Announcement of Acceptance of Offers to Sell

GUS plc ("GUS") announces the results of its invitation to noteholders to offer to sell for cash any or all of their £350 million 5.625% Notes due 2013.

Holders of £15,923,000 (4.55%) in principal amount of the 2013 Notes have offered to sell their Notes to GUS. GUS has given a Notice of Acceptance of Offers to Sell to the Tender Agent in respect of all such offers. Noteholders can therefore expect to receive their payment of par value plus accrued interest on their tendered Notes on Thursday 7 September 2006.

As announced on 29 August 2006, GUS shareholders have approved the proposed separation of GUS' two businesses, Argos Retail Group and Experian, by means of a demerger (the "Demerger"). GUS's invitation to tender has given noteholders who were concerned about the effect of the Demerger the opportunity to decide whether they wished to sell or to retain their Notes.

David Tyler, Finance Director of GUS, said:

"We note that a small proportion of the 2013 noteholders have accepted our offer, but most of the noteholders wish to retain their notes as obligations of Experian. The outcome has no effect on the demerger, which is on track to be completed by mid-October."

This notice of results has today been made available to noteholders and is also available for inspection at the UK Listing Authority's Document Viewing Facility which is located at The Financial Services Authority, 25 The North Colonnade, Canary Wharf, London E14 5HS.

ARG renamed Home Retail Group

GUS plc is pleased to announce that Argos Retail Group has changed its name to Home Retail Group. The change has been made to reflect the fact that the company is the leading home and general merchandise retailer in the UK, and customers shopping at Argos and Homebase can buy everything they need for the home and garden. Argos and Homebase will continue to trade under their existing brands.

Terry Duddy, Chief Executive Officer of Home Retail Group said:

"We are very excited about starting life as a separate public company under the great new name of Home Retail Group. This represents an opportunity to provide a strong and clear identity which better reflects the unparalleled breadth of home and general merchandise products that both Argos and Homebase sell."

Home Retail Group Trading Update

Home Retail Group (formerly Argos Retail Group), the UK's leading home and general merchandise retailer which is part of GUS plc, this morning issues an update on trading to coincide with the publication of its prospectus later today.

Terry Duddy, Chief Executive Officer of Home Retail Group, said:

"Home Retail Group has made good progress against varied conditions in our product markets. While remaining cautious on the outlook for the UK consumer in the near-term, we look forward to continued success as a separately listed company."

% change in sales year-on-year

Five months to 31 August 2006	%
Argos - total	13
- like-for-like	5
Six months to 31 August 2006*
Homebase - total	1
- like-for-like	(3)

* Homebase's year-end is the end of February to avoid distortions relating to the timing of Easter

For the early part of the financial year, the non-food, non-clothing market in the UK was stronger than expected. However, with continued weakness in certain product markets, Home Retail Group remains cautious on the outlook for a sustainable recovery in the rate of growth of consumer spending in the near-term.

Argos

Argos again outperformed its market in the period, with total sales up 13% of which new stores contributed nearly 8%. At 31 August 2006, Argos traded from 670 stores, with a net 13 new stores opened in the period.

Like-for-like sales increased by 5%, boosted by an outstanding performance in the first three months of the period. In the lead up to and during the course of the World Cup, sales of flat panel TV packages and set top boxes grew particularly strongly. Video game systems and bedroom furniture continued to perform well throughout the period. There was also strong growth in child safety and other nursery-related lines, and in seasonal products boosted by the warmer weather in July.

The overall strong sales performance in the period was, however, substantially offset by a related reduction in gross margin particularly in the first three months of the year. This was driven by the shift in the product mix and by the popularity of Argos' promotional offers, partially countered by the benefits obtained from supply chain initiatives.

Argos Direct, the delivery to home operation, grew by 13% in the period and accounted for 25% of Argos' sales. Within this, Internet orders for delivery to home rose by 46%, representing 8% of total sales. An additional 10% of sales were reserved by phone or the Internet for later collection in store (the service known as Check and Reserve), which was 61% ahead of the same period last year. The Autumn/Winter catalogue was launched on 29 July with about 17,000 lines available to customers across all stores and channels.

Homebase

Sales at Homebase increased in the six months to 31 August 2006 by 1% in total, of which 4% came from new stores. Homebase opened a net seven stores in the period bringing the total to 304, of which 156 had a mezzanine floor.

Like-for-like sales declined by 3%. Sales of furniture and kitchens continued to show strong growth throughout the period, while core DIY and decorating ranges remained weak. The improvement in sales in the later months of the period was largely driven by warmer weather encouraging purchases of seasonal categories, particularly air conditioning and horticulture. As planned, gross margin was ahead of the previous year due to a reduced level of promotional activity in the earlier months of the period, together with the benefits obtained from supply chain initiatives.

Financial Services

Home Retail Group Financial Services is trading in line with expectations. However, its response to the recommendations of the recent OFT enquiry in respect of late payment fees is expected to impact current year reported profit from early in the second half by about £3-4m. The impact is expected to annualise in the following financial year.

As announced last month, a joint venture with Barclays Bank PLC will develop an Argos credit card proposition and new personal loan products for Argos and Homebase. Home Retail Group's existing Argos and Homebase store card operations are not impacted by this arrangement.

Future announcements

Home Retail Group will announce its Interim Results on 21 November 2006.

Don Robert, Chief Executive Officer of Experian, said:

By geography, Experian's three regions all showed 7% organic sales growth. This performance illustrates the benefits of Experian's successful strategy to broaden its portfolio of businesses by geography and by product.

Americas

In dollars, sales from continuing activities in the five months to 31 August 2006 increased by 20% in total. Organic growth was 7% in the period with corporate acquisitions, largely in Interactive, generating the remaining 13%.

As expected, sales in Credit Services excluding acquisitions were in line with last year, a pleasing performance against a period where the comparatives were very strong (H1 2005/6: +18%). Sales of products used in account acquisition (profiles and prescreen) were weaker but this was offset by good growth in risk management, collections, recovery and account retention products. Sales of Decision Analytics grew strongly, reflecting a recent contract win with Bank of America and continued strength in fraud prevention products.

Sales in Marketing Solutions were marginally down year-on-year, with the continuing trend of strong growth in email marketing and research services offset by weakness in consumer marketing data and list processing. Organic growth in Interactive was in excess of 20%, with particular strength in Consumer Direct.

UK and Ireland

In the five months to 31 August 2006, sales from continuing activities increased by 20% in total at constant exchange rates. Organic growth continued at 7% in the period despite a difficult consumer environment. The contribution from acquisitions, largely ClarityBlue, was 13%.

Excluding acquisitions, there were solid performances from Credit Services, Decision Analytics and Marketing Solutions, with particular success in fraud prevention and in the telecommunications and public sectors. Interactive sales more than trebled in the period.

EMEA/Asia-Pacific

In the five months to 31 August 2006, sales from continuing activities increased by 8% in total at constant exchange rates, of which organic growth was 7%. There was particular strength in Decision Analytics, especially in Southern and Eastern Europe. Sales in the French transaction processing business, which accounted for about half of revenue in the period, were marginally ahead of last year.
