NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

MERIDIAN INVESTMENTS, INC.
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
For the Years Ended December 31, 2005 and 2004

NOTE 1 - SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

A. GENERAL INFORMATION

Meridian Investments, Inc. is a Massachusetts corporation formed in December 1981 with office locations in Massachusetts and Maryland. The Company is a securities broker-dealer firm, registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) and securities regulatory commissions in various states and Washington D.C. It is a member of the National Association of Securities Dealers (NASD) and the Securities Investor Protection Corporation (SIPC). The Company is primarily involved in placing tax advantaged investments in affordable housing limited partnerships.

On December 28, 2000, the existing shareholders of the Company exchanged their respective shares of common stock for shares of beneficial interest in Meridian Investment Properties Trust, a Massachusetts Business Trust, electing to be taxed as a qualified subchapter S trust under the Internal Revenue Code. This exchange caused the company to become the wholly owned subsidiary of the trust. Generally accepted accounting principles requires the consolidation of the separate financial statements of the parent and subsidiary into one presentation. Substantially all of the activity, except for the payment of state income taxes, is carried on by the subsidiary. On December 29, 2003, the shareholders of the qualified subchapter S trust voted and approved to dissolve the trust.

On January 1, 2004, the trustees of the parent, Meridian Investment Properties Trust, voted to liquidate the trust in accordance with the adopted plan of liquidation dated December 29, 2003, qualifying as a tax-free Type "F" reorganization in accordance with the Internal Revenue Code. Under the adopted plan of liquidation, all rights and responsibilities to the assets and for the liabilities of the parent trust were distributed to the subsidiary, Meridian Investments, Inc. The shares of beneficial interest in the parent, held by the trustees, were tendered and cancelled, in exchange for shares of common stock in the subsidiary, held by the parent. After the liquidation, the only remaining entity is the subsidiary, Meridian Investments, Inc., which elected to be taxed as an S corporation effective January 1, 2004. Effective January 1, 2004, all activity of the former parent trust is now carried on by the subsidiary.

B. USE OF ESTIMATES

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures. Accordingly, actual results could differ from those estimates.

C. CASH AND CASH EQUIVALENTS

For financial statement purposes, the Company considers all short-term debt and investment securities purchases with a maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

D. ALLOWANCE FOR UNCOLLECTIBLE ACCOUNTS

The Company experiences a low rate of its accounts receivable that become uncollectible. Therefore, these financial statements do not contain a provision for uncollectible accounts.

MERIDIAN INVESTMENTS, INC.
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
For the Years Ended December 31, 2005 and 2004

NOTE 1 - SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES - continued

E. PROPERTY AND EQUIPMENT

Property and equipment are stated at cost. Depreciation is computed using methods and lives sufficient to amortize the cost of the applicable assets over their useful lives. The cost and related accumulated depreciation of assets sold or otherwise disposed are removed from the related accounts and the resulting gains or losses are reflected in income, except on assets traded. Expenditures for normal maintenance and repairs are expensed, while major renewals are capitalized.

F. REVENUE AND COST RECOGNITION

Commission revenues are recognized upon the completion of a sale of an investment (earned). The related commission expense is recognized when the commission is earned by the Company.

G. ADVERTISING COSTS

Advertising costs, except for costs associated with direct-response advertising, are charged to operations when incurred. The costs of direct-response advertising are capitalized and amortized over the period during which future benefits are expected to be realized.

H. COMPENSATED ABSENCES

Employees of the Company are entitled to paid vacation days depending on job classification, length of service and other factors. It is impracticable to estimate the amount of compensation for future absences and, accordingly, no liability has been recorded in the accompanying financial statements. The Company's policy is to recognize the costs of compensated future absences when actually paid to employees.

I. INCOME TAXES

On February 9, 1994, Meridian Investments, Inc. with the consent of its stockholders, elected under the Internal Revenue Code to be taxed as an S corporation. The election was effective as of December 1, 1992. On December 28, 2000, the corporation elected to become a qualified subchapter S subsidiary of Meridian Investment Properties Trust, which elected to be taxed as a qualified subchapter S trust. On January 1, 2004, Meridian Investments, Inc., after completion of the adopted plan of liquidation of its parent trust, Meridian Investment Properties Trust, elected to again be taxed as an S corporation.

