INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

I have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of House of Avery, Limited as of December 31, 2004, and the related statements of income, changes in stockholder equity, and cash flows for the year then ended that you are filing pursuant to rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. My responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on my audit.

I conducted my audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that I plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. I believe that my audit provides a reasonable basis for my opinion.

In my opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of House of Avery, Limited as of December 31, 2004, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

My audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The supplementary information contained in Schedule 1 is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by rule 17a-5 under the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in my opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

HOUSE OF AVERY, LIMITED

NOTE A—SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES.

Nature of Operations. The Company is a Colorado corporation and is a member of the National Association of Securities Dealers (NASD). Both the NASD and the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) promulgate rules and regulations which the Company must comply with.

The Company does not carry or maintain customers accounts since it operates as an "introducing " broker and acts only as a selling agent, i.e., it does not hold funds or securities for, or owe money or securities to customers. Rather the correspondent or clearing broker is responsible for complying with all regulatory requirements related to the carrying and maintenance of customers accounts. The correspondent-clearing broker carries these customers' accounts on a fully disclosed basis. Accordingly, the Company is exempt from the reserve requirements of the Customer Protection Rule, SEC Rule 15c3-3 as provided therein.

Pursuant to SEC regulations, a copy of the Report on Internal Control is available at the principal office of the SEC in Washington, D.C., and at the SEC Central Regional Office located at 1801 California Street, Suite 1500, Denver, CO 80202-2656

Use of Estimates in Preparation of Financial Statements. The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at December 31, 2004 and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses for the year then ended. Actual results could differ from these estimates.

Investment Account Marketable Securities. Marketable securities which consist of equity securities are carried at market value, and unrealized gains or (losses) are included in income when incurred.

Commissions and Dividends are recognized on a settlement date basis.

Income Taxes. The Company has elected to be taxed under Subchapter S of the Internal Revenue Code. Subchapter S provides that income of the Company be taxed directly to the shareholders. Accordingly, no provision or liability for income taxes has been provided for in these financial statements.

HOUSE OF AVERY, LIMITED

NOTE B—CONTINGENCIES

Concentration of Marketable Securities

The Company is vulnerable to the risk of a possible near-term severe impact caused by a decline in market prices. Vulnerability from concentrations in its investment account of equity marketable securities exposes the Company to risk of losses greater than it would have had it mitigated this risk through greater diversification. At December 31, 2004, two equity investments with market values of $19,236 and $44,416 respectively had a combined market value of $63,652 which accounted for greater than 58% of the total investment of marketable securities reported in the statement of financial condition in the amount of $108,421.

NOTE C—NET CAPITAL REQUIREMENTS.

The Company is subject to the Securities and Exchange Commission Net Capital Rule (SEC Rule 15c3-1). As provided in this rule, the Company must maintain net capital of not less than $5,000. At December 31, 2004, the Company had net capital of $15,562 which was $10,562 in excess of its required net capital.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON INTERNAL CONTROL REQUIRED BY SEC RULE 17a-5

In planning and performing my audit of the financial statements and supplemental schedule of House of Avery, Limited for the year ended December 31, 2004, I considered its internal control in order to determine my auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing my opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on internal control.

Also, as required by rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), I have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company including tests of such practices and procedures that I considered relevant to the objectives stated in rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computation of aggregate indebtedness and net capital under rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, I did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications and comparisons
2. Recordation of differences required by rule 17a-13
3. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under section 8 of Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgements by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition, and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control or the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate. My consideration of internal control would not necessarily disclose all matters in internal control that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that error or fraud in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions.

CRAIG A. ERICKSON, CPA, PC.
7151 S. Lewis St., Littleton, CO 80127 (303) 979-0031

However, I noted the following matters involving the control environment, accounting system, control activities and their operation that I consider to be material weaknesses as defined above. These conditions were considered in determining the nature, timing, and extent of the procedures to be performed in my audit of the financial statements of House of Avery, Limited for the year ended December 31, 2004, and this report does not affect my report thereon dated February 17, 2005;

The Company is a "small business", and has the following primary characteristics:

- 1. Concentration of operational control and ownership in one individual*
- 2. No segregation of duties and functions within the computerized accounting system;*

The Company has one employee, and in this circumstance it is impossible to spread incompatible duties among different employees. The only employee is an officer, sole shareholder, Company bookkeeper, and financial and operational principal.

I understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on my study, I believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2004, to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of management, the SEC, NASD, and other regulatory agencies that rely on rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
