ASX ANNOUNCEMENT AND MEDIA RELEASE

Hurricane Katrina

FAR has received a number of enquiries concerning Hurricane Katrina and the potential impact, if any, on its gulf coast activities.

Fortunately, at the time Katrina hit the region, FAR was not involved in any barge rig drilling or workover activity.

Reports are now filtering in from locations, and at this time, FAR is not aware of any damage to its facilities. A pumper has been out to Lake Long, which provides FAR's main revenue stream. All wells are back on line, however, barging of oil through the locks has been disrupted temporarily. Shipments are expected to resume shortly and in the interim oil will go to the tanks until capacity is reached.

Our operators have a number of personnel living in and around the New Orleans area and we are hopeful that they will be safe and able to overcome what must be extremely difficult conditions.
