IAG acquires new Lloyd's managing agency and specialist Asian insurer

Insurance Australia Group Limited (IAG) today announced it had acquired a newly-formed Lloyd's managing agency and specialist Asian syndicate to support the development and management of its expanding Asian business. The business will operate as Alba Group Pte Limited (Alba).

IAG Chief Executive Officer, Mr Michael Hawker said, "Acquiring Alba puts us in a strong position to leverage the reinsurance opportunities presented as we continue to execute our strategy to build a portfolio of Asian assets, as well as managing the risks inherent in these. In addition, the syndicate would enable IAG to add value through providing reinsurance support to its new Asian subsidiaries and partners."

IAG CEO of Asset Management & Reinsurance, Mr Jan van der Schalk, who has responsibility for the new business, said the business has both a very experienced team in the region and the infrastructure to support it.

"The key personnel in the underwriting team, which will be based in Singapore, and the managing agency, have an average of 20 years' experience in the insurance market, with the underwriters having spent a number of years underwriting Asian risks for international insurers," Mr van der Schalk said.

"Alba operates through a newly formed Lloyd's syndicate, the first multi-line syndicate dedicated to Asian business. The syndicate has access to all markets in which Lloyd's is licensed, covering more than 70 countries worldwide. Of particular relevance to IAG is Lloyd's capacity to underwrite business in the Asian region via its extensive network," Mr van der Schalk said.

IAG will provide the majority of the capital to support the syndicate, in conjunction with Whittington Group, the underwriters and the management team.

While the terms of the acquisition are confidential, the businesses have all been newly established and neither the purchase price nor the capital required in the first two years is material to the Group.

Lloyd's President, Asia-Pacific, Mr Tony Egerton said, "The Lloyd's Asia platform is becoming increasingly significant to the regional specialist insurance market, and we are delighted to welcome another new Lloyd's syndicate to the region."

“The fact that such a major insurance player has shown significant commitment to Lloyd’s shows the market’s current strength and the wealth of opportunity it can offer through its renowned brand and worldwide network,” Mr Egerton said.

The vendor is Whittington Group Pte Limited, an international insurance investment and service business headquartered in Singapore with a long history in Lloyd’s of London and international insurance markets. It is dedicated to providing bespoke and innovative outsource, investment and exit solutions to the insurance industry.

The terms of the acquisition are subject to final regulatory approval from the Singaporean MAS and the UK FSA, the prudential regulatory authorities for this business.

MEDIA RELEASE

24 April 2006

IAG to pay more than $100 million in claims for Cyclone Larry, and remain within full year insurance margin guidance

Insurance Australia Group Limited (IAG) today confirmed it expected to pay between $100 million to $135 million to customers affected by Cyclone Larry.

IAG Chief Executive Officer, Mr Michael Hawker said as of this morning CGU and NRMA Insurance had received more than 5,900 claims.

Mr Hawker said the majority of claims were non-coastal business sold under the CGU brand or through financial intermediaries.

“Within 48 hours of the Cyclone hitting we had more than 22 claims and assessing staff on the ground and had established our first two mobile claims and assistance centre in Innisfail. With 72 hours of the event, we’d paid out $3.2 million to our worst hit customers, provided emergency accommodation and food and set-up another mobile assessing van for surrounding areas.”

Mr Hawker said the claims costs were greater than originally anticipated due to the unusually high intensity of Cyclone Larry as it swept inland.

“We now estimate the gross cost of claims will be in the range of $100 million to 135 million. It took some time to determine the full impact as the extent of damage done to inland areas was not immediately known.

“As the Group’s catastrophe covers do not cover losses below $200 million, the damage is within our catastrophe reinsurance deductible, so we had to ensure we had a reasonably firm estimate of our gross cost. We expect reinsurance recoveries to be less than $10 million.

“That means potential claims costs from Cyclone Larry will be about 2% of annual net earned premium. We still expect to fall within our guidance of a full year insurance margin of 14% - 16%, however, it will be at the lower end of the range, subject, of course, to no further major losses.

Mr Hawker said Cyclone Larry was rated a category five cyclone which makes it the most intense Cyclone to hit populated areas of Queensland in the last century.

“We’ll continue to work with our customers, suppliers and the government to ensure the community makes a full recovery. On Friday we announced a free community expo to aid customers in the recovery process. The event, hosted by CGU and NRMA Insurance, will bring together builders, architects, designers, landscapers, environmental specialists, community safety representatives and counsellors so customers can get all the advice they need to rebuild their lives under the one roof,” Mr Hawker said.

IAG declares a $200m special dividend on ordinary shares

Insurance Australia Group Limited (IAG) today announced it would pay shareholders a special fully franked dividend of 12.5 cents per ordinary share, in line with its commitment given in February 2006 to return $200 million in surplus capital to shareholders by 30 June 2006.

IAG Chief Financial Officer, Mr George Venardos said he was pleased the continued strength of IAG's financial position meant the Group could return capital to shareholders at the same time as making further international acquisitions.

"As at 31 December 2005, the Group had around $870 million of capital surplus to that required to maintain its internal benchmark of 1.55x APRA's minimum capital requirement.

"In line with our commitment to ensure our capital is managed efficiently we explored both conventional and more complex options of returning capital. At this time, we consider a special dividend to be the most appropriate way to return some excess capital to shareholders while maintaining a healthy balance sheet for the Group to continue to execute its strategy", Mr Venardos said.

When added to the dividends paid in October 2005 and April 2006, this special dividend will bring the cash return to shareholders this financial year to 40.5 cents per share, totalling $646 million.

Eligible shareholders registered on 24 May 2006 will receive the special dividend on 26 June 2006.

Summary of key dates*

Date	Activity
18 May 2006	Ex dividend date: Shares commence trading on an ex-dividend basis.
24 May 2006	Record date: Shareholders registered on this date will be eligible to receive the special dividend.
26 June 2006	Payment date: Special dividend will be paid to eligible shareholders.
