producers to deliver natural gas to the various pipeline systems and the regulatory environment for producers, transporters and consumers of natural gas.

Throughput at AltaGas' gathering and processing facilities is influenced by production of natural gas in the areas serviced by AltaGas. At all of its field gathering and processing facilities, AltaGas actively pursues opportunities to maintain or increase throughput and has been successful in offsetting production declines. AltaGas' contract provisions mitigate the impact of volume declines, generate additional volumes for gathering and processing at its facilities, encourage expansion into areas where AltaGas' facilities are located and allow AltaGas to recover its invested capital in a relatively short period of time. The majority of AltaGas' field processing facilities are skid-mounted and can be moved to areas with favourable production potential should a particular area's production decline significantly.

Market Risk

AltaGas is exposed to market risks resulting from movements in commodity prices and interest rates. AltaGas manages its exposure to these risks through the use of various physical and financial instruments.

AltaGas' Commodity Risk Management Policy details the parameters used to measure, monitor and report commodity price risks. It also includes risk management guidelines and objectives, risk tolerance and approved products. This policy prohibits the use of physical and financial instruments for speculative purposes.

Electricity Prices

AltaGas' revenue from electricity sales related to PPAs are subject to Alberta electricity market factors such as fluctuating supply and demand, which may be affected by weather, customer usage, economic activity and growth. AltaGas reduces its exposure to floating electricity prices by supplying internal electrical demand requirements and locking in margins with financial instruments.

Natural Gas Liquids Fractionation Price

AltaGas' extraction business depends in part on the level of demand for and pricing of NGLs. AltaGas cannot predict the impact of future economic conditions, fuel conservation measures, alternative fuel requirements, governmental regulation or technological advances in fuel economy and energy generation devices, all of which could reduce the demand for natural gas and NGLs. Because NGLs are a feedstock to the petrochemical industry, there is a historical relationship between NGLs prices and crude oil prices. As crude oil prices fall, NGLs prices will generally decrease subject to other factors that influence the supply and demand. All of AltaGas' ethane production is sold under cost of service type contracts under which AltaGas bears no commodity price risk. AltaGas' NGL production is sold under market based contracts, where AltaGas bears the market or commodity price risk, and under long term fixed fee revenue plus reimbursement of operating costs contracts, where AltaGas bears no commodity price risk. Approximately 50% of AltaGas' NGL production is sold under the latter type of contract where AltaGas bears no commodity price risk. The remaining NGLs are subject to the spread between the price received for the NGLs extracted and the price paid for the natural gas purchased to make up the heating value of the NGLs extracted, after subtracting operating costs.

Interest Rate

AltaGas is exposed to interest rate fluctuations on variable rate debt. AltaGas monitors its level of fixed to floating and variable rate debt instruments and from time to time interest rate swaps are used to help maintain balances of each commensurate with AltaGas' target to have 70% to 75% of its debt at fixed interest rates. At July 1, 2004, AltaGas had fixed interest rates on $200.0 million, or approximately 83%, of its floating rate debt through interest rate swaps. At July 1, 2004, approximately $300.0 million, or approximately 88%, of AltaGas' total debt, including its Medium Term Notes and swaps, was at fixed interest rates.

Weather

The Alberta Energy Utilities Board sets rates based upon a deemed capital structure, an allowed rate of return on common equity, an approved rate base and costs expected to be incurred by the utility assuming normal weather conditions. As customers are billed on an actual volume basis, the utility's ability to recover the allowed rate of return depends upon achieving the forecast distribution volumes under "normal weather" conditions. In addition, warmer than normal weather may result in lower than expected demand and a lower rate of return than allowed.

Regulatory

AltaGas' businesses are subject to regulation in the jurisdictions in which they carry on business. Pipelines and facilities can be subject to common carrier and common processor applications and to rate setting by the regulatory authorities in the event an agreement on fees or tariffs cannot be reached with producers. To the extent that producers believe processing fees or tariffs respecting pipelines and facilities are too high, they may seek relief through regulatory intervention. In the natural gas distribution business under return on rate base regulation, rates are set which allow the regulated entity the opportunity to cover its costs and earn a reasonable return. However there is no guarantee that the entity will earn its fair return because rates are set to cover future estimated costs based on future estimated demand and "normal weather" conditions and the entity's actual revenues may be more or less than the actual costs.

Credit Risk

AltaGas is exposed to credit-related losses in the event that counterparties to contracts fail to fulfill their present or future financial obligations to AltaGas. AltaGas minimizes counterparty risk by conducting credit reviews on clients prior to providing services, by participating in contract negotiations to include credit mitigation clauses and by obtaining financial or performance assurances from clients. AltaGas provides an allowance for doubtful accounts in the normal course of its business.

AUDITORS, TRANSFER AGENT AND REGISTRAR

The auditors of the Trust are Ernst & Young LLP, Chartered Accountants, Calgary, Alberta.

The transfer agent and registrar for the Units is Computershare Trust Company of Canada at its principal offices in Toronto and Calgary.

PURCHASERS' STATUTORY RIGHTS

Securities legislation in several of the provinces of Canada provides purchasers with the right to withdraw from an agreement to purchase securities. This right may be exercised within two business days after receipt or deemed receipt of a prospectus and any amendment. In several of the provinces, the securities legislation further provides a purchaser with remedies for rescission or, in some jurisdictions, damages if the prospectus and any amendment contains a misrepresentation or is not delivered to the purchaser, provided that such remedies for rescission or damages are exercised by the purchaser within the time limit prescribed by the securities legislation of the purchaser's province. The purchaser should refer to any applicable provisions of the securities legislation of the purchaser's province for the particulars of these rights or consult with a legal adviser.

A copy of this preliminary short form prospectus has been filed with the securities regulatory authorities in each of the provinces of Canada but has not yet become final for the purpose of the sale of securities. Information contained in this preliminary short form prospectus may not be complete and may have to be amended. The securities may not be sold until a receipt for the short form prospectus is obtained from the securities regulatory authorities.

No securities regulatory authority has expressed an opinion about these securities and it is an offence to claim otherwise. This short form prospectus constitutes a public offering of these securities only in those jurisdictions where they may be lawfully offered for sale and therein only by persons permitted to sell such securities. These securities have not been and will not be registered under the United States Securities Act of 1933, as amended, (the "1933 Act") or any state securities laws. Accordingly, these securities may not be offered or sold within the United States of America or to a U.S. Person (as such term is defined in Regulation S under the 1933 Act) unless registered under the 1933 Act and applicable state securities laws or an exemption from such registration is available. This short form prospectus does not constitute an offer to sell or a solicitation of an offer to buy any of these securities within the United States of America. See "Plan of Distribution".

Amended and Restated Preliminary Short Form Prospectus

Secondary Offering July 21, 2004

AltaGas

$230,087,500
11,650,000 Trust Units

This short form prospectus qualifies the distribution by Enbridge Inc. (the "Selling Unitholder") of 11,650,000 trust units ("Units") of AltaGas Income Trust (the "Trust"). See "Selling Unitholder". The Trust will not receive any of the proceeds from the sale of Units by the Selling Unitholder. The outstanding Units, including those offered hereunder, are listed on the Toronto Stock Exchange (the "TSX") under the trading symbol "ALA.UN". On July 19, 2004, the last trading day prior to the announcement of the offering, the closing price of the Units on the TSX was $20.70. The price of the Units was determined by negotiation between the Selling Unitholder and Scotia Capital Inc., CIBC World Markets Inc., RBC Dominion Securities Inc., BMO Nesbitt Burns Inc., National Bank Financial Inc., TD Securities Inc., Clarus Securities Inc., HSBC Securities (Canada) Inc., Canaccord Capital Corporation, FirstEnergy Capital Corp. and Peters & Co. Limited (collectively, the "Underwriters").

Price: $19.75 per Unit

	Price to Public	Underwriters' Fee	Net Proceeds to the Selling Unitholder[1]
Per Unit	$19.75	$0.9875	$18.7625

(1) Before deducting expenses of the offering, estimated to be $350,000, which, together with the Underwriters' Fee, will be paid by the Selling Unitholder.

(2) The Selling Unitholder has also granted to the Underwriters an option (the "Over-Allotment Option") to purchase up to an additional 1,747,500 Units at a price of $19.75 per Unit, exercisable in whole or in part at any time prior to 30 days after the closing of the offering, solely to cover over-allotments, if any, and for market stabilization purposes. If the Over-Allotment Option is exercised in full, the Price to Public, Underwriters' Fee and Net Proceeds to the Selling Unitholder will be $264,600,625, $13,230,031 and $251,370,594, respectively. This short form prospectus qualifies the distribution of the Units to be sold by the Selling Unitholder upon exercise of the Over-Allotment Option. See "Plan of Distribution."

Subscribers who purchase Units pursuant to the offering and who hold such Units on the relevant record date will be eligible to receive distributions commencing with the distribution anticipated to be payable on or about September 15, 2004, provided closing of the offering occurs by August 25, 2004, the anticipated record date for such distribution. Subscribers will not be eligible to receive the distribution to be paid on August 15, 2004, the record date for which will be July 26, 2004.

The Underwriters, as principals, conditionally offer the Units, subject to prior sale, if, as and when sold by the Selling Unitholder and accepted by the Underwriters in accordance with the conditions contained in the underwriting agreement referred to under "Plan of Distribution" and subject to approval of certain legal matters on behalf of the Trust by Stikeman Elliott LLP, on behalf of the Selling Unitholder by McCarthy Tétrault LLP and on behalf of the Underwriters by Blake, Cassels & Graydon LLP. Subscriptions for Units will be received subject to rejection or allotment in whole or in part and the right is reserved to close the subscription books at any time without notice. The Underwriters may over-allot or effect transactions which stabilize or maintain the market price for the Units at levels other than those which otherwise might prevail in the open market. See "Plan of Distribution". Definitive Unit certificates will be available for delivery at closing, which is expected to occur on or about August 10, 2004 but in any event not later than August 25, 2004.

The Units are not "deposits" within the meaning of the Canada Deposit Insurance Corporation Act (Canada) and are not insured under the provisions of that Act or any other legislation. Furthermore, the Trust is not a trust company and, accordingly, it is not registered under any trust and loan company legislation as it does not carry on or intend to carry on the business of a trust company.

NOTE REGARDING FORWARD LOOKING STATEMENTS

This short form prospectus and the documents incorporated by reference herein contain forward-looking statements. When used in this short form prospectus and the documents incorporated by reference herein, the words "may", "would", "could", "will", "intend", "plan", "anticipate", "believe", "seek", "propose", "estimate", "expect", and similar expressions, as they relate to the Trust or an affiliate of the Trust, are intended to identify forward-looking statements. These statements involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors that may cause actual results or events to differ materially from those anticipated in such forward-looking statements. Such statements reflect the Trust's current views with respect to future events and are subject to certain risks, uncertainties and assumptions, including, without limitation, those described in this short form prospectus under the heading "Risk Factors". Many factors could cause the Trust's actual results, performance or achievements to vary from those described in this short form prospectus and the documents incorporated by reference herein. Should one or more of these risks or uncertainties materialize, or should assumptions underlying forward-looking statements prove incorrect, actual results may vary materially from those described in this short form prospectus and the documents incorporated by reference herein as intended, planned, anticipated, believed, estimated or expected, and such forward-looking statements included in this short form prospectus or the documents incorporated by reference herein should not be unduly relied upon. These statements speak only as of the date of this short form prospectus or as of the date specified in the documents incorporated by reference herein, as the case may be. The Trust does not intend, and does not assume any obligation, to update these forward-looking statements.

In particular, this short form prospectus and the documents incorporated by reference herein contain forward-looking statements pertaining to the following: the amount and timing of distributions in respect of the Units; treatment under applicable tax legislation; expectations regarding the ability to maintain its competitive position; expectations regarding the ability to raise capital; treatment under governmental regulatory regimes; and commodity prices.

Actual results could differ materially from those anticipated in these forward-looking statements as a result of the risk factors set forth below and elsewhere in this short form prospectus: general economic conditions in Canada and the United States; industry conditions; governmental regulations; volatility of commodity prices; currency fluctuations; environmental risks; competition; lack of availability of qualified personnel or management; the ability to integrate technological advances and match advances of competition; the availability of capital; and the other factors considered under "Risk Factors".

These factors should not be construed as exhaustive.

All dollar amounts in this short form prospectus are in Canadian dollars unless otherwise stated.

DESCRIPTION OF CASH FLOW OF THE TRUST

Throughout this short form prospectus and the documents incorporated by reference herein, the Trust uses the term "Cash Flow of the Trust" to refer to the amount of cash that is to be available for distributions to Unitholders. "Cash Flow of the Trust" is not a measure recognized by Canadian generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP") and does not have a standardized meaning prescribed by GAAP, but is an amount calculated in accordance with the terms of the Declaration of Trust. Therefore, Cash Flow of the Trust may not be comparable to similar measures presented by other issuers, and investors are cautioned that Cash Flow of the Trust should not be considered as an alternative to net earnings, cash flow from operating activities or other measures of financial performance calculated in accordance with GAAP.

ELIGIBILITY FOR INVESTMENT

Based in part upon representations made by AltaGas as to certain factual matters, in the opinion of Stikeman Elliott LLP and Blake, Cassels & Graydon LLP, the Units offered hereby will, on the date of closing, be qualified investments under the Tax Act for Exempt Plans and will not, on the date of closing, be foreign property for purposes of the Tax Act.

It is not certain whether the Trust would be a "business income trust" or whether the Units would constitute "restricted investment property" as described in proposed amendments to the Tax Act announced by the Minister of Finance (Canada) in the Budget. Under that Budget proposal, certain investors, including registered pension funds or plans and pension corporations, but not Exempt Plans, were to be liable to a penalty tax commencing in 2005 in respect of their holdings of restricted investment property and units of business income trusts in excess of the limits described in the Budget proposal. On May 18, 2004, the Minister of Finance (Canada) announced that this Budget proposal will be suspended pending further consultation and review. See "Certain Canadian Federal Income Tax Considerations" and "Risk Factors."

DOCUMENTS INCORPORATED BY REFERENCE

Information has been incorporated by reference in this short form prospectus from documents filed with securities commissions or similar authorities in Canada. For the purpose of the Province of Québec, this simplified prospectus contains information to be completed by consulting the permanent information record. Copies of the documents incorporated herein by reference and of the permanent information record may be obtained on request without charge from the Vice-President, General Counsel and Corporate Secretary of AltaGas at 1700, 355 – 4th Avenue S.W., Calgary, Alberta, T2P 0J1, Telephone: (403) 691-7575. These documents are also available through the Internet on the System for Electronic Document Analysis and Retrieval (SEDAR), which can be accessed at www.sedar.com.

The following documents of the Trust or AltaGas, filed with the various provincial securities commissions or similar authorities in Canada, are specifically incorporated into and form an integral part of this short form prospectus:

(a) the Renewal Annual Information Form of AltaGas Services dated March 18, 2004 (the "AIF"), including management's discussion and analysis of the financial condition and operations of AltaGas Services for the year ended December 31, 2003 incorporated by reference therein;

(b) the audited consolidated financial statements of AltaGas Services as at and for the years ended December 31, 2003 and 2002, together with the auditors' report thereon;

(c) the unaudited consolidated financial statements of AltaGas Services as at and for the three months ended March 31, 2004 and 2003;

(d) management's discussion and analysis of the financial condition and operations of AltaGas Services for the three months ended March 31, 2004 and 2003;

(e) the Information Circular and Proxy Statement dated March 26, 2004 relating to the Special Meeting of Securityholders of AltaGas Services held on April 29, 2004 (the "Information Circular"), excluding the sections entitled "Report on Employee and Executive Compensation", "Performance Graph" and "Statement of Corporate Governance Practices";

(f) the material change report of AltaGas Services dated March 22, 2004 with respect to the reorganization of the business of AltaGas Services into an income trust; and

(g) the material change report of the Trust dated May 10, 2004 with respect to the completion of reorganization of the business of AltaGas Services into an income trust.

Any material change reports (except confidential material change reports), comparative interim financial statements, comparative annual financial statements and the auditors' report thereon and information circulars (excluding the disclosure in an information circular relating to the downward repricing of options or stock appreciation rights, the composition of the Trust's compensation committee and its report on executive compensation, the performance graph and corporate governance practices) filed by the Trust with the provincial securities commissions or similar authorities in Canada after the date of this short form prospectus and before the termination of the offering, are deemed to be incorporated by reference in this short form prospectus.

Any statement contained in a document incorporated or deemed to be incorporated by reference herein shall be deemed to be modified or superseded for the purposes of this short form prospectus to the extent that a statement contained herein or in any other subsequently filed document which also is, or is deemed to be, incorporated by reference herein modifies or supersedes such statement. The modifying or superseding statement need not state that it has modified or superseded a prior statement or include any other information set forth in the document that it modifies or supersedes. The making of a modifying or superseding statement shall not be deemed an admission for any purposes that the modified or superseded statement, when made, constituted a misrepresentation, an untrue statement of a material fact or an omission to state a material fact that is required to be stated or that is necessary to make a statement not misleading in light of the circumstances in which it was made. Any statement so modified or superseded shall not be deemed, except as so modified or superseded, to constitute a part of this short form prospectus.

General

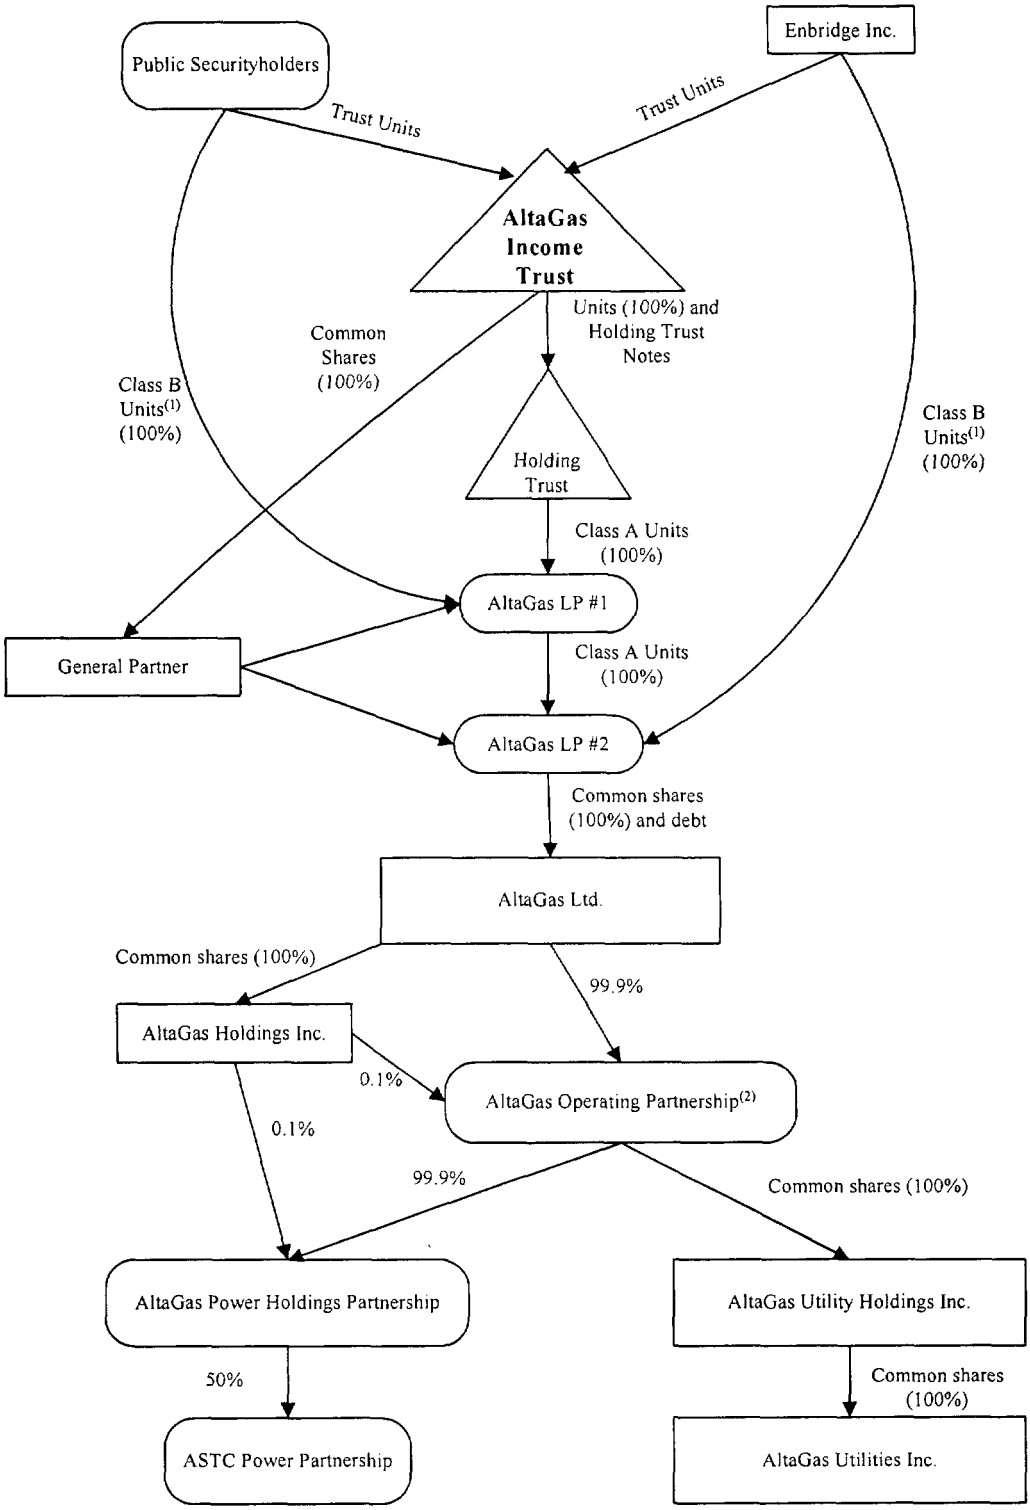
The Trust is an unincorporated open-ended investment trust governed by the laws of Alberta and created pursuant to the Declaration of Trust. The head and principal office of the Trust is located at 1700, 355 - 4th Avenue S.W., Calgary, Alberta T2P 0J1. The Trust was established for the purposes of acquiring or investing in the securities of entities involved in the business of, or the ownership, lease or operation of assets or property in connection with gathering, processing, transporting, extracting, buying, storing or selling petroleum, natural gas, natural gas liquids or other related products, power or other forms of energy and related businesses and such other investments as the Trust may determine.

Holders of Units are the sole beneficiaries of the Trust. Computershare Trust Company of Canada is the initial trustee of the Trust.

General Partner

The Trust is administered by the General Partner, which is also the general partner of AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2. The board of directors of the General Partner also has the power to manage, or supervise the management of, the business and affairs of AltaGas pursuant to a unanimous shareholder agreement.

Business of AltaGas



AltaGas is an energy infrastructure based company and an indirect subsidiary of the Trust. AltaGas, directly and indirectly:

- Physically gathers, processes, extracts and transports natural gas;
- Contractually markets and transports natural gas and electrical power;
- Converts energy across and along the energy value chain to create higher-value added products; and
- Consumes natural gas and electrical power to operate its facilities.

AltaGas expects to continue to develop its asset base by seeking opportunities for expansion and acquisition in the natural gas, NGLs and power business in Canada and the northern United States.

Organizational Structure of the Trust

The following diagram shows the inter-entity relationships among the Trust and its material subsidiaries prior to the completion of the offering.

Notes:

(1) Class B limited partnership units of AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 are exchangeable for Trust Units at the option of the holder on a one-for-one basis, are entitled to vote with Unitholders pursuant to the Special Voting Unit and are entitled to the same cash payments per unit as the cash distributions made on a Unit.

(2) Subsequent to the Arrangement, substantially all of the operating assets formerly owned by AltaGas were contributed to, and certain obligations of AltaGas were assumed by, the AltaGas Operating Partnership.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

Trust Conversion

Effective May 1, 2004, the business of AltaGas Services was reorganized pursuant to the Arrangement and holders of common shares of AltaGas Services received Units and/or Exchangeable Securities in exchange for their common shares. AltaGas Services became an indirect subsidiary of the Trust and was amalgamated to form AltaGas. Additional information relating to the Arrangement is contained in the Information Circular, which is incorporated by reference herein.

Edmonton Ethane Extraction Plant Acquisition

On March 18, 2004, AltaGas Services announced that it had entered into a purchase and sale agreement with BP Canada Energy Resources Company ("BP") to acquire BP's 48 2/3% interest in the Edmonton Ethane Extraction Plant located at Edmonton, Alberta for approximately $46 million. The acquisition, expected to close during the third quarter of 2004, will increase AltaGas' net extraction processing capacity to 539 million cubic feet of gas per day.

Adoption of Distribution Reinvestment Plans

On May 20, 2004, the Trust adopted a Premium Distribution™, Distribution Reinvestment and Optional Unit Purchase Plan for Unitholders and each of AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 adopted a Premium Distribution™, Distribution Reinvestment and Optional Unit Purchase Plan for holders of Exchangeable Securities (collectively, the "DRIP Plans"), available in respect of monthly cash distributions or cash payments.

Under the DRIP Plans, eligible Unitholders and eligible holders of Exchangeable Securities may elect to receive a cash distribution of up to 102% of the cash distribution from the Trust, in the case of Units, or up to 102% of the cash payment from AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as applicable, in the case of Exchangeable Securities, that such Unitholder or holder of Exchangeable Securities would have otherwise been entitled to receive. Alternatively, Unitholders or holders of Exchangeable Securities can direct cash distributions or cash payments, as applicable, to be reinvested in additional Units at 95% of the "average market price" as defined in the DRIP Plans.

PremStar Energy Canada Ltd.

On May 26, 2004, the Trust announced that a subsidiary of the trust has executed a letter of intent to purchase the business of PremStar Energy Canada Ltd. and its subsidiaries, ECNG Inc. and Energistics Group Inc. (collectively, "PremStar"), for approximately $22.0 million, payable by way of 993,789 Units issued from treasury plus approximately $1.2 million cash. The transaction is conditional on the execution of a purchase and sale agreement.

The PremStar group specializes in the procurement and supply of energy to end use customers. The PremStar acquisition will build on AltaGas' low risk, fee for service business through the provision of physical energy supply from the gas field directly to end use customers located primarily in Ontario. On a fee for service basis, the PremStar group provides energy supply, arranges for transportation services, and supports customers with valuable market information.

Recent Treasury Offering

On June 10, 2004, the Trust completed the offering and sale of 4,730,000 Units at $18.70 per Unit for gross proceeds of $88,451,000.

PLAN OF DISTRIBUTION

Pursuant to an agreement dated July 21, 2004 (the "Underwriting Agreement") between the Selling Unitholder, the Trust, AltaGas, AltaGas Operating Partnership and the Underwriters, the Selling Unitholder has agreed to sell 11,650,000 Units and the Underwriters have severally agreed to purchase all of such Units on August 10, 2004 or on such other date as may be agreed among the parties to the Underwriting Agreement (such date not to be later than August 25, 2004) at a price of $19.75 per Unit. The Underwriting Agreement provides that the Selling Unitholder will pay the Underwriters a fee of $0.9875 per Unit purchased by the Underwriters from the Selling Unitholder in consideration for their services in connection with the offering. The offering price of the Units was determined by negotiation between the Selling Unitholder and the Underwriters.

The Selling Unitholder has granted to the Underwriters the Over-Allotment Option to purchase up to an additional 1,747,500 Units at a price of $19.75 per Unit, exercisable in whole or in part at any time prior to 30 days after the closing of the offering, solely to cover over-allotments, if any, and for market stabilization purposes. If the Over-Allotment Option is exercised in full, the total offering, Underwriters' fee and net proceeds to the Selling Unitholder will be $264,600,625, $13,230,031 and $251,370,594, respectively. This short form prospectus qualifies the distribution of the Units to be sold by the Selling Unitholder upon exercise of the Over-Allotment Option.

The obligations of the Underwriters under the Underwriting Agreement are several, and not joint, and may be terminated upon the occurrence of certain stated events. If one or more Underwriters fail to purchase the Units which it or they have agreed to purchase and such Units are less than 7% of the aggregate Units offered, the remaining Underwriter or Underwriters are obligated to purchase the Units not purchased by the Underwriter or Underwriters that fail to purchase. The Selling Unitholder is not obligated to sell less than all of the Units offered. If one or more Underwriters fail to purchase the Units which it or they have agreed to purchase and such Units are 7% or more of the aggregate Units offered, the remaining Underwriter or Underwriters may terminate their obligation to purchase their allotment of Units, or may, but are not obligated to, purchase the Units not purchased by the Underwriter or Underwriters which fail to purchase. Pursuant to the Underwriting Agreement, the Selling Unitholder, the Trust, AltaGas and AltaGas Operating Partnership have agreed to indemnify the Underwriters and their respective agents, shareholders, directors, officers and employees against certain liabilities.

The Selling Unitholder has agreed with the Underwriters that it will not, during the period ending 90 days following the closing of the offering, sell any Units or any securities convertible into or exchangeable for Units without the prior written consent of Scotia Capital Inc., CIBC World Markets Inc. and RBC Dominion Securities Inc., such consent not to be unreasonably withheld. The Trust has agreed with the Underwriters that it will not, during the period ending 60 days following July 21, 2004, sell any Units without the prior written consent of Scotia Capital Inc., CIBC World Markets Inc. and RBC Dominion Securities Inc., such consent not to be unreasonably withheld, other than any issue of options pursuant to the Trust's Trust Unit Option Plan, and any issue of Units pursuant to options under such Plan, upon the exchange of Exchangeable Securities, pursuant to the Trust's DRIP Plans or in connection with the PremStar acquisition described under "Recent Developments."

Pursuant to applicable securities laws, the Underwriters may not, throughout the period of distribution under this short form prospectus, bid for or purchase Units. The foregoing restriction is subject to certain exceptions including: (i) a bid or purchase permitted under the by-laws and rules of the TSX relating to market stabilization and passive market making activities; and (ii) a bid or purchase made for or on behalf of a customer where the order was not solicited during the period of the distribution, provided that the bid or purchase was not engaged in for the purpose of creating actual or apparent active trading in, or raising the price of the Units. In connection with the offering, the Underwriters may over-allot or effect transactions that stabilize or maintain the market price of the Units at a level other than that which might otherwise prevail in the open market. Such transactions, if commenced, may be discontinued at any time.

The Units offered hereby have not been and will not be registered under the 1933 Act or any state securities laws, and accordingly may not be offered or sold within the United States of America or to U.S. Persons (as such term is defined in Regulation S under the 1933 Act) except in transactions exempt from the registration requirements of the 1933 Act and applicable state securities laws. However, the Underwriting Agreement permits the Underwriters to offer and resell the Units acquired pursuant to the Underwriting Agreement to qualified institutional buyers (as defined in Rule 144A under the 1933 Act) in the United States, provided such offers and sales are made in accordance with Rule 144A under the 1933 Act. In addition, the Underwriting Agreement provides that the Underwriters will offer and sell Units outside the United States only in accordance with Regulation S under the 1933 Act. In addition, until 40 days after the commencement of this offering, any offer or sale of Units offered hereby within the United States by any dealer (whether or not participating in the offering) may violate the registration requirements of the 1933 Act if such offer or sale is made otherwise than in accordance with Rule 144A under the 1933 Act.

USE OF PROCEEDS

The Trust will not receive any of the proceeds from the sale of Units. The net proceeds of the offering to the Selling Unitholder, after payment of the Underwriters' fee of $11,504,375 and expenses of the offering estimated to be $350,000, will be approximately $218,233,125. If the Over-Allotment Option is exercised in full, the net proceeds of the offering to the Selling Unitholder, after payment of the Underwriters' fee of $13,230,031 and expenses of the offering estimated to be $350,000, will be approximately $251,020,594. The Underwriters' fee and the expenses of the offering will be paid by the Selling Shareholder. See "Plan of Distribution."

SELLING UNITHOLDER

The following table sets out information concerning the Selling Unitholder's ownership of Units and Exchangeable Securities as at July 20, 2004, and as adjusted as of that date to give effect to the offering. The Selling Unitholder owns its Units and Exchangeable Securities beneficially and of record and acquired such securities in exchange for common shares of AltaGas Services in connection with the conversion of AltaGas Services into an income trust on May 1, 2004. The Selling Unitholder has covenanted in the Underwriting Agreement to exchange, prior to closing of the offering, that number of Exchangeable Securities held beneficially and of record by the Selling Unitholder that, taken together with the Units it presently holds beneficially and of record, will comprise the Units to be sold in the offering.

	Securities Owned Before Offering	Percentage	Securities to be Sold in Offering	Securities Owned After Offering[1]	Percentage[1]
Trust Units	9,331,491	23.9%	9,331,491	Nil	Nil
Exchangeable Securities[2]	8,866,009	72.4%	2,318,509	6,547,500	66.0%
Total[3]	18,197,500	35.5%	11,650,000	6,547,500	12.8%

(1) If the Over-Allotment Option is exercised in full, the Selling Unitholder will, after giving effect to the offering, own nil Units and 4,800,000 Exchangeable Securities (58.7% of the outstanding Exchangeable Securities or 9.4% of the Units after giving effect to the exchange of the Exchangeable Securities for Units in accordance with the terms of the Exchangeable Securities).

(2) The Selling Unitholder's Exchangeable Securities are all Class B limited partnership units of AltaGas LP #2. Percentage calculations are based upon all of the Exchangeable Securities outstanding.

(3) Giving effect to the exchange of Exchangeable Securities for Units in accordance with the terms of the Exchangeable Securities.

CERTAIN CANADIAN FEDERAL INCOME TAX CONSIDERATIONS

In the opinion of Stikeman Elliott LLP and Blake, Cassels & Graydon LLP (collectively, "Counsel"), the following summary fairly describes the principal Canadian federal income tax considerations generally applicable under the Tax Act to a subscriber who acquires Units pursuant to the offering and who, for purposes of the Tax Act and at all relevant times, holds the Units as capital property and deals at arm's length with, and is not affiliated with, the Trust, the Selling Unitholder and the Underwriters. Generally, Units will be considered to be capital property to a holder provided the holder does not hold the Units in the course of carrying on a business of buying or selling securities and does not acquire them in one or more transactions considered to be an adventure in the nature of trade. Certain holders who are Residents and who might not otherwise be considered to hold their Units as capital property may, in certain circumstances, be entitled to make an irrevocable election in accordance with subsection 39(4) of the Tax Act to have them, and any other "Canadian securities" (as defined in the Tax Act), deemed to be capital property. Holders contemplating making such an election should first consult their own tax advisors.

This summary is not applicable to a Unitholder that is a "specified financial institution" as defined in the Tax Act or a "financial institution" as defined in the Tax Act for purposes of the mark-to-market rules, nor is it applicable to a Unitholder an interest in which would be a "tax shelter investment" under the Tax Act.

This summary is based upon the provisions of the Tax Act in force as of the date hereof, all specific proposals to amend the Tax Act publicly announced by the Minister of Finance (Canada) prior to the date hereof (the "Proposed Amendments"), and Counsel's understanding of the current published administrative practices of the Canada Revenue Agency ("CRA"). This summary is not exhaustive of all possible Canadian federal income tax considerations, and except for the Proposed Amendments, does not take into account or anticipate any changes in law or administrative practice, whether by legislative, governmental or judicial action, nor does it take into account provincial, territorial or foreign income tax legislation or considerations which may differ significantly from the Canadian federal income tax considerations discussed herein. No assurance can be given that the Proposed Amendments will be enacted as currently proposed or at all.

A Budget proposal to impose a tax on a registered pension plan's investment in trust units above certain limits unless 90% or more of the fair market value of the particular trust's property is attributable to, inter alia, real property was suspended by the Minister of Finance (Canada) on May 18, 2004 pending further consultation and review. Further, the Budget proposes to introduce changes to the Tax Act that will subject persons who are not Residents to tax in respect of certain distributions made by mutual fund trusts that currently are not subject to taxation in Canada. It is not clear whether these proposals, if enacted, will result in tax consequences to Unitholders that are materially different from those disclosed herein. Prospective Unitholders that are registered pension plans or who are not Residents should consult their own tax advisors regarding the income tax considerations applicable to them in their particular circumstances.

Based in part upon representations made by AltaGas as to certain factual matters, in the opinion of Counsel, the Trust presently qualifies as a "mutual fund trust" as defined in the Tax Act, and this summary assumes that the Trust will continue to so qualify at all times. In the event the Trust were not to so qualify, the income tax considerations would in some respects be materially different from those described below.

Taxation of the Trust

The Trust is subject to tax in each taxation year on its taxable income for the year, including net realized taxable capital gains, less the portion thereof that is paid or payable in the year to Unitholders and that is deducted by the Trust in computing its income for purposes of the Tax Act. An amount will be considered to be payable in a taxation year to a Unitholder if the Unitholder is entitled in the year to enforce payment of the amount. The taxation year of the Trust is the calendar year.

All or substantially all of the income of the Trust will consist of the income of Holding Trust (including net realized taxable capital gains) that is paid or becomes payable in the year by Holding Trust to the Trust and that is deducted by Holding Trust in computing its income for purposes of the Tax Act.

In computing its income, the Trust may deduct reasonable administrative, interest and other expenses incurred to earn income (provided such amounts are not reimbursed to it).

Under the Declaration of Trust, an amount equal to all of the income of the Trust for each year, including net realized capital gains, but excluding income which is designated by the Trust to a redeeming Unitholder and capital gains the tax on which may be offset by capital losses carried forward from prior years or is recoverable by the Trust, generally will be payable in the year to Unitholders by way of cash distributions, subject to the following exceptions. Income of the Trust which is applied to finance cash redemptions of Units or is otherwise unavailable for cash distributions will be distributed to Unitholders in the form of additional Units.

Capital gains of the Trust realized in connection with an in specie redemption of Units and certain income of the Trust may be designated to the redeeming Unitholder, with the result that the taxable portion of such gains and such income generally should be taxable to the redeeming Unitholder and not to the Trust.

Counsel has been advised that the Trust intends to make sufficient distributions in each year (in cash or by way of additional Units) of its income for tax purposes and any net realized taxable capital gains so that the Trust generally will not be liable for income tax under the Tax Act. The Trust generally is expected to designate to the Unitholders any taxable dividends or net taxable capital gains received or realized by it or designated to it by Holding Trust so that such amounts retain their character when received by Unitholders.

Taxation of Holding Trust

Holding Trust is subject to tax in each taxation year on its taxable income for the year, including net realized taxable capital gains, less the portion thereof that is paid or payable in the year to the Trust and that is deducted by Holding Trust in computing its income for purposes of the Tax Act. The taxation year of Holding Trust is the calendar year.

All or substantially all of the income of Holding Trust will consist of the portion of the income of AltaGas LP #1 that is allocated to Holding Trust. Amounts received or realized by AltaGas LP #1 as taxable dividends or net taxable capital gains will retain their character and be treated as such in the hands of Holding Trust to the extent allocated to Holding Trust. The amount of income allocated to Holding Trust from AltaGas LP #1 may exceed or be less than the amount of cash distributed by AltaGas LP #1 to Holding Trust.

In computing its income for tax purposes, Holding Trust may deduct reasonable administrative, interest and other expenses incurred to earn income (provided such amounts are not reimbursed to it).

Under the Holding Trust declaration of trust, an amount equal to all of the income of Holding Trust, including net realized capital gains, generally will be payable to the Trust and, therefore, deductible in computing Holding Trust's income for tax purposes. Accordingly, Holding Trust generally will not be liable for income tax. Holding Trust generally is expected to designate to the Trust any taxable dividends and net taxable capital gains received under the Tax Act so that such amounts retain their character as such when received by the Trust.

Neither AltaGas LP #1 nor AltaGas LP #2 is subject to tax under the Tax Act. AltaGas LP #1, as a partner of AltaGas LP #2, is required to include in computing its income for a particular fiscal year its share of the income or loss of AltaGas LP #2 for the fiscal year of AltaGas LP #2 ending in that fiscal year of AltaGas LP #1, whether or not any such income is distributed to AltaGas LP #1 in the year. Similarly, Holding Trust, as a partner of AltaGas LP #1, is required to include in computing its income for a particular taxation year its share of the income or loss of AltaGas LP #1 for the fiscal year of AltaGas LP #1 ending in that taxation year of Holding Trust, whether or not any such income is distributed to Holding Trust in the year.

For these purposes, the income or loss of AltaGas LP #2 and AltaGas LP #1 will be computed for each of their respective fiscal years as if each of them was a separate person resident in Canada, and in making those computations, each of AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 will be entitled to deduct reasonable administrative, interest and other expenses incurred to earn income (provided such amounts are not reimbursed to it). All or substantially all of the income of AltaGas LP #2 for a fiscal year will consist of interest on the indebtedness of AltaGas that accrues to AltaGas LP #2 to the end of the year, or is received or becomes receivable by it before the end of the year, to the extent that such interest was not included in computing its income for a preceding year. Also, AltaGas LP #2 will include in its income for a fiscal year any dividends received by it on shares of AltaGas in that year. Such amounts will then be included in the income of AltaGas LP #1 to the extent they are allocated to AltaGas LP #1.

Residents

The following portion of this summary is applicable to a Unitholder who at all relevant times is, or is deemed to be, a Resident. The taxation of Unitholders who are not Residents is described below under "Persons other than Residents".

This summary does not address the tax considerations of participating in the DRIP Plans.

Trust Distributions

A Unitholder generally will be required to include in computing income for a particular taxation year of the Unitholder such portion of the net income of the Trust for a taxation year, including net realized taxable capital gains, as is paid or becomes payable to the Unitholder in that particular taxation year, whether received in cash, additional Units or otherwise. Provided that appropriate designations are made by the Trust and Holding Trust, such portion of any taxable dividends received from taxable Canadian corporations and net taxable capital gains as is paid or payable to a Unitholder will effectively retain its character and be treated as such in the hands of the Unitholder for purposes of the Tax Act. All other income of the Trust that is paid or becomes payable to a Unitholder generally will be considered income from property, irrespective of its source. Any loss of the Trust or Holding Trust for the purposes of the Tax Act cannot be allocated to, and cannot be treated as a loss of, a Unitholder.

The non-taxable portion of any net realized capital gains of the Trust that is paid or payable to a Unitholder in a taxation year will not be included in computing the Unitholder's income for the year and will not reduce the adjusted cost base ("ACB") of the Units held by the Unitholder. Any other amount in excess of the income of the Trust that is paid or payable to a Unitholder in a taxation year (otherwise than as proceeds of disposition on a redemption of Units) generally will not be included in the Unitholder's income for the year but will reduce the ACB of the Units held by the Unitholder. To the extent that the ACB of a Unit to a Unitholder would otherwise be a negative amount, that negative amount will be deemed to be a capital gain of the Unitholder from the disposition of the Unit in the year in which the negative amount arises, and the ACB of the Unit to the Unitholder will be reset to nil.

The cost to a Unitholder of a Unit will include all amounts paid or payable by the Unitholder for the Unit with certain adjustments. The cost to a Unitholder of additional Units received in lieu of a cash distribution of income (including net capital gains) will be the amount of such income paid in additional Units. The cost to a Unitholder of all Units held as capital property will be averaged to determine the ACB of each such Unit.

Acquisition of Units

Since the income of the Trust will be distributed on a monthly basis, a purchaser of a Unit may become taxable on a portion of the income of the Trust accrued or realized by the Trust in a month before the time the Unit was purchased but which was not paid or made payable to Unitholders until the end of the month and after the time the Unit was purchased. A similar result may apply on an annual basis in respect of a portion of net taxable capital gains accrued or realized by the Trust in a year before the time the Unit was purchased but which is paid or made payable to Unitholders at year end and after the time the Unit was purchased.

Disposition of Units

The disposition or deemed disposition by a Unitholder of a Unit, whether on redemption or otherwise, generally will result in the Unitholder realizing a capital gain (or a capital loss) equal to the amount by which the proceeds of disposition exceed (or are less than) the aggregate of the Unitholder's ACB of the Unit and any reasonable costs of disposition. Proceeds of disposition will not include an amount payable by the Trust that is otherwise required to be included in the Unitholder's income. The treatment of capital gains and losses is described below under "Residents – Taxation of Capital Gains and Capital Losses".

Where a Unitholder receives Holding Trust Notes on a redemption of Units, the proceeds of disposition to the Unitholder of the Units will be equal to the fair market value ("FMV") of the Holding Trust Notes so distributed less any amount designated by the Trust to be an income distribution from the Trust. The Declaration of Trust provides that the Trustee has the discretion to designate certain income and any capital gain realized by the Trust as a result of the redemption of Units to the Unitholder redeeming Units, as is reasonable in the circumstances. The Unitholder will be required to include in income any such income so designated.

The cost of any Holding Trust Notes distributed by the Trust to a Unitholder upon a redemption of Units will be equal to the FMV of the Holding Trust Notes at the time of the distribution. For this purpose, the Unitholder will be required to determine the FMV of the Holding Trust Notes on a reasonable basis. A Unitholder who is a Resident will thereafter be required to include in income, in accordance with the provisions of the Tax Act, interest received, receivable or accruing on such Holding Trust Notes.

Taxation of Capital Gains and Capital Losses

Under the Tax Act, one-half of any capital gain realized by a Unitholder, and the amount of any net taxable capital gains designated by the Trust in respect of a Unitholder, will be included in such holder's income as a taxable capital gain. Subject to certain specific rules in the Tax Act, one-half of any capital loss (an "allowable capital loss") realized by a Unitholder must be deducted from taxable capital gains realized by, or designated to, the Unitholder in the year of disposition, and allowable capital losses in excess of taxable capital gains in the year of disposition may be deducted against taxable capital gains realized in any of the three preceding taxation years or any subsequent taxation year.

A Unitholder that throughout the relevant taxation year is a "Canadian-controlled private corporation", as defined in the Tax Act, may be liable to pay an additional refundable tax of $6^2/_3\%$ on certain investment income, including taxable capital gains.

A capital loss realized on the disposition of a Unit by a Unitholder that is a corporation or trust (other than a mutual fund trust), whether directly or as a member of a partnership, may be reduced in respect of certain distributions to the Unitholder out of dividends received by the Trust directly or through Holding Trust, AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2 and designated by the Trust in respect of the Unitholder, to the extent and under the circumstances described in the Tax Act.

Minimum Tax

Net income of the Trust that is paid or payable to a Unitholder that is designated as taxable dividends or as net taxable capital gains, and capital gains realized on the disposition of Units may increase the Unitholder's liability for minimum tax if the Unitholder is an individual.

Qualified Investment Status

Units will be qualified investments for Exempt Plans (subject to the specific provisions of any particular Exempt Plan) provided that the Trust qualifies as a mutual fund trust or a registered investment for purposes of the Tax Act. Counsel has been advised that the Trust intends to apply to be a registered investment under the Tax Act effective from the date of its formation. If the Trust does not become a registered investment, the Units would immediately cease to be qualified investments for Exempt Plans if the Trust ceased to be a mutual fund trust. If the Trust becomes a registered investment and subsequently ceases to qualify as a mutual fund trust, and consequently (or for any other reason) loses its status as a registered investment, the Units would cease to be qualified investments for Exempt Plans effective January 1st of the second calendar year following the year in which the Trust ceases to be a registered investment.

Holding Trust Notes received as a result of an in specie redemption of Units by the Trust will not be qualified investments for Exempt Plans, which could give rise to adverse consequences to the Exempt Plan or the annuitant thereunder. Accordingly, Exempt Plans that own Units should consult their own tax advisors before deciding to exercise the redemption right attached to the Units.

Registered Pension Plans

It is not certain whether the Trust would be a "business income trust" or whether the Units would constitute "restricted investment property" as described in certain Proposed Amendments announced by the Minister of Finance (Canada) in the Budget. Under those Proposed Amendments, certain investors, including registered pension funds or plans and pension corporations, but not Exempt Plans, were to be liable to a penalty tax commencing in 2005 in respect of their holdings of restricted investment property and units of business income trusts in excess of the limits described in those Proposed Amendments. On May 18, 2004, the Minister of Finance (Canada) announced that those Proposed Amendments will be suspended pending further consultation and review.

Foreign Property

Based in part on representations of the Trust, Holding Trust, AltaGas and the General Partner as to certain factual matters, the Units will not constitute foreign property for purposes of the Tax Act.

The Units may become foreign property at any time (unless the Trust is a registered investment) if the Trust either (i) ceases to qualify as a mutual fund trust, or (ii) does not restrict its holdings of foreign property within the limits provided under the Tax Act.

Persons other than Residents

The following portion of this summary generally is applicable to a Unitholder who at all relevant times is not, and is not deemed to be, a Resident ("Non-Resident") and who does not use or hold, and is not deemed to use or hold Units in connection with carrying on a business in Canada. Special rules, which are not discussed herein, may apply to a Unitholder that is a Non-Resident and that is an insurer carrying on business in Canada and elsewhere.

Trust Distributions

Generally, amounts in respect of income of the Trust that are paid or credited or deemed to be paid or credited, to a Non-Resident Unitholder, other than amounts designated by the Trust to be net taxable capital gains, will be subject to Canadian withholding tax at a rate of 25%, unless such rate is reduced under an applicable income tax convention. The rate of withholding tax is reduced to 15% where such distributions are paid or credited, or deemed to be paid or credited, to Unitholders who are Non-Residents and who are residents of the United States for purposes of the Canada-United States Tax Convention.

Pursuant to certain Proposed Amendments included in the Budget, the Trust will be required to maintain a separate account (the "TCP Gains Distribution Account") to which it will add its net capital gains from dispositions after March 22, 2004 of "taxable Canadian property" and from which it will deduct losses from dispositions of such property and distributions designated by the Trust to be capital gains. Amounts paid by the Trust to a Non-Resident Unitholder, which the Trust designates as capital gains, will be subject to Canadian withholding tax at the same rate as distributions in respect of Trust income to the extent the Trust has a positive balance in its TCP Gains Distribution Account.

Also under the Proposed Amendments, effective for distributions after 2004, if the value of the Units is considered to be primarily attributable to real property in Canada, all distributions by the Trust that would otherwise not be subject to withholding tax as described above may be subject to a special Canadian withholding tax of 15% of the amount of the distribution. This withholding tax, if applicable, may be refunded in certain circumstances where the holder disposes of Units at a loss, subject to detailed provisions contained in the Proposed Amendments. It is not certain whether this special withholding tax will apply to distributions by the Trust.

Disposition of Units

A Non-Resident Unitholder generally will not be subject to tax under the Tax Act in respect of any capital gain realized on a disposition or deemed disposition of a Unit (whether the disposition of such Unit is on sale, redemption, by virtue of capital distributions in excess of the Unitholder's ACB or otherwise) unless the Unit constitutes "taxable Canadian property" for purposes of the Tax Act of the Non-Resident Unitholder and no relief is available to the Non-Resident Unitholder under an applicable income tax convention.

A Unit generally will not be considered to be taxable Canadian property of a Unitholder unless either: (i) at any time during the 60 month period that ends at the time of the disposition of the Unit, 25% or more of the issued Units were owned by the Unitholder, by persons with whom the Unitholder did not deal at arm's length or by any combination thereof; or (ii) at the time of disposition, the Trust is not a "mutual fund trust" as defined in the Tax Act.

If a Non-Resident's Units are considered to be taxable Canadian property, on the disposition or deemed disposition thereof, the capital gain (or capital loss) generally will be treated in the manner described above under "Certain Canadian Federal Income Tax Considerations – Residents – Taxation of Capital Gains and Capital Losses". However, an applicable income tax convention may provide relief from Canadian tax on any such capital gain realized by the Unitholder.

Interest paid or credited on any Holding Trust Notes received by a Non-Resident Unitholder on an in specie redemption of Units will be subject to Canadian withholding tax at a rate of 25%, subject to a reduction in such rate under the terms of an applicable income tax treaty. Such rate of withholding tax generally will be reduced to 10% in the case of a non-resident who is a resident of the United States for purposes of the Canada-United States Tax Convention.

CAPITALIZATION OF THE TRUST

The following table sets forth the consolidated capitalization of the Trust as at July 1, 2004, both before and after giving effect to the offering.

Designation	As at July 1, 2004 before giving effect to the offering	As at July 1, 2004 after giving effect to the offering
	(unaudited)	(unaudited)
Debt:
Operating loans[(1)]	$200,745,230	$200,745,230
Medium Term Notes[(2)]	$100,000,000	$100,000,000
Unit Capital:
Units[(3)(4)]	$285,801,642 (38,937,619 Units)	$299,606,918 (41,256,128 Units)
Exchangeable Securities[(4)(5)(6)]	$72,915,780 (12,245,745 units)	$59,110,504 (9,927,236 units)

(1) At July 1, 2004, AltaGas had: i) a $50.0 million demand operating credit facility with a Canadian chartered bank (the "Operating Facility"); ii) a $300.0 million extendible revolving term credit facility with a syndicate of Canadian chartered banks (the "Extendible Facility"); and iii) a $75.0 million 364 day extendible revolving letter of credit facility with a Canadian chartered bank (the "LC Facility") (collectively, the "Operating Loans"). The Operating Facility bears interest at the lender's prime rate or at the bankers' acceptance rate plus a stamping fee. The Extendible Facility bears interest at the lenders' prime rate or at the bankers' acceptance rate plus a stamping fee. The Extendible Facility matures on October 10, 2004 and may be extended for an additional 364 days or can be converted by AltaGas on that date to a two year term loan. The term loan is repayable over the two year period or at the end of the two year period, depending on the bond rating category of the long term senior unsecured indebtedness of AltaGas. The LC Facility bears fees and interest at market rates. It matures on July 31, 2004 but can be extended at AltaGas' request and acceptance by the bank. At July 1, 2004 AltaGas has issued letters of credit under the Operating Loans in the aggregate amount of $29,701,304. See "Risk Factors – Debt Service".

(2) On October 4, 2000, AltaGas Services issued $100 million of 7.28% medium term notes (the "Medium Term Notes"). Interest is payable semi-annually and the principal is due on October 4, 2005. Following the Arrangement, AltaGas Operating Partnership became the obligor for the

Medium Term Notes and is in compliance with all covenants and requirements contained in the indenture pursuant to which such notes were issued. See "Risk Factors."

(3) As at July 1, 2004, the Trust had outstanding, to officers, directors and employees, options to purchase an aggregate of 866,811 Units at prices ranging from $5.20 to $15.87 per Unit.

(4) If the Over-Allotment Option is exercised in full, as at July 1, 2004, after giving effect to the offering, the number of outstanding Units will be 43,003,628 ($310,012,192) and the number of outstanding Exchangeable Securities will be 8,179,736 ($48,705,230).

(5) There is one Special Voting Unit outstanding, representing as of July 1, 2004, in aggregate, a maximum of 12,245,745 votes at meetings of Unitholders, subject to proportionate reduction upon exchange of Exchangeable Securities. See "Description of Units – Special Voting Units".

(6) Class B limited partnership units of AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 are exchangeable for Units at the option of the holder on a one-for-one basis, are entitled to vote with Unitholders pursuant to the Special Voting Unit and are entitled to the same cash payments per unit as the cash distributions made on a Unit. The Selling Unitholder will exchange 2,318,509 (4,066,009 if the Over-Allotment Option is exercised in full) Exchangeable Securities into Units to be sold in the offering.

(7) As at March 31, 2004, AltaGas Services' retained earnings were $100,943,000.

Units

An unlimited number of Units may be created and issued pursuant to the Declaration of Trust. Each Unit entitles the holder thereof to one vote at any meeting of the Unitholders or in respect of any written resolution of Unitholders and represents an equal undivided beneficial interest in any distribution from the Trust (whether of income, net realized capital gains or other amounts) and in any net assets of the Trust in the event of termination or winding-up of the Trust. All Units shall rank among themselves equally and rateably without discrimination, preference or priority, whatever may be the actual date or terms of issue thereof. Each Unit is transferable, is not subject to any conversion or pre-emptive rights and entitles the holder thereof to require the Trust to redeem any or all of the Units held by such holder for cash or, in certain circumstances, Holding Trust Notes.

Issuance of Units

The Declaration of Trust provides that Units, including exchangeable securities, rights, warrants, options or other securities convertible into or exchangeable for Units, may be created, issued, sold and delivered on such terms and conditions and at such times as the Trustee may determine. The Declaration of Trust also provides that the Trustee may authorize the creation and issuance of any type of debt securities or convertible debt securities of the Trust from time to time on such terms and conditions to such persons and for such consideration as the Trustee may determine.

Special Voting Units

The Declaration of Trust allows for the creation of special voting units that will enable the Trust to provide voting rights to holders of Exchangeable Securities. A Special Voting Unit was issued pursuant to the Arrangement to enable the holders of Exchangeable Securities issued by AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 to vote at meetings of Unitholders.

The holder of a special voting unit, including the Voting and Exchange Trustee in respect of the Special Voting Unit, is not entitled to any interest or share in the distributions or net assets of the Trust and is only entitled to such number of votes at meetings of Unitholders as is equal to the number of Units into which the exchangeable securities to which such special voting unit relates are exchangeable or convertible.

Under the terms of the Voting and Exchange Trust Agreement, the Trust issued the Special Voting Unit to the Voting and Exchange Trustee for the benefit of every person who received Exchangeable Securities pursuant to the Arrangement. The Voting and Exchange Trustee is obligated to vote the Special Voting Unit at meetings of Unitholders pursuant to the instructions of the holders of Exchangeable Securities. However, if no instructions are provided by the holders of Exchangeable Securities, the votes associated therewith in the Special Voting Unit will be withheld from voting.

The special voting units will be subject to such other rights and limitations as may be determined by the Trustee at the time of issuance of the special voting unit. The Declaration of Trust provides that, upon the exchange of Exchangeable Securities for Units, the entitlement to vote pursuant to the special voting unit will be eliminated in respect of those Exchangeable Securities.

Cash Distributions

Pursuant to the Declaration of Trust, the Trust is required to make cash distributions to Unitholders each calendar month (or such other periods as may be determined by the Trustee) of all or any part of the Cash Flow of the Trust. Cash received by the Trust from its subsidiaries will be managed by the General Partner, giving consideration to the consolidated net income of the Trust, the consolidated growth and maintenance capital requirements of the Trust, the consolidated debt repayment requirements of the Trust and other factors. The intent of the General Partner is to maximize the cash received by the Trust from its subsidiaries giving consideration to these various factors.

Distributions in respect of a month will be paid to Unitholders of record as at the close of business on each determined distribution record date. The distribution for any month will be paid on the determined distribution payment date. In addition, the Declaration of Trust provides that, if necessary, on December 31st of each year, the Trust will distribute an additional amount such that the Trust will not be liable for ordinary income taxes for such year.

Subscribers who purchase Units pursuant to the offering and who hold such Units on the relevant record date will be eligible to receive distributions commencing with the distribution anticipated to be payable on or about September 15, 2004, provided closing of the offering occurs by August 25, 2004, the anticipated record date for such distribution. Subscribers will not be eligible to receive the distribution to be paid on August 15, 2004, the record date for which will be July 26, 2004. The General Partner expects that substantially all of the cash distributions to Unitholders will be taxed as ordinary income or as dividends.

For additional information in respect of the Units, including information respecting Unitholders' limited liability, restrictions on non-resident Unitholders, the redemption right attached to the Units, meetings of Unitholders, and amendments to the Declaration of Trust, see "Declaration of Trust and Description of Units" on pages 79 through 85, inclusive, of the Information Circular.

LEGAL MATTERS

Certain legal matters in connection with the issuance of the Units offered hereby will be passed upon on behalf of the Trust by Stikeman Elliott LLP, Calgary, Alberta, on behalf of the Selling Unitholder by McCarthy Tétrault LLP, Calgary, Alberta, and on behalf of the Underwriters by Blake, Cassels & Graydon LLP, Calgary, Alberta.

INTERESTS OF EXPERTS

The partners and associates of Stikeman Elliott LLP, as a group, the partners and associates of McCarthy Tétrault LLP, as a group, and the partners and associates of Blake, Cassels & Graydon LLP, as a group, each own, directly or indirectly, less than 1% of the outstanding Units and Exchangeable Securities. As of the date hereof, the partners and professional staff of Ernst & Young LLP, as a group, do not beneficially own, directly or indirectly, any of the Units or Exchangeable Securities. In addition, none of the aforementioned persons or companies, nor any director, officer or employee of any of the aforementioned persons or companies, is or is expected to be elected, appointed or employed as a director, officer or employee of the Trust or of any associate or affiliate of the Trust.

RISK FACTORS

A prospective investor should consider carefully the risk factors set out below and in the AIF incorporated by reference herein. In addition, prospective investors should carefully review and consider all other information contained in this short form prospectus before making an investment decision and consult their own experts where necessary.

Risks Inherent in an Investment in Units

Nature of Units

The Units do not represent a traditional investment in the diversified energy services business and should not be viewed by Unitholders as shares in AltaGas. The Units represent a fractional interest in the Trust. As holders of Units, Unitholders will not have the statutory rights normally associated with ownership of shares of a corporation including, for example, the right to bring "oppression" or "derivative" actions. The Trust's sole assets are the shares of the General Partner, the units of the Holding Trust, Holding Trust Notes and may include other investments in securities.

Cash distributions of the Trust are not guaranteed and the price per Unit is a function of anticipated distributions, the underlying assets of the Trust and management's ability to effect long-term growth in the value of AltaGas and other entities now or hereafter owned directly or indirectly by the Trust. The market price of the Units will be sensitive to a variety of market conditions including, but not limited to, interest rates, electricity prices and natural gas and natural gas liquids prices. Changes in market conditions may adversely affect the trading price of the Units.

The Units are not "deposits" within the meaning of the Canada Deposit Insurance Corporation Act (Canada) and are not insured under the provisions of that Act or any other legislation. Furthermore, the Trust is not a trust company and, accordingly, is not registered under any trust and loan company legislation as it does not carry on or intend to carry on the business of a trust company.

Potential Sales of Additional Units

The Trust may issue additional Units or securities convertible into or exchangeable for Units in the future to directly or indirectly fund capital expenditure requirements of AltaGas and other entities now or hereafter owned directly or indirectly by the Trust, including to finance acquisitions by those entities. Such additional Units may be issued without the approval of Unitholders. Unitholders will have no pre-emptive rights in connection with such additional issues. The Board of Directors of the General Partner has discretion in connection with the price and the other terms of the issue of such additional Units.

Nature of Distributions

Unlike interest payments on an interest-bearing security, cash distributions by income trusts on trust units (including those of the Trust) are, for Canadian tax purposes, composed of different types of payments (portions of which may be fully or partially taxable or may constitute non-taxable "returns of capital"). The composition for tax purposes of those cash distributions may change over time, thus affecting the after-tax return to Unitholders. Therefore, a Unitholder's rate of return over a defined period may not be comparable to the rate of return on a fixed-income security that provides a return on capital over the same period. This is because a Unitholder may receive cash distributions that constitute a return of capital (rather than a return on capital) to some extent during the relevant period. Returns on capital are generally taxed as ordinary income or as dividends in the hands of a Unitholder while returns of capital are generally non-taxable to a Unitholder (but reduce a Unitholder's cost base in the Unit for tax purposes). The General Partner expects that substantially all of the cash distributions to Unitholders will be taxed as ordinary income or as dividends. See "Description of Units – Cash Distributions". Unitholders are advised to consult their own tax advisors with respect to the implications of the distinction discussed above in their own circumstances.

Variability of Distributions

As the Cash Flow of the Trust available for distribution to Unitholders is a function of numerous factors, including AltaGas' financial performance, the impact of interest rates, electricity prices, natural gas and natural gas liquids prices, weather, debt covenants and obligations, working capital requirements, future capital requirements and the number of Units and Exchangeable Securities outstanding, depending on the operations of AltaGas and the performance of its assets, distributions may be reduced or suspended entirely.

The market value of the Units may deteriorate if the Trust is unable to meet its distribution targets in the future, and that deterioration may be material.

Changes in Legislation

Income tax laws relating to the Trust, such as the status of mutual fund trusts, may be changed in a manner which adversely affects Unitholders. If the Trust ceases to qualify as a mutual fund trust, and is not a registered investment, the Units will cease to be qualified investments for Exempt Plans. If the Trust ceases to qualify as a mutual fund trust, the income tax considerations described under the heading "Certain Canadian Federal Income Tax Considerations" would be materially and adversely different in certain respects.

The Budget contained a proposal to subject distributions of capital after 2004 to non-residents by certain income trusts (which distributions currently are not subject to Canadian income tax) to a new 15% withholding tax. This tax will apply to Unitholders only if the value of the Units is "primarily attributable to real property in Canada or a Canadian resource property". It is not clear whether the Trust would meet this test and thereby be subject to the application of this proposal. If this proposal applies with respect to the Trust, it may adversely affect non-resident Unitholders who are not entitled to a deduction or credit for such withholding tax against income taxes otherwise payable by them in another jurisdiction.

The Budget also contained several proposals relating specifically to the tax treatment of certain tax exempt holders of units of certain income trusts. After 2004, a penalty tax is proposed for certain Canadian tax exempt entities, such as registered pension funds, which hold excess amounts of units or debt of "business income trusts". Generally, the restrictions limit the aggregate amount of such holdings to 1% of the cost of all of the entity's property and limit the holdings of such entities (together with entities with which they do not deal at arm's length) to 5% of the total fair market value of any class of units of a particular trust. These proposals do not apply to Exempt Plans. Due to the nature of the assets held indirectly by the Trust, it is not clear for the purposes of these rules whether the Trust will be considered to be a "business income trust" to which these restrictions will apply. The Minister of Finance (Canada) announced on May 18, 2004 that this proposal would be suspended pending further consultation and review. There can be no assurance as to whether such suspension will be permanent or, alternatively, such restrictions on "business income trusts" will be applied as previously announced or in some modified form.

Environmental and applicable operating legislation may be changed in a manner which adversely affects AltaGas through the imposition of restrictions on its business activities or by the introduction of regulations that increase AltaGas' operating costs thereby indirectly affecting the Trust and potentially reducing distributions to Unitholders.

Loss of Mutual Fund Trust Status

The General Partner intends that the Trust will continue to qualify as a mutual fund trust for purposes of the Tax Act. The Trust may not, however, always be able to satisfy any future requirements for the maintenance of mutual fund trust status. See "– Changes in Legislation" above. Should the status of the Trust as a mutual fund trust be lost or successfully challenged by a relevant tax authority, certain adverse consequences may arise for the Trust and Unitholders. Some of the significant consequences of losing mutual fund trust status are listed below.

(a) If at the time the Trust ceased to be a mutual fund trust it had not become a registered investment, the Units would immediately cease to be qualified investments for Exempt Plans. If the Trust were a registered investment, it may, as a consequence of ceasing to be a mutual fund trust, also cease to be a registered investment. In that event, Units would cease to be qualified investments for Exempt Plans effective January 1st of the second calendar year following the year in which the Trust ceases to be a registered investment. If, at the end of any month, an Exempt Plan holds Units that are not qualified investments, the plan must pay a tax equal to 1% of the fair market value of the Units at the time the Units were acquired by the Exempt Plan. A registered retirement savings plan or registered retirement income fund holding Units that are not qualified investments would be subject to taxation on income attributable to the Units, including the full amount of any capital gain from a disposition of such Units. If a registered education savings plan holds Units that are not qualified investments, it may have its registration revoked by the CRA.

(b) Units held by Non-Resident Unitholders would become taxable Canadian property. Non-Resident Unitholders would be subject to Canadian income tax and reporting requirements on any gains realized on a disposition of Units held by them.

(c) The Trust would be taxed on certain types of income distributed to Unitholders. Payment of this tax may have adverse consequences for some Unitholders, particularly Unitholders that are not residents of Canada and residents of Canada that are otherwise exempt from Canadian income tax.

(d) The Trust would cease to be eligible for the capital gains refund mechanism available under Canadian tax laws if it ceased to be a mutual fund trust.

(e) The Trust would no longer be exempt from the application of the alternative minimum tax provisions of the Tax Act.

(f) If the Trust either does not become a registered investment, or having become a registered investment also ceased to be a registered investment, the Units would constitute "foreign property" for the purposes of the Tax Act.

In addition, the Trust may take certain measures in the future to the extent it believes necessary to ensure that the Trust maintains its status as a mutual fund trust. These measures could be adverse to certain Unitholders, particularly Non-Residents. See "- Risks Associated With the Level of Foreign Ownership" below.

Risks Associated With the Level of Foreign Ownership

The Declaration of Trust contains a number of provisions designed to protect the status of the Trust as a "mutual fund trust" under the Tax Act which, inter alia, requires that a mutual fund trust cannot be established or maintained primarily for the benefit of Non-Residents. There is no indication that the mutual fund trust status of the Trust currently is in jeopardy. If, in the future, the General Partner determines that any such risk exists, it is entitled to take a number of actions under the Declaration of Trust, including to require Unitholders that it believes are Non-Residents to sell their Units, which action may have an adverse effect on the market price of the Units. In addition, there can be no assurances that the Tax Act will not be amended in the future in a manner that would have a material adverse impact on the mutual fund trust status of the Trust.

Distribution of Holding Trust Notes or Other Securities on Redemption or Termination of the Trust

It is anticipated that the redemption right will not be the primary mechanism for Unitholders to liquidate their investment. Holding Trust Notes which may be received as a result of a redemption of Units will not be listed on any stock exchange and no market for Holding Trust Notes is expected to develop. The Holding Trust Notes will not be qualified investments for Exempt Plans. On termination of the Trust, the Trustee may distribute securities directly to Unitholders, subject to obtaining all of the necessary regulatory approvals. In addition, there may be resale restrictions imposed by applicable law upon the recipients of Holding Trust Notes pursuant to the redemption right. The Holding Trust Notes will not be guaranteed by any other party, and the provisions of the Holding Trust Note Indenture governing events of default and the remedies available thereunder will not provide protection to the holders of Holding Trust Notes which would be comparable to the provisions generally found in debt securities issued to the public.

Debt Service

AltaGas may, from time to time, finance a significant portion of its operations through debt. Amounts paid in respect of interest and principal on debt incurred by AltaGas may impair AltaGas' ability to satisfy its obligations under indebtedness held indirectly by the Trust. Variations in interest rates and scheduled principal repayments could result in significant changes in the amount required to be applied to debt service before payment by AltaGas of its obligations under its indirect indebtedness to the Trust. Ultimately, this may result in lower levels of Cash Flow of the Trust and could reduce distributions to Unitholders.

The Operating Loans are unsecured and subject to customary covenants and financial tests which may in certain circumstances restrict AltaGas' ability to make distributions to AltaGas LP #2 and ultimately to Unitholders. The Medium Term Notes are subject to customary covenants and financial tests, including a restriction on total funded obligations as a ratio of total capitalization, and may in certain circumstances restrict AltaGas Operating Partnership's ability to make distributions to AltaGas and ultimately to Unitholders.

Structural and Contractual Subordination

In the event of a bankruptcy, liquidation or reorganization of AltaGas or AltaGas Operating Partnership, holders of their respective indebtedness and trade payables will generally be entitled to payment of their claims from the assets of AltaGas or AltaGas Operating Partnership, as applicable, before any assets are made available for distribution to the Trust. The Units are therefore effectively junior to indebtedness under the Operating Loans and the Medium Term Notes and most other liabilities (including trade payables) of AltaGas and AltaGas Operating Partnership. Neither AltaGas nor AltaGas Operating Partnership is limited in its ability (except pursuant to restrictive covenants under the Operating Loans and the Medium Term Notes) to incur secured or unsecured indebtedness.

AltaGas distributes a substantial portion of its cash flow to AltaGas LP #2 pursuant to an interest bearing loan agreement. Payments by AltaGas under this loan agreement are expressly subordinated to the prior payment in full of all indebtedness of AltaGas to third parties, including all indebtedness and obligations under the Operating Loans. Upon a default under the Operating Loans or the Medium Term Notes, AltaGas may be prevented from distributing cash to AltaGas LP #2 thereby ultimately reducing cash available for distribution to Unitholders.

Dependence on AltaGas

The Trust will be entirely dependent upon the success of the operations of AltaGas through its indirect ownership of AltaGas. Accordingly, the distributions to the Unitholders will be dependent on the ability of AltaGas to generate cash flow.

Taxation of AltaGas

Income fund structures often involve significant amounts of inter-entity debt, generating substantial interest expense, which serves to reduce earnings and therefore income tax payable. The Board of Directors of the General Partner expects this to be the case in respect of AltaGas and its interest expense on its indirect indebtedness to the Trust. There can be no assurance that taxation authorities will not seek to challenge the amount of interest expense deducted. If such a challenge were to succeed against AltaGas, it could have a materially adverse effect on the Cash Flow of the Trust available for distribution to Unitholders.

Unitholder Limited Liability

The Declaration of Trust provides that no Unitholder will be subject to any liability in connection with the Trust or its obligations and affairs and, in the event that a court determines Unitholders are subject to any such liabilities, the liabilities will be enforceable only against, and will be satisfied only out of the Trust's assets. Pursuant to the Declaration of Trust, the Trust will indemnify and hold harmless each Unitholder from any costs, damages, liabilities, expenses, charges and losses suffered by a Unitholder resulting from or arising out of such Unitholder not having such limited liability. There is no assurance that at the relevant time the Trust will have sufficient assets to be able to satisfy such indemnity.

The Declaration of Trust provides that all written instruments signed by or on behalf of the Trust must contain a provision to the effect that obligations under those instruments will not be binding upon Unitholders personally. Personal liability may however arise in respect of claims against the Trust that do not arise under contracts, including claims in tort, claims for taxes and possibly certain other statutory liabilities. The possibility of any personal liability of this nature arising is considered unlikely.

The operations of the Trust will be conducted, upon the advice of counsel to the Trust, in such a way and in such jurisdictions as to avoid as far as possible any material risk of liability to the Unitholders for claims against the Trust, including by obtaining appropriate insurance, where available and to the extent commercially feasible.

On July 1, 2004, the Income Trusts Liability Act (Alberta) came into force, which provides that a Unitholder will not be, as a beneficiary, liable for any act, default, obligation or liability of the Trustee that arises after the particular provision of such legislation comes into force.

Deductibility of Expenses

Although the General Partner is of the view that all expenses to be claimed by the Trust, Holding Trust, AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 will be reasonable and deductible, there can be no assurance that the CRA will agree. If the CRA successfully challenges the deductibility of any such expenses, the return to Unitholders may be adversely affected.

Potential Conflicts of Interest

Circumstances may arise where directors and officers of AltaGas and the General Partner are directors or officers of other entities which are in competition to the interests of AltaGas and the Trust. Pursuant to an agreement with the Trust dated May 1, 2004, the Selling Unitholder is presently entitled to and has appointed two directors to the board of the General Partner. These directors are not elected by Unitholders. There may be situations in which the interests of Enbridge Inc. will conflict with those of the Trust and its subsidiaries, including AltaGas.

The General Partner owes a fiduciary duty to AltaGas and the Trust. While the General Partner has agreed to indemnify the Trust in certain circumstances, the General Partner may not have sufficient assets to honour such indemnification.

Risks Inherent in the Ongoing Business of AltaGas

The following are the primary risks associated with the business and affairs of AltaGas and should be considered carefully in light of the fact that the Trust depends entirely on the operations and assets of AltaGas for its cash flow, and thereby its ability to pay distributions to Unitholders. These risks are applicable to AltaGas' current operations and AltaGas' expected future operations.

Operating Risk

As AltaGas continues to grow and diversify its midstream energy business the risk profile of AltaGas may change. AltaGas may enter into or expand business components where there is greater economic exposure and more "at risk" capital. AltaGas' expectation of higher returns from these businesses justifies the level of risk. In addition, AltaGas enters into these businesses on the basis that these risks can be actively managed.

AltaGas' current operations are subject to the risks normally associated with the operation and development of natural gas and power facilities, including mechanical failure, physical degradation, operator error, manufacturer defects, sabotage, terrorism, failure of supply, catastrophic events and natural disasters. The occurrence or continuation of these events could increase AltaGas' costs and reduce its ability to process or transport natural gas or deliver power.

