INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

Board of Directors
Cambridge Group Investments, Ltd.
East Lansing, Michigan

February 3, 2006

We have audited the accompanying statements of financial condition of Cambridge Group Investments, Ltd. as of December 31, 2005 and 2004, and the related statements of income, changes in stockholder's equity and cash flows for the years then ended that you are filing pursuant to Rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audits to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Cambridge Group Investments, Ltd. as of December 31, 2005 and 2004, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audits were conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information contained in Schedule I is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audits of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

Maner, Costerisan & Ellis, P.C.

CAMBRIDGE GROUP INVESTMENTS, LTD.
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

NOTE 1 - SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Method of accounting - The accompanying financial statements have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting.

Cash equivalents - Cash equivalents are highly liquid investments purchased with original maturities of three months or less.

Marketable securities - Marketable securities consists of bonds and equity securities which are held for trading purposes and are recorded at fair value with unrealized holdings gains and losses included in earnings. The fair value of the investments are determined using published market prices.

Furniture and equipment - Furniture and equipment are carried at cost. Depreciation is calculated using the straight line and accelerated methods over their estimated useful lives.

Commission's receivable - Commissions receivable are stated at the amount management expects to collect from outstanding balances. Management provides for probable uncollectible amounts, if needed, through a provision for bad debt expense and an adjustment to a valuation allowance based on its assessment of the current status of individual accounts. Balances that are still outstanding after management has used reasonable collection efforts are written off through a charge to the valuation allowance and a credit to accounts receivable. No allowance for doubtful accounts is considered necessary.

Commission income - Commission income from the clearing broker is recorded on a trade-by-trade basis and normally is settled within 30 days.

Income taxes - The Company utilizes an asset and liability approach to account for income taxes. The difference between the financial statement and tax basis of assets and liabilities is determined annually. Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are computed for those differences that have future tax consequences using the currently enacted tax laws and rates that apply to the period in which they are expected to affect taxable income. Valuation allowances are established, if necessary, to reduce the deferred tax asset to the amount that will more likely than not be realized. Income tax expense is the current tax payable or refundable for the period plus or minus the net change in the deferred tax assets and liabilities.

Advertising costs - Advertising costs are expensed as incurred.

CAMBRIDGE GROUP INVESTMENTS, LTD.
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

NOTE 2 - NATURE OF ORGANIZATION, RISKS AND UNCERTAINTIES

Cambridge Group Investments, Ltd. is a wholly owned subsidiary of The Phoenix Group Ltd. (Parent). The Company is organized primarily for the purpose of entering into various trading strategies involving bonds. The company is registered as a broker-dealer in securities under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and is a member of the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. (NASD).

The Company has an agreement with a clearing broker to clear securities transactions, carry customers' accounts on a fully disclosed basis and perform certain record keeping functions. Accordingly, the company operates under the exemptive provisions of Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") Rule 15c3-3(k)(2)(ii).

The Company receives commission revenues for facilitating customer purchases of bonds. The Company markets primarily through the use of a web site licensed under the name Bondpage.com. All of the Company's commission revenue is received through the clearing broker.

The Company has entered into a "restrictive agreement" with the NASD, which provides that the Company must comply with the exemptive provisions of the Securities and Exchange Commission's Rule 15c3-3 pursuant to paragraph (k)(2)(ii).

The Company is required to disclose significant concentrations of credit risk regardless of the degree of such risk. Financial instruments, which potentially subject the Company to concentrations of credit risk, consist principally of cash and cash equivalents and commissions receivable. The Company deposits its cash with high-credit-quality financial institutions. Although such cash balances may exceed the federally insured limits, they are, in the opinion of management, subject to minimal risk. Credit risk with respect to commissions receivable exist because to the entire receivable is due from one source. However, based on prior collection history, management estimated no allowance for doubtful accounts is considered necessary.

Estimates - The process of preparing financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires the use of estimates and assumptions regarding certain types of assets, liabilities, revenues and expenditures. Such estimates primarily relate to unsettled transactions and events as of the date of the financial statements. Accordingly, upon settlement, actual results may differ from estimated amounts.

A concentration exists due to all commission and trade income is received from one clearinghouse.

	$	$
Amortization expense	$	$ 653

NOTE 6 - INCOME TAXES

Temporary differences in the timing of recognition of expenses for financial reporting and income tax purposes as of December 31 result in deferred taxes as follows:

	2005	2004
Deferred tax assets (liabilities) attributable to:
Net operating loss carry forward	$ 241,000	$ 152,000
Accrued compensation	4,000	4,000
Unrealized loss on investments	6,000	6,000
Other - net	(9,000)	(9,000)
	$ 242,000	$ 153,000

Income tax expense differs from the statutory rate primarily due to the surtax exemptions, non deductible meals and entertainment expenses, and the change in the valuation allowance. The above differences between book and taxable income are anticipated to reverse at an estimated rate of 25%. There is no current tax expense for 2005 or 2004.

2005	2025	360,000
		$ 969,037	$ 609,037

NOTE 7 - COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

In the normal course of business, the Company executes, as agent, securities transactions on behalf of its customers. If the agency transactions do not settle because of failure to perform by either the customer or the counterparty, the Company may be obligated to discharge the obligation of the nonperforming party, and as a result is subject to market risk if the market value of securities is different from the contract amount of the transactions.

The Company does not anticipate nonperformance by customers or counterparties in the aforementioned situations. The Company's policy is to monitor market exposure and counterparty risk. In addition, the Company has a policy of reviewing, as considered necessary, the credit standing of each counterparty and customer with which it conducts business.

NOTE 8 - OPERATING LEASES

The Company leases office space, computer equipment and furniture under various noncancelable operating lease agreements. Office rent expense and equipment lease expense totaled $261,810 and $203,038 for the years ended December 31, 2005 and 2004, respectively.

Future minimum lease payments on these leases are as follows:

Year ending December 31,

Report on Internal Control Required by SEC Rule 17a-5

Board of Directors
Cambridge Investment Group
East Lansing, Michigan

February 3, 2006

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements and supplemental schedule of Cambridge Investment Group (the Company), for the year ended December 31, 2005, we considered its internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on internal control.

Also, as required by rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company including tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in the rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exceptive provisions of rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons and recordation of differences required by rule 17a-13.
2. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.
3. Obtaining and maintaining physical possession or control of all fully paid and excess margin securities of customer as required by Rule 15c3-3.

Board of Directors
Cambridge Investment Group
East Lansing, Michigan

February 3, 2006

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls, and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control or the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

Our consideration of internal control would not necessarily disclose all matters in internal control that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that misstatements caused by error or fraud in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2005 to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Board of Directors, management, the SEC, the NASD and other regulatory agencies that rely on rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than those specified parties.
