Independent Auditor's Report

To the Stockholder
Florida Capital Securities Corporation
Heathrow, Florida

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of Florida Capital Securities Corporation as of December 31, 2006, and the related statements of income, changes in stockholder's equity, and cash flows for the year then ended that you are filing pursuant to rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Florida Capital Securities Corporation at December 31, 2006, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information contained in Schedules I and II is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by Rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

Note 1 – Background and Significant Accounting Policies

Organization

In March 1988, the stockholders of Epoch Capital Securities, Inc. purchased all of the outstanding shares of Paser, Inc., a non-related corporation doing business as a Registered Broker Dealer. On March 21, 1988, Epoch Capital Securities Corporation was formed pursuant to an agreement of merger and plan of merger and reorganization between Paser, Inc. and Epoch Capital Securities, Inc. All outstanding shares of Paser, Inc. and Epoch Capital Securities, Inc. were converted to shares of a new corporation formed by the merger, Epoch Capital Securities Corporation. On August 24, 1990, the Articles of Incorporation of Epoch Capital Securities Corporation was amended and the name was changed to Florida Capital Securities Corporation (the Company).

The Company was formed to distribute and/or act as an underwriter for the distribution of syndicated real estate limited partnership interests sponsored by an affiliated entity (see Note 3). The Company is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission (S.E.C.) and the National Association of Securities Dealers (N.A.S.D.) as a national broker/dealer. Subsequent to December 31, 1990, the Company's restrictive agreement with the S.E.C. and N.A.S.D. was amended to allow the sales of investment company shares on an application-way basis with the issuer.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Revenue Recognition

The Company prepares its financial statements using the accrual method of accounting. Commission revenue is recorded when it is earned, generally when the minimum required units of an offering are sold.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

For purposes of reporting cash flows, cash equivalents include unrestricted certificates of deposit and all highly liquid investments with an original maturity of three months or less.

Note 2 – Brokerage Activity

The Company has not deposited any funds in customer accounts and does not intend to do so in the future. Accordingly, management believes the Company is exempt from S.E.C. Rule 15c3-3 under paragraph (k)(2)(i) thereof since it does not hold funds or securities for, or owes money or securities to, customers.

Notes to Financial Statements (Continued)
December 31, 2006

Note 3 – Related Party Transactions

The Company has a support agreement with Florida Capital Real Estate Group, Inc. (FCREG), which is 50% owned by the Company's sole stockholder. In the agreement, FCREG agrees to provide support in the form of office and storage space, office supplies, clerical personnel and other goods and services appropriate for conducting the business of the Company. The agreement calls for the Company to reimburse FCREG for its out-of-pocket expenses. The Company was charged $32,917 under this agreement during 2006. The Company also paid accounting fees of $4,375 to FCREG during 2006. Other receivable of $1,292 is due from FCREG for the overpayment of fees as of December 31, 2006.

A portion of revenue consists of commissions earned on the sale of units in private placement limited real estate partnerships. Also included in revenue is investor fees paid by the limited real estate partnerships related to the sale of the units. The Company's sole stockholder is also a stockholder of a corporate general partner of these limited real estate partnerships.

Note 4 – Income Taxes

The Company has elected to be taxed under the provisions of Subchapter S of the Internal Revenue Code. Accordingly, income or loss of the corporation is deemed to flow directly to the stockholders and no provision for income taxes has been made.

Note 5 – Change in Subordinated Liabilities

The Company had no subordinated liabilities as of December 31, 2006.

Note 6 – Net Capital Requirement

The Company is subject to the S.E.C.'s Uniform Net Capital Rule, which requires the maintenance of minimum net capital and that the ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital not exceed 15 to 1. Net capital and the related net capital ratios may fluctuate on a daily basis.

At December 31, 2006, the Company's ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital was 0. The Company's minimum required net capital amounted to $5,000 while actual net capital computed under S.E.C. Rule 15c3-1 amounted to $83,076 at December 31, 2006. Therefore, at December 31, 2006 the Company maintained excess net capital of $78,076.

Independent Auditors' Report on Internal Accounting
Control Required by SEC Rule 17a-5

To the Stockholder
Florida Capital Securities Corporation
Heathrow, Florida

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of Florida Capital Securities Corporation (the Company) for the year ended December 31, 2006, we considered its internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on internal control.

Also, as required by Rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company including tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in Rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computation of aggregate indebtedness and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of Rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons
2. Recordation of differences required by Rule 17a-13
3. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control or the practices and procedures referred to above, errors or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

Our consideration of internal control would not necessarily disclose all matters in internal control that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that error or fraud in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2006, to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of management, the SEC and other regulatory agencies that rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