AltaGas believes that operational risk is best managed by maintaining control over the timing of capital expenditures, operational decisions and costs by becoming the operator of the facilities in which it invests. At the end of 2003, AltaGas operated 65 of its 67 field gathering and processing facilities, all of its transmission facilities and all of AltaGas Utilities' distribution assets.

AltaGas does not operate its extraction plant interests or the assets related to its power purchase agreement ("PPA") based arrangements. Failure by the operators of these facilities to operate at the cost or in the manner projected by AltaGas could negatively affect AltaGas' results.

Facility Throughput

The majority of AltaGas' gathering and processing facilities process or transport natural gas from the Western Canadian Sedimentary Basin. Continuing use of these systems is dependent on a number of factors including the level of exploration and development within the basin, remaining reserves and the ability of producers to discover or develop new reserves within the areas serviced by AltaGas' facilities, the longer term price of natural gas, the ability of natural gas producers to deliver natural gas to the various pipeline systems and the regulatory environment for producers, transporters and consumers of natural gas.

Throughput at AltaGas' gathering and processing facilities is influenced by production of natural gas in the areas serviced by AltaGas. At all of its field gathering and processing facilities, AltaGas actively pursues opportunities to maintain or increase throughput and has been successful in offsetting production declines. AltaGas' contract provisions mitigate the impact of volume declines, generate additional volumes for gathering and processing at its facilities, encourage expansion into areas where AltaGas' facilities are located and allow AltaGas to recover its invested capital in a relatively short period of time. The majority of AltaGas' field processing facilities are skid-mounted and can be moved to areas with favourable production potential should a particular area's production decline significantly.

Market Risk

AltaGas is exposed to market risks resulting from movements in commodity prices and interest rates. AltaGas manages its exposure to these risks through the use of various physical and financial instruments.

AltaGas' Commodity Risk Management Policy details the parameters used to measure, monitor and report commodity price risks. It also includes risk management guidelines and objectives, risk tolerance and approved products. This policy prohibits the use of physical and financial instruments for speculative purposes.

Electricity Prices

AltaGas' revenue from electricity sales related to PPAs are subject to Alberta electricity market factors such as fluctuating supply and demand, which may be affected by weather, customer usage, economic activity and growth. AltaGas reduces its exposure to floating electricity prices by supplying internal electrical demand requirements and locking in margins with financial instruments.

Natural Gas Liquids Fractionation Price

AltaGas' extraction business depends in part on the level of demand for and pricing of NGLs. AltaGas cannot predict the impact of future economic conditions, fuel conservation measures, alternative fuel requirements, governmental regulation or technological advances in fuel economy and energy generation devices, all of which could reduce the demand for natural gas and NGLs. Because NGLs are a feedstock to the petrochemical industry, there is a historical relationship between NGLs prices and crude oil prices. As crude oil prices fall, NGLs prices will generally decrease subject to other factors that influence the supply and demand. All of AltaGas' ethane production is sold under cost of service type contracts under which AltaGas bears no commodity price risk. AltaGas' NGL production is sold under market based contracts, where AltaGas bears the market or commodity price risk, and under long term fixed fee revenue plus reimbursement of operating costs contracts, where AltaGas bears no commodity price risk. Approximately 50% of AltaGas' NGL production is sold under the latter type of contract where AltaGas bears no commodity price risk. The remaining NGLs are subject to the spread between the price received for the NGLs extracted and the price paid for the natural gas purchased to make up the heating value of the NGLs extracted, after subtracting operating costs.

Interest Rate

AltaGas is exposed to interest rate fluctuations on variable rate debt. AltaGas monitors its level of fixed to floating and variable rate debt instruments and from time to time interest rate swaps are used to help maintain balances of each commensurate with AltaGas' target to have 70% to 75% of its debt at fixed interest rates. At July 1, 2004, AltaGas had fixed interest rates on $200.0 million, or approximately 99.6%, of its floating rate debt through interest rate swaps. At July 1, 2004, approximately $300.0 million, or approximately 99.6%, of AltaGas' total debt, including its Medium Term Notes and swaps, was at fixed interest rates.

Weather

The Alberta Energy Utilities Board sets rates based upon a deemed capital structure, an allowed rate of return on common equity, an approved rate base and costs expected to be incurred by the utility assuming normal weather conditions. As customers are billed on an actual volume basis, the utility's ability to recover the allowed rate of return depends upon achieving the forecast distribution volumes under "normal weather" conditions. In addition, warmer than normal weather may result in lower than expected demand and a lower rate of return than allowed.

Regulatory

AltaGas' businesses are subject to regulation in the jurisdictions in which they carry on business. Pipelines and facilities can be subject to common carrier and common processor applications and to rate setting by the regulatory authorities in the event an agreement on fees or tariffs cannot be reached with producers. To the extent that producers believe processing fees or tariffs respecting pipelines and facilities are too high, they may seek relief through regulatory intervention. In the natural gas distribution business under return on rate base regulation, rates are set which allow the regulated entity the opportunity to cover its costs and earn a reasonable return. However there is no guarantee that the entity will earn its fair return because rates are set to cover future estimated costs based on future estimated demand and "normal weather" conditions and the entity's actual revenues may be more or less than the actual costs.

Credit Risk

AltaGas is exposed to credit-related losses in the event that counterparties to contracts fail to fulfill their present or future financial obligations to AltaGas. AltaGas minimizes counterparty risk by conducting credit reviews on clients prior to providing services, by participating in contract negotiations to include credit mitigation clauses and by obtaining financial or performance assurances from clients. AltaGas provides an allowance for doubtful accounts in the normal course of its business.

AUDITORS, TRANSFER AGENT AND REGISTRAR

The auditors of the Trust are Ernst & Young LLP, Chartered Accountants, Calgary, Alberta.

The transfer agent and registrar for the Units is Computershare Trust Company of Canada at its principal offices in Toronto and Calgary.

PURCHASERS' STATUTORY RIGHTS

Securities legislation in several of the provinces of Canada provides purchasers with the right to withdraw from an agreement to purchase securities. This right may be exercised within two business days after receipt or deemed receipt of a prospectus and any amendment. In several of the provinces, the securities legislation further provides a purchaser with remedies for rescission or, in some jurisdictions, damages if the prospectus and any amendment contains a misrepresentation or is not delivered to the purchaser, provided that such remedies for rescission or damages are exercised by the purchaser within the time limit prescribed by the securities legislation of the purchaser's province. The purchaser should refer to any applicable provisions of the securities legislation of the purchaser's province for the particulars of these rights or consult with a legal adviser.

AUDITORS' CONSENT

We have read the short form prospectus of AltaGas Income Trust (the "Trust") dated July ●, 2004 relating to the sale of 11,650,000 trust units of the Trust. We have complied with Canadian generally accepted standards for an auditor's involvement with offering documents.

We consent to the incorporation by reference in the above-mentioned short form prospectus of our report to the shareholders of AltaGas Services Inc. on the consolidated balance sheets of AltaGas Services Inc. as at December 31, 2003 and 2002 and the consolidated statements of earnings and retained earnings and cash flows for the years then ended. Our report is dated February 13, 2004.

AltaGas NEWS RELEASE

ENBRIDGE REALIZES GAIN ON SALE OF ALTAGAS INVESTMENT

CALGARY, Alberta, July 21, 2004 – AltaGas Income Trust ("AltaGas") announced that Enbridge Inc. has sold 11,650,000 Trust Units of AltaGas to a group of Canadian underwriters at a price of $19.75. This sale reduces Enbridge's interest in AltaGas from approximately 36% to 13%. The sale, excluding the over-allotment, will realize net proceeds to Enbridge of approximately $217 million and will close on or about August 10.

In addition, the underwriters have been granted an over-allotment option to purchase an additional 1,747,500 Trust Units at the issue price of $19.75 per unit at any time up to 30 days after closing of the offering. Should the over-allotment option be taken up Enbridge's interest in AltaGas would be reduced to under 10%.

"We are very pleased with the strong market response and successful sale of our units by Enbridge," said David Cornhill, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of AltaGas. "Since Enbridge made its initial investment in AltaGas five years ago we have tripled our asset base and grown our market capitalization by six times to over one billion dollars. Enbridge has been a good investor and received very good returns on their investment. We are supportive of their disposition and are pleased with the opportunity to realize our full growth potential and deliver substantial unitholder value to an expanded unitholder base."

The underwriting syndicate was led by Scotia Capital Inc., CIBC World Markets Inc. and RBC Capital Markets, and included BMO Nesbitt Burns Inc., National Bank Financial Inc., TD Securities Inc., Clarus Securities Inc., HSBC Securities (Canada) Inc., Canaccord Capital Corporation, FirstEnergy Capital Corp., and Peters & Co. Limited.

AltaGas moves energy from its source to the end user, adding value through the process. The Trust has consolidated assets totalling almost $950 million and a market capitalization of approximately $1 billion. Our steadily expanding asset base today includes natural gas gathering and processing facilities, interests in ethane and natural gas liquids extraction plants, and transmission pipelines. AltaGas distributes natural gas to Alberta customers through AltaGas Utilities Inc., to customers in the Northwest Territories through the Ikhil Gas Project and distributes gas in Nova Scotia through its interest in Heritage Gas Limited. The Trust provides energy services to customers, including marketing of natural gas and natural gas liquids and sale of power from its power purchase based arrangements. AltaGas' Trust Units are listed on the Toronto Stock Exchange under the symbol ALA.UN. The Trust is included in the S&P/TSX Capped Income Trust Index and the S&P/TSX Capped Energy Trust Index.

This news release does not constitute an offer to sell or a solicitation of an offer to buy the Trust Units in any jurisdiction. The Trust Units offered have not been, and will not be, registered under the United States Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and may not be offered or sold within the United States of America.

Attention: Steve Wuori – Group Vice President and Chief Financial Officer

Dear Sirs:

Re: Secondary Offering of Trust Units

Scotia Capital Inc., CIBC World Markets Inc. and RBC Dominion Securities Inc. as co-lead underwriters (the "Co-Lead Underwriters"), and each of the other underwriters listed in Schedule A to this Agreement (each an "Underwriter" and collectively, the "Underwriters") understand that Enbridge Inc. (the "Selling Unitholder") is the registered and beneficial owner of 9,331,491 Trust Units (as herein defined) of AltaGas Income Trust (the "Trust") and 8,866,009 Class B limited partnership units of AltaGas LP #2 ("Exchangeable Securities"). The Underwriters further understand that the Exchangeable Securities are exchangeable into Trust Units on a one for one basis.

The Underwriters further understand that the Selling Unitholder agrees to sell to the Underwriters 11,650,000 Trust Units (the "Firm Units") of the Trust at a price per Trust Unit of $19.75 for an aggregate purchase price of $230,087,500 (the "Purchase Price") and the Trust will prepare and file all documents necessary in order to qualify the Offered Units (as herein defined) for Distribution (as herein defined) in each of the Provinces of Canada (the "Qualifying Jurisdictions"). The Underwriters further understand that the Selling Unitholder will, prior to the Closing Time (as herein defined), exercise the retraction right provided under the AltaGas LP #2 Limited Partnership Agreement in respect of a sufficient number of Exchangeable Securities as will, taken together with the Trust Units held by the Selling Unitholder, result in the Selling Unitholder holding beneficially and of record at the Closing Time, a number of Trust Units equal to the number of Firm Units.

Upon and subject to the terms and conditions contained herein, the Underwriters hereby severally and not jointly, in the respective percentages set forth in Schedule A attached hereto, agree to purchase from the Selling Unitholder and, by its acceptance hereof, the Selling Unitholder agrees to sell to the Underwriters, at the Closing Time, all but not less than all of the Firm Units.

The Selling Unitholder also agrees to sell to the Underwriters and the Underwriters will have the option to purchase from the Selling Unitholder up to an additional 1,747,500 Trust Units (the "Over-Allotment Option Units") at a price per Over-Allotment Option Unit of $19.75, for the purpose of covering over-allotments, if any (the "Over-Allotment Option"). The Over-Allotment Option may be exercised by written notice to the Selling Unitholder given by the Co-Lead Underwriters, on behalf of the Underwriters, at any time until 5:00 p.m. (Calgary time) on the date that is 30 days after the Closing Date (as herein defined). The notice shall specify the number of Over-Allotment Option Units to be purchased pursuant to the Over-Allotment Option.

The Underwriters understand that, if the Over-Allotment Option is exercised, the Selling Unitholder will, prior to the Additional Closing Date (as herein defined), exercise the retraction right provided under the AltaGas LP #2 Limited Partnership Agreement in respect of a sufficient number of Exchangeable Securities as will, taken together with the Trust Units then held by the Selling Unitholder, if any, result in the Selling Unitholder holding beneficially and of record at the Additional Closing Time (as herein defined), a number of Trust Units equal to the number of Over-Allotment Option Units issuable pursuant to the exercise of the Over-Allotment Option.

If and to the extent the Over-Allotment Option is exercised by the Underwriters, upon and subject to the terms and conditions hereof, the Underwriters hereby severally, and not jointly, agree to purchase from the Selling Unitholder in the respective percentages set forth in Schedule A attached hereto, and the Selling Unitholder shall sell as directed by the Underwriters, in accordance with and subject to the provisions of this Agreement, that number of Over-Allotment Option Units as indicated in the relevant notice.

In consideration of the Underwriters' agreement to purchase the Offered Units and in consideration of the services to be rendered by the Underwriters in connection therewith, including but not limited to acting as financial advisors to the Selling Unitholder in respect of the sale of the Offered Units, assisting in preparing documentation relating to the Offered Units, distributing the Offered Units directly and through other investment dealers and brokers and performing administrative work in connection with the Distribution of the Offered Units, the Selling Unitholder agrees to pay to the Underwriters (i) at the Closing Time an underwriting fee of $0.9875 per Firm Unit, for an aggregate underwriting fee of $11,504,375 and, if applicable, (ii) at the Additional Closing Time an underwriting fee of $0.9875 per Over-Allotment Option Unit (being an aggregate amount of $1,725,656.25 in respect of the Over-Allotment Option Units, if the Over-Allotment Option is exercised in full) (collectively, the "Underwriting Fee"). For greater certainty, the services provided by the Underwriters in connection herewith will not be subject to the Goods and Services Tax provided for in the Excise Tax Act (Canada) and taxable supplies provided will be incidental to the exempt financial services provided.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS

1. Qualification of Offered Units

Each of the Trust and the Selling Unitholder shall fulfil all legal requirements to be fulfilled by it to enable the Offered Units to be offered for sale by the Selling Unitholder and sold to the public in each of the Qualifying Jurisdictions by or through the Underwriters and other investment dealers and brokers who comply with the Securities Laws. All legal requirements to enable the Distribution of the Offered Units shall be fulfilled as soon as practicable. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the Trust shall as soon as possible, and in any event, not later than 5:00 p.m. (Calgary time) on July 21, 2004 (or such other time and/or date as the Trust, the Selling Unitholder and the Underwriters may agree) prepare and file the Amended and Restated Preliminary Prospectus in each of the Qualifying Jurisdictions, and will use its reasonable best efforts to obtain a receipt for the Amended and Restated Preliminary Prospectus, issued by the ASC in its capacity as the principal regulator in accordance with the MRRS, as soon as possible after filing. The Trust will prepare and file the Final Prospectus, as soon as possible following the resolution to the satisfaction of the Trust, the Selling Unitholder (to the extent the comments relate to the Selling Unitholder's Information only) and the Underwriters of the comments of the Securities Commissions, and shall use its commercially reasonable efforts to so prepare and file the Final Prospectus by not later than 5:00 p.m. (Calgary time) on August 3, 2004 (or such other time and/or date as the Trust, the Selling Unitholder and the Underwriters may agree), such Final Prospectus to be in form and substance satisfactory to the Underwriters, acting reasonably, in each of the Qualifying Jurisdictions with the Securities Commissions under the Securities Laws, and will use its reasonable efforts to obtain a receipt for the Final Prospectus, issued by the ASC in its capacity as the principal regulator in accordance with the MRRS as soon as possible after the filing and the Trust will promptly take all other steps and proceedings that may be necessary in order to qualify the Offered Units for Distribution in the Qualifying Jurisdictions and shall provide the Final Prospectus in compliance with Section 3(f).

2. Distribution of Offered Units

The Underwriters will offer the Offered Units for sale to the public in Canada, directly and through other investment dealers and brokers (the Underwriters, together with such other investment dealers and brokers, the "Selling Firms" or each a "Selling Firm"), in each case registered under the appropriate category of registration under Securities Laws in each Qualifying Jurisdiction where such Selling Firm offers the Offered Units for sale, and only as permitted by Securities Laws and upon the terms and conditions set forth in the Final Prospectus and this Agreement. The Underwriters agree to sell the Offered Units only in accordance with, and in a manner permitted by, the laws of each of the Qualifying Jurisdictions and to require each Selling Firm to agree with the Underwriters to so sell the Offered Units. For purposes of this Section 2, the Underwriters shall be entitled to assume that the Offered Units are qualified for Distribution in any Province of Canada where a receipt or similar document (including an MRRS decision document) for the Amended and Restated Preliminary Prospectus or the Final Prospectus shall have been obtained from the applicable Securities Commission following the filing of the Amended and Restated Preliminary Prospectus or the Final Prospectus unless notice to the contrary from the Trust or the applicable Securities Commission is provided to the Underwriters. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this Section 2, an Underwriter will not be liable under this Section 2 with respect to a default under this Section 2 by another Underwriter.

The Underwriters shall use their reasonable best efforts to complete, and cause the Selling Firms to complete, Distribution of the Offered Units as promptly as possible, and shall give prompt notice to the Trust and the Selling Unitholder when, in the opinion of the Underwriters, such Distribution has been completed and shall give notice to the Trust and the Selling Unitholder of the proceeds realized in each Qualifying Jurisdiction from the Distribution of the Offered Units. The Underwriters may solicit offers to purchase or sell the Offered Units outside of Canada in accordance with applicable law (including, if applicable, U.S. Securities Laws and state securities laws), but will not solicit offers to purchase or sell the Offered Units so as to require registration of the Offered Units or the filing of a prospectus or registration statement with respect to the Distribution of the Offered Units under the laws of such jurisdiction (and will require each Selling Firm to agree with the Underwriters not to solicit or sell).

The Trust and the Selling Unitholder shall co-operate in all respects with the Underwriters to allow and assist the Underwriters to participate fully in the preparation of the Final Prospectus and any Amendment thereto and shall allow the Underwriters and their counsel to conduct all "due diligence" investigations which the Underwriters may reasonably require to fulfil the Underwriters' obligations as underwriters and to enable the Underwriters to execute any certificate required to be executed by the Underwriters in such documentation which may include investigations conducted up to the Closing Time, including without limitation the holding of a "due diligence" meeting at or prior to the Closing Time with officials of the Trust and the Selling Unitholder, their outside counsel and Ernst & Young LLP, as auditors of the Trust.

3. Documents to be Delivered

The Trust shall deliver to the Underwriters and the Selling Unitholder:

(a) on the date of filing of the Amended and Restated Preliminary Prospectus, a copy of the Amended and Restated Preliminary Prospectus signed as required by the laws of the Qualifying Jurisdictions;

(b) on the date of filing of the Final Prospectus, a copy of the Final Prospectus signed as required by the laws of the Qualifying Jurisdictions;

(c) on or prior to the date of filing of any Amendment, copies of the Amendment signed as required by the laws of the Qualifying Jurisdictions;

(d) at the time of the delivery to the Underwriters pursuant to this Section 3 of copies of the Amended and Restated Preliminary Prospectus, the Final Prospectus and any Amendment, in each case in the French language,

(i) opinions of Quebec counsel to the Trust dated the date of such document and stating that, except for any financial charts, financial statements, notes to financial statements or auditors' reports (collectively, the "Financial Information") contained or incorporated by reference in such document, the document in the French language is in all material respects a complete and accurate translation of the document in the English language and that such versions are not susceptible to any materially different interpretations with respect to any material matter contained therein; and

(ii) opinions of the auditors of the Trust dated the date of such document and stating that the Financial Information contained in such document in the French language is in all material respects a complete and proper translation of the Financial Information contained or incorporated by reference therein in the English language;

(e) at the time of the delivery to the Underwriters and the Selling Unitholder of the Final Prospectus pursuant to Section 3(b), a comfort letter dated the date of the Final Prospectus from the auditors of the Trust and AltaGas and acceptable in form and substance to the Underwriters, acting reasonably, with respect to the financial and accounting information contained in the Final Prospectus based on a review by the auditors having a cut-off date not more than two Business Days prior to the date of the comfort letter; and

(f) forthwith when available, but in any case:

(i) in Toronto by 12:00 noon (local time) on the Business Day after the MRRS decision document for the Amended and Restated Preliminary Prospectus, the Final Prospectus or the Amendment has been issued by the ASC; and

(ii) in such cities (other than Toronto) as the Underwriters may reasonably request by 5:00 p.m. (local time) on the Business Day after the MRRS decision document for the Amended and Restated Preliminary Prospectus, the Final Prospectus or the Amendment has been issued by the ASC;

without charge, such numbers of commercial copies of the Amended and Restated Preliminary Prospectus, the Final Prospectus and any Amendment together with any documents incorporated by reference in such Final Prospectus or Amendment as the Underwriters and the Selling Unitholder may reasonably require. The commercial copies of the Amended and Restated Preliminary Prospectus, the Final Prospectus and any Amendment shall be identical in content to the electronically transmitted versions thereof filed with Canadian securities regulatory authorities pursuant to the System for Electronic Document Analysis and Retrieval.

During the period of Distribution of the Offered Units, the Trust and, in respect of item (iv) only, the Selling Unitholder, will promptly provide to the Underwriters, for review and comment by the Underwriters and the Underwriters' counsel, prior to filing or issuance:

(i) any financial statement of the Trust or AltaGas;

(ii) any proposed document, including without limitation any amendment to or new annual information form, material change report, interim report, or information circular, which may be incorporated, or deemed to be incorporated, by reference in the Prospectus;

(iii) any press release of the Trust; and

(iv) any press release of the Selling Unitholder relating to the Trust, the Trust Units or Exchangeable Securities beneficially owned by the Selling Unitholder or the transactions contemplated hereby.

4. Amendment

The Trust shall deliver to the Underwriters and the Selling Unitholder duly signed copies of all amendments or supplements or any other supplemental documents to the Prospectus, as the case may be, required to be prepared by the Trust under Securities Laws or to the documents incorporated therein by reference (collectively, the "Amendment") or other documents required to be filed under Section 5. The Amendment shall be in form and substance satisfactory to the Underwriters and the Selling Unitholder, acting reasonably. Prior to the filing of any Amendment, the Trust shall deliver to the Underwriters and the Selling Unitholder with respect to such Amendment letters and opinions similar to those referred to in Sections 3(d) and 3(e).

5. Material Changes

Commencing on the date hereof and until the completion of the Distribution, the Trust, AltaGas and the Selling Unitholder (in the case of the Selling Unitholder only to the extent of and as regards any Selling Unitholder's Information) shall promptly notify the Underwriters in writing of:

(a) any change (actual, anticipated, contemplated or threatened, financial or otherwise) in the business, affairs, operations, assets, liabilities (contingent or otherwise), prospects or capital or ownership of the Trust taken as a whole;

(b) any material fact that has arisen or has been discovered which would have been required to have been stated in the Prospectus had the fact arisen or been discovered on, or prior to, the date of the Prospectus; and

(c) any change in any material fact in the Prospectus or any Amendment, or the existence of any new material fact, which change or new material fact is, or may be, of such a nature as:

(d) to render the Prospectus or Amendment, as they exist taken together in their entirety immediately prior to such change or new material fact, misleading or untrue in any material respect or would result in any of such documents, as they exist taken together in their entirety immediately prior to such change or new material fact, containing a misrepresentation;

(e) would result in the Prospectus or any Amendment, as they exist taken together in their entirety immediately prior to such change or new material fact, not complying with laws of the Qualifying Jurisdictions; or

(f) would reasonably be expected to have a significant effect on the market price or value of the Offered Units.

The Trust shall promptly, and in any event within any applicable time limitation, comply with all applicable filing and other requirements under Securities Laws arising as a result of such fact or change provided that the Trust shall not file any Amendment or other document without such being in form and substance satisfactory to the Underwriters and the Selling Unitholder, acting reasonably. The Trust, AltaGas and the Selling Unitholder (to the extent relating to any Selling Unitholder's Information) shall, in good faith, discuss with the Underwriters and the Selling Unitholder, as applicable, any fact or change (actual, anticipated, contemplated or threatened, financial or otherwise) which is of such a nature that there is any doubt as to whether notice in writing need be given to the Underwriters pursuant to this Section 5 and, in any event, prior to making any filing referred to in this Section 5.

In addition, if, prior to the completion of the Distribution of the Offered Units, there is any change in any Securities Laws which results in the requirement to file an Amendment, the Trust shall, to the reasonable satisfaction of the Underwriters' counsel and the Selling Unitholder's counsel in the applicable jurisdictions, make any such filing required as soon as possible.

If a material change or a change in a material fact occurs prior to the Closing Date, then, subject to Section 18, the Closing Date shall be, unless the Selling Unitholder and the Underwriters otherwise agree in writing, the sixth Business Day following the later of:

(i) the date on which all applicable filings or other requirements of Securities Laws with respect to such material change or change in a material fact have been complied with in all Qualifying Jurisdictions and any appropriate MRRS decision documents obtained for such filings and notice of such filings have been received by the Underwriters; and

(ii) the date upon which the commercial copies of any Amendment have been delivered in accordance with Section 3(f),

provided, however, without the consent of the Underwriters, in no event shall the Closing Date be later than August 25, 2004.

6. Representations and Warranties of the Trust, AltaGas and Operating Partnership

The delivery to the Underwriters of the documents referred to in Sections 3(a), (b), (c), and (d) shall constitute the consent of the Trust, AltaGas and Operating Partnership to the use by the Underwriters and the Selling Firms of such documents in connection with the Distribution of the Offered Units in compliance with the provisions of this Agreement and shall constitute the joint representation and warranty to the Underwriters and the Selling Unitholder by each of the Trust, AltaGas and Operating Partnership that:

(a) such documents at the time of their signing or filing fully complied with the requirements of the Securities Laws pursuant to which they were filed and all the information and statements relating to the Trust and the Subsidiaries contained therein (except for Underwriters' Information and the Selling Unitholder's Information, and information or statements which are modified or superseded by information or statements contained in an Amendment) were, at the respective dates of delivery thereof, true and correct in all material respects, contained no misrepresentation and constituted full, true and plain disclosure of all material facts relating to the Offered Units as required by the Securities Laws;

(b) no material fact or information (except Underwriters' Information or Selling Unitholder's Information) has been omitted from such documents and no other fact or information (except Underwriters' Information or the Selling Unitholder's Information) has been omitted therefrom which is necessary to make the statements contained therein not misleading in light of the circumstances in which they were made;

(c) the financial statements included in such documents or incorporated by reference therein present fairly in all material respects the financial position of the Trust or AltaGas, as applicable, as at the date indicated and, except as otherwise stated in such documents, such financial statements have been prepared in conformity with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles applied on a consistent basis;

(d) the pro forma financial statements, including the notes thereto, of the Trust incorporated by reference in the Prospectus have been prepared in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles, consistently applied, have been prepared and presented in accordance with Securities Laws, and include all adjustments necessary for a fair presentation; the assumptions contained in such pro forma financial statements are suitably supported and consistent with the financial results of the Trust and AltaGas Services Inc., and such statements provide a reasonable basis for the compilation of the pro forma financial statements and such pro forma financial statements accurately reflect such assumptions;

(e) the Arrangement was completed on the terms set forth in the Information Circular and all transactions included in the Arrangement have been consummated and all required filings in connection with the Arrangement have been made except for such filings which, if not completed, will not have a material adverse effect on the Trust and its Subsidiaries, taken as a whole; since the Effective Date (as defined in the Information Circular) there have been no amendments to any Material Agreements all of which agreements remain in full force and effect, unamended;

(f) the Trust has been properly created, settled and organized and is a validly existing trust under the laws of Alberta with all necessary power and authority to own and lease its properties and to conduct its business as described in the Final Prospectus including, without limitation to perform its obligations under the Material Agreements to which it is a party;

(g) the Subsidiaries include the only subsidiaries of the Trust (as the term "subsidiary" is defined in the Canada Business Corporations Act) the total assets of which constitute more than 10% of the consolidated assets of the Trust or the total revenues of which constitute more than 10% of the consolidated revenues of the Trust in each case as of the date of the most recent audited financial statements of AltaGas incorporated by reference in the Prospectus;

(h) each Subsidiary and Trust Corp has been duly incorporated, or in the case of the non-corporate Subsidiaries, formed and organized and is validly existing as a subsisting corporation, partnership or trust under the laws of its jurisdiction of incorporation or formation, as the case may be, with all necessary power and authority to own and lease its properties and to conduct its business as described in the Final Prospectus including, without limitation to perform its obligations under the Material Agreements to which it is a party;

(i) each of the Subsidiaries and Trust Corp is qualified to carry on business under the laws of each jurisdiction in which it carries on its business and the Trust is qualified to carry on its activities including, without limitation, owning the assets of the Trust in each jurisdiction where it carries on such activities;

(j) the Trust is the direct or indirect registered and beneficial owner of all of the issued and outstanding trust units, partnership units or interests, or common shares, as applicable, of the Subsidiaries (with the exception of the Class B limited partnership units of each of AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 as described in Sections 6(x) and 6(y)) and of a 50% interest in ASTC, with good and marketable title to all of such units, shares and interests, free and clear of any liens, pledges, charges, encumbrances, security interests or other adverse claims whatsoever, except as disclosed in the Final Prospectus;

(k) subject to applicable laws, none of the Trust or any Subsidiary is currently prohibited, directly or indirectly, from paying dividends, from making distributions on its capital stock, units or other interests or securities, or from paying any interest or repaying any loans, advances or other indebtedness of the Trust or such Subsidiary;

(l) the Trust is a "unit trust" and a "mutual fund trust" under the Income Tax Act (Canada) (the "Tax Act") and the Trust has conducted and at all times will conduct its affairs so as to qualify as a "unit trust" and a "mutual fund trust" under the Tax Act, including by limiting its activities to investing the property of the Trust in accordance with the Declaration of Trust and in any event in property in which a "mutual fund trust" is permitted by the Tax Act to invest, and the Trust will not carry on any other business;

(m) to the best of the Trust's and AltaGas' knowledge, as at July 21, 2004 less than 5.1% of the issued and outstanding Trust Units (3.8% on a diluted basis) were beneficially owned by "non-residents" (as defined in the Tax Act);

(n) the attributes and characteristics of the Offered Units to be sold at the Closing Time and, if applicable, the Additional Closing Time, will conform in all material respects to the attributes and characteristics thereof described in the Final Prospectus or any Amendment;

(o) except pursuant to this Agreement and as disclosed in the Final Prospectus or any Amendment, no person, firm or corporation has any agreement or option, or right or privilege (whether pre-emptive or contractual) capable of becoming an agreement, for the purchase, subscription or issuance of any of the unissued securities of the Trust or of any Subsidiary;

(p) the General Partner has the authority to enter into this Agreement on behalf of the Trust and AltaGas and to execute and deliver, on behalf of the Trust or a Subsidiary, as applicable, all other necessary documents in connection with the offering of the Offered Units, including the Prospectus and all necessary action has been taken by the General Partner to cause the execution and delivery of the Prospectus and the filing of such documents with the Securities Commissions;

(q) all authorizations, approvals and consents to be obtained by the Trust or any Subsidiary or Trust Corp. under applicable laws, or under any agreements or documents by which the Trust or such Subsidiary or Trust Corp is bound, for the execution and delivery of this Agreement, and the failure of which to obtain would have a material adverse impact on the Trust, have been obtained and are in full force, and this Agreement will be a legal, valid and binding agreement of the Trust and each of the Subsidiaries that is a party hereto enforceable in accordance with its terms, subject as to enforcement to bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization and other laws of general applicability relating to or affecting creditors' rights and to general principles of equity;

(r) assuming compliance by the Selling Unitholder with Sections 9(d) and (e), at the Closing Date, the Firm Units and, at the Additional Closing Date, the Over-Allotment Option Units will be duly and validly issued as fully paid and non-assessable;

(s) the presently outstanding Trust Units (and the Offered Units to be issued on retraction of the Exchangeable Securities as contemplated by Sections 9(d) and (e)) are listed and posted for trading on the Toronto Stock Exchange;

(t) no authorization, approval or consent of any court or governmental authority or agency is required to be obtained by the Trust in connection with the sale and delivery of the Offered Units by the Selling Unitholder in any Qualifying Jurisdictions except such as may be required under Securities Laws;

(u) the Trust is eligible in accordance with the provisions of National Instrument 44-101 of the Canadian securities regulatory authorities to file a short form prospectus in each of the Qualifying Jurisdictions;

(v) the Trust and each Subsidiary is current with all filings required to be made under the laws of all jurisdictions in which it exists or carries on any material business, is conducting its business in all material respects in compliance with all applicable laws, rules and regulations of each jurisdiction which it carries on business and has all necessary certificates, licences, leases, permits, authorizations and other approvals necessary to permit it to conduct its business, except where the absence of such power and authority or failure to make any filing or obtain any certificate, licence, lease, permit, authorization or other approval would not result in an adverse material change to the Trust and the Subsidiaries taken as a whole, and all such certificates, licenses, leases, permits, authorizations or other approvals are in full force and effect in accordance with their terms except where the failure to so maintain such certificates, licenses, leases, permits, authorizations or other approvals would not result in adverse material change;

(w) the authorized capital of the Trust consists of an unlimited number of Trust Units and an unlimited number of Special Voting Units; as at the date hereof 39,059,324 Trust Units and 1 Special Voting Unit (representing, in aggregate, 12,242,117 votes) are issued and outstanding as fully paid and non-assessable units in the capital of the Trust; and, as at July 21, 2004 1,176,367 Trust Units are reserved for issuance on exercise of options granted pursuant to the Trust Unit Option Plan of the Trust, 3,376,108 Trust Units are reserved for issuance on exchange of Class B limited partnership units of AltaGas LP #1, 8,866,009 Trust Units are reserved for issuance on exchange of Class B limited partnership units of AltaGas LP #2, 3,921,954 Trust Units are reserved for issuance pursuant to the DRIP Plans and no other Trust Units or Special Voting Units of the Trust are reserved for issuance;

(x) the authorized capital of AltaGas LP #1 consists of the interest of the General Partner in such partnership and an unlimited number of Class A limited partnership units and an unlimited number of Class B limited partnership units; as at the date hereof 33,668,068 Class A limited partnership units are issued and outstanding and legally and beneficially held by AltaGas Holding Trust and 3,376,108 Class B limited partnership units are issued and outstanding and no other units of AltaGas LP #1 are reserved for issuance;

(y) the authorized capital of AltaGas LP #2 consists of the interest of the General Partner in such partnership and an unlimited number of Class A limited partnership units and an unlimited number of Class B limited partnership units; as at the date hereof 37,062,284 Class A limited partnership units are issued and outstanding and legally and beneficially held by AltaGas LP #1 and 8,866,009 Class B limited partnership units are issued and outstanding and no other units of AltaGas LP #2 are reserved for issuance;

(z) the Trust, each Subsidiary and Trust Corp is not (i) in breach or violation of any of the terms or provisions of, or in default under (whether after notice or lapse of time or both) any indenture, mortgage, note, contract, deed of trust, loan agreement, lease or other agreement (written or oral) or instrument to which it is a party or by which it is bound or to which any of its property or assets is subject, including the Material Agreements, which breach or violation or the consequences thereof would, alone or in the aggregate, result in an adverse material change to the Trust and the Subsidiaries taken as a whole, or (ii) in violation of the provisions of the Declaration of Trust, articles or resolutions or any statute or any judgment, decree, order, rule or regulation of any court or governmental agency or body having jurisdiction over it or any of its properties which violation or the consequences thereof would, alone or in the aggregate, result in an adverse material change to the Trust;

(aa) as at June 30, 2004, the principal amount outstanding under the Loan Agreement was $540 million which amount has not materially changed since that date and is payable to AltaGas LP #2 by AltaGas, and the aggregate principal amount of the Series 1 Notes is not less than $775 million which note is legally and beneficially held by the Trust and there are no other notes of any series outstanding pursuant to the Holding Trust Note Indenture;

(bb) except as disclosed in the Final Prospectus and any Amendment, the execution and delivery of this Agreement and the issue of Trust Units on retraction of the Exchangeable Securities as contemplated by Sections 9(d) and (e) (assuming compliance by the Selling Unitholder therewith), the sale and delivery of the Offered Units pursuant to this Agreement and the performance or the consummation of the transactions contemplated in this Agreement do not and will not conflict with or result in a breach or violation of any of the terms or provisions of, or constitute a default under (whether after notice or lapse of time or both), any indenture, mortgage, note, contract, deed of trust, loan agreement, lease or other agreement (written or oral) or instrument to which the Trust, any Subsidiary or Trust Corp is a party or by which it is bound or to which any of its property or assets is subject, including the Material Agreements, which breach or violation or the consequences thereof would, alone or in the aggregate, result in an adverse material change to the Trust and the Subsidiaries, taken as a whole, or the ability of the Trust or any Subsidiary to perform their obligations contemplated by this Agreement, nor will such action conflict with or result in any violation of provisions of the resolutions, articles, by-laws or constating documents of the Trust, AltaGas or any other Subsidiaries or any statute or any judgment, decree, order, rule or regulation of any court or governmental agency or body having jurisdiction over it or any of its properties which violation or the consequences thereof would, alone or in the aggregate, result in an adverse material change to the Trust and the Subsidiaries, taken as a whole or the ability of the Trust or any Subsidiary to perform their obligations contemplated by this Agreement;

(cc) except as disclosed in the Final Prospectus and any Amendment, there are no legal or governmental actions, suits, proceedings, investigations or inquiries or (to the knowledge of the Trust and AltaGas) pending, contemplated or threatened against or affecting the Trust or any Subsidiary at law or in equity or before or by any federal, provincial, municipal or other governmental department, commission, board, bureau, agency or instrumentality, foreign or domestic, which materially adversely affect, or are reasonably likely to materially adversely affect, the business, affairs, business prospects, operations, assets or condition (financial or otherwise) of the Trust and the Subsidiaries, taken as a whole, or which adversely affect or are reasonably likely to adversely affect the Distribution of the Offered Units or the validity of any action taken or to be taken by the Trust or any Subsidiary pursuant to or in connection with this Agreement;

(dd) except as disclosed in the Final Prospectus and any Amendment, since December 31, 2003, the Trust or any Subsidiary has not incurred, assumed or suffered any liability or any tax liability (in either case, absolute, accrued, contingent or otherwise) or entered into any transaction which is or is reasonably expected to be material to the Trust and the Subsidiaries, taken as whole, and is not in the ordinary course of business;

(ee) except as disclosed in the Final Prospectus and any Amendment, since December 31, 2003, there has not been any material change or a change in material fact (actual, anticipated, contemplated, proposed or threatened, financial or otherwise) in the business, affairs, business prospects, operation, assets, liabilities or obligations (absolute, accrued, contingent or otherwise) or capital or ownership of the Trust and the Subsidiaries, taken as whole;

(ff) the Trust is a "reporting issuer" or has equivalent status in each of the Qualifying Jurisdictions within the meaning of Securities Laws;

(gg) no order, ruling or determination having the effect of suspending the sale or ceasing the trading of the Trust Units or any other securities of the Trust or any Subsidiary has been issued or made by any Securities Commission or other applicable regulatory authority and is continuing in effect and no proceedings for that purpose to the best of the knowledge of the General Partner, have been instituted or are pending, contemplated or threatened by any such authority;

(hh) Computershare Trust Company of Canada at its principal offices in Calgary and Toronto has been duly appointed as the registrar and transfer agent for the Trust Units;

(ii) each of the agreements which are material agreements to the Trust and the Subsidiaries, taken as whole, including the Material Agreements, have been duly and validly executed and delivered by the Trust or the Subsidiary, constitutes a valid or binding obligation of the Trust or the Subsidiary enforceable against it in accordance with its terms, except as enforcement thereof may be limited by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium and other laws relating to or affecting the rights of creditors generally, and except as limited by the application of equitable principles when equitable remedies are sought and by the fact that rights to indemnity, contribution and waiver, and the ability to sever enforceable terms, may be limited by applicable law, is in good standing and, except as disclosed in the Final Prospectus and any Amendment, there has not been any default by or dispute with any party thereunder which might reasonably be expected to result in an adverse material change in the condition, financial or otherwise, or in the earnings, business affairs or business prospects of the Trust and the Subsidiaries, taken as a whole;

(jj) the information and statements set forth in the Public Record were true, correct, and complete and did not contain any misrepresentation, as of the date of such information or statements and the Trust is not in default of any material requirement of Securities Laws;

(kk) the records and minute books of the Trust and its Subsidiaries which have been made available to the Underwriters and counsel to the Underwriters for review contain, in all material respects, complete and accurate minutes of all relevant meetings held since organization and original signed copies of all resolutions duly passed or confirmed;

(ll) except as disclosed in the Final Prospectus and any Amendment, there are no outstanding claims, actions, suits, litigation, arbitration, investigations, proceedings or inquiries, whether or not purportedly on behalf of the Trust or any Subsidiary or, to the knowledge of the Trust or any Subsidiary, proposed or threatened in writing against the Trust or any Subsidiary which, if determined adversely to the Trust or any Subsidiary could have an adverse material affect on the Trust and the Subsidiaries, taken as a whole, their respective businesses, affairs, business prospects, operations, properties, liabilities or obligations (absolute, accrued, contingent or otherwise), capital or ownership, taken as a whole, or which may restrict or prohibit the ability of the Trust to perform its obligations hereunder;

(mm) the Trust and each Subsidiary have good and marketable title to all material property and assets free and clear of all liens and encumbrances and defects that would materially affect the value of such property and assets or materially interfere with the use made or to be made of such property and assets by them and, except as disclosed in the Prospectus and any Amendment, each Subsidiary holds all of their material leased real or personal property under valid and enforceable leases with no exceptions that would materially interfere with the use made or to be made of such property by them and each Subsidiary has not received notice of any material claim of any sort that has been asserted by anyone adverse to the rights of the Subsidiary to the continued possession of the leased or subleased properties; and except as set forth in the Final Prospectus and any Amendment, each Subsidiary owns or leases all such properties as are necessary to its business as currently conducted; except in each case where such event might reasonably be expected to result in an adverse material change in the condition, financial or otherwise, or in the earnings, business affairs or business prospects of the Trust and the Subsidiaries, taken as a whole;

(nn) except as disclosed in the Final Prospectus and any Amendment, the Trust and the Subsidiaries are insured by insurers of recognized financial responsibility against such losses and risks and in such amounts as are customary in the businesses in which they are engaged; all policies of insurance and fidelity or surety bonds insuring the Trust and each Subsidiary or their business, assets, employees, officers and directors are in full force and effect; the Trust and the Subsidiaries are in compliance with the terms of such policies and instruments in all material respects; and there are no material claims by the Trust or any Subsidiary under any such policy or instrument as to which any insurance company is denying liability or defending under a reservation of rights clause; the Trust and each Subsidiary have no reason to believe that they will not be able to renew their existing insurance coverage as and when such coverage expires or to obtain similar coverage from similar insurers as may be necessary to continue their business at a cost that would not have a material adverse effect on the condition (financial or otherwise), prospects, earnings, business or properties of the Trust and its Subsidiaries, taken as a whole;

(oo) except as disclosed in the Final Prospectus and any Amendment, (i) the Trust and the Subsidiaries are in compliance with Environmental Laws, (ii) the Subsidiaries have received and are in compliance with all permits, licenses or other approvals required of them under applicable Environmental Laws to conduct their respective businesses; and (iii) the Trust and the Subsidiaries have not received notice of any actual or potential liability for the investigation or remediation of any disposal or release of hazardous or toxic substances or wastes, pollutants or contaminants, except where such non-compliance with Environmental Laws, failure to receive required permits, licenses or other approvals, or liability would not, individually or in the aggregate, have a material adverse effect on the condition (financial or otherwise), prospects, earnings, business or properties of the Trust and the Subsidiaries, taken as a whole, whether or not arising from transactions in the ordinary course of business;

(pp) in the ordinary course of the business of the Subsidiaries, such entities periodically review the effect of Environmental Laws on the business, operations and properties of the Subsidiaries, in the course of which they identify and evaluate associated costs and liabilities (including, without limitation, any capital or operating expenditures required for clean-up, closure of properties or compliance with Environmental Laws, or any permit, license or approval, any related constraints on operating activities and any potential liabilities to third parties); the Subsidiaries also conduct pre-acquisition investigations of new properties to identify potential violations of Environmental Laws, train management personnel in the recognition of and proper response to incidents of non-compliance with Environmental Laws and establish procedures for communicating such incidents to its senior management. On the basis of such review, except as set forth in or contemplated in the Final Prospectus and any Amendment, neither the Trust nor any Subsidiary has concluded that such associated costs and liabilities would singly or in the aggregate, have a material adverse effect on the condition (financial or otherwise), prospects, earnings, business or properties of the Trust and the Subsidiaries, taken as a whole, whether or not arising from transactions in the ordinary course of business; and

(qq) other than pursuant to this Agreement, neither the Trust nor any Subsidiary is a party to any contract, agreement or understanding with any person that would give rise to a valid claim against it or the Underwriters for a brokerage commission, finder's fee or like payment in connection with the offering and sale of the Offered Units.

7. Representations and Warranties of the Selling Unitholder

The delivery to the Underwriters of the documents referred to in Sections 3(a), (b), (c) and (d) shall constitute the Selling Unitholder's consent to the use by the Underwriters and the Selling Firms of such documents in connection with the Distribution of the Offered Units in the Qualifying Jurisdictions in compliance with the provisions of this Agreement and shall constitute the Selling Unitholder's representation and warranty to the Underwriters and the Trust that:

(a) the Selling Unitholder's Information was, at the respective dates of delivery thereof, true and correct in all material respects, contained no misrepresentation and constituted full, true and plain disclosure of all material facts relating to the Selling Unitholder as required by the Securities Laws in the Qualifying Jurisdictions;

(b) no material fact or information related to the Selling Unitholder's Information which is required to be disclosed pursuant to the Securities Laws of the Qualifying Jurisdictions has been omitted therefrom and no other fact or information related to the Selling Unitholder's Information has been omitted therefrom which is necessary to make the statements contained therein related to the Selling Unitholder's Information not misleading in light of the circumstances in which they were made;

(c) the Selling Unitholder has been duly incorporated and is validly subsisting under the laws of its jurisdiction of incorporation and has all necessary corporate power, authority and qualifications to:

(i) execute and deliver this Agreement, to perform its obligations hereunder and to carry out the transactions contemplated hereby and by the Prospectus; and

(ii) own the Exchangeable Securities and Offered Units;

(d) no authorization, approval or consent of any court or governmental authority or agency is required to be obtained by the Selling Unitholder in connection with the exercise of the retraction right provided under the AltaGas LP #2 Limited Partnership Agreement in respect of such number of Exchangeable Securities as will, taken together with the Trust Units held by the Selling Unitholder, result in the Selling Unitholder holding beneficially and of record:

(i) at the Closing Time, a number of Trust Units equal to the number of Offered Units; and

(ii) at the Additional Closing Time, if any, a number of Trust Units equal to the number of Over-Allotment Option Units;

(e) the sale and delivery of the Offered Units has been duly authorized by the Selling Unitholder and the Selling Unitholder has fully complied with the terms and conditions of the Registration Rights Agreement and the Securityholder Agreement in connection with the Distribution of the Offered Units and the transactions contemplated by this Agreement;

(f) as at the date hereof, the Selling Unitholder owns, beneficially and as of record, 8,866,009 Exchangeable Securities of AltaGas LP #2 and 9,331,491 Trust Units;

(g) at the Closing Time, the Selling Unitholder will have good and marketable title to the Firm Units, free and clear of any pledge, lien, security interest, encumbrance, claim or equity and, at the Additional Closing Time, the Selling Unitholder will have good and marketable title to the Over-Allotment Option Units, free and clear of any pledge, lien, security interest, encumbrance, claim or equity and, upon delivery of the Offered Units against payment of the proceeds as contemplated herein, the Underwriters will receive from the Selling Unitholder good and marketable title to the Offered Units free and clear of any pledge, lien, security interest, encumbrances, claim or equity;

(h) the Selling Unitholder, in making its decision to sell the Offered Units, did not rely on any material information concerning the Trust and its Subsidiaries that, to its knowledge, is not publicly disclosed or will not be disclosed in the Prospectus;

(i) the transactions contemplated by this Agreement do not and will not result in a breach of, any of the provisions of:

(i) the Selling Unitholder's constating documents or by-laws or any applicable resolutions;

(ii) any agreement or instrument to which the Selling Unitholder is a party or by which it is bound; or

(iii) any laws or regulations applicable to the Selling Unitholder, its business, operations or assets, except to the extent that such violation or such breach would not prevent it from completing the sale and delivery of the Offered Units, if applicable, to be sold and delivered by it as contemplated by this Agreement;

(j) all authorizations, approvals and consents to be obtained by the Selling Unitholder under applicable laws, or any agreements or documents by which it is bound, for the execution and delivery of this Agreement have been obtained and are in full force, and this Agreement is a legal, valid and binding agreement of the Selling Unitholder enforceable in accordance with its terms, subject as to enforcement to bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization and other laws of general applicability relating to or affecting creditors' rights, to general principles of equity and that rights to indemnity, contribution and waiver may be limited by applicable law;

(k) there are no actions, suits or proceedings before any court or governmental agency or body now pending, or to the knowledge of the Selling Unitholder, threatened, against or affecting the Selling Unitholder which adversely affect, or are reasonably likely to adversely affect the ability of the Selling Unitholder to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby;

(l) other than as disclosed in the Prospectus, no person, firm or corporation (except the Underwriters) has any agreement or option, or right or privilege (whether pre-emptive or contractual) capable of becoming an agreement, for the purchase of any of the Exchangeable Securities or Offered Units owned by such Selling Unitholder; and

(m) none of the Selling Unitholder or any of its affiliates or any person acting on their behalf has sold, nor will offer or sell, any Offered Units except through the Underwriters pursuant to this Agreement.

8. Covenants of the Trust, AltaGas and the Operating Partnership

Each of the Trust, AltaGas and the Operating Partnership covenants to the Underwriters and the Selling Unitholder (except, in the case of the Selling Unitholder, as to Section 8(f)) that:

(a) the Trust and AltaGas will advise the Underwriters and the Selling Unitholder, promptly after receiving notice thereof, of the time when the Amended and Restated Preliminary Prospectus, the Final Prospectus and any Amendment has been filed and MRRS decision documents therefor have been obtained and will provide evidence reasonably satisfactory to the Underwriters and the Selling Unitholder of each such filing and copies of such MRRS decision documents;

(b) the Trust and AltaGas will advise the Underwriters and the Selling Unitholder, promptly after receiving notice or obtaining knowledge thereof, of: (i) the issuance by any securities regulatory authority of any order suspending or preventing the use of the Amended and Restated Preliminary Prospectus, the Final Prospectus or any Amendment; (ii) the suspension of the qualification of the Offered Units in any of the Qualifying Jurisdictions; (iii) the institution, threatening or contemplation of any proceeding for any purposes listed in (i) or (ii) above; or (iv) any requests made by any securities regulatory authority for amending or supplementing the Amended and Restated Preliminary Prospectus or the Final Prospectus or for additional information, and will use its commercially reasonable efforts to prevent the issuance of any order or suspension referred to in (i) and (ii) above and, if any such order is issued, to obtain the withdrawal thereof as quickly as possible;

(c) the Trust and AltaGas shall, prior to the completion of the Distribution of the Offered Units in the Qualifying Jurisdictions, take or use their reasonable commercial efforts to cause to be taken all steps and proceedings that may be required under Securities Laws to qualify the Offered Units for sale to the public in the Qualifying Jurisdictions provided that such sale is conducted through registrants registered under the appropriate category of registration under Securities Laws and who have complied with the relevant provisions of Securities Laws;

(d) prior to the completion of the Distribution of the Offered Units in the Qualifying Jurisdictions, the Amended and Restated Preliminary Prospectus, the Final Prospectus and any Amendment will comply with the requirements of Securities Laws, will provide full, true and plain disclosure of all material facts relating to the Trust, its Subsidiaries and to the Offered Units to the extent required by Securities Laws and will not contain any misrepresentation (provided that the foregoing covenant of the Trust, AltaGas and Operating Partnership shall not apply to the Underwriters' Information, the Selling Unitholder's Information or facts or information which are modified by or superseded by facts or information contained in the Amended and Restated Preliminary Prospectus, the Final Prospectus or any Amendment);

(e) it shall take all necessary steps and complete all necessary actions required to be taken or completed by it in a timely fashion to facilitate the timely satisfaction of the obligations of the Selling Unitholder as set forth in Sections 9(d) and (e)); and

(f) the Trust and AltaGas shall not authorize or permit section 9 of the LOI (including by the terms of any purchase and sale agreement (the "PremStar P&S") negotiated in accordance with the LOI) to be amended so as to reduce or modify the escrow arrangements contemplated by section 9 of the LOI without the prior consent of the Co-Lead Underwriters.

9. Covenants of the Selling Unitholder

The Selling Unitholder covenants to the Underwriters and the Trust that:

(a) the Selling Unitholder will advise the Underwriters, promptly after obtaining knowledge thereof, of: (i) the issuance by any securities regulatory authority of any order suspending or preventing the use of the Amended and Restated Preliminary Prospectus, the Final Prospectus or any Amendment; (ii) the suspension of the qualification of the Offered Units in any of the Qualifying Jurisdictions; (iii) the institution, threatening or contemplation of any proceeding for any purposes listed in (i) or (ii) above; or (iv) any requests made by any securities regulatory authority for amending or supplementing the Amended and Restated Preliminary Prospectus or the Final Prospectus or for additional information;

(b) prior to the completion of the Distribution of the Offered Units in the Qualifying Jurisdictions the Selling Unitholder's Information will provide full, true and plain disclosure of all material facts relating to the Selling Unitholder to the extent required by Securities Laws and will not contain any misrepresentation;

(c) it shall deliver to the Underwriters and the Trust prior to the time of the filing by the Trust of the Amended and Restated Preliminary Prospectus, prior to the time of filing by the Trust of the Final Prospectus and prior to the time of filing by the Trust of any Amendment pursuant to Sections 3(a), (b) and (c), respectively, a letter acceptable in form and substance to the Underwriters and the Trust, acting reasonably, identifying and acknowledging the disclosure comprising the Selling Unitholder's Information for the purposes of the Amended and Restated Preliminary Prospectus, the Final Prospectus and any Amendment, respectively;

(d) it shall take all necessary steps and complete all necessary actions required to be taken or completed by it in the AltaGas LP #2 Limited Partnership Agreement or otherwise in a timely fashion such that not later than one Business Day prior to the Closing Date it shall become the legal and beneficial owner of the Firm Units pursuant to the due and timely retraction of a sufficient number of Exchangeable Securities as will, taken together with the Trust Units held by the Selling Unitholder, result in the Selling Unitholder holding beneficially and of record at the Closing Time a number of Trust Units equal to the number of Firm Units; and

(e) it shall take all necessary steps and complete all necessary actions required to be taken or completed by it in the AltaGas LP #2 Limited Partnership Agreement or otherwise in a timely fashion such that not later than one Business Day prior to the Additional Closing Date, it shall become the legal and beneficial owner of the Over-Allotment Option Units, if any, pursuant to the due and timely retraction of a sufficient number of Exchangeable Securities as will, taken together with the Trust Units held by the Selling Unitholder, result in the Selling Unitholder holding beneficially and of record at the Additional Closing Time a number of Trust Units equal to the number of Over-Allotment Option Units.

10. Covenant of the Underwriters

Each of the Underwriters covenants to the Trust that it and each Selling Firm which it utilizes or engages in connection with the Distribution of the Offered Units will not knowingly sell to any person and its affiliates and persons acting jointly and in concert with such person and its affiliates, greater than 5,247,780 Offered Units.

11. Closing

The purchase by the Underwriters of the Firm Units under this Agreement shall take place at the offices of Stikeman Elliott LLP, Calgary, Alberta at 6:30 a.m. (Calgary time) (the "Closing Time") on August 10, 2004 or at such other date and time as may be agreed upon in writing and as such date may be extended pursuant to Sections 5 or 19 (the "Closing Date"), but in any event no later than August 25, 2004.

The purchase and sale of any Over-Allotment Option Units will occur at the place and time (the "Additional Closing Time") and on the date (the "Additional Closing Date") specified in the written notice to the Trust and the Selling Unitholder given by the Co-Lead Underwriters, on behalf of the Underwriters, in connection with the exercise of the Over-Allotment Option, which date will not be earlier than the Closing Date or the second Business day after the giving of the notice or later than the fifth Business Day after the giving of the notice (and which closing, for greater certainty, may occur on a date that is more than 30 days after the Closing Date).

12. Closing Conditions

The obligations of the Underwriters and of the Selling Unitholder under this Agreement are conditional upon and subject to the following conditions being fulfilled at or prior to the Closing Time, which conditions may be waived in writing in whole or in part by: i) the Underwriters as regards and solely to the extent of any conditions for the benefit of the Underwriters, and ii) the Selling Unitholder as regards and solely to the extent of any conditions for the benefit of the Selling Unitholder:

(a) the Underwriters shall have received from the Selling Unitholder at the Closing Time one or more definitive certificates representing in aggregate the Firm Units registered in such name or names as the Co-Lead Underwriters shall notify the Trust and the Selling Unitholder in writing not less than 24 hours prior to the Closing Time against delivery of the Purchase Price, net of the Underwriting Fee, by bank draft or wire transfer payable to or to the order of the Selling Unitholder;

(b) the Underwriters and the Selling Unitholder shall have received at the Closing Time a certificate dated as of the Closing Date and signed on behalf of the Trust by the Chairman and Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer of the General Partner, on behalf of the Trust, and of AltaGas, or such other persons as may be agreed upon by the Underwriters and the Selling Unitholder, acting reasonably, certifying (in their capacity as officers of the General Partner, or AltaGas, as the case may be, and not in their personal capacity) that to the knowledge, information and belief of such persons, after having made or caused to be made reasonable inquiries and having carefully examined the Final Prospectus and any Amendment and except as may be disclosed in the Final Prospectus or any Amendment:

(i) no order, ruling or determination having the effect of ceasing or suspending trading in the Trust Units has been issued and, to the knowledge of such persons, no proceedings for such purposes are pending or threatened;

(ii) since the date of the Final Prospectus, there has been no material change, occurrence or development as contemplated by Section 5 (other than a change, occurrence or development related to the Underwriters) and the Trust has complied fully with the provision of Section 5;

(iii) the representations and warranties of the Trust, AltaGas and Operating Partnership herein are true and correct in all material respects at the Closing Time as if made as at such time (and, with respect to the representations and warranties contemplated by Section 6(a) and (b), as if the Prospectus was delivered to the Underwriters at the Closing Time);

(iv) each of the Trust, AltaGas and Operating Partnership has complied in all material respects with all covenants and satisfied all terms and conditions hereof to be complied with and satisfied by it except to the extent that the same have been waived by the Underwriters in writing pursuant hereto; and

(v) as to such other matters as the Underwriters and the Selling Unitholder may reasonably request;

(c) the Underwriters and the Trust shall have received at the Closing Time a certificate dated as of the Closing Date and signed on behalf of the Selling Unitholder by any two of its officers satisfactory to the Underwriters and the Trust, acting reasonably, certifying (in their capacity as officers of the Selling Unitholder and not in their personal capacity) that to the knowledge, information and belief of such persons, after having made or caused to be made reasonable inquiries:

(i) no order, ruling or determination having the effect of ceasing or suspending trading in the Offered Units or prohibiting the purchase and sale of the Offered Units has been issued and, to the knowledge of such person, no proceedings for such purposes are pending or threatened;

(ii) the Selling Unitholder's representations and warranties herein are true and correct in all material respects at the Closing Time as if made as at such time (and, with respect to the representations and warranties contemplated by Section 7(a) and (b), as if the Prospectus was delivered to the Underwriters at the Closing Time);

(iii) the Selling Unitholder has complied in all material respects with all covenants and satisfied all terms and conditions hereof to be complied with and satisfied by it on or before the Closing Time except to the extent that the same have been waived by the Underwriters in writing pursuant hereto; and

(iv) as to such other matters as the Underwriters and the Trust may reasonably request;

(d) the representations and warranties of the Trust, AltaGas, Operating Partnership and the Selling Unitholder contained in this Agreement will be true at and as of the Closing Time as if such representations and warranties were made at and as of such time and all agreements, covenants and conditions required by this Agreement to be performed or complied with by the Trust, AltaGas, Operating Partnership and the Selling Unitholder will have been complied with prior to that time;

(e) the Underwriters and the Selling Unitholder shall have received at the Closing Time a favourable legal opinion dated the Closing Date and addressed to the Underwriters and the Selling Unitholder and their respective counsel, from counsel to the Trust and AltaGas with respect to:

(i) the Trust, each Subsidiary and Trust Corp. being duly incorporated or formed and validly existing and the Trustee being duly appointed as the Trustee of the Trust and Trust Corp. being duly appointed as the trustee of AltaGas Holding Trust;

(ii) each of the Subsidiaries is qualified to carry on business under the laws of each jurisdiction in which it carries on business, except to the extent that the failure to be so qualified does not have a material adverse impact on the business and affairs of the Trust and its Subsidiaries taken as a whole;

(iii) the due registration of ASTC Power Partnership under the Partnership Act (Alberta);

(iv) in reliance in part on a certificate of Computershare Trust Company of Canada, as transfer agent for the Trust Units and the Exchangeable Securities and in part on an officer's certificate, as to the authorized capital of the Trust, the number of Trust Units issued and outstanding, the number of Special Voting Units issued and outstanding and the number of units of

AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 issued and outstanding at the close of business on the day prior to the Closing Date;

(v) all necessary actions having been taken by the Trust to authorize the signing and delivery by the Trust of the Final Prospectus and any Amendment;

(vi) the Firm Units having been validly authorized and issued and outstanding as fully paid Trust Units;

(vii) in reliance on the conditional listing letter of the TSX dated March 12, 2004 and such other letter of the TSX confirming satisfaction of all listing conditions, the approval of the TSX of the listing of the Firm Units and the Over-Allotment Option Units;

(viii) no consent, approval, authorization or order of or filing with any Canadian federal or provincial court or public, governmental or regulatory agency or body being required to be made or obtained by the Trust or any Subsidiary for the execution, delivery and performance by the Trust and the relevant Subsidiaries of this Agreement or for the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby, except for such as have been made or obtained under Securities Laws;

(ix) each of the Trust and the Subsidiaries having all requisite corporate or equivalent power and authority to own, lease and operate its property and assets and to carry on its business as described in the Prospectus and to execute, deliver and perform its obligations under the Material Agreements to which it is a party;

(x) the conformity of the Trust Units and the Exchangeable Securities to the descriptions thereof in the Final Prospectus;

(xi) the due execution and delivery by the Trust and of each Subsidiary a party thereto of each of the Material Agreements and the legality, validity and enforceability of the Material Agreements against the Trust and each Subsidiary a party thereto (subject to usual qualifications);

(xii) the execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement and the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and the Prospectus and the sale of the Offered Units at the Closing Time not resulting in a breach of, and not creating a state of facts which, after notice or lapse of time, or both, results in a breach of, or a conflict with or a default under (a) any of the terms, conditions or provisions of the Declaration of Trust, the articles, by-laws or resolutions of the Unitholders, partners or shareholders of the Trust and the Subsidiaries, as applicable, (b) any laws of Canada or the Province of Alberta, or (c) to the knowledge of such counsel, any indenture, mortgage, note, contract, deed of trust, loan agreement, lease or other agreement (written or oral) or instrument to which the Trust or any Subsidiary is a party or by which it is bound or to which any of its property or assets is subject, including the Material Agreements, which breach or violation or the consequences thereof would, alone or in the aggregate, result in an adverse material change to the Trust and the Subsidiaries taken as a whole;

(xiii) the issuance to the Selling Unitholder of any Offered Units on exercise of the retraction right provided under the AltaGas LP #2 Limited Partnership Agreement is exempt from the prospectus and registration requirements of Securities Laws and no document is required to be filed, proceeding taken or approval, permit, consent, order or authorization obtained from the Securities Commissions in the Selling Jurisdictions to permit such issuance of the Offered Units;

(xiv) the form and terms of the certificate for the Trust Units having been approved and adopted by the Trustee on behalf of the Trust, and the compliance of such form with all legal requirements and the Declaration of Trust;

(xv) the appointment as transfer agent and registrar for the Trust Units of the Trustee at its principal offices in the Cities of Calgary and Toronto;

(xvi) the confirmation of the accuracy and completeness of the sections in the Final Prospectus entitled "Certain Canadian Federal Income Tax Considerations" and "Eligibility for Investment";

(xvii) the status of the Trust as a reporting issuer in good standing under the Securities Laws; and

(xviii) as to such other matters as the Underwriters or counsel to the Underwriters may reasonably request;

(f) the Underwriters shall have received at the Closing Time a favourable legal opinion dated the Closing Date and addressed to the Underwriters and their counsel, from counsel to the Selling Unitholder with respect to:

(i) the Selling Unitholder being duly incorporated and validly existing;

(ii) no consent, approval, authorization or order of or filing with any Canadian federal or provincial court or public, governmental or regulatory agency or body being required to be made or obtained by the Selling Unitholder for the execution, delivery and performance by the Selling Unitholder of this Agreement or for the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby, except for such as have been made or obtained under applicable Canadian securities laws;

(iii) the power and capacity of such Selling Unitholder to enter into and perform this Agreement and the authorization, execution, delivery and enforceability of this Agreement by and against such Selling Unitholder, except as rights to indemnity and waiver of contribution thereunder may be limited by applicable law, and subject to bankruptcy, insolvency and other similar laws of general application affecting the enforcement of creditors rights and to the award of specific performance being in the discretion of a court of competent jurisdiction and other typical qualifications;

(iv) the execution and delivery of this Agreement and the fulfilment of the terms of this Agreement by the Selling Unitholder do not and will not result in a breach of or default under, and do not and will not create a state of facts which, after notice or lapse of time or both, will result in a breach of or default under, and do not and will not conflict with any of the terms, conditions or provisions of the articles, by-laws, or other constating documents or resolutions of the securityholders, or directors, of the Selling Unitholder or any laws of Canada or the Province of Alberta;

(v) as to such other matters as the Underwriters or as counsel to the Underwriters may reasonably request;

(g) the Underwriters shall have received at the Closing Time a favourable legal opinion dated the Closing Date of counsel to the Underwriters as to such matters relating to the offering of the Offered Units as the Underwriters may reasonably require, it being understood that counsel may rely on the opinions of local counsel acceptable to them as to matters governed by the laws of jurisdictions other than the provinces of Alberta or Canada and counsel to the Underwriters may rely on the opinions of counsel to the Trust and AltaGas as to matters which relate specifically to the Trust and the Subsidiaries and may rely on the opinions of counsel to the Selling Unitholder as to matters which relate specifically to the Selling Unitholder;

(h) each of the Trust, AltaGas, Operating Partnership and the Selling Unitholder shall have complied in all material respects with all covenants and satisfied all terms and conditions of this Agreement on its part to be complied with or satisfied up to the Closing Time;

(i) AltaGas, or its predecessor (if applicable), shall not be or be deemed not to be a reporting issuer or the equivalent thereof not in good standing and shall not be in default of any Securities Laws in the Qualifying Jurisdictions at the Closing Time if in the opinion of the Underwriters, acting reasonably, such failure to be in good standing or such default could have a material adverse effect on the Trust or the offering of Offered Units;

(j) the Underwriters shall have received at the Closing Time a comfort letter from the auditors of the Trust dated the date of delivery and acceptable in form and substance to the Underwriters bringing the information contained in any comfort letter referred to in Section 3(e) forward to the Closing Time, provided that such comfort letter shall be based on a review by the auditors having a cut-off date not more than two Business Days prior to the Closing Time;

(k) the Underwriters shall have received at the Closing Time an opinion of the Trust's counsel dated the Closing Date and acceptable in form and substance to the Underwriters' counsel, as to compliance with the laws of the Province of Quebec relating to the use of the French language;

(l) a receipt dated August 3, 2004 for the Final Prospectus shall have been issued by the ASC in its capacity as the principal regulator in accordance with the MRRS; and

(m) evidence satisfactory to the Underwriters that the distribution expected to be payable to Unitholders of record on or about August 25, 2004 will be paid on the Firm Units and, if the Additional Closing Time occurs on or prior to August 25, 2004, on the Over-Allotment Option Units.

If and when the Over-Allotment Option is exercised from time to time and as to all or any portion of the Over-Allotment Option Units, a definitive certificate or certificates for such Over-Allotment Option Units, and payment therefor, shall be delivered at the Additional Closing Time in the manner set forth in Section 12(a) above and upon the terms and conditions set forth above in Section 12(a) to (l) inclusive, except that references in Section 12 to the Closing Date and the Closing Time shall be deemed, for the purposes of this paragraph, to refer to the Additional Closing Date and the Additional Closing Time, respectively, and references in such Section to the Firm Units shall be deemed, for the purposes of this paragraph, to refer to the Over-Allotment Option Units being purchased by the Underwriters at such time.

Whether or not specifically contemplated in this Agreement, all provisions of this Agreement shall apply in the same manner and on the terms and conditions in respect of the purchase of any Over-Allotment Option Units as would apply to the purchase of the Firm Units, and any steps to be taken or conditions to be satisfied in order to complete the sale of the Firm Units shall apply equally in order to complete the sale of any Over-Allotment Option Units.

13. Indemnity

(a) Each of the Trust, AltaGas and Operating Partnership covenants and agrees that it shall (subject to Sections 13(f) and 16) protect and indemnify the Underwriters and their respective shareholders, directors, officers, partners, employees and agents (the "Indemnified Parties") from and against all losses (other than loss of profit and consequential damages in connection with the Distribution of the Offered Units), claims, costs, damages and liabilities caused by or arising directly or indirectly by reason of:

(i) any breach of or default under any representation, warranty, covenant or agreement made by the Trust, AltaGas or Operating Partnership in this Agreement or any other document to be delivered pursuant hereto;

(ii) any information or statement (except any Underwriters' Information or Selling Unitholder's Information) contained in the Prospectus, or any Amendment or any document incorporated by reference in such Prospectus or Amendment being or being alleged to be a misrepresentation or untrue or any omission or alleged omission to state therein any fact or information (except Underwriters' Information or Selling Unitholder's Information) required to be stated therein or necessary to make any of the statements therein not misleading in light of the circumstances in which they were made;

(iii) any order made or any inquiry, investigation or proceeding commenced or threatened by any securities regulatory authority or by any other competent authority, based upon any untrue statement, omission or misrepresentation or alleged untrue statement, omission or misrepresentation (except a statement, omission or misrepresentation relating solely to the Underwriters' Information or the Selling Unitholder's Information) in the Prospectus or any Amendment or any document incorporated by reference in such Prospectus or Amendment (except any document or material delivered or filed by the Underwriters or any of them or the Selling Unitholder) preventing or restricting the trading in, the sale or Distribution of the Offered Units in any of the Qualifying Jurisdictions: or

(iv) the Trust or AltaGas not complying with any requirement of any Securities Laws or the U.S. Securities Laws in connection with the transactions contemplated hereby.

(b) The Selling Unitholder covenants and agrees that it shall (subject to Sections 13(f) and 16) protect and indemnify the Indemnified Parties from and against all losses (other than loss of profit and consequential damages in connection with the Distribution of the Offered Units), claims, costs, damages and liabilities caused by or arising directly or indirectly by reason of:

(i) any breach of or default under any representation, warranty, covenant or agreement made by the Selling Unitholder in this Agreement or any other document to be delivered pursuant hereto;

(ii) the Selling Unitholder's Information contained in the Prospectus or any Amendment being or being alleged to be a misrepresentation (as defined by applicable securities laws) or untrue or any omission or alleged omission to state therein any fact or information required to be stated therein or necessary to make any of the statements therein not misleading in light of the circumstances in which they were made;

(iii) any order made or any inquiry, investigation or proceeding commenced or threatened by any securities regulatory authority or by any other competent authority, based upon any untrue statement, omission or misrepresentation (as defined by applicable securities laws) or alleged untrue statement, omission or misrepresentation in the Selling Unitholder's Information contained in the Prospectus or any Amendment preventing or restricting the trading in, the sale or Distribution of the Offered Units in any of the Qualifying Jurisdictions; or

(iv) the Selling Unitholder not complying with any requirement of any Securities Laws or the U.S. Securities Laws in connection with the transactions contemplated hereby.

In this Agreement, "Indemnifying Parties" means, for the purposes of Section 13(a) the Trust, AltaGas and Operating Partnership and, for the purposes of Section 13(b) the Selling Unitholder, as may be applicable.

(c) Notification of Claims. If any claim contemplated by this Section 13 shall be asserted against any of the Indemnified Parties, or if any potential claim contemplated by this Section 13 shall come to the knowledge of any of the Indemnified Parties, the Indemnified Party concerned shall give notice to the Indemnifying Parties as soon as possible of the nature of such claim (provided that any failure to so notify in respect of any potential claim shall not affect the Indemnifying Parties' liability and provided further that any failure to so notify in respect of any actual claim shall affect the Indemnifying Parties' liability under this Section 13 only to the extent that they are materially prejudiced by such failure).

(d) Retaining Counsel. The applicable Indemnifying Parties shall, subject as hereinafter provided, be entitled (but not required) to assume conduct of any negotiations, defence or settlement on behalf of the Indemnified Party of any such claim or any suit brought to enforce such claim; provided that the conduct of any negotiations, defence or settlement shall be through legal counsel acceptable to the Indemnified Party, acting reasonably, and no admission of liability shall be made by any of the Indemnifying Parties without the prior written consent of all parties hereto, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld. An Indemnified Party shall have the right to retain separate counsel in any such suit and participate in the defence thereof but the fees and expenses of such counsel shall be at the expense of the Indemnified Party unless:

(i) the applicable Indemnifying Parties fail to assume the defence of such suit on behalf of the Indemnified Party within seven Business Days of receiving notice of such suit;

(ii) the employment of such counsel has been authorized by the applicable Indemnifying Parties; or

(iii) the named parties to any such suit (including any added or third parties) include both the Indemnified Party and the applicable Indemnifying Parties and the Indemnified Party shall have been advised by counsel that the representation of both parties by the same counsel would be inappropriate due to the actual differing interests between them or there may be one or more legal defences available to the Indemnified Party which are different from or in addition to those available to the applicable Indemnifying Parties;

(in the case of each of (d)(i), (ii) and (iii) the applicable Indemnifying Parties shall not have the right to assume the defence of such suit on behalf of the Indemnified Party but shall be liable to pay the reasonable fees and expenses of one firm of separate counsel acceptable to the applicable Indemnifying Parties, acting reasonably, for all Indemnified Parties and, in addition, one firm of local counsel acceptable to the applicable Indemnifying Parties, acting reasonably, in each applicable jurisdiction).

(e) Right of Indemnity in Favour of Others. It is the intention of the Indemnifying Parties to constitute each Underwriter as the trustee for the respective Underwriters' directors, shareholders, officers, employees and agents of the covenants of the Indemnifying Parties under this Section 13 with respect to such Underwriter's directors, shareholders, officers, employees and agents and each Underwriter agrees to accept such trust and hold and enforce such covenants on behalf of such persons.

(f) Indemnity not Available. Notwithstanding the provisions of this Section 13, the foregoing rights of indemnity shall not enure to an Indemnified Party if the Indemnifying Parties have complied with the provisions of Section 5 and the claim for indemnification relates to a person asserting a claim in respect of an alleged untrue statement in or alleged omission from the Final Prospectus, or any Amendment thereto, and such person was not provided with a copy of the document which corrects such alleged untrue statement or alleged omission and which is required, under applicable law, to be sent or delivered to such person by such Indemnified Party.

