NOTE 1 - Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Nature of Operations

The Corporation conducts business as a securities and investment brokerage dealer located in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania.

The Corporation was incorporated on August 21, 1986, and was capitalized by the issuance of 2,517 shares of its $10 par value common stock. Subsequent to incorporation, additional $10 par value common stock was issued as follows:

Date of Issue	Common Shares Issued	Paid-In Capital
12/1/98	136	1,360
1/31/99	1,050	10,500

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Accounts Receivable

The Corporation does not normally extend credit to its customers. Amounts shown as accounts receivable arise only as a result of trades which are in process and uncompleted as of the statement date. Such trades are normally completed during the next business day.

Office Equipment

Office equipment is recorded at cost. Depreciation is computed by an accelerated method over the estimated useful lives of 5 to 7 years.

Maintenance and repairs are charged to operations as incurred, and expenditures for significant betterments and renewals are capitalized.

Gains or losses on sales or retirement of equipment and improvements are reflected in income.

Cash Equivalents

The Corporation considers all short-term investments purchased with an original maturity of three months or less as cash equivalent for the purposes of the statements of cash flows.

Income Taxes

Income taxes are provided for the tax effects of transactions reported in the financial statements. There are no significant timing differences between the recognition of revenue and expenses for financial and income tax reporting. Therefore, no deferred tax assets or liabilities have been recorded for this purpose.

The Corporation utilized a capital loss carryforward in the amount of $4,212 to reduce federal and state taxable income in 2004. The Corporation utilized net operating losses in the amount of $4,793 to reduce federal and state taxable income in 2005.

The Corporation has available net operating loss carryforwards for federal and state purposes in the amount of $9,816 which expire at various times through December 31, 2019. No deferred tax asset has been recorded with respect to these loss carryforwards due to the uncertainty of their utilization.

Advertising

Advertising costs are expensed as incurred. Advertising for the years ended December 31, 2005 and 2004, are $5,828 and $2,533, respectively.

NOTE 2 - Net Capital

The Corporation does not generally carry customers' accounts and, therefore, pursuant to Rule 15c3-1 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, the Corporation is required to maintain net capital of no less than $5,000. At December 31, 2005 and 2004, the Corporation had net capital of $75,167 and $71,568, respectively, computed according to Rule 15c3-1. This report does not contain a computation for determination of reserves pursuant to SEC Rule 15c3-3 because the Corporation, as an introducing broker-dealer, clears all transactions with and for customers on a fully disclosed basis with a clearing broker-dealer; therefore, the Corporation is not fully subject to 15c3-3 due to exemption k2(ii).

NOTE 3 - Marketable Securities

From time to time, the Corporation invests in marketable securities which may consist of either equity or debt securities and which have a readily determinable fair market value. Management determines the appropriate classification of its investments at the time of purchase and re-evaluates such determination at each balance sheet date.

Securities that are held for short-term resale are classified as trading securities and are recorded at their fair market values. Realized gains or losses on the sales of trading securities are determined on the basis of specific identification. Realized and unrealized gains and losses on trading securities are included in income. The Corporation did not hold any trading securities as of December 31, 2005 or 2004. Gross proceeds and realized losses from sales of trading securities were as follows for the year ended December 31, 2004:

	2004
Gross Sales Proceeds	68
Gross Realized Gains	-0-
Gross Realized Losses	(26)

Securities that are expected to be held to maturity are reported at cost, adjusted for amortization of premiums or discounts, with such amortization recognized in income using the straight line method over the period to maturity. The Corporation did not hold any investments that were expected to be held to maturity at December 31, 2005 or 2004.

NOTE 4 - Lease Agreements

The Corporation leases office space from its 100 percent stockholder under a yearly lease agreement. The lease agreement requires monthly rental payments of $1,294 plus condominium fees and charges. This lease became effective during the year ended December 31, 1997, and was renewed through the year ended December 31, 2005. Total rental expense for the years ended December 31, 2005 and 2004, was $23,717 and $20,310 respectively.

During the year ended December 31, 2005, the Corporation began subleasing two office suites to unrelated tenants. The Corporation will receive monthly rental income in the amount of $1,400 as a result of these leases. The leases are annually renewable. Total rental income received during the year ended December 31, 2005 was $8,337.

NOTE 5 - Retirement Plan

The Corporation maintains a qualified retirement plan for all of its employees. The Plan provides for contributions in such amounts as the Board of Directors may annually authorize. The amounts charged to payroll taxes and benefits expense which are associated with the retirement plan are $2,732 for 2005 and $2575 for 2004.

REPORT on INTERNAL CONTROL

To the Stockholder
Kevin Hart Kornfield &
Company, Inc.
Lancaster, Pennsylvania

In planning and performing our audits of the financial statements of Kevin Hart Kornfield & Company, Inc. for the years ended December 31, 2005 and 2004, we considered its internal control structure, including procedures for safeguarding securities, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control structure.

As required by Rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures (including tests of compliance with such practices and procedures) followed by Kevin Hart Kornfield & Company, Inc., that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in Rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exceptive provisions of Rule 15c3-3. Because the Corporation does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Corporation in any of the following:

1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons.
2. Recordation of differences required by rule 17a-13.
3. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

The management of the Corporation is responsible for establishing and maintaining an internal control structure and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of internal control structure policies and procedures, and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph, and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objective. Two of the objectives of an internal control structure and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets for which the Corporation has responsibility are safeguarded against loss, from unauthorized use or disposition, and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of the inherent limitations in any internal control structure, or the practices and procedures referred to above, errors or irregularities may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

Our consideration of the internal control structure would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control structure that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control structure elements does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that errors or irregularities in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving the internal control structure, including procedures for safeguarding securities that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above except for:

The size of the business and resultant limited number of employees imposes practical limitations on the effectiveness of those internal control structure procedures that depend on the segregation of duties. Since this condition is inherent in the size of the Corporation, the specific weaknesses are not described herein and no corrective action has been taken or proposed by the Corporation.

The foregoing condition was considered in determining the nature, timing, and extent of the procedures to be performed in our audit of the financial statements of Kevin Hart Kornfield & Company, Inc. for the years ended December 31, 2005 and 2004, and this report does not affect our report thereon dated February 10, 2006. We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and the practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and our study, we believe that the Corporation's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2005 and 2004, to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the use of management, the SEC, the New York Stock Exchange, and other regulatory agencies which rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Act of 1934, and should not be used for any other purpose.
