J:COM to Refinance Existing Debt Through New Syndicated Loan

Tokyo, Japan -- Jupiter Telecommunications Co., Ltd. (J:COM, JASDAQ code: 4817), the largest multiple system operator (MSO) in Japan based on the number of customers served, announced today the execution of a new 155 billion Yen syndicated loan facility agreement among J:COM and a consortium of eight banks led by The Bank of Tokyo-Mitsubishi, Ltd., Mizuho Corporate Bank, Ltd. and Sumitomo Mitsui Banking Corporation.

The proceeds of this syndicated loan will be used to repay, in full, the outstanding secured syndicated loans of J:COM and its subsidiaries. The new loan will be unsecured and the terms, including applicable interest rates, are more favorable for J:COM.

“J:COM’s improved business performance and the advantageous market opportunities in front of us enabled us to enter into this new syndicated loan agreement under the terms that are more attractive to J:COM’s financial objectives,” said Tomoyuki Moriizumi, CEO of J:COM.

Details of New Syndicated Loans

Drawdown Date:	December 21, 2005

J:COM PHONE TELEPHONY SERVICE TOPS 1 MILLION SUBSCRIBERS

50 Percent Penetration of J:COM PHONE Marks Milestone for J:COM Bundled Package

Tokyo, Japan -- Jupiter Telecommunications Co., Ltd. (J:COM, JASDAQ code: 4817), the largest multiple system operator (MSO) in Japan based on the number of customers served, announced in a preliminary report that subscribers to its J:COM PHONE primary telephony service have exceeded the 1 million household mark as of mid-December. J:COM PHONE is a telephony service that enables subscribers to keep their existing phone numbers without any changes, as well as providing access to public emergency hotline services in Japan. J:COM PHONE's monthly basic fee of JPY 1,330 for its telephony services is less expensive than competitor rates, and the strong value perception with consumers combined with J:COM's bundling strategies have all contributed to boosting J:COM PHONE telephony subscriber numbers.

J:COM began providing fixed telephony service in 1997, and has regularly expanded its service area since then with impressive growth rates to accompany that expansion. Specific J:COM systems are prime examples of how the company has reached the telephony milestone. After launching J:COM PHONE services in April of this year, J:COM Sapporo increased its telephony subscriptions to 15,000 households in seven months. Also, J:COM Higashi Kanto in the Chiba prefecture has J:COM PHONE penetration rates over 20%. J:COM is the only fixed line telephony service provider that has its own access lines and so-called "last mile" connectivity, second only to that of the NTT Group in Japan.

"Among the three services J:COM provides, J:COM PHONE is the most rapidly growing with a 66.9 percent compound growth rate in the period of 2001 – 2004," said Tomoyuki Morizumi, President and CEO of J:COM. "J:COM's commitment to continually provide high-quality information and entertainment services and to further increase levels of customer satisfaction is evident in the growth of our telephony product and of the J:COM bundle overall. We are very pleased to have reached this milestone, and we look forward to the next one."

In February 2005, J:COM introduced the "Toku-Toku Talk" service, providing subscribers with up to JPY 10,000 per month in free telephone calls between subscribers and a flat rate for other popular telephony services. An abundant lineup of optional services is attracting consumers to J:COM PHONE's offerings, including the popular call waiting "catch call" service, telephone number display and others. J:COM's community-oriented approach to sales has also contributed to product adoption rates on a local basis, with the J:COM staff of representatives able to explain the advantages directly to customers.

