REPORT OF INDEPENDENT CERTIFIED PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS

Board of Directors
Wechsler & Co., Inc.

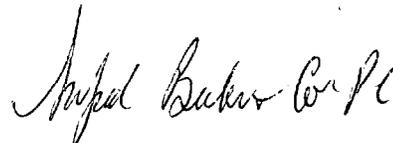

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of Wechsler & Co., Inc. as of May 31, 2006 and the related statements of income, changes in stockholders' equity and cash flows for the year then ended, that you are filing pursuant to Rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Wechsler & Co., Inc. as of May 31, 2006 and the results of their operations and their cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with the accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information contained in the schedules listed on the accompanying index is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by Rule 17a-5 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

WECHSLER & CO., INC.
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
YEAR ENDED MAY 31, 2006

1) General Business:

The company is registered as a broker/dealer in securities with the Securities and Exchange Commission. In this capacity, it executes principal and agency transactions. The company conducts business primarily with broker/dealers for its own proprietary accounts and also introduces customer transactions to Bear Stearns Securities Corp. on a fully disclosed basis.

In the normal course of its business, the Company enters into financial transactions where the risk of potential loss due to changes in market value (market risk) or failure of the other party to the transaction to perform (credit risk) exceeds the amounts recorded for the transaction. The Company has a policy of reviewing the credit standing of each customer and counter party with which it conducts business. Wechsler & Co., Inc. does not do business in foreign currency, futures or forward contracts.

2) Summary of Significant Accounting Policies:

- (a) Securities sold, but not yet purchased include marketable securities stated at quoted market values, with unrealized gains and losses reflected in income. Subsequent market fluctuation of securities sold, but not yet purchased may require purchasing the securities at prices which may differ from the market values reflected on the statement of financial condition.
- (b) Furniture and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation. Depreciation is computed using accelerated methods over the estimated useful lives of the related assets.
- (c) The current and deferred portions of the income tax expense included in the statement of earnings as determined in accordance with FASB statement No. 109 "Accounting for Income Taxes," are as follows:

	Current	Deferred
Federal	$ 237,145	$ 303,568
State	82,089	105,081
	$ 319,234	$ 408,649

Deferred income taxes are applicable to unrealized appreciation of investment securities.

(Continue on next page)

(d) The process of preparing financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires the use of estimates and assumptions regarding certain types of assets, liabilities, revenues, and expenses. Such estimates primarily relate to unsettled transactions and events as of the date of the financial statements. Accordingly, upon settlement, actual results may differ from estimated amounts.

(e) The company is obligated under a noncancelable operating lease for its office premises expiring September 30, 2009. Total remaining obligations under this lease amount to $237,449.20

3) Capital Stock:

Capital Stock consists of the following:

$1,000 Cumulative Preferred 6% No Par Value

Authorized 10,000 Shares

Issued and Outstanding 2,604.75 Shares

$ 2,604.750

Authorized 482 Share Common Shares

Issued and Outstanding 160 Shares

$ 50,247

Cumulative dividends remain unpaid and undeclared.

On liquidation preference dividends will only be paid if declared from earnings.

As of May 31, 2006 dividends in the amount of $ 3,818,012.35 remain unpaid and undeclared

Cumulative Pfd dividends which remain unpaid would be an additional liquidation preference upon sale or liquidation of the corporation.

4) Net Capital Requirements:

The Company is subject to the uniform net capital rule (Rule 15c3-1) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, which requires that the Company maintain a ratio of aggregate indebtedness to the net capital as defined, not to exceed 15 to 1. At May 31, 2006 the Company's net capital was $2,024,659 whereas the required net capital was $100,000. Aggregate indebtedness was $817,269. The percentage indebtedness to the net capital was 40%.

5) The Company has received a claim by the IRS for additional taxes and interest asserting excess compensation. The Company feels that these claims have no merit but attempted to negotiate a settlement. The Company filed a petition in US Tax Court in opposition to the IRS claim, trial was held, and is awaiting a decision. The Company created a reserve and charge of $2,500,000 on May 31, 2005 for this issue. The reserve and charge are based on management's best current estimate of the Company's liability, but such liability could be higher or lower.

Instructions: Detail Listing must include the total of items maturing during the six month period following the report date, regardless of whether or not the capital contribution is expected to be renewed. The schedule must also include proposed capital withdrawals scheduled within the six month period following the report date including the proposed redemption of stock and anticipated accruals which would cause a reduction of Net Capital. These anticipated accruals would include amounts of bonuses, partners' drawing accounts, taxes, and interest on capital, voluntary contributions to pension or profit sharing plans, etc., which have not been deducted in the computation of Net Capital, but which you anticipate will be paid within the next six months.

REPORT ON INTERNAL CONTROL

Board of Directors
Wechsler & Co., Inc.

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements and supplemental schedules of Wechsler & Co., Inc. for the year ended May 31, 2006 we considered its internal control structure including procedures for safeguarding securities, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control structure.

Also, as required by rule 17a-5(g) (1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by Wechsler & Co., Inc. including tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under rule 17a-3(a) (11) and or determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons.
2. Recordation of differences required by rule 17a-13.
3. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining an internal control structure and practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgements by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of internal control structure policies and procedures and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the Commission's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of an internal control structure and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets for which the company has responsibility and safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that the transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in an internal control structure or the practices and procedures referred to above, errors or irregularities may occur and not be detected. Also, projection on any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

Our consideration of the internal control structure would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control structure that might be material weaknesses under standards established by American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control structure elements does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that errors or irregularities in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving the internal control structure, including procedures for safeguarding securities, that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the Commission to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy of such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at May 31, 2006 to meet the Commission's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the use of management, the Securities Exchange Commission, and other regulatory agencies which rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers and should not be used for any other purpose.
