INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Board of Directors
Rance King Securities Corporation
Long Beach, California

We have audited the accompanying statements of financial condition of Rance King Securities Corporation as of January 31, 2005 and 2004, and the related statements of income, changes in stockholder's equity, and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audits to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Rance King Securities Corporation as of January 31, 2005 and 2004, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audits were made for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information contained on pages 9 through 13 is presented for the purpose of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by Rule 17a-5 of the Securities and Exchange Commission. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial requirements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

January 31, 2005 and 2004

Note 1 - Summary Of Significant Accounting Policies

Nature of Business

The Company is a registered broker-dealer incorporated under the laws of the State of California maintaining its principal and only active office in Long Beach, California. Operations are pursuant to the (K)(2)(i) exemptive provision of SEC Rule 15c 3-3 and does not hold customer funds or securities. The business consists of the wholesaling and retailing of direct participation programs.

Method of Accounting

The Company maintains its books and records on the accrual basis of accounting.

Cash and cash equivalents

For purposes of the statements of cash flows, all highly liquid debt instruments purchased with a maturity of three months or less are considered to be cash equivalents.

Income Taxes

The provision for taxes and related asset or liability includes Federal and State of California income taxes.

Financial statement estimates and assumptions

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures. Accordingly, actual results could differ from these estimates.

Property and equipment

Property and equipment are stated at cost. The cost of property and equipment is depreciated over the estimated useful lives of the related assets. Depreciation is computed on the accelerated method for both financial reporting and income tax purposes. Expenditures for repairs and maintenance are charged to expense as incurred. The Company has elected to capitalize all property and equipment expenditures greater than $1,000.

Depreciation expense for the years ended January 31, 2005 and 2004 was $1,361 and $820, respectively.

RANCE KING SECURITIES CORPORATION

Board of Directors
Rance King Securities Corporation
Long Beach, California

We have audited the financial statements of Rance King Securities Corporation, for the years ended January 31, 2005 and 2004 and have issued our report thereon dated March 2, 2005. As part of our audit, we made a study and evaluation of the Company's system of internal accounting control to the extent we considered necessary to evaluate the system as required by auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and Rule 17a-5 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. This study and evaluation include the accounting system, the procedures for safeguarding securities, and the practices and procedures followed by the Company in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness and net capital under Rule 17a-3 (a) (11) and the reserve required by Rule 15c 3-3(3). Rule 17a-5 states that the scope of the study and evaluation should be sufficient to provide reasonable assurance that any material weakness existing at the date of our examination would be disclosed. The purposes of our study and evaluation were to determine the nature, timing and extent of the auditing procedures necessary for expressing an opinion on the Company's financial statements and to provide a basis for reporting material weaknesses in internal accounting control under Rule 17a-5 and, with respect to Rule 15c 3-3, to provide reasonable assurance of compliance, in all material respects, with the possession and control requirements of that Rule. Our study and evaluation was more limited than would be necessary to express an opinion on the system of internal accounting control taken as a whole.

The management of Rance King Securities Corporation is responsible for establishing and maintaining a system of internal accounting control. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of control procedures. The objectives of a system are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition, and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Because of inherent limitations in any system of internal accounting control, errors or irregularities may nevertheless occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of the system of internal accounting control to future periods is subject to the risk that the procedures may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the degree of compliance with the procedures may deteriorate.

Our study and evaluation of the system of internal accounting control for the years ended January 31, 2005 and 2004 which was made for the purposes set forth in the first paragraph above and would not necessarily disclose all weaknesses in the system that may have existed during the period, disclosed the following condition:

The size of the business necessarily imposes practical limitations on the effectiveness of those internal accounting control procedures that depend on the segregation of duties. The specific weaknesses are that the same person is performing the tasks of signing checks and reconciling the bank account. Ideal internal accounting control procedures would be that these tasks be performed by different people. Since this condition is inherent in the size of the Company, no corrective action has been taken or proposed by the Company.

The foregoing conditions as considered in determining the nature, timing, and extent of the audit tests to be applied in our audit of the January 31, 2005 and 2004 financial statements, and this report does not affect our report on those financial statements dated March 2, 2005.

This report is intended solely for the use of management and the Securities and Exchange Commission and should not be used for any other purpose.