(g) Effect of other Indemnities. The terms of Section 14 and Section 15 shall not modify or affect in any way the rights of the Indemnified Parties as set forth in this Section 13 or as set forth in Section 16, and Sections 14 and Section 15 are solely binding upon and affect the Trust, AltaGas, the Operating Partnership and the Selling Unitholder hereunder.

14. Indemnification by the Trust

The Trust covenants and agrees that it shall indemnify and hold harmless the Selling Unitholder against any losses, claims, damages or liabilities, joint or several, to which the Selling Unitholder may become subject under the Securities Laws and the U.S. Securities Laws or otherwise, insofar as such losses, claims, damages or liabilities (or actions in respect thereof) arise out of or are based upon a misrepresentation or an alleged misrepresentation contained in the Prospectus (except in respect of misrepresentations based on Underwriters' Information or Selling Unitholder's Information) and will reimburse the Selling Unitholder for any legal or other expenses reasonably incurred by the Selling Unitholder in connection with investigating or defending any such action or claim as such expenses are incurred.

15. Indemnification by the Selling Unitholder

The Selling Unitholder covenants and agrees that it shall: (i) indemnify and hold harmless the Trust against any losses, claims, damages or liabilities to which the Trust may become subject under the Securities Laws and the U.S. Securities Laws or otherwise, insofar as such losses, claims, damages or liabilities (or actions in respect thereof) arise out of or are based upon a misrepresentation or an alleged misrepresentation contained in the Prospectus, but only to the extent that such misrepresentation or alleged misrepresentation was made in reliance upon and in conformity with the Selling Unitholder's Information; and (ii) reimburse the Trust for any legal or other expenses reasonably incurred by the Trust in connection with investigating or defending any such action or claim as such expenses are incurred, provided that the Selling Unitholder shall not be liable to the Trust under this Section 15 for any amounts in excess of the amount of the proceeds to be received by the Selling Unitholder from the sale of the Offered Units, as reduced by any damages, penalties or other amounts that the Selling Unitholder is or was otherwise required to pay by reason of such misrepresentation or alleged misrepresentation.

16. Contribution

In order to provide for just and equitable contribution in circumstances in which the indemnity provided in Section 13 would otherwise be available in accordance with its terms but is, for any reason not attributable to any one or more of the Indemnified Parties, held to be unavailable to or unenforceable by an Indemnified Party or is insufficient to hold the Indemnified Party harmless, the Indemnifying Parties shall contribute to the aggregate of all claims, expenses, costs and liabilities and all losses (other than loss of profits and consequential damages) of the nature contemplated in Section 13 (including legal fees and disbursements) and suffered or incurred by the Indemnified Parties in such proportions so that the Indemnified Parties are responsible for that portion thereof as is represented by the percentage that the total Underwriting Fee payable by the Selling

Unitholder bears to the total gross proceeds to the Selling Unitholder of the sale of the Offered Units (including the Underwriting Fee), both as determined pursuant to the provisions hereof, and the Indemnifying Parties shall be responsible for the balance whether or not they have been sued or sued separately; provided that the Indemnified Parties shall not in any event be liable to contribute, in the aggregate, any amount in excess of such total Underwriting Fee or any portion thereof actually received; and provided further that the Trust shall not be liable to contribute unless the claim is in relation to a matter referred to in Section 13(a); and provided further that the Selling Unitholder shall not be liable to contribute unless the claim is in relation to a matter referred to in Section 13(b).

The rights to contribution provided in this Section 16 shall be in addition to and not in derogation of any other right to contribution which the Indemnified Parties may have by statute or otherwise at law. If an Indemnified Party has reason to believe that a claim for contribution may arise, the Indemnified Party shall give the Indemnifying Parties notice thereof in writing, but failure to so notify shall not relieve the Indemnifying Parties of any obligation which they may have to the Indemnified Party under this Section 16, except to the extent that they are materially prejudiced by such failure, and the right of the applicable Indemnifying Parties to assume the defence of such Indemnified Party shall apply as set out in Section 13, with necessary changes in detail.

The Indemnifying Parties further agree not to claim contribution from the Indemnified Parties in the event of any action brought against the Indemnifying Parties as a result of any information, statement or omission referred to in Section 13(a)(ii) (except any information or statement or omission relating to the Underwriters or any of them).

17. Expenses of the Offering

Whether or not the transactions herein contemplated shall be completed and except as provided below, all expenses of or incidental to the sale of the Offered Units shall be borne by the Selling Unitholder, including, without limitation, expenses payable in connection with the qualification of the Offered Units, the reasonable fees and expenses of counsel and auditors to the Trust, all marketing expenses including printing of marketing materials (including the confidential information memorandum) and road show expenses, and all costs incurred in connection with the preparation, translation, printing and delivery of the Prospectus and any Amendment (including commercial copies thereof). The fees and expenses of counsel for the Selling Unitholder shall be borne by the Selling Unitholder. The fees and expenses of counsel for the Underwriters and the out-of-pocket expenses of the Underwriters shall be borne by the Selling Unitholder. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the event that a receipt for the Final Prospectus is not obtained in the manner as contemplated hereby directly as a result of any act or omission of the Trust inconsistent with its obligations hereunder, or a cease trading or stop order is issued (except as a result of any inquiry, investigation or other proceeding, or any order, based upon the activities or alleged activities of the Selling Unitholder, the Underwriters or the Selling Firms), the Trust shall assume and pay all of the expenses of, or incidental to, the sale of the Offered Units set forth herein.

18. Termination

In addition to any other remedies which may be available to the Underwriters, any Underwriter shall be entitled, at the Underwriter's option, to terminate and cancel the Underwriter's obligations under this Agreement:

(a) if any inquiry, action, suit, investigation or other proceeding whether formal or informal is announced, threatened or commenced or any order is issued under or pursuant to any statute, or otherwise (except for any inquiry, investigation or other proceeding, or any order, based upon the activities or alleged activities of the Underwriters or the Selling Firms); or any law or regulation is promulgated, changed or announced; or any change or proposed change in the income tax laws of Canada or the interpretation or administration thereof occurs or is announced or threatened which, in the opinion of the Underwriter, acting reasonably, operates to prevent or restrict the trading in the Offered Units or the completion of the offering of Offered Units or would be expected to have a material adverse effect on the market price or value of the Trust Units, by giving the Trust and the Selling Unitholder written notice to that effect at any time prior to the Closing Time;

(b) if, prior to the Closing Time, there shall occur any change, occurrence or development as is contemplated in Section 5 (other than a change, occurrence or development related to the Underwriter), which in the Underwriter's opinion could be reasonably expected to have a material adverse effect on the market price or value of the Offered Units, by giving the Trust and the Selling Unitholder written notice to that effect prior to Closing Time;

(c) if, prior to the Closing Time, there should develop, occur or come into effect any occurrence of national or international consequence or any action, government law or regulation or inquiry which in the Underwriter's opinion seriously adversely affects, or may seriously adversely affect, the financial markets or the business of the Trust in each case taken as a whole, by giving the Trust and the Selling Unitholder written notice to that effect prior to the Closing Time; or

(d) the Trust, AltaGas, Operating Partnership or the Selling Unitholder shall be in breach or default under or non-compliance with any representation, warranty, term or condition of this Agreement, in any material respect.

If any Underwriter terminates its obligations hereunder pursuant to this Section 18, the liability of the Trust, AltaGas, Operating Partnership and the Selling Unitholder hereunder to the Underwriter, if any, and the liability of the Underwriter hereunder to the Trust, AltaGas, Operating Partnership and Selling Unitholder, if any, shall be limited to the respective obligations of such parties under Sections 13, 16 and 17.

19. Underwriting Percentages

(a) The Underwriters' obligation to purchase the Firm Units at the Closing Time (and the Over-Allotment Option Units, if any, at the Additional Closing Time) shall be several and not joint, and the Underwriters' respective obligations in this respect shall be as to the percentages set forth in Schedule A of the aggregate amount of Firm Units to be purchased at the Closing Time (or the Over-Allotment Option Units, if any, at the Additional Closing Time).

(b) If one or more of the Underwriters shall fail or refuse to purchase its or their applicable percentages set forth in Schedule A of the aggregate amount of the Firm Units at the Closing Time and the number of such Firm Units which such defaulting Underwriter or Underwriters agreed but failed or refused to purchase is not more than 7% of the aggregate number of Firm Units to be purchased at the Closing Time, the non-defaulting Underwriters shall be obligated severally, in the proportions that the respective percentage set forth in Schedule A opposite their name bears to the aggregate of the percentages set forth opposite the names of all such non-defaulting Underwriters, to purchase the Firm Units which such defaulting Underwriter or Underwriters agreed but failed or refused to purchase at such time.

(c) If any one or more of the Underwriters shall not purchase its applicable percentage of the Firm Units at the Closing Time and the number of such Firm Units which such defaulting Underwriters or Underwriters agreed but failed or refused to purchase is more than 7% of the aggregate number Firm Units to be purchased at such time, then the other Underwriters shall have the right, but shall not be obligated, to purchase all of the percentage of the Firm Units which would otherwise have been purchased by such defaulting Underwriters; the non-defaulting Underwriters exercising such right shall purchase such Firm Units pro rata to their respective percentages as set forth in Section 19(b) or in such other proportions as they may otherwise agree. If such right is exercised, either the non-defaulting Underwriters or the Selling Unitholder shall have the right to postpone the Closing Date for such period, not exceeding five Business Days in order that the required changes, if any, in the Final Prospectus or in any other documents or arrangements may be effected. If such right is not exercised, the other Underwriters not in default shall be relieved of all obligations to the Selling Unitholder under this Agreement upon submission to the Selling Unitholder of reasonable evidence of its or their ability and willingness to fulfil its or their obligations hereunder at the Closing Time. Nothing in this Section 19 shall oblige the Selling Unitholder to sell to any or all of the Underwriters less than all of the aggregate amount of the Firm Units or shall relieve any of the Underwriters in default hereunder from liability to the Trust and the Selling Unitholder.

20. Black-out Period

Each of the Trust and the Selling Unitholder (on behalf of itself and its affiliates) hereby agrees that without the prior consent of the Co-Lead Underwriters, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, it will not, in the case of the Trust during the period ending 60 days after the date of this Agreement and, in the case of the Selling Unitholder during the period ending 90 days after the Closing Date, (i) offer, issue, secure, pledge, sell, contract to sell, sell any option or contract to purchase, purchase any option or contract to sell, grant any option, right or warrant to purchase, or otherwise lend, transfer or dispose of, directly or indirectly, any Trust Units or Special Voting Units of the Trust or any securities convertible into or exercisable or exchangeable for such units (and will not permit any Subsidiary, including AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2 to undertake any of the aforementioned transactions) or (ii) enter into any swap or other arrangement that transfers to another, in whole or in part, any of the economic consequences of ownership of such units, whether any such transaction described in clause (i) or (ii) above is to be settled by delivery of such units, or such other securities, in cash or otherwise, provided that this Section 20 shall not restrict the grant of options, or the issue of Trust Units on exercise of options granted, pursuant to the Trust Unit Option Plan of AltaGas, Trust Units issued on exchange of Class B limited partnership units of AltaGas LP #1, Trust Units issued on exchange of Class B limited partnership units of AltaGas LP #2, Trust Units issued pursuant to the mid-term incentive plan of AltaGas and Trust Units issued pursuant to the DRIP Plans and the issuance of the PremStar Trust Units pursuant to the LOI or the PremStar P&S, subject to and in accordance with Section 8(f) of this Agreement.

21. Termination/Waiver

All material terms and conditions of this offer shall be construed as conditions, and any breach or failure to comply with any material terms or conditions shall entitle the Underwriters, without limitation of any other remedies of the Underwriters, to terminate such Underwriters' obligations to purchase the Offered Units by giving written notice to that effect to the Trust and the Selling Unitholder prior to the Closing Time. It is understood that the Underwriters may waive in whole or in part, or extend the time for compliance with, any of such terms and conditions without prejudice to such Underwriters' rights in respect of any other of such terms and conditions or any other or subsequent breach or non-compliance, provided that to be binding on such Underwriters any such waiver or extension must be in writing.

22. Contracts of the Trust

The parties hereto acknowledge that the General Partner is entering into this Agreement solely on behalf of the Trust and the obligations of the Trust hereunder shall not be personally binding upon the General Partner or any of the Unitholders of the Trust and that any recourse against the Trust, the General Partner or any Unitholder in any manner in respect of indebtedness, obligation or liability arising hereunder or arising in connection herewith or from the matters to which this Agreement relates, including without limitation claims based on negligence or otherwise tortious behaviour, shall be limited to, and satisfied only out of, the Trust Assets as defined in the Declaration of Trust dated as of March 26, 2004, as from time to time amended, supplemented or restated.

23. Distributions

The Selling Unitholder agrees that it is a material term of this Agreement and the determination of the purchase price of the Offered Units that the distribution of $0.15 per Trust Unit expected to be paid to Unitholders of record on August 25, 2004 be paid on Firm Units and, if the Additional Closing Date occurs on or prior to August 25, 2004, the Over-Allotment Option Units. Accordingly, the Selling Unitholder agrees that if for any reason the conditions referred to in Section 12 are not satisfied (other than as a result of the Closing Date or the Additional Closing Date (if it was otherwise scheduled to occur on or prior to August 25, 2004), as the case may be, not occurring before August 25, 2004 as a result of a default by the Underwriters hereunder), the Selling Unitholder shall, at the Underwriters' election, reduce the purchase price for the Firm Units and, if the Additional Closing Date was scheduled to occur on or prior to August 25, 2004, the Over-Allotment Option Units, by $0.15 per Offered Unit (and the amount of any other distribution declared after the date hereof and before the Closing Time) and the Underwriters shall have the right to postpone the Closing Time for such period, not exceeding ten Business Days, in order that the required changes in the Prospectus and in any other document or arrangements may be effected.

24. Survival

The representations, warranties, obligations and agreements of the Trust, AltaGas, Operating Partnership and the Selling Unitholder contained herein or delivered pursuant hereto shall survive the purchase by the Underwriters of the Offered Units and shall continue in full force and effect for a period of three years from the Closing Date notwithstanding any subsequent disposition by the Underwriters of the Offered Units, but where expressly limited to a particular date shall continue to speak only as of such date, and the Underwriters shall be entitled to rely on the representations and warranties of the Trust, AltaGas and Operating Partnership contained herein or delivered pursuant hereto notwithstanding any investigation which the Underwriters may undertake or which may be undertaken on the Underwriters' behalf.

25. Notices

Any notice or other communication required or permitted to be given hereunder shall be delivered in the case of the Trust, AltaGas or Operating Partnership, 1700, 355 - 4th Avenue S.W., Calgary, Alberta, T2P 0J1, Attention: Dennis Dawson, Vice-President, General Counsel and Corporate Secretary, facsimile (403) 691-7576; in the case of the Selling Unitholder to: 3000, 425-1st Street S.W., Calgary, Alberta, T2P 3L8, Attention: Blaine Melnyk, Corporate Secretary and Associate General Counsel, facsimile (403) 231-5929; in the case of the Underwriters to: Scotia Capital Inc., 700-2nd Street S.W.,

Calgary, Alberta, T2P 2N7, Attention: Mark Herman, Managing Director, facsimile: (403) 298-4099, and to CIBC World Markets Inc., 9th Floor, 855-2nd Street S.W., Calgary, Alberta, T2P 4J7, Attention: Brett Gellner, Executive Director, facsimile (403) 260-0524, and to RBC Dominion Securities Inc., 1100, Bankers Hall West, 888 – 3rd Street S.W., Calgary, Alberta, T2P 5C5, Attention: Timothy W. Watson, facsimile (403) 299-6901, and, in the case of notice to any one Underwriter, at such address as may be provided by the Underwriter from time to time upon request by any of the other parties. The parties and each of them may change their respective addresses for notices by notice given in the manner aforesaid. Any such notice or other communication shall be in writing, and unless delivered to a responsible officer of the addressee, shall be given by courier service or by facsimile transmission, and shall be deemed to have been received, if given by facsimile transmission, on the day of sending (if such day is a Business Day and, if not, on the next Business Day following the sending thereof) and, if given by courier service, on the next Business Day following the sending thereof.

26. Time

Time shall be of the essence in this Agreement.

27. Governing Law

This Agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of Alberta and the laws of Canada applicable therein, and the courts of the Province of Alberta shall have exclusive jurisdiction over any dispute hereunder.

28. Attornment

The parties hereby irrevocably and unconditionally consent to and submit to the courts of Alberta for any actions, suits or proceedings arising out of or relating to this Agreement or the matters contemplated hereby (and agree not to commence any action, suit or proceeding relating thereto except in such courts) and further agree that service of any process, summons, notice or document by single registered mail to the address of the parties set forth in this Agreement shall be effective service of process for any action, suit or proceeding brought against either party in such court. The parties hereby irrevocably and unconditionally waive any objection to the laying of venue of any action, suit or proceeding arising out of this Agreement or the matters contemplated hereby in the courts of Alberta and hereby further irrevocably and unconditionally waive and agree not to plead or claim in any such court that any such action, suit or proceeding so brought has been brought in an inconvenient forum.

29. Over-Allotment/Stabilization

In connection with the Distribution of the Offered Units, the Underwriters may over-allot or effect transactions which stabilize or maintain the market price of the Offered Units at levels other then those which might otherwise prevail in the open market, but in each case only as permitted by applicable law. Such stabilizing transactions, if any, may be discontinued at any time.

30. Severability

If any provision hereof is determined to be void or unenforceable in whole or in part, it shall be deemed not to impair or affect the validity of any other provision of this Agreement, and such void or unenforceable provision shall be severable from this Agreement.

31. Entire Agreement

This Agreement, and as between the Trust and the Selling Unitholder only, the Registration Rights Agreement, constitutes the entire agreement among the Trust, AltaGas, Operating Partnership, Selling Unitholder and the Underwriters in connection with the offering of the Offered Units and supersedes all prior agreements, understandings, negotiations and discussions, whether oral or written.

32. Counterparts/Facsimile Signatures

This Agreement may be executed in one or more counterparts together constituting one original document which shall be effective as of the date hereof. The transmission by facsimile of a copy of the execution page hereof reflecting the execution of this Agreement by any party hereto shall be effective to evidence that party's intention to be bound by this Agreement and that party's agreement to the terms, provisions and conditions hereof, all without the necessity of having to produce an original copy of such execution page.

33. Authority of Co-Lead Underwriters

The Co-Lead Underwriters are hereby authorized by each of the other Underwriters to act on its behalf and the Trust, AltaGas, Operating Partnership and the Selling Unitholder shall be entitled to and shall act on any notice given in accordance with Section 25 or any agreement entered into by or on behalf of the Underwriters by the Co-Lead Underwriters, which represents and warrants that it has irrevocable authority to bind the Underwriters, except in respect of any consent to a settlement pursuant to Section 13 which consent shall be given by the Indemnified Party, a notice of termination pursuant to Section 18, which notice may be given by any of the Underwriters, any exercise of the rights of the Underwriters, under Section 19, which shall be exercised by all the non-defaulting Underwriters, or any waiver pursuant to Section 21, which waiver must be signed by all of the Underwriters.

34. United States Selling Restrictions

The Trust, AltaGas, the Operating Partnership and the Underwriters acknowledge that the attached Schedule B is incorporated into and forms part of this Agreement. The Underwriters agree that any offer or sale of the Offered Units in the United States or to U.S. persons will be made in accordance with Schedule B. The Trust, AltaGas, the Operating Partnership and the Underwriters make the representations, warranties and covenants attributable to them as set forth in Schedule B.

If the foregoing accurately reflects our agreement, please confirm this by signing the enclosed copies of this letter at the place indicated and returning the same to the Co-Lead Underwriters, on behalf of the Underwriters.

Schedule B

UNITED STATES SELLING RESTRICTIONS, REPRESENTATIONS AND COVENANTS

1. For the purpose of this Schedule, the following terms shall have the meanings indicated:

(a) "Directed Selling Efforts" means "directed selling efforts" as defined in Regulation S. Without limiting the foregoing, but for greater clarity, it means subject to the exclusions from the definition of "directed selling efforts" contained in Regulation S, any activity undertaken for the purpose of, or that could reasonably be expected to have the effect of, conditioning the market in the United States for the Offered Units and shall include, without limitation, the placement of any advertisement in a publication with a general circulation in the United States that refers to the offering of the Offered Units;

(b) "Qualified Institutional Buyer" means a "qualified institutional buyer" as defined in Rule 144A;

(c) "Regulation S" means Regulation S adopted by the SEC under the U.S. Securities Act;

(d) "Rule 144A" means Rule 144A adopted by the SEC under the U.S. Securities Act;

(e) "SEC" means the United States Securities and Exchange Commission;

(f) "Substantial U.S. Market Interest" means "substantial U.S. market interest" as defined in Regulation S;

(g) "United States" means the United States of America, its territories and possessions, any state of the United States, and the District of Columbia;

(h) "U.S. Exchange Act" means the United States Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended; and

(i) "U.S. Securities Act" means the United States Securities Act of 1933, as amended.

Unless otherwise defined herein, all additional initially capitalized terms used herein shall have the meaning ascribed thereto in the attached underwriting agreement (the "Agreement").

2. The Underwriters and the Trust understand and agree that the Offered Units have not been and will not be registered under the U.S. Securities Act and the Offered Units may be offered and sold only:

(a) outside the United States (i)(A) pursuant to a short-form prospectus under Canadian securities laws or (B) pursuant to the laws of another jurisdiction, and (ii) in reliance upon the exemption from registration under the U.S. Securities Act provided by Rule 903 of Regulation S; or

(b) in the United States by the Underwriters and their United States affiliates, as principals, in compliance with Rule 144A, in the manner contemplated in this Schedule and in compliance with all applicable United States federal and state laws relating to the registration and conduct of securities brokers and dealers and all applicable state securities ("blue sky") laws, to persons who are or who they have reasonable grounds to believe, and do believe, are Qualified Institutional Buyers who, in connection with each purchase of Offered Units, execute and deliver a U.S. subscription agreement in form satisfactory to the Trust and the Underwriters.

3. The Trust represents, warrants, covenants and agrees to and with the Underwriters as of the date hereof and as of the Closing Date that:

(a) the Trust is a Foreign Issuer as defined in Regulation S which has and at the commencement of the offering of the Offered Units had no Substantial U.S. Market Interest in the Offered Units;

(b) the Trust is not an open-end investment company or unit investment trust registered or required to be registered under the United States Investment Company Act of 1940;

(c) the Offered Units are not part of a class listed on a national securities exchange registered under section 6 of the U.S. Exchange Act, quoted in an automated interdealer system in the United States, or convertible or exchangeable at an effective conversion premium (calculated as specified in paragraph (a)(6) of Rule 144A under the U.S. Securities Act) of less than ten percent for securities so listed or quoted;

(d) for so long as any of the Offered Units which have been sold in the United States in reliance upon Rule 144A are outstanding and are "restricted securities" within the meaning of Rule 144(a)(3) under the U.S. Securities Act, if the Trust is not or ceases to be exempt, pursuant to Rule 12g3-2(b) under the U.S. Exchange Act, from the reporting requirements of the U.S. Exchange Act, and is not otherwise subject to such requirements pursuant to section 13 or 15(d) of the U.S. Exchange Act, the Trust will provide to any holder of Offered Units and any prospective purchaser of Offered Units designated by such holder, upon the request of such holder or prospective purchaser, the information required to be provided to such holder or prospective purchaser by paragraph (d)(4) of Rule 144A;

(e) none of the Trust, its affiliates or any person acting on its or their behalf (except for the Underwriters, their respective affiliates and any person acting on their behalf, as to whom no representations are made) (i) has engaged or will engage in any Directed Selling Efforts with respect to the Offered Units, (ii) has taken or will take any action which would constitute a violation of Regulation M of the SEC under the U.S. Exchange Act or that would cause the exemption afforded by Rule 903 of Regulation S or Rule 144A to be unavailable for offers and sales of the Offered Units, or (iii) has solicited or will solicit offers for, or have made or will make offers to sell, the Offered Units by means of any form of general solicitation or general advertising (as those terms are used in Regulation D under the U.S. Securities Act) or in any manner involving a public offering within the meaning of the U.S. Securities Act; and

(f) the Trust has not, within six months before the commencement of the offer and sale of the Offered Units, and will not within six months after the Closing Date, offer or sell any securities in a manner that would be integrated with the offer and sale of the Offered Units and would cause the exemption from registration set forth in Rule 903 of Regulation S or Rule 144A to become unavailable with respect to the offer and sale of the Offered Units.

4. Each of the Underwriters severally but not jointly represents, warrants, covenants and agrees to and with the Trust as of the date hereof and as of the Closing Date that:

(a) neither it, nor any of its United States affiliates nor any person acting on its or their behalf (i) has engaged or will engage in any Directed Selling Efforts with respect to the Offered Units, (ii) except to the extent permitted by paragraph 2(b) of this Schedule, has made or will make (A) any offer to sell or solicitation of an offer to buy any of the Offered Units to any person or (B) any sale of the Offered Units to any person unless (1) the offer is not made to any person in the United States, (2) the seller of such Offered Units and any person acting on its behalf reasonably believes that at the time such person placed the order to purchase Offered Units such person was outside the United States and (3) such sale is otherwise in compliance with the applicable requirements of Regulation S, (iii) has taken or will take any action which would constitute a violation of Regulation M of the SEC under the U.S. Exchange Act or that would cause the exemption afforded by Rule 903 of Regulation S or Rule 144A to be unavailable for offers and sales of the Offered Units, or (iv) has solicited or will solicit offers for, or have made or will make offers to sell, the Offered Units by means of any form of general solicitation or general advertising (as those terms are used in Regulation D under the U.S. Securities Act) or in any manner involving a public offering within the meaning of the U.S. Securities Act;

(b) offers and sales of the Offered Units within the United States have been and will be made only (i) in compliance with Rule 144A, by the Underwriter or its United States affiliates, acting as principal, (ii) to persons who the seller (A) has informed or will prior to any sale inform that the Offered Units have not been and will not be registered under the U.S. Securities Act and are being sold to them without registration under the U.S. Securities Act in reliance upon Rule 144A thereunder, (B) has delivered or will prior to any sale deliver a U.S. private placement memorandum in form satisfactory to the Trust and the Underwriters, which will include a copy of the Final Prospectus, and (C) immediately prior to transmitting such materials and information and prior to any offer and at the time of any sale, has reasonable ground to believe and did believe was a Qualified Institutional Buyer, and (iii) in compliance with all applicable United States federal and state laws relating to the registration and conduct of securities brokers and dealers and all applicable blue sky laws;

(c) it has not entered, and will not enter, into any contractual arrangement without the prior written consent of the Trust with respect to the distribution of the Offered Units, except (i) with its affiliates or (ii) with one or more Underwriters in accordance with the Agreement and this Schedule;

(d) it has caused or will promptly cause its United States affiliates to acknowledge in writing their awareness of and agreement to be bound by and shall ensure that each of its affiliates complies with the provisions of the Agreement and this Schedule in connection with all offers and sales of the Offered Units;

(e) either (i) no offers or sales of Offered Units in the United States have been or will be made by it, its affiliates or any person acting on its or their behalf, or (ii)(A) at least one business day prior to the Closing Date, it shall provide the Trust with a list of all purchasers of Offered Units in the United States, and (B) on the Closing Date and prior to the Closing Time, it will deliver a certificate, substantially in the form of Exhibit I to this Schedule, relating to the manner of the offer and sale in the United States of the Offered Units.

Exhibit I

UNDERWRITERS' CERTIFICATE

In connection with the offering in the United States of Trust Units (the "Offered Units") of AltaGas Income Trust (the "Trust") pursuant to that certain Underwriting Agreement dated July 21, 2004 between the Trust and the Underwriters and the other parties named therein (the "Underwriting Agreement"), the undersigned, on its behalf and on behalf of its U.S. affiliates does hereby certify as follows:

(a) the Offered Units have been offered and sold in the United States only by our U.S. affiliates, each of which was on the dates of such offers and sales, and is on the date hereof, duly registered as a broker-dealer pursuant to section 15(b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and under the securities laws of each state in which such offers and sales were made (unless exempted from the respective state's broker-dealer registration requirements) and was and is a member in good standing with the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc.;

(b) each offeree of the Offered Units in the United States was provided through such U.S. affiliates with a copy of the U.S. private placement memorandum, including a copy of the Canadian prospectus relating to the offering of the Offered Units;

(c) immediately prior to our transmitting through such U.S. affiliates such U.S. private placement memorandum, we had reasonable ground to believe and did believe that such offeree was a Qualified Institutional Buyer (as defined in Rule 144A) and, on the date hereof, we continue to believe that each person purchasing Offered Units from us in the United States through such U.S. affiliate is a Qualified Institutional Buyer;

(d) no form of general solicitation or general advertising was used by us or any of our U.S. affiliates, including advertisements, articles, notices or other communications published in any newspaper, magazine or similar media or broadcast over radio or television, or any seminar or meeting whose attendees had been invited by general solicitation or general advertising, in connection with the offer or sale of the Offered Units in the United States; and

(e) we conducted the offering in the United States of the Offered Units in accordance with the Underwriting Agreement, including Schedule B thereto.

Terms used in this certificate have the meanings given to them in the Underwriting Agreement.

Dear Sirs:

Re: AltaGas Income Trust (the "Trust")

We refer to the short form prospectus dated July 29, 2004 relating to the distribution by Enbridge Inc. of 11,650,000 trust units of the Trust (the "Prospectus").

We consent to the use, through incorporation by reference in the Prospectus, of our report dated February 13, 2004, to the shareholders of AltaGas Services Inc. (the "Company") on the following consolidated financial statements of the Company:

Consolidated balance sheets as at December 31, 2003 and 2003;

Consolidated statements of income and retained earnings and cash flows for the years ended December 31, 2003 and 2002.

We also consent to the incorporation by reference in the Prospectus of our report dated March 26, 2004 to the Trustee of the Trust on the balance sheet of the Trust as at March 26, 2004.

We report that we have read the Prospectus and all information specifically incorporated by reference therein and have no reason to believe that there are any misrepresentations in the information contained therein that are derived from the consolidated financial statements upon which we have reported or that are within our knowledge as a result of our audit of such consolidated financial statements.

We also consent to the incorporation by reference in the Prospectus of our compilation report dated March 26, 2004 to the Trustee of the Trust on the unaudited pro forma balance sheet of the Trust as at December 31, 2003 and the unaudited pro forma statement of income for the year then ended.

No securities regulatory authority has expressed an opinion about these securities and it is an offence to claim otherwise. This short form prospectus constitutes a public offering of these securities only in those jurisdictions where they may be lawfully offered for sale and therein only by persons permitted to sell such securities. These securities have not been and will not be registered under the United States Securities Act of 1933, as amended, (the "1933 Act") or any state securities laws. Accordingly, these securities may not be offered or sold within the United States of America or to a U.S. Person (as such term is defined in Regulation S under the 1933 Act) unless registered under the 1933 Act and applicable state securities laws or an exemption from such registration is available. This short form prospectus does not constitute an offer to sell or a solicitation of an offer to buy any of these securities within the United States of America. See "Plan of Distribution".

Short Form Prospectus

Secondary Offering July 29, 2004

AltaGas

ALTAGAS INCOME TRUST

$230,087,500
11,650,000 Trust Units

This short form prospectus qualifies the distribution by Enbridge Inc. (the "Selling Unitholder") of 11,650,000 trust units ("Units") of AltaGas Income Trust (the "Trust"). See "Selling Unitholder". The Trust will not receive any of the proceeds from the sale of Units by the Selling Unitholder. The outstanding Units, including those offered hereunder, are listed on the Toronto Stock Exchange (the "TSX") under the trading symbol "ALA.UN". On July 19, 2004, the last trading day prior to the announcement of the offering, the closing price of the Units on the TSX was $20.70. The price of the Units was determined by negotiation between the Selling Unitholder and Scotia Capital Inc., CIBC World Markets Inc., RBC Dominion Securities Inc., BMO Nesbitt Burns Inc., National Bank Financial Inc., TD Securities Inc., Clarus Securities Inc., HSBC Securities (Canada) Inc., Canaccord Capital Corporation, FirstEnergy Capital Corp. and Peters & Co. Limited (collectively, the "Underwriters").

Price: $19.75 per Unit

	Price to Public	Underwriters' Fee	Net Proceeds to the Selling Unitholder[1]
Per Unit	$19.75	$0.9875	$18.7625
Total[2]	$230,087,500	$11,504,375	$218,583,125

(1) Before deducting expenses of the offering, estimated to be $350,000, which, together with the Underwriters' Fee, will be paid by the Selling Unitholder.

(2) The Selling Unitholder has also granted to the Underwriters an option (the "Over-Allotment Option") to purchase up to an additional 1,747,500 Units at a price of $19.75 per Unit, exercisable in whole or in part at any time prior to 30 days after the closing of the offering, solely to cover over-allotments, if any, and for market stabilization purposes. If the Over-Allotment Option is exercised in full, the Price to Public, Underwriters' Fee and Net Proceeds to the Selling Unitholder will be $264,600,625, $13,230,031 and $251,370,594, respectively. This short form prospectus qualifies the distribution of the Units to be sold by the Selling Unitholder upon exercise of the Over-Allotment Option. See "Plan of Distribution."

Subscribers who purchase Units pursuant to the offering and who hold such Units on the relevant record date will be eligible to receive distributions commencing with the distribution anticipated to be payable on or about September 15, 2004, provided closing of the offering occurs by August 25, 2004, the anticipated record date for such distribution. Subscribers will not be eligible to receive the distribution to be paid on August 15, 2004, the record date for which will be July 26, 2004.

The Underwriters, as principals, conditionally offer the Units, subject to prior sale, if, as and when sold by the Selling Unitholder and accepted by the Underwriters in accordance with the conditions contained in the underwriting agreement referred to under "Plan of Distribution" and subject to approval of certain legal matters on behalf of the Trust by Stikeman Elliott LLP, on behalf of the Selling Unitholder by McCarthy Tétrault LLP and on behalf of the Underwriters by Blake, Cassels & Graydon LLP. Subscriptions for Units will be received subject to rejection or allotment in whole or in part and the right is reserved to close the subscription books at any time without notice. The Underwriters may over-allot or effect transactions which stabilize or maintain the market price for the Units at levels other than those which otherwise might prevail in the open market. See "Plan of Distribution". Definitive Unit certificates will be available for delivery at closing, which is expected to occur on or about August 10, 2004 but in any event not later than August 25, 2004.

The Units are not "deposits" within the meaning of the Canada Deposit Insurance Corporation Act (Canada) and are not insured under the provisions of that Act or any other legislation. Furthermore, the Trust is not a trust company and, accordingly, it is not registered under any trust and loan company legislation as it does not carry on or intend to carry on the business of a trust company.

Such statements reflect the Trust's current views with respect to future events and are subject to certain risks, uncertainties and assumptions, including, without limitation, those described in this short form prospectus under the heading "Risk Factors". Many factors could cause the Trust's actual results, performance or achievements to vary from those described in this short form prospectus and the documents incorporated by reference herein. Should one or more of these risks or uncertainties materialize, or should assumptions underlying forward-looking statements prove incorrect, actual results may vary materially from those described in this short form prospectus and the documents incorporated by reference herein as intended, planned, anticipated, believed, estimated or expected, and such forward-looking statements included in this short form prospectus or the documents incorporated by reference herein should not be unduly relied upon. These statements speak only as of the date of this short form prospectus or as of the date specified in the documents incorporated by reference herein, as the case may be. The Trust does not intend, and does not assume any obligation, to update these forward-looking statements.

In particular, this short form prospectus and the documents incorporated by reference herein contain forward-looking statements pertaining to the following: the amount and timing of distributions in respect of the Units; treatment under applicable tax legislation; expectations regarding the ability to maintain its competitive position; expectations regarding the ability to raise capital; treatment under governmental regulatory regimes; and commodity prices.

Actual results could differ materially from those anticipated in these forward-looking statements as a result of the risk factors set forth below and elsewhere in this short form prospectus: general economic conditions in Canada and the United States; industry conditions; governmental regulations; volatility of commodity prices; currency fluctuations; environmental risks; competition; lack of availability of qualified personnel or management; the ability to integrate technological advances and match advances of competition; the availability of capital; and the other factors considered under "Risk Factors".

These factors should not be construed as exhaustive.

All dollar amounts in this short form prospectus are in Canadian dollars unless otherwise stated.

DESCRIPTION OF CASH FLOW OF THE TRUST

Throughout this short form prospectus and the documents incorporated by reference herein, the Trust uses the term "Cash Flow of the Trust" to refer to the amount of cash that is to be available for distributions to Unitholders. "Cash Flow of the Trust" is not a measure recognized by Canadian generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP") and does not have a standardized meaning prescribed by GAAP, but is an amount calculated in accordance with the terms of the Declaration of Trust. Therefore, Cash Flow of the Trust may not be comparable to similar measures presented by other issuers, and investors are cautioned that Cash Flow of the Trust should not be considered as an alternative to net earnings, cash flow from operating activities or other measures of financial performance calculated in accordance with GAAP.

ELIGIBILITY FOR INVESTMENT

Based in part upon representations made by AltaGas as to certain factual matters, in the opinion of Stikeman Elliott LLP and Blake, Cassels & Graydon LLP, the Units offered hereby will, on the date of closing, be qualified investments under the Tax Act for Exempt Plans and will not, on the date of closing, be foreign property for purposes of the Tax Act.

It is not certain whether the Trust would be a "business income trust" or whether the Units would constitute "restricted investment property" as described in proposed amendments to the Tax Act announced by the Minister of Finance (Canada) in the Budget. Under that Budget proposal, certain investors, including registered pension funds or plans and pension corporations, but not Exempt Plans, were to be liable to a penalty tax commencing in 2005 in respect of their holdings of restricted investment property and units of business income trusts in excess of the limits described in the Budget proposal. On May 18, 2004, the Minister of Finance (Canada) announced that this Budget proposal will be suspended pending further consultation and review. See "Certain Canadian Federal Income Tax Considerations" and "Risk Factors."

DOCUMENTS INCORPORATED BY REFERENCE

Information has been incorporated by reference in this short form prospectus from documents filed with securities commissions or similar authorities in Canada. For the purpose of the Province of Québec, this simplified prospectus contains information to be completed by consulting the permanent information record. Copies of the documents incorporated herein by reference and of the permanent information record may be obtained on request without charge from the Vice-President, General Counsel and Corporate Secretary of AltaGas at 1700, 355 – 4th Avenue S.W., Calgary, Alberta, T2P 0J1, Telephone: (403) 691-7575. These documents are also available through the Internet on the System for Electronic Document Analysis and Retrieval (SEDAR), which can be accessed at www.sedar.com.

The following documents of the Trust or AltaGas, filed with the various provincial securities commissions or similar authorities in Canada, are specifically incorporated into and form an integral part of this short form prospectus:

(a) the Renewal Annual Information Form of AltaGas Services dated March 18, 2004 (the "AIF"), including management's discussion and analysis of the financial condition and operations of AltaGas Services for the year ended December 31, 2003 incorporated by reference therein;

(b) the audited consolidated financial statements of AltaGas Services as at and for the years ended December 31, 2003 and 2002, together with the auditors' report thereon;

(c) the unaudited consolidated financial statements of AltaGas Services as at and for the three months ended March 31, 2004 and 2003;

(d) management's discussion and analysis of the financial condition and operations of AltaGas Services for the three months ended March 31, 2004 and 2003;

(e) the Information Circular and Proxy Statement dated March 26, 2004 relating to the Special Meeting of Securityholders of AltaGas Services held on April 29, 2004 (the "Information Circular"), excluding the sections entitled "Report on Employee and Executive Compensation", "Performance Graph" and "Statement of Corporate Governance Practices";

(f) the material change report of AltaGas Services dated March 22, 2004 with respect to the reorganization of the business of AltaGas Services into an income trust; and

(g) the material change report of the Trust dated May 10, 2004 with respect to the completion of reorganization of the business of AltaGas Services into an income trust.

Any material change reports (except confidential material change reports), comparative interim financial statements, comparative annual financial statements and the auditors' report thereon and information circulars (excluding the disclosure in an information circular relating to the downward repricing of options or stock appreciation rights, the composition of the Trust's compensation committee and its report on executive compensation, the performance graph and corporate governance practices) filed by the Trust with the provincial securities commissions or similar authorities in Canada after the date of this short form prospectus and before the termination of the offering, are deemed to be incorporated by reference in this short form prospectus.

Any statement contained in a document incorporated or deemed to be incorporated by reference herein shall be deemed to be modified or superseded for the purposes of this short form prospectus to the extent that a statement contained herein or in any other subsequently filed document which also is, or is deemed to be, incorporated by reference herein modifies or supersedes such statement. The modifying or superseding statement need not state that it has modified or superseded a prior statement or include any other information set forth in the document that it modifies or supersedes. The making of a modifying or superseding statement shall not be deemed an admission for any purposes that the modified or superseded statement, when made, constituted a misrepresentation, an untrue statement of a material fact or an omission to state a material fact that is required to be stated or that is necessary to make a statement not misleading in light of the circumstances in which it was made. Any statement so modified or superseded shall not be deemed, except as so modified or superseded, to constitute a part of this short form prospectus.

General

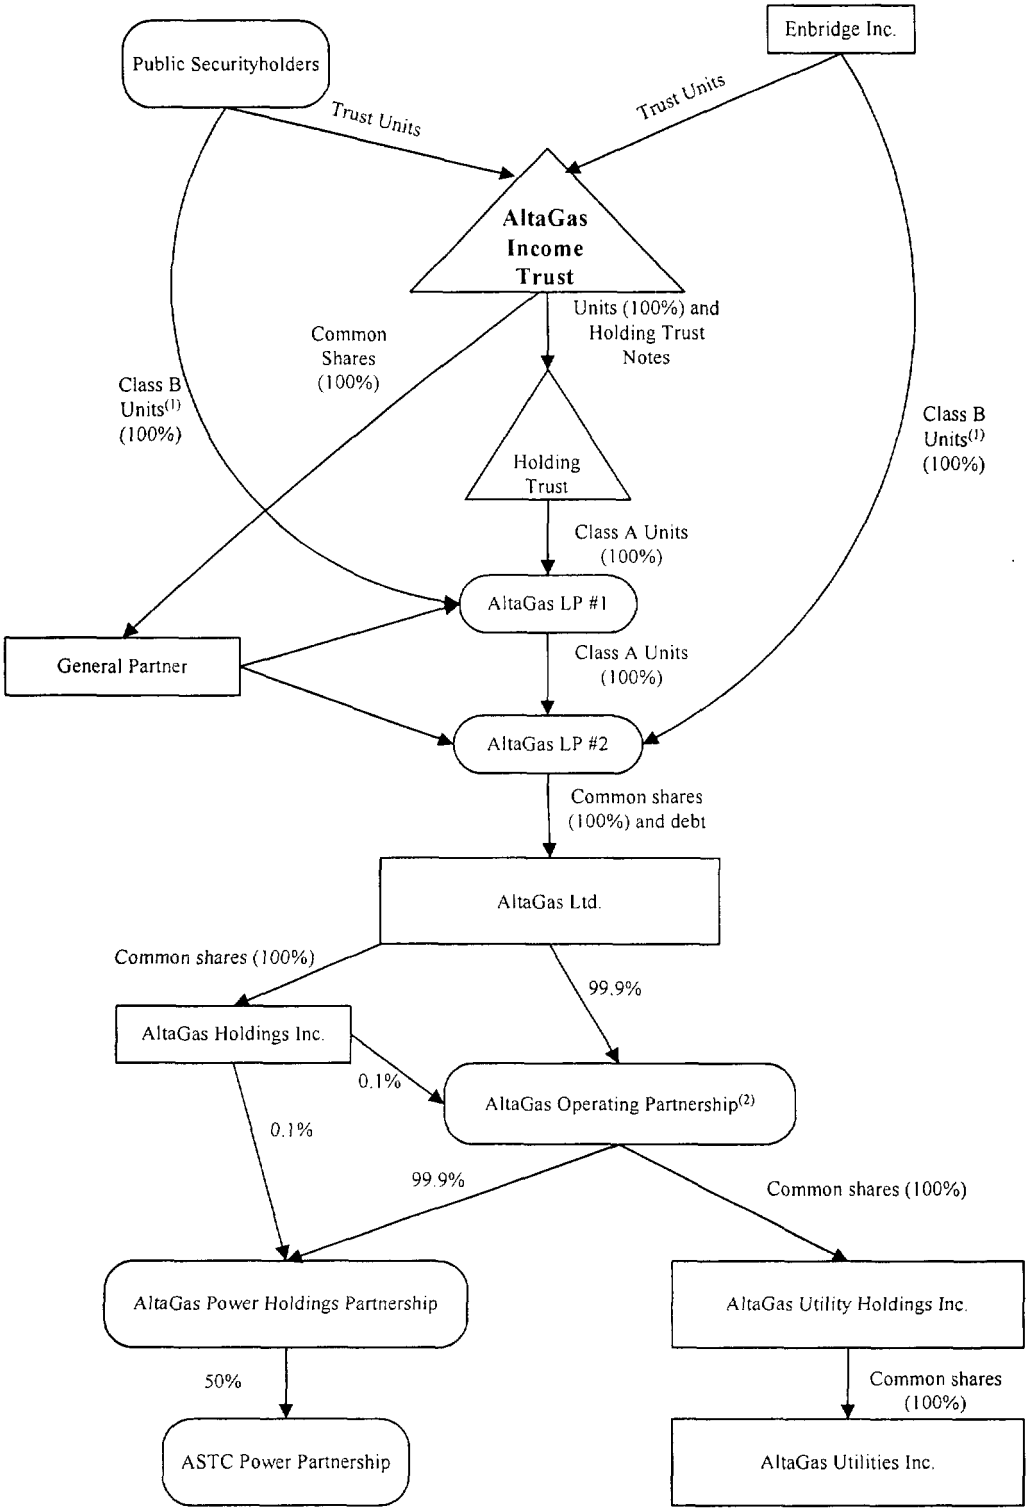
The Trust is an unincorporated open-ended investment trust governed by the laws of Alberta and created pursuant to the Declaration of Trust. The head and principal office of the Trust is located at 1700, 355 - 4th Avenue S.W., Calgary, Alberta T2P 0J1. The Trust was established for the purposes of acquiring or investing in the securities of entities involved in the business of, or the ownership, lease or operation of assets or property in connection with gathering, processing, transporting, extracting, buying, storing or selling petroleum, natural gas, natural gas liquids or other related products, power or other forms of energy and related businesses and such other investments as the Trust may determine.

Holders of Units are the sole beneficiaries of the Trust. Computershare Trust Company of Canada is the initial trustee of the Trust.

General Partner

The Trust is administered by the General Partner, which is also the general partner of AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2. The board of directors of the General Partner also has the power to manage, or supervise the management of, the business and affairs of AltaGas pursuant to a unanimous shareholder agreement.

Business of AltaGas



AltaGas is an energy infrastructure based company and an indirect subsidiary of the Trust. AltaGas, directly and indirectly:

- Physically gathers, processes, extracts and transports natural gas;
- Contractually markets and transports natural gas and electrical power;
- Converts energy across and along the energy value chain to create higher-value added products; and
- Consumes natural gas and electrical power to operate its facilities.

AltaGas expects to continue to develop its asset base by seeking opportunities for expansion and acquisition in the natural gas, NGLs and power business in Canada and the northern United States.

Organizational Structure of the Trust

The following diagram shows the inter-entity relationships among the Trust and its material subsidiaries prior to the completion of the offering.

Notes:

(1) Class B limited partnership units of AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 are exchangeable for Trust Units at the option of the holder on a one-for-one basis, are entitled to vote with Unitholders pursuant to the Special Voting Unit and are entitled to the same cash payments per unit as the cash distributions made on a Unit.

(2) Subsequent to the Arrangement, substantially all of the operating assets formerly owned by AltaGas were contributed to, and certain obligations of AltaGas were assumed by, the AltaGas Operating Partnership.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

Trust Conversion

Effective May 1, 2004, the business of AltaGas Services was reorganized pursuant to the Arrangement and holders of common shares of AltaGas Services received Units and/or Exchangeable Securities in exchange for their common shares. AltaGas Services became an indirect subsidiary of the Trust and was amalgamated to form AltaGas. Additional information relating to the Arrangement is contained in the Information Circular, which is incorporated by reference herein.

Edmonton Ethane Extraction Plant Acquisition

On March 18, 2004, AltaGas Services announced that it had entered into a purchase and sale agreement with BP Canada Energy Resources Company ("BP") to acquire BP's 48 2/3% interest in the Edmonton Ethane Extraction Plant located at Edmonton, Alberta for approximately $46 million. The acquisition, expected to close during the third quarter of 2004, will increase AltaGas' net extraction processing capacity to 539 million cubic feet of gas per day.

Adoption of Distribution Reinvestment Plans

On May 20, 2004, the Trust adopted a Premium Distribution™, Distribution Reinvestment and Optional Unit Purchase Plan for Unitholders and each of AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 adopted a Premium Distribution™, Distribution Reinvestment and Optional Unit Purchase Plan for holders of Exchangeable Securities (collectively, the "DRIP Plans"), available in respect of monthly cash distributions or cash payments.

Under the DRIP Plans, eligible Unitholders and eligible holders of Exchangeable Securities may elect to receive a cash distribution of up to 102% of the cash distribution from the Trust, in the case of Units, or up to 102% of the cash payment from AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as applicable, in the case of Exchangeable Securities, that such Unitholder or holder of Exchangeable Securities would have otherwise been entitled to receive. Alternatively, Unitholders or holders of Exchangeable Securities can direct cash distributions or cash payments, as applicable, to be reinvested in additional Units at 95% of the "average market price" as defined in the DRIP Plans.

PremStar Energy Canada Ltd.

On May 26, 2004, the Trust announced that a subsidiary of the trust has executed a letter of intent to purchase the business of PremStar Energy Canada Ltd. and its subsidiaries, ECNG Inc. and Energistics Group Inc. (collectively, "PremStar"), for approximately $22.0 million, payable by way of 993,789 Units issued from treasury plus approximately $1.2 million cash. The transaction is conditional on the execution of a purchase and sale agreement.

The PremStar group specializes in the procurement and supply of energy to end use customers. The PremStar acquisition will build on AltaGas' low risk, fee for service business through the provision of physical energy supply from the gas field directly to end use customers located primarily in Ontario. On a fee for service basis, the PremStar group provides energy supply, arranges for transportation services, and supports customers with valuable market information.

Recent Treasury Offering

On June 10, 2004, the Trust completed the offering and sale of 4,730,000 Units at $18.70 per Unit for gross proceeds of $88,451,000.

PLAN OF DISTRIBUTION

Pursuant to an agreement dated July 21, 2004 (the "Underwriting Agreement") between the Selling Unitholder, the Trust, AltaGas, AltaGas Operating Partnership and the Underwriters, the Selling Unitholder has agreed to sell 11,650,000 Units and the Underwriters have severally agreed to purchase all of such Units on August 10, 2004 or on such other date as may be agreed among the parties to the Underwriting Agreement (such date not to be later than August 25, 2004) at a price of $19.75 per Unit. The Underwriting Agreement provides that the Selling Unitholder will pay the Underwriters a fee of $0.9875 per Unit purchased by the Underwriters from the Selling Unitholder in consideration for their services in connection with the offering. The offering price of the Units was determined by negotiation between the Selling Unitholder and the Underwriters.

The Selling Unitholder has granted to the Underwriters the Over-Allotment Option to purchase up to an additional 1,747,500 Units at a price of $19.75 per Unit, exercisable in whole or in part at any time prior to 30 days after the closing of the offering, solely to cover over-allotments, if any, and for market stabilization purposes. If the Over-Allotment Option is exercised in full, the total offering, Underwriters' fee and net proceeds to the Selling Unitholder will be $264,600,625, $13,230,031 and $251,370,594, respectively. This short form prospectus qualifies the distribution of the Units to be sold by the Selling Unitholder upon exercise of the Over-Allotment Option.

The obligations of the Underwriters under the Underwriting Agreement are several, and not joint, and may be terminated upon the occurrence of certain stated events. If one or more Underwriters fail to purchase the Units which it or they have agreed to purchase and such Units are less than 7% of the aggregate Units offered, the remaining Underwriter or Underwriters are obligated to purchase the Units not purchased by the Underwriter or Underwriters that fail to purchase. The Selling Unitholder is not obligated to sell less than all of the Units offered. If one or more Underwriters fail to purchase the Units which it or they have agreed to purchase and such Units are 7% or more of the aggregate Units offered, the remaining Underwriter or Underwriters may terminate their obligation to purchase their allotment of Units, or may, but are not obligated to, purchase the Units not purchased by the Underwriter or Underwriters which fail to purchase. Pursuant to the Underwriting Agreement, the Selling Unitholder, the Trust, AltaGas and AltaGas Operating Partnership have agreed to indemnify the Underwriters and their respective agents, shareholders, directors, officers and employees against certain liabilities.

The Selling Unitholder has agreed with the Underwriters that it will not, during the period ending 90 days following the closing of the offering, sell any Units or any securities convertible into or exchangeable for Units without the prior written consent of Scotia Capital Inc., CIBC World Markets Inc. and RBC Dominion Securities Inc., such consent not to be unreasonably withheld. The Trust has agreed with the Underwriters that it will not, during the period ending 60 days following July 21, 2004, sell any Units without the prior written consent of Scotia Capital Inc., CIBC World Markets Inc. and RBC Dominion Securities Inc., such consent not to be unreasonably withheld, other than any issue of options pursuant to the Trust's Trust Unit Option Plan, and any issue of Units pursuant to options under such Plan, upon the exchange of Exchangeable Securities, pursuant to the Trust's DRIP Plans or in connection with the PremStar acquisition described under "Recent Developments."

Pursuant to applicable securities laws, the Underwriters may not, throughout the period of distribution under this short form prospectus, bid for or purchase Units. The foregoing restriction is subject to certain exceptions including: (i) a bid or purchase permitted under the by-laws and rules of the TSX relating to market stabilization and passive market making activities; and (ii) a bid or purchase made for or on behalf of a customer where the order was not solicited during the period of the distribution, provided that the bid or purchase was not engaged in for the purpose of creating actual or apparent active trading in, or raising the price of the Units. In connection with the offering, the Underwriters may over-allot or effect transactions that stabilize or maintain the market price of the Units at a level other than that which might otherwise prevail in the open market. Such transactions, if commenced, may be discontinued at any time.

The Units offered hereby have not been and will not be registered under the 1933 Act or any state securities laws, and accordingly may not be offered or sold within the United States of America or to U.S. Persons (as such term is defined in Regulation S under the 1933 Act) except in transactions exempt from the registration requirements of the 1933 Act and applicable state securities laws. However, the Underwriting Agreement permits the Underwriters to offer and resell the Units acquired pursuant to the Underwriting Agreement to qualified institutional buyers (as defined in Rule 144A under the 1933 Act) in the United States, provided such offers and sales are made in accordance with Rule 144A under the 1933 Act. In addition, the Underwriting Agreement provides that the Underwriters will offer and sell Units outside the United States only in accordance with Regulation S under the 1933 Act. In addition, until 40 days after the commencement of this offering, any offer or sale of Units offered hereby within the United States by any dealer (whether or not participating in the offering) may violate the registration requirements of the 1933 Act if such offer or sale is made otherwise than in accordance with Rule 144A under the 1933 Act.

USE OF PROCEEDS

The Trust will not receive any of the proceeds from the sale of Units. The net proceeds of the offering to the Selling Unitholder, after payment of the Underwriters' fee of $11,504,375 and expenses of the offering estimated to be $350,000, will be approximately $218,233,125. If the Over-Allotment Option is exercised in full, the net proceeds of the offering to the Selling Unitholder, after payment of the Underwriters' fee of $13,230,031 and expenses of the offering estimated to be $350,000, will be approximately $251,020,594. The Underwriters' fee and the expenses of the offering will be paid by the Selling Shareholder. See "Plan of Distribution."

SELLING UNITHOLDER

The following table sets out information concerning the Selling Unitholder's ownership of Units and Exchangeable Securities as at July 20, 2004, and as adjusted as of that date to give effect to the offering. The Selling Unitholder owns its Units and Exchangeable Securities beneficially and of record and acquired such securities in exchange for securities of AltaGas Services in connection with the conversion of AltaGas Services into an income trust on May 1, 2004. The securities of AltaGas Services exchanged by the Selling Unitholder were purchased by the Selling Unitholder more than one year prior to the date hereof. The Selling Unitholder has covenanted in the Underwriting Agreement to exchange, prior to closing of the offering, that number of Exchangeable Securities held beneficially and of record by the Selling Unitholder that, taken together with the Units it presently holds beneficially and of record, will comprise the Units to be sold in the offering.

	Securities Owned Before Offering	Percentage	Securities to be Sold in Offering	Securities Owned After Offering[1]	Percentage[1]
Trust Units	9,331,491	23.9%	9,331,491	Nil	Nil
Exchangeable Securities[2]	8,866,009	72.4%	2,318,509	6,547,500	66.0%
Total[3]	18,197,500	35.5%	11,650,000	6,547,500	12.8%

(1) If the Over-Allotment Option is exercised in full, the Selling Unitholder will, after giving effect to the offering, own nil Units and 4,800,000 Exchangeable Securities (58.7% of the outstanding Exchangeable Securities or 9.4% of the Units after giving effect to the exchange of the Exchangeable Securities for Units in accordance with the terms of the Exchangeable Securities).

(2) The Selling Unitholder's Exchangeable Securities are all Class B limited partnership units of AltaGas LP #2. Percentage calculations are based upon all of the Exchangeable Securities outstanding.

(3) Giving effect to the exchange of Exchangeable Securities for Units in accordance with the terms of the Exchangeable Securities.

CERTAIN CANADIAN FEDERAL INCOME TAX CONSIDERATIONS

In the opinion of Stikeman Elliott LLP and Blake, Cassels & Graydon LLP (collectively, "Counsel"), the following summary fairly describes the principal Canadian federal income tax considerations generally applicable under the Tax Act to a subscriber who acquires Units pursuant to the offering and who, for purposes of the Tax Act and at all relevant times, holds the Units as capital property and deals at arm's length with, and is not affiliated with, the Trust, the Selling Unitholder and the Underwriters. Generally, Units will be considered to be capital property to a holder provided the holder does not hold the Units in the course of carrying on a business of buying or selling securities and does not acquire them in one or more transactions considered to be an adventure in the nature of trade. Certain holders who are Residents and who might not otherwise be considered to hold their Units as capital property may, in certain circumstances, be entitled to make an irrevocable election in accordance with subsection 39(4) of the Tax Act to have them, and any other "Canadian securities" (as defined in the Tax Act), deemed to be capital property. Holders contemplating making such an election should first consult their own tax advisors.

This summary is not applicable to a Unitholder that is a "specified financial institution" as defined in the Tax Act or a "financial institution" as defined in the Tax Act for purposes of the mark-to-market rules, nor is it applicable to a Unitholder an interest in which would be a "tax shelter investment" under the Tax Act.

This summary is based upon the provisions of the Tax Act in force as of the date hereof, all specific proposals to amend the Tax Act publicly announced by the Minister of Finance (Canada) prior to the date hereof (the "Proposed Amendments"), and Counsel's understanding of the current published administrative practices of the Canada Revenue Agency ("CRA"). This summary is not exhaustive of all possible Canadian federal income tax considerations, and except for the Proposed Amendments, does not take into account or anticipate any changes in law or administrative practice, whether by legislative, governmental or judicial action, nor does it take into account provincial, territorial or foreign income tax legislation or considerations which may differ significantly from the Canadian federal income tax considerations discussed herein. No assurance can be given that the Proposed Amendments will be enacted as currently proposed or at all.

A Budget proposal to impose a tax on a registered pension plan's investment in trust units above certain limits unless 90% or more of the fair market value of the particular trust's property is attributable to, inter alia, real property was suspended by the Minister of Finance (Canada) on May 18, 2004 pending further consultation and review. Further, the Budget proposes to introduce changes to the Tax Act that will subject persons who are not Residents to tax in respect of certain distributions made by mutual fund trusts that currently are not subject to taxation in Canada. It is not clear whether these proposals, if enacted, will result in tax consequences to Unitholders that are materially different from those disclosed herein. Prospective Unitholders that are registered pension plans or who are not Residents should consult their own tax advisors regarding the income tax considerations applicable to them in their particular circumstances.

Based in part upon representations made by AltaGas as to certain factual matters, in the opinion of Counsel, the Trust presently qualifies as a "mutual fund trust" as defined in the Tax Act, and this summary assumes that the Trust will continue to so qualify at all times. In the event the Trust were not to so qualify, the income tax considerations would in some respects be materially different from those described below.

Taxation of the Trust

The Trust is subject to tax in each taxation year on its taxable income for the year, including net realized taxable capital gains, less the portion thereof that is paid or payable in the year to Unitholders and that is deducted by the Trust in computing its income for purposes of the Tax Act. An amount will be considered to be payable in a taxation year to a Unitholder if the Unitholder is entitled in the year to enforce payment of the amount. The taxation year of the Trust is the calendar year.

All or substantially all of the income of the Trust will consist of the income of Holding Trust (including net realized taxable capital gains) that is paid or becomes payable in the year by Holding Trust to the Trust and that is deducted by Holding Trust in computing its income for purposes of the Tax Act.

In computing its income, the Trust may deduct reasonable administrative, interest and other expenses incurred to earn income (provided such amounts are not reimbursed to it).

Under the Declaration of Trust, an amount equal to all of the income of the Trust for each year, including net realized capital gains, but excluding income which is designated by the Trust to a redeeming Unitholder and capital gains the tax on which may be offset by capital losses carried forward from prior years or is recoverable by the Trust, generally will be payable in the year to Unitholders by way of cash distributions, subject to the following exceptions. Income of the Trust which is applied to finance cash redemptions of Units or is otherwise unavailable for cash distributions will be distributed to Unitholders in the form of additional Units.

Capital gains of the Trust realized in connection with an in specie redemption of Units and certain income of the Trust may be designated to the redeeming Unitholder, with the result that the taxable portion of such gains and such income generally should be taxable to the redeeming Unitholder and not to the Trust.

Counsel has been advised that the Trust intends to make sufficient distributions in each year (in cash or by way of additional Units) of its income for tax purposes and any net realized taxable capital gains so that the Trust generally will not be liable for income tax under the Tax Act. The Trust generally is expected to designate to the Unitholders any taxable dividends or net taxable capital gains received or realized by it or designated to it by Holding Trust so that such amounts retain their character when received by Unitholders.

Taxation of Holding Trust

Holding Trust is subject to tax in each taxation year on its taxable income for the year, including net realized taxable capital gains, less the portion thereof that is paid or payable in the year to the Trust and that is deducted by Holding Trust in computing its income for purposes of the Tax Act. The taxation year of Holding Trust is the calendar year.

All or substantially all of the income of Holding Trust will consist of the portion of the income of AltaGas LP #1 that is allocated to Holding Trust. Amounts received or realized by AltaGas LP #1 as taxable dividends or net taxable capital gains will retain their character and be treated as such in the hands of Holding Trust to the extent allocated to Holding Trust. The amount of income allocated to Holding Trust from AltaGas LP #1 may exceed or be less than the amount of cash distributed by AltaGas LP #1 to Holding Trust.

In computing its income for tax purposes, Holding Trust may deduct reasonable administrative, interest and other expenses incurred to earn income (provided such amounts are not reimbursed to it).

Under the Holding Trust declaration of trust, an amount equal to all of the income of Holding Trust, including net realized capital gains, generally will be payable to the Trust and, therefore, deductible in computing Holding Trust's income for tax purposes. Accordingly, Holding Trust generally will not be liable for income tax. Holding Trust generally is expected to designate to the Trust any taxable dividends and net taxable capital gains received under the Tax Act so that such amounts retain their character as such when received by the Trust.

Taxation of AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2

Neither AltaGas LP #1 nor AltaGas LP #2 is subject to tax under the Tax Act. AltaGas LP #1, as a partner of AltaGas LP #2, is required to include in computing its income for a particular fiscal year its share of the income or loss of AltaGas LP #2 for the fiscal year of AltaGas LP #2 ending in that fiscal year of AltaGas LP #1, whether or not any such income is distributed to AltaGas LP #1 in the year. Similarly, Holding Trust, as a partner of AltaGas LP #1, is required to include in computing its income for a particular taxation year its share of the income or loss of AltaGas LP #1 for the fiscal year of AltaGas LP #1 ending in that taxation year of Holding Trust, whether or not any such income is distributed to Holding Trust in the year.

For these purposes, the income or loss of AltaGas LP #2 and AltaGas LP #1 will be computed for each of their respective fiscal years as if each of them was a separate person resident in Canada, and in making those computations, each of AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 will be entitled to deduct reasonable administrative, interest and other expenses incurred to earn income (provided such amounts are not reimbursed to it). All or substantially all of the income of AltaGas LP #2 for a fiscal year will consist of interest on the indebtedness of AltaGas that accrues to AltaGas LP #2 to the end of the year, or is received or becomes receivable by it before the end of the year, to the extent that such interest was not included in computing its income for a preceding year. Also, AltaGas LP #2 will include in its income for a fiscal year any dividends received by it on shares of AltaGas in that year. Such amounts will then be included in the income of AltaGas LP #1 to the extent they are allocated to AltaGas LP #1.

Residents

The following portion of this summary is applicable to a Unitholder who at all relevant times is, or is deemed to be, a Resident. The taxation of Unitholders who are not Residents is described below under "Persons other than Residents".

This summary does not address the tax considerations of participating in the DRIP Plans.

Trust Distributions

A Unitholder generally will be required to include in computing income for a particular taxation year of the Unitholder such portion of the net income of the Trust for a taxation year, including net realized taxable capital gains, as is paid or becomes payable to the Unitholder in that particular taxation year, whether received in cash, additional Units or otherwise. Provided that appropriate designations are made by the Trust and Holding Trust, such portion of any taxable dividends received from taxable Canadian corporations and net taxable capital gains as is paid or payable to a Unitholder will effectively retain its character and be treated as such in the hands of the Unitholder for purposes of the Tax Act. All other income of the Trust that is paid or becomes payable to a Unitholder generally will be considered income from property, irrespective of its source. Any loss of the Trust or Holding Trust for the purposes of the Tax Act cannot be allocated to, and cannot be treated as a loss of, a Unitholder.

The non-taxable portion of any net realized capital gains of the Trust that is paid or payable to a Unitholder in a taxation year will not be included in computing the Unitholder's income for the year and will not reduce the adjusted cost base ("ACB") of the Units held by the Unitholder. Any other amount in excess of the income of the Trust that is paid or payable to a Unitholder in a taxation year (otherwise than as proceeds of disposition on a redemption of Units) generally will not be included in the Unitholder's income for the year but will reduce the ACB of the Units held by the Unitholder. To the extent that the ACB of a Unit to a Unitholder would otherwise be a negative amount, that negative amount will be deemed to be a capital gain of the Unitholder from the disposition of the Unit in the year in which the negative amount arises, and the ACB of the Unit to the Unitholder will be reset to nil.

The cost to a Unitholder of a Unit will include all amounts paid or payable by the Unitholder for the Unit with certain adjustments. The cost to a Unitholder of additional Units received in lieu of a cash distribution of income (including net capital gains) will be the amount of such income paid in additional Units. The cost to a Unitholder of all Units held as capital property will be averaged to determine the ACB of each such Unit.

Acquisition of Units

Since the income of the Trust will be distributed on a monthly basis, a purchaser of a Unit may become taxable on a portion of the income of the Trust accrued or realized by the Trust in a month before the time the Unit was purchased but which was not paid or made payable to Unitholders until the end of the month and after the time the Unit was purchased. A similar result may apply on an annual basis in respect of a portion of net taxable capital gains accrued or realized by the Trust in a year before the time the Unit was purchased but which is paid or made payable to Unitholders at year end and after the time the Unit was purchased.

Disposition of Units

The disposition or deemed disposition by a Unitholder of a Unit, whether on redemption or otherwise, generally will result in the Unitholder realizing a capital gain (or a capital loss) equal to the amount by which the proceeds of disposition exceed (or are less than) the aggregate of the Unitholder's ACB of the Unit and any reasonable costs of disposition. Proceeds of disposition will not include an amount payable by the Trust that is otherwise required to be included in the Unitholder's income. The treatment of capital gains and losses is described below under "Residents – Taxation of Capital Gains and Capital Losses".

Where a Unitholder receives Holding Trust Notes on a redemption of Units, the proceeds of disposition to the Unitholder of the Units will be equal to the fair market value ("FMV") of the Holding Trust Notes so distributed less any amount designated by the Trust to be an income distribution from the Trust. The Declaration of Trust provides that the Trustee has the discretion to designate certain income and any capital gain realized by the Trust as a result of the redemption of Units to the Unitholder redeeming Units, as is reasonable in the circumstances. The Unitholder will be required to include in income any such income so designated.

The cost of any Holding Trust Notes distributed by the Trust to a Unitholder upon a redemption of Units will be equal to the FMV of the Holding Trust Notes at the time of the distribution. For this purpose, the Unitholder will be required to determine the FMV of the Holding Trust Notes on a reasonable basis. A Unitholder who is a Resident will thereafter be required to include in income, in accordance with the provisions of the Tax Act, interest received, receivable or accruing on such Holding Trust Notes.

Taxation of Capital Gains and Capital Losses

Under the Tax Act, one-half of any capital gain realized by a Unitholder, and the amount of any net taxable capital gains designated by the Trust in respect of a Unitholder, will be included in such holder's income as a taxable capital gain. Subject to certain specific rules in the Tax Act, one-half of any capital loss (an "allowable capital loss") realized by a Unitholder must be deducted from taxable capital gains realized by, or designated to, the Unitholder in the year of disposition, and allowable capital losses in excess of taxable capital gains in the year of disposition may be deducted against taxable capital gains realized in any of the three preceding taxation years or any subsequent taxation year.

A Unitholder that throughout the relevant taxation year is a "Canadian-controlled private corporation", as defined in the Tax Act, may be liable to pay an additional refundable tax of $6^2/_3\%$ on certain investment income, including taxable capital gains.

A capital loss realized on the disposition of a Unit by a Unitholder that is a corporation or trust (other than a mutual fund trust), whether directly or as a member of a partnership, may be reduced in respect of certain distributions to the Unitholder out of dividends received by the Trust directly or through Holding Trust, AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2 and designated by the Trust in respect of the Unitholder, to the extent and under the circumstances described in the Tax Act.

Minimum Tax

Net income of the Trust that is paid or payable to a Unitholder that is designated as taxable dividends or as net taxable capital gains, and capital gains realized on the disposition of Units may increase the Unitholder's liability for minimum tax if the Unitholder is an individual.

Qualified Investment Status

Units will be qualified investments for Exempt Plans (subject to the specific provisions of any particular Exempt Plan) provided that the Trust qualifies as a mutual fund trust or a registered investment for purposes of the Tax Act. Counsel has been advised that the Trust intends to apply to be a registered investment under the Tax Act effective from the date of its formation. If the Trust does not become a registered investment, the Units would immediately cease to be qualified investments for Exempt Plans if the Trust ceased to be a mutual fund trust. If the Trust becomes a registered investment and subsequently ceases to qualify as a mutual fund trust, and consequently (or for any other reason) loses its status as a registered investment, the Units would cease to be qualified investments for Exempt Plans effective January 1st of the second calendar year following the year in which the Trust ceases to be a registered investment.

Holding Trust Notes received as a result of an in specie redemption of Units by the Trust will not be qualified investments for Exempt Plans, which could give rise to adverse consequences to the Exempt Plan or the annuitant thereunder. Accordingly, Exempt Plans that own Units should consult their own tax advisors before deciding to exercise the redemption right attached to the Units.

Registered Pension Plans

It is not certain whether the Trust would be a "business income trust" or whether the Units would constitute "restricted investment property" as described in certain Proposed Amendments announced by the Minister of Finance (Canada) in the Budget. Under those Proposed Amendments, certain investors, including registered pension funds or plans and pension corporations, but not Exempt Plans, were to be liable to a penalty tax commencing in 2005 in respect of their holdings of restricted investment property and units of business income trusts in excess of the limits described in those Proposed Amendments. On May 18, 2004, the Minister of Finance (Canada) announced that those Proposed Amendments will be suspended pending further consultation and review.

Foreign Property

Based in part on representations of the Trust, Holding Trust, AltaGas and the General Partner as to certain factual matters, the Units will not constitute foreign property for purposes of the Tax Act.

The Units may become foreign property at any time (unless the Trust is a registered investment) if the Trust either (i) ceases to qualify as a mutual fund trust, or (ii) does not restrict its holdings of foreign property within the limits provided under the Tax Act.

Persons other than Residents

The following portion of this summary generally is applicable to a Unitholder who at all relevant times is not, and is not deemed to be, a Resident ("Non-Resident") and who does not use or hold, and is not deemed to use or hold Units in connection with carrying on a business in Canada. Special rules, which are not discussed herein, may apply to a Unitholder that is a Non-Resident and that is an insurer carrying on business in Canada and elsewhere.

Trust Distributions

Generally, amounts in respect of income of the Trust that are paid or credited or deemed to be paid or credited, to a Non-Resident Unitholder, other than amounts designated by the Trust to be net taxable capital gains, will be subject to Canadian withholding tax at a rate of 25%, unless such rate is reduced under an applicable income tax convention. The rate of withholding tax is reduced to 15% where such distributions are paid or credited, or deemed to be paid or credited, to Unitholders who are Non-Residents and who are residents of the United States for purposes of the Canada-United States Tax Convention.

Pursuant to certain Proposed Amendments included in the Budget, the Trust will be required to maintain a separate account (the "TCP Gains Distribution Account") to which it will add its net capital gains from dispositions after March 22, 2004 of "taxable Canadian property" and from which it will deduct losses from dispositions of such property and distributions designated by the Trust to be capital gains. Amounts paid by the Trust to a Non-Resident Unitholder, which the Trust designates as capital gains, will be subject to Canadian withholding tax at the same rate as distributions in respect of Trust income to the extent the Trust has a positive balance in its TCP Gains Distribution Account.

Also under the Proposed Amendments, effective for distributions after 2004, if the value of the Units is considered to be primarily attributable to real property in Canada, all distributions by the Trust that would otherwise not be subject to withholding tax as described above may be subject to a special Canadian withholding tax of 15% of the amount of the distribution. This withholding tax, if applicable, may be refunded in certain circumstances where the holder disposes of Units at a loss, subject to detailed provisions contained in the Proposed Amendments. It is not certain whether this special withholding tax will apply to distributions by the Trust.

Disposition of Units

A Non-Resident Unitholder generally will not be subject to tax under the Tax Act in respect of any capital gain realized on a disposition or deemed disposition of a Unit (whether the disposition of such Unit is on sale, redemption, by virtue of capital distributions in excess of the Unitholder's ACB or otherwise) unless the Unit constitutes "taxable Canadian property" for purposes of the Tax Act of the Non-Resident Unitholder and no relief is available to the Non-Resident Unitholder under an applicable income tax convention.

A Unit generally will not be considered to be taxable Canadian property of a Unitholder unless either: (i) at any time during the 60 month period that ends at the time of the disposition of the Unit, 25% or more of the issued Units were owned by the Unitholder, by persons with whom the Unitholder did not deal at arm's length or by any combination thereof; or (ii) at the time of disposition, the Trust is not a "mutual fund trust" as defined in the Tax Act.

If a Non-Resident's Units are considered to be taxable Canadian property, on the disposition or deemed disposition thereof, the capital gain (or capital loss) generally will be treated in the manner described above under "Certain Canadian Federal Income Tax Considerations – Residents – Taxation of Capital Gains and Capital Losses". However, an applicable income tax convention may provide relief from Canadian tax on any such capital gain realized by the Unitholder.

Interest paid or credited on any Holding Trust Notes received by a Non-Resident Unitholder on an in specie redemption of Units will be subject to Canadian withholding tax at a rate of 25%, subject to a reduction in such rate under the terms of an applicable income tax treaty. Such rate of withholding tax generally will be reduced to 10% in the case of a non-resident who is a resident of the United States for purposes of the Canada-United States Tax Convention.

CAPITALIZATION OF THE TRUST

The following table sets forth the consolidated capitalization of the Trust as at July 1, 2004, both before and after giving effect to the offering.

