Report of Independent Auditors

To the Board of Directors and Stockholder of Dow Jones BD Services, Inc.

In our opinion, the accompanying statement of financial condition and the related statements of income, changes in stockholder's equity and cash flows present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Dow Jones BD Services, Inc. at December 31, 2004, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year ended December 31, 2004 in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management; our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit of these statements in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America which require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, and evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information contained in the Schedule on page 8 is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by Rule 17a-5 under the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

Supplemental disclosure of noncash activities:

The net income and operating activities of Dow Jones BD Services, Inc. are noncash as all cash is collected, disbursed and retained by Dow Jones & Company, Inc. (Note 5).

The accompanying notes are an integral part of the financial statements.

1. Organization

Dow Jones BD Services, Inc. (the "Company") is a wholly owned subsidiary of Dow Jones & Company, Inc. (the "Parent"), a Delaware corporation.

On December 19, 1997, the Company was registered as a broker/dealer in securities under the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934. The Company is also an associate member of the National Association of Securities Dealers.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Revenues, which are recognized on an accrual basis, represent royalty fees earned under license agreements between the Parent and third parties that are attributed to and recorded by the Company due to their transaction-based nature pursuant to regulatory requirements (Note 5). These include fees based on the number of contracts traded on an exchange and fees based on the notional value of structured products issued by the Company's licensees.

Royalties represent expenses under a contract with the American Stock Exchange and are recognized on an accrual basis (Note 4).

The Company's cash is on deposit with one financial institution.

3. Regulatory Requirements

The Company is subject to the Securities and Exchange Commission's Uniform Net Capital Rule 15c3-1 which requires that net capital, as defined, shall be at least the greater of $5,000 or 6-2/3% of aggregate indebtedness, as defined. At December 31, 2004, the Company had net capital of $30,000 as calculated under the aforementioned rules, which exceeded minimum capital requirements of $5,000 by $25,000.

The Company is exempt from Rule 15c3-3 because it does not hold customer funds or securities.

Dow Jones BD Services, Inc.
Notes to Financial Statements
December 31, 2004

4. Royalties

The Parent had an exclusive contract with the American Stock Exchange (“AMEX”) to list Diamonds, a fund that replicates the performance of the Dow Jones Industrial Average, on AMEX. In mid-2000, AMEX gave up this exclusive right in exchange for a 50% royalty of all cross-listed revenues the Parent earns by listing Diamonds on other exchanges. Diamonds is now listed on the following exchanges:

Boston Stock Exchange
Chicago Stock Exchange
Cincinnati Stock Exchange
NASDAQ
New York Stock Exchange (“NYSE”)
Philadelphia Stock Exchange

There are annual minimum amounts that these exchanges pay to the Parent for the right to list Diamonds. These amounts are not considered transaction-based, and therefore are not recorded by the Company, but are instead recorded by the Parent. Any revenues above these minimum amounts are transaction-based, and are recorded as the Company’s revenues. The Company records a royalty expense that equals 50% of these revenues, which is paid to AMEX. Only NYSE and Cincinnati Stock Exchange have generated revenues over the minimum amounts in 2004.

5. Related Party Transactions

All billings and collections and cash disbursements are performed by the Parent, and the Parent retains the related net cash. Due from Parent consists of royalty fees billed and accrued by the Parent less royalties and income tax expense attributed to the Company, as well as allocations of general and administrative expenses for professional fees and accounting support provided to the Company by the Parent.

6. Income Taxes

The Company is a member of a consolidated return group that includes Dow Jones (the Company’s immediate parent) and other subsidiaries of Dow Jones. The Company has prepared its tax provision on the basis of its contribution to the overall tax exposure of the consolidated group. The following represents the provision for income taxes and is an allocation by the parent based on the results of the Company:

Current
Federal	$ 1,257,658
State	111,133
	$ 1,368,791

The principal reason for the difference between the Company’s effective tax rate and the statutory Federal income tax rate is state income taxes.

To the Board of Directors and Stockholders of Dow Jones BD Services, Inc.:

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements and supplemental schedule of Dow Jones BD Services, Inc. (the "Company") for the year ended December 31, 2004, we considered its internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on internal controls.

Also, as required by Rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC"), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company, including tests of compliance with such practices and procedures, that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in Rule 17a-5(g), in the following:

1. Making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a)(11); and
2. Determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of Rule 15c3-3.

Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

1. Making the quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons, and the recordation of differences required by Rule 17a-13;
2. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System; and
3. Obtaining and maintaining physical possession or control of all fully paid and excess margin securities of customers as required by Rule 15c3-3;

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of control and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph, and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition, and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control or the practices and procedures referred to above, errors or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of internal control to future periods is subject to the risk that controls may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

Our consideration of internal control would not necessarily disclose all matters in internal control that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the specific internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that error or fraud in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2004 to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Board of Directors, management, the SEC, the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. ("NASD"), and other regulatory agencies that rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
