Subject: FJH strengthens sales department

Dear Mr. Gaebel,

Please find below the just published press release.

- Sales department moved to board level
- CEO Korff to head sales

Munich, November, 14 2005 – FJH AG (ISIN DE0005130108), the specialist insurance consultancy and software house listed in the German Prime Standard, shifts responsibility for sales to board level. To increase efficiency and keep costs at bay the department will be headed by CEO Ulrich Korff. He also holds responsible for the company's strategy, marketing and PR as well as revision. Responsibility for Human resources will move to CFO Sven-Roger von Schilling.

Under Korff's management all sales activities in Germany and abroad will be brought together. "A successful, efficient and international sales structure is of vital importance to FJH's further development. The new structures implemented so far have proved to be very strong. In order to strengthen these further the Supervisory Board followed the recommendation of the Board of Directors and decided to set up a sales department on board level", says Korff. "We have made important progress with our sales efforts over the last months. With the new structure we will be even more effective."
