Trans America Provides Update on Uranium Acquisition Program in Western U.S.

The company again wishes to provide an update of the progress of its uranium property acquisition program in the Western United States.

Trans America has allied itself with a group of U.S. mining professionals with extensive experience in uranium exploration, development and production who are carrying out the acquisition projects.. Under its agreement Trans America can earn a 50% interest in the properties acquired by funding the first US $1.25 million of the program.

Presently, the group is focused on seven different properties located in four Western U.S. states and has to date acquired some 41,500 acres of uranium prospective properties, (an increase from 35,500 acres reported September 7th, 2005). The acquisition program is continuing in each of the areas as additional regional work history is becoming available.

Geoffrey S. Carter, P.Eng a qualified person as described in National Policy Instrument 43-101 has reviewed this release and has authorized its publication.
