Report of Independent Auditors

The Members
Berman Capital, LLC

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of Berman Capital, LLC, as of December 31, 2006 and 2005, and the related statements of income, members' equity and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the management of Berman Capital, LLC. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements, based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Berman Capital, LLC as of December 31, 2006 and 2005, and the results of its operations and the changes in its members' equity and cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States.

Our audit was primarily for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The accompanying supplemental information is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements. The supplemental information is required by Rule 17a-5 of the Securities and Exchange Commission. Such information has been subjected to the same auditing procedures applied in the audits of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements, taken as a whole.

Note 1 - Summary of significant accounting policies

Basis of presentation

Berman Capital, LLC (the Company) is a California LLC formed in July 1998. In February 1999, the Company registered as broker-dealer with the Securities Exchange Commission and became a member of the National Association of Securities Dealers.

The Company's activities consist principally of its role as an intermediary and advisor in merger and acquisition transactions. Accordingly, the Company claims exemption from Securities Exchange Commission Rule 15c3-3 because it does not carry customer funds or handle customer securities.

Basis of accounting

The Company maintains its books on the accrual basis of accounting.

Cash and cash equivalents

For purposes of the statement of cash flows, cash and cash equivalents consist of amounts on deposit with a commercial bank in a non-interest bearing account, available on demand.

Allowance for uncollectible accounts receivable

The Company uses the allowance method to account for uncollectible accounts receivable. Under this method, the Company reviews all receivables for any problems with collection. If the Company feels that there may be a problem with collections, an allowance is provided for the receivable. When attempts to collect a specific receivable are unsuccessful, the account is considered uncollectible and is written off against the allowance. At December 31, 2006 and 2005, the Company determined that an allowance for doubtful accounts was not necessary.

Income taxes

The Company has elected to be taxed as a limited liability company in a manner similar to the taxation of a partnership. The Company is not subject to federal or state taxes on income. Instead, the members include their respective shares of the Company's taxable income or loss in their individual income tax returns.

Use of estimates

The Company prepares its financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States. The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect amounts and disclosures reported in these financial statements. Actual results could differ from those estimated.

Advertising costs

Costs incurred for producing and communicating advertising are expensed when incurred.

Estimated fair value of financial instruments

Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 107, "Disclosure about Fair Value of Financial Instruments," requires the disclosure of the fair value of financial instruments, including assets and liabilities recognized on the statement of financial condition. Management estimates that the aggregate net fair value of financial instruments recognized on the Statement of Financial Condition (including receivables, payables and accrued expenses) approximates their carrying value, as such financial instruments are short-term in nature, bear interest at current market rates or are subject to repricing.

Investments

The Company records its investment in certain securities at cost. Accordingly, distributions or dividends are recorded as income on receipt. No distributions were received or recorded for the years ended December 31, 2006 or 2005.

Note 2 - Investments

Investments in the accompanying statement of financial condition at December 31, 2005 consisted of the cost of 700 Voting Trust Certificates for shares of, and 1,500 warrants for the purchase of, common stock of the NASDAQ Stock Market, Inc. During the year ended December 13, 2006, the certificates and warrants were exercised and 1,700 of the 2,200 shares received were sold. At December 31, 2006

Berman Capital, LLC
Notes to Financial Statements
December 31, 2006

investments consist of the remaining 500 shares carried at average cost.

Note 3 - Transactions with members

The Company receives certain administrative services provided by its members. For the years ended December 31, 2006 and 2005, the Company reimbursed its members for all significant shared costs.

The Company's members also incur, and pay currently for, certain expenses related to transactions in process. If the transactions close and generate revenue to the Company, the expenses may be reimbursed to the members. If the transactions do not close, the expenses remain those of the members. Accordingly, such costs are recorded as paid. As of December 31, 2006 and 2005, the Company had reimbursed all significant member incurred costs.

Note 4 - Note receivable

The note receivable results from a portion of the Company's fee for advising in a 2004 transaction. The note receivable is unsecured, bears interest payable monthly at the published prime rate plus 1.75% (total rate not to exceed 8.5%), and is due in quarterly installments of $5,000.

Note 5 - Commitments

The Company leases office space on a month-to-month basis. Rent expense for the year ended December 31, 2006 was $14,430 (2005 - $13,500).

Note 6 - Net capital requirement

The Company is subject to the Securities and Exchange Commission Uniform Net Capital Rule (Rule 15c3-1), which requires the maintenance of a minimum net capital, as defined, and a ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital not exceeding 15 to 1.

Report of Independent Auditors on Internal Accounting Control
Required by SEC Rule 17a-5

The Members
Berman Capital, LLC

We have audited the financial statements of Berman Capital, LLC for the year ended December 31, 2006, and have issued our report thereon dated January 11, 2007. As part of our audit, we made a study and evaluation of the Company's system of internal accounting control to the extent we considered necessary to evaluate the system as required by generally accepted auditing standards. The purpose of our study and evaluation, which included obtaining an understanding of the accounting system, was to determine the nature, timing and extent of the auditing procedures necessary for expressing an opinion on the financial statements.

We also studied the practices and procedures followed by the Company in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness and net capital under rule 17a-3(a)(11) and the procedure for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of rule 15c3-3. We did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in making the quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications and comparisons, and the recordation of differences required by rule 17a-13 or in complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under section 8 of Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, because the Company does not carry security accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining a system of internal accounting control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of control procedures and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the Commission's above-mentioned objectives. The objectives of a system and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use of disposition, and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in any internal accounting control procedures or the practices and procedures referred to above, errors or irregularities may nevertheless occur and not be detected. In addition, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the degree of compliance with them may deteriorate.

Our study and evaluation, made for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph, would not necessarily disclose all material weaknesses in the system. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the system of internal accounting control of Berman Capital, LLC, taken as a whole. No condition that may be considered a material weakness came to our attention during our study and evaluation.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the Commission to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2006 to meet the Commission's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the use of management, the Securities and Exchange Commission and the National Association of Securities Dealers and should not be used for any other purpose.
