INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the Board of Directors of
GEM Advisors, Inc.

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of GEM Advisors, Inc. as of December 31, 2005, and the related statements of income, changes in stockholders' equity, changes in liabilities subordinated to claims of general creditors, and cash flows for the year then ended that you are filing pursuant to rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of GEM Advisors, Inc. as of December 31, 2005, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information contained in Schedules I and II (including information relating to the possession or control requirements), is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

GEM ADVISORS, INC.
Notes to Financial Statements
December 31, 2005

1. ORGANIZATION

GEM Advisors, Inc. ("the Company") is a New York corporation that is a registered broker dealer with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") and The National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. ("NASD"). The Company is a wholly-owned subsidiary of GEM Investment Management, Ltd. ("GEMIM"). The Company, which has agreed to limit its business to corporate finance and investment banking activities, is directly affected by general economic and market conditions, including fluctuations in volume and price level of securities and changes in interest rates, which have an impact on the Company's liquidity.

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Revenue Recognition - Fees for consulting services are recorded when earned. Fees for private placement services are recorded when the transaction is completed. Expenses are recorded when incurred.

Depreciation - Fixed asset purchases are stated at cost and are depreciated on a straight line basis over their estimated useful lives. At December 31, 2005, computer equipment of $4,874 had been fully depreciated but remained in service.

Translation of Foreign Currencies - The Company maintains bank deposits denominated in foreign currencies. These accounts are translated at year-end rates of exchange. Transactions completed in foreign currencies are translated at the exchange rate when the transaction was completed and the foreign currency was exchanged to US dollars. Gains or losses resulting from foreign currency transactions are included in net income.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments - Substantially all of the Company's financial assets and liabilities are carried at market value or at amounts which because of the short-term nature of the financial instruments, approximate current fair value.

Cash and cash equivalents - The Company includes as cash and cash equivalents amounts invested in money market funds and bank deposits denominated in foreign currencies.

Use of Estimates - The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principals requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results may differ from those estimates and assumptions.

GEM ADVISORS, INC.
Notes to Financial Statements (Continued)

3. INCOME TAXES

For federal income tax purposes, the Company has available unused net operating loss carryforwards of $794,770 that may be applied against future taxable income. The expiration dates and amounts are as follows:

Expiration Date	Amount
2011	$ 36,459
2012	38,199
2013	459,617
2014	150,034
2015	21,958
2016	15,040
2017	35,334
2018	17,711
2019	20,418

The Company does not recognize a deferred tax asset for the future benefit of the net operating loss carryforwards due to the uncertainty of future profits.

4. CONCENTRATION OF CREDIT RISK

The Company maintains its cash in bank deposit accounts, which at times, may exceed federally insured limits. The Company has not experienced any losses in such accounts. The Company believes it is not exposed to any significant credit risk on cash.

5. CONCENTRATION OF REVENUES

The Company performs corporate finance and investment banking activities. These activities generally involve a limited number of clients and transactions that have varying realization periods and result in fluctuating revenues.

6. NET CAPITAL REQUIREMENTS

Pursuant to the net capital provisions of the SEC, the Company is required to maintain a minimum net capital as defined under such provisions. Net capital and the related net capital ratio may fluctuate on a daily basis. At December 31, 2005 the Company had net capital and net capital requirements of $29,856 and $5,000 respectively. The Company's net capital ratio was .17 to 1.

7. COMPUTATION FOR DETERMINATION OF RESERVE REQUIREMENTS

The Company will operate in accordance with the exemptive provisions of paragraph (k)(2)(ii) of SEC Rule 15c3-3. The Company does not carry security accounts for customers.

Board of Directors
GEM Advisors, Inc.

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements and supplemental schedules of Gem Advisors, Inc. (the Company) for the year ended December 31, 2005 we considered its internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control.

Also, as required by Rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities Exchange Commission (SEC) we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company including tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in Rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of Rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

- 1) Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons.
- 2) Recordation of differences required by Rule 17a-13.
- 3) Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control or the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

Our consideration of internal control would not necessarily disclose all matters in internal control that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that error or fraud in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2005, to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Board of Directors, management, the SEC, the NASD Regulation, Inc., and other regulatory agencies that rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