In lieu of federal income taxes, the shareholders of an S corporation, are taxed on their proportionate share of the Company's taxable income. Therefore, these financial statements do not contain a provision for federal income taxes. For the years ended December 31, 2005 and 2004, a provision for state income taxes is provided for pursuant to Massachusetts law concerning the taxation of "large" S corporations.

During 1998, additional office space in Maryland was leased for a term of four years and three months, beginning June 1, 1998, expiring on August 31, 2002. The new lease provides for rental escalation based upon the Consumer Price Index beginning in the second lease year and every year thereafter. The Massachusetts lease dated January 25, 1989 as amended on various dates through 2001, was amended on September 1, 2005 to amend the amount and location of the office space being leased.

Taxes" (SFAS 109), the Company recognizes deferred tax assets or liabilities for the future tax benefit or expense arising from the different methods of recognition for certain items of income and expense for book and income tax purposes. Amounts presented on the balance sheets represent the amount of deferred tax assets and liabilities recognized during the year.

Temporary differences giving rise to deferred tax assets consist of accrued expenses which are deducted when paid (cash basis), for tax purposes, rather than when the liability is incurred (accrual basis), for financial statement purposes.

Temporary differences giving rise to deferred tax liabilities consist of accounts receivable which are reported when received (cash basis), for tax purposes, rather than when earned (accrual basis), for financial statement purposes. In addition, prepaid expenses are deducted when paid (cash basis), for tax purposes, rather than when the related liability is incurred (accrual basis), for financial statement purposes. Also, the excess of tax depreciation over the amount reported for financial statement purposes gives rise to deferred tax liabilities.

At December 31, 2005 and 2004, the deferred tax asset is comprised of the following:

	2005	2004
Accrued expenses	$ 72,646	$ 75,176
TOTAL CURRENT DEFERRED TAX ASSET	$ 72,646	$ 75,176

At December 31, 2005 and 2004, the deferred tax liability is comprised of the following:

	2005	2004
Accounts receivable	$ 108,789	$ 141,058

TOTAL CURRENT DEFERRED TAX LIABILITY	110,091	143,499

TOTAL NON-CURRENT DEFERRED TAX LIABILITY	1,602	1,509

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON INTERNAL ACCOUNTING CONTROL

To the Board of Directors and Stockholders of:

Meridian Investments, Inc.

Quincy, Massachusetts

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of Meridian Investments, Inc. as of December 31, 2005 and 2004 and for the years then ended, respectively, we considered its internal control structure, including procedures for safeguarding securities, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control structure.

Also, as required by rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission, we have made a study of the practices and procedures, including tests of compliance with such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in rule 17a-5(g), in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under rule 17a-3(a)(11) and in determining compliance with the exemptive provision of rule 15c3-3. We did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company (1) in making the quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications and comparisons, and the recordation of differences required by rule 17a-13; (2) in complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System; and (3) in obtaining and maintaining physical possession or control of all fully paid and excess margin securities of customers as required by rule 15c3-3, because the Company does not carry security accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining an internal control structure and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling the responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of internal control structure policies and procedures, and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph, and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objective. Two of the objectives of an internal control structure and the practice and procedures are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition, and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in any internal control structure or the practices and procedures referred to above, errors and irregularities may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

Our consideration of the internal control structure would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control structure that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control structure elements does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that errors or irregularities in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving the internal control structure, including procedures for safeguarding securities, that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

In addition, no facts came to our attention indicating that the exemption provision of Rule 15c3-3 has not been complied with during the year.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the Commission to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our consideration of the internal control structure, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2005 and 2004, to meet the Commission's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the use of management, the Securities and Exchange Commission and other regulatory agencies which rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and should not be used for any other purpose.
