ACCIDENT AT KUMBAS GLEN DOUGLAS MINE

Kumba to launch a thorough investigation into the fatal accident at its Glen Douglas Mine.

It is with regret that Kumba Resources (Kumba) reports that an accident at its Glen Douglas Mine in Gauteng Province has claimed the life of three of its employees and injured one employee.

The deceased, whose names are being withheld until their next of kin have been informed, were traveling in a company-owned minibus during change of shift, at 06h30 on Saturday, 3 June 2006 in the mine area. A dump truck whose brakes had apparently failed, while descending a ramp, collided with the minibus. Of the four occupants in the minibus, three were killed on impact and one sustained minor injuries.

According to Ernst Venter, Kumbas acting Executive Director: Operations, a thorough investigation will be launched into the accident in conjunction with the Department of Minerals and Energy.

Dr Con Fauconnier, chief executive of Kumba Resources, and members of top management immediately traveled to Glen Douglas to offer support and to convey their condolences. Firstly, I would like to express my personal condolences and that of all our colleagues in Kumba to the families, friends and colleagues of the deceased with their tragic loss. Our people are of the utmost importance to us, Dr Fauconnier said. Safety is a top priority at Kumba, because we value the life of each and every person working at our operations. Any accident, fatal or otherwise, is unacceptable to us and we will make sure that any insight gained from the investigation of this accident is applied throughout all our operation to ensure that a similar accident does not occur in the future, he added.
