Richard A. Saso - President
Richard A. Saso & Associates Investment Securities
3130 Crow Canyon Place, Suite 200
San Ramon, CA 94583

We have audited the financial statements of Richard A. Saso & Associates Investment Securities as of December 31, 2006 and have issued our report thereon dated January 31, 2007. As part of our examination, we made a study and evaluation of the Company's system of internal accounting control to the extent we considered necessary to evaluate the system as required by generally accepted auditing standards and Rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. This study and evaluation included the accounting system and the practices and procedures followed by the Company in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a)(11). The Company is exempt from the provisions of Rule 15c3-3 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in that the Company's activities are limited to those set forth in the conditions for exemption appearing in paragraph (k)(2)(ii) of the rule. The company does not handle securities; accordingly it has not established procedures for safeguarding securities. Rule 17a-5 states that the scope of the study and evaluation should be sufficient to provide reasonable assurance that any material weaknesses existing at the date our examination would be disclosed. Under generally accepted auditing standards and Rule 17a-5, the purpose of such study and evaluation are to establish a basis for reliance on the system of internal accounting control procedures that are necessary for expressing an opinion of the financial statements and to assist the auditor in planning and to provide a basis for reporting material weaknesses in internal accounting control.

The objective of internal accounting control is to provide reasonable, but not absolute, assurance as to the safeguarding of assets against loss from unauthorized use or disposition, and the reliability of financial records for preparing financial statements and maintaining accountability for assets. The concept of reasonable assurance recognizes that the cost of a system of internal accounting control should not exceed the benefits derived and also recognizes that the evaluation of these factors necessarily requires estimates and judgments by management. However, for the purpose of this report under Rule 17a-5, the determination of weakness to be reported was made without considering the practicality of corrective action by management within the framework of a cost-benefit relationship.

Because of inherent limitations in any system of internal accounting control, errors or irregularities may nevertheless occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of procedures may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the degree of compliance with procedures may deteriorate.

Our examination of the financial statements was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, including the study and evaluation of the company's system of internal accounting control for the period ended December 31, 2006 that was made for the purposes set forth in the first paragraph of this report, would not necessarily disclose all weakness in the system because it was based on selective tests of a accounting records and related data. However other than being a small enterprise which, by its nature, does not have the employees for proper separation of accounting duties, such study and evaluation disclosed no condition that I believe to be a material weakness.

Sincerely,

TOLLEFSON & CLANCEY
