Philips and InBev win PerfectDraft® court case

Brussels, Amsterdam, December 1st, 2005

Today, the judge in interlocutory proceedings of the Court of The Hague dismissed Heineken's request that sales of the PerfectDraft® in The Netherlands be discontinued.

The judge's preliminary ruling states that the PerfectDraft® from Philips and InBev does not infringe any Heineken patent.

Philips and InBev are of course delighted with the ruling, which is entirely in line with their expectations. The two companies are confident the ruling in the proceedings on the merits of the case will confirm this initial ruling.

PerfectDraft®, the home beer tap from Philips and InBev that lets consumers enjoy the delicious taste of their favorite beer straight from the tap, is available in The Netherlands, Belgium, Germany and Luxembourg. In The Netherlands, the beer brands Hertog Jan, Dommelsch, Jupiler, Grolsch and Bavaria are available in kegs for the PerfectDraft® system.

Press Release

Brussels, November 30, 2005 - 1/1

InBev announces intention to restructure Belgian organization

InBev Belgium, a subsidiary of InBev (Euronext: INB), today announced the conclusions of its study into the efficiency of its activities and processes, resulting in the intention to restructure its organization.

The study aimed at identifying ways to optimize InBev Belgium's activities. The study concludes that three types of activities would be subject to restructuring: production and logistics, marketing/sales/distribution and the supporting services. The changes under consideration are designed to result in a stronger focus on the core activities, and also in cost savings, which would in turn result in added value, quicker decision-making and improvements to efficiency, service and quality.

The proposed changes would have consequences for employment at InBev Belgium. Today, the concerned works councils have been informed of the changes under consideration and the possible impact on employment. In total a maximum of 232 employees would be involved in a redundancy procedure out of a total of 2898 InBev Belgium employees. However, InBev Belgium expects to be able to avoid at least 67 redundancies by transferring employees to functions within the new organizational structure.

Based on the conclusions of the study, InBev Belgium is starting today the information and consultation procedure with the works councils. After this consultation, a definitive decision will be taken and at the same time the final organizational and financial impact will be announced.
