Independent Auditors' Report

To the Members
Triune Capital Advisors, LLC and Subsidiary
Charlotte, North Carolina

We have audited the accompanying consolidated statement of financial condition of Triune Capital Advisors, LLC and subsidiary (the "Company") as of December 31, 2006 and the related consolidated statements of operations and members' equity and cash flows for the year then ended, that you are filing pursuant to rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. These consolidated financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these consolidated financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes consideration of internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Triune Capital Advisors, LLC and subsidiary as of December 31, 2006 and the results of their operations and their cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information contained in the supplemental schedules, on pages 10 to 13, is presented for the purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements but is supplementary information required by rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements
December 31, 2006

1. Description of organization and summary of significant accounting policies

Triune Capital Advisors, LLC ("Triune") and Subsidiary (the "Company") is a North Carolina limited liability company that provides financial advice and investment products to the Charlotte, North Carolina market through the efforts of experienced and educated financial professionals who will adhere to faith-based business ethics that put the clients' best interest first.

Principles of Consolidation – The consolidated financial statements include the operations of Triune and its wholly-owned subsidiary, Triune Insurance Services, LLC ("TIS"). TIS provides insurance services to the Charlotte, North Carolina market. All significant intercompany transactions have been eliminated during consolidation.

Basis of accounting - The Company maintains its books and records on the accrual basis of accounting in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America and conforms to the rules and regulations of the SEC and the NASD.

Cash - The Company's cash is on deposit at two financial institutions and the balances at times exceed the federally insured limit. Due to the strong credit rating of these financial institutions, the Company believes it is not exposed to any significant credit risk to cash.

Cash held by clearing agent is held as security for customer transactions.

Commissions and correspondent fees receivable - Commissions and correspondent fees receivable primarily represent amounts due from a clearing organization. No allowance has been established for uncollectible accounts as management believes all amounts will be collected.

Property and equipment - Property and equipment is recorded at cost. Depreciation is provided on a straight-line basis using estimated useful lives of three to seven years. Equipment under capital lease obligations is amortized over the estimated useful life of the equipment. Such amortization is included in depreciation in the financial statements.

Income taxes - The Company has elected to be treated as a partnership as defined in the Internal Revenue Code. In lieu of the Company paying corporate income taxes, the members of the limited liability company are taxed on their proportionate share of the Company's taxable income or deduct their share of the Company's loss. Therefore, no provisions or liability for income taxes have been included in these financial statements.

Estimates - The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Commissions – Commission income and related clearing expenses are recorded on a trade-date basis as securities transactions occur.

At December 31, 2006 the Company had net capital, as defined, of $147,269 which is $97,269 in excess of its required net capital of $50,000. Supplemental Report On Internal Control

To the Members
Triune Capital Advisors, LLC and Subsidiary
Charlotte, North Carolina

In planning and performing our audit of the consolidated financial statements of Triune Capital Advisors, LLC and Subsidiary (the "Company"), as of and for the year ended December 31, 2006, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered the Company's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the consolidated financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.

Also, as required by rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company including consideration of control activities for safeguarding securities. This study included tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons and recordation of differences required by rule 17a-13
2. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control or the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

A control deficiency exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect misstatements on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a control deficiency, or combination of control deficiencies, that adversely affects the entity's ability to initiate, authorize, record, process, or report financial data reliably in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles such that there is more than a remote likelihood that a misstatement of the entity's financial statements that is more than inconsequential will not be prevented or detected by the entity's internal control.

A material weakness is a significant deficiency, or combination of significant deficiencies, that results in more than a remote likelihood that a material misstatement of the financial statements will not be prevented or detected by the entity's internal control.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first and second paragraphs and would not necessarily identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control and control activities for safeguarding securities that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2006, to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Board of Directors, management, the SEC, The National Association of Securities Dealers, and other regulatory agencies that rely on rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