Designation	As at July 1, 2004 before giving effect to the offering	As at July 1, 2004 after giving effect to the offering
	(unaudited)	(unaudited)
Debt:
Operating loans[1]	$200,745,230	$200,745,230
Medium Term Notes[2]	$100,000,000	$100,000,000
Unit Capital:
Units[3][4]	$280,853,020 (38,937,619 Units)	$294,305,979 (41,256,128 Units)
Exchangeable Securities[4][5][6]	$71,054,936 (12,245,745 units)	$57,601,977 (9,927,236 units)

(1) At July 1, 2004, AltaGas had: i) a $50.0 million demand operating credit facility with a Canadian chartered bank (the "Operating Facility"); ii) a $300.0 million extendible revolving term credit facility with a syndicate of Canadian chartered banks (the "Extendible Facility"); and iii) a $75.0 million 364 day extendible revolving letter of credit facility with a Canadian chartered bank (the "LC Facility") (collectively, the "Operating Loans"). The Operating Facility bears interest at the lender's prime rate or at the bankers' acceptance rate plus a stamping fee. The Extendible Facility bears interest at the lenders' prime rate or at the bankers' acceptance rate plus a stamping fee. The Extendible Facility matures on October 10, 2004 and may be extended for an additional 364 days or can be converted by AltaGas on that date to a two year term loan. The term loan is repayable over the two year period or at the end of the two year period, depending on the bond rating category of the long term senior unsecured indebtedness of AltaGas. The LC Facility bears fees and interest at market rates. It matures on July 31, 2004 but can be extended at AltaGas' request and acceptance by the bank. At July 1, 2004 AltaGas has issued letters of credit under the Operating Loans in the aggregate amount of $29,701,304. See "Risk Factors – Debt Service".

(2) On October 4, 2000, AltaGas Services issued $100 million of 7.28% medium term notes (the "Medium Term Notes"). Interest is payable semi-annually and the principal is due on October 4, 2005. Following the Arrangement, AltaGas Operating Partnership became the obligor for the

Medium Term Notes and is in compliance with all covenants and requirements contained in the indenture pursuant to which such notes were issued. See "Risk Factors."

(3) As at July 1, 2004, the Trust had outstanding, to officers, directors and employees, options to purchase an aggregate of 866,811 Units at prices ranging from $5.20 to $15.87 per Unit.

(4) If the Over-Allotment Option is exercised in full, as at July 1, 2004, after giving effect to the offering, the number of outstanding Units will be 43,003,628 ($304,445,706) and the number of outstanding Exchangeable Securities will be 8,179,736 ($47,462,251).

(5) There is one Special Voting Unit outstanding, representing as of July 1, 2004, in aggregate, a maximum of 12,245,745 votes at meetings of Unitholders, subject to proportionate reduction upon exchange of Exchangeable Securities. See "Description of Units – Special Voting Units".

(6) Class B limited partnership units of AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 are exchangeable for Units at the option of the holder on a one-for-one basis, are entitled to vote with Unitholders pursuant to the Special Voting Unit and are entitled to the same cash payments per unit as the cash distributions made on a Unit. The Selling Unitholder will exchange 2,318,509 (4,066,009 if the Over-Allotment Option is exercised in full) Exchangeable Securities into Units to be sold in the offering.

(7) As at March 31, 2004, AltaGas Services' retained earnings were $100,943,000.

DESCRIPTION OF UNITS

Units

An unlimited number of Units may be created and issued pursuant to the Declaration of Trust. Each Unit entitles the holder thereof to one vote at any meeting of the Unitholders or in respect of any written resolution of Unitholders and represents an equal undivided beneficial interest in any distribution from the Trust (whether of income, net realized capital gains or other amounts) and in any net assets of the Trust in the event of termination or winding-up of the Trust. All Units shall rank among themselves equally and rateably without discrimination, preference or priority, whatever may be the actual date or terms of issue thereof. Each Unit is transferable, is not subject to any conversion or pre-emptive rights and entitles the holder thereof to require the Trust to redeem any or all of the Units held by such holder for cash or, in certain circumstances, Holding Trust Notes.

Issuance of Units

The Declaration of Trust provides that Units, including exchangeable securities, rights, warrants, options or other securities convertible into or exchangeable for Units, may be created, issued, sold and delivered on such terms and conditions and at such times as the Trustee may determine. The Declaration of Trust also provides that the Trustee may authorize the creation and issuance of any type of debt securities or convertible debt securities of the Trust from time to time on such terms and conditions to such persons and for such consideration as the Trustee may determine.

Special Voting Units

The Declaration of Trust allows for the creation of special voting units that will enable the Trust to provide voting rights to holders of Exchangeable Securities. A Special Voting Unit was issued pursuant to the Arrangement to enable the holders of Exchangeable Securities issued by AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 to vote at meetings of Unitholders.

The holder of a special voting unit, including the Voting and Exchange Trustee in respect of the Special Voting Unit, is not entitled to any interest or share in the distributions or net assets of the Trust and is only entitled to such number of votes at meetings of Unitholders as is equal to the number of Units into which the exchangeable securities to which such special voting unit relates are exchangeable or convertible.

Under the terms of the Voting and Exchange Trust Agreement, the Trust issued the Special Voting Unit to the Voting and Exchange Trustee for the benefit of every person who received Exchangeable Securities pursuant to the Arrangement. The Voting and Exchange Trustee is obligated to vote the Special Voting Unit at meetings of Unitholders pursuant to the instructions of the holders of Exchangeable Securities. However, if no instructions are provided by the holders of Exchangeable Securities, the votes associated therewith in the Special Voting Unit will be withheld from voting.

The special voting units will be subject to such other rights and limitations as may be determined by the Trustee at the time of issuance of the special voting unit. The Declaration of Trust provides that, upon the exchange of Exchangeable Securities for Units, the entitlement to vote pursuant to the special voting unit will be eliminated in respect of those Exchangeable Securities.

Cash Distributions

Pursuant to the Declaration of Trust, the Trust is required to make cash distributions to Unitholders each calendar month (or such other periods as may be determined by the Trustee) of all or any part of the Cash Flow of the Trust. Cash received by the Trust from its subsidiaries will be managed by the General Partner, giving consideration to the consolidated net income of the Trust, the consolidated growth and maintenance capital requirements of the Trust, the consolidated debt repayment requirements of the Trust and other factors. The intent of the General Partner is to maximize the cash received by the Trust from its subsidiaries giving consideration to these various factors.

Distributions in respect of a month will be paid to Unitholders of record as at the close of business on each determined distribution record date. The distribution for any month will be paid on the determined distribution payment date. In addition, the Declaration of Trust provides that, if necessary, on December 31st of each year, the Trust will distribute an additional amount such that the Trust will not be liable for ordinary income taxes for such year.

Subscribers who purchase Units pursuant to the offering and who hold such Units on the relevant record date will be eligible to receive distributions commencing with the distribution anticipated to be payable on or about September 15, 2004, provided closing of the offering occurs by August 25, 2004, the anticipated record date for such distribution. Subscribers will not be eligible to receive the distribution to be paid on August 15, 2004, the record date for which will be July 26, 2004. The General Partner expects that substantially all of the cash distributions to Unitholders will be taxed as ordinary income or as dividends.

For additional information in respect of the Units, including information respecting Unitholders' limited liability, restrictions on non-resident Unitholders, the redemption right attached to the Units, meetings of Unitholders, and amendments to the Declaration of Trust, see "Declaration of Trust and Description of Units" on pages 79 through 85, inclusive, of the Information Circular.

LEGAL MATTERS

Certain legal matters in connection with the issuance of the Units offered hereby will be passed upon on behalf of the Trust by Stikeman Elliott LLP, Calgary, Alberta, on behalf of the Selling Unitholder by McCarthy Tétrault LLP, Calgary, Alberta, and on behalf of the Underwriters by Blake, Cassels & Graydon LLP, Calgary, Alberta.

INTERESTS OF EXPERTS

The partners and associates of Stikeman Elliott LLP, as a group, the partners and associates of McCarthy Tétrault LLP, as a group, and the partners and associates of Blake, Cassels & Graydon LLP, as a group, each own, directly or indirectly, less than 1% of the outstanding Units and Exchangeable Securities. As of the date hereof, the partners and professional staff of Ernst & Young LLP, as a group, do not beneficially own, directly or indirectly, any of the Units or Exchangeable Securities. In addition, none of the aforementioned persons or companies, nor any director, officer or employee of any of the aforementioned persons or companies, is or is expected to be elected, appointed or employed as a director, officer or employee of the Trust or of any associate or affiliate of the Trust.

RISK FACTORS

A prospective investor should consider carefully the risk factors set out below and in the AIF incorporated by reference herein. In addition, prospective investors should carefully review and consider all other information contained in this short form prospectus before making an investment decision and consult their own experts where necessary.

Risks Inherent in an Investment in Units

Nature of Units

The Units do not represent a traditional investment in the diversified energy services business and should not be viewed by Unitholders as shares in AltaGas. The Units represent a fractional interest in the Trust. As holders of Units, Unitholders will not have the statutory rights normally associated with ownership of shares of a corporation including, for example, the right to bring "oppression" or "derivative" actions. The Trust's sole assets are the shares of the General Partner, the units of the Holding Trust, Holding Trust Notes and may include other investments in securities.

Cash distributions of the Trust are not guaranteed and the price per Unit is a function of anticipated distributions, the underlying assets of the Trust and management's ability to effect long-term growth in the value of AltaGas and other entities now or hereafter owned directly or indirectly by the Trust. The market price of the Units will be sensitive to a variety of market conditions including, but not limited to, interest rates, electricity prices and natural gas and natural gas liquids prices. Changes in market conditions may adversely affect the trading price of the Units.

The Units are not "deposits" within the meaning of the Canada Deposit Insurance Corporation Act (Canada) and are not insured under the provisions of that Act or any other legislation. Furthermore, the Trust is not a trust company and, accordingly, is not registered under any trust and loan company legislation as it does not carry on or intend to carry on the business of a trust company.

Potential Sales of Additional Units

The Trust may issue additional Units or securities convertible into or exchangeable for Units in the future to directly or indirectly fund capital expenditure requirements of AltaGas and other entities now or hereafter owned directly or indirectly by the Trust, including to finance acquisitions by those entities. Such additional Units may be issued without the approval of Unitholders. Unitholders will have no pre-emptive rights in connection with such additional issues. The Board of Directors of the General Partner has discretion in connection with the price and the other terms of the issue of such additional Units.

Nature of Distributions

Unlike interest payments on an interest-bearing security, cash distributions by income trusts on trust units (including those of the Trust) are, for Canadian tax purposes, composed of different types of payments (portions of which may be fully or partially taxable or may constitute non-taxable "returns of capital"). The composition for tax purposes of those cash distributions may change over time, thus affecting the after-tax return to Unitholders. Therefore, a Unitholder's rate of return over a defined period may not be comparable to the rate of return on a fixed-income security that provides a return on capital over the same period. This is because a Unitholder may receive cash distributions that constitute a return of capital (rather than a return on capital) to some extent during the relevant period. Returns on capital are generally taxed as ordinary income or as dividends in the hands of a Unitholder while returns of capital are generally non-taxable to a Unitholder (but reduce a Unitholder's cost base in the Unit for tax purposes). The General Partner expects that substantially all of the cash distributions to Unitholders will be taxed as ordinary income or as dividends. See "Description of Units – Cash Distributions". Unitholders are advised to consult their own tax advisors with respect to the implications of the distinction discussed above in their own circumstances.

Variability of Distributions

As the Cash Flow of the Trust available for distribution to Unitholders is a function of numerous factors, including AltaGas' financial performance, the impact of interest rates, electricity prices, natural gas and natural gas liquids prices, weather, debt covenants and obligations, working capital requirements, future capital requirements and the number of Units and Exchangeable Securities outstanding, depending on the operations of AltaGas and the performance of its assets, distributions may be reduced or suspended entirely.

The market value of the Units may deteriorate if the Trust is unable to meet its distribution targets in the future, and that deterioration may be material.

Changes in Legislation

Income tax laws relating to the Trust, such as the status of mutual fund trusts, may be changed in a manner which adversely affects Unitholders. If the Trust ceases to qualify as a mutual fund trust, and is not a registered investment, the Units will cease to be qualified investments for Exempt Plans. If the Trust ceases to qualify as a mutual fund trust, the income tax considerations described under the heading "Certain Canadian Federal Income Tax Considerations" would be materially and adversely different in certain respects.

The Budget contained a proposal to subject distributions of capital after 2004 to non-residents by certain income trusts (which distributions currently are not subject to Canadian income tax) to a new 15% withholding tax. This tax will apply to Unitholders only if the value of the Units is "primarily attributable to real property in Canada or a Canadian resource property". It is not clear whether the Trust would meet this test and thereby be subject to the application of this proposal. If this proposal applies with respect to the Trust, it may adversely affect non-resident Unitholders who are not entitled to a deduction or credit for such withholding tax against income taxes otherwise payable by them in another jurisdiction.

The Budget also contained several proposals relating specifically to the tax treatment of certain tax exempt holders of units of certain income trusts. After 2004, a penalty tax is proposed for certain Canadian tax exempt entities, such as registered pension funds, which hold excess amounts of units or debt of "business income trusts". Generally, the restrictions limit the aggregate amount of such holdings to 1% of the cost of all of the entity's property and limit the holdings of such entities (together with entities with which they do not deal at arm's length) to 5% of the total fair market value of any class of units of a particular trust. These proposals do not apply to Exempt Plans. Due to the nature of the assets held indirectly by the Trust, it is not clear for the purposes of these rules whether the Trust will be considered to be a "business income trust" to which these restrictions will apply. The Minister of Finance (Canada) announced on May 18, 2004 that this proposal would be suspended pending further consultation and review. There can be no assurance as to whether such suspension will be permanent or, alternatively, such restrictions on "business income trusts" will be applied as previously announced or in some modified form.

Environmental and applicable operating legislation may be changed in a manner which adversely affects AltaGas through the imposition of restrictions on its business activities or by the introduction of regulations that increase AltaGas' operating costs thereby indirectly affecting the Trust and potentially reducing distributions to Unitholders.

Loss of Mutual Fund Trust Status

The General Partner intends that the Trust will continue to qualify as a mutual fund trust for purposes of the Tax Act. The Trust may not, however, always be able to satisfy any future requirements for the maintenance of mutual fund trust status. See "– Changes in Legislation" above. Should the status of the Trust as a mutual fund trust be lost or successfully challenged by a relevant tax authority, certain adverse consequences may arise for the Trust and Unitholders. Some of the significant consequences of losing mutual fund trust status are listed below.

(a) If at the time the Trust ceased to be a mutual fund trust it had not become a registered investment, the Units would immediately cease to be qualified investments for Exempt Plans. If the Trust were a registered investment, it may, as a consequence of ceasing to be a mutual fund trust, also cease to be a registered investment. In that event, Units would cease to be qualified investments for Exempt Plans effective January 1st of the second calendar year following the year in which the Trust ceases to be a registered investment. If, at the end of any month, an Exempt Plan holds Units that are not qualified investments, the plan must pay a tax equal to 1% of the fair market value of the Units at the time the Units were acquired by the Exempt Plan. A registered retirement savings plan or registered retirement income fund holding Units that are not qualified investments would be subject to taxation on income attributable to the Units, including the full amount of any capital gain from a disposition of such Units. If a registered education savings plan holds Units that are not qualified investments, it may have its registration revoked by the CRA.

(b) Units held by Non-Resident Unitholders would become taxable Canadian property. Non-Resident Unitholders would be subject to Canadian income tax and reporting requirements on any gains realized on a disposition of Units held by them.

(c) The Trust would be taxed on certain types of income distributed to Unitholders. Payment of this tax may have adverse consequences for some Unitholders, particularly Unitholders that are not residents of Canada and residents of Canada that are otherwise exempt from Canadian income tax.

(d) The Trust would cease to be eligible for the capital gains refund mechanism available under Canadian tax laws if it ceased to be a mutual fund trust.

(e) The Trust would no longer be exempt from the application of the alternative minimum tax provisions of the Tax Act.

(f) If the Trust either does not become a registered investment, or having become a registered investment also ceased to be a registered investment, the Units would constitute "foreign property" for the purposes of the Tax Act.

In addition, the Trust may take certain measures in the future to the extent it believes necessary to ensure that the Trust maintains its status as a mutual fund trust. These measures could be adverse to certain Unitholders, particularly Non-Residents. See "- Risks Associated With the Level of Foreign Ownership" below.

Risks Associated With the Level of Foreign Ownership

The Declaration of Trust contains a number of provisions designed to protect the status of the Trust as a "mutual fund trust" under the Tax Act which, inter alia, requires that a mutual fund trust cannot be established or maintained primarily for the benefit of Non-Residents. There is no indication that the mutual fund trust status of the Trust currently is in jeopardy. If, in the future, the General Partner determines that any such risk exists, it is entitled to take a number of actions under the Declaration of Trust, including to require Unitholders that it believes are Non-Residents to sell their Units, which action may have an adverse effect on the market price of the Units. In addition, there can be no assurances that the Tax Act will not be amended in the future in a manner that would have a material adverse impact on the mutual fund trust status of the Trust.

Distribution of Holding Trust Notes or Other Securities on Redemption or Termination of the Trust

It is anticipated that the redemption right will not be the primary mechanism for Unitholders to liquidate their investment. Holding Trust Notes which may be received as a result of a redemption of Units will not be listed on any stock exchange and no market for Holding Trust Notes is expected to develop. The Holding Trust Notes will not be qualified investments for Exempt Plans. On termination of the Trust, the Trustee may distribute securities directly to Unitholders, subject to obtaining all of the necessary regulatory approvals. In addition, there may be resale restrictions imposed by applicable law upon the recipients of Holding Trust Notes pursuant to the redemption right. The Holding Trust Notes will not be guaranteed by any other party, and the provisions of the Holding Trust Note Indenture governing events of default and the remedies available thereunder will not provide protection to the holders of Holding Trust Notes which would be comparable to the provisions generally found in debt securities issued to the public.

Debt Service

AltaGas may, from time to time, finance a significant portion of its operations through debt. Amounts paid in respect of interest and principal on debt incurred by AltaGas may impair AltaGas' ability to satisfy its obligations under indebtedness held indirectly by the Trust. Variations in interest rates and scheduled principal repayments could result in significant changes in the amount required to be applied to debt service before payment by AltaGas of its obligations under its indirect indebtedness to the Trust. Ultimately, this may result in lower levels of Cash Flow of the Trust and could reduce distributions to Unitholders.

The Operating Loans are unsecured and subject to customary covenants and financial tests which may in certain circumstances restrict AltaGas' ability to make distributions to AltaGas LP #2 and ultimately to Unitholders. The Medium Term Notes are subject to customary covenants and financial tests, including a restriction on total funded obligations as a ratio of total capitalization, and may in certain circumstances restrict AltaGas Operating Partnership's ability to make distributions to AltaGas and ultimately to Unitholders.

Structural and Contractual Subordination

In the event of a bankruptcy, liquidation or reorganization of AltaGas or AltaGas Operating Partnership, holders of their respective indebtedness and trade payables will generally be entitled to payment of their claims from the assets of AltaGas or AltaGas Operating Partnership, as applicable, before any assets are made available for distribution to the Trust. The Units are therefore effectively junior to indebtedness under the Operating Loans and the Medium Term Notes and most other liabilities (including trade payables) of AltaGas and AltaGas Operating Partnership. Neither AltaGas nor AltaGas Operating Partnership is limited in its ability (except pursuant to restrictive covenants under the Operating Loans and the Medium Term Notes) to incur secured or unsecured indebtedness.

AltaGas distributes a substantial portion of its cash flow to AltaGas LP #2 pursuant to an interest bearing loan agreement. Payments by AltaGas under this loan agreement are expressly subordinated to the prior payment in full of all indebtedness of AltaGas to third parties, including all indebtedness and obligations under the Operating Loans. Upon a default under the Operating Loans or the Medium Term Notes, AltaGas may be prevented from distributing cash to AltaGas LP #2 thereby ultimately reducing cash available for distribution to Unitholders.

Dependence on AltaGas

The Trust will be entirely dependent upon the success of the operations of AltaGas through its indirect ownership of AltaGas. Accordingly, the distributions to the Unitholders will be dependent on the ability of AltaGas to generate cash flow.

Taxation of AltaGas

Income fund structures often involve significant amounts of inter-entity debt, generating substantial interest expense, which serves to reduce earnings and therefore income tax payable. The Board of Directors of the General Partner expects this to be the case in respect of AltaGas and its interest expense on its indirect indebtedness to the Trust. There can be no assurance that taxation authorities will not seek to challenge the amount of interest expense deducted. If such a challenge were to succeed against AltaGas, it could have a materially adverse effect on the Cash Flow of the Trust available for distribution to Unitholders.

Unitholder Limited Liability

The Declaration of Trust provides that no Unitholder will be subject to any liability in connection with the Trust or its obligations and affairs and, in the event that a court determines Unitholders are subject to any such liabilities, the liabilities will be enforceable only against, and will be satisfied only out of the Trust's assets. Pursuant to the Declaration of Trust, the Trust will indemnify and hold harmless each Unitholder from any costs, damages, liabilities, expenses, charges and losses suffered by a Unitholder resulting from or arising out of such Unitholder not having such limited liability. There is no assurance that at the relevant time the Trust will have sufficient assets to be able to satisfy such indemnity.

The Declaration of Trust provides that all written instruments signed by or on behalf of the Trust must contain a provision to the effect that obligations under those instruments will not be binding upon Unitholders personally. Personal liability may however arise in respect of claims against the Trust that do not arise under contracts, including claims in tort, claims for taxes and possibly certain other statutory liabilities. The possibility of any personal liability of this nature arising is considered unlikely.

The operations of the Trust will be conducted, upon the advice of counsel to the Trust, in such a way and in such jurisdictions as to avoid as far as possible any material risk of liability to the Unitholders for claims against the Trust, including by obtaining appropriate insurance, where available and to the extent commercially feasible.

On July 1, 2004, the Income Trusts Liability Act (Alberta) came into force, which provides that a Unitholder will not be, as a beneficiary, liable for any act, default, obligation or liability of the Trustee that arises after the particular provision of such legislation comes into force.

Deductibility of Expenses

Although the General Partner is of the view that all expenses to be claimed by the Trust, Holding Trust, AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 will be reasonable and deductible, there can be no assurance that the CRA will agree. If the CRA successfully challenges the deductibility of any such expenses, the return to Unitholders may be adversely affected.

Potential Conflicts of Interest

Circumstances may arise where directors and officers of AltaGas and the General Partner are directors or officers of other entities which are in competition to the interests of AltaGas and the Trust. Pursuant to an agreement with the Trust dated May 1, 2004, the Selling Unitholder is presently entitled to and has appointed two directors to the board of the General Partner. These directors are not elected by Unitholders. There may be situations in which the interests of Enbridge Inc. will conflict with those of the Trust and its subsidiaries, including AltaGas.

The General Partner owes a fiduciary duty to AltaGas and the Trust. While the General Partner has agreed to indemnify the Trust in certain circumstances, the General Partner may not have sufficient assets to honour such indemnification.

Risks Inherent in the Ongoing Business of AltaGas

The following are the primary risks associated with the business and affairs of AltaGas and should be considered carefully in light of the fact that the Trust depends entirely on the operations and assets of AltaGas for its cash flow, and thereby its ability to pay distributions to Unitholders. These risks are applicable to AltaGas' current operations and AltaGas' expected future operations.

Operating Risk

As AltaGas continues to grow and diversify its midstream energy business the risk profile of AltaGas may change. AltaGas may enter into or expand business components where there is greater economic exposure and more "at risk" capital. AltaGas' expectation of higher returns from these businesses justifies the level of risk. In addition, AltaGas enters into these businesses on the basis that these risks can be actively managed.

AltaGas' current operations are subject to the risks normally associated with the operation and development of natural gas and power facilities, including mechanical failure, physical degradation, operator error, manufacturer defects, sabotage, terrorism, failure of supply, catastrophic events and natural disasters. The occurrence or continuation of these events could increase AltaGas' costs and reduce its ability to process or transport natural gas or deliver power.

AltaGas believes that operational risk is best managed by maintaining control over the timing of capital expenditures, operational decisions and costs by becoming the operator of the facilities in which it invests. At the end of 2003, AltaGas operated 65 of its 67 field gathering and processing facilities, all of its transmission facilities and all of AltaGas Utilities' distribution assets.

AltaGas does not operate its extraction plant interests or the assets related to its power purchase agreement ("PPA") based arrangements. Failure by the operators of these facilities to operate at the cost or in the manner projected by AltaGas could negatively affect AltaGas' results.

Facility Throughput

The majority of AltaGas' gathering and processing facilities process or transport natural gas from the Western Canadian Sedimentary Basin. Continuing use of these systems is dependent on a number of factors including the level of exploration and development within the basin, remaining reserves and the ability of producers to discover or develop new reserves within the areas serviced by AltaGas' facilities, the longer term price of natural gas, the ability of natural gas producers to deliver natural gas to the various pipeline systems and the regulatory environment for producers, transporters and consumers of natural gas.

Throughput at AltaGas' gathering and processing facilities is influenced by production of natural gas in the areas serviced by AltaGas. At all of its field gathering and processing facilities, AltaGas actively pursues opportunities to maintain or increase throughput and has been successful in offsetting production declines. AltaGas' contract provisions mitigate the impact of volume declines, generate additional volumes for gathering and processing at its facilities, encourage expansion into areas where AltaGas' facilities are located and allow AltaGas to recover its invested capital in a relatively short period of time. The majority of AltaGas' field processing facilities are skid-mounted and can be moved to areas with favourable production potential should a particular area's production decline significantly.

Market Risk

AltaGas is exposed to market risks resulting from movements in commodity prices and interest rates. AltaGas manages its exposure to these risks through the use of various physical and financial instruments.

AltaGas' Commodity Risk Management Policy details the parameters used to measure, monitor and report commodity price risks. It also includes risk management guidelines and objectives, risk tolerance and approved products. This policy prohibits the use of physical and financial instruments for speculative purposes.

Electricity Prices

AltaGas' revenue from electricity sales related to PPAs are subject to Alberta electricity market factors such as fluctuating supply and demand, which may be affected by weather, customer usage, economic activity and growth. AltaGas reduces its exposure to floating electricity prices by supplying internal electrical demand requirements and locking in margins with financial instruments.

Natural Gas Liquids Fractionation Price

AltaGas' extraction business depends in part on the level of demand for and pricing of NGLs. AltaGas cannot predict the impact of future economic conditions, fuel conservation measures, alternative fuel requirements, governmental regulation or technological advances in fuel economy and energy generation devices, all of which could reduce the demand for natural gas and NGLs. Because NGLs are a feedstock to the petrochemical industry, there is a historical relationship between NGLs prices and crude oil prices. As crude oil prices fall, NGLs prices will generally decrease subject to other factors that influence the supply and demand. All of AltaGas' ethane production is sold under cost of service type contracts under which AltaGas bears no commodity price risk. AltaGas' NGL production is sold under market based contracts, where AltaGas bears the market or commodity price risk, and under long term fixed fee revenue plus reimbursement of operating costs contracts, where AltaGas bears no commodity price risk. Approximately 50% of AltaGas' NGL production is sold under the latter type of contract where AltaGas bears no commodity price risk. The remaining NGLs are subject to the spread between the price received for the NGLs extracted and the price paid for the natural gas purchased to make up the heating value of the NGLs extracted, after subtracting operating costs.

Interest Rate

AltaGas is exposed to interest rate fluctuations on variable rate debt. AltaGas monitors its level of fixed to floating and variable rate debt instruments and from time to time interest rate swaps are used to help maintain balances of each commensurate with AltaGas' target to have 70% to 75% of its debt at fixed interest rates. At July 1, 2004, AltaGas had fixed interest rates on $200.0 million, or approximately 99.6%, of its floating rate debt through interest rate swaps. At July 1, 2004, approximately $300.0 million, or approximately 99.8%, of AltaGas' total debt, including its Medium Term Notes and swaps, was at fixed interest rates.

Weather

The Alberta Energy Utilities Board sets rates based upon a deemed capital structure, an allowed rate of return on common equity, an approved rate base and costs expected to be incurred by the utility assuming normal weather conditions. As customers are billed on an actual volume basis, the utility's ability to recover the allowed rate of return depends upon achieving the forecast distribution volumes under "normal weather" conditions. In addition, warmer than normal weather may result in lower than expected demand and a lower rate of return than allowed.

Regulatory

AltaGas' businesses are subject to regulation in the jurisdictions in which they carry on business. Pipelines and facilities can be subject to common carrier and common processor applications and to rate setting by the regulatory authorities in the event an agreement on fees or tariffs cannot be reached with producers. To the extent that producers believe processing fees or tariffs respecting pipelines and facilities are too high, they may seek relief through regulatory intervention. In the natural gas distribution business under return on rate base regulation, rates are set which allow the regulated entity the opportunity to cover its costs and earn a reasonable return. However there is no guarantee that the entity will earn its fair return because rates are set to cover future estimated costs based on future estimated demand and "normal weather" conditions and the entity's actual revenues may be more or less than the actual costs.

Credit Risk

AltaGas is exposed to credit-related losses in the event that counterparties to contracts fail to fulfill their present or future financial obligations to AltaGas. AltaGas minimizes counterparty risk by conducting credit reviews on clients prior to providing services, by participating in contract negotiations to include credit mitigation clauses and by obtaining financial or performance assurances from clients. AltaGas provides an allowance for doubtful accounts in the normal course of its business.

AUDITORS, TRANSFER AGENT AND REGISTRAR

The auditors of the Trust are Ernst & Young LLP, Chartered Accountants, Calgary, Alberta.

The transfer agent and registrar for the Units is Computershare Trust Company of Canada at its principal offices in Toronto and Calgary.

PURCHASERS' STATUTORY RIGHTS

Securities legislation in several of the provinces of Canada provides purchasers with the right to withdraw from an agreement to purchase securities. This right may be exercised within two business days after receipt or deemed receipt of a prospectus and any amendment. In several of the provinces, the securities legislation further provides a purchaser with remedies for rescission or, in some jurisdictions, damages if the prospectus and any amendment contains a misrepresentation or is not delivered to the purchaser, provided that such remedies for rescission or damages are exercised by the purchaser within the time limit prescribed by the securities legislation of the purchaser's province. The purchaser should refer to any applicable provisions of the securities legislation of the purchaser's province for the particulars of these rights or consult with a legal adviser.

AUDITORS' CONSENT

AltaGas - News Release

Strong Operational Performance Leads to Record Results for AltaGas Income Trust

CALGARY, Alberta, August 10, 2004: AltaGas Income Trust (AltaGas or the Trust) (TSX: ALA.UN) today released its financial results for the second quarter and six months ended June 30, 2004. AltaGas declared a distribution of $0.15 per Trust unit and limited partnership unit (Exchangeable unit) (collectively Units) payable on September 15, 2004 to holders of record on August 25, 2004.

"Our operational performance was exceptional during the second quarter of 2004, our first quarter as an income trust, and we have posted the strongest second quarter and six month financial results in our history," said David Cornhill, AltaGas' Chairman and Chief Executive Officer. "That operational performance was so strong that we achieved record operating income, even after absorbing in the second quarter $3.5 million in costs associated with our conversion to an income trust and $1.7 million in one time turnaround costs at our Bantry field processing facility." Mr. Cornhill added, "The outlook for the remainder of the year looks very positive. With the successful completion of our $88.5 million June equity offering our balance sheet is strong. We are working on several internal growth opportunities and expect to soon close our previously announced acquisitions of the Edmonton ethane extraction plant and PremStar Energy Canada Ltd."

HIGHLIGHTS

- Generated record funds from operations for the second quarter and the first six months of 2004. Funds from operations were $23.9 million for the second quarter of 2004 compared to $20.8 million for the second quarter of 2003 and $45.5 million for the first six months of 2004 compared to $42.7 million for the first six months of 2003.

- Increased second quarter net income to $11.9 million from $6.8 million for the same period of 2003. On a per Unit basis net income was $0.25 compared to $0.15 for the second quarter of 2003.

- Converted from a corporate structure to AltaGas Income Trust on May 1, 2004. The income trust structure will allow the Trust to reduce the cash tax liability of its corporate subsidiaries thereby increasing the amount of cash available for distribution to unitholders.

- Commenced monthly distributions of $0.15 per Unit on June 15, 2004 to holders of Units.

- Successfully closed on June 10, 2004, a public offering of 4,730,000 Trust units, raising gross proceeds of $88.5 million. Net proceeds of $83.8 million were applied to debt, reducing debt to total capitalization at June 30, 2004 to 39.9 percent from 52.2 percent at December 31, 2003.

- Implemented Premium Distribution™, Distribution Reinvestment, and Optional Unit Purchase Plans (DRIP) for eligible holders of Units. DRIP provides unitholders with the option to reinvest their distribution towards the purchase of new Trust units at a 5 percent discount to the average market price of AltaGas Trust units trading on the Toronto Stock Exchange or for eligible investors to elect to exchange such Trust units for a cash payment equal to 102 percent of such distribution. Complete details are available from investor relations or the Trust's website at www.altagas.ca.

- Finalized commercial arrangements regarding several strategic growth initiatives:

  On May 26, 2004 AltaGas announced it had entered into an agreement to acquire PremStar Energy Canada Ltd. and its subsidiaries ECNG Inc. and Energistics Group Inc. for approximately $22.0 million payable by way of 993,789 AltaGas Trust Units plus approximately $1.2 million cash. The PremStar group is one of Canada's leading energy agency businesses, specialized in the procurement and supply of energy to end use customers.

Continued to grow through internal expansion projects in the field gathering and processing component. AltaGas has spent approximately $6.0 million on various projects including the purchase of the remaining 25 percent of the Namaka field processing facility, the installation of booster compression at Marten Creek and construction of a pipeline at the Doris facility.

- On July 21, 2004 Enbridge Inc. sold 11,650,000 Trust units of AltaGas to a group of Canadian underwriters at a price of $19.75. This sale reduced Enbridge's interest in AltaGas from approximately 36 percent to 13 percent. Commenting on the transaction Mr.Cornhill said "We are very pleased with the strong market response and successful sale of our Units by Enbridge. Since Enbridge made its initial investment in AltaGas five years ago we have tripled our asset base and grown our market capitalization by six times to over one billion dollars. Enbridge has been a good investor and received very good returns on their investment. We are supportive of their disposition and are pleased with the opportunity to realize our full growth potential and deliver substantial unitholder value to an expanded unitholder base."

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

This Management's Discussion and Analysis dated August 10, 2004 is a review of the results of operations and the liquidity and capital resources the AltaGas Income Trust (AltaGas or the Trust). It should be read in conjunction with the accompanying unaudited consolidated financial statements of the Trust, formerly AltaGas Services Inc. (ASI), for the three and six month periods ended June 30, 2004 and the notes thereto and with the financial statements and Management's Discussion and Analysis contained in ASI's annual report for the year ended December 31, 2003. The discussion and analysis of operations and unaudited interim consolidated financial statements presented herein report on a continuity-of-interest accounting basis which recognizes AltaGas Income Trust as the successor to AltaGas Services Inc.

Prospective data, comments and analysis are also provided wherever appropriate to assist investors to see the business from a management viewpoint. Such disclosure is subject to the reasonable constraints of maintaining the confidentiality of certain information which, if published could have an adverse impact on the competitive position of the Trust.

Additional information relating to AltaGas Income Trust can be found on its website at www.altagas.ca. The continuous disclosure materials of the Trust, filed as AltaGas Services Inc. prior to May 1, 2004, including its annual Management's Discussion and Analysis and audited financial statements, 2003 Annual Report, Annual Information Form, Information Circular and Proxy Statement, material change reports and press releases issued by the Trust are also available through the Trust's website or directly through the SEDAR system at www.sedar.com.

ALTAGAS INCOME TRUST

On April 29, 2004 the securityholders of AltaGas Services Inc. voted in favour of a plan of arrangement to reorganize the business of AltaGas Services Inc. into an open-ended investment trust effective May 1, 2004. For each common share of AltaGas Services Inc., shareholders received either one AltaGas Income Trust unit or one Exchangeable unit of AltaGas Income Trust. As a result of implementing the reorganization, AltaGas Income Trust now indirectly holds through its partnerships and subsidiaries all of the assets, liabilities and businesses formerly owned by AltaGas Services Inc. The material businesses are operated by AltaGas Holding Limited Partnership No.1, AltaGas Ltd., AltaGas Operating Partnership, AltaGas Power Holdings Partnership, AltaGas Pipelines Partnership and AltaGas Utilities Inc. (collectively the operating subsidiaries). The cash flow of AltaGas Income Trust is solely dependent on the results of the operating subsidiaries and is derived from dividends or returns of capital from common shares held and from interest earned on loans made by AltaGas Income Trust to the operating subsidiaries.

The Trust has incurred costs and charges to implement the conversion, which are anticipated to total approximately $14.4 million. In the second quarter of 2004 approximately $7.0 million has been charged to unitholders' capital, and $3.5 million has been charged to earnings. The balance is expected to be charged to earnings in the future.

DISTRIBUTIONS

AltaGas targets to pay out substantially all of its ongoing sustainable distributable cash flow through regular monthly distributions made to unitholders. The distributions are determined giving consideration to the consolidated net income, maintenance and growth capital requirements and the debt repayment requirements of AltaGas.

On April 29, 2004, AltaGas announced that AltaGas Income Trust would commence monthly distributions of $0.15 for each Trust unit and Exchangeable unit on June 15, 2004 to holders of Trust units and holders of Exchangeable units. AltaGas pays cash distributions on the 15th day of each month to unitholders of record on the 25th day of the previous month, or the following business day if it falls on a weekend or holiday. AltaGas paid its first distribution of $0.15 per unit on June 15, 2004 to unitholders of record on May 25, 2004 and paid $0.15 per unit on July 15, 2004 to unitholders of record on June 25, 2004. During the second quarter and first six months of 2004 the Trust paid distributions to unitholders of $6.9 million. At June 30, 2004, the Trust has accrued $7.7 million of distributions payable to unitholders related to the July 15, 2004 distribution. Distribution levels will be reviewed periodically giving consideration to AltaGas' growth-related initiatives, financial position, financing requirements, cash flow and other relevant factors. The following table summarizes AltaGas' dividend and distribution history[1]

(dollars)	2004	2003	2002	2001
First quarter	$ 0.11	$ 0.08	$ 0.06	$ 0.03
Second quarter	0.30	0.08	0.06	0.03
Third quarter	not applicable [1]	0.11	0.08	0.06
Fourth quarter	not applicable	0.11	0.08	0.06
	$ 0.41	$ 0.38	$ 0.28	$ 0.18

(1) Dividends were paid from first quarter 2001 through first quarter 2004. Prior to December 2000 no dividends were paid. Monthly distributions began in second quarter of 2004.

(2) Monthly distributions of $0.15 per Unit have been declared for payment on both August 16, 2004 and September 15, 2004.

For income tax purposes the Trust expects that approximately 70 percent of the distributions declared in 2004 will be taxed as interest with the remaining 30 percent to be classified as a combination of dividends and return of capital. For most unitholders, the return of capital amount will reduce the cost base of their Trust units for purposes of calculating the capital gains amount upon disposition of their Units. Unitholders should seek independent tax advice in respect of the consequences to them of acquiring, holding and disposing of Units.

AltaGas' net income for the second quarter and first half of 2004 is the highest net income AltaGas has generated in comparable periods since its formation and continues the growth trend achieved throughout its 10 year history. The driver for this performance is the exceptional operating performance from AltaGas' business components. The strong operational performance and the favorable impact of two months operation as a Trust and the associated reduced income tax expense more than offset one time costs related to AltaGas' Bantry facility turnaround in May, 2004 and the conversion to an income trust.

Revenue of $368.9 million for the first six months of 2004 is one percent lower than the same period last year due mainly to the lower average prices received for natural gas in the Natural Gas Distribution and Energy Services segments. For the three months ended June 30, 2004 revenue is up four percent to $175.4 million compared to the same period in 2003 on the strength of volume increases in all segments, and higher power prices in the power services component only partially offset by lower prices in the Natural Gas Distribution segment.

Net revenue (gross revenue less cost of sales) increased eleven percent for the first six months and sixteen percent for the second quarter 2004 compared to the same periods in 2003 due to volume increases. In the extraction component and the Natural Gas Distribution and Energy Services segments, net revenue better reflects performance than does revenue, as changes in the market price of natural gas and power purchased for resale affect both revenue and the cost of sales.

Volume increases in the Gathering and Processing segment were driven by well tie-ins, expansions, modifications at existing facilities and the Rainbow Lake and Mica Pouce Coupe field gathering and processing acquisitions in late 2003. In the Energy Services segment, power volumes sold were higher in the first half of 2004 over the same period of 2003, due to the addition on April 1, 2003 of volumes associated with the Genesee energy contract. Natural Gas Distribution sales volumes at AltaGas Utilities Inc. were up in 2004, for both the second quarter and six months, when compared to the same periods in 2003 based on an increased customer base.

Operating costs and general and administrative expense were both higher in the second quarter and first six months of 2004 compared to 2003. Operating costs increased due to the late 2003 field gathering and processing facilities acquisitions and due to a major turnaround required at the Bantry facility for $1.7 million. General and administrative expense increased due to $1.1 million cash costs related to the conversion to an income trust, an additional $2.4 million in non-cash compensation expense recorded as a result of all outstanding unvested employee trust unit options vesting effective May 1, 2004, and due to increased staffing required to support the Trust's growth. Amortization expense was up four percent for the six months of 2004 compared to the same period in the prior year and four percent for the second quarter of 2004 compared to 2003. The increases are due mainly to Gathering and Processing segment acquisitions and expansions during 2003 and the first half of 2004.

Interest expense was lower in the first six months of 2004 compared to the first six months of 2003 due to lower average debt outstanding combined with lower interest rates. Average debt outstanding is lower due to the strong cash generation experienced by AltaGas and due to the net proceeds of the June 2004 Trust unit offering being applied to debt.

AltaGas' income is subject to a variety of tax rates and rate reductions currently and in the future. Consequently there are several items which impact income tax expense and the effective tax rate from period to period. Income tax expense for the first half of 2004 was $5.3 million less than reported for the same period of 2003 even though income before tax was higher. As a result of AltaGas' conversion into an income trust, amortization expense exceeds capital cost allowance claimed, resulting in a reversal over time of the future income tax liability. AltaGas' first two months as a Trust resulted in a credit to income tax expense of $4.2 million. Also contributing to the variance from 2003 to 2004 in the effective income tax rate was a $0.7 million charge in the second quarter 2003 to future income tax liability to record the impact of federal rate and resource allowance adjustments. Income tax expense for the six months of 2004 was reduced by $0.7 million as a result of the application of a provincial rate reduction arising out of the March 19, 2004 Alberta Government's budget. The impact of recording a charge to income for compensation expense related to stock options, which has no current or future income tax implication, partially offset these rate reductions by $0.8 million.

NON-GAAP FINANCIAL MEASURES

AltaGas provides certain financial measures in this Management's Discussion and Analysis that do not have a standardized meaning prescribed by Canadian generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP). These non-GAAP financial measures may not be comparable to similar measures presented by other Trusts.

The purpose of these financial measures and their reconciliation to GAAP financial measures is shown below. All of the measures have been calculated consistent with previous disclosures by AltaGas. All amounts are in millions of Canadian dollars unless otherwise noted.

Funds generated from operations	Three months ended June 30		Six months ended June 30
($ millions)	2004	2003	2004	2003
Non-GAAP financial measure	23.9	20.8	45.5	42.7
Add (deduct): Net change in non-cash working capital	1.0	(2.2)	3.6	6.7
Cash from operations (GAAP financial measure)	24.9	18.6	49.1	49.4

Funds generated from operations is provided to assist in determining the ability of AltaGas to generate cash from operations after interest and taxes without regard to changes in the Trust's working capital in the period.

EBITDA	Three months ended June 30		Six months ended June 30
($ millions)	2004	2003	2004	2003
Non-GAAP financial measure	27.8	27.4	59.0	58.1
Deduct: Amortization	(10.2)	(9.8)	(20.3)	(19.60)
Operating Income (GAAP financial measure)	17.6	17.6	38.7	38.5

Earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization (EBITDA) is provided to assist in understanding the ability of the organization to generate cash and its ability to cover interest payments.

Distributable cash flow	Three months ended June 30		Six months ended June 30
($ millions)	2004	2003	2004	2003
Funds generated from operations	23.9	$20.8	45.5	42.7
Deduct: Maintenance capital expenditures	(1.5)	(1.2)	(3.3)	(3.0)
Distributable cash flow	22.4	19.6	42.2	39.7
Distributable cash flow per unit, basic	0.48	n/a	0.91	n/a

The distributable cash flow of AltaGas is equal to consolidated funds generated from operations before changes in non-cash working capital, after providing for maintenance capital expenditures. Distributable cash flow is not a defined performance measure under GAAP and distributable cash flow can not be assured. The Trust's calculation of distributable cash flow may differ from similar calculations used by comparable entities. Distributable cash flow is a main performance measure used by management and investors to evaluate the performance of the Trust and its operating subsidiaries.

Net revenue	Three months ended June 30		Six months ended June 30
($ millions)	2004	2003	2004	2003
Non-GAAP financial measure	59.5	51.2	116.7	105.6
Add: Cost of sales	115.9	117.2	252.2	267.1
Revenue (GAAP financial measure)	175.4	168.4	368.9	372.7

In the extraction component and the Natural Gas Distribution and Energy Services segments, net revenue better reflects performance than does revenue. As changes in the market price of natural gas and power purchased for resale affect both revenue and the cost of sales, net revenue better reflects organic growth in the business than does revenue. This table reconciles the revenue and net revenue amounts in the table for Financial and Operating Results for the Gathering and Processing segment to illustrate the relationship between these non-GAAP and GAAP measures where used throughout this Management's Discussion and Analysis.

AltaGas natural gas processing capacity ranks the Trust in the top ten Canadian processors of natural gas and one of the top four largest Canadian midstream processors. The Gathering and Processing segment includes more than 6,000 kilometers of gathering lines, 69 natural gas processing plants, interests in four ethane and natural gas liquids (NGLs) extraction facilities and six transmission pipelines. These long-life assets provide service to a diverse customer base under arrangements which include a significant portion of cost of service, fixed fee and recovery of operating cost contracts. Commodity price exposure is minimal and revenues are generally volume driven. Future opportunities derive from the requirement that all natural gas must be processed to meet downstream pipeline specifications prior to delivery to the end user. With its extensive gathering infrastructure and the mobile nature of its field gathering and processing plants, AltaGas can quickly redeploy assets in response to producer drilling activity, size facilities to meet demand while reducing operating costs and minimize the time required to bring new production on line, accelerating producer and AltaGas' cash flow.

Net revenue for AltaGas' Gathering and Processing segment was $76.6 million for the six months ended June 30, 2004, compared to $67.2 million for 2003 and $38.8 million for the second quarter of 2004 compared to $33.0 million for same period in 2003. Net revenue growth in this segment was the result of increased volumes processed in the field gathering and processing, extraction and transmission components.

In the field gathering and processing component volumes processed rose due to the December, 2003 acquisition of the Rainbow Lake facilities in northwestern Alberta and due to the record 253 well tie-ins experienced in AltaGas' operating areas during the first half of 2004. Gas drilling activity in the Western Canadian Sedimentary Basin continued to strengthen during the second quarter of 2004, resulting in 98 wells tied-in to AltaGas' field gathering and processing facilities in the second quarter compared with 62 well tie-ins during the same period in 2003. The strong tie-in activity, along with new volumes from the Rainbow Lake acquisition more than offset normal natural gas production declines and increased AltaGas' gross average throughput to 563 Mmcf/d during the second quarter of 2004 compared to 510 Mmcf/d during the second quarter of 2003. These volume increases resulted in field gathering and processing net revenue of $28.4 million in the second quarter of 2004 compared to $24.0 million during the same period in 2003 and $55.0 million and $48.3 million for the first six months of 2004 and 2003 respectively.

AltaGas continues to grow through its program of internal expansion. In the field gathering and processing component, the remaining 25 percent of the Namaka facility was purchased, booster compression was installed at the Marten Creek facility and at the Doris facility construction of a pipeline was completed that will open up access to new processing areas with the potential to double throughput by year-end. Both development projects are supported by producer commitments designed to minimize AltaGas' financial exposure to throughput declines. During the first half of 2004, AltaGas invested approximately $6.0 million in these projects for throughput increases of approximately 11 Mmcf/d, and an additional $1.0 million in maintenance capital.

In the extraction component, processed volumes for the second quarter of 2004 increased substantially reaching 9,337 Bbls/d of NGLs compared to an average of 7,140 Bbls/d for the same period in 2003. Contributing to the increase were modifications made to the Empress EnCana extraction facility that increased ethane production effective the fourth quarter of 2003 as well as increased production at the Joffre ethane extraction plant compared to last year due to NGLs that were reinjected in the second quarter of 2003 as a result of lower gas to liquids price differential. As a result of the higher volumes processed and a favourable NGL pricing environment, net revenue for the extraction component grew 59 percent during the second quarter of 2004 compared to the second quarter of 2003, reaching $3.6 million.

Late in the first quarter of 2004, AltaGas entered into a purchase and sale agreement with BP Canada Energy Resources Company (BP) for BP's 48 2/3 percent interest in the Edmonton ethane extraction plant (EEEP) located at Edmonton, Alberta. AltaGas has invested $7.1 million as a deposit on this plant in the first half of 2004. The plant has a licensed inlet capacity of 390 Mmcf/d of natural gas and gross natural gas liquids production of approximately 15,000 Bbls/d of specification ethane and 6,000 Bbls/d of propane-plus product. The acquisition will increase AltaGas' total net inlet extraction capacity to 539 Mmcf/d. AltaGas' share of plant products will be sold under long-term contracts and a long-term gas supply contract provides secure feedstock supply to EEEP. AltaGas will operate the facility and expects to close the acquisition in the third quarter of 2004 after the provincial government approval of the transfer of operator licenses to AltaGas. The $46.0 million purchase price was effective January 1, 2004 and will be reduced by EEEP's operating margin to that date to closing.

Net revenue in AltaGas' transmission component was flat for the second quarter of 2004 when compared to the same quarter of 2003 but up six percent on a year over year basis due to increased EnCana volume commitments on the Suffield transmission system.

ENERGY SERVICES

The Energy Services segment is comprised of the power services, gas services and oil and gas production components. The financial results of the power services component account for a significant portion of overall segment financial results and as such the commentary in this section will be restricted to the power services component.

[1] Average for the period

In the second quarter of 2004 AltaGas had 453 megawatts of power capacity which represents approximately six percent of Alberta's total power capacity. AltaGas entered into the Genesee energy contract on April 1, 2003 and as a result volumes sold in the six month period ended June 30, 2004 are higher than volumes sold in the prior year's six month period. The power services component generated net revenue of $20.7 million for the first half of 2004 compared to $18.1 million for the same period in 2003 and $13.0 million for second quarter 2004 compared to $10.8 million in 2003. The result of the higher volumes sold and higher realized prices ($47.83 per MWh in 2004 compared to $46.76 per MWh in 2003) drove the increase in net revenues. The Alberta Electric System Operator (AESO) is entitled to recover or refund variances between revenues collected through transmission charges and expenses incurred by AESO through true up adjustments calculated quarterly. For 2004, the cumulative adjustment has resulted in a net charge to AltaGas' income of $0.6 million while for 2003 the amount was a credit to income of $1.6 million.

AltaGas does not engage in speculative trading of power but reduces its exposure to power price volatility by using a balanced portfolio of contracts to lock in power margins. The average price AltaGas received from power sales in the second quarter of 2004 was $49.88 per MWh compared to $45.78 per MWh in the second quarter of 2003. Average Alberta Power Pool spot prices were $60.07 per MWh and $50.88 per MWh in the second quarters of 2004 and 2003 respectively.

During the quarter AltaGas advanced an opportunity to build its low risk, fee for service, gas services component. On May 26, 2004, AltaGas announced that a subsidiary of the Trust executed a letter of intent to purchase the business of PremStar Energy Canada Ltd. for approximately $22.0 million payable by way of 993,789 Trust units issued from the Trust's treasury plus approximately $1.2 million cash. The PremStar group is one of Canada's leading energy agency businesses, specializing in the procurement and supply of energy to end use customers located primarily in Ontario. On a fee for service basis, the PremStar group provides energy supply, arranges for transportation services, and supports customers with valuable market information. The transaction is expected to close in the third quarter of 2004.

In this segment, the Trust also reports the results of the oil and gas production component and the gas services component. AltaGas is not in the business of exploration and development of natural gas reserves. However, associated with certain of its facility acquisitions, AltaGas has accumulated a portfolio of oil and natural gas reserves that it continues to hold and produce.

NATURAL GAS DISTRIBUTION

The Natural Gas Distribution segment includes AltaGas Utilities Inc. (AltaGas Utilities or AUI), AltaGas' one-third interest in Inuvik Gas Ltd. (Inuvik Gas) and its 24.9 percent interest in Heritage Gas Limited (Heritage Gas).

In the first half of 2004, net revenue in AltaGas' Natural Gas Distribution segment was $15.9 million compared to $16.4 million for the same period in 2003. This decrease is due partially to warmer weather in 2004 compared to the first half of 2003 and to the impact of completion of negotiations on AUI's general rate application filed with the Alberta Energy and Utilities Board (AEUB). Heritage Gas, 24.9 percent owned by AltaGas, activated its natural gas distribution system in late December 2003. Heritage Gas is in the initial stages of its planned growth and consequently has not had a material impact on AltaGas' consolidated results in the first half of 2004.

In the second quarter of 2004, net revenue in AltaGas' Natural Gas Distribution segment was $6.2 million compared to $5.8 million for the same period in 2003. This increase is due to higher sales and transportation volumes in 2004 compared to the second quarter of 2003. AUI and Heritage Gas are provincially regulated as to natural gas rates and terms and conditions of service. Customer rates are based on anticipated sales as well as the revenue required to recover estimated cost of service and an allowed return on rate base. Rate base generally consists of the aggregate of the utility's approved investment in plant, property and equipment in service, less accumulated depreciation plus an allowance for working capital. Return on rate base is comprised of regulatory allowed financing costs and return on common equity. Lower than anticipated cost rates for debt and common equity as negotiated and approved for 2003 resulted in a charge to net income of $0.5 million in the first quarter of 2004 related to previously recorded 2003 results. On July 2, 2004 the AEUB issued its Generic Cost of Capital decision. The decision established for AUI the 2004 rate of return on common equity at 9.6 percent and 2004 capital structure at 41 percent equity and 59 percent debt resulting in final allowable rates for interest expense and return on common equity.

The natural gas distribution business is highly seasonal with the majority of natural gas deliveries occurring during the winter heating season. Gas sales during the winter typically account for approximately two-thirds of annual distribution net revenue, resulting in strong first and fourth quarter results and second and third quarters that show either small profits or losses.

Identifiable trends in AltaGas' business across the past eight quarters reflect the organization's growth, a favorable business environment, and seasonality in the business. The first and last quarters each year are AltaGas' most profitable on the basis of the contribution from the Natural Gas Distribution segment which, as a distributor of natural gas for heating purposes, reports higher earnings in colder periods than in warmer periods.

Excellent consolidated results for the third quarter of 2002 of $5.7 million in net income were the combined result of strong performance in the power services component with higher power prices, seasonally higher results in the Natural Gas Distribution segment and solid performance from all components in the Gathering and Processing segment. AltaGas' approach to managing fluctuations in the price of power by locking in margins through forward sales contributed to the gains in the power services component. Increased extraction production driven by stronger business fundamentals allowing AltaGas to utilize more of its available extraction capacity also had a positive impact on results. The Gathering and Processing segment continued to maintain throughput essentially at levels processed in prior periods even though producer activity slowed generally due to continued uncertainty over the strength of near term gas prices. The Board of Directors increased AltaGas' quarterly dividend to $0.08 per share from the $0.06 paid for the previous four quarters based on the strength of the business' ability to generate cash flows.

The fourth quarter of 2002 was the strongest quarter to that date for the Corporation at $11.2 million in net income on the basis of an increased customer base in the Natural Gas Distribution segment and from power sales which AltaGas commenced at the beginning of 2002. Fourth quarter 2002 net income was also higher than in the previous quarter of the year due to the higher seasonal contribution from the Natural Gas Distribution segment. The Suffield pipeline and Wabasca field gathering and processing facilities were acquired and construction of the Joffre ethane extraction plant was commissioned late in the quarter.

Net income of $10.2 million in the first quarter of 2003 set a new high for ASI for that period in a year. The projects and acquisitions undertaken in the fourth quarter of 2002 were the main drivers of this performance, along with an improved business environment in all business segments. The Wabasca facilities acquisition increased throughput in the field gathering and processing component as did sharply increased tie-in activity with a record 85 wells tied-in during the first quarter. Final commissioning of the Joffre ethane extraction plant provided volume increases in the extraction component and volumes in the transmission component were higher due to the Suffield pipelines acquisition. Unplanned outages in the power services component, combined with higher than expected transmission costs due to changes in process at the Transmission Authority, partially offset the gains made in the other segments. AltaGas commenced selling power on April 1, 2003 from the Genesee energy contract it entered into which arrangement provides for 100 megawatts of power capacity from the Genesee power plant.

Second quarter 2003 net income was $6.8 million, 39 percent higher than the same quarter 2002, a result of stronger contributions from the transmission, power services and extraction components. Increases in the transmission component related to the Suffield pipeline acquisition at the end of 2002. In the power services component, increases in net revenue were driven by higher average prices received and by the increased volumes sold resulting from the Genesee energy contract. Extraction component performance was better than the same quarter in the prior year as a result of the commissioning of the Joffre ethane extraction plant at the end of 2002. Improved operating income was offset by higher interest expense due to higher debt levels in the second quarter of 2003 when compared to the same quarter of the prior year, and as a result of a charge to income for legislative changes to the taxation of resource income.

Power services, extraction and transmission components were again the key contributors in the third quarter of 2003 to a 63 percent increase in net income to $9.3 million when compared to the third quarter of 2002, the business drivers for which are those same ones responsible for the increases in each of the previous two quarters of 2003 when compared to the appropriate prior periods.

Operating results were very strong on the basis of contributions from the transmission, power services and extraction components. Late in the quarter modifications were completed to the EnCana-operated Empress extraction facility, increasing AltaGas' net production capability by an estimated 1,400 Bbls/d. AltaGas paid a quarterly dividend of $0.11 per share, up from $0.08 per share in the second quarter of 2003 on the basis of the increased strength and sustainability of AltaGas' earnings.

Fourth quarter 2003 net income of $12.0 million, including an unfavorable income tax expense charge of $1.2 million related to announced changes in federal large corporations tax legislation, was still the highest quarterly net income reported by AltaGas since it was formed. The increase from the prior year's quarter was a result of the late 2002 gathering and processing segment acquisitions and incremental power volumes sold from the Genesee energy contract and to the completion of modifications to increase ethane production at the EnCana-operated Empress extraction plant late in the third quarter of 2003.

First quarter 2004 produced another record net income of $11.0 million for that period in a year based on increased volumes in the Gathering and Processing and Energy Services segments which were partially offset by lower margins in the Energy Services segment and warmer weather and regulatory adjustments in the Natural Gas Distribution segment.

Second quarter 2004 results are discussed in detail in an earlier section of this Management's Discussion and Analysis.

CHANGES IN ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Effective January 1, 2004, AltaGas prospectively adopted the provisions of the CICA's new Accounting Guideline "Hedging Relationships" that specifies the circumstances in which hedge accounting is appropriate, including the identification, documentation, designation and effectiveness of hedges, and the discontinuance of hedge accounting. AltaGas has determined that its hedging documentation meets the requirements of the Guideline and therefore there has been no impact on the consolidated financial statements.

Effective the first quarter of 2004, AltaGas' changed its accounting policy for stock-based compensation, now recognizing the compensation expense related to stock options in the financial statements according to the fair-value method. Prior to the change in policy, the Trust disclosed the impact of the accounting for stock options under the fair-value method on a pro-forma basis. Under the provisions set out by the CICA, AltaGas has adopted the change retroactively. The impact was to reduce retained earnings at January 1, 2004 by $332 thousand, and to reduce first quarter 2004 earnings by $136 thousand which amounts were based on the vesting status and exercise assumptions in existence at the end of the first quarter 2004. Subsequent to the conversion of AltaGas Services Inc. to an income trust all unvested options became fully vested. The charge to income in second quarter 2004 to reflect this early vesting was $2.4 million.

CRITICAL ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES

Since a determination of many assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses is dependent upon future events, the preparation of the Trust's consolidated financial statements requires the use of estimates and assumptions which have been made using careful judgment. AltaGas' critical accounting estimates continue to be amortization expense, asset retirement obligations and asset impairment assessment. For further information on these critical accounting estimates, refer to Management's Discussion and Analysis in ASI's 2003 Annual Report.

FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

AltaGas enters into financial derivative contracts such as swaps and collars to manage exposure to fluctuations in commodity prices and interest rates, particularly in the power services component and interest rates on debt. These contracts are designed as hedges and gains and losses relating to such contracts are deferred and recognized in the same period and financial statement category as the corresponding hedged transaction.

The most significant impact of these contracts on 2004 business has been to provide revenue stability in the power services component. Alberta Power Pool daily average spot prices ranged from $38.86 per MWh to $70.43 per MWh in the second quarter of 2004. Through the use of financial hedges on a portion of its power portfolio deemed optimal by management, AltaGas moderated the impact of this volatility.

AltaGas reduces financing costs and minimizes the effect of future interest rate movements on its cash flows through the use of interest rate swaps. At June 30, 2004 AltaGas had interest rates fixed through swap transactions with varying terms to maturity on $200.0 million of its $241.0 million drawn debt. Including AltaGas' medium term notes, the rate has been fixed on 88 percent of AltaGas' total debt. The amount of fixed rate debt was higher than AltaGas' target of 70 to 75 percent of total debt due to the proceeds of the equity offering being applied to debt.

CAPITAL EXPENDITURES

Capital expenditures by the Trust for the second quarter and first half of 2004 were $6.2 million and $20.5 million compared to $4.9 million and $12.5 million for the same respective periods of 2003 and are summarized as follows:

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

Funds generated from operations were $45.5 million in the first six months of 2004 compared to $42.7 million for the same period in 2003.

AltaGas believes that its access to debt and equity markets, unutilized bank credit facilities, funds generated from operations and funds generated from the Trust's Distribution Reinvestment and Premium Distribution™ programs will provide it with sufficient capital resources and liquidity to fund existing operations, future distributions, and certain acquisition and expansion opportunities in 2004. A description of the AltaGas' credit facilities can be found in Notes 6 and 7 to the consolidated financial statements included in ASI's 2003 Annual Report further updated in the Trust unit offering Final Short-Form Prospectus dated July 29, 2004.

The use of debt or equity funding is determined on the basis of AltaGas' capital structure determined by considering the norms and risks associated with each of its business components and segments. AltaGas Operating Partnership has $100 million in medium term notes outstanding and AltaGas Ltd. has access to prime loans, banker's acceptances and letters of credit though bank lines of approximately $425 million. At June 30, 2004 AltaGas Ltd had drawn debt of $241.0 million and letters of credit outstanding of $29.7 million. These two entities fund all operating subsidiaries. Consolidated cash and short term investments at June 30, 2004 of $40.3 million arising largely from proceeds of the June 10, 2004 equity offering were held to repay debt instruments at their due dates. If the cash and short term investments had been applied to the debt balance at June 30, 2004, net debt for the Trust would have been $300.7 million on which basis AltaGas' net debt to total capitalization ratio decreased to 39.9 percent at June 30, 2004 from 53.3 percent at June 30, 2003 and 52.2 percent at December 31, 2003. As an income trust, AltaGas targets a debt to total capitalization ratio between 45 percent and 50 percent.

On June 10, 2004 AltaGas Income Trust closed a public offering of 4,730,000 Trust units, at a price of $18.70 per Trust unit for gross proceeds of $88.5 million. The offering included the concurrent exercise by the Underwriters of an over-allotment option granted by AltaGas to purchase an additional 10 percent of the issue or 430,000 Trust units on the same terms. The net proceeds of the offering to the Trust, after payment of fees and expenses of $4.7 million was approximately $83.8 million. The net proceeds were used to reduce bank indebtedness, which may be redrawn and used for general corporate purposes including AltaGas' ongoing capital program, funding the acquisition of the Edmonton ethane extraction plant and funding future acquisitions.

On May 20, 2004 AltaGas adopted Premium Distribution™, Distribution Reinvestment and Optional Unit Purchase Plans (DRIP) for eligible holders of Trust units and Exchangeable units of AltaGas Income Trust, AltaGas Holding Limited Partnership No. 1 and AltaGas Holding Limited Partnership No. 2. DRIP participation in the second quarter of 2004 averaged approximately 10 percent and generated $0.4 million in new equity through the issuance of 20,344 Trust units. Complete details on DRIP are available on the AltaGas website at www.altagas.ca.

Following AltaGas' announcement in March of its then proposed conversion to a trust Standard & Poor's (S&P) confirmed the rating on AltaGas' long term corporate credit at BBB- with a negative outlook and the rating on the senior unsecured debt at BBB-. The Dominion Bond Rating Service (DBRS) confirmed the rating of AltaGas Income Trust at BBB (low) with a stable trend and applied the same rating to AltaGas Operating Partnership and the medium term notes held by AltaGas Operating Partnership. AltaGas is currently seeking a trust stability rating from S&P and DBRS.

TRUST UNIT INFORMATION

Under the terms of the restructuring of AltaGas into an income trust effective May 1, 2004, ASI securityholders exchanged their shares in the company for Trust units and eligible securityholders also received Exchangeable units that are exchangeable into Trust units on a one for one basis. The Exchangeable units do not trade on the TSX.

As of July 31, 2004 the Trust has 39.1 million Trust units and 12.2 million Exchangeable units outstanding and a market capitalization of $1.0 billion based on a closing trading price on July 31, 2004 of $19.70 per Trust unit. There are 0.8 million Options exercisable under the terms of the Unit option agreement brought forward in the reorganization. All options under this plan have vested effective May 1, 2004.

OFF BALANCE SHEET ARRANGEMENTS

The Trust is not party to any contractual arrangement under which an unconsolidated entity may have any obligation under certain guarantee contracts, a retained or contingent interest in assets transferred to an unconsolidated entity or similar arrangement that serves as credit, liquidity or market risk support to that entity for such assets. The Trust has no obligation under derivative instruments, nor under a material variable interest in an unconsolidated entity that provides financing, liquidity, market risk or credit risk support to the registrant, or engages in leasing, hedging or research and development services with the registrant.

CONTRACTUAL OBLIGATIONS

There have been no material changes to AltaGas' contractual obligations, including payments due for each of the next five years and thereafter, since December 31, 2003. For further information on these contractual obligations, refer to Management's Discussion and Analysis in ASI's 2003 Annual Report.

RELATED PARTIES

On March 19, 2004 AltaGas purchased 320,000 units of Taylor NGL Limited Partnership (Taylor) at a cost of $2.2 million. AltaGas' interest in Taylor after this purchase is 18.5 percent. Taylor's business is the ownership and operatorship of facilities in the midstream sector of the Western Canadian natural gas industry including the Joffre ethane extraction plant in which AltaGas has a 50 percent ownership interest.

On July 21, 2004 AltaGas announced that Enbridge Inc. sold 11,650,000 Trust units of AltaGas to a group of Canadian underwriters at a price of $19.75. This sale reduced Enbridge's interest in AltaGas from approximately 36 percent to 13 percent. In addition, the underwriters have been granted an over-allotment option to purchase an additional 1,747,500

Trust units at the issue price of $19.75 per unit at any time up to 30 days after closing of the offering anticipated on or about August 10, 2004. Should the over-allotment option be taken up Enbridge's interest in AltaGas would be reduced to under 10 percent.

OUTLOOK

The outlook for the balance of 2004 is expected to be very positive particularly due to the increased drilling activity in the Gathering and Processing segment. Drilling activity in the majority of AltaGas' operating areas is expected to remain strong given the favorable commodity pricing environment. In addition, exploitation of opportunities in existing businesses and processes are expected to increase processed volumes. In the Energy Services segment, power prices are expected to be higher providing improved earnings on the unhedged portion of the AltaGas' power portfolio.

UNITHOLDER LIMITED LIABILITY LEGISLATION

Legislation came into effect in Alberta on July 1, 2004 to provide limited liability for holders of trust units, similar to protection afforded to investors of corporations. The legislation covers events that occur on or after July 1, 2004 and extends to all unitholders of AltaGas Income Trust, which is registered in Alberta, including non-residents. The legislation does not remove the issue of unlimited liability for any acts or omissions that occurred prior to July 1, 2004.

Prior to the July 1 amendments, the legislation governing the creation of trusts did not contain explicit language which limited the liability of unitholders of the Trust to their equity investment in the Trust. As a result, there has existed a possibility that unitholders of the Trust may not be protected from liabilities of the Trust to the same extent as a shareholder of a publicly traded corporation and that potentially, unitholders could be liable for tort claims such as environmental claims. The AltaGas Income Trust indenture itself provides that no unitholder will be subject to any liability in connection with the Trust or its obligations and affairs or for any act or omission of the Trustee, provided that in the event that a court determines that unitholders are subject to such liabilities, the liabilities will be enforceable only against and will be satisfied out of the Trust's assets. The trust indenture also provides that contracts to which the Trust is a party should contain language restricting the liability of unitholders.

SELECTED NOTES TO THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

(Unaudited)
($ thousands except per share amounts or where otherwise noted)

1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

AltaGas Income Trust (the Trust) is an unincorporated open-ended trust established under the laws of Canada, pursuant to a Declaration of Trust dated March 26, 2004. The Trust commenced operations on May 1, 2004 as successor to AltaGas Services Inc. (ASI) when it acquired all of the shares of ASI for consideration of Trust units or Exchangeable units on a one for one basis. As a result, these unaudited interim consolidated financial statements follow the continuity of interest basis of accounting as if the Trust had always existed. As a result, the comparative figures are those of ASI while the results of operations include ASI's results for the period up to and including April 30, 2004 and the Trust's results of operations from May 1, 2004 to June 30, 2004.

The Trust makes monthly cash distributions to unitholders of Trust units and Exchangeable units (Unitholders) based on the Trust's distribution policy.

The interim consolidated financial statements of the Trust have been prepared by management in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles. The accounting policies applied are consistent with those outlined in ASI's annual consolidated financial statements for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2003, except as noted below in note 2. These interim consolidated financial statements for the quarter ending June 30, 2004 do not include all of the disclosures required in the annual financial statements, and should be read in conjunction with the audited consolidated financial statements included in ASI's 2003 Annual Report.

2. CHANGE IN ACCOUNTING POLICY

Effective January 1, 2004, the Trust adopted the new Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants standard for accounting for stock-based compensation (Section 3870), which requires the use of the fair value method to account for stock options. Based on the Black-Scholes option valuation model, stock options are valued at the date of the grant and recognized as compensation expense over their expected life.

This change in accounting policy has been adopted retroactively without restatement of individual prior periods. In accordance with Section 3870, only stock options issued on, or after, the initial adoption date of the section are recognized in the financial statements. No compensation expense is recorded for stock options issued and outstanding prior to January 1, 2002. This change in accounting policy resulted in a reduction of opening retained earnings for 2004 of $332 thousand with an offset to contributed surplus within unitholders' equity. Stock option compensation expense for the three months ended June 30, 2004 was $2.4 million (six months ended June 30, 2004 - $2.5 million) with corresponding offsets to contributed surplus.

The Trust has an employee unit option plan under which both employees and directors are eligible to receive grants. At June 30, 2004 3,800,000 units were reserved for issuance under the plan. To June 30, 2004 options granted under the plan generally had a term of ten years to expiry and vested no longer than over a four year period. Options outstanding under the plan have a weighted average exercise price of $9.61 and a weighted average remaining contractual life of 7.73 years.

As at May 1, 2004 all unvested options of ASI vested and all options were converted to options of the Trust. This accelerated vesting resulted in a stock option compensation expense of $2.4 million in the three month period ended June 30, 2004.

The basic number of Units outstanding for the six months ended June 30, 2004 was 46.6 million (June 30, 2003 – 45.3 million ASI shares) and the diluted number of Units outstanding for the six months ended June 30, 2004 was 47.4 million (June 30, 2003 – 45.7 million ASI shares).

4. RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

On March 18, 2004, the Trust purchased an additional 320,000 limited partnership units of Taylor NGL Limited Partnership (Taylor) for $2.2 million. The purchase resulted in a dilution of the Trust's ownership in Taylor from 19.2 to 18.5 percent and an unrealized dilution gain of $192 thousand.

5. SEGMENTED INFORMATION

AltaGas is a midstream energy trust with a portfolio of assets and services used to move energy from the source to the end-user. The Trust has three reportable segments:

Gathering and Processing – natural gas gathering and processing, natural gas transmission, and ethane and natural gas liquids extraction.

Energy Services – power services, gas services and oil and natural gas production.

Natural Gas Distribution – natural gas distribution to end users and related services.

6. EMPLOYEE FUTURE BENEFITS

Substantially all full-time employees of the Company's natural gas distribution subsidiary, AltaGas Utilities Inc., are members of one of two defined benefit non-contributory pension plans. AltaGas Utilities Inc. also has plans that provide other post-retirement benefits such as life insurance and health care.

The total benefit cost expensed for the three and six months ended June 30, 2004 is $0.3 million (2003 - $0.2 million) and $0.6 million (2003 - $0.5 million).

7. COMPARATIVE FIGURES

Certain comparative figures have been reclassified to conform to the current financial statement presentation. Prior periods have been restated for the impacts of the December 31, 2003 adoption of CICA Handbook Section on accounting for asset retirement obligations.

8. SEASONALITY

The natural gas distribution business is highly seasonal with the majority of natural gas deliveries occurring during the winter heating season. Gas sales during the winter typically account for approximately two-thirds of annual gas distribution revenue, resulting in strong first and fourth quarter results and second and third quarters that show either small profits or losses.

9. SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

Consolidated cash and short term investments at June 30, 2004 of $40.3 million arising largely from proceeds of the June 10, 2004 equity offering were held to repay debt instruments at their due dates. The debt of $341.0 million at June 30, 2004 would have been $300.7 million had the cash and short term investments been used to pay down debt on June 30, 2004. However, the application of the short term investments to debt balances occurred as debt instruments matured during July 2004, with the amount fully applied to debt by July 27, 2004.

On March 18, 2004, the Trust announced that it entered into a purchase and sale agreement with BP Canada Energy Resources Company (BP) to acquire BP's 48 2/3 percent interest in the Edmonton ethane extraction plant located at Edmonton, Alberta for approximately $46 million. The transaction is expected to close in third quarter 2004 after receipt of the provincial government approval of the transfer of operator licenses to AltaGas.

On May 26, 2004, the Trust announced that it executed a letter of intent to purchase the business of PremStar Energy Canada Ltd. and its subsidiaries ECNG Inc. and Energistics Group Inc. for approximately $22.0 million payable by way of 993,789 Trust units issued from the Trust's treasury plus $1.2 million cash. The transaction is conditional on the execution of a purchase and sale agreement, which is expected to occur in the third quarter of 2004.

On August 4, 2004 AltaGas Income Trust committed to purchase 20 percent of a public offering of 8,025,000 Taylor NGL Limited Partnership units at a price of $6.60 per unit or $10.6 million. As a result, AltaGas' ownership in Taylor will increase from 18.5 percent to approximately 18.9 percent of the outstanding limited partnership units of Taylor on closing of the offering anticipated to occur on or about August 19, 2004. This purchase is for investment purposes only and not for the purpose of influencing the control or direction of Taylor.

AltaGas NEWS RELEASE

ENBRIDGE CLOSES SALE OF ALTAGAS INVESTMENT

CALGARY, Alberta, August 10, 2004 – AltaGas Income Trust ("AltaGas") announced today that Enbridge Inc. (Enbridge) has completed the previously announced sale of 11,650,000 Trust units of AltaGas to a group of Canadian underwriters at a price of $19.75. This sale reduces Enbridge's interest in AltaGas from approximately 36 percent to 13 percent.

