Omchak Joint Venture Dividend Received

Peter Hambro Mining plc ("PHM") announces that the Omchak Joint Venture ("Omchak JV" or the "JV") has received a cash dividend from the companies constituting the assets of the JV in an amount sufficient for PHM's interest in the joint venture to revert back to 50%. The terms of the joint venture agreement provide for PHM's equity interest in the joint venture to increase if the agreed level of dividends is not received for the relevant 12 month period. The cash payment in respect of dividends during 2003 and 2004 was not received and PHM's holding in Omchak had consequently temporarily increased to 65% from April 2004. As outlined in the 2004 Annual Report and September 2005 interim results, receipt of the dividend lowers PHM's 2005 attributable production forecast by approximately twenty five thousand ounces.

Omchak JV

Omchak JV was formed in July 2003 with PHM contributing US$7.2 million in cash and the Russian participants contributing their controlling stakes in two operating gold mines in the Magadan region. In addition to such contribution, the Russian participants guaranteed a minimum aggregate dividend flow to the joint venture for 5 years of US$7.2 million with a specific level agreed for each year from each of the assets. Under the terms of the joint venture agreement, if such dividend level is not maintained in any one year, PHM's interest in the joint venture increases proportionately and reverts if the dividend arrears are paid within the next year. In the absence of a dividend payment for 2003 and 2004, PHM's interest had risen to 65% and was expected to rise again in 2005 if no dividend was to be paid. As a result of today's payment PHM's equity interest in the Omchak JV returns to its original 50%. The net effect of this payment and movement in ownership on the financial accounts of PHM, for the period since the JV was formed, is not material since the JV is accounted for in consolidation.

PHM Group Attributable Production Forecast

Following the cash receipt, PHM's interest in the Omchak JV will not increase beyond 65% during 2005. The 2005 accounts will equity account for 65% to 19 December 2005 and 50% from this date to the year end. As previously identified as a consequence of the receipt of the dividend, the result is an approximate 25,000 ounces reduction of PHM's 2005 attributable production forecast to 246,000 ounces. PHM expects to report a 2005 attributable production figure with the 2005 Group Trading Statement at the end of January 2006.
