Independent Auditors' Report

The Partners
Paragon Advising Group, L.P.
Houston, Texas

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of Paragon Advising Group, L.P. (the "Partnership") as of December 31, 2005, and the related statements of operations, changes in partners' capital and cash flows for the year then ended that you are filing pursuant to Rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Partnership's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Paragon Advising Group, L.P. as of December 31, 2005, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The accompanying information included in Schedules I and II is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by Rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

NOTE A - NATURE OF OPERATIONS

Paragon Advising Group, L.P. ("Paragon"), a Texas limited partnership formed in August 2001, is a limited broker-dealer registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") under Rule 15c3-3(k)(2)(i), which provides that Paragon will not maintain any margin accounts; will promptly transmit customer funds and deliver securities received; and does not hold funds or securities for, or owe money or securities to, customers. Paragon's general partner (with a 0.667% ownership interest) is Paragon Advising Partners, L.L.C.

Paragon, a Houston-based investment bank, focuses on mergers and acquisitions ("M&A") and financing transactions involving the purchase and sale of a company's equity or other securities. Paragon does not underwrite securities or participate in the brokerage of publicly traded securities. Paragon was granted membership in the National Association of Securities Dealers ("NASD") on February 8, 2002. At December 31, 2005, Paragon was registered as a limited broker-dealer in six states: Texas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, New York, Connecticut, and California.

The general partner and limited partners share in the profits and losses of Paragon based on their percentage ownership. All of the limited partners are officers and owners of the general partner.

NOTE B - SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Use of Estimates: The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America necessarily requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the financial statements and accompanying notes. Actual results could differ from these estimates.

Revenue Recognition: Revenues from Paragon's operations are recognized in the period the services are provided or upon closing of a M&A transaction. A non-contingent investment banking fee is recognized in the period the service is provided. A contingent investment banking fee is earned only if a M&A transaction closes and is recognized on the closing date of a M&A transaction.

Income Taxes: As a partnership, Paragon is not subject to federal or state taxes on its income. The partners include in their federal and state tax returns Paragon's results of operations. Accordingly, no provision for federal or state income taxes has been made for Paragon.

NOTE C - RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

Paragon Advising, L.L.C., a sister company that provides transaction consulting and other strategic advisory services, charged Paragon fees under an expense agreement totaling $55,000 for the year ended December 31, 2005. The expense agreement states that Paragon will pay Paragon Advising, L.L.C. a facilities usage fee of $4,000 per month (January 2005 – May 2005) and $5,000 per month (June 2005 – December 2005) for the use of office space, telecommunications (telephone and internet), furniture for offices and conference room, office equipment, supplies for office equipment, and publications. The expense agreement is reviewed on at least an annual basis and can be terminated by either party.

NOTE D - NET CAPITAL REQUIREMENTS

Paragon is subject to the SEC Uniform Net Capital Rule (Rule 15c3-1) which requires the maintenance of minimum net capital and requires that the ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital, both as defined, shall not exceed 15 to 1. At December 31, 2005, Paragon had net capital of $38,215, which was $33,215 in excess of its required net capital of $5,000. Paragon's net capital ratio was .24 to 1. The SEC requirements provide that partners' capital may not be withdrawn or cash distributions paid if certain minimum net capital requirements are not met.

Independent Auditors' Report on Internal Accounting Control
Required by SEC Rule 17a-5 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934

The Partners
Paragon Advising Group, L.P.

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements and supplementary schedules of Paragon Advising Group, L.P. (the "Partnership") for the year ended December 31, 2005, we considered its internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on internal control.

Also, as required by Rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Partnership including tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in Rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of Rule 15c3-3. Because the Partnership does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Partnership in any of the following:

1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons
2. Recordation of differences required by Rule 17a-13
3. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System

The management of the Partnership is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Partnership has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control or the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

Our consideration of internal control would not necessarily disclose all matters in internal control that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that errors or fraud in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Partnership's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2005, to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Partners, management, the SEC, the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc., and other regulatory agencies that rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
