Report of Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm

Board of Directors
Great American Advisors, Inc.

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of Great American Advisors, Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary of Great American Financial Resources, Inc., as of December 31, 2004, and the related statements of operations, changes in stockholder's equity, and cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes consideration of internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, and evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company at December 31, 2004, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information contained in the supplemental schedule is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

GREAT AMERICAN ADVISORS, INC.

Notes to the Financial Statements

December 31, 2004

A. Description of Company

Great American Advisors, Inc. (the "Company"), an Ohio corporation, was formed on December 10, 1993, as a wholly owned subsidiary of Great American Financial Resources, Inc. ("GFR"). GFR is an indirect subsidiary of American Financial Group, Inc. ("AFG"). At December 31, 2004, AFG and its subsidiaries owned 83% of GFR's common stock.

The Company was initially capitalized in March 1994, and was admitted to the National Association of Securities Dealers ("NASD") in July 1994, and the Securities Investor Protection Corporation ("SIPC") in September 1995. The Company became an introducing broker/dealer in December 1995 and clears customer transactions on a fully disclosed basis through Pershing LLC. Pershing LLC is a member of BNY Securities Group and a subsidiary of The Bank of New York.

B. Significant Accounting Policies

Security transactions and related revenues and expenses are recorded in the accounts on the trade date.

The Company has capitalized the cost of software that has been developed to facilitate the broker/dealer business. This cost is reported net of accumulated amortization. Software is amortized on a straight-line basis over its estimated useful life of 36 months.

Computer equipment and furniture and fixtures are depreciated on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives. The useful lives range from 18 to 36 months.

The Company occasionally takes ownership of investment securities due to the failure to pay by a customer or an error in consummating customer trades. Securities owned as a result of such occurrences are valued at market with any unrealized gains and losses included in income as a component of commission revenues.

Short-term investments having original maturities of three months or less when purchased are considered to be cash equivalents for purposes of the financial statements.

The preparation of the financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the financial statements and accompanying notes. Changes in circumstances could cause actual results to differ materially from those estimates.

C. Net Capital Requirements

The Company is subject to Securities and Exchange Commission Uniform Net Capital Rule 15c3-1, which includes minimum net capital requirements, limits on aggregate indebtedness, and limits the amount of debt a broker/dealer may have as a percentage of its total capital.

Currently, the minimum net capital required is 6 2/3% of aggregate indebtedness or $250,000, whichever is greater. A broker/dealer must not allow its aggregate indebtedness to exceed 1500% of its net capital. At December 31, 2004, the Company had net capital of $518,660, which was $268,659 in excess of its required minimum net capital of $250,000. The Company's ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital was 146%.

D. Transactions with Affiliates and Other Related Parties

The Company serves as sole underwriter for variable annuity contracts sold by an affiliated life insurance company. Included in commission income is $5,496,286 of commissions received from the life insurer for sales of variable annuities, 42% of which were paid to other broker/dealers as commission. The Company also sells fixed annuity policies provided by affiliated life insurance companies. During 2004, the Company received commissions of $185,699 on the sale of these policies.

The Company is charged for voice and Information Technology services from AFG monthly. These charges represent normal maintenance costs for the related services. These charges amounted to $62,499 for 2004.

E. Income Taxes

The Company is included in AFG's consolidated federal income tax return. Under a tax allocation agreement with AFG, the Company computes its income taxes at the statutory rate of 35%. A tax receivable of $79,600 is due from AFG as of December 31, 2004 and it has been included as a component of payable to affiliates, net.

F. Exemption from Rule 15c3-3

The Company carries no customer accounts and promptly transmits all customer funds and securities to its clearing broker. Accordingly, the Company is exempt from the provisions of Rule 15c3-3 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

G. Commitments and Contingencies

In the normal course of business the Company is a party to certain legal matters. During 2004, the Company incurred $50,844 for the resolution of such matters.

In 2003, the NASD issued Special Notice to Members 03-47 (Notice 03-47). This notice required members to make refunds to customers who did not receive appropriate breakpoint discounts in connection with the purchase of Class A shares of front-end load mutual funds. This notice also outlined the capital treatment of the refund liability. Pursuant to Notice 03-47, the Company maintains a reserve for these refunds in the amount of $10,000 as of December 31, 2004.

Supplementary Report of Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm

Supplementary Report of Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm on Internal Control

Board of Directors
Great American Advisors, Inc.

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements and supplemental schedule of Great American Advisors, Inc. (the "Company") for the year ended December 31, 2004, we considered its internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on internal control.

Also, as required by rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company, including tests of compliance with such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the criteria stated in rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness and net capital under rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications and comparisons
2. Recordation of differences required by rule 17a-13
3. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of internal controls and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned criteria. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition, and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional criteria of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in any internal control or the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of internal control to future periods is subject to the risk that internal control may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of its design and operation may deteriorate.

Our consideration of internal control would not necessarily disclose all matters in internal control that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the specific internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that errors or fraud in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that meet the criteria referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not meet such criteria in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2004, to meet the SEC's criteria.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Board of Directors, management, the SEC, the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc., and other regulatory agencies that rely on rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
