Re: Re: Securitas AB (the "Company") -- Information Furnished Pursuant to Rule 12g3-2(b) Under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (File No. 82-34719)

Ladies and Gentlemen:

Enclosed herewith is information to be furnished to the Securities and Exchange Commission pursuant to subparagraph (1)(iii) of Rule 12g3-2(b) (the "Rule") under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (the "Exchange Act"). In accordance with subparagraphs (4) and (5) of the Rule, the information and document furnished herewith are being furnished with the understanding that they shall not be deemed "filed" with the Commission or otherwise subject to the liabilities of Section 18 of the Exchange Act, and that neither this letter nor the furnishing of such information or document pursuant to the Rule shall constitute an admission for any purpose that the Company is subject to the Exchange Act.

In the event that any questions should arise in connection with this matter, please contact the undersigned at (212) 632-5536. Please have the enclosed copy of this letter date stamped and returned in the enclosed envelope.

Best regards,

Pierre J. Lorieau

Press Release from Securitas AB

December 14, 2005

Securitas protected by US SAFETY Act

Securitas Security Services USA has received from the Department of Homeland Security the highest level of protection afforded by the SAFETY Act. The SAFETY Act (Support Anti-terrorism by Fostering Effective Technologies Act) provides a system of risk and liability management benefits to providers of anti-terrorism products and services.

Among other benefits, this protection provides Securitas with third-party liability immunity from claims arising from acts of terrorism within the United States. This protection will also extend to Securitas' subcontractors, and, more importantly, to its clients, thereby giving Securitas' clients the SAFETY Act protection from expensive and disastrous third-party liability.

Don Walker, chairman of Security Services USA, stated, "We are very pleased to receive this approval which follows an extensive review by the Department of Homeland Security of the service standards adopted and followed by our company. We are especially pleased that this approval enables us to provide a valuable benefit to our clients, as the liability protection provided by this award flows through to them."
