A notice is deemed filed with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) on the earlier of the date it is received by the SEC at the address given below or, if received at that address after the date on which it is due, on the date it was mailed by United States registered or certified mail to that address.

State:

This notice shall be used to indicate reliance on the Uniform Limited Offering Exemption (ULOE) for sales of securities in those states that have adopted ULOE and that have adopted this form. Issuers relying on ULOE must file a separate notice with the Securities Administrator in each state where sales are to be, or have been made. If a state requires the payment of a fee as a precondition to the claim for the exemption, a fee in the proper amount shall accompany this form. This notice shall be filed in the appropriate states in accordance with state law. The Appendix to the notice constitutes a part of this notice and must be completed.

ATTENTION

Failure to file notice in the appropriate states will not result in a loss of the federal exemption. Conversely, failure to file the appropriate federal notice will not result in a loss of an available state exemption unless such exemption is predicated on the filing of a federal notice.

Addendum to Part C – Question 4.b

Part C – Question 4.b calls for a statement of the “adjusted gross proceeds to the issuer” from the private offering reported on Form D. The field for that question in the Form D available at <http://www.sec.gov/about/forms/formd.pdf> automatically calculates the difference between the aggregate offering price given in response to Part C – Question 1 and the total expenses furnished in response to Part C – Question 4.a. We have interpreted the term “aggregate offering price” to mean the price per share in the offering multiplied by the total number of shares offered by the issuer (and this interpretation was confirmed in an August 2, 2006 conversation with legal counsel in the SEC’s Office of Small Business Policy). The aggregate offering price, in Heritage’s case, was $3,100,000. When you take this number and subtract the estimated legal fees of $35,000, the number shown in Part C – Question 4.b is $3,065,000. However, this $3,065,000 number does not represent the actual adjusted gross proceeds to Heritage because not all of the offered shares were actually sold. The amount actually sold was $2,876,552. When you take this number and subtract the estimated legal fees, the resulting actual adjusted gross proceeds to issuer are $2,841,552. We have reflected this by providing the $2,841,552 number in our responses under Part C – Question 5. (We confirmed in our August 2, 2006 conversation with legal counsel at the Office of Small Business Policy that we should take this approach.)
