Friends Provident plc

DRAFT NEW TAX LEGISLATION - NO EXPECTED IMPACT

Following the publication by the HM Revenue & Customs (HMRC) of draft legislation affecting Life Companies for accounting periods ending after 29 September 2005, the proposed changes are not expected to increase the Friends Provident Group tax charge on an Achieved Profit or IFRS basis.

There is, therefore, not expected to be any impact on the Group's profits or embedded value as a consequence of these draft proposals.

Notwithstanding the fact that there is no expected impact on Friends Provident, we are disappointed with the way this draft legislation was introduced without consultation. Such an approach undermines the basis upon which the HMRC and the industry should work together to promote fairness in the taxation system.

We fully support the lobbying by the insurance industry for consultation.
