Independent Auditors' Report

Member
Benefit Finance Securities, LLC
St. Louis, Missouri

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of Benefit Finance Securities, LLC as of December 31, 2006, and the related statements of income, changes in member's equity and cash flows for the year then ended that you are filing pursuant to Rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes consideration of internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Benefit Finance Securities, LLC as of December 31, 2006, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information contained in Schedules 1 and 2 is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by Rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in our audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
December 31, 2006

A. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Organization

Benefit Finance Securities, LLC (the Company), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Bancorp Services, LLC (Bancorp), was organized as a limited liability company on December 4, 1997 and commenced operations in December 1998. The Company is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the SEC) as a broker-dealer in selling variable life insurance annuities and private placements in Missouri. Also, the Company provides plan administration services for these variable life insurance contracts. The Company is a member of the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. (NASD) and operates under the exemptive provisions of SEC Rule 15c3-3(k)(1).

Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include all cash balances and highly liquid investments with an initial maturity of three months or less. The Company places its temporary cash investments with one financial institution that is considered to be highly credit-worthy. Deposits at this bank are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) up to $100,000.

Securities

Securities owned by the Company are considered trading securities, which are held for resale. The securities consist of equity securities that are stated at market value. Gains and losses, both realized and unrealized, are included in gains on securities.

Revenue Recognition

Plan administration fees are derived and earned over the term of the contract from policy administration pursuant to the sale by a retail broker-dealer of a variable insurance related contract.

The Company also receives commissions from direct sales of corporate life insurance policies. Revenue from commissions is earned at the point the premiums are paid.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures. Accordingly, actual results could differ from these estimates.

Benefit Finance Securities, LLC
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
December 31, 2006

Income Taxes

The Company, with the consent of its member, has elected to be taxed as a limited liability company under the Internal Revenue Code. Under this election, earnings of the Company are taxed at the member level. Accordingly, no provision has been made for income taxes.

B. REGULATORY NET CAPITAL REQUIREMENTS

The Company is subject to the SEC's Uniform Net Capital Rule (Rule 15c3-1), which requires the maintenance of minimum regulatory net capital and requires that the ratio of aggregate indebtedness to regulatory net capital, both as defined, shall not exceed 15 to 1. At December 31, 2006, the Company had regulatory net capital of $195,703 and minimum net capital requirements of $5,000. The Company had no aggregate indebtedness at December 31, 2006.

C. RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

Sales commissions and plan administration fees are due from and payable to, respectively, an affiliated company partially owned by Bancorp. There were no sales commissions due from this affiliate at December 31, 2006. The Company has $117,429, related to the sale of securities, due from Bancorp at December 31, 2006.

The Company has an Expense Agreement with Bancorp to pay a monthly fee of $10,000 for the cost of space, equipment and technology support, sales and marketing support and administrative and financial support. Management fee expenses totaled $120,000 in 2006. Beginning January 2007, the Expense Agreement was modified and the monthly fee will be $7,500.

D. CONCENTRATIONS IN REVENUE

Plan administration fees earned in 2006 were from three customers.

There are no differences between the audited Computation of Net Capital above and the Company's corresponding computation in the unaudited Part II A Focus Report.

Benefit Finance Securities, LLC
EXEMPTIVE PROVISION UNDER RULE 15c3-3
Schedule 2
December 31, 2006

An exemption from Rule 15c3-3 is claimed as the broker-dealer does not hold customer funds or securities. All accounts are on a fully disclosed basis.

Therefore the schedules of "Computation for Determination of Reserve Requirements Under Rule 15c3-3" and "Information Relating to Possession or Control Requirements Under Rule 15c3-3" are not applicable.

Independent Auditors' Supplementary
Report on Internal Control

Member
Benefit Finance Securities, LLC
St. Louis, Missouri

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of Benefit Finance Securities, LLC for the year ended December 31, 2006, we considered its internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on internal control.

Also, as required by Rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company including tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in Rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of Rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

- 1) Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications and comparisons
- 2) Recordation of differences required by Rule 17a-13
- 3) Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls, and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph, and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition, and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control or the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

Our consideration of internal control would not necessarily disclose all matters in internal control that might be significant deficiencies under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A significant deficiency is a control deficiency, or combination of control deficiencies, that adversely affects an entity's ability to initiate, authorize, record, process, or report financial data reliably in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America such that there is more than a remote likelihood that a misstatement of the entity's financial statements that is more than inconsequential will not be prevented or detected. However, we noted no matters involving internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities that we consider to be significant deficiencies as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2006 to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of management, the SEC, and other regulatory agencies that rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