Enbridge has granted the underwriters an over-allotment option to purchase an additional 1,747,500 AltaGas Trust units at the issue price of $19.75 per unit at any time up to 30 days after closing of the offering. Should the over-allotment option be taken up Enbridge's interest in AltaGas would be reduced to under 10 percent.

The sale, excluding the over-allotment, realized net proceeds to Enbridge of approximately $217 million.

AltaGas moves energy from its source to the end user, adding value through the process. The Trust has consolidated assets totaling almost $950 million and a market capitalization of approximately $1 billion. STRONG OPERATIONAL PERFORMANCE LEADS TO RECORD RESULTS FOR ALTAGAS INCOME TRUST

CALGARY, Alberta, August 10, 2004 - AltaGas Income Trust (AltaGas or the Trust) (TSX: ALA.UN) today released its financial results for the second quarter and six months ended June 30, 2004. AltaGas declared a distribution of $0.15 per Trust unit and limited partnership unit (Exchangeable unit) (collectively Units) payable on September 15, 2004 to holders of record on August 25, 2004.

"Our operational performance was exceptional during the second quarter of 2004, our first quarter as an income trust, and we have posted the stronges second quarter and six month financial results in our history," said David Cornhill, AltaGas' Chairman and Chief Executive Officer. "That operationa performance was so strong that we achieved record operating income, even after absorbing in the second quarter $3.5 million in costs associated with ou conversion to an income trust and $1.7 million in one time turnaround costs at our Bantry field processing facility." Mr. Cornhill added "The outlool for the remainder of the year looks very positive. With the successful completion of our $88.5 million June equity offering our balance sheet is strong. We are working on several internal growth opportunities and expect to soon close our previously announced acquisitions of the Edmonton ethane extractio plant and PremStar Energy Canada Ltd."

HIGHLIGHTS

- Generated record funds from operations for the second quarter and the first six months of 2004. Funds from operations were $23.9 million fo the second quarter of 2004 compared to $20.8 million for the second quarter of 2003 and $45.5 million for the first six months of 200 compared to $42.7 million for the first six months of 2003.
- Increased second quarter net income to $11.9 million from $6.8 million for the same period of 2003. On a per Unit basis net income was $0.2 compared to $0.15 for the second quarter of 2003.
- Converted from a corporate structure to AltaGas Income Trust on May 1, 2004. The income trust structure will allow the Trust to reduce th cash tax liability of its corporate subsidiaries thereby increasing the amount of cash available for distribution to unitholders.
- Commenced monthly distributions of $0.15 per Unit on June 15, 2004 to holders of Units.
- Successfully closed on June 10, 2004, a public offering of 4,730,000 Trust units, raising gross proceeds of $88.5 million. Net proceeds o $83.8 million were applied to debt, reducing debt to total capitalization at June 30, 2004 to 39.9 percent from 52.2 percent at December 31, 2003
- Implemented Premium Distribution™, Distribution Reinvestment, and Optional Unit Purchase Plans (DRIP) for eligible holders of Units. DRI provides unitholders with the option to reinvest their distribution towards the purchase of new Trust units at a 5 percent discount to the averag market price of AltaGas Trust units trading on the Toronto Stock Exchange or for eligible investors to elect to exchange such Trust units for cash payment equal to 102 percent of such distribution. Complete details are available from investor relations or the Trust's website a www.altagas.ca.
- Finalized commercial arrangements regarding several strategic growth initiatives:
  - On May 26, 2004 AltaGas announced it had entered into an agreement to acquire PremStar Energy Canada Ltd. and its subsidiaries ECNC Inc. and Energistics Group Inc. for approximately $22.0 million payable by way of 993,789 AltaGas Trust Units plus approximately $1.2 million cash. The PremStar group is one of Canada's leading energy agency businesses, specialized in the procurement and supply of energ to end use customers.
  - Continued to grow through internal expansion projects in the field gathering and processing component. AltaGas has spent approximatel $6.0 million on various projects including the purchase of the remaining 25 percent of the Namaka field processing facility, the installatio of booster compression at Marten Creek and construction of a pipeline at the Doris facility.

- On July 21, 2004 Enbridge Inc. sold 11,650,000 Trust units of AltaGas to a group of Canadian underwriters at a price of $19.75. This sale reduced Enbridge's interest in AltaGas from approximately 36 percent to 13 percent. Commenting on the transaction Mr.Cornhill said "We are very pleased with the strong market response and successful sale of our Units by Enbridge. Since Enbridge made its initial investment in AltaGas five years ago we have tripled our asset base and grown our market capitalization by six times to over one billion dollars. Enbridge has been a good investor and received very good returns on their investment. We are supportive of their disposition and are pleased with the opportunity to realize our full growth potential and deliver substantial unitholder value to an expanded unitholder base."

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

This Management's Discussion and Analysis dated August 10, 2004 is a review of the results of operations and the liquidity and capital resources the AltaGas Income Trust (AltaGas or the Trust). It should be read in conjunction with the accompanying unaudited consolidated financial statements of the Trust, formerly AltaGas Services Inc. (ASI), for the three and six month periods ended June 30, 2004 and the notes thereto and with the financial statements and Management's Discussion and Analysis contained in ASI's annual report for the year ended December 31, 2003. The discussion and analysis of operations and unaudited interim consolidated financial statements presented herein report on a continuity-of-interest accounting basis which recognizes AltaGas Income Trust as the successor to AltaGas Services Inc.

Prospective data, comments and analysis are also provided wherever appropriate to assist investors to see the business from a management viewpoint. Such disclosure is subject to the reasonable constraints of maintaining the confidentiality of certain information which, if published could have an adverse impact on the competitive position of the Trust.

Additional information relating to AltaGas Income Trust can be found on its website at www.altagas.ca. The continuous disclosure materials of the Trust, filed as AltaGas Services Inc. prior to May 1, 2004, including its annual Management's Discussion and Analysis and audited financial statements, 2003 Annual Report, Annual Information Form, Information Circular and Proxy Statement, material change reports and press releases issued by the Trust are also available through the Trust's website or directly through the SEDAR system at www.sedar.com.

ALTAGAS INCOME TRUST

On April 29, 2004 the securityholders of AltaGas Services Inc. voted in favour of a plan of arrangement to reorganize the business of AltaGas Services Inc. into an open-ended investment trust effective May 1, 2004. For each common share of AltaGas Services Inc., shareholders received either one AltaGas Income Trust unit or one Exchangeable unit of AltaGas Income Trust. As a result of implementing the reorganization, AltaGas Income Trust now indirectly holds through its partnerships and subsidiaries all of the assets, liabilities and businesses formerly owned by AltaGas Services Inc. The material businesses are operated by AltaGas Holding Limited Partnership No.1, AltaGas Ltd., AltaGas Operating Partnership, AltaGas Power Holdings Partnership, AltaGas Pipelines Partnership and AltaGas Utilities Inc. (collectively the operating subsidiaries). The cash flow of AltaGas Income Trust is solely dependent on the results of the operating subsidiaries and is derived from dividends or returns of capital from common shares held and from interest earned on loans made by AltaGas Income Trust to the operating subsidiaries.

The Trust has incurred costs and charges to implement the conversion, which are anticipated to total approximately $14.4 million. In the second quarter of 2004 approximately $7.0 million has been charged to unitholders' capital, and $3.5 million has been charged to earnings. The balance is expected to be charged to earnings in the future.

DISTRIBUTIONS

AltaGas targets to pay out substantially all of its ongoing sustainable distributable cash flow through regular monthly distributions made to unitholders. The distributions are determined giving consideration to the consolidated net income, maintenance and growth capital requirements and the debt repayment requirements of AltaGas.

On April 29, 2004, AltaGas announced that AltaGas Income Trust would commence monthly distributions of $0.15 for each Trust unit and Exchangeable unit on June 15, 2004 to holders of Trust units and holders of Exchangeable units. AltaGas pays cash distributions on the 15th day of each month to unitholders of record on the 25th day of the previous month, or the following business day if it falls on a weekend or holiday. AltaGas paid its first distribution of $0.15 per unit on June 15, 2004 to unitholders of record on May 25, 2004 and paid $0.15 per unit on July 15, 2004 to unitholders of record on June 25, 2004. During the second quarter and first six months of 2004 the Trust paid distributions to unitholders of $6.9 million. At June 30, 2004, the Trust has accrued $7.7 million of distributions payable to unitholders related to the July 15, 2004 distribution. Distribution levels will be reviewed periodically giving consideration to AltaGas' growth-related initiatives, financial position, financing requirements, cash flow and other relevant factors. The following table summarizes AltaGas' dividend and distribution history.[1]

(1) Dividends were paid from first quarter 2001 through first quarter 2004. Prior to December 2000 no dividends were paid. Monthly distributions begin in second quarter of 2004.
(2) Monthly distributions of $0.15 per Unit have been declared for payment on both August 16, 2004 and September 15, 2004.

For income tax purposes the Trust expects that approximately 70 percent of the distributions declared in 2004 will be taxed as interest with the remaining 30 percent to be classified as a combination of dividends and return of capital. For most unitholders, the return of capital amount will reduce the cost base of their Trust units for purposes of calculating the capital gains amount upon disposition of their Units. Unitholders should seek independent tax advice in respect of the consequences to them of acquiring, holding and disposing of Units.

AltaGas' net income for the second quarter and first half of 2004 is the highest net income AltaGas has generated in comparable periods since its formation and continues the growth trend achieved throughout its 10 year history. The driver for this performance is the exceptional operating performance from AltaGas' business components. The strong operational performance and the favorable impact of two months operation as a Trust and the associated reduced income tax expense more than offset one time costs related to AltaGas' Bantry facility turnaround in May, 2004 and the conversion to an income trust.

Revenue of $368.9 million for the first six months of 2004 is one percent lower than the same period last year due mainly to the lower average prices received for natural gas in the Natural Gas Distribution and Energy Services segments. For the three months ended June 30, 2004 revenue is up four percent to $175.4 million compared to the same period in 2003 on the strength of volume increases in all segments, and higher power prices in the power services component only partially offset by lower prices in the Natural Gas Distribution segment.

Net revenue (gross revenue less cost of sales) increased eleven percent for the first six months and sixteen percent for the second quarter 2004 compared to the same periods in 2003 due to volume increases. In the extraction component and the Natural Gas Distribution and Energy Services segments, net revenue better reflects performance than does revenue, as changes in the market price of natural gas and power purchased for resale affect both revenue and the cost of sales.

Volume increases in the Gathering and Processing segment were driven by well tie-ins, expansions, modifications at existing facilities and the Rainbow Lake and Mica Pouce Coupe field gathering and processing acquisitions in late 2003. In the Energy Services segment, power volumes sold were higher in the first half of 2004 over the same period of 2003, due to the addition on April 1, 2003 of volumes associated with the Genesee energy contract. Natural Gas Distribution sales volumes at AltaGas Utilities Inc. were up in 2004, for both the second quarter and six months, when compared to the same periods in 2003 based on an increased customer base.

Operating costs and general and administrative expense were both higher in the second quarter and first six months of 2004 compared to 2003. Operating costs increased due to the late 2003 field gathering and processing facilities acquisitions and due to a major turnaround required at the Bantry facility for $1.7 million. General and administrative expense increased due to $1.1 million cash costs related to the conversion to an income trust, an additional $2.4 million in non-cash compensation expense recorded as a result of all outstanding unvested employee trust unit options vesting effective May 1, 2004, and due to increased staffing required to support the Trust's growth. Amortization expense was up four percent for the six months of 2004 compared to the same period in the prior year and four percent for the second quarter of 2004 compared to 2003. The increases are due mainly to Gathering and Processing segment acquisitions and expansions during 2003 and the first half of 2004.

Interest expense was lower in the first six months of 2004 compared to the first six months of 2003 due to lower average debt outstanding combined with lower interest rates. Average debt outstanding is lower due to the strong cash generation experienced by AltaGas and due to the net proceeds of the June 2004 Trust unit offering being applied to debt.

AltaGas' income is subject to a variety of tax rates and rate reductions currently and in the future. Consequently there are several items which impact income tax expense and the effective tax rate from period to period. Income tax expense for the first half of 2004 was $5.3 million less than reported for the same period of 2003 even though income before tax was higher. As a result of AltaGas' conversion into an income trust, amortization expense exceeds capital cost allowance claimed, resulting in a reversal over time of the future income tax liability. AltaGas' first two months as a Trust resulted in a credit to income tax expense of $4.2 million. Also contributing to the variance from 2003 to 2004 in the effective income tax rate was a $0.7 million charge in the second quarter 2003 to future income tax liability to record the impact of federal rate and resource allowance adjustments. Income tax expense for the six months of 2004 was reduced by $0.7 million as a result of the application of a provincial rate reduction arising out of the March 19, 2004 Alberta Government's budget. The impact of recording a charge to income for compensation expense related to stock options, which has no current or future income tax implication, partially offset these rate reductions by $0.8 million.

NON-GAAP FINANCIAL MEASURES

AltaGas provides certain financial measures in this Management's Discussion and Analysis that do not have a standardized meaning prescribed by Canadian generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP). These non-GAAP financial measures may not be comparable to similar measures presented by other Trusts.

The purpose of these financial measures and their reconciliation to GAAP financial measures is shown below. All of the measures have been calculated consistent with previous disclosures by AltaGas. All amounts are in millions of Canadian dollars unless otherwise noted.

Funds Generated From Operations	Three months ended June 30		Six months ended June 30
($ millions)	2004	2003	2004	2003
Non-GAAP financial measure	23.9	20.8	45.5	42.7
Add (deduct): Net change in non-cash working capital	1.0	(2.2)	3.6	6.7
Cash from operations (GAAP financial measure)	24.9	18.6	49.1	49.4

Funds generated from operations is provided to assist in determining the ability of AltaGas to generate cash from operations after interest and taxes without regard to changes in the Trust's working capital in the period.

EBITDA	Three months ended June 30		Six months ended June 30
($ millions)	2004	2003	2004	2003
Non-GAAP financial measure	27.8	27.4	59.0	58.1
Deduct: Amortization	(10.2)	(9.8)	(20.3)	(19.6)
Operating Income (GAAP financial measure)	17.6	17.6	38.7	38.5

Earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization (EBITDA) is provided to assist in understanding the ability of the organization to generate cash and its ability to cover interest payments.

Distributable Cash Flow	Three months ended June 30		Six months ended June 30
($ millions)	2004	2003	2004	2003
Funds generated from operations	23.9	20.8	45.5	42.7
Deduct: Maintenance capital expenditures	(1.5)	(1.2)	(3.3)	(3.0)
Distributable cash flow	22.4	19.6	42.2	39.7
Distributable cash flow per trust unit, basic	0.48	n/a	0.91	n/a

The distributable cash flow of AltaGas is equal to consolidated funds generated from operations before changes in non-cash working capital, after providing for maintenance capital expenditures. Distributable cash flow is not a defined performance measure under GAAP and distributable cash flow can not be assured. The Trust's calculation of distributable cash flow may differ from similar calculations used by comparable entities. Distributable cash flow is a main performance measure used by management and investors to evaluate the performance of the Trust and its operating subsidiaries.

Net revenue	Three months ended June 30		Six months ended June 30
($ millions)	2004	2003	2004	2003
Non-GAAP financial measure	59.5	51.2	116.7	105.6
Add: Cost of goods sold	115.9	117.2	252.2	267.1
Revenue (GAAP financial measure)	175.4	168.4	368.9	372.7

In the extraction component and the Natural Gas Distribution and Energy Services segments, net revenue better reflects performance than does revenue. As changes in the market price of natural gas and power purchased for resale affect both revenue and the cost of sales, net revenue better reflects organic growth in the business than does revenue. This table reconciles the revenue and net revenue amounts in the table for Financial and Operating Results for the Gathering and Processing segment to illustrate the relationship between these non-GAAP and GAAP measures where used throughout this Management's Discussion and Analysis.

AltaGas natural gas processing capacity ranks the Trust in the top ten Canadian processors of natural gas and one of the top four largest Canadian midstream processors. The Gathering and Processing segment includes more than 6,000 kilometers of gathering lines,

69 natural gas processing plants, interests in four ethane and natural gas liquids (NGLs) extraction facilities and six transmission pipelines. These long-life assets provide service to a diverse customer base under arrangements which include a significant portion of cost of service, fixed fee and recovery of operating cost contracts. Commodity price exposure is minimal and revenues are generally volume driven. Future opportunities derive from the requirement that all natural gas must be processed to meet downstream pipeline specifications prior to delivery to the end user. With its extensive gathering infrastructure and the mobile nature of its field gathering and processing plants, AltaGas can quickly redeploy assets in response to producer drilling activity, size facilities to meet demand while reducing operating costs and minimize the time required to bring new production on line, accelerating producer and AltaGas' cash flow.

Net revenue for AltaGas' Gathering and Processing segment was $76.6 million for the six months ended June 30, 2004, compared to $67.2 million for 2003 and $38.8 million for the second quarter of 2004 compared to $33.0 million for same period in 2003. Net revenue growth in this segment was the result of increased volumes processed in the field gathering and processing, extraction and transmission components.

In the field gathering and processing component volumes processed rose due to the December, 2003 acquisition of the Rainbow Lake facilities in northwestern Alberta and due to the record 253 well tie-ins experienced in AltaGas' operating areas during the first half of 2004. Gas drilling activity in the Western Canadian Sedimentary Basin continued to strengthen during the second quarter of 2004, resulting in 98 wells tied-in to AltaGas' field gathering and processing facilities in the second quarter compared with 62 well tie-ins during the same period in 2003. The strong tie-in activity, along with new volumes from the Rainbow Lake acquisition more than offset normal natural gas production declines and increased AltaGas' gross average throughput to 563 Mmcf/d during the second quarter of 2004 compared to 510 Mmcf/d during the second quarter of 2003. These volume increases resulted in field gathering and processing net revenue of $28.4 million in the second quarter of 2004 compared to $24.0 million during the same period in 2003 and $55.0 million and $48.3 million for the first six months of 2004 and 2003 respectively.

AltaGas continues to grow through its program of internal expansion. In the field gathering and processing component, the remaining 25 percent of the Namaka facility was purchased, booster compression was installed at the Marten Creek facility and at the Doris facility construction of a pipeline was completed that will open up access to new processing areas with the potential to double throughput by year-end. Both development projects are supported by producer commitments designed to minimize AltaGas' financial exposure to throughput declines. During the first half of 2004, AltaGas invested approximately $6.0 million in these projects for throughput increases of approximately 11 Mmcf/d, and an additional $1.0 million in maintenance capital.

In the extraction component, processed volumes for the second quarter of 2004 increased substantially reaching 9,337 Bbls/d of NGLs compared to an average of 7,140 Bbls/d for the same period in 2003. Contributing to the increase were modifications made to the Empress EnCana extraction facility that increased ethane production effective the fourth quarter of 2003 as well as increased production at the Joffre ethane extraction plant compared to last year due to NGLs that were reinjected in the second quarter of 2003 as a result of lower gas to liquids price differential. As a result of the higher volumes processed and a favourable NGL pricing environment, net revenue for the extraction component grew 59 percent during the second quarter of 2004 compared to the second quarter of 2003, reaching $3.6 million.

Late in the first quarter of 2004, AltaGas entered into a purchase and sale agreement with BP Canada Energy Resources Company (BP) for BP's 48 2/3 percent interest in the Edmonton ethane extraction plant (EEEP) located at Edmonton, Alberta. AltaGas has invested $7.1 million as a deposit on this plant in the first half of 2004. The plant has a licensed inlet capacity of 390 Mmcf/d of natural gas and gross natural gas liquids production of approximately 15,000 Bbls/d of specification ethane and 6,000 Bbls/d of propane-plus product. The acquisition will increase AltaGas' total net inlet extraction capacity to 539 Mmcf/d. AltaGas' share of plant products will be sold under long-term contracts and a long-term gas supply contract provides secure feedstock supply to EEEP. AltaGas will operate the facility and expects to close the acquisition in the third quarter of 2004 after the provincial government approval of the transfer of operator licenses to AltaGas. The $46.0 million purchase price was effective January 1, 2004 and will be reduced by EEEP's operating margin to that date to closing.

Net revenue in AltaGas' transmission component was flat for the second quarter of 2004 when compared to the same quarter of 2003 but up six percent on a year over year basis due to increased EnCana volume commitments on the Suffield transmission system.

ENERGY SERVICES

The Energy Services segment is comprised of the power services, gas services and oil and gas production components. The financial results of the power services component account for a significant portion of overall segment financial results and as such the commentary in this section will be restricted to the power services component.

(1) Average for the period

In the second quarter of 2004 AltaGas had 453 megawatts of power capacity which represents approximately six percent of Alberta's total power capacity. AltaGas entered into the Genesee energy contract on April 1, 2003 and as a result volumes sold in the six month period ended June 30, 2004 are higher than volumes sold in the prior year's six month period. The power services component generated net revenue of $20.7 million for the first half of 2004 compared to $18.1 million for the same period in 2003 and $13.0 million for second quarter 2004 compared to $10.8 million in 2003. The result of the higher volumes sold and higher realized prices ($47.83 per MWh in 2004 compared to $46.76 per MWh in 2003) drove the increase in net revenues. The Alberta Electric System Operator (AESO) is entitled to recover or refund variances between revenues collected through transmission charges and expenses incurred by AESO through true up adjustments calculated quarterly. For 2004, the cumulative adjustment has resulted in a net charge to AltaGas' income of $0.6 million while for 2003 the amount was a credit to income of $1.6 million.

AltaGas does not engage in speculative trading of power but reduces its exposure to power price volatility by using a balanced portfolio of contracts to lock in power margins. The average price AltaGas received from power sales in the second quarter of 2004 was $49.88 per MWh compared to $45.78 per MWh in the second quarter of 2003. Average Alberta Power Pool spot prices were $60.07 per MWh and $50.88 per MWh in the second quarters of 2004 and 2003 respectively.

During the quarter AltaGas advanced an opportunity to build its low risk, fee for service, gas services component. On May 26, 2004, AltaGas announced that a subsidiary of the Trust executed a letter of intent to purchase the business of PremStar Energy Canada Ltd. for approximately $22.0 million payable by way of 993,789 Trust units issued from the Trust's treasury plus approximately $1.2 million cash. The PremStar group is one of Canada's leading energy agency businesses, specializing in the procurement and supply of energy to end use customers located primarily in Ontario. On a fee for service basis, the PremStar group provides energy supply, arranges for transportation services, and supports customers with valuable market information. The transaction is expected to close in the third quarter of 2004.

In this segment, the Trust also reports the results of the oil and gas production component and the gas services component. AltaGas is not in the business of exploration and development of natural gas reserves. However, associated with certain of its facility acquisitions, AltaGas has accumulated a portfolio of oil and natural gas reserves that it continues to hold and produce.

NATURAL GAS DISTRIBUTION

The Natural Gas Distribution segment includes AltaGas Utilities Inc. (AltaGas Utilities or AUI), AltaGas' one-third interest in Inuvik Gas Ltd. (Inuvik Gas) and its 24.9 percent interest in Heritage Gas Limited (Heritage Gas).

In the first half of 2004, net revenue in AltaGas' Natural Gas Distribution segment was $15.9 million compared to $16.4 million for the same period in 2003. This decrease is due partially to warmer weather in 2004 compared to the first half of 2003 and to the impact of completion of negotiations on AUI's general rate application filed with the Alberta Energy and Utilities Board (AEUB). Heritage Gas, 24.9 percent owned by AltaGas, activated its natural gas distribution system in late December 2003. Heritage Gas is in the initial stages of its planned growth and consequently has not had a material impact on AltaGas' consolidated results in the first half of 2004.

In the second quarter of 2004, net revenue in AltaGas' Natural Gas Distribution segment was $6.2 million compared to $5.8 million for the same period in 2003. This increase is due to higher sales and transportation volumes in 2004 compared to the second quarter of 2003. AUI and Heritage Gas are provincially regulated as to natural gas rates and terms and conditions of service. Customer rates are based on anticipated sales as well as the revenue required to recover estimated cost of service and an allowed return on rate base. Rate base generally consists of the aggregate of the utility's approved investment in plant, property and equipment in service, less accumulated depreciation plus an allowance for working capital. Return on rate base is comprised of regulatory allowed financing costs and return on common equity. Lower than anticipated cost rates for debt and common equity as negotiated and approved for 2003 resulted in a charge to net income of $0.5 million in the first quarter of 2004 related to previously recorded 2003 results. On July 2, 2004 the AEUB issued its Generic Cost of Capital decision. The decision established for AUI the 2004 rate of return on common equity at 9.6 percent and 2004 capital structure at 41 percent equity and 59 percent debt resulting in final allowable rates for interest expense and return on common equity.

The natural gas distribution business is highly seasonal with the majority of natural gas deliveries occurring during the winter heating season. Gas sales during the winter typically account for approximately two-thirds of annual distribution net revenue, resulting in strong first and fourth quarter results and second and third quarters that show either small profits or losses.

Identifiable trends in AltaGas' business across the past eight quarters reflect the organization's growth, a favorable business environment, and seasonality in the business. The first and last quarters each year are AltaGas' most profitable on the basis of the contribution from the Natural Gas Distribution segment which, as a distributor of natural gas for heating purposes, reports higher earnings in colder periods than in warmer periods.

Excellent consolidated results for the third quarter of 2002 of $5.7 million in net income were the combined result of strong performance in the power services component with higher power prices, seasonally higher results in the Natural Gas Distribution segment and solid performance from all components in the Gathering and Processing segment. AltaGas' approach to managing fluctuations in the price of power by locking in margins through forward sales contributed to the gains in the power services component. Increased extraction production driven by stronger business fundamentals allowing AltaGas to utilize more of its available extraction capacity also had a positive impact on results. The Gathering and Processing segment continued to maintain throughput essentially at levels processed in prior periods even though producer activity slowed generally due to continued uncertainty over the strength of near term gas prices. The Board of Directors increased AltaGas' quarterly dividend to $0.08 per share from the $0.06 paid for the previous four quarters based on the strength of the business' ability to generate cash flows.

The fourth quarter of 2002 was the strongest quarter to that date for the Corporation at $11.2 million in net income on the basis of an increased customer base in the Natural Gas Distribution segment and from power sales which AltaGas commenced at the beginning of 2002. Fourth quarter 2002 net income was also higher than in the previous quarter of the year due to the higher seasonal contribution from the Natural Gas Distribution segment. The Suffield pipeline and Wabasca field gathering and processing facilities were acquired and construction of the Joffre ethane extraction plant was commissioned late in the quarter.

Net income of $10.2 million in the first quarter of 2003 set a new high for ASI for that period in a year. The projects and acquisitions undertaken in the fourth quarter of 2002 were the main drivers of this performance, along with an improved business environment in all business segments. The Wabasca facilities acquisition increased throughput in the field gathering and processing component as did sharply increased tie-in activity with a record 85 wells tied-in during the first quarter. Final commissioning of the Joffre ethane extraction plant provided volume increases in the extraction component and volumes in the transmission component were higher due to the Suffield pipelines acquisition. Unplanned outages in the power services component, combined with higher than expected transmission costs due to changes in process at the Transmission Authority, partially offset the gains made in the other segments. AltaGas commenced selling power on April 1, 2003 from the Genesee energy contract it entered into which arrangement provides for 100 megawatts of power capacity from the Genesee power plant.

Second quarter 2003 net income was $6.8 million, 39 percent higher than the same quarter 2002, a result of stronger contributions from the transmission, power services and extraction components. Increases in the transmission component related to the Suffield pipeline acquisition at the end of 2002. In the power services component, increases in net revenue were driven by higher average prices received and by the increased volumes sold resulting from the Genesee energy contract. Extraction component performance was better than the same quarter in the prior year as a result of the commissioning of the Joffre ethane extraction plant at the end of 2002. Improved operating income was offset by higher interest expense due to higher debt levels in the second quarter of 2003 when compared to the same quarter of the prior year, and as a result of a charge to income for legislative changes to the taxation of resource income.

Power services, extraction and transmission components were again the key contributors in the third quarter of 2003 to a 63 percent increase in net income to $9.3 million when compared to the third quarter of 2002, the business drivers for which are those same ones responsible for the increases in each of the previous two quarters of 2003 when compared to the appropriate prior periods.

Operating results were very strong on the basis of contributions from the transmission, power services and extraction components. Late in the quarter modifications were completed to the EnCana-operated Empress extraction facility, increasing AltaGas' net production capability by an estimated 1,400 Bbls/d. AltaGas paid a quarterly dividend of $0.11 per share, up from $0.08 per share in the second quarter of 2003 on the basis of the increased strength and sustainability of AltaGas' earnings.

Fourth quarter 2003 net income of $12.0 million, including an unfavorable income tax expense charge of $1.2 million related to announced changes in federal large corporations tax legislation, was still the highest quarterly net income reported by AltaGas since it was formed. The increase from the prior year's quarter was a result of the late 2002 gathering and processing segment acquisitions and incremental power volumes sold from the Genesee energy contract and to the completion of modifications to increase ethane production at the EnCana-operated Empress extraction plant late in the third quarter of 2003.

First quarter 2004 produced another record net income of $11.0 million for that period in a year based on increased volumes in the Gathering and Processing and Energy Services segments which were partially offset by lower margins in the Energy Services segment and warmer weather and regulatory adjustments in the Natural Gas Distribution segment.

Second quarter 2004 results are discussed in detail in an earlier section of this Management's Discussion and Analysis.

CHANGES IN ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Effective January 1, 2004, AltaGas prospectively adopted the provisions of the CICA's new Accounting Guideline "Hedging Relationships" that specifies the circumstances in which hedge accounting is appropriate, including the identification, documentation, designation and effectiveness of hedges, and the discontinuance of hedge accounting. AltaGas has determined that its hedging documentation meets the requirements of the Guideline and therefore there has been no impact on the consolidated financial statements.

Effective the first quarter of 2004, AltaGas' changed its accounting policy for stock-based compensation, now recognizing the compensation expense related to stock options in the financial statements according to the fair-value method. Prior to the change in policy, the Trust disclosed the impact of the accounting for stock options under the fair-value method on a pro-forma basis. Under the provisions set out by the CICA, AltaGas has adopted the change retroactively. The impact was to reduce retained earnings at January 1, 2004 by $332 thousand, and to reduce first quarter 2004 earnings by $136 thousand which amounts were based on the vesting status and exercise assumptions in existence at the end of the first quarter 2004. Subsequent to the conversion of AltaGas Services Inc. to an income trust all unvested options became fully vested. The charge to income in second quarter 2004 to reflect this early vesting was $2.4 million.

CRITICAL ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES

Since a determination of many assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses is dependent upon future events, the preparation of the Trust's consolidated financial statements requires the use of estimates and assumptions which have been made using careful judgment. AltaGas' critical accounting estimates continue to be amortization expense, asset retirement obligations and asset impairment assessment. For further information on these critical accounting estimates, refer to Management's Discussion and Analysis in ASI's 2003 Annual Report.

FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

AltaGas enters into financial derivative contracts such as swaps and collars to manage exposure to fluctuations in commodity prices and interest rates, particularly in the power services component and interest rates on debt. These contracts are designed as hedges and gains and losses relating to such contracts are deferred and recognized in the same period and financial statement category as the corresponding hedged transaction.

The most significant impact of these contracts on 2004 business has been to provide revenue stability in the power services component. Alberta Power Pool daily average spot prices ranged from $38.86 per MWh to $70.43 per MWh in the second quarter of 2004. Through the use of financial hedges on a portion of its power portfolio deemed optimal by management, AltaGas moderated the impact of this volatility.

AltaGas reduces financing costs and minimizes the effect of future interest rate movements on its cash flows through the use of interest rate swaps. At June 30, 2004 AltaGas had interest rates fixed through swap transactions with varying terms to maturity on $200.0 million of its $241.0 million drawn debt. Including AltaGas' medium term notes, the rate has been fixed on 88 percent of AltaGas' total debt. The amount of fixed rate debt was higher than AltaGas' target of 70 to 75 percent of total debt due to the proceeds of the equity offering being applied to debt.

CAPITAL EXPENDITURES

Capital expenditures by the Trust for the second quarter and first half of 2004 were $6.2 million and $20.5 million compared to $4.9 million and $12.5 million for the same respective periods of 2003 and are summarized as follows:

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

Funds generated from operations were $45.5 million in the first six months of 2004 compared to $42.7 million for the same period in 2003.

AltaGas believes that its access to debt and equity markets, unutilized bank credit facilities, funds generated from operations and funds generated from the Trust's Distribution Reinvestment and Premium Distribution™ programs will provide it with sufficient capital resources and liquidity to fund existing operations, future distributions, and certain acquisition and expansion opportunities in 2004. A description of the AltaGas' credit facilities can be found in Notes 6 and 7 to the consolidated financial statements included in ASI's 2003 Annual Report further updated in the Trust unit offering Final Short-Form Prospectus dated July 29, 2004.

The use of debt or equity funding is determined on the basis of AltaGas' capital structure determined by considering the norms and risks associated with each of its business components and segments. AltaGas Operating Partnership has $100 million in medium term notes outstanding and AltaGas Ltd. has access to prime loans, banker's acceptances and letters of credit though bank lines of approximately $425 million. These two entities fund all operating subsidiaries. At June 30, 2004 AltaGas Ltd had drawn debt of $241.0 million and letters of credit outstanding of $29.7 million. Consolidated cash and short term investments at June 30, 2004 of $40.3 million arising largely from proceeds of the June 10, 2004 equity offering were held to repay debt instruments at their due dates. If the cash and short term investments had been applied to the debt balance at June 30, 2004, net debt for the Trust would have been $300.7 million on which basis AltaGas' net debt to total capitalization ratio decreased to 39.9 percent at June 30, 2004 from 53.3 percent at June 30, 2003 and 52.2 percent at December 31, 2003. As an income trust, AltaGas targets a debt to total capitalization ratio between 45 percent and 50 percent.

On June 10, 2004 AltaGas Income Trust closed a public offering of 4,730,000 Trust units, at a price of $18.70 per Trust unit for gross proceeds of $88.5 million. The offering included the concurrent exercise by the Underwriters of an over-allotment option granted by AltaGas to purchase an additional 10 percent of the issue or 430,000 Trust units on the same terms. The net proceeds of the offering to the Trust, after payment of fees and expenses of $4.7 million was approximately $83.8 million. The net proceeds were used to reduce bank indebtedness, which may be redrawn and used for general corporate purposes including AltaGas' ongoing capital program, funding the acquisition of the Edmonton ethane extraction plant and funding future acquisitions.

On May 20, 2004 AltaGas adopted Premium Distribution™, Distribution Reinvestment and Optional Unit Purchase Plans (DRIP) for eligible holders of Trust units and Exchangeable units of AltaGas Income Trust, AltaGas Holding Limited Partnership No. 1 and AltaGas Holding Limited Partnership No. 2. DRIP participation in the second quarter of 2004 averaged approximately 10 percent and generated $0.4 million in new equity through the issuance of 20,344 Trust units. Complete details on DRIP are available on the AltaGas website at www.altagas.ca.

Following AltaGas' announcement in March of its then proposed conversion to a trust Standard & Poor's (S&P) confirmed the rating on AltaGas' long term corporate credit at BBB- with a negative outlook and the rating on the senior unsecured debt at BBB-. The Dominion Bond Rating Service (DBRS) confirmed the rating of AltaGas Income Trust at BBB (low) with a stable trend and applied the same rating to AltaGas Operating Partnership and the medium term notes held by AltaGas Operating Partnership. AltaGas is currently seeking a trust stability rating from S&P and DBRS.

TRUST UNIT INFORMATION

Under the terms of the restructuring of AltaGas into an income trust effective May 1, 2004, ASI securityholders exchanged their shares in the company for Trust units and eligible securityholders also received Exchangeable units that are exchangeable into Trust units on a one for one basis. The Exchangeable units do not trade on the TSX.

As of July 31, 2004 the Trust has 39.1 million Trust units and 12.2 million Exchangeable units outstanding and a market capitalization of $1.0 billion based on a closing trading price on July 31, 2004 of $19.70 per Trust unit. There are 0.8 million Options exercisable under the terms of the Unit option agreement brought forward in the reorganization. All options under this plan have vested effective May 1, 2004.

OFF BALANCE SHEET ARRANGEMENTS

The Trust is not party to any contractual arrangement under which an unconsolidated entity may have any obligation under certain guarantee contracts, a retained or contingent interest in assets transferred to an unconsolidated entity or similar arrangement that serves as credit, liquidity or market risk support to that entity for such assets. The Trust has no obligation under derivative instruments, nor under a material variable interest in an unconsolidated entity that provides financing, liquidity, market risk or credit risk support to the registrant, or engages in leasing, hedging or research and development services with the registrant.

CONTRACTUAL OBLIGATIONS

There have been no material changes to AltaGas' contractual obligations, including payments due for each of the next five years and thereafter, since December 31, 2003. For further information on these contractual obligations, refer to Management's Discussion and Analysis in ASI's 2003 Annual Report.

RELATED PARTIES

On March 19, 2004 AltaGas purchased 320,000 units of Taylor NGL Limited Partnership (Taylor) at a cost of $2.2 million. AltaGas' interest in Taylor after this purchase is 18.5 percent. Taylor's business is the ownership and operatorship of facilities in the midstream sector of the Western Canadian natural gas industry including the Joffre ethane extraction plant in which AltaGas has a 50 percent ownership interest.

On July 21, 2004 AltaGas announced that Enbridge Inc. sold 11,650,000 Trust units of AltaGas to a group of Canadian underwriters at a price of $19.75. This sale reduced Enbridge's interest in AltaGas from approximately 36 percent to 13 percent. In addition, the underwriters have been granted an over-allotment option to purchase an additional 1,747,500 Trust units at the issue price of $19.75 per unit at any time up to 30 days after closing of the offering anticipated on or about August 10, 2004. Should the over-allotment option be taken up Enbridge's interest in AltaGas would be reduced to under 10 percent.

OUTLOOK

The outlook for the balance of 2004 is expected to be very positive particularly due to the increased drilling activity in the Gathering and Processing segment. Drilling activity in the majority of AltaGas' operating areas is expected to remain strong given the favorable commodity pricing environment. In addition, exploitation of opportunities in existing businesses and processes are expected to increase processed volumes. In the Energy Services segment, power prices are expected to be higher providing improved earnings on the unhedged portion of the AltaGas' power portfolio.

UNITHOLDER LIMITED LIABILITY LEGISLATION

Legislation came into effect in Alberta on July 1, 2004 to provide limited liability for holders of trust units, similar to protection afforded to investors of corporations. The legislation covers events that occur on or after July 1, 2004 and extends to all unitholders of AltaGas Income Trust, which is registered in Alberta, including non-residents. The legislation does not remove the issue of unlimited liability for any acts or omissions that occurred prior to July 1, 2004.

Prior to the July 1 amendments, the legislation governing the creation of trusts did not contain explicit language which limited the liability of unitholders of the Trust to their equity investment in the Trust. As a result, there has existed a possibility that unitholders of the Trust may not be protected from liabilities of the Trust to the same extent as a shareholder of a publicly traded corporation and that potentially, unitholders could be liable for tort claims such as environmental claims. The AltaGas Income Trust indenture itself provides that no unitholder will be subject to any liability in connection with the Trust or its obligations and affairs or for any act or omission of the Trustee, provided that in the event that a court determines that unitholders are subject to such liabilities, the liabilities will be enforceable only against and will be satisfied out of the Trust's assets. The trust indenture also provides that contracts to which the Trust is a party should contain language restricting the liability of unitholders.

1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

AltaGas Income Trust (the Trust) is an unincorporated open-ended trust established under the laws of Canada, pursuant to a Declaration of Trust dated March 26, 2004. The Trust commenced operations on May 1, 2004 as successor to AltaGas Services Inc. (ASI) when it acquired all of the shares of ASI for consideration of Trust units or Exchangeable units on a one for one basis. As a result, these unaudited interim consolidated financial statements follow the continuity of interest basis of accounting as if the Trust had always existed. As a result, the comparative figures are those of ASI while the results of operations include ASI's results for the period up to and including April 30, 2004 and the Trust's results of operations from May 1, 2004 to June 30, 2004.

The Trust makes monthly cash distributions to unitholders of Trust units and Exchangeable units (Unitholders) based on the Trust's distribution policy.

The interim consolidated financial statements of the Trust have been prepared by management in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles. The accounting policies applied are consistent with those outlined in ASI's annual consolidated financial statements for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2003, except as noted below in note 2. These interim consolidated financial statements for the quarter ending June 30, 2004 do not include all of the disclosures required in the annual financial statements, and should be read in conjunction with the audited consolidated financial statements included in ASI's 2003 Annual Report.

2. CHANGE IN ACCOUNTING POLICY

Effective January 1, 2004, the Trust adopted the new Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants standard for accounting for stock-based compensation (Section 3870), which requires the use of the fair value method to account for stock options. Based on the Black-Scholes option valuation model, stock options are valued at the date of the grant and recognized as compensation expense over their expected life.

This change in accounting policy has been adopted retroactively without restatement of individual prior periods. In accordance with Section 3870, only stock options issued on, or after, the initial adoption date of the section are recognized in the financial statements. No compensation expense is recorded for stock options issued and outstanding prior to January 1, 2002. This change in accounting policy resulted in a reduction of opening retained earnings for 2004 of $332 thousand with an offset to contributed surplus within unitholders' equity. Stock option compensation expense for the three months ended June 30, 2004 was $2.4 million (six months ended June 30, 2004 was $2.5 million) with corresponding offsets to contributed surplus.

3. UNITHOLDERS' EQUITY

The Trust has an employee unit option plan under which both employees and directors are eligible to receive grants. At June 30, 2004 3,800,000 units were reserved for issuance under the plan. To June 30, 2004 options granted under the plan generally had a term of ten years to expiry and vested no longer than over a four year period. Options outstanding under the plan have a weighted average exercise price of $9.61 and a weighted average remaining contractual life of 7.73 years.

As at May 1, 2004 all unvested options of ASI vested and all options were converted to options of the Trust. This accelerated vesting resulted in a stock option compensation expense of $2.4 million in the three month period ended June 30, 2004.

	Number of Options	Weighted Average Exercise Price

Exercisable at June 30, 2004	866,811	$ 9.61

The basic number of Units outstanding for the six months ended June 30, 2004 was 46.6 million (June 30, 2003 - 45.3 million ASI shares) and the diluted number of Units outstanding for the six months ended June 30, 2004 was 47.4 million (June 30, 2003 - 45.7 million ASI shares).

4. RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

On March 18, 2004, the Trust purchased an additional 320,000 limited partnership units of Taylor NGL Limited Partnership (Taylor) for $2.2 million. The purchase resulted in a dilution of the Trust's ownership in Taylor from 19.2 to 18.5 percent and an unrealized dilution gain of $192 thousand.

5. SEGMENTED INFORMATION

AltaGas is a midstream energy trust with a portfolio of assets and services used to move energy from the source to the end-user. The Trust has three reportable segments:

Gathering and Processing - natural gas gathering and processing, natural gas transmission, and ethane and natural gas liquids extraction.

Energy Services - power services, gas services and oil and natural gas production.

Natural Gas Distribution - natural gas distribution to end users and related services.

6. EMPLOYEE FUTURE BENEFITS

Substantially all full-time employees of the Company's natural gas distribution subsidiary, AltaGas Utilities Inc., are members of one of two defined benefit non-contributory pension plans. AltaGas Utilities Inc. also has plans that provide other post-retirement benefits such as life insurance and health care.

The total benefit cost expensed for the three and six months ended June 30, 2004 is $0.3 million (2003 - $0.2 million) and $0.6 million (2003 - $0.5 million).

7. COMPARATIVE FIGURES

Certain comparative figures have been reclassified to conform to the current financial statement presentation. Prior periods have been restated for the impacts of the December 31, 2003 adoption of CICA Handbook Section on accounting for asset retirement obligations.

8. SEASONALITY

The natural gas distribution business is highly seasonal with the majority of natural gas deliveries occurring during the winter heating season. Gas sales during the winter typically account for approximately two-thirds of annual gas distribution revenue, resulting in strong first and fourth quarter results and second and third quarters that show either small profits or losses.

9. SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

Consolidated cash and short term investments at June 30, 2004 of $40.3 million arising largely from proceeds of the June 10, 2004 equity offering were held to repay debt instruments at their due dates. The debt of $341.0 million at June 30, 2004 would have been $300.7 million had the cash and short term investments been used to pay down debt on June 30, 2004. However, the application of the short term investments to debt balances occurred as debt instruments matured during July 2004, with the amount fully applied to debt by July 27, 2004.

On March 18, 2004, the Trust announced that it entered into a purchase and sale agreement with BP Canada Energy Resources Company (BP) to acquire BP's 48 2/3 percent interest in the Edmonton ethane extraction plant located at Edmonton, Alberta for approximately $46 million. The transaction is expected to close in third quarter 2004 after the provincial government approval of the transfer of operator licenses to AltaGas.

On May 26, 2004, the Trust announced that it executed a letter of intent to purchase the business of PremStar Energy Canada Ltd. and its subsidiaries ECNG Inc. and Energistics Group Inc. for approximately $22 million payable by way of 993,789 Trust units issued from the Trust's treasury plus $1.2 million cash. The transaction is conditional on the execution of a purchase and sale agreement, which is expected to occur in the third quarter of 2004.

On August 4, 2004 AltaGas Income Trust committed to purchase 20 percent of a public offering of 8,025,000 Taylor NGL Limited Partnership units at a price of $6.60 per unit or $10.6 million. As a result, AltaGas' ownership in Taylor will increase from 18.5 percent to approximately 18.9 percent of the outstanding limited partnership units of Taylor on closing of the offering anticipated to occur on or about August 19, 2004. This purchase is for investment purposes only and not for the purpose of influencing the control or direction of Taylor.

ABOUT ALTAGAS

AltaGas moves energy from its source to the end user, adding value through the process. The Trust has consolidated assets totalling over $900 million and a market capitalization of approximately $1 billion. Its steadily expanding asset base today includes natural gas gathering and processing facilities, interests in ethane and natural gas liquids extraction plants, and transmission pipelines. AltaGas distributes natural gas to Alberta customers through AltaGas Utilities Inc., to customers in the Northwest Territories through the Ikhil Gas Project and distributes gas in Nova Scotia through its interest in Heritage Gas Limited. The Trust provides energy services to customers, including marketing of natural gas and natural gas liquids and sale of power from its power purchase based arrangements.

AltaGas' Trust units are listed on the Toronto Stock Exchange under the symbol ALA.UN. The Trust is included in the S&P/TSX Capped Income Trust Index and the S&P/TSX Capped Energy Trust Index.

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

This Management's Discussion and Analysis dated August 10, 2004 is a review of the results of operations and the liquidity and capital resources the AltaGas Income Trust (AltaGas or the Trust). It should be read in conjunction with the accompanying unaudited consolidated financial statements of the Trust, formerly AltaGas Services Inc. (ASI), for the three and six month periods ended June 30, 2004 and the notes thereto and with the financial statements and Management's Discussion and Analysis contained in ASI's annual report for the year ended December 31, 2003. The discussion and analysis of operations and unaudited interim consolidated financial statements presented herein report on a continuity-of-interest accounting basis which recognizes AltaGas Income Trust as the successor to AltaGas Services Inc.

Prospective data, comments and analysis are also provided wherever appropriate to assist investors to see the business from a management viewpoint. Such disclosure is subject to the reasonable constraints of maintaining the confidentiality of certain information which, if published could have an adverse impact on the competitive position of the Trust.

Additional information relating to AltaGas Income Trust can be found on its website at www.altagas.ca. The continuous disclosure materials of the Trust, filed as AltaGas Services Inc. prior to May 1, 2004, including its annual Management's Discussion and Analysis and audited financial statements, 2003 Annual Report, Annual Information Form, Information Circular and Proxy Statement, material change reports and press releases issued by the Trust are also available through the Trust's website or directly through the SEDAR system at www.sedar.com.

ALTAGAS INCOME TRUST

On April 29, 2004 the securityholders of AltaGas Services Inc. voted in favour of a plan of arrangement to reorganize the business of AltaGas Services Inc. into an open-ended investment trust effective May 1, 2004. For each common share of AltaGas Services Inc., shareholders received either one AltaGas Income Trust unit or one Exchangeable unit of AltaGas Income Trust. As a result of implementing the reorganization, AltaGas Income Trust now indirectly holds through its partnerships and subsidiaries all of the assets, liabilities and businesses formerly owned by AltaGas Services Inc. The material businesses are operated by AltaGas Holding Limited Partnership No.1, AltaGas Ltd., AltaGas Operating Partnership, AltaGas Power Holdings Partnership, AltaGas Pipelines Partnership and AltaGas Utilities Inc. (collectively the operating subsidiaries). The cash flow of AltaGas Income Trust is solely dependent on the results of the operating subsidiaries and is derived from dividends or returns of capital from common shares held and from interest earned on loans made by AltaGas Income Trust to the operating subsidiaries.

The Trust has incurred costs and charges to implement the conversion, which are anticipated to total approximately $14.4 million. In the second quarter of 2004 approximately $7.0 million has been charged to unitholders' capital, and $3.5 million has been charged to earnings. The balance is expected to be charged to earnings in the future.

DISTRIBUTIONS

AltaGas targets to pay out substantially all of its ongoing sustainable distributable cash flow through regular monthly distributions made to unitholders. The distributions are determined giving consideration to the consolidated net income, maintenance and growth capital requirements and the debt repayment requirements of AltaGas.

On April 29, 2004, AltaGas announced that AltaGas Income Trust would commence monthly distributions of $0.15 for each Trust unit and Exchangeable unit on June 15, 2004 to holders of Trust units and holders of Exchangeable units. AltaGas pays cash distributions on the 15th day of each month to unitholders of record on the 25th day of the previous month, or the following business day if it falls on a weekend or holiday. AltaGas paid its first distribution of $0.15 per unit on June 15, 2004 to unitholders of record on May 25, 2004 and paid $0.15 per unit on July 15, 2004 to unitholders of record on June 25, 2004. During the second quarter and first six months of 2004 the Trust paid distributions to unitholders of $6.9 million. At June 30, 2004, the Trust has accrued $7.7 million of distributions payable to unitholders related to the July 15, 2004 distribution. Distribution levels will be reviewed periodically giving consideration to AltaGas' growth-related initiatives, financial position, financing requirements, cash flow and other relevant factors. The following table summarizes AltaGas' dividend and distribution history.[1]

(dollars)	2004	2003	2002	2001
First quarter	$ 0.11	$ 0.08	$ 0.06	$ 0.03
Second quarter	0.30	0.08	0.06	0.03
Third quarter	not applicable[2]	0.11	0.08	0.06
Fourth quarter	not applicable	0.11	0.08	0.06
	$ 0.41	$ 0.38	$ 0.28	$ 0.18

(1) Dividends were paid from first quarter 2001 through first quarter 2004. Prior to December 2000 no dividends were paid. Monthly distributions begin in second quarter of 2004.
(2) Monthly distributions of $0.15 per Unit have been declared for payment on both August 16, 2004 and September 15, 2004.

For income tax purposes the Trust expects that approximately 70 percent of the distributions declared in 2004 will be taxed as interest with the remaining 30 percent to be classified as a combination of dividends and return of capital. For most unitholders, the return of capital amount will reduce the cost base of their Trust units for purposes of calculating the capital gains amount upon disposition of their Units. Unitholders should seek independent tax advice in respect of the consequences to them of acquiring, holding and disposing of Units.

AltaGas' net income for the second quarter and first half of 2004 is the highest net income AltaGas has generated in comparable periods since its formation and continues the growth trend achieved throughout its 10 year history. The driver for this performance is the exceptional operating performance from AltaGas' business components. The strong operational performance and the favorable impact of two months operation as a Trust and the associated reduced income tax expense more than offset one time costs related to AltaGas' Bantry facility turnaround in May, 2004 and the conversion to an income trust.

Revenue of $368.9 million for the first six months of 2004 is one percent lower than the same period last year due mainly to the lower average prices received for natural gas in the Natural Gas Distribution and Energy Services segments. For the three months ended June 30, 2004 revenue is up four percent to $175.4 million compared to the same period in 2003 on the strength of volume increases in all segments, and higher power prices in the power services component only partially offset by lower prices in the Natural Gas Distribution segment.

Net revenue (gross revenue less cost of sales) increased eleven percent for the first six months and sixteen percent for the second quarter 2004 compared to the same periods in 2003 due to volume increases. In the extraction component and the Natural Gas Distribution and Energy Services segments, net revenue better reflects performance than does revenue, as changes in the market price of natural gas and power purchased for resale affect both revenue and the cost of sales.

Volume increases in the Gathering and Processing segment were driven by well tie-ins, expansions, modifications at existing facilities and the Rainbow Lake and Mica Pouce Coupe field gathering and processing acquisitions in late 2003. In the Energy Services segment, power volumes sold were higher in the first half of 2004 over the same period of 2003, due to the addition on April 1, 2003 of volumes associated with the Genesee energy contract. Natural Gas Distribution sales volumes at AltaGas Utilities Inc. were up in 2004, for both the second quarter and six months, when compared to the same periods in 2003 based on an increased customer base.

Operating costs and general and administrative expense were both higher in the second quarter and first six months of 2004 compared to 2003. Operating costs increased due to the late 2003 field gathering and processing facilities acquisitions and due to a major turnaround required at the Bantry facility for $1.7 million. General and administrative expense increased due to $1.1 million cash costs related to the conversion to an income trust, an additional $2.4 million in non-cash compensation expense recorded as a result of all outstanding unvested employee trust unit options vesting effective May 1, 2004, and due to increased staffing required to support the Trust's growth. Amortization expense was up four percent for the six months of 2004 compared to the same period in the prior year and four percent for the second quarter of 2004 compared to 2003. The increases are due mainly to Gathering and Processing segment acquisitions and expansions during 2003 and the first half of 2004.

Interest expense was lower in the first six months of 2004 compared to the first six months of 2003 due to lower average debt outstanding combined with lower interest rates. Average debt outstanding is lower due to the strong cash generation experienced by AltaGas and due to the net proceeds of the June 2004 Trust unit offering being applied to debt.

AltaGas' income is subject to a variety of tax rates and rate reductions currently and in the future. Consequently there are several items which impact income tax expense and the effective tax rate from period to period. Income tax expense for the first half of 2004 was $5.3 million less than reported for the same period of 2003 even though income before tax was higher. As a result of AltaGas' conversion into an income trust, amortization expense exceeds capital cost allowance claimed, resulting in a reversal over time of the future income tax liability. AltaGas' first two months as a Trust resulted in a credit to income tax expense of $4.2 million. Also contributing to the variance from 2003 to 2004 in the effective income tax rate was a $0.7 million charge in the second quarter 2003 to future income tax liability to record the impact of federal rate and resource allowance adjustments. Income tax expense for the six months of 2004 was reduced by $0.7 million as a result of the application of a provincial rate reduction arising out of the March 19, 2004 Alberta Government's budget. The impact of recording a charge to income for compensation expense related to stock options, which has no current or future income tax implication, partially offset these rate reductions by $0.8 million.

NON-GAAP FINANCIAL MEASURES

AltaGas provides certain financial measures in this Management's Discussion and Analysis that do not have a standardized meaning prescribed by Canadian generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP). These non-GAAP financial measures may not be comparable to similar measures presented by other Trusts.

The purpose of these financial measures and their reconciliation to GAAP financial measures is shown below. All of the measures have been calculated consistent with previous disclosures by AltaGas. All amounts are in millions of Canadian dollars unless otherwise noted.

Funds Generated From Operations	Three months ended June 30		Six months ended June 30
($ millions)	2004	2003	2004	2003
Non-GAAP financial measure	23.9	20.8	45.5	42.7
Add (deduct): Net change in non-cash working capital	1.0	(2.2)	3.6	6.7
Cash from operations (GAAP financial measure)	24.9	18.6	49.1	49.4

Funds generated from operations is provided to assist in determining the ability of AltaGas to generate cash from operations after interest and taxes without regard to changes in the Trust's working capital in the period.

EBITDA	Three months ended June 30		Six months ended June 30
($ millions)	2004	2003	2004	2003
Non-GAAP financial measure	27.8	27.4	59.0	58.1
Deduct: Amortization	(10.2)	(9.8)	(20.3)	(19.6)
Operating Income (GAAP financial measure)	17.6	17.6	38.7	38.5

Earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization (EBITDA) is provided to assist in understanding the ability of the organization to generate cash and its ability to cover interest payments.

Distributable Cash Flow	Three months ended June 30		Six months ended June 30
($ millions)	2004	2003	2004	2003
Funds generated from operations	23.9	20.8	45.5	42.7
Deduct: Maintenance capital expenditures	(1.5)	(1.2)	(3.3)	(3.0)
Distributable cash flow	22.4	19.6	42.2	39.7
Distributable cash flow per trust unit, basic	0.48	n/a	0.91	n/a

The distributable cash flow of AltaGas is equal to consolidated funds generated from operations before changes in non-cash working capital, after providing for maintenance capital expenditures. Distributable cash flow is not a defined performance measure under GAAP and distributable cash flow can not be assured. The Trust's calculation of distributable cash flow may differ from similar calculations used by comparable entities. Distributable cash flow is a main performance measure used by management and investors to evaluate the performance of the Trust and its operating subsidiaries.

Net revenue	Three months ended June 30		Six months ended June 30
($ millions)	2004	2003	2004	2003
Non-GAAP financial measure	59.5	51.2	116.7	105.6
Add: Cost of goods sold	115.9	117.2	252.2	267.1
Revenue (GAAP financial measure)	175.4	168.4	368.9	372.7

In the extraction component and the Natural Gas Distribution and Energy Services segments, net revenue better reflects performance than does revenue. As changes in the market price of natural gas and power purchased for resale affect both revenue and the cost of sales, net revenue better reflects organic growth in the business than does revenue. This table reconciles the revenue and net revenue amounts in the table for Financial and Operating Results for the Gathering and Processing segment to illustrate the relationship between these non-GAAP and GAAP measures where used throughout this Management's Discussion and Analysis.

AltaGas natural gas processing capacity ranks the Trust in the top ten Canadian processors of natural gas and one of the top four largest Canadian midstream processors. The Gathering and Processing segment includes more than 6,000 kilometers of gathering lines,

69 natural gas processing plants, interests in four ethane and natural gas liquids (NGLs) extraction facilities and six transmission pipelines. These long-life assets provide service to a diverse customer base under arrangements which include a significant portion of cost of service, fixed fee and recovery of operating cost contracts. Commodity price exposure is minimal and revenues are generally volume driven. Future opportunities derive from the requirement that all natural gas must be processed to meet downstream pipeline specifications prior to delivery to the end user. With its extensive gathering infrastructure and the mobile nature of its field gathering and processing plants, AltaGas can quickly redeploy assets in response to producer drilling activity, size facilities to meet demand while reducing operating costs and minimize the time required to bring new production on line, accelerating producer and AltaGas' cash flow.

Net revenue for AltaGas' Gathering and Processing segment was $76.6 million for the six months ended June 30, 2004, compared to $67.2 million for 2003 and $38.8 million for the second quarter of 2004 compared to $33.0 million for same period in 2003. Net revenue growth in this segment was the result of increased volumes processed in the field gathering and processing, extraction and transmission components.

In the field gathering and processing component volumes processed rose due to the December, 2003 acquisition of the Rainbow Lake facilities in northwestern Alberta and due to the record 253 well tie-ins experienced in AltaGas' operating areas during the first half of 2004. Gas drilling activity in the Western Canadian Sedimentary Basin continued to strengthen during the second quarter of 2004, resulting in 98 wells tied-in to AltaGas' field gathering and processing facilities in the second quarter compared with 62 well tie-ins during the same period in 2003. The strong tie-in activity, along with new volumes from the Rainbow Lake acquisition more than offset normal natural gas production declines and increased AltaGas' gross average throughput to 563 Mmcf/d during the second quarter of 2004 compared to 510 Mmcf/d during the second quarter of 2003. These volume increases resulted in field gathering and processing net revenue of $28.4 million in the second quarter of 2004 compared to $24.0 million during the same period in 2003 and $55.0 million and $48.3 million for the first six months of 2004 and 2003 respectively.

AltaGas continues to grow through its program of internal expansion. In the field gathering and processing component, the remaining 25 percent of the Namaka facility was purchased, booster compression was installed at the Marten Creek facility and at the Doris facility construction of a pipeline was completed that will open up access to new processing areas with the potential to double throughput by year-end. Both development projects are supported by producer commitments designed to minimize AltaGas' financial exposure to throughput declines. During the first half of 2004, AltaGas invested approximately $6.0 million in these projects for throughput increases of approximately 11 Mmcf/d, and an additional $1.0 million in maintenance capital.

In the extraction component, processed volumes for the second quarter of 2004 increased substantially reaching 9,337 Bbls/d of NGLs compared to an average of 7,140 Bbls/d for the same period in 2003. Contributing to the increase were modifications made to the Empress EnCana extraction facility that increased ethane production effective the fourth quarter of 2003 as well as increased production at the Joffre ethane extraction plant compared to last year due to NGLs that were reinjected in the second quarter of 2003 as a result of lower gas to liquids price differential. As a result of the higher volumes processed and a favourable NGL pricing environment, net revenue for the extraction component grew 59 percent during the second quarter of 2004 compared to the second quarter of 2003, reaching $3.6 million.

Late in the first quarter of 2004, AltaGas entered into a purchase and sale agreement with BP Canada Energy Resources Company (BP) for BP's 48 2/3 percent interest in the Edmonton ethane extraction plant (EEEP) located at Edmonton, Alberta. AltaGas has invested $7.1 million as a deposit on this plant in the first half of 2004. The plant has a licensed inlet capacity of 390 Mmcf/d of natural gas and gross natural gas liquids production of approximately 15,000 Bbls/d of specification ethane and 6,000 Bbls/d of propane-plus product. The acquisition will increase AltaGas' total net inlet extraction capacity to 539 Mmcf/d. AltaGas' share of plant products will be sold under long-term contracts and a long-term gas supply contract provides secure feedstock supply to EEEP. AltaGas will operate the facility and expects to close the acquisition in the third quarter of 2004 after the provincial government approval of the transfer of operator licenses to AltaGas. The $46.0 million purchase price was effective January 1, 2004 and will be reduced by EEEP's operating margin to that date to closing.

Net revenue in AltaGas' transmission component was flat for the second quarter of 2004 when compared to the same quarter of 2003 but up six percent on a year over year basis due to increased EnCana volume commitments on the Suffield transmission system.

ENERGY SERVICES

The Energy Services segment is comprised of the power services, gas services and oil and gas production components. The financial results of the power services component account for a significant portion of overall segment financial results and as such the commentary in this section will be restricted to the power services component.

(1) Average for the period

In the second quarter of 2004 AltaGas had 453 megawatts of power capacity which represents approximately six percent of Alberta's total power capacity. AltaGas entered into the Genesee energy contract on April 1, 2003 and as a result volumes sold in the six month period ended June 30, 2004 are higher than volumes sold in the prior year's six month period. The power services component generated net revenue of $20.7 million for the first half of 2004 compared to $18.1 million for the same period in 2003 and $13.0 million for second quarter 2004 compared to $10.8 million in 2003. The result of the higher volumes sold and higher realized prices ($47.83 per MWh in 2004 compared to $46.76 per MWh in 2003) drove the increase in net revenues. The Alberta Electric System Operator (AESO) is entitled to recover or refund variances between revenues collected through transmission charges and expenses incurred by AESO through true up adjustments calculated quarterly. For 2004, the cumulative adjustment has resulted in a net charge to AltaGas' income of $0.6 million while for 2003 the amount was a credit to income of $1.6 million.

AltaGas does not engage in speculative trading of power but reduces its exposure to power price volatility by using a balanced portfolio of contracts to lock in power margins. The average price AltaGas received from power sales in the second quarter of 2004 was $49.88 per MWh compared to $45.78 per MWh in the second quarter of 2003. Average Alberta Power Pool spot prices were $60.07 per MWh and $50.88 per MWh in the second quarters of 2004 and 2003 respectively.

During the quarter AltaGas advanced an opportunity to build its low risk, fee for service, gas services component. On May 26, 2004, AltaGas announced that a subsidiary of the Trust executed a letter of intent to purchase the business of PremStar Energy Canada Ltd. for approximately $22.0 million payable by way of 993,789 Trust units issued from the Trust's treasury plus approximately $1.2 million cash. The PremStar group is one of Canada's leading energy agency businesses, specializing in the procurement and supply of energy to end use customers located primarily in Ontario. On a fee for service basis, the PremStar group provides energy supply, arranges for transportation services, and supports customers with valuable market information. The transaction is expected to close in the third quarter of 2004.

In this segment, the Trust also reports the results of the oil and gas production component and the gas services component. AltaGas is not in the business of exploration and development of natural gas reserves. However, associated with certain of its facility acquisitions, AltaGas has accumulated a portfolio of oil and natural gas reserves that it continues to hold and produce.

NATURAL GAS DISTRIBUTION

The Natural Gas Distribution segment includes AltaGas Utilities Inc. (AltaGas Utilities or AUI), AltaGas' one-third interest in Inuvik Gas Ltd. (Inuvik Gas) and its 24.9 percent interest in Heritage Gas Limited (Heritage Gas).

In the first half of 2004, net revenue in AltaGas' Natural Gas Distribution segment was $15.9 million compared to $16.4 million for the same period in 2003. This decrease is due partially to warmer weather in 2004 compared to the first half of 2003 and to the impact of completion of negotiations on AUI's general rate application filed with the Alberta Energy and Utilities Board (AEUB). Heritage Gas, 24.9 percent owned by AltaGas, activated its natural gas distribution system in late December 2003. Heritage Gas is in the initial stages of its planned growth and consequently has not had a material impact on AltaGas' consolidated results in the first half of 2004.

In the second quarter of 2004, net revenue in AltaGas' Natural Gas Distribution segment was $6.2 million compared to $5.8 million for the same period in 2003. This increase is due to higher sales and transportation volumes in 2004 compared to the second quarter of 2003. AUI and Heritage Gas are provincially regulated as to natural gas rates and terms and conditions of service. Customer rates are based on anticipated sales as well as the revenue required to recover estimated cost of service and an allowed return on rate base. Rate base generally consists of the aggregate of the utility's approved investment in plant, property and equipment in service, less accumulated depreciation plus an allowance for working capital. Return on rate base is comprised of regulatory allowed financing costs and return on common equity. Lower than anticipated cost rates for debt and common equity as negotiated and approved for 2003 resulted in a charge to net income of $0.5 million in the first quarter of 2004 related to previously recorded 2003 results. On July 2, 2004 the AEUB issued its Generic Cost of Capital decision. The decision established for AUI the 2004 rate of return on common equity at 9.6 percent and 2004 capital structure at 41 percent equity and 59 percent debt resulting in final allowable rates for interest expense and return on common equity.

The natural gas distribution business is highly seasonal with the majority of natural gas deliveries occurring during the winter heating season. Gas sales during the winter typically account for approximately two-thirds of annual distribution net revenue, resulting in strong first and fourth quarter results and second and third quarters that show either small profits or losses.

Identifiable trends in AltaGas' business across the past eight quarters reflect the organization's growth, a favorable business environment, and seasonality in the business. The first and last quarters each year are AltaGas' most profitable on the basis of the contribution from the Natural Gas Distribution segment which, as a distributor of natural gas for heating purposes, reports higher earnings in colder periods than in warmer periods.

Excellent consolidated results for the third quarter of 2002 of $5.7 million in net income were the combined result of strong performance in the power services component with higher power prices, seasonally higher results in the Natural Gas Distribution segment and solid performance from all components in the Gathering and Processing segment. AltaGas' approach to managing fluctuations in the price of power by locking in margins through forward sales contributed to the gains in the power services component. Increased extraction production driven by stronger business fundamentals allowing AltaGas to utilize more of its available extraction capacity also had a positive impact on results. The Gathering and Processing segment continued to maintain throughput essentially at levels processed in prior periods even though producer activity slowed generally due to continued uncertainty over the strength of near term gas prices. The Board of Directors increased AltaGas' quarterly dividend to $0.08 per share from the $0.06 paid for the previous four quarters based on the strength of the business' ability to generate cash flows.

The fourth quarter of 2002 was the strongest quarter to that date for the Corporation at $11.2 million in net income on the basis of an increased customer base in the Natural Gas Distribution segment and from power sales which AltaGas commenced at the beginning of 2002. Fourth quarter 2002 net income was also higher than in the previous quarter of the year due to the higher seasonal contribution from the Natural Gas Distribution segment. The Suffield pipeline and Wabasca field gathering and processing facilities were acquired and construction of the Joffre ethane extraction plant was commissioned late in the quarter.

Net income of $10.2 million in the first quarter of 2003 set a new high for ASI for that period in a year. The projects and acquisitions undertaken in the fourth quarter of 2002 were the main drivers of this performance, along with an improved business environment in all business segments. The Wabasca facilities acquisition increased throughput in the field gathering and processing component as did sharply increased tie-in activity with a record 85 wells tied-in during the first quarter. Final commissioning of the Joffre ethane extraction plant provided volume increases in the extraction component and volumes in the transmission component were higher due to the Suffield pipelines acquisition. Unplanned outages in the power services component, combined with higher than expected transmission costs due to changes in process at the Transmission Authority, partially offset the gains made in the other segments. AltaGas commenced selling power on April 1, 2003 from the Genesee energy contract it entered into which arrangement provides for 100 megawatts of power capacity from the Genesee power plant.

Second quarter 2003 net income was $6.8 million, 39 percent higher than the same quarter 2002, a result of stronger contributions from the transmission, power services and extraction components. Increases in the transmission component related to the Suffield pipeline acquisition at the end of 2002. In the power services component, increases in net revenue were driven by higher average prices received and by the increased volumes sold resulting from the Genesee energy contract. Extraction component performance was better than the same quarter in the prior year as a result of the commissioning of the Joffre ethane extraction plant at the end of 2002. Improved operating income was offset by higher interest expense due to higher debt levels in the second quarter of 2003 when compared to the same quarter of the prior year, and as a result of a charge to income for legislative changes to the taxation of resource income.

Power services, extraction and transmission components were again the key contributors in the third quarter of 2003 to a 63 percent increase in net income to $9.3 million when compared to the third quarter of 2002, the business drivers for which are those same ones responsible for the increases in each of the previous two quarters of 2003 when compared to the appropriate prior periods.

Operating results were very strong on the basis of contributions from the transmission, power services and extraction components. Late in the quarter modifications were completed to the EnCana-operated Empress extraction facility, increasing AltaGas' net production capability by an estimated 1,400 Bbls/d. AltaGas paid a quarterly dividend of $0.11 per share, up from $0.08 per share in the second quarter of 2003 on the basis of the increased strength and sustainability of AltaGas' earnings.

Fourth quarter 2003 net income of $12.0 million, including an unfavorable income tax expense charge of $1.2 million related to announced changes in federal large corporations tax legislation, was still the highest quarterly net income reported by AltaGas since it was formed. The increase from the prior year's quarter was a result of the late 2002 gathering and processing segment acquisitions and incremental power volumes sold from the Genesee energy contract and to the completion of modifications to increase ethane production at the EnCana-operated Empress extraction plant late in the third quarter of 2003.

First quarter 2004 produced another record net income of $11.0 million for that period in a year based on increased volumes in the Gathering and Processing and Energy Services segments which were partially offset by lower margins in the Energy Services segment and warmer weather and regulatory adjustments in the Natural Gas Distribution segment.

Second quarter 2004 results are discussed in detail in an earlier section of this Management's Discussion and Analysis.

CHANGES IN ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Effective January 1, 2004, AltaGas prospectively adopted the provisions of the CICA's new Accounting Guideline "Hedging Relationships" that specifies the circumstances in which hedge accounting is appropriate, including the identification, documentation, designation and effectiveness of hedges, and the discontinuance of hedge accounting. AltaGas has determined that its hedging documentation meets the requirements of the Guideline and therefore there has been no impact on the consolidated financial statements.

Effective the first quarter of 2004, AltaGas' changed its accounting policy for stock-based compensation, now recognizing the compensation expense related to stock options in the financial statements according to the fair-value method. Prior to the change in policy, the Trust disclosed the impact of the accounting for stock options under the fair-value method on a pro-forma basis. Under the provisions set out by the CICA, AltaGas has adopted the change retroactively. The impact was to reduce retained earnings at January 1, 2004 by $332 thousand, and to reduce first quarter 2004 earnings by $136 thousand which amounts were based on the vesting status and exercise assumptions in existence at the end of the first quarter 2004. Subsequent to the conversion of AltaGas Services Inc. to an income trust all unvested options became fully vested. The charge to income in second quarter 2004 to reflect this early vesting was $2.4 million.

CRITICAL ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES

Since a determination of many assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses is dependent upon future events, the preparation of the Trust's consolidated financial statements requires the use of estimates and assumptions which have been made using careful judgment. AltaGas' critical accounting estimates continue to be amortization expense, asset retirement obligations and asset impairment assessment. For further information on these critical accounting estimates, refer to Management's Discussion and Analysis in ASI's 2003 Annual Report.

FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

AltaGas enters into financial derivative contracts such as swaps and collars to manage exposure to fluctuations in commodity prices and interest rates, particularly in the power services component and interest rates on debt. These contracts are designed as hedges and gains and losses relating to such contracts are deferred and recognized in the same period and financial statement category as the corresponding hedged transaction.

The most significant impact of these contracts on 2004 business has been to provide revenue stability in the power services component. Alberta Power Pool daily average spot prices ranged from $38.86 per MWh to $70.43 per MWh in the second quarter of 2004. Through the use of financial hedges on a portion of its power portfolio deemed optimal by management, AltaGas moderated the impact of this volatility.

AltaGas reduces financing costs and minimizes the effect of future interest rate movements on its cash flows through the use of interest rate swaps. At June 30, 2004 AltaGas had interest rates fixed through swap transactions with varying terms to maturity on $200.0 million of its $241.0 million drawn debt. Including AltaGas' medium term notes, the rate has been fixed on 88 percent of AltaGas' total debt. The amount of fixed rate debt was higher than AltaGas' target of 70 to 75 percent of total debt due to the proceeds of the equity offering being applied to debt.

CAPITAL EXPENDITURES

Capital expenditures by the Trust for the second quarter and first half of 2004 were $6.2 million and $20.5 million compared to $4.9 million and $12.5 million for the same respective periods of 2003 and are summarized as follows:

For the three months ended June 30, 2004	Gathering and Processing	Energy Services	Natural Gas Distribution	Total

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

Funds generated from operations were $45.5 million in the first six months of 2004 compared to $42.7 million for the same period in 2003.

AltaGas believes that its access to debt and equity markets, unutilized bank credit facilities, funds generated from operations and funds generated from the Trust's Distribution Reinvestment and Premium Distribution™ programs will provide it with sufficient capital resources and liquidity to fund existing operations, future distributions, and certain acquisition and expansion opportunities in 2004. A description of the AltaGas' credit facilities can be found in Notes 6 and 7 to the consolidated financial statements included in ASI's 2003 Annual Report further updated in the Trust unit offering Final Short-Form Prospectus dated July 29, 2004.

The use of debt or equity funding is determined on the basis of AltaGas' capital structure determined by considering the norms and risks associated with each of its business components and segments. AltaGas Operating Partnership has $100 million in medium term notes outstanding and AltaGas Ltd. has access to prime loans, banker's acceptances and letters of credit though bank lines of approximately $425 million. These two entities fund all operating subsidiaries. At June 30, 2004 AltaGas Ltd had drawn debt of $241.0 million and letters of credit outstanding of $29.7 million. Consolidated cash and short term investments at June 30, 2004 of $40.3 million arising largely from proceeds of the June 10, 2004 equity offering were held to repay debt instruments at their due dates. If the cash and short term investments had been applied to the debt balance at June 30, 2004, net debt for the Trust would have been $300.7 million on which basis AltaGas' net debt to total capitalization ratio decreased to 39.9 percent at June 30, 2004 from 53.3 percent at June 30, 2003 and 52.2 percent at December 31, 2003. As an income trust, AltaGas targets a debt to total capitalization ratio between 45 percent and 50 percent.

