INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To Richter, Larry Lee
dba: Financial Advantage Company

We have audited the accompanying statements of financial condition of Richter, Larry Lee, dba Financial Advantage Company, (a proprietorship) as of December 31, 2006 and 2005 and the related statement of income, changes in proprietor's capital and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the proprietor. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audits to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Richter, Larry Lee, dba The Financial Advantage Company, as of December 31, 2006 and 2005, and the results of the operations and the cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles accepted in the United States of America.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statement taken as a whole. The supporting information included in the report (shown on page 13) is presented for the purposes of additional analysis and are not a required part of the basic financial statements of Richter, Larry Lee, dba Financial Advantage Company. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the financial statements taken as a whole.

In accordance with SEC Rule 17a-5 for a broker-dealer claiming an exemption from SEC Rule 15c3-3 for internal control structure, we have also issued a report dated January 31, 2007, on our consideration of The Financial Advantage Company's internal controls.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
DECEMBER 31, 2006 AND 2005

NOTE 1 - SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

NATURE OF BUSINESS:

The proprietor was licensed as a NASD broker-dealer on March 5, 1991.

This summary of significant accompanying policies of Richter, Larry Lee dba Financial Advantage Company is presented to assist in understanding the financial statements. The financial statements and notes are representations of the owner, who is responsible for their integrity and objectivity.

ACCOUNTING BASIS:

The books and records of the Company are kept on the accrual basis for financial reporting and income tax purposes.

PROPERTY, FURNITURE AND EQUIPMENT:

Property and equipment are stated at cost. Betterments and major renewals are capitalized and included in the property and equipment accounts while expenditures for maintenance and repairs and minor renewals are charged to expense.

REVENUE RECOGNITION:

Revenue is recognized as insurance and security commissions are received. Timing fees are recognized when the service is rendered. This is a consulting service performed by Mr. Richter.

INCOME TAXES:

The proprietorship is not a taxpaying entity for purposes of federal income taxes, and thus no income taxes have been recorded in the statements. Income from the proprietorship is combined with the income and expenses of the proprietor from other sources and reported in the proprietor's individual federal income tax returns. The proprietor customarily makes estimated tax payments toward his personal income tax liability from his personal bank account.

USE OF ESTIMATES:

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America require management to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures. Accordingly, actual results could differ from those estimates.

NOTE 2 – SUPPLEMENTAL INFORMATION IN ACCORDANCE WITH ERG 17A-5 OF THE REGULATIONS UNDER SECURDITY EXCHANGE ACT OF 1934

Richter, Larry Lee, dba Financial Advantage Company does not receive, acquire, or hold funds or securities for customers or margin for customers and therefore the provisions of rule 15C 3-3 are not applicable to Financial Advantage Company. Therefore, an independent review of the Company's treatment of such transactions is not required.

NOTE 3 – CONTINGENCIES

An administrative proceeding was initiated by the Commissioner of Securities of the Secretary of State of Georgia that resulted in a civil penalty of $4,480 that was imposed against Larry Richter. The imposition of the civil penalty is being challenged by Mr. Richter in a legal proceeding that is still pending and has not yet been finally determined. In the event that Mr. Richter's appeal of the administrative penalty is unsuccessful, the maximum potential liability is $4,480, which has been accrued in the financial statements.

The money market account was transferred into a variable annuity on November 16, 2000, with an additional $1,000. The value of the annuity on the last business day of December 2006 and 2005, were $9,212 and $8,974, respectively, which was confirmed. The primary beneficiary of the annuity is The Financial Advantage Company. The following hair cut requirements and non-allowable cost percentages for variable annuities in the computation of net capital are as follows:

15% required haircut for non-allowable cost	$	1,382
---------------------------------------------	----	-------

The non-allowable costs amounted to $1,382 at December 31, 2006 and $1,346 at December 31, 2005.

Larry L. Richter
Richer, Larry Lee DBA Financial Advantage Company

In planning and performing our audit of the statement of financial condition and supplemental schedules of Richter, Larry Lee DBA Financial Advantage Company, for the year ended December 31, 2006, we considered its internal control structure, including procedures for safeguarding securities, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control structure.

Also, as required by rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company including tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons
2. Recordation of differences required by rule 17a-13
3. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining an internal control structure and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of internal control structure policies and procedures and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of an internal control structure and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles accepted by the United States of America. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in any internal control structure or the practices and procedures referred to above, errors or irregularities may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

Our consideration of the internal control structure would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control structure that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control structure elements does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that errors or irregularities in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving the internal control structure, including procedures for safeguarding securities, which we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2006, to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the use of the Board of Directors, management, the SEC, National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc., and other regulatory agencies that rely on rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and should not be used for any other purpose.
