INDEPENDENT ACCOUNTANT'S AUDIT REPORT

The Board of Directors
First Liberty Securities, Inc.
PO Box 1793
Carlsbad, CA92018

I have audited the accompanying balance sheet of First Liberty Securities, Inc. as of September 30, 2006, and the related statement of operations, changes in stockholders' equity and cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. My responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on my audit.

I conducted my audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that I plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. I believe that my audit provides a reasonable basis for my opinion.

In my opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of First Liberty Securities, Inc. at September 30, 2006, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

My audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The accompanying supplementary information shown on Pages 8 to 14 is presented as required by the Securities and Exchange Commission and the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. and is not a required part of the basic financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in my opinion, is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

First Liberty Securities, Inc.

Notes to the Financial Statements September 30, 2006

1. Description of the Company:

First Liberty Securities, Inc., is a broker-dealer for the sale of interests in direct participating limited partnerships. The Company operates from the office of an affiliate. A number of administrative and personnel services are shared with the affiliate without compensation.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies:

Cash and Cash Equivalents: Cash represents available funds on deposit with banking institutions and the clearing broker-dealer, Round Hill Securities.

Fixed Assets: Fixed assets are stated at cost, less accumulated depreciation. Depreciation is provided using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the related assets, primarily five years. Upon sale or retirement of depreciable assets, the related cost and accumulated depreciation are removed from the accounts. Any gain or loss on the sale or retirement is recognized in current operations.

Income Taxes: Income taxes are provided for the expense related to the current taxable income of the company. Deferred tax expense, or benefit, is provided for the future cost or benefit related to the difference in tax and accounting basis of assets or liabilities. A benefit, less an appropriate valuation allowance, is also recognized for the future tax benefit of operating loss carry forwards available to offset future taxable income.

Revenue Recognition: The Company maintains its accounting books and records under the accrual basis of accounting and generally accepted accounting principles. Revenues are recognized when earned or when the amount is determined. Expenses are recorded when incurred.

3. Fixed Assets

Fixed assets consist of the following as of September 30, 2006:

Computer, office equipment.....	10,314
Less: Accumulated Depreciation.....	10,314
	$ 0

4. Income Taxes:

The provision for income taxes at September 30 is as follows:

Federal	$ -
California	800
	$ 800

First Liberty Securities, Inc.

Notes to the Financial Statements (Continued) September 30, 2006

4. Income Taxes (continued):

The Company has net operating loss carry forwards which expire as follows:

2008	$2,426
2009	1,337
2010	78
2018	1,008
2019	460
2021	1,820
2022	561
2023	838
2026	1,860
	$10,388

The benefit associated with these loss carry forwards, less the valuation allowance of $1,558, has been recorded as $-0-. Management believes that the probability of income being earned to take advantage of the losses is less than reasonably assured.

5. Net Capital

The net capital of First Liberty Securities, Inc. as of September 30, 2006 is $11,194. The required net capital, as computed in accordance with SEC Rule 15c3-1, at the same date is $5,000.

6. Restrictions on Cash

The cash deposit at Round Hill Securities is restricted according to the contract such that it may be withdrawn only after termination of the contract, and is returnable to the company within 30 days.

7. Common Stock

During the current year, the company did not sell or repurchase any shares of common stock.

CERTIFIED PUBLIC ACCOUNTANT

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON INTERNAL ACCOUNTING CONTROL REQUIRED BY SEC RULE 17a-5

Board of Directors
First Liberty Securities, Inc.
Oceanside, CA

In planning and performing my audit of the financial statements of First Liberty Securities, Inc. for the year ended September 30, 2006, I considered its internal control structure, including procedures for safeguarding securities, in order to determine my auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing my opinion on the consolidated financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control structure.

Also, as required by rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission, I have made a study of the practices and procedures (including tests of compliance with such practices and procedures) followed by First Liberty Securities, Inc. that I considered relevant to the objectives stated in rule 17a-5(g), (1) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under rule 17a-3(a)(11) and the reserve required by rule 15c3-3(e). I did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in making the quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications and comparisons, and the recordation of differences required by rule 17a-13; or in complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under section 8 of Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System; or in obtaining and maintaining physical possession or control of all fully paid and excess margin securities of customers as required by rule 15c3-3, because the Company does not carry security accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, and is therefore exempt under rule 15c3-3(k)(2)(ii).

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining an internal control structure and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of internal control structure policies and procedures and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the Commission's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of the internal control structure and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in any internal control structure or the practices and procedures referred to above, errors or irregularities may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

My consideration of the internal control structure would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control structure that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control structure elements does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that errors or irregularities in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, I noted no matters involving the internal control structure, including procedures for safeguarding securities that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

I understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the Commission to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, I believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at September 30, 2006, to meet the Commission's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the use of management, the Securities and Exchange Commission, the New York Stock Exchange and other regulatory agencies which rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and should not be used for any other purpose.