On June 10, 2004 AltaGas Income Trust closed a public offering of 4,730,000 Trust units, at a price of $18.70 per Trust unit for gross proceeds of $88.5 million. The offering included the concurrent exercise by the Underwriters of an over-allotment option granted by AltaGas to purchase an additional 10 percent of the issue or 430,000 Trust units on the same terms. The net proceeds of the offering to the Trust, after payment of fees and expenses of $4.7 million was approximately $83.8 million. The net proceeds were used to reduce bank indebtedness, which may be redrawn and used for general corporate purposes including AltaGas' ongoing capital program, funding the acquisition of the Edmonton ethane extraction plant and funding future acquisitions.

On May 20, 2004 AltaGas adopted Premium Distribution™, Distribution Reinvestment and Optional Unit Purchase Plans (DRIP) for eligible holders of Trust units and Exchangeable units of AltaGas Income Trust, AltaGas Holding Limited Partnership No. 1 and AltaGas Holding Limited Partnership No. 2. DRIP participation in the second quarter of 2004 averaged approximately 10 percent and generated $0.4 million in new equity through the issuance of 20,344 Trust units. Complete details on DRIP are available on the AltaGas website at www.altagas.ca.

Following AltaGas' announcement in March of its then proposed conversion to a trust Standard & Poor's (S&P) confirmed the rating on AltaGas' long term corporate credit at BBB- with a negative outlook and the rating on the senior unsecured debt at BBB-. The Dominion Bond Rating Service (DBRS) confirmed the rating of AltaGas Income Trust at BBB (low) with a stable trend and applied the same rating to AltaGas Operating Partnership and the medium term notes held by AltaGas Operating Partnership. AltaGas is currently seeking a trust stability rating from S&P and DBRS.

TRUST UNIT INFORMATION

Under the terms of the restructuring of AltaGas into an income trust effective May 1, 2004, ASI securityholders exchanged their shares in the company for Trust units and eligible securityholders also received Exchangeable units that are exchangeable into Trust units on a one for one basis. The Exchangeable units do not trade on the TSX.

As of July 31, 2004 the Trust has 39.1 million Trust units and 12.2 million Exchangeable units outstanding and a market capitalization of $1.0 billion based on a closing trading price on July 31, 2004 of $19.70 per Trust unit. There are 0.8 million Options exercisable under the terms of the Unit option agreement brought forward in the reorganization. All options under this plan have vested effective May 1, 2004.

OFF BALANCE SHEET ARRANGEMENTS

The Trust is not party to any contractual arrangement under which an unconsolidated entity may have any obligation under certain guarantee contracts, a retained or contingent interest in assets transferred to an unconsolidated entity or similar arrangement that serves as credit, liquidity or market risk support to that entity for such assets. The Trust has no obligation under derivative instruments, nor under a material variable interest in an unconsolidated entity that provides financing, liquidity, market risk or credit risk support to the registrant, or engages in leasing, hedging or research and development services with the registrant.

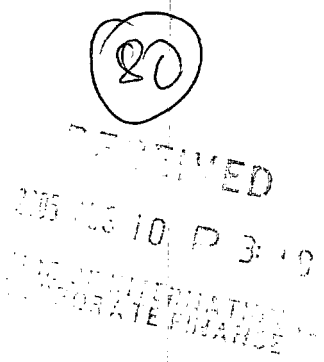
CONTRACTUAL OBLIGATIONS

There have been no material changes to AltaGas' contractual obligations, including payments due for each of the next five years and thereafter, since December 31, 2003. For further information on these contractual obligations, refer to Management's Discussion and Analysis in ASI's 2003 Annual Report.

RELATED PARTIES

On March 19, 2004 AltaGas purchased 320,000 units of Taylor NGL Limited Partnership (Taylor) at a cost of $2.2 million. AltaGas' interest in Taylor after this purchase is 18.5 percent. Taylor's business is the ownership and operatorship of facilities in the midstream sector of the Western Canadian natural gas industry including the Joffre ethane extraction plant in which AltaGas has a 50 percent ownership interest.

On July 21, 2004 AltaGas announced that Enbridge Inc. sold 11,650,000 Trust units of AltaGas to a group of Canadian underwriters at a price of $19.75. This sale reduced Enbridge's interest in AltaGas from approximately 36 percent to 13 percent. In addition, the underwriters have been granted an over-allotment option to purchase an additional 1,747,500 Trust units at the issue price of $19.75 per unit at any time up to 30 days after closing of the offering anticipated on or about August 10, 2004. Should the over-allotment option be taken up Enbridge's interest in AltaGas would be reduced to under 10 percent.



OUTLOOK

The outlook for the balance of 2004 is expected to be very positive particularly due to the increased drilling activity in the Gathering and Processing segment. Drilling activity in the majority of AltaGas' operating areas is expected to remain strong given the favorable commodity pricing environment. In addition, exploitation of opportunities in existing businesses and processes are expected to increase processed volumes. In the Energy Services segment, power prices are expected to be higher providing improved earnings on the unhedged portion of the AltaGas' power portfolio.

UNITHOLDER LIMITED LIABILITY LEGISLATION

Legislation came into effect in Alberta on July 1, 2004 to provide limited liability for holders of trust units, similar to protection afforded to investors of corporations. The legislation covers events that occur on or after July 1, 2004 and extends to all unitholders of AltaGas Income Trust, which is registered in Alberta, including non-residents. The legislation does not remove the issue of unlimited liability for any acts or omissions that occurred prior to July 1, 2004.

Prior to the July 1 amendments, the legislation governing the creation of trusts did not contain explicit language which limited the liability of unitholders of the Trust to their equity investment in the Trust. As a result, there has existed a possibility that unitholders of the Trust may not be protected from liabilities of the Trust to the same extent as a shareholder of a publicly traded corporation and that potentially, unitholders could be liable for tort claims such as environmental claims. The AltaGas Income Trust indenture itself provides that no unitholder will be subject to any liability in connection with the Trust or its obligations and affairs or for any act or omission of the Trustee, provided that in the event that a court determines that unitholders are subject to such liabilities, the liabilities will be enforceable only against and will be satisfied out of the Trust's assets. The trust indenture also provides that contracts to which the Trust is a party should contain language restricting the liability of unitholders.

AltaGas NEWS RELEASE

ENBRIDGE CLOSES SALE OF ADDITIONAL ALTAGAS TRUST UNITS

CALGARY, Alberta, August 17, 2004 – AltaGas Income Trust ("AltaGas") today announced that Enbridge has completed the sale of an additional 1,747,500 Trust units of AltaGas Income Trust ("AltaGas") at a price of $19.75 per unit pursuant to the exercise of the over-allotment option granted to a group of Canadian underwriters. Including Enbridge's sale of 11,650,000 Trust units of AltaGas that closed on August 10, 2004 Enbridge's interest in AltaGas has been reduced from approximately 36 percent to approximately 9 percent.

AltaGas moves energy from its source to the end user, adding value through the process. The Trust has consolidated assets totaling almost $950 million and a market capitalization of approximately $1 billion. Our steadily expanding asset base today includes natural gas gathering and processing facilities, interests in ethane and natural gas liquids extraction plants, and transmission pipelines. AltaGas distributes natural gas to Alberta customers through AltaGas Utilities Inc., to customers in the Northwest Territories through the Ikhil Gas Project and distributes gas in Nova Scotia through its interest in Heritage Gas Limited. The Trust provides energy services to customers, including marketing of natural gas and natural gas liquids and sale of power from its power purchase based arrangements. AltaGas' Trust units are listed on the Toronto Stock Exchange under the symbol ALA.UN. The Trust is included in the S&P/TSX Capped Income Trust Index and the S&P/TSX Capped Energy Trust Index.

This news release does not constitute an offer to sell or a solicitation of an offer to buy the Trust Units in any jurisdiction. The Trust Units offered have not been, and will not be, registered under the United States Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and may not be offered or sold within the United States of America.

ALTAGAS MAKES ADDITIONAL INVESTMENT IN TAYLOR

Calgary, Alberta (August 19, 2004) – AltaGas Income Trust (TSE:ALA.UN) today announced it has acquired an additional 1,605,000 limited partnership units ("Units") of Taylor NGL Limited Partnership ("Taylor") from Taylor's equity offering of 8,025,000 units at a price of $6.60 per unit.

With this $10.6 million investment, AltaGas holds 3,477,735 units of Taylor increasing its ownership interest to 18.9 percent from approximately 18.5 percent of the total Taylor units outstanding. This acquisition fits AltaGas' strategy of making infrastructure-based investments that provide stable and predictable earnings.

David Cornhill, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of AltaGas, said "We made our initial investment in Taylor in 2003. We are very pleased with this investment and the opportunity to maintain our ownership interest and strengthen our existing business relationship."

AltaGas and Taylor each own a 50 per cent interest in the Joffre Ethane Extraction Plant, a facility capable of processing 250 Mmcf/d of natural gas and producing 10,400 bbls/d of ethane and natural gas liquids.

AltaGas is financing the purchase through existing bank facilities. This purchase was executed for investment purposes only and not with the purpose of influencing the control or direction of Taylor. AltaGas has no present intention of purchasing any additional securities of Taylor, but AltaGas reserves the right to do so depending on the price and availability of such securities, future developments in the business of Taylor and economic and market conditions.

AltaGas moves energy from its source to the end user, adding value through the process. The Trust has consolidated assets totalling almost $950 million and a market capitalization of approximately $1 billion. Its steadily expanding asset base today includes natural gas gathering and processing facilities, interests in ethane and natural gas liquids extraction plants, and transmission pipelines. AltaGas distributes natural gas to Alberta customers through AltaGas Utilities Inc., to customers in the Northwest Territories through the Ikhil Gas Project and distributes gas in Nova Scotia through its interest in Heritage Gas Limited. The Trust provides energy services to customers, including marketing of natural gas and natural gas liquids and sale of power from its power purchase based arrangements.

AltaGas' Trust Units are listed on the Toronto Stock Exchange under the symbol ALA.UN. The Trust is included in the S&P/TSX Capped Income Trust Index and the S&P/TSX Capped Energy Trust Index.

Appendix A - Articles of Amalgamation of AmalgamationCo

1.8 Governing Law

This Plan shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of Alberta and the laws of Canada applicable therein.

ARTICLE 2
ARRANGEMENT

2.1 Binding Effect

This Plan shall become effective at, and be binding from and after, the Effective Time upon AltaGas, the Securityholders, the Holdco Shareholders, the Holdcos, the Trust, Holding Trust, the General Partner, AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2, LP Subco and the Amalgamating Subsidiaries

2.2 Arrangement

On the Effective Date, each of the events set out below shall occur and shall be deemed to occur in the following order without any further act or formality:

(a) the issued and outstanding Participating Shares, if any, shall be converted into Common Shares on a one for one basis;

(b) the Trust shall issue to Holding Trust that number of Trust Units to be exchanged by Holding Trust pursuant to (e) below in exchange for the issue to the Trust by Holding Trust of that principal amount of Series 1 Notes equal to the product of that number of Trust Units multiplied by the Common Share Fair Market Value;

(c) at the same time:

(i) Common Shares (other than Enbridge Common Shares, Common Shares held by Holdcos to which (c)(ii) or (c)(iv) applies and Common Shares held by a Securityholder who has exercised Dissent Rights and is ultimately entitled to be paid the fair value of such Securityholder's Securities) held by each Eligible Securityholder who so elects in a Filed Letter of Transmittal and Election Form with respect to such Common Shares shall be transferred to, and acquired by, AltaGas LP #1 free and clear of all liens, claims and encumbrances in exchange for the issue to the Eligible Securityholder by AltaGas LP #1 of:

(A) that number of LP #1 B Units equal to the result obtained by dividing the Eligible Securityholder's Specified Gain Amount with respect to such Common Shares by the Common Share Fair Market Value; and

(B) that number of LP #1 X Notes equal to the difference between the number of such Common Shares and the number of LP #1 B Units determined pursuant to (A) above; and the names of the holders of such Common Shares shall be removed from the register of holders of Common Shares and added to the registers of holders of LP #1 B Units and

LP #1 X Notes and AltaGas LP #1 shall be recorded as the holder of such Common Shares on the register of holders of Common Shares;

(ii) Holdco Shares (other than Holdco Shares of Holdcos holding Enbridge Common Shares) held by each Holdco Shareholder that is an Eligible Securityholder who so elects in a Filed Letter of Transmittal and Election Form with respect to such Holdco Shares shall be transferred to, and acquired by, AltaGas LP #1 free and clear of all liens, claims and encumbrances in exchange for the issue to the Holdco Shareholder by AltaGas LP #1 of:

(C) that number of LP #1 B Units equal to the result obtained by dividing the Holdco Shareholder's Specified Gain Amount with respect to such Holdco Shares by the Common Share Fair Market Value; and

(D) that number of LP #1 X Notes equal to the difference between the number of the Holdco's Common Shares and the number of LP #1 B Units determined pursuant to (C) above;

and the names of the holders of such Holdco Shares shall be removed from the registers of holders of such Holdco Shares and added to the registers of holders of LP #1 B Units and LP #1 X Notes and AltaGas LP #1 shall be recorded as the holder of such Holdco Shares on the registers of holders of such Holdco Shares;

(iii) Enbridge Common Shares (other than Common Shares held by Holdcos to which (c)(iv) applies) held by each Eligible Securityholder who so elects in a Filed Letter of Transmittal and Election Form with respect to such Enbridge Common Shares shall be transferred to, and acquired by, AltaGas LP #2 free and clear of all liens, claims and encumbrances in exchange for the issue to the Eligible Securityholder by AltaGas LP #2 of:

(E) that number of LP #2 B Units equal to the result obtained by dividing the Eligible Securityholder's Specified Gain Amount with respect to such Enbridge Common Shares by the Common Share Fair Market Value; and

(F) that number of LP #2 X Notes equal to the difference between the number of such Enbridge Common Shares and the number of LP #2 B Units determined pursuant to (E) above; and the names of the holders of such Enbridge Common Shares shall be removed from the register of holders of Common Shares and added to the registers of holders of LP #2 B Units and LP #2 X Notes and AltaGas LP #2 shall be recorded as the holder of such Enbridge Common Shares on the register of holders of Common Shares; and

(iv) Holdco Shares of Holdcos holding Enbridge Common Shares held by each Holdco Shareholder who so elects in a Filed Letter of Transmittal and Election Form with respect to such Holdco Shares shall be transferred to, and acquired by, AltaGas LP #2 free and clear of all liens, claims and encumbrances in exchange for the issue to the Holdco Shareholder by AltaGas LP #2 of:

(G) that number of LP #2 B Units equal to the result obtained by dividing the Holdco Shareholder's Specified Gain Amount with respect to such Holdco Shares by the Common Share Fair Market Value; and

(H) that number of LP #2 X Notes equal to the difference between the number of the Holdco's Enbridge Common Shares and the number of LP #2 B Units determined pursuant to (G) above;

and the names of the holders of such Holdco Shares shall be removed from the registers of holders of Holdco Shares and added to the registers of holders of LP #2 B Units and LP #2 X Notes and AltaGas LP #2 shall be recorded as the holder of such Holdco Shares on the registers of holders of such Holdco Shares;

(d) at the same time:

(i) LP #1 X Notes acquired pursuant to (c)(i) or (c)(ii) above shall be transferred to, and acquired by, AltaGas LP #1 in exchange for the issue to the holders thereof by AltaGas LP #1 of LP #1 A Units on a one for one basis and the names of the holders of such LP #1 X Notes shall be removed from the register of holders of LP #1 X Notes and added to the register of holders of LP #1 A Units and the LP #1 X Notes so transferred to AltaGas LP #1 shall be cancelled; and

(ii) LP #2 X Notes acquired pursuant to (c)(iii) or (c)(iv) above shall be transferred to, and acquired by, AltaGas LP #2 in exchange for the issue to the holders thereof by AltaGas LP #2 of LP #2 A Units on a one for one basis and the names of the holders of such LP# 2 X Notes shall be removed from the register of holders of LP #2 X Notes and added to the register of holders of LP #2 A Units and the LP #2 X Notes so transferred to AltaGas LP #2 shall be cancelled;

(e) at the same time:

(i) LP #1 A Units and LP #2 A Units acquired pursuant to (d)(i) and (d)(ii) above, respectively, shall be transferred to, and acquired by, Holding Trust in exchange for Trust Units on a one for one basis and the names of the holders of such LP #1 A Units and LP #2 A Units shall be removed from the registers of holders thereof and added to the register of holders of Trust Units and Holding Trust shall be recorded as the holder of such LP #1 A Units and LP #2 A Units on the registers of holders thereof; and

(ii) Common Shares in respect of each Securityholder to which (c) above does not apply (other than Common Shares held by a Securityholder who has exercised Dissent Rights and is ultimately entitled to be paid the fair value of such Securityholder's Common Shares) shall be transferred to, and acquired by, Holding Trust free and clear of all liens, claims and encumbrances on the basis that each such Common Share shall be exchanged with Holding Trust for Trust Units on a one for one basis and the names of the holders of such Common Shares shall be removed from the register of holders of Common Shares and added to the register of holders of Trust Units and Holding Trust shall be recorded as the holder of such Common Shares on the register of holders of Common Shares;

(f) the issued and outstanding Options shall be transferred to, and acquired and cancelled by, AltaGas free and clear of all liens, claims and encumbrances on the basis that each such Option shall be exchanged with AltaGas for Trust Options on a one for one basis, with the terms of each such Trust Option being the same as the Option exchanged therefore other than the substitution of a Trust Unit for each Common Share purchasable pursuant to the Option prior to the Effective Time;

(g) all of the LP #2 A Units acquired by Holding Trust pursuant to (e)(i) above and all of the Common Shares acquired by Holding Trust pursuant to (e)(ii) above shall be transferred to, and acquired by, AltaGas LP #1 in exchange for the issue to Holding Trust by AltaGas LP #1 of LP #1 A Units on a one for one basis;

(h) all of the Common Shares and Holdco Shares acquired by AltaGas LP #1 pursuant to (c)(i), (c)(ii) and (g) above shall be transferred to, and acquired by, AltaGas LP #2 in exchange for the issue to AltaGas LP #1 by AltaGas LP #2 of LP #2 A Units on the basis of one LP #2 A Unit for each of such Common Shares and each of the Common Shares held by such Holdcos;

(i) all of the Common Shares and Holdco Shares acquired by AltaGas LP #2 pursuant to (c)(iii), (c)(iv) and (h) above shall be transferred to, and acquired by, LP Subco in exchange for the issue to AltaGas LP #2 by LP Subco of common shares of LP Subco (in respect of which there shall be added to the stated capital an amount equal to the maximum amount of "paid-up capital" under the Tax Act that may be added in respect of such issue) and that principal amount of LP Subco Debt equal to the lesser of: (A) the result obtained when the aggregate number of Trust Units issued pursuant to (e)(i) and (e)(ii) above is multiplied by the Common Share Fair Market Value; and (B) the Aggregate Permitted Debt Amount;

(j) the stated capital of each class of outstanding shares of each of AltaGas, the Holdcos and the Amalgamating Subsidiaries shall be reduced, without any distribution by the respective corporation, to one dollar;

(k) LP Subco, each of the Holdcos, AltaGas and each of the Amalgamating Subsidiaries shall amalgamate and continue as one corporation, AmalgamationCo, upon the following terms and conditions:

(i) the name of AmalgamationCo shall be AltaGas Ltd.;

(ii) the registered office of AmalgamationCo shall be located at the registered office of AltaGas at the Effective Date;

(iii) there shall be no restrictions on the business AmalgamationCo may carry on or on the powers it may exercise;

(iv) AmalgamationCo shall be authorized to issue an unlimited number of voting common shares ("AmalgamationCo Common Shares");

(v) the minimum number of directors of AmalgamationCo shall be one and the maximum number of directors shall be 15, the number of directors from time to time being determined by resolution of the directors of AmalgamationCo;

(vi) on the Effective Date, the number of directors of AmalgamationCo shall be two. The first directors of AmalgamationCo, who shall hold office until the first annual general meeting of the shareholders of AmalgamationCo or until their successors are duly appointed, shall be the persons whose names and addresses appear below:

Name	Address	Resident Canadian
David W. Cornhill	Calgary, Alberta	Yes
Patricia M. Newson	Calgary, Alberta	Yes

(vii) the by-laws of AmalgamationCo shall be the by-laws of LP Subco until repealed, amended or altered;

(viii) the Articles of Amalgamation of AmalgamationCo shall otherwise be as set out in Appendix A;

(ix) the issued and outstanding shares in the capital of each of LP Subco, the Holdcos, AltaGas and the Amalgamating Subsidiaries shall be exchanged or cancelled as follows:

(I) each issued common share of LP Subco shall be exchanged for one AmalgamationCo Common Share; and

(J) each issued share of AltaGas, of a Holdco or of an Amalgamating Subsidiary shall be cancelled without any repayment of capital in respect thereof; and

(x) the amount added to the stated capital for the AmalgamationCo Common Shares shall be equal to the stated capital of the common shares of LP Subco immediately prior to the Amalgamation; and provided that if any of the foregoing steps in (a) through (l) fails to occur or complete then all of such steps will be deemed not to have occurred

2.3 Holdco Alternative

Each Common Shareholder or the Participating Shareholder shall be entitled to transfer its Common Shares or Participating Shares, as the case may be, to a newly-incorporated corporation and transfer the Holdco Shares to AltaGas LP #1 or, in the case of Holdcos holding Enbridge Common Shares or Participating Shares, AltaGas LP #2 as provided in Section 2.2(c)(ii) or (iv), respectively, provided that each of the following conditions are satisfied on or prior to and as of the Effective Time (each of the corporations as so described and in respect of which such conditions are so satisfied being a "Holdco"):

(a) the Common Shareholder or the Participating Shareholder is an Eligible Securityholder;

(b) Holdco is incorporated under the CBCA no earlier than March 1, 2004;

(c) the Common Shareholder or the Participating Shareholder transfers its Common Shares or Participating Shares, as the case may be, to Holdco solely in consideration for the Holdco Shares;

(d) Holdco has no indebtedness or liabilities and owns no assets other than the Common Shares or Participating Shares, as the case may be;

(e) the Common Shareholder or the Participating Shareholder, as the case may be indemnifies the Trust, Holding Trust, AltaGas, AltaGas LP #1 and, in the case of Enbridge Common Shares or Participating Shares, AltaGas LP #2 for any and all liabilities of Holdco (other than tax liabilities of Holdco that would arise if Holdco disposed of any of its property after the Effective Date or that arise solely as a result of the tax status of the Trust, Holding Trust, AltaGas, AltaGas LP #1 and, in the case of Enbridge Common Shares or Participating Shares, AltaGas LP #2 as a "financial institution" for purposes of the Tax Act) in a form satisfactory to the General Partner in its sole discretion, and such Common Shareholder or the Participating Shareholder either has net assets as reflected on its audited financial statements for its most recently ended fiscal year which are satisfactory to the General Partner or provides the General Partner with security satisfactory to the General Partner in respect of such Common Shareholder's or the Participating Shareholder's, as the case may be, indemnification obligations as set out above;

(f) prior to the Effective Time, Holdco: (1) declares one or more stock dividends which may be in the form of preferred shares of Holdco that are converted into common shares of Holdco prior to the Effective Time; (2) increases the stated capital of the Holdco Shares; or (3) declares one or more cash dividends, provided that such cash is used to subscribe, directly or indirectly, for shares of Holdco;

(g) at the Effective Time but prior to giving effect to this Plan, Holdco has no issued shares outstanding other than the Holdco Shares and all such Holdco Shares are owned by only the Common Shareholder or the Participating Shareholder, as the case may be;

(h) prior to the Effective Time, Holdco has never entered into any transaction (or conducted any business or operations or engaged in any activity) other than those described herein or such other transactions as are necessary to facilitate those transactions described herein with the General Partner's consent, acting reasonably;

(i) other than as provided in (f) above, Holdco will not declare or pay any dividends or other distributions;

(j) the Common Shareholder or the Participating Shareholder, as the case may be, shall prepare and file all income tax returns of its Holdco in respect of the taxation year-end of such Holdco ending immediately prior to the acquisition of such Holdco Shares by AltaGas LP #1 or, in the case of Enbridge Common Shares or Participating Shares, AltaGas LP #2 subject to the General Partner's right to approve all such tax returns as to form and substance;

(k) the Common Shareholder or the Participating Shareholder, as the case may be, provides AltaGas and the General Partner with copies of all documents necessary to effect the transactions contemplated in this Section 2.3 at least ten days prior to the Effective Date, which documents must be approved by both AltaGas and the General Partner in their sole discretion; and

(l) the Common Shareholder or the Participating Shareholder, as the case may be, and its Holdco execute a share purchase agreement in the form required by the General Partner, acting reasonably, providing for, among other things, the sale of the Holdco Shares to AltaGas LP #1 or, in the case of Enbridge Common Shares or Participating Shares, AltaGas LP #2 and containing the terms and conditions, among others, set out in this Section 2.3.

2.4 Elections

Eligible Securityholders and Holdco Shareholders who elect to receive Exchangeable Securities shall be entitled to make an income tax election pursuant to subsection 97(2) of the Tax Act (and the analogous provisions of applicable provincial income tax law) with respect to the transfer of their Common Shares or Holdco Shares, as the case may be, to AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as applicable, by providing two signed copies of the necessary election forms to the Depository, within 90 days of the Effective Date, duly completed with the details of the number of shares transferred, the adjusted cost base (or adjusted cost bases) within the meaning of the Tax Act of such shares and the applicable agreed amounts for the purpose of such elections. Thereafter, subject to the election forms complying with the provisions of the Tax Act (and applicable provincial income tax law), the forms shall be signed by AltaGas LP #1 or AltaGas LP #2, as applicable, and filed with Canada Revenue Agency (or the applicable provincial taxing authority) within 120 days of the Effective Date.

ARTICLE 3
DISSENTING SECURITYHOLDERS

3.1 Rights of Dissent

Registered holders of Securities may exercise Dissent Rights with respect to such Securities in the manner set forth in Section 190 of the CBCA and the Interim Order. Securityholders who duly exercise such rights of dissent and who:

(a) are ultimately determined to be entitled to be paid fair value for their Securities shall be deemed to have transferred such Securities to LP Subco at the same time as the transfer referred to in Section 2.2(e)(ii) without any further act or formality and free and clear of all liens, claims and encumbrances for a payment of cash from LP Subco equal to such fair value; or

(b) are ultimately determined not to be entitled, for any reason, to be paid fair value for their Securities shall be deemed to have participated in the Arrangement on the same basis as a Securityholder who did not make an election and shall, if a former Common Shareholder, receive Trust Units on the basis set forth in Section 2.2(e); but in no case shall the Trust, Holding Trust, AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2, LP Subco, AltaGas or any other person be required to recognize such holders as holders of Securities from and after the Effective Time and the names of the holders of such Securities shall be deleted from the register of members of AltaGas in respect of such Securities as of the Effective Time.

CERTIFICATES

4.1 Securities Certificates

Subject to Section 3.1, after the Effective Time, certificates formerly representing Securities or Holdco Shares shall represent only the right to receive upon surrender as contemplated by Section 4.2: (a) the certificates representing Trust Units, LP #1 B Units or LP #2 B Units which the former holder of such Securities or Holdco Shares, as the case may be, is, subject to this Article 4, entitled to receive pursuant to Article 2; and (b) distributions with respect thereto pursuant to Section 4.3, subject to compliance with the requirements set forth in this Article 4.

4.2 Exchange of Certificates

Each of the Trust, AltaGas LP #1 and AltaGas LP #2 shall, as soon as practicable following the later of the Effective Date and the surrender to the Depository for cancellation of certificates formerly representing any person's Securities or Holdco Shares, together with such other documents and instruments as would have been required to effect the transfer of the Securities or Holdco Shares, as the case may be, formerly represented by such certificates under the CBCA and such additional documents and instruments as the Depository may reasonably require, cause the Depository to deliver to such person certificate(s) representing the number of Trust Units, LP #1 B Units or LP #2 B Units, as applicable, which such person has the right to receive (together with any distributions with respect thereto pursuant to Section 4.3) and the certificates so surrendered shall forthwith be cancelled. In the event of a transfer of ownership of Securities which is not registered in the transfer records of AltaGas, certificate(s) representing the appropriate number of the Trust Units, LP #1 B Units or LP #2 B Units, as applicable, may be issued to the transferee if the certificate(s) representing such Securities is presented to the Depository, accompanied by all documents required to evidence and effect such transfer to the transferee.

4.3 Distributions

All distributions made with respect to any Trust Units, LP #1 B Units or LP #2 B Units with a record date after the Effective Time but for which a certificate has not been issued shall be paid or delivered to the Depository to be held by the Depository in trust for the registered holder of such Trust Units, LP #1 B Units or LP #2 B Units, as the case may be. All monies received by the Depository shall be invested by it in interest bearing trust accounts upon such terms as the Depository may reasonably deem appropriate. The Depository shall pay and deliver to any such registered holder such distributions and any interest thereon to which such holder is entitled, net of applicable withholding and other taxes, upon delivery of the certificate representing the Trust Units, LP #1 B Units or LP #2 B Units issued to such holder in accordance with Section 4.2.

4.4 No Fractional Units

No fractional Trust Units, LP #1 B Units or LP #2 B Units shall be issued pursuant to the Arrangement. In the event that any exchange ratio referred to herein would in any case result in a former holder of Securities or Holdco Shares being entitled to a fractional Trust Unit, LP #1 B Unit or LP #2 B Unit, such Trust Units, LP #1 B Units or LP #2 B Units, as the case may be, shall be rounded up to the next highest whole number, provided that each beneficial former holder of Securities or Holdco Shares, as the case may be, shall be entitled to the benefit of only one adjustment in respect of each of such holder's Trust Units, LP #1 B Units or LP #2 B Units.

4.5 Extinction of Rights

Any certificate formerly representing Securities or Holdco Shares that is not deposited with all other documents as provided in Section 4.2 on or before the sixth anniversary of the Effective Date shall cease to represent a right or claim of any kind or nature and the right of the holder of the certificate formerly representing such Securities or Holdco Shares, as the case may be, to receive Trust Units, LP #1 B Units or LP #2 B Units, as applicable, and any distributions with respect thereto pursuant to Section 4.3 shall be deemed to be surrendered to Holding Trust, together with all dividends or distributions thereon held for such holder.

4.6 Withholding Rights

The Trust, Holding Trust, AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2, and the Depository shall be entitled to deduct and withhold from any consideration or distribution otherwise payable to any former holder of Securities or Holdco Shares or any holder of Trust Units, LP #1 B Units or LP #2 B Units such amounts as the Trust, Holding Trust, AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2, and the Depository is required to deduct and withhold with respect to such payment under the Tax Act or any provision of federal, provincial, territorial, state, local or foreign tax law. To the extent that amounts are so withheld, such withheld amounts shall be treated for all purposes hereof as having been paid to the holder of the securities in respect of which such deduction and withholding was made, provided that such withheld amounts are actually remitted to the appropriate taxing authority. To the extent that the amount so required to be deducted or withheld from any payment to a holder exceeds the cash portion of the consideration otherwise payable to the holder, the Trust, Holding Trust, AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2, and the Depository are hereby authorized to sell or otherwise dispose of such portion of the consideration as is necessary to provide sufficient funds to the Trust, Holding Trust, AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2, and the Depository, as the case may be, to enable it to comply with such deduction or withholding requirement and the Trust, Holding Trust, AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2, and the Depository shall notify the holder thereof and remit any unapplied balance of the net proceeds of such sale.

ARTICLE 5
AMENDMENTS

5.1 Right to Amend

AltaGas reserves the right to amend, modify and/or supplement this Plan from time to time at any time prior to the Effective Time provided that any such amendment, modification or supplement must be contained in a written document that is:

(a) agreed to by each of the Trust, Holding Trust, AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2 and LP Subco;

(b) filed with the Court and, if made following the Meeting, approved by the Court; and

(c) communicated to Securityholders in the manner required by the Court (if so required).

5.2 Amendment Before Meeting

Any amendment, modification or supplement to this Plan may be proposed by AltaGas at any time prior to or at the Meeting provided that the Trust, the General Partner, Holding Trust, AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2 and LP Subco, shall have consented thereto with or without any other prior notice or communication, and if so proposed and accepted by the persons voting at the Meeting (other than as may be required under the Interim Order), shall become part of this Plan for all purposes.

5.3 Amendment After Meeting

Any amendment, modification or supplement to this Plan which is approved by the Court following the Meeting shall be effective only:

(a) if it is consented to by AltaGas;

(b) if it is consented to by the General Partner, LP Subco, Holding Trust, AltaGas LP #1, AltaGas LP #2 and the Trust; and

(c) if required by the Court or applicable law, it is consented to by the Securityholders.

SCHEDULE 1 TO APPENDIX A

The authorized capital of the Corporation shall consist of an unlimited number of Common Shares, an unlimited number of First Preferred Shares and an unlimited number of Second Preferred Shares. The rights, privileges, restrictions and conditions attached to the Common Shares, the First Preferred Shares and the Second Preferred Shares of the Corporation shall be as follows:

A. COMMON SHARES

The unlimited number of Common Shares shall have attached thereto the following rights, privileges, restrictions and conditions:

1.10 The holders of Common Shares shall be entitled to notice of, to attend and to one vote per share held at any meeting of the shareholders of the Corporation (other than meetings of a class or series of shares of the Corporation other than the Common Shares as such)

1.11 The holders of Common Shares shall be entitled to receive dividends as and when declared by Board of Directors of the Corporation on the Common Shares as a class, subject to prior satisfaction of all preferential rights to dividends attached to shares of other classes of shares of the Corporation ranking in priority to the Common Shares in respect of dividends.

1.12 The holders of Common Shares shall be entitled in the event of any liquidation, dissolution or winding-up of the Corporation, whether voluntary or involuntary, or any other distribution of the assets of the Corporation among its shareholders for the purpose of winding-up its affairs, and subject to prior satisfaction of all preferential rights to return of capital on dissolution attached to all shares of other classes of shares of the Corporation ranking in priority to the Common Shares in respect of return of capital on dissolution, to share rateably, together with the holders of shares of any other class of shares of the Corporation ranking equally with the Common Shares in respect of return of capital on dissolution, in such assets of the Corporation as are available for distribution.

B. FIRST PREFERRED SHARES

The unlimited number of First Preferred Shares shall have attached thereto the following rights, privileges, restrictions and conditions:

1.13 The First Preferred Shares may at any time or from time to time be issued in one or more series. Before any shares of a particular series are issued, the Board of Directors of the Corporation shall, by resolution, fix the number of shares that will form such series and shall, subject to the limitations set out herein, by resolution fix the designation, rights, privileges, restrictions and conditions to be attached to the First Preferred Shares of such series, including, but without in any way limiting or restricting the generality of the foregoing, the rate, amount or method of calculation of dividends thereon, the time and place of payment of dividends, the consideration for and the terms and conditions of any purchase for cancellation, retraction or redemption thereof, conversion or exchange rights (if any), and whether into or for securities of the Corporation or otherwise, voting rights attached thereto (if any), the terms and conditions of any share purchase or retirement plan or sinking fund, and restrictions on the payment of dividends on any shares other than First Preferred Shares or payment in respect of capital on any shares in the capital of the Corporation or creation or issue of debt or equity securities; the whole subject to filing with the Director (as defined in the Canada Business Corporations Act or successor legislation thereto) of Articles of Amendment setting forth a description of such series including the designation, rights, privileges, restrictions and conditions attached to the shares of such series.

1.14 Notwithstanding paragraph 1.13, the Board of Directors of the Corporation may at any time or from time to time change the rights, privileges, restrictions and conditions attached to unissued shares of any series of First Preferred Shares.

1.15 The First Preferred Shares of each series shall rank on a parity with the First Preferred Shares of every other series with respect to accumulated dividends and return of capital. The First Preferred Shares shall be entitled to a preference over the Second Preferred Shares, the Common Shares and over any other shares of the Corporation ranking junior to the First Preferred Shares with respect to priority in the payment of dividends and in the distribution of assets in the event of the liquidation, dissolution or winding-up of the Corporation, whether voluntary or involuntary, or any other distribution of the assets of the Corporation among its shareholders for the purpose of winding-up its affairs. If any cumulative dividends or amounts payable on a return of capital are not paid in full, the First Preferred Shares of all series shall participate rateably in respect of such dividends, including accumulations, if any, in accordance with the sums that would be payable on such shares if all such dividends were declared and paid in full, and in respect of any repayment of capital in accordance with the sums that would be payable on such repayment of capital if all sums so payable were paid in full; provided, however, that in the event of there being insufficient assets to satisfy in full all such claims as aforesaid, the claims of the holders of the First Preferred Shares with respect to repayment of capital shall first be paid and satisfied and any assets remaining thereafter shall be applied towards the payment in satisfaction of claims in respect of dividends. The First Preferred Shares of any series may also be given such other preferences not inconsistent with paragraphs 1.13 through 1.17 hereof over the Second Preferred Shares, the Common Shares and any other shares ranking junior to the First Preferred Shares as may be determined in the case of each such series of First Preferred Shares.

1.16 The rights, privileges, restrictions and conditions attaching to the First Preferred Shares as a class may be added to, changed or removed but only with the approval of the holders of the First Preferred Shares given as herein specified.

1.17 The rights, privileges, restrictions and conditions attaching to the First Preferred Shares as a class as provided herein and as may be provided from time to time may be repealed, altered, modified, amended or amplified or otherwise varied only with the sanction of the holders of the First Preferred Shares given in such manner as may then be required by law, subject to a minimum requirement that such approval be given by resolution in writing executed by all holders of the First Preferred Shares entitled to vote on that resolution or passed by the affirmative vote of a least two-thirds of the votes cast at a meeting of holders of First Preferred Shares duly called for such purpose and held upon at least 21 days' notice at which a quorum is present comprising at least two persons present, holding or representing by proxy at least 20% per cent of the outstanding First Preferred Shares. If any such quorum is not present within half an hour after the time appointed for the meeting, then the meeting shall be adjourned to a date being not less than 15 days later and at such time and place as may be appointed by the chairman and at such meeting a quorum will consist of that number of shareholders present in person or represented by proxy. The formalities to be observed with respect to the giving of notice of any such meeting or adjourned meeting and the conduct thereof shall be those which may from time to time be prescribed in the by-laws of the Corporation with respect to meetings of shareholders. On every vote taken at every such meeting or adjourned meeting each holder of a First Preferred Share shall be entitled to one vote in respect of each one dollar of stated value of First Preferred Shares held.

C. SECOND PREFERRED SHARES

The unlimited number of Second Preferred Shares shall have attached thereto the following rights, privileges, restrictions and conditions:

1.18 The Second Preferred Shares may at any time or from time to time be issued in one or more series. Before any shares of a particular series are issued, the Board of Directors of the Corporation shall, by resolution, fix the number of shares that will form such series and shall, subject to the limitations set out herein, by resolution fix the designation, rights, privileges, restrictions and conditions to be attached to the Second Preferred Shares of such series, including, but without in any way limiting or restricting the generality of the foregoing, the rate, amount or method of calculation of dividends thereon, the time and place of payment of dividends, the consideration for and the terms and conditions of any purchase for cancellation, retraction or redemption thereof, conversion or exchange rights (if any), and whether into or for securities of the Corporation or otherwise, voting rights attached thereto (if any), the terms and conditions of any share purchase or retirement plan or sinking fund, and restrictions on the payment of dividends on any shares other than Second Preferred Shares or payment in respect of capital on any shares in the capital of the Corporation or creation or issue of debt or equity securities; the whole subject to filing with the Director (as defined in the Canada Business Corporations Act or successor legislation thereto) of Articles of Amendment setting forth a description of such series including the designation, rights, privileges, restrictions and conditions attached to the shares of such series.

1.19 Notwithstanding paragraph 1.18, the Board of Directors of the Corporation may at any time or from time to time change the rights, privileges, restrictions and conditions attached to unissued shares of any series of Second Preferred Shares.

1.20 The Second Preferred Shares of each series shall rank on a parity with the Second Preferred Shares of every other series with respect to accumulated dividends and return of capital. The Second Preferred Shares shall be entitled to a preference over the Common Shares and over any other shares of the Corporation ranking junior to the Second Preferred Shares with respect to priority in the payment of dividends and in the distribution of assets in the event of the liquidation, dissolution or winding-up of the Corporation, whether voluntary or involuntary, or any other distribution of the assets of the Corporation among its shareholders for the purpose of winding-up its affairs. If any cumulative dividends or amounts payable on a return of capital are not paid in full, the Second Preferred Shares of all series shall participate rateably in respect of such dividends, including accumulations, if any, in accordance with the sums that would be payable on such shares if all such dividends were declared and paid in full, and in respect of any repayment of capital in accordance with the sums that would be payable on such repayment of capital if all sums so payable were paid in full; provided, however, that in the event of there being insufficient assets to satisfy in full all such claims as aforesaid, the claims of the holders of the Second Preferred Shares with respect to repayment of capital shall first be paid and satisfied and any assets remaining thereafter shall be applied towards the payment in satisfaction of claims in respect of dividends. The Second Preferred Shares of any series may also be given such other preferences not inconsistent with paragraphs 1.18 through 1.22 hereof over the Common Shares and any other shares ranking junior to the Second Preferred Shares as may be determined in the case of each such series of Second Preferred Shares.

1.21 The rights, privileges, restrictions and conditions attaching to the Second Preferred Shares as a class may be added to, changed or removed but only with the approval of the holders of the Second Preferred Shares given as herein specified.

1.22 The rights, privileges, restrictions and conditions attaching to the Second Preferred Shares as a class as provided herein and as may be provided from time to time may be repealed, altered, modified, amended or amplified or otherwise varied only with the sanction of the holders of the Second Preferred Shares given in such a manner as may then be required by law, subject to a minimum requirement that such approval be given by resolution in writing executed by all holders of the Second Preferred Shares entitled to vote on that resolution or passed by the affirmative vote of at least two-thirds of the votes cast at a meeting of holders of Second Preferred Shares duly called for such purpose and held upon at least 21 days' notice at which a quorum is present comprising at least two persons present, holding or representing by proxy at least 20% per cent of the outstanding Second Preferred Shares. If any such quorum is not present within half an hour after the time appointed for the meeting, then the meeting shall be adjourned to a date being not less than 15 days later and at such time and place as may be appointed by the chairman and at such meeting a quorum will consist of that number of shareholders present in person or represented by proxy. The formalities to be observed with respect to the giving of notice of any such meeting or adjourned meeting and the conduct thereof shall be those which may from time to time be prescribed in the by-laws of the Corporation with respect to meetings of shareholders. On every vote taken at every such meeting or adjourned meeting each holder of a Second Preferred Share shall be entitled to one vote in respect of each one dollar of stated value of Second Preferred Shares held.

ALTAGAS CLOSES $46 MILLION EDMONTON ETHANE EXTRACTION PLANT ACQUISITION AND BECOMES OPERATOR

Calgary, Alberta (August 25, 2004) - AltaGas Income Trust (AltaGas or the Trust) (TSX:ALA.UN) announced today that it has closed the acquisition of a 48 2/3 percent interest in the Edmonton Ethane Extraction Plant (EEEP) from BP Canada Energy Resources Company ("BP"). The effective date of the acquisition is January 1, 2004. After adjusting for the economic benefit from the effective date to closing, the purchase price paid by AltaGas for the facility was approximately $42.5 million. In connection with the acquisition AltaGas has employed BP's employees at EEEP and will immediately assume operatorship of the plant.

EEEP straddles the ATCO Gas and Pipelines Ltd. system which transports natural gas into the City of Edmonton and the Ft. Saskatchewan area. A long term gas supply contract provides a secure feedstock supply to EEEP. EEEP is directly connected to the Alberta Ethane Gathering System, and to BP's Co-Ed NGL pipeline, providing safe and reliable outlets for the plant's products.

The plant has a licensed gross inlet capacity of 390 Mmcf/d of natural gas and gross natural gas liquids (NGLs) production of approximately 15,000 Bbls/d of specification ethane and 6,000 Bbls/d of propane-plus product. AltaGas' share of the plant's products will be sold under long term contracts. The addition of EEEP will increase AltaGas' total net inlet extraction capacity to 539 Mmcf/d and total ethane and NGLs production to approximately 19,500 Bbls/d.

David Cornhill, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer said, "We now have ownership interests in four of the nine deep cut extraction plants in Alberta. With the addition of EEEP, we expect our extraction business annual operating margin will grow to be in the range of our natural gas distribution and transmission businesses." Mr Cornhill added, "We are excited by the opportunities presented as operator of the EEEP facility and by the addition of the EEEP employees. The expertise of the EEEP employees combined with the expertise of our existing 500 plus employees strengthens our position as a full midstream service provider and better positions us to capture opportunities."

AltaGas moves energy from its source to the end user, adding value through the process. The Trust has consolidated assets totalling over $950 million and a market capitalization of approximately $1 billion. Its steadily expanding asset base today includes natural gas gathering and processing facilities, interests in ethane and natural gas liquids extraction plants, and transmission pipelines. AltaGas distributes natural gas to Alberta customers through AltaGas Utilities Inc., to customers in the Northwest Territories through the Ikhil Gas Project and distributes gas in Nova Scotia through its interest in Heritage Gas Limited. The Trust provides energy services to customers, including marketing of natural gas and natural gas liquids and sale of power from its power purchase based arrangements.

AltaGas' Trust Units are listed on the Toronto Stock Exchange under the symbol ALA.UN. The Trust is included in the S&P/TSX Capped Income Trust Index and the S&P/TSX Capped Energy Trust Index.

AltaGas NEWS RELEASE

ALTAGAS INCOME TRUST ANNOUNCES BOARD RESIGNATIONS

Calgary, Alberta (August 31, 2004) – AltaGas Income Trust (TSE:ALA.UN) (AltaGas) today announced the resignations of Stephen Letwin and Bonnie DuPont from the Board of Directors of AltaGas General Partner Inc., the delegate of the trustee of AltaGas Income Trust. Mr. Letwin and Ms. DuPont were Enbridge Inc.'s (Enbridge) Board nominees pursuant to a securityholder agreement between AltaGas, AltaGas General Partner Inc. and Enbridge.

Enbridge acquired an ownership interest in AltaGas Services Inc. in 1999. Under the securityholder agreement, which terminated upon Enbridge beneficially owning less than or equal to 9.9 percent of the outstanding AltaGas trust units, Enbridge had the right to nominate two individuals for election to the Board of Directors. Enbridge's recent sale of AltaGas trust units reduced Enbridge's ownership interest in AltaGas from 36 percent to approximately 9 percent. While under no obligation to resign from the Board at this time, Mr. Letwin and Ms. DuPont have elected to resign due to other business commitments with Enbridge and due to the less significant nature of Enbridge's investment in AltaGas.

David Cornhill, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of AltaGas, said, "Mr. Letwin and Ms. DuPont have been valuable members of the Board of Directors, providing strong support throughout a period of exceptional growth and change at AltaGas. On behalf of the Board and management, I thank them for their many contributions to the Board and their commitment to AltaGas." Mr. Cornhill added, "We are currently identifying qualified individuals to fill the two vacancies on the Board of Directors."

Stephen Letwin is the Group Vice President, Gas Strategy and Corporate Development at Enbridge. He was appointed a Director of AltaGas Services Inc. on July 1, 2003 and was appointed as a Director of AltaGas General Partner Inc. on April 29, 2004. Mr. Letwin was a member of the Audit Committee.

Bonnie DuPont is the Group Vice President, Corporate Resources of Enbridge. Ms. DuPont was appointed a Director of AltaGas Services Inc. on July 16, 1999 and was appointed as a Director of AltaGas General Partner Inc. on April 29, 2004. Ms. DuPont was a member of the Human Resources and Compensation Committee and the Governance Committee.

AltaGas NEWS RELEASE

ALTAGAS INCOME TRUST INCREASES POWER CAPACITY BY 25 MEGAWATTS

Calgary, Alberta (August 31, 2004) – AltaGas Income Trust (AltaGas or the Trust) (TSE:ALA.UN) announced today it has entered into a contract with Maxim Energy Group Ltd. for the right to 25 megawatts of gas fired power peaking capacity. The contract requires no capital outlay by AltaGas but instead requires AltaGas to pay Maxim monthly variable operating and maintenance charges plus a capacity fee. AltaGas retains 100 percent of the ancillary service and peaking sales revenues. The contract has a 10 year term commencing September 1, 2004 and includes an option at the end of the initial term to extend the term for a further 15 years or purchase the assets.

The 25 megawatts of power is generated by four gas fired peaking plants located in southern Alberta. AltaGas' total power portfolio now consists of 478 megawatts of power generation representing approximately 6 percent of the Alberta power market as of June, 2004.

The addition of the 25 megawatts of natural gas generation capacity provides fuel diversity to AltaGas' coal fired generation. It adds a fifth independent supply source, reducing any potential risk on the Trust's overall power supply portfolio. Operationally, given the speed at which the power assets can be ramped up, the peaking supply easily provides backstopping to AltaGas' Sundance B Power Purchase Arrangement and Genesee energy contract. The peaking gas requirement will be managed by the gas services component of AltaGas.

AltaGas does not engage in speculative trading of power. The Trust manages its acquired power capacity to provide stable, predictable earnings and cash flow over time. AltaGas reduces its exposure to floating electricity prices by supplying internal electrical demand requirements and by using a balanced portfolio of contracts to lock in power margins to reduce pricing risk.

AltaGas moves energy from its source to the end user, adding value through the process. The Trust has consolidated assets totalling over $950 million and a market capitalization of approximately $1 billion. Its steadily expanding asset base today includes natural gas gathering and processing facilities, interests in ethane and natural gas liquids extraction plants, and transmission pipelines. ALTAGAS EXPANDS OPERATIONS IN SASKATCHEWAN WITH CONSTRUCTION OF A $5.5 MILLION NATURAL GAS PROCESSING PLANT

Calgary, Alberta (September 8, 2004) –AltaGas Income Trust (TSE:ALA.UN) today announced that it will construct a $5.5 million sour gas processing plant and approximately 37 kilometres of pipeline near the town of Shaunavon, Saskatchewan. The Trust will utilize new and redeployable equipment to construct the facilities which include amine and liquids recovery equipment and booster and plant compression.

The plant, targeted to be operational by mid-November, 2004, is expected to initially process approximately 1.0 Mmcf/d per day of solution gas from two oil batteries. In exchange for processing the gas the Trust will share in the proceeds from the sale of the gas and associated liquids.

The Shaunavon area represents a new operating area for AltaGas. The Trust will continue to pursue additional volumes at Shaunavon and similar infrastructure development opportunities in Saskatchewan as producers focus on the undeveloped lands in the region.

Gary Holden, President and Chief Operating Officer of AltaGas said, "Shaunavon is a solid demonstration of the internal growth opportunities that continue to drive our success. The Shaunavon plant construction allows AltaGas to grow its gas and NGL marketing business and benefit from higher return on capital through redeployment of equipment to increase the utilization of the Trust's asset pool."

AltaGas moves energy from its source to the end user, adding value through the process. The Trust has consolidated assets totalling over $950 million and a market capitalization of approximately $1 billion. ALTAGAS CLOSES $22.0 MILLION ACQUISITION OF PREMSTAR ENERGY CANADA LTD.

Calgary, Alberta (October 6, 2004) -- AltaGas Income Trust (AltaGas or the Trust) (TSX:ALA.UN) announced today that it has closed the acquisition of substantially all of the assets, including the company names, and liabilities of PremStar Energy Canada Ltd. and its subsidiaries ECNG Inc. and Energistics Group Inc. for a net price after closing adjustments of approximately $22.0 million. The assets purchased include approximately $3.5 million in working capital related to operations from April 1, 2004 to closing. Pursuant to an agreement signed May 26, 2004, the price was paid primarily by way of 993,789 Trust units issued from the Trust's treasury. Clarus Securities Inc. acted as AltaGas' financial advisor on this transaction.

AltaGas has provided gas services since 1994 and the addition of Premstar builds on this low risk, fee for service business. PremStar is one of Canada's leading energy agency businesses, specializing in the procurement and supply of energy to end use customers across Canada. On a fee for service basis, the PremStar group provides energy supply, arranges for transportation services, and supports customers with valuable market information.

AltaGas moves energy from its source to the end user, adding value through the process. AltaGas moves energy from its source to the end user, adding value through the process. The Trust has consolidated assets totalling over $950 million and a market capitalization of approximately $1 billion. Its steadily expanding asset base today includes natural gas gathering and processing facilities, interests in ethane and natural gas liquids extraction plants, and transmission pipelines. AltaGas distributes natural gas to Alberta customers through AltaGas Utilities Inc., to customers in the Northwest Territories through the Ikhil Gas Project and distributes gas in Nova Scotia through its interest in Heritage Gas Limited. The Trust provides energy services to customers, including marketing of natural gas and natural gas liquids and sale of power from its power purchase based arrangements.

AltaGas' Trust Units are listed on the Toronto Stock Exchange under the symbol ALA.UN. The Trust is included in the S&P/TSX Capped Income Trust Index and the S&P/TSX Capped Energy Trust Index.

AltaGas - News Release

AltaGas Delivers Record Net Income and Funds From Operations for the First Nine Months of 2004; Third Quarter 2004 Funds From Operations Increased by 36 Percent Over Prior Year

CALGARY, Alberta, November 10, 2004: AltaGas Income Trust (AltaGas or the Trust) (TSX: ALA.UN) today released its financial results for the third quarter and nine months ended September 30, 2004. AltaGas declared a distribution of $0.15 per Trust unit and limited partnership unit payable on December 15, 2004 to holders of record on November 25, 2004.

- "Operationally and financially the third quarter and nine month results were very solid. Our strategic positioning of assets throughout the energy value chain continues to pay off," said David Cornhill, AltaGas' Chairman and Chief Executive Officer. Mr. Cornhill added, "AltaGas' ability to generate consistent and sustained growth starts with our existing low risk infrastructure asset base. High impact but prudent acquisitions then enhance our growth and our success. Since the end of June, we have successfully closed the acquisitions of the Edmonton ethane extraction plant and PremStar Energy Canada, added 25 megawatts of power peaking capacity and acquired additional units in the Taylor NGL Limited Partnership. The full impact of these investments will be seen in the fourth quarter of 2004 contributing to what I expect will be an exceptional year for AltaGas. I would also like to welcome all of our new employees. Through the PremStar and EEEP acquisitions we have added 77 individuals in Edmonton, Chatham, Oakville and Burnaby. We now have 585 outstanding, dedicated professionals driving AltaGas' success."

HIGHLIGHTS

- Generated record funds from operations in the third quarter and the first nine months of 2004. Funds from operations were $28.5 million for the third quarter of 2004 compared to $20.9 million for the same period of 2003 and $74.7 million for the first nine months of 2004 compared to $63.6 million for the first nine months of 2003. Funds from operations for the first nine months of 2004 included $12.7 million in one time costs in the second and third quarters of 2004 associated with the conversion to an income trust and turnaround costs at our Bantry field processing facility.

- Increased third quarter net income to $17.1 million from $9.2 million for the same period of 2003. On a per unit basis net income was $0.33 compared to $0.20 for the third quarter of 2003.

- Achieved a number of key initiatives:

  Closed the acquisition of a 48 2/3 percent interest in the Edmonton ethane extraction plant (EEEP) from BP Canada Energy Resources Company. After adjusting for the economic benefit from the January 1, 2004 effective date to closing, the purchase price paid by AltaGas for the facility was approximately $42.1 million subject to a final statement of adjustments. AltaGas assumed operatorship of the plant and the staff at EEEP have become AltaGas employees.

  Entered into a capital lease for the right to 25 megawatts of gas fired power peaking capacity generated by four gas fired peaking plants located in southern Alberta from Maxim Energy Group Ltd.

  Announced the construction of a $5.5 million sour gas processing plant and approximately 37 kilometres of pipeline near the town of Shaunavon, Saskatchewan. The plant, targeted to be operational by the end of 2004, is expected to initially process approximately 1.0 Mmcf/d per day of solution gas.

Continued to grow through internal expansion projects in the field gathering and processing component with investment of approximately $7.9 million during the first nine months of 2004.

AltaGas acquired an additional 1,605,000 limited partnership units of Taylor NGL Limited Partnership (Taylor) from Taylor's equity offering of 8,025,000 units at a price of $6.60 per unit on August 19, 2004. With this $10.6 million investment, AltaGas holds 18.9 percent of Taylor.

On October 6, 2004 AltaGas closed the acquisition of substantially all of the assets, including the company names, and liabilities of PremStar Energy Canada Ltd. and its subsidiaries ECNG Inc. and Energistics Group Inc. for approximately $22.0 million paid primarily by way of 993,789 AltaGas Trust units issued from treasury. The PremStar group is one of Canada's leading energy agency businesses, specializing in the procurement and supply of energy to end use customers.

- Enbridge Inc. (Enbridge) sold its approximate 36 percent interest in AltaGas Income Trust through Trust unit sales in August and September. Subsequent to Enbridge's sale of its AltaGas units, Stephen Letwin and Bonnie DuPont resigned from the Board of Directors of AltaGas General Partner Inc., the delegate of the trustee of AltaGas Income Trust. Mr. Letwin and Ms. DuPont were Enbridge's Board nominees pursuant to a securityholder agreement between AltaGas, AltaGas General Partner Inc. and Enbridge. David Cornhill, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of AltaGas, said, "Mr. Letwin and Ms. DuPont have been valuable members of the Board of Directors, providing strong support throughout a period of exceptional growth and change at AltaGas. On behalf of the Board and management, I thank them for their many contributions to the Board and their commitment to AltaGas. We are currently identifying individuals to fill the two vacancies on the Board of Directors."

- As part of AltaGas' continuing corporate governance and succession planning process, David Cornhill, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer, has informed the Board of Directors that he intends to remain as both Chairman and Chief Executive Officer until sometime in 2006, after which he will relinquish the role of Chief Executive Officer but will continue in his capacity as Chairman of the Board of Directors. Mr. Cornhill has held both roles since AltaGas was founded in 1994. "We have built AltaGas Income Trust into one of Canada's leading energy infrastructure trusts with predictable and consistent cash flows. We have in place the people and the assets to build upon the foundation put in place over the past decade," said David Cornhill. Mr. Cornhill added, "In my continuing role as Chairman of the Board of Directors, I expect to continue to hold a significant personal investment in AltaGas and I look forward to being a part of AltaGas' exciting future." The Board of Directors and Mr. Cornhill will be working together in due course to identify internal and external candidates for the role of Chief Executive Officer.

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

This Management's Discussion and Analysis dated November 10, 2004 is a review of the results of operations and the liquidity and capital resources of AltaGas Income Trust (AltaGas or the Trust). It should be read in conjunction with the accompanying unaudited consolidated financial statements of the Trust, formerly AltaGas Services Inc. (ASI), for the three and nine month periods ended September 30, 2004 and the notes thereto and with the financial statements and Management's Discussion and Analysis contained in ASI's annual report for the year ended December 31, 2003. The discussion and analysis of operations and unaudited interim consolidated financial statements presented herein report on a continuity-of-interest accounting basis which recognizes AltaGas Income Trust as the successor to AltaGas Services Inc.

To provide Trust unitholders and prospective investors with information regarding the Trust, this MD&A contains forward looking statements in accordance with securities legislation. These forward looking statements are management's best prediction, and the actual results may vary due to the nature of estimates. These statements are provided wherever appropriate to assist investors to see the business from a management viewpoint. Such disclosure is subject to the reasonable constraints of maintaining the confidentiality of certain information which, if published could have an adverse impact on the competitive position of the Trust.

Additional information relating to AltaGas Income Trust can be found on its website at www.altagas.ca. The continuous disclosure materials of the Trust, filed as AltaGas Services Inc. prior to May 1, 2004, including its annual Management's Discussion and Analysis and audited financial statements, 2003 Annual Report, Annual Information Form, Information Circular and Proxy Statement, material change reports and press releases issued by the Trust are also available through the Trust's website or directly through the SEDAR system at www.sedar.com.

ALTAGAS INCOME TRUST

On April 29, 2004 the securityholders of AltaGas Services Inc. voted in favour of a plan of arrangement to reorganize the business of AltaGas Services Inc. into an open-ended investment trust effective May 1, 2004. For each common share of AltaGas Services Inc., shareholders received either one AltaGas Income Trust unit or one limited partnership unit of AltaGas Income Trust. As a result of implementing the reorganization, AltaGas Income Trust now indirectly holds through its partnerships and subsidiaries all of the assets, liabilities and businesses formerly owned by AltaGas Services Inc. The material businesses are operated by AltaGas Holding Limited Partnership No.1, AltaGas Ltd., AltaGas Operating Partnership, AltaGas Power Holdings Partnership, AltaGas Pipelines Partnership and AltaGas Utilities Inc. (collectively the operating subsidiaries). The cash flow of AltaGas Income Trust is solely dependent on the results of the operating subsidiaries and is derived from dividends or returns of capital from common shares held and from interest earned on loans made by AltaGas Income Trust to the operating subsidiaries.

The Trust has incurred costs and charges to implement the conversion, which are anticipated to total approximately $14.4 million. In the second quarter of 2004 approximately $7.0 million had been charged to unitholders' capital, and $3.5 million had been charged to income. In the third quarter, AltaGas incurred $0.9 million in charges to income and an additional $1.3 million that was charged to unitholders capital related to the conversion. The balance is expected to be charged to income in the future.

DISTRIBUTIONS

AltaGas targets to pay out substantially all of its ongoing sustainable distributable cash flow through regular monthly distributions made to unitholders. The distributions are determined giving consideration to the consolidated net income, maintenance and growth capital requirements and the debt repayment requirements of AltaGas.

On April 29, 2004 AltaGas announced that AltaGas Income Trust would commence monthly distributions of $0.15 for each Trust unit and limited partnership unit on June 15, 2004 to holders of Trust units and holders of limited partnership units. AltaGas pays cash distributions on the 15th day of each month to unitholders of record on the 25th day of the previous month, or the following business day if it falls on a weekend or holiday.

Third quarter distributions declared were $0.45 per unit or $23.2 million. From the date of conversion to an income trust on May 1, 2004, through to September 30, 2004, AltaGas had declared cash distributions of $37.8 million or $0.75 per unit. The following table summarizes AltaGas' dividend and distribution declaration history.[1]

(dollars per unit)	2004	2003	2002	2001
First quarter	$ 0.11	$ 0.08	$ 0.06	$ 0.03
Second quarter	0.30	0.08	0.06	0.03
Third quarter	0.45	0.11	0.08	0.06
Fourth quarter[2]		0.11	0.08	0.06
	$ 0.86	$ 0.38	$ 0.28	$ 0.18

[1] Dividends were paid to shareholders from first quarter 2001 through first quarter 2004. Prior to December 2000 no dividends were paid. Monthly distributions to unitholders began in second quarter of 2004

[2] Monthly distributions of $0.15 per unit have been declared for payment on both November 15, 2004 and December 15, 2004

For income tax purposes the Trust expects that approximately 70 percent of the distributions declared in 2004 will be taxed as interest with the remaining 30 percent to be classified as a combination of dividends and return of capital. For most unitholders, the return of capital amount will reduce the cost base of their Trust units for purposes of calculating the capital gains amount upon disposition of their units. Unitholders should seek independent tax advice in respect of the consequences to them of acquiring, holding and disposing of units.

[3] Distributions of $0.15 per unit paid commencing May, 2004

AltaGas' net income for the third quarter and first nine months of 2004 again surpassed the comparable periods of 2003, setting a new record since AltaGas' formation in 1994. The driver for these results is the exceptional operating performance of AltaGas' business components and the favourable impact on income tax associated with converting to an income trust. These results were partially offset by one time costs related to the conversion to an income trust and costs associated with a major turnaround at AltaGas' Bantry facility in May, 2004.

Revenue of $547.4 million for the first nine months of 2004 is 3 percent higher than the same period last year due mainly to increased volumes sold and higher average prices received for power in the Energy Services segment and to increases in volumes processed in the Gathering and Processing segment, offset by lower gas delivery prices in the Natural Gas Distribution segment. For the three months ended September 30, 2004 revenue is up 12 percent to $178.5 million compared to the same period in 2003 on the strength of volume increases in the field gathering and processing and extraction components along with the Energy Services and Natural Gas Distribution segment.

Net revenue, which is gross revenue less cost of commodities purchased for re-sale, increased 12 percent for the first nine months and 15 percent for the third quarter of 2004 compared to the same periods in 2003 due to volume increases. In the extraction component and the Natural Gas Distribution and Energy Services segments, net revenue better reflects performance than does revenue, as changes in the market price of natural gas and power purchased for resale affect both revenue and the cost of sales.

Volume increases in the Gathering and Processing segment were driven by well tie-ins, expansions and modifications at existing facilities, the Rainbow Lake and Mica Pouce Coupe field gathering and processing acquisitions in late 2003, as well as the Edmonton ethane extraction plant acquisition in the third quarter of 2004. In the Energy Services segment, power volumes sold were higher in the first nine months of 2004 over the same period of 2003, due to the addition of volumes associated with the Genesee energy contract from April 1, 2003 and from the addition on September 1, 2004 of 25 megawatts of gas fired power peaking capacity to AltaGas' power portfolio. Natural Gas Distribution sales volumes at AltaGas Utilities Inc. rose in the third quarter of 2004 compared to the same period in 2003, driven by an increased customer base and colder weather, while sales volumes were down in the first nine months of 2004, compared to the same period of 2003 due to warmer weather.

Operating and administrative expense was higher in the third quarter and first nine months of 2004 compared to 2003. Operating costs increased due to the late 2003 field gathering and processing facilities acquisitions and due to a major turnaround required at AltaGas' Bantry facility costing $1.7 million. Administrative expense increased due to $2.1 million cash costs related to the conversion to an income trust, an additional $2.4 million in non-cash compensation expense recorded as a result of all outstanding unvested employee trust unit options vesting effective May 1, 2004, and due to increased staffing required to support the Trust's growth. Amortization expense was up 4 percent for the nine months of 2004 compared to the same period in 2003 and up 6 percent for the third quarter of 2004 compared to 2003. The increases are due mainly to Gathering and Processing segment acquisitions and expansions in late 2003 and the first nine months of 2004.

Interest expense of $15.8 million for the first nine months of 2004 was 5 percent lower than $16.7 million for the same period in 2003 and for the third quarter of 2004 interest expense of $4.9 million was 11 percent lower than $5.5 million for the third quarter of 2003. The lower interest expense for both periods was due to lower average debt outstanding partially offset by higher average interest rates. Debt was reduced with cash from operations and from the net proceeds of AltaGas' June 2004 Trust unit offering.

AltaGas' income is subject to a variety of tax rates and rate reductions currently and in the future. Consequently there are several items which impact income tax expense and the effective tax rate from period to period. Income tax expense for the first nine months of 2004 was $8.2 million less than reported for the same period of 2003 even though income before tax was higher. As a result of AltaGas' conversion into an income trust, amortization expense exceeds capital cost allowance claimed, resulting in a reversal over time of the future income tax liability. AltaGas' first five months as an income trust resulted in a credit to income tax expense of $6.7 million. Also contributing to the variance from 2003 to 2004 in the effective income tax rate was a $0.7 million charge in the third quarter of 2003 to record the impact on future income tax liabilities of federal rate and resource allowance adjustments. Income tax expense for the nine months of 2004 was reduced by $1.5 million, $0.7 million resulting from the provincial rate reduction in the March 19, 2004 Alberta Government's budget and an additional $0.8 million reduction related to the federal statutory rate decrease. The impact of recording a charge to income for compensation expense related to stock options, which has no current or future income tax implication, partially offset these rate reductions by $0.8 million.

AltaGas provides certain financial measures in this Management's Discussion and Analysis that do not have a standardized meaning prescribed by Canadian generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP). These non-GAAP financial measures may not be comparable to similar measures presented by other trusts.

The purpose of these financial measures and their reconciliation to GAAP financial measures is shown below. All of the measures have been calculated consistent with previous disclosures by AltaGas. All amounts are in millions of dollars unless otherwise noted.

Cash from Operations	Three months ended September 30		Nine months ended September 30
($ millions)	2004	2003	2004	2003
Funds generated from operations	28.5	20.9	74.7	63.6
Add (deduct): Net change in non-cash working capital	1.7	11.4	4.6	18.0
Cash from operations	30.2	32.3	79.3	81.6

Funds generated from operations is provided to assist in determining the ability of AltaGas to generate cash from operations after interest and taxes without regard to changes in the Trust's working capital in the period.

EBITDA	Three months ended September 30		Nine months ended September 30
($ millions)	2004	2003	2004	2003
Non-GAAP financial measure	33.8	29.0	92.8	87.0
Deduct: Amortization	(10.4)	(9.8)	(30.6)	(29.4)
Operating income (GAAP financial measure)	23.4	19.2	62.2	57.6

Earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization (EBITDA) is provided to assist in understanding the ability of the organization to generate cash and its ability to cover interest payments.

Distributable Cash Flow	Three months ended September 30		Nine months ended September 30
($ millions)	2004	2003	2004	2003
Funds generated from operations	28.5	20.9	74.7	63.6
Deduct: Maintenance capital expenditures	(2.0)	(3.0)	(4.3)	(5.0)
Distributable cash flow	26.5	17.9	70.4	58.6
Distributable cash flow per unit, basic	0.51	n/a	1.43	n/a

The distributable cash flow of AltaGas is equal to consolidated funds generated from operations before changes in non-cash working capital, after providing for maintenance capital expenditures. Distributable cash flow is not a defined performance measure under GAAP and distributable cash flow can not be assured. The Trust's calculation of distributable cash flow may differ from similar calculations used by comparable entities. Distributable cash flow is a main performance measure used by management and investors to evaluate the performance of the Trust and its operating subsidiaries.

Net Revenue	Three months ended September 30		Nine months ended September 30
($ millions)	2004	2003	2004	2003
Non-GAAP financial measure	61.5	53.3	178.2	158.9
Add: Cost of sales	117.0	105.6	369.2	372.6
Revenue (GAAP financial measure)	178.5	158.9	547.4	531.5

In the extraction component and the Natural Gas Distribution and Energy Services segments, net revenue better reflects performance than does revenue. As changes in the market price of natural gas and power purchased for resale affect both revenue and the cost of sales, net revenue better reflects organic growth in the business. This table reconciles the revenue and net revenue amounts in the table for Financial and Operating Results for the Gathering and Processing segment to illustrate the relationship between these non-GAAP and GAAP measures where used throughout this Management's Discussion and Analysis.

AltaGas' natural gas processing capacity ranks the Trust in the top ten Canadian processors of natural gas and one of the four largest Canadian midstream processors. The Gathering and Processing segment includes more than 6,000 kilometers of gathering lines, 69 natural gas processing plants, interests in five ethane and natural gas liquids (NGLs) extraction and fractionation facilities and six transmission pipelines. These long-life assets provide service to a diverse customer base under arrangements which include a significant portion of cost of service, fixed fee and recovery of operating cost contracts. Commodity price exposure is minimal and revenues are generally volume driven. Future opportunities derive from the requirement that all natural gas must be processed to meet downstream pipeline specifications prior to delivery to the end user. With its extensive gathering infrastructure and the mobile nature of its field gathering and processing plants, AltaGas can quickly redeploy assets in response to producer drilling activity, size facilities to meet demand while reducing operating costs and minimize the time required to bring new production on line, accelerating producer and AltaGas' cash flow.

Net revenue for AltaGas' Gathering and Processing segment was $117.3 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2004, compared to $101.7 million for the same period in 2003 and $40.7 million for the third quarter of 2004 compared to $34.5 million for the third quarter of 2003. Net revenue growth in this segment was the result of increased volumes processed in the field gathering and processing and extraction components.

In the field gathering and processing component volumes processed rose during the first nine months of 2004 compared to the same period in 2003 due to AltaGas' December, 2003 acquisition of the Rainbow Lake facilities in northwestern Alberta and to the record 333 well tie-ins experienced during 2004 in AltaGas' operating areas. Gas drilling activity in the Western Canadian Sedimentary Basin continued to be strong during the third quarter of 2004, resulting in 81 wells tied-in to AltaGas' field gathering and processing facilities compared with 80 well tie-ins during the same period in 2003. The strong tie-in activity, along with new volumes from the Rainbow Lake acquisition and internal growth initiatives more than offset normal natural gas production declines and delays due to wet weather for the Windfall and Doris facility expansions as well as normal scheduled turnarounds. AltaGas' gross average throughput increased to 552 Mmcf/d during the third quarter of 2004 compared to 514 Mmcf/d during the third quarter of 2003.

AltaGas' existing operating areas continue to provide growth opportunities. During the third quarter of 2004 further expansion at the Marten Creek facility along with expansions at the Kirkpatrick Lake and Windfall facilities became operational and AltaGas announced the construction of a $5.5 million sour gas processing plant and approximately 37 kilometres of pipeline near the town of Shaunavon, Saskatchewan. The Shaunavon plant is expected to be operational by the end of 2004 and will process 1.0 Mmcf/d per day of solution gas currently being flared from two oil batteries. AltaGas is pursuing additional opportunities in Saskatchewan to process flared gas. Internal development projects are supported by producer commitments designed to minimize AltaGas' financial exposure to throughput declines. During the first nine months of 2004, AltaGas invested approximately $7.9 million on internal expansion projects in the field gathering and processing component. The new volumes associated with these expansions will be reflected in the fourth quarter of 2004.

In the extraction component, as a result of higher volumes processed and a favourable NGL pricing environment net revenue grew 151 percent during the third quarter of 2004 compared to the third quarter of 2003, reaching $5.5 million. Average NGLs volumes processed for the third quarter of 2004 more than doubled reaching 13,054 Bbls/d compared to 6,428 Bbls/d for the same period in 2003.

Contributing to the volume increase was AltaGas' closing, in late August 2004, of the acquisition of BP Canada Energy Resources Company's 48 2/3 percent interest in the Edmonton ethane extraction plant (EEEP) located at Edmonton, Alberta. After adjusting for the economic benefit from the January 1, 2004 effective date to closing, the purchase price paid by AltaGas for the facility was approximately $42.1 million, subject to a final statement of adjustments. AltaGas assumed operatorship of the plant and the staff at EEEP have become AltaGas employees. The plant has a gross licensed inlet capacity of 390 Mmcf/d of natural gas and gross natural gas liquids production of approximately 15,000 Bbls/d of specification ethane and 6,000 Bbls/d of propane-plus product. The acquisition has increased AltaGas' total net licensed inlet extraction capacity to 539 Mmcf/d. AltaGas' share of plant products will be sold under long-term contracts and a long-term gas supply contract provides secure feedstock supply to EEEP. Also contributing to the increase in extraction volumes processed were modifications made to the Empress EnCana extraction facility that increased ethane production effective the fourth quarter of 2003. There was also increased production at the Joffre ethane extraction plant. NGLs at the Joffre facility were reinjected in the third quarter of 2003 as a result of a lower gas to liquids price differential. The full impact of the addition of EEEP is expected to boost production in the fourth quarter of 2004 and 2005 to new records. In addition, AltaGas expects to invest approximately $5.0 million at EEEP during 2005 to increase efficiency and undertake other natural gas value chain optimizations at the plant to further enhance its financial and operational performance.

Net revenue in AltaGas' transmission component was down 3 percent for the third quarter of 2004 when compared to the same quarter of 2003, although after adjusting for lower flow through operating costs in the third quarter of 2004 net revenues were essentially flat. For the first nine months of 2004 when compared to the same period in 2003 net revenue was up 3 percent due to increased EnCana volume commitments on the Suffield transmission system.

ENERGY SERVICES

The Energy Services segment is comprised of the power services and gas service components. In this segment, the Trust also reports the results of the oil and gas production component. AltaGas is not in the business of exploration and development of natural gas reserves; however, associated with certain of its facility acquisitions, AltaGas has accumulated a portfolio of oil and natural gas reserves that it continues to hold and produce. The financial results of the power services component currently account for a significant portion of overall segment financial results and as such the commentary in this section will be restricted to the power services component.