Next spring, J:COM plans to add mobile services to its existing "Triple Play" lineup with a new service package internally dubbed the "Grand Slam," also referred to as a quadruple play package. The addition of a wireless component to the J:COM package of offerings will represent the genuine integration of J:COM's fixed and mobile telecommunication services.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

J:COM to Manage Sakura Cable TV in Tokyo

Jupiter Telecommunications to Acquire Shares of Sakura Cable TV

Tokyo, Japan -- Jupiter Telecommunications Co., Ltd. (J:COM, JASDAQ code: 4817), the largest multiple system operator (MSO) in Japan based on the number of customers served, announced its basic agreement with the administration of Sumida Ward, Tokyo, the largest shareholder of Sakura Cable TV Co., Ltd. (Sakura Cable TV) and Sakura Cable TV regarding the transfer of certain shares of Sakura Cable TV. According to a memorandum of understanding entered into among J:COM, Sumida Ward and Sakura Cable TV today, the majority of the shares of Sakura Cable TV owned by the Sumida Ward will be transferred to J:COM, subject to approval at the March 2006 Sumida Ward Council meeting. By acquiring the majority of the 7,300 ordinary shares (representing 46.3% of the total voting rights) and 600 preferred shares owned by Sumida Ward, J:COM will become the largest shareholder of Sakura Cable TV. At the same time, J:COM is also considering the purchase of certain shares held by other shareholders in order to acquire the majority of the voting rights and to participate in the management of Sakura Cable TV.

Sakura Cable TV currently provides services in the Sumida Ward, in the eastern part of the city of Tokyo, and its service areas currently pass approximately 105,000 serviceable households, or "homes passed".

"As one of the core components of our growth strategy, J:COM has been actively pursuing additional investment in strategic assets, including in other cable television operators," said Tomoyuki Moriizumi, President & CEO of J:COM. "While its service area is geographically separate from J:COM's current footprint, the investment in Sakura Cable TV is advantageous for J:COM because of the area's high population density and the availability of the fully-upgraded cable network. With a relatively small additional investment, we expect to expand our reach and to grow subscriber totals in the area."

Once J:COM's share acquisition has been approved and completed, J:COM plans to leverage its sales and product strengths to provide customers with a variety of service options. "We are hoping to increase Sakura Cable TV's multichannel penetration rate from its current 11 percent to our average of around 25 percent penetration," continued Moriizumi. J:COM also plans to introduce new services and options not currently offered by Sakura Cable, such as primary telephony service, Video On Demand (VOD) and the previously announced mobile phone services.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Jupiter Telecommunications to Acquire Majority Stake in Kansai Multimedia

Tokyo, Japan -- Jupiter Telecommunications Co., Ltd. (J:COM, JASDAQ code: 4817), the largest multiple system operator (MSO) in Japan based on the number of customers served, announced today that it will acquire a majority stake in Kansai Multimedia Service Company (KMS), a cable Internet service provider based in Osaka. The transaction will take effect January 6, 2006, when J:COM will acquire a total of 14,900 shares (37.25% of the 40,000 total outstanding shares) of KMS from the Kansai Electric Power Group and Sumitomo Corporation. After the transfer of these shares, J:COM's stake in KMS will increase from 25.75% to 63.00%, making the company a consolidated subsidiary of J:COM.

Founded in 1998 with Kansai Electric Power Co., Ltd., Matsushita Electric Industrial Co., Ltd., Sumitomo Corporation and J:COM as the major shareholders, KMS provides cable Internet services in partnership with local cable operators in the Kansai region under the ZAQ brand name, which it will retain after the transaction with J:COM is completed. After the transaction is completed, the Kansai Electric Power Group and Matsushita Electric Industrial will continue to be involved in the management of KMS as shareholders having a 20.00% and 10.00% stake in the company respectively.

J:COM's cable systems provide high-speed Internet access services together with KMS in the Kansai region and with @NetHome Co., Ltd., a wholly-owned subsidiary of J:COM, in other regions.

"With KMS as a consolidated subsidiary of J:COM, we will be able to take advantage of the synergies created by having two major cable ISPs as part of the J:COM group," said Tomoyuki

Moriizumi, President and CEO of J:COM. "This will allow us to pursue operational synergies through joint effort by those two companies for content development, backbone procurement and the launch of new businesses." (LaRae: We put this sentence back in here to keep consistency with the J release.)
