ASSA ABLOY strengthens Group Management with CTO

In order to better exploit ASSA ABLOY's joint development resources, the Executive Team is being expanded to include a Chief Technology Officer (CTO), Ulf Södergren.

The global security market is undergoing rapid technological development. This makes it even more important that ASSA ABLOY is able to co-ordinate new technology and solutions.

In recent years Ulf Södergren has successfully managed operations in Scandinavia, and prior to that was responsible for building up the Group's production, purchasing and development processes.

"We can see exciting opportunities in the technology field, and we will now be in a better position to take advantage of these with a CTO leading the way." said Johan Molin, President and CEO of ASSA ABLOY.

Ulf Södergren will take up the new post on 1 June 2006, but will continue to run ASSA ABLOY Scandinavia and Assa AB until his successor is appointed.