[1] Average for the period

The power services component generated net revenue of $34.6 million for the first three quarters of 2004 compared to $29.8 million for the same period in 2003 and $13.9 million for third quarter 2004 compared to $11.7 million in 2003. Increases in the first nine months of 2004 was due to higher realized prices on power sales and higher volumes sold primarily related to the Genesee energy contract. For the third quarter of 2004 the increase is primarily due to increased volumes sold related to the Trust's 25 megawatt peaking plant capital lease. The Alberta Electric System Operator (AESO) is entitled to recover or refund variances between revenues collected through transmission charges and expenses incurred by AESO through true up adjustments calculated quarterly. For 2004, the cumulative quarterly adjustments have resulted in a net credit to AltaGas' income of $ 0.5 million compared to a credit to income of $4.1 million for 2003.

On September 1, 2004 AltaGas entered into a long term capital lease with Maxim Energy Group Ltd. for 25 megawatts of gas fired power peaking capacity. The capital lease requires AltaGas to pay Maxim monthly variable operating and maintenance charges plus a capacity fee. AltaGas retains 100 percent of the ancillary service and peaking sales revenues. The capital lease has a 10 year term commencing September 1, 2004 and includes an option at the end of the initial term to extend the term for a further 15 years or purchase the assets.

The 25 megawatts of power is generated by four gas fired peaking plants located in southern Alberta. The addition of the 25 megawatts of natural gas generation capacity provides fuel diversity to AltaGas' coal fired generation. It adds a fifth independent supply source, reducing potential risk on the Trust's overall power supply portfolio. Operationally, given the speed at which the power assets can be ramped up, the peaking supply easily provides some backstopping to AltaGas' Sundance B Power Purchase Arrangement and Genesee energy contract. The peaking gas requirement will be managed by AltaGas' gas services component.

AltaGas' total power portfolio at the end of the third quarter of 2004 consisted of 478 megawatts of power generation capacity representing approximately 6 percent of the Alberta power market.

AltaGas does not engage in the speculative trading of power. The Trust manages its acquired power capacity to provide stable, predictable earnings and cash flow over time. AltaGas reduces its exposure to floating electricity prices by supplying internal electrical demand requirements and by using a balanced portfolio of contracts to lock in power margins to reduce pricing risk. The average price AltaGas received from power sales in the third quarter of 2004 was $49.22 per MWh compared to $49.41 per MWh in the third quarter of 2003 and $48.30 per MWh for the first nine months of 2004 compared to $47.72 per MWh for the same period in 2003. Average Alberta Power Pool spot prices were $54.35 per MWh and $62.39 per MWh in the third quarters of 2004 and 2003 respectively, and $54.40 per MWh and $65.71 per MWh in the first nine months of 2004 and 2003 respectively.

Subsequent to the end of the third quarter of 2004, AltaGas significantly expanded its gas services component with the acquisition on October 6, 2004 of substantially all of the assets, including the company names, and liabilities of PremStar Energy Canada Ltd. and its subsidiaries ECNG Inc. and Energistics Group Inc. The purchase price of $22.0 million, after closing adjustments from the effective date of April 1, 2004, was paid primarily by way of the issuance of 993,789 Trust units from treasury.

AltaGas has provided gas services since 1994 and the addition of PremStar builds on this low risk, fee for service business. PremStar is one of Canada's leading energy agency businesses, specializing in the procurement and supply of energy to end use customers across Canada. On a fee for service basis, the PremStar group provides energy supply, arranges for transportation services, and supports customers with valuable market information. This transaction is expected to make a significant positive impact to the gas services component in the fourth quarter of 2004 and 2005 forward, through its existing business and through value chain optimization with other businesses of AltaGas.

NATURAL GAS DISTRIBUTION

The Natural Gas Distribution segment includes AltaGas Utilities Inc. (AltaGas Utilities or AUI), AltaGas' one-third interest in Inuvik Gas Ltd. (Inuvik Gas) and its 24.9 percent interest in Heritage Gas Limited (Heritage Gas).

The natural gas distribution business is highly seasonal with the majority of natural gas deliveries occurring during the winter heating season. Gas sales during the winter typically account for approximately two-thirds of annual distribution net revenue, resulting in strong first and fourth quarter results and second and third quarters that show either small profits or losses.

In the first nine months of 2004, net revenue in AltaGas' Natural Gas Distribution segment was $21.0 million compared to $21.3 million for the same period in 2003. Customer growth for the nine months of 2004 was offset primarily by the impact of the completion of negotiations on AUI's general rate application filed with the Alberta Energy and Utilities Board (AEUB). Lower than anticipated cost rates for debt and common equity as approved for 2003 resulted in a charge to net income of $0.5 million in the first quarter of 2004 related to previously recorded 2003 results.

Heritage Gas, 24.9 percent owned by AltaGas, activated its natural gas distribution system in late December 2003. Heritage Gas is in the initial stages of its planned growth and consequently has not had a material impact on AltaGas' consolidated results in the first nine months of 2004.

In the third quarter of 2004, net revenue in AltaGas' Natural Gas Distribution segment was $5.1 million compared to $4.9 million for the same period in 2003. This increase is due to higher sales volumes in 2004 compared to the third quarter of 2003 associated with an increased customer base and colder weather. Weather for the third quarter, as measured by heating degree days, was 33.5 percent colder than the third quarter of 2003 and 24.8 percent colder than the 20 year average.

AUI and Heritage Gas are provincially regulated as to natural gas rates and terms and conditions of service. Customer rates are based on anticipated sales as well as the revenue required to recover estimated cost of service and an allowed return on rate base. Rate base generally consists of the aggregate of the utility's approved investment in plant, property and equipment in service, less accumulated depreciation plus an allowance for working capital. Return on rate base is comprised of regulatory allowed financing costs and return on common equity. On July 2, 2004 the AEUB issued its Generic Cost of Capital decision. The decision established for AUI the 2004 rate of return on common equity at 9.6 percent and 2004 capital structure at 41 percent equity and 59 percent debt resulting in final allowable rates for interest expense and return on common equity.

AUI filed its Phase 2 application, for the 2003 and 2004 test years, arising from the Alberta Energy and Utilities Board approval of its Phase 1 decision issued August 3, 2004. The Phase 1 decision confirmed the revenue requirements which resulted from a negotiated settlement process. The Phase 2 portion of the general rate proceeding encompasses the allocation of costs to rate classes and the resulting rate design. A hearing on this phase is scheduled to start January 10, 2005. AUI is planning to file a Phase 1 General Rate Application for 2005, 2006 and possibly 2007 in the fourth quarter of this year.

AUI continues to make moderate increases in its customer base in its catchment area. In addition the company continues to look for opportunities to increase the number of franchises served. During the quarter AUI entered into an agreement with Orr Mineral Developments Ltd. (Orr) to acquire its distribution assets which provide natural gas service to approximately 112 customers in the hamlet of Suffield in southern Alberta. The sale by Orr requires the approval of the AEUB, which is expected to be obtained late in 2004 or early 2005. Orr was the last small independently owned natural gas distribution company in Alberta.

Heritage Gas is focused on building momentum behind a consumer movement to switch heating fuel sources in Nova Scotia's market place. Construction of a major facilities extension to serve Nova Scotia Power's Burnside facility was constructed during the third quarter of 2004. The facilities are capable of delivering the daily contracted volume of 16,700 GJ. Heritage Gas anticipates that the facilities will be activated and billing to the customer will commence in the fourth quarter of 2004.

Heritage Gas is very close to achieving the necessary customer commitments that are required to meet the economic feasibility test for expansion of natural gas service to the Town of Amherst. It is expected that once the economic feasibility hurdles are met natural gas service to Amherst could be available in the fourth quarter of 2005. At the end of the third quarter of 2004 Heritage Gas had installed services to 81 customers and had signed commitments from another 227 customers.

Identifiable trends in AltaGas' business across the past eight quarters reflect the organization's growth, a favorable business environment, and seasonality in the business. The first and last quarters each year are AltaGas' most profitable on the basis of the contribution from the Natural Gas Distribution segment which, as a distributor of natural gas for heating purposes, reports higher earnings in colder periods than in warmer periods.

The fourth quarter of 2002 was the strongest quarter to that date for ASI at $11.2 million in net income on the basis of an increased customer base in the Natural Gas Distribution segment and from power sales which AltaGas commenced at the beginning of 2002. Fourth quarter 2002 net income was also higher than in the previous quarter of the year due to the higher seasonal contribution from the Natural Gas Distribution segment. The Suffield pipeline and Wabasca field gathering and processing facilities were acquired and construction of the Joffre ethane extraction plant was commissioned late in the quarter.

Net income of $10.2 million in the first quarter of 2003 set a new high for ASI for that period in a year. The projects and acquisitions undertaken in the fourth quarter of 2002 were the main drivers of this performance, along with an improved business environment in all business segments. The Wabasca facilities acquisition increased throughput in the field gathering and processing component as did sharply increased tie-in activity with a record 85 wells tied-in during the first quarter. Final commissioning of the Joffre ethane extraction plant provided volume increases in the extraction component and volumes in the transmission component were higher due to the Suffield pipelines acquisition. Unplanned outages in the power services component, combined with higher than expected transmission costs due to changes in process at the Transmission Authority, partially offset the gains made in the other segments. AltaGas commenced selling power on April 1, 2003 from the Genesee energy contract which arrangement provides for 100 megawatts of power capacity from the Genesee power plant.

Second quarter 2003 net income was $6.8 million, 39 percent higher than the same quarter in 2002, a result of stronger contributions from the transmission, power services and extraction components. Increases in the transmission component related to the Suffield pipeline acquisition at the end of 2002. In the power services component, increases in net revenue were driven by higher average prices received for power and by the increased volumes sold resulting from the Genesee energy contract. Extraction component performance was better than the same quarter in the prior year as a result of the commissioning of the Joffre ethane extraction plant at the end of 2002. Improved operating income was offset by higher interest expense due to higher debt levels in the third quarter of 2003 when compared to the same quarter of the prior year, and as a result of a charge to income for legislative changes to the taxation of resource income.

Power services, extraction and transmission components were again the key contributors in the third quarter of 2003 to a 63 percent increase in net income to $9.3 million when compared to the third quarter of 2002. Operating results were driven by competition. Late quarter modifications to the EnCana-operated Empress extraction facility increased AltaGas' net production capability by an estimated 1,400 Bbls/d. In addition, power prices were improved over the same quarter in the prior year. AltaGas paid a quarterly dividend of $0.11 per share, up from $0.08 per share in the second quarter of 2003 on the basis of the increased strength and sustainability of AltaGas' earnings.

Fourth quarter 2003 net income of $12.0 million, including an unfavorable income tax expense charge of $1.2 million related to announced changes in federal large corporations tax legislation, was still the highest quarterly net income reported by AltaGas since it was formed. The increase from the prior year's quarter was a result of the late 2002 gathering and processing segment acquisitions, incremental power volumes sold from the Genesee energy contract and to the completion of modifications to increase ethane production at the EnCana-operated Empress extraction plant late in the third quarter of 2003.

First quarter 2004 produced record net income of $11.0 million for that period in a year based on increased volumes in the Gathering and Processing and Energy Services segments which were partially offset by lower margins in the Energy Services segment and warmer weather and regulatory adjustments in the Natural Gas Distribution segment.

The second quarter of 2004 saw the conversion of AltaGas from a corporate structure to an income trust. Keeping aligned with the strong first quarter of 2004, the Trust continued to build on its earlier success as net income of $11.9 million and income per unit of $0.25 both showed improvements. During the quarter AltaGas made its first public offering of units as an income trust and raised $88.5 million with net proceeds used to reduce the Trust's debt. This quarter also saw the commencement of monthly distributions to unitholders of $0.15 per unit.

Third quarter 2004 results are discussed in detail in an earlier section of this Management's Discussion and Analysis.

CHANGES IN ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Effective January 1, 2004, AltaGas prospectively adopted the provisions of the CICA's new Accounting Guideline "Hedging Relationships" that specifies the circumstances in which hedge accounting is appropriate, including the identification, documentation, designation and effectiveness of hedges, and the discontinuance of hedge accounting. AltaGas has determined that its hedging documentation meets the requirements of the Guideline and therefore there has been no impact on the consolidated financial statements.

Effective the first quarter of 2004, AltaGas' changed its accounting policy for stock-based compensation, now recognizing the compensation expense related to stock options in the financial statements according to the fair-value method. Prior to the change in policy, the Trust disclosed the impact of the accounting for stock options under the fair-value method on a pro-forma basis. Under the provisions set out by the CICA, AltaGas has adopted the change retroactively. The impact was to reduce retained earnings at January 1, 2004 by $332 thousand, and to reduce first quarter 2004 earnings by $136 thousand which amounts were based on the vesting status and exercise assumptions in existence at the end of the first quarter 2004. Subsequent to the conversion of AltaGas Services Inc. to an income trust all unvested options became fully vested. The charge to income in second quarter 2004 to reflect this early vesting was $2.4 million.

CRITICAL ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES

Since a determination of the value of many assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses is dependent upon future events, the preparation of the Trust's consolidated financial statements requires the use of estimates and assumptions which have been made using careful judgment. AltaGas' critical accounting estimates continue to be amortization expense, asset retirement obligations and asset impairment assessment. For further information on these critical accounting estimates, refer to Management's Discussion and Analysis in ASI's 2003 Annual Report.

FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

AltaGas enters into financial derivative contracts such as swaps and collars to manage exposure to fluctuations in commodity prices and interest rates, particularly in the power services component and with respect to interest rates on debt. These contracts are designed as hedges and gains and losses relating to such contracts are deferred and recognized in the same period and financial statement category as the corresponding hedged transaction.

The most significant impact of these contracts on 2004 business has been to provide revenue stability in the power services component. Alberta Power Pool daily average spot prices ranged from $124.23 per MWh to $12.11 per MWh in the third quarter of 2004. Through the use of financial hedges on a portion of its power portfolio deemed optimal by management, AltaGas moderated the impact of this volatility on its business.

AltaGas reduces financing costs and minimizes the effect of future interest rate movements on its cash flows through the use of interest rate swaps. At September 30, 2004 AltaGas had interest rates fixed through swap transactions with varying terms to maturity on $200.0 million of its $242.0 million total drawn bank debt. Including AltaGas' medium term notes, the rate has been fixed on 84 percent of AltaGas' total debt, including capital leases. The amount of fixed rate debt was higher than AltaGas' target of 70 to 75 percent of total debt due to the proceeds of the June 2004 equity offering being applied to floating rate debt.

On June 10, 2004 AltaGas Income Trust closed a public offering of 4,730,000 Trust units, at a price of $18.70 per Trust unit for gross proceeds of $88.5 million. The offering included the concurrent exercise by the Underwriters of an over-allotment option granted by AltaGas to purchase an additional 10 percent of the issue or 430,000 Trust units on the same terms. The net proceeds of the offering to the Trust, after payment of fees and expenses of $4.7 million was approximately $83.8 million. The net proceeds were used to reduce bank indebtedness and for general corporate purposes including AltaGas' ongoing capital program, the acquisition of the Edmonton ethane extraction plant and funding future acquisitions.

CAPITAL EXPENDITURES

Total capital expenditures by the Trust for the third quarter and first nine months of 2004 were $55.3 million and $75.8 million respectively compared to $6.4 million and $18.8 million for the respective periods of 2003.

Growth capital for the first nine months of 2004 included $42.1 million for the EEEP acquisition, $13.8 million related to the capital lease for 25 megawatts of peaking power capacity, and $12.6 million for expansions within the existing business and acquisitions of additional working interest in plants where AltaGas is able, through increased ownership, to optimize operations and generate additional operating margin for the Trust.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

Funds generated from operations were $74.7 million in the first nine months of 2004 compared to $63.6 million for the same period in 2003.

AltaGas believes that its access to debt and equity markets, unutilized bank credit facilities, funds generated from operations and funds generated from the Trust's Distribution Reinvestment and Premium Distribution™ programs will provide it with sufficient capital resources and liquidity to fund existing operations, future distributions, and certain acquisition and expansion opportunities in 2004. A description of AltaGas' credit facilities can be found in Notes 6 and 7 to the consolidated financial statements included in ASI's 2003 Annual Report, and is further updated in the Trust unit offering Final Short-Form Prospectus dated July 29, 2004.

The use of debt or equity funding is based on AltaGas' capital structure determined by considering the norms and risks associated with each of its business components and segments. AltaGas Operating Partnership has $100.0 million in medium term notes outstanding and AltaGas Ltd. has access to prime loans, banker's acceptances and letters of credit though bank lines of approximately $425.0 million. At September 30, 2004 AltaGas Ltd. had drawn bank debt of $242.0 million and letters of credit outstanding of $29.7 million. These two entities fund all operating subsidiaries. As an income trust, AltaGas targets a debt to total capitalization ratio between 45 percent and 50 percent. In the third quarter the Trust's net debt to total capitalization ratio decreased to 44.0 percent at September 30, 2004 from 53.3 percent at September 30, 2003 and 52.2 percent at December 31, 2003. In the third quarter of 2004, AltaGas recorded long term debt of $13.0 million under the terms of a capital lease associated with its 25 megawatts of peaking power capacity, of which $0.5 million is reported as the current portion of the long term debt.

On May 20, 2004 AltaGas adopted Premium Distribution™, Distribution Reinvestment and Optional Unit Purchase Plans (DRIP) for eligible holders of Trust units and limited partnership units of AltaGas Income Trust, AltaGas Holding Limited Partnership No. 1 and AltaGas Holding Limited Partnership No. 2. DRIP participation in the third quarter of 2004 generated $4.2 million in new equity through the issuance of 220,085 Trust units, and $4.6 million in new equity and 240,429 Trust units on a year to date basis. Complete details on DRIP are available on the AltaGas website at www.altagas.ca.

Following AltaGas' announcement in March of its then proposed conversion to a trust Standard & Poor's (S&P) confirmed the rating on AltaGas' long term corporate credit at BBB- with a negative outlook and the rating on the senior unsecured debt at BBB-. The Dominion Bond Rating Service (DBRS) confirmed the rating of AltaGas Income Trust at BBB (low) with a stable trend and applied the same rating to AltaGas Operating Partnership and the medium term notes held by AltaGas Operating Partnership. The Trust has a stability rating of SR-3 (stable outlook) from S&P and STA-3 (mid) from DBRS.

TRUST UNIT INFORMATION

Under the terms of the restructuring of AltaGas into an income trust effective May1, 2004, ASI securityholders exchanged their shares in the company for Trust units and eligible securityholders also received limited partnership units that are exchangeable into Trust units on a one for one basis. The limited partnership units do not trade on the TSX.

As of October 31, 2004 the Trust had 49.6 million Trust units and 3.4 million limited partnership units outstanding and a market capitalization of $1.1 billion based on a closing trading price on October 31, 2004 of $21.59 per Trust unit. There are 0.4 million options exercisable under the terms of the Unit option agreement brought forward in the reorganization. All options currently issued under this plan have vested effective May 1, 2004. Enbridge exchanged 8.9 million limited partnership units into Trust units during the third quarter of 2004.

OFF BALANCE SHEET ARRANGEMENTS

The Trust is not party to any contractual arrangement under which an unconsolidated entity may have any obligation under certain guarantee contracts, a retained or contingent interest in assets transferred to an unconsolidated entity or similar arrangement that serves as credit, liquidity or market risk support to that entity for such assets. The Trust has no obligation under derivative instruments, nor under a material variable interest in an unconsolidated entity that provides financing, liquidity, market risk or credit risk support to the registrant, or engages in leasing, hedging or research and development services with the registrant.

CONTRACTUAL OBLIGATIONS

AltaGas entered into a capital lease with Maxim Energy Group Ltd. for the right to 25 megawatts of gas fired power peaking capacity. AltaGas retains 100 percent of the ancillary service and peaking sales revenues. The contract has a 10 year term commencing September 1, 2004 and includes an option at the end of the initial term to extend the term for a further 15 years or purchase the assets. The cost of the lease to AltaGas is $13.8 million which has been paid for with a cash prepayment of $0.8 million, a charge recorded to long term debt of $13.0 million, of which $0.5 million is due over the next twelve months.

There have been no other material changes to AltaGas' contractual obligations, including payments due for each of the next five years and thereafter, since December 31, 2003. For further information on these contractual obligations, refer to Management's Discussion and Analysis in ASI's 2003 Annual Report.

RELATED PARTIES

On August 19, 2004 AltaGas purchased 1,605,000 units of Taylor NGL Limited Partnership (Taylor) from Taylor's equity offering of 8,025,000 units at a price of $6.60 per unit. With this additional investment, the Trust's interest in Taylor has increased to 18.9 percent. Taylor's business is the ownership and operatorship of facilities in the midstream sector of the Western Canadian natural gas industry including the Joffre ethane extraction plant in which AltaGas has a 50 percent ownership interest.

On August 17, 2004 AltaGas announced that Enbridge Inc. completed a sale of 13,397,500 Trust units of AltaGas including an over allotment of 1,747,500 Trust units to a group of Canadian underwriters at a price of $19.75. This sale reduced Enbridge's interest in AltaGas from approximately 36 percent to 9 percent. On October 4, 2004 Enbridge closed the sale of its remaining 4,800,000 Trust units at $19.85.

OUTLOOK

The outlook for the balance of 2004 is expected to be very positive particularly due to the increased drilling activity in the Gathering and Processing segment and the late August 2004 acquisition of the Edmonton ethane extraction plant. Drilling activity in the majority of AltaGas' operating areas is expected to remain strong given the favorable commodity pricing environment. In addition, exploitation of opportunities in existing businesses and processes are expected to increase processed volumes. In the Energy Services segment, power prices are expected to be higher providing improved earnings on the unhedged portion of AltaGas' power portfolio, power volumes will increase with the addition of the 25 MW power peaking plant acquisition, and the fourth quarter 2004 close of the PremStar acquisition in the gas services component will add significant gas marketing volumes. All of these events are expected to add to the bottom line of the Trust.

As part of AltaGas' continuing corporate governance and succession planning process, David Cornhill, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer, has informed the Board of Directors that he intends to remain as both Chairman and Chief Executive Officer until sometime in 2006, after which he will relinquish the role of Chief Executive Officer but will continue in his capacity as Chairman of the Board of Directors. Mr. Cornhill has held both roles since AltaGas was founded in 1994. The Board of Directors and Mr. Cornhill will be working together in due course to identify internal and external candidates for the role of Chief Executive Officer.

UNITHOLDER LIMITED LIABILITY LEGISLATION

Legislation came into effect in Alberta on July 1, 2004 to provide limited liability for holders of trust units, similar to protection afforded to investors of corporations. The legislation covers events that occur on or after July 1, 2004 and extends to all unitholders of AltaGas Income Trust, which is registered in Alberta, including non-residents. The legislation does not remove the issue of unlimited liability for any acts or omissions that occurred prior to July 1, 2004.

Prior to the July 1 amendments, the legislation governing the creation of trusts did not contain explicit language which limited the liability of unitholders of the Trust to their equity investment in the Trust. As a result, there has existed a possibility that unitholders of the Trust may not be protected from liabilities of the Trust to the same extent as a shareholder of a publicly traded corporation and that potentially, unitholders could be liable for tort claims such as environmental claims. The AltaGas Income Trust indenture itself provides that no unitholder will be subject to any liability in connection with the Trust or its obligations and affairs or for any act or omission of the Trustee, provided that in the event that a court determines that unitholders are subject to such liabilities, the liabilities will be enforceable only against and will be satisfied out of the Trust's assets. The trust indenture also provides that contracts to which the Trust is a party should contain language restricting the liability of unitholders.

SELECTED NOTES TO THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

(Unaudited)
($ thousands except per unit amounts or where otherwise noted)

1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

AltaGas Income Trust (the Trust) is an unincorporated open-ended trust established under the laws of Canada, pursuant to a Declaration of Trust dated March 26, 2004. The Trust commenced operations on May 1, 2004 as successor to AltaGas Services Inc. (ASI) when it acquired all of the shares of ASI for consideration of Trust units or Exchangeable units on a one for one basis. These unaudited interim consolidated financial statements follow the continuity of interest basis of accounting whereby the Trust is considered a continuation of ASI. As a result, the comparative period figures are those of ASI while the results of operations include ASI's results for the period up to and including April 30, 2004 and the Trust's results of operations from May 1, 2004 to September 30, 2004.

The Trust makes monthly cash distributions to unitholders of trust units and exchangeable units (unitholders) based on the Trust's distribution policy.

The interim consolidated financial statements of the Trust have been prepared by management in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles. The accounting policies applied are consistent with those outlined in ASI's annual consolidated financial statements for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2003, except as described in note 2. These interim consolidated financial statements for the quarter ending September 30, 2004 do not include all of the disclosures required in the annual financial statements, and should be read in conjunction with the audited consolidated financial statements included in ASI's 2003 Annual Report.

2. CHANGE IN ACCOUNTING POLICY

Effective January 1, 2004 the Trust adopted the new Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants standard for accounting for stock-based compensation (Section 3870), which requires the use of the fair value method to account for stock options. Based on the Black-Scholes option valuation model, stock options are valued at the date of the grant and recognized as compensation expense over the vesting period.

No compensation expense is recorded for stock options issued and outstanding prior to January 1, 2002, in accordance with Section 3870. This change in accounting policy resulted in a reduction of opening retained earnings for 2004 of $332 thousand with an offset to unitholders' equity contributed surplus.. Stock option compensation expense for the three months ended September 30, 2004 was nil (nine months ended September 30, 2004 - $2.5 million with a corresponding offset to contributed surplus).

The Trust has an employee unit option plan under which both employees and directors are eligible to receive grants. At September 30, 2004 3,800,000 units were reserved for issuance under the plan. To September 30, 2004 options granted under the plan generally had a term of ten years to expiry and vested no longer than over a four year period. On May 1, 2004 subsequent to the establishment of the Trust all options granted were vested. Options outstanding under the plan have a weighted average exercise price of $9.64 and a weighted average remaining term of 7.84 years.

The basic number of units outstanding for the nine months ended September 30, 2004 was 48.2 million (September 30, 2003 – 45.4 million ASI shares) and the diluted number of units outstanding for the nine months ended September 30, 2004 was 48.9 million (September 30, 2003 – 45.8 million ASI shares).

4. RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

On September 4, 2003, the Trust loaned $29.0 million to Taylor. The loan was interest bearing at prime plus one percent and was repaid on October 17, 2003.

On March 18, 2004, the Trust purchased 320,000 limited partnership units of Taylor for $2.2 million. The purchase resulted in the dilution of the Trust's ownership in Taylor from 19.2 percent to 18.5 percent and an unrealized dilution gain of $192 thousand.

On June 30, 2004, L.O.P. Inc. (LOP), an equity accounted investee, repaid a $2.3 million loan extended to it by the Trust. At the same time, the Trust sold its investment in LOP to LOP's majority shareholder for proceeds of $0.5 million.

On August 19, 2004, the Trust purchased an additional 1,605,000 limited partnership units of Taylor for $10.6 million. The transaction resulted in an increase of the Trust's ownership in Taylor from 18.5 percent to 18.9 percent and resulted in an unrealized dilution loss of $113 thousand.

5. SEGMENTED INFORMATION

AltaGas is a midstream energy trust with a portfolio of assets and services used to move energy from the source to the end-user. The Trust has three reportable segments:

Gathering and Processing – natural gas gathering and processing, natural gas transmission, and ethane and natural gas liquids extraction.

Energy Services – power services, gas services and oil and natural gas production.

Natural Gas Distribution – natural gas distribution to end users and related services.

6. EMPLOYEE FUTURE BENEFITS

Substantially all full-time employees of the Trust's natural gas distribution subsidiary, AltaGas Utilities Inc., are members of one of two defined benefit non-contributory pension plans. AltaGas Utilities Inc. also has plans that provide other post-retirement benefits such as life insurance and health care.

The total post retirement benefit cost recorded in the statement of income for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2004 is $0.1 million (2003 - $0.2 million) and $0.7 million (2003 - $0.6 million) respectively.

7. COMPARATIVE FIGURES

Certain comparative figures have been reclassified to conform to the current financial statement presentation. Prior periods have been restated for the impact of the December 31, 2003 adoption of CICA Handbook Section 3110 related to accounting for asset retirement obligations.

8. SEASONALITY

The natural gas distribution business is highly seasonal with the majority of natural gas deliveries occurring during the winter heating season. Gas sales during the winter typically account for approximately two-thirds of annual gas distribution revenue, resulting in strong first and fourth quarter results and second and third quarters that show either small profits or losses.

9. SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

On October 6, 2004 , AltaGas closed the acquisition of substantially all of the assets, including the company names, and liabilities of PremStar Energy Canada Ltd. and its subsidiaries ECNG Inc. and Energistics Group Inc. for a net price after closing adjustments of approximately $22.0 million paid primarily through the issue of units from the Trust's treasury. The effective date of the acquisition was April 1, 2004.

CONFERENCE CALL

AltaGas will hold a conference call on November 10, 2004 at 3:30 p.m. (ET) to comment on its 2004 third quarter results. The discussion will be followed by a question and answer period.

To participate in the conference call, you may dial 416-640-4127 or 1-800-814-4853 toll-free. Shortly after the conclusion of the live call, the replay will be available by dialing 416-640-1917 or 1-877-289-8525. The pass code is 21099350 followed by the pound key. The replay will expire at midnight (ET) on November 17, 2004.

ABOUT ALTAGAS

AltaGas moves energy from its source to the end user, adding value through the process. The Trust has consolidated assets totalling over $950 million and a market capitalization of approximately $1 billion. Its steadily expanding asset base today includes natural gas gathering and processing facilities, interests in ethane and natural gas liquids extraction plants, and transmission pipelines. AltaGas distributes natural gas to Alberta customers through AltaGas Utilities Inc., to customers in the Northwest Territories through the Ikhil Gas Project and distributes gas in Nova Scotia through its interest in Heritage Gas Limited. The Trust provides energy services to customers, including marketing of natural gas and natural gas liquids and sale of power from its power purchase based arrangements.

AltaGas' Trust Units are listed on the Toronto Stock Exchange under the symbol ALA.UN. The Trust is included in the S&P/TSX Capped Income Trust Index and the S&P/TSX Capped Energy Trust Index.

ALTAGAS DELIVERS RECORD NET INCOME AND FUNDS FROM OPERATIONS FOR THE FIRST NINE MONTHS OF 2004;

THIRD QUARTER 2004 FUNDS FROM OPERATIONS INCREASED BY 36 PERCENT OVER PRIOR YEAR

CALGARY, Alberta, November 10, 2004 - AltaGas Income Trust (AltaGas or the Trust) (TSX: ALA.UN) today released its financial results for the third quarter and nine months ended September 30, 2004. AltaGas declared a distribution of $0.15 per Trust unit and limited partnership unit payable on December 15, 2004 to holders of record on November 25, 2004.

"Operationally and financially the third quarter and nine month results were very solid. Our strategic positioning of assets throughout the energy value chain continues to pay off," said David Cornhill, AltaGas' Chairman and Chief Executive Officer. Mr. Cornhill added, "AltaGas' ability to generate consistent and sustained growth starts with our existing low risk infrastructure asset base. High impact but prudent acquisitions then enhance our growth and our success. Since the end of June, we have successfully closed the acquisitions of the Edmonton ethane extraction plant and PremStar Energy Canada, added 25 megawatts of power peaking capacity and acquired additional units in the Taylor NGL Limited Partnership. The full impact of these investments will be seen in the fourth quarter of 2004 contributing to what I expect will be an exceptional year for AltaGas. I would also like to welcome all of our new employees. With the PremStar and EEEP acquisitions we have added 77 individuals in Edmonton, Chatham, Oakville and Burnaby. We now have 585 outstanding, dedicated professionals driving AltaGas' success."

HIGHLIGHTS

- Generated record funds from operations in the third quarter and the first nine months of 2004. Funds from operations were $28.5 million for the third quarter of 2004 compared to $20.9 million for the same period of 2003 and $74.7 million for the first nine months of 2004 compared to $63.6 million for the first nine months of 2003. Funds from operations for the first nine months of 2004 are after $12.7 million in one time costs in the second and third quarters of 2004 associated with the conversion to an income trust and turnaround costs at our Bantry field processing facility.

- Increased third quarter net income to $17.1 million from $9.2 million for the same period of 2003. On a per unit basis net income was $0.33 compared to $0.20 for the third quarter of 2003.

- Achieved a number of key acquisition and expansion initiatives:

  Closed the acquisition of a 48 2/3 percent interest in the Edmonton ethane extraction plant (EEEP) from BP Canada Energy Resources Company. After adjusting for the economic benefit from the January 1, 2004 effective date to closing, the purchase price paid by AltaGas for the facility was approximately $42.1 million subject to a final statement of adjustments. AltaGas assumed operatorship of the plant and the staff at EEEP have become AltaGas employees.

  Entered into a capital lease for the right to 25 megawatts of gas fired power peaking capacity generated by four gas fired peaking plants located in southern Alberta from Maxim Energy Group Ltd.

  Announced the construction of a $5.5 million sour gas processing plant and approximately 37 kilometres of pipeline near the town of Shaunavon, Saskatchewan. The plant, targeted to be operational by the end of 2004, is expected to initially process approximately 1.0 Mmcf/d per day of solution gas.

  Continued to grow through internal expansion projects in the field gathering and processing component with investment of approximately $7.9 million during the first nine months of 2004.

AltaGas acquired an additional 1,605,000 limited partnership units of Taylor NGL Limited Partnership (Taylor) from Taylor's equity offering of 8,025,000 units at a price of $6.60 per unit on August 19, 2004. With this $10.6 million investment, AltaGas holds 18.9 percent of Taylor.

On October 6, 2004 AltaGas closed the acquisition of substantially all of the assets, including the company names, and liabilities of PremStar Energy Canada Ltd. and its subsidiaries ECNG Inc. and Energistics Group Inc. for approximately $22.0 million paid primarily by way of 993,789 AltaGas Trust units issued from treasury. The PremStar group is one of Canada's leading energy agency businesses, specializing in the procurement and supply of energy to end use customers.

- Enbridge Inc. (Enbridge) sold its approximate 36 percent interest in AltaGas Income Trust through Trust unit sales in August and September. Subsequent to Enbridge's sale of its AltaGas units, Stephen Letwin and Bonnie DuPont resigned from the Board of Directors of AltaGas General Partner Inc., the delegate of the trustee of AltaGas Income Trust. Mr. Letwin and Ms. DuPont were Enbridge's Board nominees pursuant to a securityholder agreement between AltaGas, AltaGas General Partner Inc. and Enbridge. David Cornhill, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of AltaGas, said, "Mr. Letwin and Ms. DuPont have been valuable members of the Board of Directors, providing strong support throughout a period of exceptional growth and change at AltaGas. On behalf of the Board and management, I thank them for their many contributions to the Board and their commitment to AltaGas. We are currently identifying individuals to fill the two vacancies on the Board of Directors."

- As part of AltaGas' continuing corporate governance and succession planning process, David Cornhill, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer, has informed the Board of Directors that he intends to remain as both Chairman and Chief Executive Officer until sometime in 2006, after which he will relinquish the role of Chief Executive Officer but will continue in his capacity as Chairman of the Board of Directors. Mr. Cornhill has held both roles since AltaGas was founded in 1994. "We have built AltaGas Income Trust into one of Canada's leading energy infrastructure trusts with predictable and consistent cash flows. We have in place the people and the assets to build upon the foundation put in place over the past decade," said David Cornhill. Mr. Cornhill added, "In my continuing role as Chairman of the Board of Directors, I expect to continue to hold a significant personal investment in AltaGas and I look forward to being a part of AltaGas' exciting future." The Board of Directors and Mr. Cornhill will be working together in due course to identify internal and external candidates for the role of Chief Executive Officer.

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

This Management's Discussion and Analysis dated November 10, 2004 is a review of the results of operations and the liquidity and capital resources of AltaGas Income Trust (AltaGas or the Trust). It should be read in conjunction with the accompanying unaudited consolidated financial statements of the Trust, formerly AltaGas Services Inc. (ASI), for the three and nine month periods ended September 30, 2004 and the notes thereto and with the financial statements and Management's Discussion and Analysis contained in ASI's annual report for the year ended December 31, 2003. The discussion and analysis of operations and unaudited interim consolidated financial statements presented herein report on a continuity-of-interest accounting basis which recognizes AltaGas Income Trust as the successor to AltaGas Services Inc.

To provide Trust unitholders and prospective investors with information regarding the Trust, this MD&A contains forward looking statements in accordance with securities legislation. These forward looking statements are management's best prediction, and the actual results may vary due to the nature of estimates. These statements are provided wherever appropriate to assist investors to see the business from a management viewpoint. Such disclosure is subject to the reasonable constraints of maintaining the confidentiality of certain information which, if published could have an adverse impact on the competitive position of the Trust.

Additional information relating to AltaGas Income Trust can be found on its website at www.altagas.ca. The continuous disclosure materials of the Trust, filed as AltaGas Services Inc. prior to May 1, 2004, including its annual Management's Discussion and Analysis and audited financial statements, 2003 Annual Report, Annual Information Form, Information Circular and Proxy Statement, material change reports and press releases issued by the Trust are also available through the Trust's website or directly through the SEDAR system at www.sedar.com.

ALTAGAS INCOME TRUST

On April 29, 2004 the securityholders of AltaGas Services Inc. voted in favour of a plan of arrangement to reorganize the business of AltaGas Services Inc. into an open-ended investment trust effective May 1, 2004. For each common share of AltaGas Services Inc., shareholders received either one AltaGas Income Trust unit or one limited partnership unit of AltaGas Income Trust. As a result of implementing the reorganization, AltaGas Income Trust now indirectly holds through its partnerships and subsidiaries all of the assets, liabilities and businesses formerly owned by AltaGas Services Inc. The material businesses are operated by AltaGas Holding Limited Partnership No.1, AltaGas Ltd., AltaGas Operating Partnership, AltaGas Power Holdings Partnership, AltaGas Pipelines Partnership and AltaGas Utilities Inc. (collectively the operating subsidiaries). The cash flow of AltaGas Income Trust is solely dependent on the results of the operating subsidiaries and is derived from dividends or returns of capital from common shares held and from interest earned on loans made by AltaGas Income Trust to the operating subsidiaries.

The Trust has incurred costs and charges to implement the conversion, which are anticipated to total approximately $14.4 million. In the second quarter of 2004 approximately $7.0 million had been charged to unitholders' capital, and $3.5 million had been charged to income. In the third quarter, AltaGas incurred $0.9 million in charges to income and an additional $1.3 million that was charged to unitholders capital related to the conversion. The balance is expected to be charged to income in the future.

DISTRIBUTIONS

AltaGas targets to pay out substantially all of its ongoing sustainable distributable cash flow through regular monthly distributions made to unitholders. The distributions are determined giving consideration to the consolidated net income, maintenance and growth capital requirements and the debt repayment requirements of AltaGas.

On April 29, 2004 AltaGas announced that AltaGas Income Trust would commence monthly distributions of $0.15 for each Trust unit and limited partnership unit on June 15, 2004 to holders of Trust units and holders of limited partnership units. AltaGas pays cash distributions on the 15th day of each month to unitholders of record on the 25th day of the previous month, or the following business day if it falls on a weekend or holiday.

Third quarter distributions declared were $0.45 per unit or $23.2 million. From the date of conversion to an income trust on May 1, 2004, through to September 30, 2004, AltaGas had declared cash distributions of $37.8 million or $0.75 per unit. The following table summarizes AltaGas' dividend and distribution declaration history.[1]

(dollars per unit)	2004	2003	2002	2001
First quarter	$ 0.11	$ 0.08	$ 0.06	$ 0.03
Second quarter	0.30	0.08	0.06	0.03
Third quarter	0.45	0.11	0.08	0.06
Fourth quarter [2]		0.11	0.08	0.06
	$ 0.86	$ 0.38	$ 0.28	$ 0.18

(1) Dividends were paid to shareholders from first quarter 2001 through first quarter 2004. Prior to December 2000 no dividends were paid. Monthly distributions to unitholders began in second quarter of 2004

(2) Monthly distributions of $0.15 per unit have been declared for payment on both November 15, 2004 and December 15, 2004

For income tax purposes the Trust expects that approximately 70 percent of the distributions declared in 2004 will be taxed as interest with the remaining 30 percent to be classified as a combination of dividends and return of capital. For most unitholders, the return of capital amount will reduce the cost base of their Trust units for purposes of calculating the capital gains amount upon disposition of their units. Unitholders should seek independent tax advice in respect of the consequences to them of acquiring, holding and disposing of units.

(3) Distributions of $0.15 per unit paid commencing May, 2004

AltaGas' net income for the third quarter and first nine months of 2004 again surpassed the comparable periods of 2003, setting a new record since AltaGas' formation in 1994. The driver for these results is the exceptional operating performance of AltaGas' business components and the favourable impact on income tax associated with converting to an income trust. These results were partially offset by one time costs related to the conversion to an income trust and costs associated with a major turnaround at AltaGas' Bantry facility in May, 2004.

Revenue of $547.4 million for the first nine months of 2004 is 3 percent higher than the same period last year due mainly to increased volumes sold and higher average prices received for power in the Energy Services segment and to increases in volumes processed in the Gathering and Processing segment, offset by lower gas delivery prices in the Natural Gas Distribution segment. For the three months ended September 30, 2004 revenue is up 12 percent to $178.5 million compared to the same period in 2003 on the strength of volume increases in the field gathering and processing and extraction components along with the Energy Services and Natural Gas Distribution segment.

Net revenue, which is gross revenue less cost of commodities purchased for re-sale, increased 12 percent for the first nine months and 15 percent for the third quarter of 2004 compared to the same periods in 2003 due to volume increases. In the extraction component and the Natural Gas Distribution and Energy Services segments, net revenue better reflects performance than does revenue, as changes in the market price of natural gas and power purchased for resale affect both revenue and the cost of sales.

Volume increases in the Gathering and Processing segment were driven by well tie-ins, expansions and modifications at existing facilities, the Rainbow Lake and Mica Pouce Coupe field gathering and processing acquisitions in late 2003, as well as the Edmonton ethane extraction plant acquisition in the third quarter of 2004. In the Energy Services segment, power volumes sold were higher in the first nine months of 2004 over the same period of 2003, due to the addition of volumes associated with the Genesee energy contract from April 1, 2003 and from the addition on September 1, 2004 of 25 megawatts of gas fired power peaking capacity to AltaGas' power portfolio. Natural Gas Distribution sales volumes at AltaGas Utilities Inc. rose in the third quarter of 2004 compared to the same period in 2003, driven by an increased customer base and colder weather, while sales volumes were down in the first nine months of 2004, compared to the same period of 2003 due to warmer weather.

Operating and administrative expense was higher in the third quarter and first nine months of 2004 compared to 2003. Operating costs increased due to the late 2003 field gathering and processing facilities acquisitions and due to a major turnaround required at AltaGas' Bantry facility costing $1.7 million. Administrative expense increased due to $2.1 million cash costs related to the conversion to an income trust, an additional $2.4 million in non-cash compensation expense recorded as a result of all outstanding unvested employee trust unit options vesting effective May 1, 2004, and due to increased staffing required to support the Trust's growth. Amortization expense was up 4 percent for the nine months of 2004 compared to the same period in 2003 and up 6 percent for the third quarter of 2004 compared to 2003. The increases are due mainly to Gathering and Processing segment acquisitions and expansions in late 2003 and the first nine months of 2004.

Interest expense of $15.8 million for the first nine months of 2004 was 5 percent lower than $16.7 million for the same period in 2003 and for the third quarter of 2004 interest expense of $4.9 million was 11 percent lower than $5.5 million for the third quarter of 2003. The lower interest expense for both periods was due to lower average debt outstanding partially offset by higher average interest rates. Debt was reduced with cash from operations and from the net proceeds of AltaGas' June 2004 Trust unit offering.

AltaGas' income is subject to a variety of tax rates and rate reductions currently and in the future. Consequently there are several items which impact income tax expense and the effective tax rate from period to period. Income tax expense for the first nine months of 2004 was $8.2 million less than reported for the same period of 2003 even though income before tax was higher. As a result of AltaGas' conversion into an income trust, amortization expense exceeds capital cost allowance claimed, resulting in a reversal over time of the future income tax liability. AltaGas' first five months as an income trust resulted in a reduction in income tax expense of $6.7 million. Also contributing to the variance from 2003 to 2004 in the effective income tax rate was a $0.7 million charge in the third quarter of 2003 to record the impact on future income tax liabilities of federal rate and resource allowance adjustments. Income tax expense for the nine months of 2004 was reduced by $1.5 million, $0.7 million resulting from the provincial rate reduction in the March 19, 2004 Alberta Government's budget and an additional $0.8 million reduction related to the federal statutory rate decrease. The impact of recording a charge to income for compensation expense related to stock options, which has no current or future income tax implication, partially offset these rate reductions by $0.8 million.

AltaGas provides certain financial measures in this Management's Discussion and Analysis that do not have a standardized meaning prescribed by Canadian generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP). These non-GAAP financial measures may not be comparable to similar measures presented by other trusts.

The purpose of these financial measures and their reconciliation to GAAP financial measures is shown below. All of the measures have been calculated consistent with previous disclosures by AltaGas. All amounts are in millions of dollars unless otherwise noted.

Cash From Operations	Three months ended September 30		Nine months ended September 30
($ millions)	2004	2003	2004	2003
Funds generated from operations	28.5	20.9	74.7	63.6
Add (deduct): Net change in non-cash working capital	1.7	11.4	4.6	18.0
Cash from operations	30.2	32.3	79.3	81.6

Funds generated from operations is provided to assist in determining the ability of AltaGas to generate cash from operations after interest and taxes without regard to changes in the Trust's working capital in the period.

EBITDA	Three months ended September 30		Nine months ended September 30
($ millions)	2004	2003	2004	2003
Non-GAAP financial measure	33.8	29.0	92.8	87.0
Deduct: Amortization	(10.4)	(9.8)	(30.6)	(29.4)
Operating Income (GAAP financial measure)	23.4	19.2	62.2	57.6

Earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization (EBITDA) is provided to assist in understanding the ability of the organization to generate cash and its ability to cover interest payments.

Distributable Cash Flow	Three months ended September 30		Nine months ended September 30
($ millions)	2004	2003	2004	2003
Funds generated from operations	28.5	20.9	74.7	63.6
Deduct: Maintenance capital expenditures	(2.0)	(3.0)	(4.3)	(5.0)
Distributable cash flow	26.5	17.9	70.4	58.6
Distributable cash flow per unit, basic	0.51	n/a	1.43	n/a

The distributable cash flow of AltaGas is equal to consolidated funds generated from operations before changes in non-cash working capital, after providing for maintenance capital expenditures. Distributable cash flow is not a defined performance measure under GAAP and distributable cash flow can not be assured. The Trust's calculation of distributable cash flow may differ from similar calculations used by comparable entities. Distributable cash flow is a main performance measure used by management and investors to evaluate the performance of the Trust and its operating subsidiaries.

Net Revenue	Three months ended September 30		Nine months ended September 30
($ millions)	2004	2003	2004	2003
Non-GAAP financial measure	61.5	53.3	178.2	158.9
Add: Cost of sales	117.0	105.6	369.2	372.6
Revenue (GAAP financial measure)	178.5	158.9	547.4	531.5

In the extraction component and the Natural Gas Distribution and Energy Services segments, net revenue better reflects performance than does revenue. As changes in the market price of natural gas and power purchased for resale affect both revenue and the cost of sales, net revenue better reflects organic growth in the business. This table reconciles the revenue and net revenue amounts in the table for Financial and Operating Results for the Gathering and Processing segment to illustrate the relationship between these non-GAAP and GAAP measures where used throughout this Management's Discussion and Analysis.

AltaGas' natural gas processing capacity ranks the Trust in the top ten Canadian processors of natural gas and one of the four largest Canadian midstream processors. The Gathering and Processing segment includes more than 6,000 kilometers of gathering lines, 69 natural gas processing plants, interests in five ethane and natural gas liquids (NGLs) extraction and fractionation facilities and six transmission pipelines. These long-life assets provide service to a diverse customer base under arrangements which include a significant portion of cost of service, fixed fee and recovery of operating cost contracts. Commodity price exposure is minimal and revenues are generally volume driven. Future opportunities derive from the requirement that all natural gas must be processed to meet downstream pipeline specifications prior to delivery to the end user. With its extensive gathering infrastructure and the mobile nature of its field gathering and processing plants, AltaGas can quickly redeploy assets in response to producer drilling activity, size facilities to meet demand while reducing operating costs and minimize the time required to bring new production on line, accelerating producer and AltaGas' cash flow.

Net revenue for AltaGas' Gathering and Processing segment was $117.3 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2004, compared to $101.7 million for the same period in 2003 and $40.7 million for the third quarter of 2004 compared to $34.5 million for the third quarter of 2003. Net revenue growth in this segment was the result of increased volumes processed in the field gathering and processing and extraction components.

In the field gathering and processing component volumes processed rose during the first nine months of 2004 compared to the same period in 2003 due to AltaGas' December, 2003 acquisition of the Rainbow Lake facilities in northwestern Alberta and to the record 333 well tie-ins experienced during 2004 in AltaGas' operating areas. Gas drilling activity in the Western Canadian Sedimentary Basin continued to be strong during the third quarter of 2004, resulting in 81 wells tied-in to AltaGas' field gathering and processing facilities compared with 80 well tie-ins during the same period in 2003. The strong tie-in activity, along with new volumes from the Rainbow Lake acquisition and internal growth initiatives more than offset normal natural gas production declines and delays due to wet weather for the Windfall and Doris facility expansions as well as normal scheduled turnarounds. AltaGas' gross average throughput increased to 552 Mmcf/d during the third quarter of 2004 compared to 514 Mmcf/d during the third quarter of 2003.

AltaGas' existing operating areas continue to provide growth opportunities. During the third quarter of 2004 further expansion at the Marten Creek facility along with expansions at the Kirkpatrick Lake and Windfall facilities became operational and AltaGas announced the construction of a $5.5 million sour gas processing plant and approximately 37 kilometres of pipeline near the town of Shaunavon, Saskatchewan. The Shaunavon plant is expected to be operational by the end of 2004 and will process 1.0 Mmcf/d per day of solution gas currently being flared from two oil batteries. AltaGas is pursuing additional opportunities in Saskatchewan to process flared gas. Internal development projects are supported by producer commitments designed to minimize AltaGas' financial exposure to throughput declines. During the first nine months of 2004, AltaGas invested approximately $7.9 million on internal expansion projects in the field gathering and processing component. The new volumes associated with these expansions will be reflected in the fourth quarter of 2004.

In the extraction component, as a result of higher volumes processed and a favourable NGL pricing environment net revenue grew 151 percent during the third quarter of 2004 compared to the third quarter of 2003, reaching $5.5 million. Average NGLs volumes processed for the third quarter of 2004 more than doubled reaching 13,054 Bbls/d compared to 6,428 Bbls/d for the same period in 2003.

Contributing to the volume increase was AltaGas' closing, in late August 2004, of the acquisition of BP Canada Energy Resources Company's 48 2/3 percent interest in the Edmonton ethane extraction plant (EEEP) located at Edmonton, Alberta. After adjusting for the economic benefit from the January 1, 2004 effective date to closing, the purchase price paid by AltaGas for the facility was approximately $42.1 million, subject to a final statement of adjustments. AltaGas assumed operatorship of the plant and the staff at EEEP have become AltaGas employees. The plant has a gross licensed inlet capacity of 390 Mmcf/d of natural gas and gross natural gas liquids production of approximately 15,000 Bbls/d of specification ethane and 6,000 Bbls/d of propane-plus product. The acquisition has increased AltaGas' total net licensed inlet extraction capacity to 539 Mmcf/d. AltaGas' share of plant products will be sold under long-term contracts and a long-term gas supply contract provides secure feedstock supply to EEEP. Also contributing to the increase in extraction volumes processed were modifications made to the Empress EnCana extraction facility that increased ethane production effective the fourth quarter of 2003. There was also increased production at the Joffre ethane extraction plant. NGLs at the Joffre facility were reinjected in the third quarter of 2003 as a result of a lower gas to liquids price differential. The full impact of the addition of EEEP is expected to boost production in the fourth quarter of 2004 and 2005 to new records. In addition, AltaGas expects to invest approximately $5.0 million at EEEP during 2005 to increase efficiency and undertake other natural gas value chain optimizations at the plant to further enhance its financial and operational performance.

Net revenue in AltaGas' transmission component was down 3 percent for the third quarter of 2004 when compared to the same quarter of 2003, although after adjusting for lower flow through operating costs in the third quarter of 2004 net revenues were essentially flat. For the first nine months of 2004 when compared to the same period in 2003 net revenue was up 3 percent due to increased EnCana volume commitments on the Suffield transmission system.

ENERGY SERVICES

The Energy Services segment is comprised of the power services and gas service components. In this segment, the Trust also reports the results of the oil and gas production component. AltaGas is not in the business of exploration and development of natural gas reserves; however, associated with certain of its facility acquisitions, AltaGas has accumulated a portfolio of oil and natural gas reserves that it continues to hold and produce. The financial results of the power services component currently account for a significant portion of overall segment financial results and as such the commentary in this section will be restricted to the power services component.

(1) Average for the period

The power services component generated net revenue of $34.6 million for the first three quarters of 2004 compared to $29.8 million for the same period in 2003 and $13.9 million for third quarter 2004 compared to $11.7 million in 2003. Increases in the first nine months of 2004 was due to higher realized prices on power sales and higher volumes sold primarily related to the Genesee energy contract. For the third quarter of 2004 the increase is primarily due to increased volumes sold related to the Trust's 25 megawatt peaking plant capital lease. The Alberta Electric System Operator (AESO) is entitled to recover or refund variances between revenues collected through transmission charges and expenses incurred by AESO through true up adjustments calculated quarterly. For 2004, the cumulative quarterly adjustments have resulted in a net credit to AltaGas' income of $ 0.5 million compared to a credit to income of $4.1 million for 2003.

On September 1, 2004 AltaGas entered into a long term capital lease with Maxim Energy Group Ltd. for 25 megawatts of gas fired power peaking capacity. The capital lease requires AltaGas to pay Maxim monthly variable operating and maintenance charges plus a capacity fee. AltaGas retains 100 percent of the ancillary service and peaking sales revenues. The capital lease has a 10 year term commencing September 1, 2004 and includes an option at the end of the initial term to extend the term for a further 15 years or purchase the assets.

The 25 megawatts of power is generated by four gas fired peaking plants located in southern Alberta. The addition of the 25 megawatts of natural gas generation capacity provides fuel diversity to AltaGas' coal fired generation. It adds a fifth independent supply source, reducing potential risk on the Trust's overall power supply portfolio. Operationally, given the speed at which the power assets can be ramped up, the peaking supply easily provides some backstopping to AltaGas' Sundance B Power Purchase Arrangement and Genesee energy contract. The peaking gas requirement will be managed by AltaGas' gas services component.

AltaGas' total power portfolio at the end of the third quarter of 2004 consisted of 478 megawatts of power generation capacity representing approximately 6 percent of the Alberta power market.

AltaGas does not engage in the speculative trading of power. The Trust manages its acquired power capacity to provide stable, predictable earnings and cash flow over time. AltaGas reduces its exposure to floating electricity prices by supplying internal electrical demand requirements and by using a balanced portfolio of contracts to lock in power margins to reduce pricing risk. The average price AltaGas received from power sales in the third quarter of 2004 was $49.22 per MWh compared to $49.41 per MWh in the third quarter of 2003 and $48.30 per MWh for the first nine months of 2004 compared to $47.72 per MWh for the same period in 2003. Average Alberta Power Pool spot prices were $54.35 per MWh and $62.39 per MWh in the third quarters of 2004 and 2003 respectively, and $54.40 per MWh and $65.71 per MWh in the first nine months of 2004 and 2003 respectively.

Subsequent to the end of the third quarter of 2004, AltaGas significantly expanded its gas services component with the acquisition on October 6, 2004 of substantially all of the assets, including the company names, and liabilities of PremStar Energy Canada Ltd. and its subsidiaries ECNG Inc. and Energistics Group Inc. The purchase price of $22.0 million, after closing adjustments from the effective date of April 1, 2004, was paid primarily by way of the issuance of 993,789 Trust units from treasury.

AltaGas has provided gas services since 1994 and the addition of PremStar builds on this low risk, fee for service business. PremStar is one of Canada's leading energy agency businesses, specializing in the procurement and supply of energy to end use customers across Canada. On a fee for service basis, the PremStar group provides energy supply, arranges for transportation services, and supports customers with valuable market information. This transaction is expected to make a significant positive impact to the gas services component in the fourth quarter of 2004 and 2005 forward, through its existing business and through value chain optimization with other businesses of AltaGas.

NATURAL GAS DISTRIBUTION

The Natural Gas Distribution segment includes AltaGas Utilities Inc. (AltaGas Utilities or AUI), AltaGas' one-third interest in Inuvik Gas Ltd. (Inuvik Gas) and its 24.9 percent interest in Heritage Gas Limited (Heritage Gas).

The natural gas distribution business is highly seasonal with the majority of natural gas deliveries occurring during the winter heating season. Gas sales during the winter typically account for approximately two-thirds of annual distribution net revenue, resulting in strong first and fourth quarter results and second and third quarters that show either small profits or losses.

In the first nine months of 2004, net revenue in AltaGas' Natural Gas Distribution segment was $21.0 million compared to $21.3 million for the same period in 2003. Customer growth for the nine months of 2004 was offset primarily by the impact of the completion of negotiations on AUI's general rate application filed with the Alberta Energy and Utilities Board (AEUB). Lower than anticipated cost rates for debt and common equity as approved for 2003 resulted in a charge to net income of $0.5 million in the first quarter of 2004 related to previously recorded 2003 results.

Heritage Gas, 24.9 percent owned by AltaGas, activated its natural gas distribution system in late December 2003. Heritage Gas is in the initial stages of its planned growth and consequently has not had a material impact on AltaGas' consolidated results in the first nine months of 2004.

In the third quarter of 2004, net revenue in AltaGas' Natural Gas Distribution segment was $5.1 million compared to $4.9 million for the same period in 2003. This increase is due to higher sales volumes in 2004 compared to the third quarter of 2003 associated with an increased customer base and colder weather. Weather for the third quarter, as measured by heating degree days, was 33.5 percent colder than the third quarter of 2003 and 24.8 percent colder than the 20 year average.

AUI and Heritage Gas are provincially regulated as to natural gas rates and terms and conditions of service. Customer rates are based on anticipated sales as well as the revenue required to recover estimated cost of service and an allowed return on rate base. Rate base generally consists of the aggregate of the utility's approved investment in plant, property and equipment in service, less accumulated depreciation plus an allowance for working capital. Return on rate base is comprised of regulatory allowed financing costs and return on common equity. On July 2, 2004 the AEUB issued its Generic Cost of Capital decision. The decision established for AUI the 2004 rate of return on common equity at 9.6 percent and 2004 capital structure at 41 percent equity and 59 percent debt resulting in final allowable rates for interest expense and return on common equity.

AUI filed its Phase 2 application, for the 2003 and 2004 test years, arising from the Alberta Energy and Utilities Board approval of its Phase 1 decision issued August 3, 2004. The Phase 1 decision confirmed the revenue requirements which resulted from a negotiated settlement process. The Phase 2 portion of the general rate proceeding encompasses the allocation of costs to rate classes and the resulting rate design. A hearing on this phase is scheduled to start January 10, 2005. AUI is planning to file a Phase 1 General Rate Application for 2005, 2006 and possibly 2007 in the fourth quarter of this year.

AUI continues to make moderate increases in its customer base in its catchment area. In addition the company continues to look for opportunities to increase the number of franchises served. During the quarter AUI entered into an agreement with Orr Mineral Developments Ltd. (Orr) to acquire its distribution assets which provide natural gas service to approximately 112 customers in the hamlet of Suffield in southern Alberta. The sale by Orr requires the approval of the AEUB, which is expected to be obtained late in 2004 or early 2005. Orr was the last small independently owned natural gas distribution company in Alberta.

Heritage Gas is focused on building momentum behind a consumer movement to switch heating fuel sources in Nova Scotia's market place. Construction of a major facilities extension to serve Nova Scotia Power's Burnside facility was constructed during the third quarter of 2004. The facilities are capable of delivering the daily contracted volume of 16,700 GJ. Heritage Gas anticipates that the facilities will be activated and billing to the customer will commence in the fourth quarter of 2004.

Heritage Gas is very close to achieving the necessary customer commitments that are required to meet the economic feasibility test for expansion of natural gas service to the Town of Amherst. It is expected that once the economic feasibility hurdles are met natural gas service to Amherst could be available in the fourth quarter of 2005. At the end of the third quarter of 2004 Heritage Gas had installed services to 60 customers and had signed commitments from another 189 customers.

Identifiable trends in AltaGas' business across the past eight quarters reflect the organization's growth, a favorable business environment, and seasonality in the business. The first and last quarters each year are AltaGas' most profitable on the basis of the contribution from the Natural Gas Distribution segment which, as a distributor of natural gas for heating purposes, reports higher earnings in colder periods than in warmer periods.

The fourth quarter of 2002 was the strongest quarter to that date for ASI at $11.2 million in net income on the basis of an increased customer base in the Natural Gas Distribution segment and from power sales which AltaGas commenced at the beginning of 2002. Fourth quarter 2002 net income was also higher than in the previous quarter of the year due to the higher seasonal contribution from the Natural Gas Distribution segment. The Suffield pipeline and Wabasca field gathering and processing facilities were acquired and construction of the Joffre ethane extraction plant was commissioned late in the quarter.

Net income of $10.2 million in the first quarter of 2003 set a new high for ASI for that period in a year. The projects and acquisitions undertaken in the fourth quarter of 2002 were the main drivers of this performance, along with an improved business environment in all business segments. The Wabasca facilities acquisition increased throughput in the field gathering and processing component as did sharply increased tie-in activity with a record 85 wells tied-in during the first quarter. Final commissioning of the Joffre ethane extraction plant provided volume increases in the extraction component and volumes in the transmission component were higher due to the Suffield pipelines acquisition. Unplanned outages in the power services component, combined with higher than expected transmission costs due to changes in process at the Transmission Authority, partially offset the gains made in the other segments. AltaGas commenced selling power on April 1, 2003 from the Genesee energy contract which arrangement provides for 100 megawatts of power capacity from the Genesee power plant.

Second quarter 2003 net income was $6.8 million, 39 percent higher than the same quarter in 2002, a result of stronger contributions from the transmission, power services and extraction components. Increases in the transmission component related to the Suffield pipeline acquisition at the end of 2002. In the power services component, increases in net revenue were driven by higher average prices received for power and by the increased volumes sold resulting from the Genesee energy contract. Extraction component performance was better than the same quarter in the prior year as a result of the commissioning of the Joffre ethane extraction plant at the end of 2002. Improved operating income was offset by higher interest expense due to higher debt levels in the third quarter of 2003 when compared to the same quarter of the prior year, and as a result of a charge to income for legislative changes to the taxation of resource income.

Power services, extraction and transmission components were again the key contributors in the third quarter of 2003 to a 63 percent increase in net income to $9.3 million when compared to the third quarter of 2002. Operating results were driven by competition. Late quarter modifications to the EnCana-operated Empress extraction facility increased AltaGas' net production capability by an estimated 1,400 Bbls/d. In addition, power prices were improved over the same quarter in the prior year. AltaGas paid a quarterly dividend of $0.11 per share, up from $0.08 per share in the second quarter of 2003 on the basis of the increased strength and sustainability of AltaGas' earnings.

Fourth quarter 2003 net income of $12.0 million, including an unfavorable income tax expense charge of $1.2 million related to announced changes in federal large corporations tax legislation, was still the highest quarterly net income reported by AltaGas since it was formed. The increase from the prior year's quarter was a result of the late 2002 gathering and processing segment acquisitions, incremental power volumes sold from the Genesee energy contract and to the completion of modifications to increase ethane production at the EnCana-operated Empress extraction plant late in the third quarter of 2003.

First quarter 2004 produced record net income of $11.0 million for that period in a year based on increased volumes in the Gathering and Processing and Energy Services segments which were partially offset by lower margins in the Energy Services segment and warmer weather and regulatory adjustments in the Natural Gas Distribution segment.

The second quarter of 2004 saw the conversion of AltaGas from a corporate structure to an income trust. Keeping aligned with the strong first quarter of 2004, the Trust continued to build on its earlier success as net income of $11.9 million and income per unit of $0.25 both showed improvements. During the quarter AltaGas made its first public offering of units as an income trust and raised $88.5 million with net proceeds used to reduce the Trust's debt. This quarter also saw the commencement of monthly distributions to unitholders of $0.15 per unit.

Third quarter 2004 results are discussed in detail in an earlier section of this Management's Discussion and Analysis.

CHANGES IN ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Effective January 1, 2004, AltaGas prospectively adopted the provisions of the CICA's new Accounting Guideline "Hedging Relationships" that specifies the circumstances in which hedge accounting is appropriate, including the identification, documentation, designation and effectiveness of hedges, and the discontinuance of hedge accounting. AltaGas has determined that its hedging documentation meets the requirements of the Guideline and therefore there has been no impact on the consolidated financial statements.

Effective the first quarter of 2004, AltaGas' changed its accounting policy for stock-based compensation, now recognizing the compensation expense related to stock options in the financial statements according to the fair-value method. Prior to the change in policy, the Trust disclosed the impact of the accounting for stock options under the fair-value method on a pro-forma basis. Under the provisions set out by the CICA, AltaGas has adopted the change retroactively. The impact was to reduce retained earnings at January 1, 2004 by $332 thousand, and to reduce first quarter 2004 earnings by $136 thousand which amounts were based on the vesting status and exercise assumptions in existence at the end of the first quarter 2004. Subsequent to the conversion of AltaGas Services Inc. to an income trust all unvested options became fully vested. The charge to income in second quarter 2004 to reflect this early vesting was $2.4 million.

CRITICAL ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES

Since a determination of the value of many assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses is dependent upon future events, the preparation of the Trust's consolidated financial statements requires the use of estimates and assumptions which have been made using careful judgment. AltaGas' critical accounting estimates continue to be amortization expense, asset retirement obligations and asset impairment assessment. For further information on these critical accounting estimates, refer to Management's Discussion and Analysis in ASI's 2003 Annual Report.

FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

AltaGas enters into financial derivative contracts such as swaps and collars to manage exposure to fluctuations in commodity prices and interest rates, particularly in the power services component and with respect to interest rates on debt. These contracts are designed as hedges and gains and losses relating to such contracts are deferred and recognized in the same period and financial statement category as the corresponding hedged transaction.

The most significant impact of these contracts on 2004 business has been to provide revenue stability in the power services component. Alberta Power Pool daily average spot prices ranged from $124.23 per MWh to $12.11 per MWh in the third quarter of 2004. Through the use of financial hedges on a portion of its power portfolio deemed optimal by management, AltaGas moderated the impact of this volatility on its business.

AltaGas reduces financing costs and minimizes the effect of future interest rate movements on its cash flows through the use of interest rate swaps. At September 30, 2004 AltaGas had interest rates fixed through swap transactions with varying terms to maturity on $200.0 million of its $242.0 million total drawn bank debt. Including AltaGas' medium term notes, the rate has been fixed on 84 percent of AltaGas' total debt, including capital leases. The amount of fixed rate debt was higher than AltaGas' target of 70 to 75 percent of total debt due to the proceeds of the June 2004 equity offering being applied to floating rate debt.

On June 10, 2004 AltaGas Income Trust closed a public offering of 4,730,000 Trust units, at a price of $18.70 per Trust unit for gross proceeds of $88.5 million. The offering included the concurrent exercise by the Underwriters of an over-allotment option granted by AltaGas to purchase an additional 10 percent of the issue or 430,000 Trust units on the same terms. The net proceeds of the offering to the Trust, after payment of fees and expenses of $4.7 million was approximately $83.8 million. The net proceeds were used to reduce bank indebtedness and for general corporate purposes including AltaGas' ongoing capital program, the acquisition of the Edmonton ethane extraction plant and funding future acquisitions.

CAPITAL EXPENDITURES

Total capital expenditures by the Trust for the third quarter and first nine months of 2004 were $55.3 million and $75.8 million respectively compared to $6.4 million and $18.8 million for the respective periods of 2003.

Growth capital for the first nine months of 2004 included $42.1 million for the EEEP acquisition, $13.8 million related to the capital lease for 25 megawatts of peaking power capacity, and $12.6 million for expansions within the existing business and acquisitions of additional working interest in plants where AltaGas is able, through increased ownership, to optimize operations and generate additional operating margin for the Trust.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

Funds generated from operations were $74.7 million in the first nine months of 2004 compared to $63.6 million for the same period in 2003.

AltaGas believes that its access to debt and equity markets, unutilized bank credit facilities, funds generated from operations and funds generated from the Trust's Distribution Reinvestment and Premium DistributionTM programs will provide it with sufficient capital resources and liquidity to fund existing operations, future distributions, and certain acquisition and expansion opportunities in 2004. A description of AltaGas' credit facilities can be found in Notes 6 and 7 to the consolidated financial statements included in ASI's 2003 Annual Report, and is further updated in the Trust unit offering Final Short-Form Prospectus dated July 29, 2004.

The use of debt or equity funding is based on AltaGas' capital structure determined by considering the norms and risks associated with each of its business components and segments. AltaGas Operating Partnership has $100.0 million in medium term notes outstanding and AltaGas Ltd. has access to prime loans, banker's acceptances and letters of credit though bank lines of approximately $425.0 million. At September 30, 2004 AltaGas Ltd. had drawn bank debt of $242.0 million and letters of credit outstanding of $29.7 million. These two entities fund all operating subsidiaries. As an income trust, AltaGas targets a debt to total capitalization ratio between 45 percent and 50 percent. In the third quarter the Trust's net debt to total capitalization ratio decreased to 44.0 percent at September 30, 2004 from 53.3 percent at September 30, 2003 and 52.2 percent at December 31, 2003. In the third quarter of 2004, AltaGas recorded long term debt of $13.0 million under the terms of a capital lease associated with its 25 megawatts of peaking power capacity, of which $0.5 million is reported as the current portion of the long term debt.

On May 20, 2004 AltaGas adopted Premium Distribution™, Distribution Reinvestment and Optional Unit Purchase Plans (DRIP) for eligible holders of Trust units and limited partnership units of AltaGas Income Trust, AltaGas Holding Limited Partnership No. 1 and AltaGas Holding Limited Partnership No. 2. DRIP participation in the third quarter of 2004 generated $4.2 million in new equity through the issuance of 220,085 Trust units, and $4.6 million in new equity and 240,429 Trust units on a year to date basis. Complete details on DRIP are available on the AltaGas website at www.altagas.ca.

Following AltaGas' announcement in March of its then proposed conversion to a trust Standard & Poor's (S&P) confirmed the rating on AltaGas' long term corporate credit at BBB- with a negative outlook and the rating on the senior unsecured debt at BBB-. The Dominion Bond Rating Service (DBRS) confirmed the rating of AltaGas Income Trust at BBB (low) with a stable trend and applied the same rating to AltaGas Operating Partnership and the medium term notes held by AltaGas Operating Partnership. The Trust has a stability rating of SR-3 (stable outlook) from S&P and STA-3 (mid) from DBRS.

TRUST UNIT INFORMATION

Under the terms of the restructuring of AltaGas into an income trust effective May1, 2004, ASI securityholders exchanged their shares in the company for Trust units and eligible securityholders also received limited partnership units that are exchangeable into Trust units on a one for one basis. The limited partnership units do not trade on the TSX.

As of October 31, 2004 the Trust had 49.6 million Trust units and 3.4 million limited partnership units outstanding and a market capitalization of $1.1 billion based on a closing trading price on October 31, 2004 of $21.59 per Trust unit. There are 0.4 million options exercisable under the terms of the Unit option agreement brought forward in the reorganization. All options currently issued under this plan have vested effective May 1, 2004. Enbridge exchanged 8.9 million limited partnership units into Trust units during the third quarter of 2004.

OFF BALANCE SHEET ARRANGEMENTS

The Trust is not party to any contractual arrangement under which an unconsolidated entity may have any obligation under certain guarantee contracts, a retained or contingent interest in assets transferred to an unconsolidated entity or similar arrangement that serves as credit, liquidity or market risk support to that entity for such assets. The Trust has no obligation under derivative instruments, nor under a material variable interest in an unconsolidated entity that provides financing, liquidity, market risk or credit risk support to the registrant, or engages in leasing, hedging or research and development services with the registrant.

CONTRACTUAL OBLIGATIONS

AltaGas entered into a capital lease with Maxim Energy Group Ltd. for the right to 25 megawatts of gas fired power peaking capacity. AltaGas retains 100 percent of the ancillary service and peaking sales revenues. The contract has a 10 year term commencing September 1, 2004 and includes an option at the end of the initial term to extend the term for a further 15 years or purchase the assets. The cost of the lease to AltaGas is $13.8 million which has been paid for with a cash prepayment of $0.8 million, a charge recorded to long term debt of $13.0 million, of which $0.5 million is due over the next twelve months.

There have been no other material changes to AltaGas' contractual obligations, including payments due for each of the next five years and thereafter, since December 31, 2003. For further information on these contractual obligations, refer to Management's Discussion and Analysis in ASI's 2003 Annual Report.

RELATED PARTIES

On August 19, 2004 AltaGas purchased 1,605,000 units of Taylor NGL Limited Partnership (Taylor) from Taylor's equity offering of 8,025,000 units at a price of $6.60 per unit. With this additional investment, the Trust's interest in Taylor has increased to 18.9 percent. Taylor's business is the ownership and operatorship of facilities in the midstream sector of the Western Canadian natural gas industry including the Joffre ethane extraction plant in which AltaGas has a 50 percent ownership interest.

On August 17, 2004 AltaGas announced that Enbridge Inc. completed a sale of 13,397,500 Trust units of AltaGas including an over allotment of 1,747,500 Trust units to a group of Canadian underwriters at a price of $19.75. This sale reduced Enbridge's interest in AltaGas from approximately 36 percent to 9 percent. On October 4, 2004 Enbridge closed the sale of its remaining 4,800,000 Trust units at $19.85.

OUTLOOK

The outlook for the balance of 2004 is expected to be very positive particularly due to the increased drilling activity in the Gathering and Processing segment and the late August 2004 acquisition of the Edmonton ethane extraction plant. Drilling activity in the majority of AltaGas' operating areas is expected to remain strong given the favorable commodity pricing environment. In addition, exploitation of opportunities in existing businesses and processes are expected to increase processed volumes. In the Energy Services segment, power prices are expected to be higher providing improved earnings on the unhedged portion of AltaGas' power portfolio, power volumes will increase with the addition of the 25 MW power peaking plant acquisition, and the fourth quarter 2004 close of the PremStar acquisition in the gas services component will add significant gas marketing volumes. All of these events are expected to add to the bottom line of the Trust.

As part of AltaGas' continuing corporate governance and succession planning process, David Cornhill, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer, has informed the Board of Directors that he intends to remain as both Chairman and Chief Executive Officer until sometime in 2006, after which he will relinquish the role of Chief Executive Officer but will continue in his capacity as Chairman of the Board of Directors. Mr. Cornhill has held both roles since AltaGas was founded in 1994. The Board of Directors and Mr. Cornhill will be working together in due course to identify internal and external candidates for the role of Chief Executive Officer.

UNITHOLDER LIMITED LIABILITY LEGISLATION

Legislation came into effect in Alberta on July 1, 2004 to provide limited liability for holders of trust units, similar to protection afforded to investors of corporations. The legislation covers events that occur on or after July 1, 2004 and extends to all unitholders of AltaGas Income Trust, which is registered in Alberta, including non-residents. The legislation does not remove the issue of unlimited liability for any acts or omissions that occurred prior to July 1, 2004.

