Atlas Copco opens a customer center in Bulgaria

Stockholm, Sweden, July 4, 2006: Atlas Copco has opened a customer center in Sofia, Bulgaria, employing approximately 20 people. The new customer center offers a wide range of construction and mining products, compressor products and related aftermarket products to the Bulgarian market.

The opening of the customer center coincides with Atlas Copco Lifton's acquisition of part of its distributor, Kammarton. Kammarton is one of the leading distributors of equipment and services, including compressors, for mining and construction markets in Bulgaria. The acquired part has annual revenues of MSEK 41 (MEUR 4.5) approximately.

The market in Bulgaria is growing by more than 10% per year, presenting opportunities in the construction, mining and industrial segments. The establishment of the new customer center will reinforce the market presence of related Atlas Copco products and services in this important region. It fits in with Atlas Copco's strategy of close customer contact and direct offering of products and services.

"With Bulgaria on the doorstep to the European Union there will be a lot of opportunities for future business," says Björn Rosengren, Business Area President, Atlas Copco Construction and Mining Technique. "The new customer center allows us to come closer to our Bulgarian customers in order to serve them better, and with our own dedicated people we will be well placed to develop the aftermarket further."

The customer center will be run in two organizations to represent Atlas Copco's Construction and Mining Technique and Compressor Technique business areas.