Prior to the July 1 amendments, the legislation governing the creation of trusts did not contain explicit language which limited the liability of unitholders of the Trust to their equity investment in the Trust. As a result, there has existed a possibility that unitholders of the Trust may not be protected from liabilities of the Trust to the same extent as a shareholder of a publicly traded corporation and that potentially, unitholders could be liable for tort claims such as environmental claims. The AltaGas Income Trust indenture itself provides that no unitholder will be subject to any liability in connection with the Trust or its obligations and affairs or for any act or omission of the Trustee, provided that in the event that a court determines that unitholders are subject to such liabilities, the liabilities will be enforceable only against and will be satisfied out of the Trust's assets. The trust indenture also provides that contracts to which the Trust is a party should contain language restricting the liability of unitholders.

1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

AltaGas Income Trust (the Trust) is an unincorporated open-ended trust established under the laws of Canada, pursuant to a Declaration of Trust dated March 26, 2004. The Trust commenced operations on May 1, 2004 as successor to AltaGas Services Inc. (ASI) when it acquired all of the shares of ASI for consideration of Trust units or Exchangeable units on a one for one basis. These unaudited interim consolidated financial statements follow the continuity of interest basis of accounting whereby the Trust is considered a continuation of ASI. As a result, the comparative period figures are those of ASI while the results of operations include ASI's results for the period up to and including April 30, 2004 and the Trust's results of operations from May 1, 2004 to September 30, 2004.

The Trust makes monthly cash distributions to unitholders of trust units and exchangeable units (unitholders) based on the Trust's distribution policy.

The interim consolidated financial statements of the Trust have been prepared by management in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles. The accounting policies applied are consistent with those outlined in ASI's annual consolidated financial statements for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2003, except as described in note 2. These interim consolidated financial statements for the quarter ending September 30, 2004 do not include all of the disclosures required in the annual financial statements, and should be read in conjunction with the audited consolidated financial statements included in ASI's 2003 Annual Report.

2. CHANGE IN ACCOUNTING POLICY

Effective January 1, 2004 the Trust adopted the new Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants standard for accounting for stock-based compensation (Section 3870), which requires the use of the fair value method to account for stock options. Based on the Black-Scholes option valuation model, stock options are valued at the date of the grant and recognized as compensation expense over their the vesting period.

No compensation expense is recorded for stock options issued and outstanding prior to January 1, 2002 in accordance with Section 3870. This change in accounting policy resulted in a reduction of opening retained earnings for 2004 of $332 thousand with an offset to unitholders' equity contributed surplus. Stock option compensation expense for the three months ended September 30, 2004 was nil (nine months ended September 30, 2004 - $2.5 million with corresponding offset to contributed surplus).

The Trust has an employee unit option plan under which both employees and directors are eligible to receive grants. At September 30, 2004 3,800,000 units were reserved for issuance under the plan. To September 30, 2004 options granted under the plan generally had a term of ten years to expiry and vested no longer than over a four year period. On May 1, 2004 subsequent to the establishment of the Trust all options granted were vested. Options outstanding under the plan have a weighted average exercise price of $9.64 and a weighted average remaining term of 7.84 years.

The basic number of units outstanding for the nine months ended September 30, 2004 was 48.2 million (September 30, 2003 - 45.4 million ASI shares) and the diluted number of units outstanding for the nine months ended September 30, 2004 was 48.9 million (September 30, 2003 - 45.8 million ASI shares).

4. RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

On September 4, 2003, the Trust loaned $29.0 million to Taylor. The loan was interest bearing at prime plus one percent and was repaid on October 17, 2003.

On March 18, 2004, the Trust purchased 320,000 limited partnership units of Taylor for $2.2 million. The purchase resulted in the dilution of the Trust's ownership in Taylor from 19.2 percent to 18.5 percent and an unrealized dilution gain of $192 thousand.

On June 30, 2004, L.O.P. Inc. (LOP), an equity accounted investee, repaid a $2.3 million loan extended to it by the Trust. At the same time, the Trust sold its investment in LOP to LOP's majority shareholder for proceeds of $0.5 million.

On August 19, 2004, the Trust purchased an additional 1,605,000 limited partnership units of Taylor for $10.6 million. The transaction resulted in an increase of the Trust's ownership in Taylor from 18.5 percent to 18.9 percent and resulted in an unrealized dilution loss of $113 thousand.

5. SEGMENTED INFORMATION

AltaGas is a midstream energy trust with a portfolio of assets and services used to move energy from the source to the end-user. The Trust has three reportable segments:

Gathering and Processing - natural gas gathering and processing, natural gas transmission, and ethane and natural gas liquids extraction.

Energy Services - power services, gas services and oil and natural gas production.

Natural Gas Distribution - natural gas distribution to end users and related services.

6. EMPLOYEE FUTURE BENEFITS

Substantially all full-time employees of the Trust's natural gas distribution subsidiary, AltaGas Utilities Inc., are members of one of two defined benefit non-contributory pension plans. AltaGas Utilities Inc. also has plans that provide other post-retirement benefits such as life insurance and health care.

The total post retirement benefit cost recorded in the statement of income for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2004 is $0.1 million (2003 - $0.2 million) and $0.7 million (2003 - $0.6 million) respectively.

7. COMPARATIVE FIGURES

Certain comparative figures have been reclassified to conform to the current financial statement presentation. Prior periods have been restated for the impact of the December 31, 2003 adoption of CICA Handbook Section 3110 related to accounting for asset retirement obligations.

8. SEASONALITY

The natural gas distribution business is highly seasonal with the majority of natural gas deliveries occurring during the winter heating season. Gas sales during the winter typically account for approximately two-thirds of annual gas distribution revenue, resulting in strong first and fourth quarter results and second and third quarters that show either small profits or losses.

9. SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

On October 6, 2004, AltaGas closed the acquisition of substantially all of the assets, including the company names, and liabilities of PremStar Energy Canada Ltd. and its subsidiaries ECNG Inc. and Energistics Group Inc. for a net price after closing adjustments of approximately $22.0 million paid primarily through the issue of units from the Trust's treasury. The effective date of the acquisition was April 1, 2004.

ABOUT ALTAGAS

AltaGas moves energy from its source to the end user, adding value through the process. The Trust has consolidated assets totalling over $950 million and a market capitalization of approximately $1 billion. Its steadily expanding asset base today includes natural gas gathering and processing facilities, interests in ethane and natural gas liquids extraction plants, and transmission pipelines. AltaGas distributes natural gas to Alberta customers through AltaGas Utilities Inc., to customers in the Northwest Territories through the Ikhil Gas Project and distributes gas in Nova Scotia through its interest in Heritage Gas Limited. The Trust provides energy services to customers, including marketing of natural gas and natural gas liquids and sale of power from its power purchase based arrangements.

AltaGas' Trust Units are listed on the Toronto Stock Exchange under the symbol ALA.UN. The Trust is included in the S&P/TSX Capped Income Trust Index and the S&P/TSX Capped Energy Trust Index.

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

This Management's Discussion and Analysis dated November 10, 2004 is a review of the results of operations and the liquidity and capital resources of AltaGas Income Trust (AltaGas or the Trust). It should be read in conjunction with the accompanying unaudited consolidated financial statements of the Trust, formerly AltaGas Services Inc. (ASI), for the three and nine month periods ended September 30, 2004 and the notes thereto and with the financial statements and Management's Discussion and Analysis contained in ASI's annual report for the year ended December 31, 2003. The discussion and analysis of operations and unaudited interim consolidated financial statements presented herein report on a continuity-of-interest accounting basis which recognizes AltaGas Income Trust as the successor to AltaGas Services Inc.

To provide Trust unitholders and prospective investors with information regarding the Trust, this MD&A contains forward looking statements in accordance with securities legislation. These forward looking statements are management's best prediction, and the actual results may vary due to the nature of estimates. These statements are provided wherever appropriate to assist investors to see the business from a management viewpoint. Such disclosure is subject to the reasonable constraints of maintaining the confidentiality of certain information which, if published could have an adverse impact on the competitive position of the Trust.

Additional information relating to AltaGas Income Trust can be found on its website at www.altagas.ca. The continuous disclosure materials of the Trust, filed as AltaGas Services Inc. prior to May 1, 2004, including its annual Management's Discussion and Analysis and audited financial statements, 2003 Annual Report, Annual Information Form, Information Circular and Proxy Statement, material change reports and press releases issued by the Trust are also available through the Trust's website or directly through the SEDAR system at www.sedar.com.

ALTAGAS INCOME TRUST

On April 29, 2004 the securityholders of AltaGas Services Inc. voted in favour of a plan of arrangement to reorganize the business of AltaGas Services Inc. into an open-ended investment trust effective May 1, 2004. For each common share of AltaGas Services Inc., shareholders received either one AltaGas Income Trust unit or one limited partnership unit of AltaGas Income Trust. As a result of implementing the reorganization, AltaGas Income Trust now indirectly holds through its partnerships and subsidiaries all of the assets, liabilities and businesses formerly owned by AltaGas Services Inc. The material businesses are operated by AltaGas Holding Limited Partnership No.1, AltaGas Ltd., AltaGas Operating Partnership, AltaGas Power Holdings Partnership, AltaGas Pipelines Partnership and AltaGas Utilities Inc. (collectively the operating subsidiaries). The cash flow of AltaGas Income Trust is solely dependent on the results of the operating subsidiaries and is derived from dividends or returns of capital from common shares held and from interest earned on loans made by AltaGas Income Trust to the operating subsidiaries.

The Trust has incurred costs and charges to implement the conversion, which are anticipated to total approximately $14.4 million. In the second quarter of 2004 approximately $7.0 million had been charged to unitholders' capital, and $3.5 million had been charged to income. In the third quarter, AltaGas incurred $0.9 million in charges to income and an additional $1.3 million that was charged to unitholders capital related to the conversion. The balance is expected to be charged to income in the future.

DISTRIBUTIONS

AltaGas targets to pay out substantially all of its ongoing sustainable distributable cash flow through regular monthly distributions made to unitholders. The distributions are determined giving consideration to the consolidated net income, maintenance and growth capital requirements and the debt repayment requirements of AltaGas.

On April 29, 2004 AltaGas announced that AltaGas Income Trust would commence monthly distributions of $0.15 for each Trust unit and limited partnership unit on June 15, 2004 to holders of Trust units and holders of limited partnership units. AltaGas pays cash distributions on the 15th day of each month to unitholders of record on the 25th day of the previous month, or the following business day if it falls on a weekend or holiday.

Third quarter distributions declared were $0.45 per unit or $23.2 million. From the date of conversion to an income trust on May 1, 2004, through to September 30, 2004, AltaGas had declared cash distributions of $37.8 million or $0.75 per unit. The following table summarizes AltaGas' dividend and distribution declaration history.[1]

(dollars per unit)	2004	2003	2002	2001
First quarter	$ 0.11	$ 0.08	$ 0.06	$ 0.03
Second quarter	0.30	0.08	0.06	0.03
Third quarter	0.45	0.11	0.08	0.06
Fourth quarter [2]		0.11	0.08	0.06
	$ 0.86	$ 0.38	$ 0.28	$ 0.18

(1) Dividends were paid to shareholders from first quarter 2001 through first quarter 2004. Prior to December 2000 no dividends were paid. Monthly distributions to unitholders began in second quarter of 2004

(2) Monthly distributions of $0.15 per unit have been declared for payment on both November 15, 2004 and December 15, 2004

For income tax purposes the Trust expects that approximately 70 percent of the distributions declared in 2004 will be taxed as interest with the remaining 30 percent to be classified as a combination of dividends and return of capital. For most unitholders, the return of capital amount will reduce the cost base of their Trust units for purposes of calculating the capital gains amount upon disposition of their units. Unitholders should seek independent tax advice in respect of the consequences to them of acquiring, holding and disposing of units.

AltaGas' net income for the third quarter and first nine months of 2004 again surpassed the comparable periods of 2003, setting a new record since AltaGas' formation in 1994. The driver for these results is the exceptional operating performance of AltaGas' business components and the favourable impact on income tax associated with converting to an income trust. These results were partially offset by one time costs related to the conversion to an income trust and costs associated with a major turnaround at AltaGas' Bantry facility in May, 2004.

Revenue of $547.4 million for the first nine months of 2004 is 3 percent higher than the same period last year due mainly to increased volumes sold and higher average prices received for power in the Energy Services segment and to increases in volumes processed in the Gathering and Processing segment, offset by lower gas delivery prices in the Natural Gas Distribution segment. For the three months ended September 30, 2004 revenue is up 12 percent to $178.5 million compared to the same period in 2003 on the strength of volume increases in the field gathering and processing and extraction components along with the Energy Services and Natural Gas Distribution segment.

Net revenue, which is gross revenue less cost of commodities purchased for re-sale, increased 12 percent for the first nine months and 15 percent for the third quarter of 2004 compared to the same periods in 2003 due to volume increases. In the extraction component and the Natural Gas Distribution and Energy Services segments, net revenue better reflects performance than does revenue, as changes in the market price of natural gas and power purchased for resale affect both revenue and the cost of sales.

Volume increases in the Gathering and Processing segment were driven by well tie-ins, expansions and modifications at existing facilities, the Rainbow Lake and Mica Pouce Coupe field gathering and processing acquisitions in late 2003, as well as the Edmonton ethane extraction plant acquisition in the third quarter of 2004. In the Energy Services segment, power volumes sold were higher in the first nine months of 2004 over the same period of 2003, due to the addition of volumes associated with the Genesee energy contract from April 1, 2003 and from the addition on September 1, 2004 of 25 megawatts of gas fired power peaking capacity to AltaGas' power portfolio. Natural Gas Distribution sales volumes at AltaGas Utilities Inc. rose in the third quarter of 2004 compared to the same period in 2003, driven by an increased customer base and colder weather, while sales volumes were down in the first nine months of 2004, compared to the same period of 2003 due to warmer weather.

Operating and administrative expense was higher in the third quarter and first nine months of 2004 compared to 2003. Operating costs increased due to the late 2003 field gathering and processing facilities acquisitions and due to a major turnaround required at AltaGas' Bantry facility costing $1.7 million. Administrative expense increased due to $2.1 million cash costs related to the conversion to an income trust, an additional $2.4 million in non-cash compensation expense recorded as a result of all outstanding unvested employee trust unit options vesting effective May 1, 2004, and due to increased staffing required to support the Trust's growth. Amortization expense was up 4 percent for the nine months of 2004 compared to the same period in 2003 and up 6 percent for the third quarter of 2004 compared to 2003. The increases are due mainly to Gathering and Processing segment acquisitions and expansions in late 2003 and the first nine months of 2004.

Interest expense of $15.8 million for the first nine months of 2004 was 5 percent lower than $16.7 million for the same period in 2003 and for the third quarter of 2004 interest expense of $4.9 million was 11 percent lower than $5.5 million for the third quarter of 2003. The lower interest expense for both periods was due to lower average debt outstanding partially offset by higher average interest rates. Debt was reduced with cash from operations and from the net proceeds of AltaGas' June 2004 Trust unit offering.

AltaGas' income is subject to a variety of tax rates and rate reductions currently and in the future. Consequently there are several items which impact income tax expense and the effective tax rate from period to period. Income tax expense for the first nine months of 2004 was $8.2 million less than reported for the same period of 2003 even though income before tax was higher. As a result of AltaGas' conversion into an income trust, amortization expense exceeds capital cost allowance claimed, resulting in a reversal over time of the future income tax liability. AltaGas' first five months as an income trust resulted in a reduction in income tax expense of $6.7 million. Also contributing to the variance from 2003 to 2004 in the effective income tax rate was a $0.7 million charge in the third quarter of 2003 to record the impact on future income tax liabilities of federal rate and resource allowance adjustments. Income tax expense for the nine months of 2004 was reduced by $1.5 million, $0.7 million resulting from the provincial rate reduction in the March 19, 2004 Alberta Government's budget and an additional $0.8 million reduction related to the federal statutory rate decrease. The impact of recording a charge to income for compensation expense related to stock options, which has no current or future income tax implication, partially offset these rate reductions by $0.8 million.

AltaGas provides certain financial measures in this Management's Discussion and Analysis that do not have a standardized meaning prescribed by Canadian generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP). These non-GAAP financial measures may not be comparable to similar measures presented by other trusts.

The purpose of these financial measures and their reconciliation to GAAP financial measures is shown below. All of the measures have been calculated consistent with previous disclosures by AltaGas. All amounts are in millions of dollars unless otherwise noted.

The distributable cash flow of AltaGas is equal to consolidated funds generated from operations before changes in non-cash working capital, after providing for maintenance capital expenditures. Distributable cash flow is not a defined performance measure under GAAP and distributable cash flow can not be assured. The Trust's calculation of distributable cash flow may differ from similar calculations used by comparable entities. Distributable cash flow is a main performance measure used by management and investors to evaluate the performance of the Trust and its operating subsidiaries.

In the extraction component and the Natural Gas Distribution and Energy Services segments, net revenue better reflects performance than does revenue. As changes in the market price of natural gas and power purchased for resale affect both revenue and the cost of sales, net revenue better reflects organic growth in the business. This table reconciles the revenue and net revenue amounts in the table for Financial and Operating Results for the Gathering and Processing segment to illustrate the relationship between these non-GAAP and GAAP measures where used throughout this Management's Discussion and Analysis.

AltaGas' natural gas processing capacity ranks the Trust in the top ten Canadian processors of natural gas and one of the four largest Canadian midstream processors. The Gathering and Processing segment includes more than 6,000 kilometers of gathering lines, 69 natural gas processing plants, interests in five ethane and natural gas liquids (NGLs) extraction and fractionation facilities and six transmission pipelines. These long-life assets provide service to a diverse customer base under arrangements which include a significant portion of cost of service, fixed fee and recovery of operating cost contracts. Commodity price exposure is minimal and revenues are generally volume driven. Future opportunities derive from the requirement that all natural gas must be processed to meet downstream pipeline specifications prior to delivery to the end user. With its extensive gathering infrastructure and the mobile nature of its field gathering and processing plants, AltaGas can quickly redeploy assets in response to producer drilling activity, size facilities to meet demand while reducing operating costs and minimize the time required to bring new production on line, accelerating producer and AltaGas' cash flow.

Net revenue for AltaGas' Gathering and Processing segment was $117.3 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2004, compared to $101.7 million for the same period in 2003 and $40.7 million for the third quarter of 2004 compared to $34.5 million for the third quarter of 2003. Net revenue growth in this segment was the result of increased volumes processed in the field gathering and processing and extraction components.

In the field gathering and processing component volumes processed rose during the first nine months of 2004 compared to the same period in 2003 due to AltaGas' December, 2003 acquisition of the Rainbow Lake facilities in northwestern Alberta and to the record 333 well tie-ins experienced during 2004 in AltaGas' operating areas. Gas drilling activity in the Western Canadian Sedimentary Basin continued to be strong during the third quarter of 2004, resulting in 81 wells tied-in to AltaGas' field gathering and processing facilities compared with 80 well tie-ins during the same period in 2003. The strong tie-in activity, along with new volumes from the Rainbow Lake acquisition and internal growth initiatives more than offset normal natural gas production declines and delays due to wet weather for the Windfall and Doris facility expansions as well as normal scheduled turnarounds. AltaGas' gross average throughput increased to 552 Mmcf/d during the third quarter of 2004 compared to 514 Mmcf/d during the third quarter of 2003.

AltaGas' existing operating areas continue to provide growth opportunities. During the third quarter of 2004 further expansion at the Marten Creek facility along with expansions at the Kirkpatrick Lake and Windfall facilities became operational and AltaGas announced the construction of a $5.5 million sour gas processing plant and approximately 37 kilometres of pipeline near the town of Shaunavon, Saskatchewan. The Shaunavon plant is expected to be operational by the end of 2004 and will process 1.0 Mmcf/d per day of solution gas currently being flared from two oil batteries. AltaGas is pursuing additional opportunities in Saskatchewan to process flared gas. Internal development projects are supported by producer commitments designed to minimize AltaGas' financial exposure to throughput declines. During the first nine months of 2004, AltaGas invested approximately $7.9 million on internal expansion projects in the field gathering and processing component. The new volumes associated with these expansions will be reflected in the fourth quarter of 2004.

In the extraction component, as a result of higher volumes processed and a favourable NGL pricing environment net revenue grew 151 percent during the third quarter of 2004 compared to the third quarter of 2003, reaching $5.5 million. Average NGLs volumes processed for the third quarter of 2004 more than doubled reaching 13,054 Bbls/d compared to 6,428 Bbls/d for the same period in 2003.

Contributing to the volume increase was AltaGas' closing, in late August 2004, of the acquisition of BP Canada Energy Resources Company's 48 2/3 percent interest in the Edmonton ethane extraction plant (EEEP) located at Edmonton, Alberta. After adjusting for the economic benefit from the January 1, 2004 effective date to closing, the purchase price paid by AltaGas for the facility was approximately $42.1 million, subject to a final statement of adjustments. AltaGas assumed operatorship of the plant and the staff at EEEP have become AltaGas employees. The plant has a gross licensed inlet capacity of 390 Mmcf/d of natural gas and gross natural gas liquids production of approximately 15,000 Bbls/d of specification ethane and 6,000 Bbls/d of propane-plus product. The acquisition has increased AltaGas' total net licensed inlet extraction capacity to 539 Mmcf/d. AltaGas' share of plant products will be sold under long-term contracts and a long-term gas supply contract provides secure feedstock supply to EEEP. Also contributing to the increase in extraction volumes processed were modifications made to the Empress EnCana extraction facility that increased ethane production effective the fourth quarter of 2003. There was also increased production at the Joffre ethane extraction plant. NGLs at the Joffre facility were reinjected in the third quarter of 2003 as a result of a lower gas to liquids price differential. The full impact of the addition of EEEP is expected to boost production in the fourth quarter of 2004 and 2005 to new records. In addition, AltaGas expects to invest approximately $5.0 million at EEEP during 2005 to increase efficiency and undertake other natural gas value chain optimizations at the plant to further enhance its financial and operational performance.

Net revenue in AltaGas' transmission component was down 3 percent for the third quarter of 2004 when compared to the same quarter of 2003, although after adjusting for lower flow through operating costs in the third quarter of 2004 net revenues were essentially flat. For the first nine months of 2004 when compared to the same period in 2003 net revenue was up 3 percent due to increased EnCana volume commitments on the Suffield transmission system.

ENERGY SERVICES

The Energy Services segment is comprised of the power services and gas service components. In this segment, the Trust also reports the results of the oil and gas production component. AltaGas is not in the business of exploration and development of natural gas reserves; however, associated with certain of its facility acquisitions, AltaGas has accumulated a portfolio of oil and natural gas reserves that it continues to hold and produce. The financial results of the power services component currently account for a significant portion of overall segment financial results and as such the commentary in this section will be restricted to the power services component.

(1) Average for the period

The power services component generated net revenue of $34.6 million for the first three quarters of 2004 compared to $29.8 million for the same period in 2003 and $13.9 million for third quarter 2004 compared to $11.7 million in 2003. Increases in the first nine months of 2004 was due to higher realized prices on power sales and higher volumes sold primarily related to the Genesee energy contract. For the third quarter of 2004 the increase is primarily due to increased volumes sold related to the Trust's 25 megawatt peaking plant capital lease. The Alberta Electric System Operator (AESO) is entitled to recover or refund variances between revenues collected through transmission charges and expenses incurred by AESO through true up adjustments calculated quarterly. For 2004, the cumulative quarterly adjustments have resulted in a net credit to AltaGas' income of $ 0.5 million compared to a credit to income of $4.1 million for 2003.

On September 1, 2004 AltaGas entered into a long term capital lease with Maxim Energy Group Ltd. for 25 megawatts of gas fired power peaking capacity. The capital lease requires AltaGas to pay Maxim monthly variable operating and maintenance charges plus a capacity fee. AltaGas retains 100 percent of the ancillary service and peaking sales revenues. The capital lease has a 10 year term commencing September 1, 2004 and includes an option at the end of the initial term to extend the term for a further 15 years or purchase the assets.

The 25 megawatts of power is generated by four gas fired peaking plants located in southern Alberta. The addition of the 25 megawatts of natural gas generation capacity provides fuel diversity to AltaGas' coal fired generation. It adds a fifth independent supply source, reducing potential risk on the Trust's overall power supply portfolio. Operationally, given the speed at which the power assets can be ramped up, the peaking supply easily provides some backstopping to AltaGas' Sundance B Power Purchase Arrangement and Genesee energy contract. The peaking gas requirement will be managed by AltaGas' gas services component.

AltaGas' total power portfolio at the end of the third quarter of 2004 consisted of 478 megawatts of power generation capacity representing approximately 6 percent of the Alberta power market.

AltaGas does not engage in the speculative trading of power. The Trust manages its acquired power capacity to provide stable, predictable earnings and cash flow over time. AltaGas reduces its exposure to floating electricity prices by supplying internal electrical demand requirements and by using a balanced portfolio of contracts to lock in power margins to reduce pricing risk. The average price AltaGas received from power sales in the third quarter of 2004 was $49.22 per MWh compared to $49.41 per MWh in the third quarter of 2003 and $48.30 per MWh for the first nine months of 2004 compared to $47.72 per MWh for the same period in 2003. Average Alberta Power Pool spot prices were $54.35 per MWh and $62.39 per MWh in the third quarters of 2004 and 2003 respectively, and $54.40 per MWh and $65.71 per MWh in the first nine months of 2004 and 2003 respectively.

Subsequent to the end of the third quarter of 2004, AltaGas significantly expanded its gas services component with the acquisition on October 6, 2004 of substantially all of the assets, including the company names, and liabilities of PremStar Energy Canada Ltd. and its subsidiaries ECNG Inc. and Energistics Group Inc. The purchase price of $22.0 million, after closing adjustments from the effective date of April 1, 2004, was paid primarily by way of the issuance of 993,789 Trust units from treasury.

AltaGas has provided gas services since 1994 and the addition of PremStar builds on this low risk, fee for service business. PremStar is one of Canada's leading energy agency businesses, specializing in the procurement and supply of energy to end use customers across Canada. On a fee for service basis, the PremStar group provides energy supply, arranges for transportation services, and supports customers with valuable market information. This transaction is expected to make a significant positive impact to the gas services component in the fourth quarter of 2004 and 2005 forward, through its existing business and through value chain optimization with other businesses of AltaGas.

NATURAL GAS DISTRIBUTION

The Natural Gas Distribution segment includes AltaGas Utilities Inc. (AltaGas Utilities or AUI), AltaGas' one-third interest in Inuvik Gas Ltd. (Inuvik Gas) and its 24.9 percent interest in Heritage Gas Limited (Heritage Gas).

The natural gas distribution business is highly seasonal with the majority of natural gas deliveries occurring during the winter heating season. Gas sales during the winter typically account for approximately two-thirds of annual distribution net revenue, resulting in strong first and fourth quarter results and second and third quarters that show either small profits or losses.

In the first nine months of 2004, net revenue in AltaGas' Natural Gas Distribution segment was $21.0 million compared to $21.3 million for the same period in 2003. Customer growth for the nine months of 2004 was offset primarily by the impact of the completion of negotiations on AUI's general rate application filed with the Alberta Energy and Utilities Board (AEUB). Lower than anticipated cost rates for debt and common equity as approved for 2003 resulted in a charge to net income of $0.5 million in the first quarter of 2004 related to previously recorded 2003 results.

Heritage Gas, 24.9 percent owned by AltaGas, activated its natural gas distribution system in late December 2003. Heritage Gas is in the initial stages of its planned growth and consequently has not had a material impact on AltaGas' consolidated results in the first nine months of 2004.

In the third quarter of 2004, net revenue in AltaGas' Natural Gas Distribution segment was $5.1 million compared to $4.9 million for the same period in 2003. This increase is due to higher sales volumes in 2004 compared to the third quarter of 2003 associated with an increased customer base and colder weather. Weather for the third quarter, as measured by heating degree days, was 33.5 percent colder than the third quarter of 2003 and 24.8 percent colder than the 20 year average.

AUI and Heritage Gas are provincially regulated as to natural gas rates and terms and conditions of service. Customer rates are based on anticipated sales as well as the revenue required to recover estimated cost of service and an allowed return on rate base. Rate base generally consists of the aggregate of the utility's approved investment in plant, property and equipment in service, less accumulated depreciation plus an allowance for working capital. Return on rate base is comprised of regulatory allowed financing costs and return on common equity. On July 2, 2004 the AEUB issued its Generic Cost of Capital decision. The decision established for AUI the 2004 rate of return on common equity at 9.6 percent and 2004 capital structure at 41 percent equity and 59 percent debt resulting in final allowable rates for interest expense and return on common equity.

AUI filed its Phase 2 application, for the 2003 and 2004 test years, arising from the Alberta Energy and Utilities Board approval of its Phase 1 decision issued August 3, 2004. The Phase 1 decision confirmed the revenue requirements which resulted from a negotiated settlement process. The Phase 2 portion of the general rate proceeding encompasses the allocation of costs to rate classes and the resulting rate design. A hearing on this phase is scheduled to start January 10, 2005. AUI is planning to file a Phase 1 General Rate Application for 2005, 2006 and possibly 2007 in the fourth quarter of this year.

AUI continues to make moderate increases in its customer base in its catchment area. In addition the company continues to look for opportunities to increase the number of franchises served. During the quarter AUI entered into an agreement with Orr Mineral Developments Ltd. (Orr) to acquire its distribution assets which provide natural gas service to approximately 112 customers in the hamlet of Suffield in southern Alberta. The sale by Orr requires the approval of the AEUB, which is expected to be obtained late in 2004 or early 2005. Orr was the last small independently owned natural gas distribution company in Alberta.

Heritage Gas is focused on building momentum behind a consumer movement to switch heating fuel sources in Nova Scotia's market place. Construction of a major facilities extension to serve Nova Scotia Power's Burnside facility was constructed during the third quarter of 2004. The facilities are capable of delivering the daily contracted volume of 16,700 GJ. Heritage Gas anticipates that the facilities will be activated and billing to the customer will commence in the fourth quarter of 2004.

Heritage Gas is very close to achieving the necessary customer commitments that are required to meet the economic feasibility test for expansion of natural gas service to the Town of Amherst. It is expected that once the economic feasibility hurdles are met natural gas service to Amherst could be available in the fourth quarter of 2005. At the end of the third quarter of 2004 Heritage Gas had installed services to 60 customers and had signed commitments from another 189 customers.

Identifiable trends in AltaGas' business across the past eight quarters reflect the organization's growth, a favorable business environment, and seasonality in the business. The first and last quarters each year are AltaGas' most profitable on the basis of the contribution from the Natural Gas Distribution segment which, as a distributor of natural gas for heating purposes, reports higher earnings in colder periods than in warmer periods.

The fourth quarter of 2002 was the strongest quarter to that date for ASI at $11.2 million in net income on the basis of an increased customer base in the Natural Gas Distribution segment and from power sales which AltaGas commenced at the beginning of 2002. Fourth quarter 2002 net income was also higher than in the previous quarter of the year due to the higher seasonal contribution from the Natural Gas Distribution segment. The Suffield pipeline and Wabasca field gathering and processing facilities were acquired and construction of the Joffre ethane extraction plant was commissioned late in the quarter.

Net income of $10.2 million in the first quarter of 2003 set a new high for ASI for that period in a year. The projects and acquisitions undertaken in the fourth quarter of 2002 were the main drivers of this performance, along with an improved business environment in all business segments. The Wabasca facilities acquisition increased throughput in the field gathering and processing component as did sharply increased tie-in activity with a record 85 wells tied-in during the first quarter. Final commissioning of the Joffre ethane extraction plant provided volume increases in the extraction component and volumes in the transmission component were higher due to the Suffield pipelines acquisition. Unplanned outages in the power services component, combined with higher than expected transmission costs due to changes in process at the Transmission Authority, partially offset the gains made in the other segments. AltaGas commenced selling power on April 1, 2003 from the Genesee energy contract which arrangement provides for 100 megawatts of power capacity from the Genesee power plant.

Second quarter 2003 net income was $6.8 million, 39 percent higher than the same quarter in 2002, a result of stronger contributions from the transmission, power services and extraction components. Increases in the transmission component related to the Suffield pipeline acquisition at the end of 2002. In the power services component, increases in net revenue were driven by higher average prices received for power and by the increased volumes sold resulting from the Genesee energy contract. Extraction component performance was better than the same quarter in the prior year as a result of the commissioning of the Joffre ethane extraction plant at the end of 2002. Improved operating income was offset by higher interest expense due to higher debt levels in the third quarter of 2003 when compared to the same quarter of the prior year, and as a result of a charge to income for legislative changes to the taxation of resource income.

Power services, extraction and transmission components were again the key contributors in the third quarter of 2003 to a 63 percent increase in net income to $9.3 million when compared to the third quarter of 2002. Operating results were driven by competition. Late quarter modifications to the EnCana-operated Empress extraction facility increased AltaGas' net production capability by an estimated 1,400 Bbls/d. In addition, power prices were improved over the same quarter in the prior year. AltaGas paid a quarterly dividend of $0.11 per share, up from $0.08 per share in the second quarter of 2003 on the basis of the increased strength and sustainability of AltaGas' earnings.

Fourth quarter 2003 net income of $12.0 million, including an unfavorable income tax expense charge of $1.2 million related to announced changes in federal large corporations tax legislation, was still the highest quarterly net income reported by AltaGas since it was formed. The increase from the prior year's quarter was a result of the late 2002 gathering and processing segment acquisitions, incremental power volumes sold from the Genesee energy contract and to the completion of modifications to increase ethane production at the EnCana-operated Empress extraction plant late in the third quarter of 2003.

First quarter 2004 produced record net income of $11.0 million for that period in a year based on increased volumes in the Gathering and Processing and Energy Services segments which were partially offset by lower margins in the Energy Services segment and warmer weather and regulatory adjustments in the Natural Gas Distribution segment.

The second quarter of 2004 saw the conversion of AltaGas from a corporate structure to an income trust. Keeping aligned with the strong first quarter of 2004, the Trust continued to build on its earlier success as net income of $11.9 million and income per unit of $0.25 both showed improvements. During the quarter AltaGas made its first public offering of units as an income trust and raised $88.5 million with net proceeds used to reduce the Trust's debt. This quarter also saw the commencement of monthly distributions to unitholders of $0.15 per unit.

Third quarter 2004 results are discussed in detail in an earlier section of this Management's Discussion and Analysis.

CHANGES IN ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Effective January 1, 2004, AltaGas prospectively adopted the provisions of the CICA's new Accounting Guideline "Hedging Relationships" that specifies the circumstances in which hedge accounting is appropriate, including the identification, documentation, designation and effectiveness of hedges, and the discontinuance of hedge accounting. AltaGas has determined that its hedging documentation meets the requirements of the Guideline and therefore there has been no impact on the consolidated financial statements.

Effective the first quarter of 2004, AltaGas' changed its accounting policy for stock-based compensation, now recognizing the compensation expense related to stock options in the financial statements according to the fair-value method. Prior to the change in policy, the Trust disclosed the impact of the accounting for stock options under the fair-value method on a pro-forma basis. Under the provisions set out by the CICA, AltaGas has adopted the change retroactively. The impact was to reduce retained earnings at January 1, 2004 by $332 thousand, and to reduce first quarter 2004 earnings by $136 thousand which amounts were based on the vesting status and exercise assumptions in existence at the end of the first quarter 2004. Subsequent to the conversion of AltaGas Services Inc. to an income trust all unvested options became fully vested. The charge to income in second quarter 2004 to reflect this early vesting was $2.4 million.

CRITICAL ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES

Since a determination of the value of many assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses is dependent upon future events, the preparation of the Trust's consolidated financial statements requires the use of estimates and assumptions which have been made using careful judgment. AltaGas' critical accounting estimates continue to be amortization expense, asset retirement obligations and asset impairment assessment. For further information on these critical accounting estimates, refer to Management's Discussion and Analysis in ASI's 2003 Annual Report.

FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

AltaGas enters into financial derivative contracts such as swaps and collars to manage exposure to fluctuations in commodity prices and interest rates, particularly in the power services component and with respect to interest rates on debt. These contracts are designed as hedges and gains and losses relating to such contracts are deferred and recognized in the same period and financial statement category as the corresponding hedged transaction.

The most significant impact of these contracts on 2004 business has been to provide revenue stability in the power services component. Alberta Power Pool daily average spot prices ranged from $124.23 per MWh to $12.11 per MWh in the third quarter of 2004. Through the use of financial hedges on a portion of its power portfolio deemed optimal by management, AltaGas moderated the impact of this volatility on its business.

AltaGas reduces financing costs and minimizes the effect of future interest rate movements on its cash flows through the use of interest rate swaps. At September 30, 2004 AltaGas had interest rates fixed through swap transactions with varying terms to maturity on $200.0 million of its $242.0 million total drawn bank debt. Including AltaGas' medium term notes, the rate has been fixed on 84 percent of AltaGas' total debt, including capital leases. The amount of fixed rate debt was higher than AltaGas' target of 70 to 75 percent of total debt due to the proceeds of the June 2004 equity offering being applied to floating rate debt.

On June 10, 2004 AltaGas Income Trust closed a public offering of 4,730,000 Trust units, at a price of $18.70 per Trust unit for gross proceeds of $88.5 million. The offering included the concurrent exercise by the Underwriters of an over-allotment option granted by AltaGas to purchase an additional 10 percent of the issue or 430,000 Trust units on the same terms. The net proceeds of the offering to the Trust, after payment of fees and expenses of $4.7 million was approximately $83.8 million. The net proceeds were used to reduce bank indebtedness and for general corporate purposes including AltaGas' ongoing capital program, the acquisition of the Edmonton ethane extraction plant and funding future acquisitions.

CAPITAL EXPENDITURES

Total capital expenditures by the Trust for the third quarter and first nine months of 2004 were $55.3 million and $75.8 million respectively compared to $6.4 million and $18.8 million for the respective periods of 2003.

Growth capital for the first nine months of 2004 included $42.1 million for the EEEP acquisition, $13.8 million related to the capital lease for 25 megawatts of peaking power capacity, and $12.6 million for expansions within the existing business and acquisitions of additional working interest in plants where AltaGas is able, through increased ownership, to optimize operations and generate additional operating margin for the Trust.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

Funds generated from operations were $74.7 million in the first nine months of 2004 compared to $63.6 million for the same period in 2003.

AltaGas believes that its access to debt and equity markets, unutilized bank credit facilities, funds generated from operations and funds generated from the Trust's Distribution Reinvestment and Premium DistributionTM programs will provide it with sufficient capital resources and liquidity to fund existing operations, future distributions, and certain acquisition and expansion opportunities in 2004. A description of AltaGas' credit facilities can be found in Notes 6 and 7 to the consolidated financial statements included in ASI's 2003 Annual Report, and is further updated in the Trust unit offering Final Short-Form Prospectus dated July 29, 2004.

The use of debt or equity funding is based on AltaGas' capital structure determined by considering the norms and risks associated with each of its business components and segments. AltaGas Operating Partnership has $100.0 million in medium term notes outstanding and AltaGas Ltd. has access to prime loans, banker's acceptances and letters of credit though bank lines of approximately $425.0 million. At September 30, 2004 AltaGas Ltd. had drawn bank debt of $242.0 million and letters of credit outstanding of $29.7 million. These two entities fund all operating subsidiaries. As an income trust, AltaGas targets a debt to total capitalization ratio between 45 percent and 50 percent. In the third quarter the Trust's net debt to total capitalization ratio decreased to 44.0 percent at September 30, 2004 from 53.3 percent at September 30, 2003 and 52.2 percent at December 31, 2003. In the third quarter of 2004, AltaGas recorded long term debt of $13.0 million under the terms of a capital lease associated with its 25 megawatts of peaking power capacity, of which $0.5 million is reported as the current portion of the long term debt.

On May 20, 2004 AltaGas adopted Premium Distribution™, Distribution Reinvestment and Optional Unit Purchase Plans (DRIP) for eligible holders of Trust units and limited partnership units of AltaGas Income Trust, AltaGas Holding Limited Partnership No. 1 and AltaGas Holding Limited Partnership No. 2. DRIP participation in the third quarter of 2004 generated $4.2 million in new equity through the issuance of 220,085 Trust units, and $4.6 million in new equity and 240,429 Trust units on a year to date basis. Complete details on DRIP are available on the AltaGas website at www.altagas.ca.

Following AltaGas' announcement in March of its then proposed conversion to a trust Standard & Poor's (S&P) confirmed the rating on AltaGas' long term corporate credit at BBB- with a negative outlook and the rating on the senior unsecured debt at BBB-. The Dominion Bond Rating Service (DBRS) confirmed the rating of AltaGas Income Trust at BBB (low) with a stable trend and applied the same rating to AltaGas Operating Partnership and the medium term notes held by AltaGas Operating Partnership. The Trust has a stability rating of SR-3 (stable outlook) from S&P and STA-3 (mid) from DBRS.

TRUST UNIT INFORMATION

Under the terms of the restructuring of AltaGas into an income trust effective May1, 2004, ASI securityholders exchanged their shares in the company for Trust units and eligible securityholders also received limited partnership units that are exchangeable into Trust units on a one for one basis. The limited partnership units do not trade on the TSX.

As of October 31, 2004 the Trust had 49.6 million Trust units and 3.4 million limited partnership units outstanding and a market capitalization of $1.1 billion based on a closing trading price on October 31, 2004 of $21.59 per Trust unit. There are 0.4 million options exercisable under the terms of the Unit option agreement brought forward in the reorganization. All options currently issued under this plan have vested effective May 1, 2004. Enbridge exchanged 8.9 million limited partnership units into Trust units during the third quarter of 2004.

OFF BALANCE SHEET ARRANGEMENTS

The Trust is not party to any contractual arrangement under which an unconsolidated entity may have any obligation under certain guarantee contracts, a retained or contingent interest in assets transferred to an unconsolidated entity or similar arrangement that serves as credit, liquidity or market risk support to that entity for such assets. The Trust has no obligation under derivative instruments, nor under a material variable interest in an unconsolidated entity that provides financing, liquidity, market risk or credit risk support to the registrant, or engages in leasing, hedging or research and development services with the registrant.

CONTRACTUAL OBLIGATIONS

AltaGas entered into a capital lease with Maxim Energy Group Ltd. for the right to 25 megawatts of gas fired power peaking capacity. AltaGas retains 100 percent of the ancillary service and peaking sales revenues. The contract has a 10 year term commencing September 1, 2004 and includes an option at the end of the initial term to extend the term for a further 15 years or purchase the assets. The cost of the lease to AltaGas is $13.8 million which has been paid for with a cash prepayment of $0.8 million, a charge recorded to long term debt of $13.0 million, of which $0.5 million is due over the next twelve months.

There have been no other material changes to AltaGas' contractual obligations, including payments due for each of the next five years and thereafter, since December 31, 2003. For further information on these contractual obligations, refer to Management's Discussion and Analysis in ASI's 2003 Annual Report.

RELATED PARTIES

On August 19, 2004 AltaGas purchased 1,605,000 units of Taylor NGL Limited Partnership (Taylor) from Taylor's equity offering of 8,025,000 units at a price of $6.60 per unit. With this additional investment, the Trust's interest in Taylor has increased to 18.9 percent. Taylor's business is the ownership and operatorship of facilities in the midstream sector of the Western Canadian natural gas industry including the Joffre ethane extraction plant in which AltaGas has a 50 percent ownership interest.

On August 17, 2004 AltaGas announced that Enbridge Inc. completed a sale of 13,397,500 Trust units of AltaGas including an over allotment of 1,747,500 Trust units to a group of Canadian underwriters at a price of $19.75. This sale reduced Enbridge's interest in AltaGas from approximately 36 percent to 9 percent. On October 4, 2004 Enbridge closed the sale of its remaining 4,800,000 Trust units at $19.85.

OUTLOOK

The outlook for the balance of 2004 is expected to be very positive particularly due to the increased drilling activity in the Gathering and Processing segment and the late August 2004 acquisition of the Edmonton ethane extraction plant. Drilling activity in the majority of AltaGas' operating areas is expected to remain strong given the favorable commodity pricing environment. In addition, exploitation of opportunities in existing businesses and processes are expected to increase processed volumes. In the Energy Services segment, power prices are expected to be higher providing improved earnings on the unhedged portion of AltaGas' power portfolio, power volumes will increase with the addition of the 25 MW power peaking plant acquisition, and the fourth quarter 2004 close of the PremStar acquisition in the gas services component will add significant gas marketing volumes. All of these events are expected to add to the bottom line of the Trust.

As part of AltaGas' continuing corporate governance and succession planning process, David Cornhill, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer, has informed the Board of Directors that he intends to remain as both Chairman and Chief Executive Officer until sometime in 2006, after which he will relinquish the role of Chief Executive Officer but will continue in his capacity as Chairman of the Board of Directors. Mr. Cornhill has held both roles since AltaGas was founded in 1994. The Board of Directors and Mr. Cornhill will be working together in due course to identify internal and external candidates for the role of Chief Executive Officer.

UNITHOLDER LIMITED LIABILITY LEGISLATION

Legislation came into effect in Alberta on July 1, 2004 to provide limited liability for holders of trust units, similar to protection afforded to investors of corporations. The legislation covers events that occur on or after July 1, 2004 and extends to all unitholders of AltaGas Income Trust, which is registered in Alberta, including non-residents. The legislation does not remove the issue of unlimited liability for any acts or omissions that occurred prior to July 1, 2004.

Prior to the July 1 amendments, the legislation governing the creation of trusts did not contain explicit language which limited the liability of unitholders of the Trust to their equity investment in the Trust. As a result, there has existed a possibility that unitholders of the Trust may not be protected from liabilities of the Trust to the same extent as a shareholder of a publicly traded corporation and that potentially, unitholders could be liable for tort claims such as environmental claims. The AltaGas Income Trust indenture itself provides that no unitholder will be subject to any liability in connection with the Trust or its obligations and affairs or for any act or omission of the Trustee, provided that in the event that a court determines that unitholders are subject to such liabilities, the liabilities will be enforceable only against and will be satisfied out of the Trust's assets. The trust indenture also provides that contracts to which the Trust is a party should contain language restricting the liability of unitholders.

ALTAGAS INCOME TRUST ANNOUNCES MONTHLY DISTRIBUTION

Calgary, Alberta (December 14, 2004) – AltaGas Income Trust (AltaGas or the Trust) (TSE:ALA.UN) announced today that a monthly distribution will be paid on January 17, 2005 to holders of record on December 29, 2004, of Trust Units and limited partnership units that are exchangeable into Trust Units (Exchangeable Units). The amount of the distribution will be $0.15 for each Trust Unit and each Exchangeable Unit.

AltaGas has adopted Premium Distribution™, Distribution Reinvestment and Optional Unit Purchase Plans (the Plans) for eligible holders of Trust Units and Exchangeable Units (collectively Unitholders) of AltaGas Income Trust, and AltaGas Holding Limited Partnership No. 1.

To participate in either of the Plans, registered Unitholders must deliver the appropriate properly completed and signed authorization forms provided by AltaGas for such purpose to Computershare Trust Company of Canada no later than 3:00 p.m. (Calgary time) on the business day immediately preceding a distribution record date in order for the cash distribution or cash payment to which such record date relates to be reinvested or invested, as the case may be, under the applicable Plan. Beneficial owners of Trust Units or Exchangeable Units (i.e. owners of Trust Units or Exchangeable Units that are held through a nominee such as a broker or custodian) who wish to participate in the applicable Plan should contact their broker, investment dealer, financial institution or other nominee who hold their Trust Units or Exchangeable Units to provide instructions regarding their participation in the applicable Plan. See additional information on the Plans on AltaGas' website at www.altagas.ca.

AltaGas moves energy from its source to the end user, adding value through the process. The Trust has consolidated assets totalling over $950 million and a market capitalization of approximately $1 billion. Its steadily expanding asset base today includes natural gas gathering and processing facilities, interests in ethane and natural gas liquids extraction plants, and transmission pipelines. AltaGas distributes natural gas to Alberta customers through AltaGas Utilities Inc., to customers in the Northwest Territories through the Ikhil Gas Project and distributes gas in Nova Scotia through its interest in Heritage Gas Limited. The Trust provides energy services to customers, including marketing of natural gas and natural gas liquids and sale of power from its power purchase based arrangements.

AltaGas' Trust Units are listed on the Toronto Stock Exchange under the symbol ALA.UN. The Trust is included in the S&P/TSX Capped Income Trust Index and the S&P/TSX Capped Energy Trust Index.

ALTAGAS DELIVERS ITS 11TH CONSECUTIVE YEAR OF RECORD RESULTS FOR 2004 AND THE STRONGEST QUARTER IN ITS HISTORY.

CALGARY, Alberta, March 2, 2005: AltaGas Income Trust (AltaGas or the Trust) (TSX: ALA.UN) today released its financial results for the fourth quarter and twelve months ended December 31, 2004. AltaGas declared a distribution of $0.15 per trust unit and exchangeable unit payable on April 15, 2005 to holders of record on March 28, 2005.

"The 2004 year and fourth quarter were exceptional for AltaGas," said David Cornhill, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer. "The talented AltaGas team delivered the 11th successive year of record net income and funds from operations. The fourth quarter was the strongest quarter in our history. We continued to grow with a disciplined focus on premium assets closing the acquisitions of the businesses of PremStar Energy Canada Ltd. (PremStar) and a 48 2/3 percent interest in the Edmonton ethane extraction plant. During 2004 we also added 25 megawatts of power capacity and expanded facilities in our existing portfolio. Our asset base now exceeds $1.0 billion. Our transition to a trust was effected without any ripples. Our assets are well suited to a trust structure and our operating model has remained the same. Unitholders were rewarded with a 54 percent total return from unit price and distributions in 2004, which outpaced the TSX by 41.5 percent and the S&P/TSX Capped Income Trust Index and the S&P/TSX Capped Energy Trust Index by 39 percent and 37 percent respectively." Mr. Cornhill added "Over the year ahead we remain committed to the disciplined execution of the strategies that have contributed to AltaGas' outstanding financial and operational performance to date, and that will drive our future success."

- Record net income for 2004 was $65.8 million or $1.33 per unit, an increase of 72 percent from $38.3 million or $0.84 per unit recorded for the same period of 2003. The increase is due to the strong financial performance in the Gathering and Processing and Energy Services segments and the favorable income tax impacts associated with converting to an income trust on May 1, 2004.

- Generated the highest quarterly net income in our history at $25.8 million, an increase from $12.0 million for the same period of 2003. On a per unit basis, net income was $0.49 compared to $0.26 for the fourth quarter of 2003. The increase was driven by the Energy Services segment which benefited from higher power prices on hedged volumes and the acquisition of PremStar. The Gathering and Processing segment also contributed due to increased volumes from the acquisition of the Edmonton ethane extraction plant, higher natural gas liquids prices (NGLs) and stronger transmission performance. The income tax benefit of the trust structure also contributes to the growth in net income.

- Generated record funds from operations for the twelve months of 2004 and the fourth quarter. Funds from operations were $108.6 million for the twelve months of 2004 compared to $90.2 million for the 2003, an increase of 20 percent. For the fourth quarter of 2004, funds from operations were $33.9 million, an increase of 27 percent, compared to $26.6 million for the same period of 2003. Funds from operations for the twelve months of 2004 are after $7.8 million in costs incurred in 2004 associated with the conversion to an income trust and costs associated with major turnarounds at key field processing facilities.

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

This Management's Discussion and Analysis (MD&A) of operations and unaudited interim consolidated financial statements presented herein report on a continuity-of-interest accounting basis which recognizes AltaGas Income Trust (AltaGas or the Trust) as the successor to AltaGas Services Inc.(ASI). This MD&A dated March 2, 2005 is a review of the results of operations and the liquidity and capital resources of the Trust. It should be read in conjunction with the accompanying unaudited consolidated financial statements of the Trust, formerly ASI, for the three and twelve month periods ended December 31, 2004 and the notes thereto and with the financial statements and MD&A contained in ASI's annual report for the year ended December 31, 2003.

This MD&A contains forward-looking statements. When used in this MD&A the words "may", "would", "could", "will", "intend", "plan", "anticipate", "believe", "seek", "propose", "estimate", "expect", and similar expressions, as they relate to the Trust or an affiliate of the Trust, are intended to identify forward-looking statements. These statements involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors that may cause actual results or events to differ materially from those anticipated in such forward-looking statements. Such statements reflect the Trust's current views with respect to future events and are subject to certain risks, uncertainties and assumptions. Many factors could cause the Trust's actual results, performance or achievements to vary from those described in this MD&A. Should one or more of these risks or uncertainties materialize, or should assumptions underlying forward-looking statements prove incorrect, actual results may vary materially from those described in this MD&A as intended, planned, anticipated, believed, estimated or expected, and such forward-looking statements included in this MD&A herein should not be unduly relied upon. These statements speak only as of the date of this short MD&A. The Trust does not intend, and does not assume any obligation, to update these forward-looking statements.

ALTAGAS INCOME TRUST

On April 29, 2004 the securityholders of ASI voted in favor of a plan of arrangement to reorganize the business of AltaGas Services Inc. into an open-ended investment trust effective May 1, 2004. For each common share of AltaGas Services Inc., shareholders received either one unit of the Trust (Trust unit) or one Exchangeable unit of AltaGas Holding Limited Partnership No. 1 or AltaGas Holding Limited Partnership No. 2. (Trust unit and Exchangeable units being collectively units). As a result of implementing the reorganization, the Trust now indirectly holds through its subsidiaries and partnerships all of the assets, liabilities and businesses formerly owned by AltaGas Services Inc. The material businesses are operated by AltaGas Ltd., AltaGas Operating Partnership, AltaGas Limited Partnership, AltaGas Power Holdings Partnership, AltaGas Pipelines Partnership and AltaGas Utilities Inc. (collectively the operating subsidiaries). The cash flow of the Trust is solely dependent on the results of the operating subsidiaries and is derived from interest earned on loans to the operating subsidiaries and from dividends or returns of capital from equity interests held.

AltaGas General Partner Inc., through its Board of Directors, who are elected by the Trust at the direction of the holders of the units, manages or supervises the management of the business and affairs of the Trust. AltaGas Ltd. provides all the management, administrative and operating services to the Trust and its subsidiaries. At December 31, 2004 AltaGas Ltd. and its subsidiaries employed a total of 588 people.

The Trust has incurred costs and charges to implement the plan of arrangement, which are anticipated to total approximately $17.0 million. In the fourth quarter of 2004 approximately $0.3 million was charged to unitholders' capital, and $1.3 million was charged to income, resulting in total charges for 2004 of $8.6 million and $5.7 million to unitholders' capital and income respectively. The balance is expected to be charged to income in future periods.

DISTRIBUTIONS

AltaGas' distributions are determined giving consideration to the ongoing sustainable distributable cash flow as impacted by the consolidated net income, maintenance and growth capital requirements and the debt repayment requirements of the Trust. The Trust targets to pay out substantially all of its ongoing sustainable distributable cash flow through regular monthly distributions made to unitholders.

On April 29, 2004, the Trust announced it would commence monthly distributions of $0.15 for each trust unit and exchangeable unit on June 15, 2004 to holders of trust units and holders of exchangeable units. The Trust pays cash distributions on the 15th day of each month, to unitholders of record on the 25th day of the previous month or in each case the following business day if the payment date or record date falls on a weekend or holiday.

Fourth quarter distributions declared were $0.45 per unit or $23.9 million. From the date of conversion to an income trust on May 1, 2004, through to December 31, 2004, AltaGas had declared cash distributions of $61.7 million or $1.20 per unit. The following table summarizes AltaGas' dividend and distribution declaration history.[1]

(dollars per unit)	2004	2003	2002	2001
First quarter	$ 0.11	$ 0.08	$ 0.06	$ 0.03
Second quarter	0.30	0.08	0.06	0.03
Third quarter	0.45	0.11	0.08	0.06
Fourth quarter	0.45	0.11	0.08	0.06
	$ 1.31	$ 0.38	$ 0.28	$ 0.18

(1) Dividends were paid to shareholders from first quarter 2001 through first quarter 2004. Prior to December 2000 no dividends were paid. Monthly distributions to unitholders began in second quarter of 2004.

On May 20, 2004 AltaGas adopted Premium Distribution™, Distribution Reinvestment and Optional Unit Purchase plans (DRIP) for eligible holders of trust units and exchangeable units of AltaGas Income Trust, AltaGas Holding Limited Partnership No. 1 and AltaGas Holding Limited Partnership No. 2. DRIP participation in the fourth quarter of 2004 generated $5.7 million in new equity through the issuance of 280,897 Trust units, and $10.3 million in new equity and 521,326 Trust units on a year to date basis. Complete details on DRIP are available on the AltaGas website at www.altagas.ca.

For income tax purposes the Trust expects that approximately 75 percent of the distributions declared in 2004 will be taxed as interest with the remaining 25 percent to be classified as return of capital. For most unitholders, the return of capital amount will reduce the cost base of their Trust units for purposes of calculating the capital gains amount upon disposition of their Trust units. Unitholders should seek independent tax advice in respect of the consequences to them of acquiring, holding and disposing of Trust units.

AltaGas' net income for the twelve months and the fourth quarter of 2004 increased 72 percent and 115 percent compared to the same periods of 2003, establishing new records since AltaGas' formation. Net income for the year ended December 31, 2004 was $65.8 million or $1.33 per unit compared to $38.3 million or $0.84 per unit for the year ended December 31, 2003. Acquisitions and expansions in AltaGas' Energy Services and Gathering and Processing segments drove the improvement in operating results. In addition, reduced income tax expense in the current year associated with converting to an income trust had a significant favorable impact. One time costs related to the conversion to an income trust and costs associated with regularly scheduled major maintenance turnarounds at two of AltaGas' facilities partially offset the increases on both year over year and quarter over quarter results.

Revenue for the year ended December 31, 2004 rose 21 percent to $859.2 million compared to the same period in 2003. For the three months ended December 31, 2004, revenue increased 74 percent to $311.8 million compared to $179.0 million for the three months ended December 31, 2003. The increases in revenue are primarily due to volume increases related to the acquisitions in the gas services and extraction components. Also contributing to the increases were higher NGL prices in the extraction component and higher average prices received on hedged power volumes sold in the power component.

Net revenue increased 14 percent for full year 2004 to $249.8 million and 17 percent to $71.6 million for the fourth quarter of 2004 when compared to the same periods of 2003. In the extraction component and the Natural Gas Distribution and Energy Services segments, net revenue better reflects performance than does revenue, as changes in the market price of natural gas and power affect both revenue and the cost of goods sold.

The net revenue increases for the fourth quarter were driven by increased volumes in the extraction component from the acquisition of a $48^{2/3}$ percent interest in Edmonton ethane extraction plant (EEEP) which closed in late August 2004, very high NGL fractionation spreads at the JEEP and Empress ATCO extraction plants, volume increases in the field gathering and processing component and increased gas volumes supplied in the gas services component resulting from the acquisition of PremStar which closed in the fourth quarter of 2004. Higher spot prices received on volumes sold in the power component also contributed to the increase.

Operating and administrative expenses were 19 percent higher for the full year and 18 percent higher in the fourth quarter of 2004 compared to the same periods of 2003. Operating costs increased year over year due to the full year impact of 2003 and 2004 acquisitions as well as the completion of major maintenance turnarounds at AltaGas' Bantry and Rainbow Lake facilities in 2004 Administrative expense increased in 2004 due to payments of $3.3 million related to the conversion to an income trust, and a further non-cash charge of $2.4 million in compensation expense as a result of the vesting of all employee trust unit options on May 1, 2004. Increased staffing required to support the Trust's growth also contributed to higher administrative costs.

Earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization (EBITDA) for the year and three months ended December 31, 2004 rose nine percent to $133.4 million and 17 percent to $40.6 million respectively compared to the same periods of 2003.

Amortization expense of $41.8 million was up nine percent for the twelve months of 2004 and up 27 percent to $11.2 million for the fourth quarter of 2004 compared to the same periods in 2003. The higher charges are due mainly to increases in the capital base related to acquisitions and internal expansion projects.

Interest expense of $21.2 million for the twelve months of 2004 was four percent lower than $22.1 million for the same period in 2003 and for the fourth quarter of 2004 interest expense of $5.4 million was comparable to $5.3 million for the fourth quarter of 2003. The decrease in interest expense year over year was primarily due to lower average debt balances during the year, partially offset by higher blended average interest rates. Debt was reduced by the net proceeds of AltaGas' June 2004 Trust unit offering.

Income tax expense for 2004 was $18.6 million less than that reported for 2003 even though income before taxes was higher. This variance is driven by AltaGas' conversion to an income trust. AltaGas' consolidated income from corporations was taxable in 2003 and for the period January 1 through April 30, 2004. Once restructured as an income trust, corporate subsidiaries' taxable income is generally reduced to zero by interest payments to the Trust. Payments received by the Trust in the form of interest distributions or other income from its subsidiaries are taxable income to the Trust. As the Trust is entitled to deduct its administrative costs and distributions to unitholders and since in accordance with its Trust indenture it distributes all of its income to unitholders, the Trust is not expected to be liable for income taxes either currently or in the foreseeable future. The impact of the restructuring from a corporation to a trust contributed $15.5 million of the reduction in income tax expense on a full year basis and $9.0 million reduction for the fourth quarter of 2004 compared to the fourth quarter of 2003. Amortization expense now exceeds capital cost allowance claimed, resulting in a reversal of the future income tax liability. AltaGas' first eight months as a trust resulted in the reversal driving a credit to income tax expense of $3.1 million.

The income of AltaGas' operating entities are subject to a variety of tax rates and rate reductions currently and in the future. Consequently, there are several items which impact income tax expense and the effective tax rate from period to period. Contributing to the variance from 2003 to 2004 in the effective tax rate was a $0.7 million charge in the second quarter of 2003 to the future income tax liability to record the impact of federal rate and resource allowance adjustments. Income tax expense for 2004 was reduced by $0.7 million as a result of the application of a provincial rate reduction arising out of the March 19, 2004 Alberta government budget. The impact of recording a charge to income for compensation expense related to stock options in 2004, which has no current or future income tax implication, partially offset these rate reductions by $0.8 million.

NON-GAAP FINANCIAL MEASURES

AltaGas provides certain financial measures in this MD&A that do not have a standardized meaning prescribed by Canadian generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP). These non-GAAP financial measures may not be comparable to similar measures presented by other trusts.

The purpose of these financial measures and their reconciliation to GAAP financial measures is shown below. All of the measures have been calculated consistent with previous disclosures by AltaGas.

Funds Generated from Operations	Three months ended December 31		Year ended December 31
($ millions)	2004	2003	2004	2003

Cash from operations (GAAP financial measure)	68.4	14.9	147.7	96.5

Funds generated from operations is provided to assist in determining the ability of AltaGas to generate cash from operations after interest and taxes without regard to changes in the Trust's non-cash working capital in the period.

EBITDA	Three months ended December 31		Year ended December 31
($ millions)	2004	2003	2004	2003

Net income (GAAP financial measure)	25.8	12.0	65.8	38.3

Earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization (EBITDA) is provided to assist in understanding the ability of the organization to generate cash and its ability to cover interest payments.

Operating Income	Three months ended December 31		Year ended December 31
($ millions)	2004	2003	2004	2003
Operating income	29.4	25.9	91.6	83.6
Add (deduct): Interest	(5.4)	(5.3)	(21.2)	(22.1)
Income taxes	1.8	(8.6)	(4.6)	(23.2)
Net income (GAAP financial measure)	25.8	12.0	65.8	38.3

AltaGas reports segmented operating income in the Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements since interest and income taxes are not allocated to business segments. Operating income is used to measure operating performance without reference to financing decisions and income tax impacts which are not controlled at the operating management level.

Distributable Cash Flow	Three months ended December 31		Year ended December 31
($ millions)	2004	2003	2004	2003
Distributable cash flow	31.8	21.0	102.2	79.6

Cash from operations (GAAP financial measure)	68.4	14.9	147.7	96.5

The Trust's distributable cash flow is equal to consolidated funds generated from operations before changes in non-cash working capital, after providing for maintenance capital expenditures. Distributable cash flow is not a defined performance measure under GAAP and distributable cash flow can not be assured. The Trust's calculation of distributable cash flow may differ from similar calculations used by comparable entities. Distributable cash flow is a main performance measure used by management and investors to evaluate the performance of the Trust and its operating subsidiaries.

Net Revenue	Three months ended December 31		Year ended December 31
($ millions)	2004	2003	2004	2003
Net revenue	71.6	61.0	249.8	219.9

Revenue (GAAP financial measure)	311.8	179.0	859.2	710.6

In the Natural Gas Distribution and Energy Services segments, net revenue better reflects performance than does revenue. As changes in the market price of natural gas and power purchased for resale affect both revenue and the cost of sales, net revenue better reflects organic growth in the business. This table reconciles the revenue and net revenue amounts to illustrate the relationship between these non-GAAP and GAAP measures where used throughout this MD&A.

The Gathering and Processing segment generated revenue of $218.9 million for the year and $76.2 million for the three months ended December 31, 2004, increases of 29 percent and 68 percent respectively compared to the same periods in 2003. Net revenue, increased to $164.9 million, an increase of 17 percent for the year ended December 31, 2004 and to $47.6 million for the fourth quarter of 2004 up 23 percent compared to the same period of 2003.

Growth in operating income in this segment for 2004 compared to 2003 was due to higher volumes processed at extraction facilities, processing fee increases and higher throughput volumes at field gathering and processing facilities achieved through acquisitions, internal expansions and producer drilling activity. Favorable extraction fractionation spreads throughout 2004 compared to 2003 also contributed to the improved results.

Net revenue in the field gathering and processing component increased 13 percent over 2003 to $115.5 million. Increased producer volumes due to a 32 percent increase over full year 2003 in well tie-ins to AltaGas facilities along with facility expansions and a full year's operations at AltaGas' Rainbow Lake facility contributed to net revenue increases.

Average field gathering and processing capacity and throughput volumes increased by six percent and seven percent respectively to 913 Mmcf/d and 558 Mmcf/d in the fourth quarter of 2004 compared to the fourth quarter of 2003.

Capacity increased due to the acquisition of the 43 Mmcf/d Mica Pouce Coupe gas plant and gathering system in the first quarter 2004 and the seven Mmcf/d expansion of the Kirkpatrick lake facility in December 2004. Strong producer drilling and tie-in activity generated the need to expand throughput capability at AltaGas' Marten Creek and Windfall facilities with the addition of booster compression during 2004. Throughput volumes were higher in 2004 due to the combined impact of the late 2003 Rainbow Lake plant acquisition, well tie-ins and plant expansions which more than offset the impact of normal natural gas production declines and maintenance turnarounds. Drilling activity in the Western Canadian Sedimentary Basin continued to be strong during the fourth quarter of 2004, resulting in 93 wells tied-in to AltaGas' field gathering and processing facilities compared with 97 well tie-ins during the same period in 2003. During 2004, AltaGas invested approximately $16.4 million on internal expansion projects in the field gathering and processing component. These projects are supported by producer commitments designed to control AltaGas' financial exposure to throughput declines. The fees generated by these projects and the renegotiation of existing processing contracts have increased the average fee earned per unit processed when comparing 2004 to 2003.

Field gathering and processing capacity utilization was 61 percent. Capacity utilization is negatively affected by the low cost acquisition of Mica Pouce Coupe where AltaGas acquired 43 Mmcf/d of capacity with minimal throughput to date. AltaGas expects to increase Mica Pouce Coupe capacity utilization through application of engineering optimization. Without the dampening effect of Mica Pouce Coupe, AltaGas' utilization rate would be 64 percent. Similarily, 2003 utilization numbers were low due to the late December acquisition of Rainbow Lake which added capacity but little associated throughput in the fourth quarter. In 2003 AltaGas' utilization without Rainbow Lake was 63 percent.

In the extraction component higher volumes processed and the favourable NGL pricing environment resulted in growth in net revenue of 129 percent to $8.3 million during the fourth quarter of 2004 compared to the fourth quarter of 2003. Average NGL volumes processed for the fourth quarter of 2004 more than doubled reaching 21,244 Bbls/d compared to 9,159 Bbls/d for the same period in 2003. On full year basis average NGL volumes processed increased to 13,436 Bbls/d compared to 7,575 Bbls/d in 2003. Volume increases for the year and fourth quarter were primarily due to the late August 2004 closing of its interest in EEEP. The plant has a gross licensed inlet capacity of 390 Mmcf/d of natural gas and gross natural gas liquids production of approximately 15,000 Bbls/d of specification ethane and 6,000 Bbls/d of propane-plus product. The acquisition increased AltaGas' total net licensed inlet extraction capacity to 539 Mmcf/d. AltaGas' share of plant products are sold under long-term contracts and feedstock supply is provided by a long-term gas supply contract to EEEP. Production at the Empress Encana facility and the Joffre ethane extraction plant were also higher during the year.

Transmission volumes increased during the full year and three months ended December 31, 2004 compared to the full year and three months ended December 31, 2003 primarily due to well tie-ins and increased EnCana Corporation volumes on the Suffield system.

Operating and administrative expenses in the Gathering and Processing segment increased 25 percent to $93.3 million in 2004 and 32 percent to $26.7 million for the fourth quarter of 2004 compared to the same periods of 2003. The increases were primarily due to operating costs associated with the 2004 EEEP acquisition and acquisitions and expansions in the field gathering and processing component. Turnarounds at two major facilities in the current year and higher administrative costs as a result of growth in the business also contributed to the increase.

Amortization expense for the Gathering and Processing segment was higher for the year ended and three months ended December 31, 2004 compared to the same periods of 2003 primarily due to the Rainbow Lake and EEEP acquisitions and the capital invested in gathering and processing facility expansions.

ENERGY SERVICES

The Energy Services segment is comprised of the power services and gas services components. In this segment, the Trust also reports the results of the oil and gas production component. AltaGas is not in the business of exploration and development of natural gas reserves; however, associated with certain of its facility acquisitions, AltaGas has accumulated a portfolio of oil and natural gas reserves that it continues to hold and produce.

AltaGas has provided energy services since 1994. This low risk, fee for service business component was significantly expanded. The Trust completed two acquisitions in the Energy Services segment. On September 1, 2004 AltaGas entered into a ten year capital lease with Maxim Energy Group Ltd. for 25 megawatts of capacity generated by four gas fired peaking plants located in southern Alberta. The capital lease requires AltaGas to pay monthly variable operating and maintenance charges plus a capacity fee. AltaGas retains all of the ancillary service and peaking sales revenues. On October 6, 2004 when AltaGas acquired substantially all of the assets, including the company names, and liabilities of PremStar Energy Canada Ltd. and its subsidiaries ECNG Inc. and Energistics Group Inc (collectively PremStar). The purchase price of $20.5 million, before acquisition costs, was paid primarily by way of the issuance of 993,789 Trust units. PremStar is one of Canada's leading energy agency businesses, specializing in the procurement and supply of energy to end use customers across Canada. On a fee for service basis, PremStar provides energy supply, arranges for transportation services, and supports customers with valuable market information.

Revenue in the Energy Services segment increased 98 percent to $248.3 million in the fourth quarter of 2004 and 23 percent to $630.4 million for the full year 2004 when compared to the same periods of 2003. On a quarter over quarter basis key drivers for the increases were higher prices on hedged power volumes sold and the PremStar business acquired at the beginning of the quarter. On a year over year basis, volumes in the power component were higher primarily as a result of a full year of power sales from the Genesee energy contract which was entered into April 1, 2003.

The power services component generated net revenue of $47.9 million for the full year of 2004 compared to $41.0 million for 2003 and $13.2 million for the fourth quarter of 2004 compared to $11.2 for the same period in 2003. The drivers, similar to those for revenue, were higher prices on hedged volumes in the power component on a quarter over quarter basis and higher volumes sold on a year over year basis.

AltaGas manages its acquired power capacity to provide stable, predictable earnings and cash flows over time and does not engage in the speculative trading of power. AltaGas reduces its exposure to floating power prices by supplying its own operating electrical demand requirements and by using a balanced portfolio of contracts to lock in power margins to reduce pricing risk. The average price AltaGas received from power sales in the fourth quarter of 2004 was $50.17 per MWh compared to $47.10 per MWh in the fourth quarter of 2003 and $48.77 per MWh for the twelve months of 2004 compared to $47.56 per MWh for the same period in 2003. Average Alberta Power Pool spot prices were $54.95 per MWh and $54.78 per MWh in the fourth quarters of 2004 and 2003 respectively, and $54.54 per MWh and $62.98 per MWh in the twelve months of 2004 and 2003 respectively.

The gas services component contributed net revenue of $5.3 million for the full year 2004 compared to $0.7 million in 2003 and $4.0 million for the fourth quarter compared to $0.4 million in 2003. The significant increase in the fourth quarter resulted from the addition of PremStar. The PremStar energy supply and agency business is a people based business and carries a relatively high proportion of administrative expense which tempers its net revenue's impact on operating income. The increase in amortization expense in the segment for 2004 compared to 2003 is due to amortization of the PremStar contracts and relationships purchased.

Net additions to capital assets in the Energy Services segment were $15.1 million during 2004 compared to $2.5 million during 2003. The growth in capital assets relates mainly to the addition of the peaking plant capital lease.

NATURAL GAS DISTRIBUTION

The Natural Gas Distribution segment includes AltaGas Utilities Inc., AltaGas' one-third interest in Inuvik Gas Ltd. and its 24.9 percent interest in Heritage Gas Limited.

The natural gas distribution business is highly seasonal with the majority of natural gas deliveries occurring during the winter heating season. Gas sales during the winter typically account for approximately two-thirds of annual distribution net revenue, resulting in strong first and fourth quarter results and second and third quarters results that show either small profits or losses.

For the full year 2004, net revenue in AltaGas' Natural Gas Distribution segment was $30.7 million compared to $30.6 million for the same period in 2003. AUI generates the majority of net revenue for the segment. AUI's net revenue is unaffected by changes in the cost of gas as the actual cost is permitted, subject to approval by the Alberta Energy and Utilities Board (AEUB), to be passed through to supply customers. Net revenue growth from an increase in customers for the twelve months of 2004 was largely offset by the impact of the completion of negotiations on AUI's 2003 and 2004 general rate application. Lower than anticipated allowed rates of return on rate base and interest and operating expenses for 2003 resulted in a charge to net income of $0.5 million in 2004 related to previously recorded 2003 results.

In the fourth quarter of 2004, net revenue in AltaGas' Natural Gas Distribution segment was $9.7 million compared to $9.3 million for the same period in 2003. Increases from growth in the customer base were partially offset by weather in the AUI operating area for the fourth quarter 2004, as measured by heating degree days, that was 7.8 percent warmer than the fourth quarter of 2003,.

Higher operating and administrative expenses in this segment in 2004 were due to increases in the cost of insurance, pension costs and routine operating and maintenance activities.

In July 2004, the AEUB issued its Generic Cost of Capital decision confirming for AUI a capital structure at 41 percent equity and 59 percent debt and establishing the 2004 rate of return on common equity at 9.6 percent. In August 2004, the AEUB confirmed the AUI revenue requirements negotiated for 2003 and 2004. AUI filed an application to allocate costs of service to rate classes and the hearing on resulting rate design concluded on January 14, 2005. A decision is expected early in the second quarter of 2005. AUI filed a General Rate Application for 2005 and 2006 in the fourth quarter of 2004, and expects a hearing in mid 2005.

Heritage received approval of a final Schedule of Rates, Tolls and Charges by the Nova Scotia Utility and Review Board in June of 2004. This decision approved the requested 13.25 percent return on equity, a 45 percent equity and 55 percent debt capital structure, an 8.75 percent cost of debt, the capital expenditure and revenue requirements, and resultant tariff to 2008.

Heritage activated its Nova Scotia natural gas distribution system in late December 2003 and is in the initial stages of its planned growth. During 2004 Heritage had installed services to 180 customers and had activated service to approximately 140 customers increasing its rate base to $14.7 million. Heritage is focused on building momentum behind a consumer movement to switch heating fuel sources in Nova Scotia's market place. The company has achieved the 150 customer commitments which meet the economic feasibility and revenue requirement tests for expansion of natural gas service to the town of Amherst and expects that natural gas service will be available to Amherst in the fourth quarter of 2005.

Net additions to capital assets in the Natural Gas Distribution segment were $9.6 million during the year ended December 31, 2004 compared to $16.8 million for the same period in 2003. Included in 2003 net capital additions is an amount of $10.2 million related to the retirement of AUI's prior years' capital contributions in aid of construction. There is an equal and offsetting amount charged to accumulated amortization.
