We have audited the accompanying Balance Sheet of Mutual Trust Company of America Securities as of December 31, 2006 and the related statements of operations, retained earnings and cash flows for the year then ended that you are filing pursuant to rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange act of 1934. These financial statements are the responsibility of management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. These standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amount and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial presentation. We believe our audit provides reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Mutual Trust Company of America Securities as of December 31, 2006 and the results of its operations, retained earnings and cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information contained on pages 8 through 14 is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

MUTUAL TRUST COMPANY OF AMERICA SECURITIES, INC

Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Organization and Nature of Business

The Company was incorporated under the laws of the State of Florida on June 23, 1980 and conducts business in Clearwater, FL. The Company has elected to be treated as an S Corporation by the Internal Revenue Service for income tax purposes. The Company is a registered broker/dealer engaged in the business of selling securities including stocks, bonds and other marketable securities.

B. Income

The Company generates income in the form of commissions earned on security sales. Income is recorded as earned and commissions earned but not received are booked as accounts receivable and maintained as a current asset.

C. Expenses

The Company's expenses are recorded as incurred. Any expense incurred but not paid in the current operating cycle is maintained as a current liability in accounts payable. Direct costs include commissions paid to brokers and management fees.

D. Income Taxes

The Company is organized under the laws of Florida and has elected to be taxed as an S-Corporation. Therefore, no liability for income taxes for the corporation exists as profits and/or losses are passed through to the shareholders.

E. Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, disclosure of contingent liabilities at the date of the financial statements, and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting year. Actual results could and usually do differ from those estimates

MUTUAL TRUST COMPANY OF AMERICA SECURITIES, INC

Summary of Significant Accounting Policies - Cont'd

F. Net Capital Requirements

As a member of the NASD, the Company is subject to the capital rules of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, which prohibit a firm from engaging in any securities transaction whenever its "aggregate indebtedness" exceeds 15 times its "net capital" as those terms are defined in the rules. Furthermore, as a dealer that does not generally carry customer accounts, the Company is required to maintain net capital of not less than $50,000. As of December 31, 2006, the aggregate indebtedness and net capital were $ 39,109 and $ 212,107 respectively, a ratio of 10.1%.

G. Property and Equipment

Property and equipment are stated at cost. Depreciation is provided using the straight line method over the useful life of each asset. Allowable accelerated depreciation methods and Section 179 expense may be employed for income tax purposes.

H. Subordinated Liabilities

The Company has no subordinated liabilities as of December 31, 2006.

I. Related Party Transactions

The company paid $170,000 during the audit period to affiliated companies for management fees. The Company has cleared all related party receivables and payables during the year.

J. Income/(loss) per share

The income per share ($351.75) is based on the weighted average number of shares outstanding (1000). As this is a small closely held corporation with no intentions of bringing in additional shareholders, the earnings per share are consolidated with the statement of operations and fully diluted income per share amounts are not presented.

Board of Directors
Mutual Trust Company of America Securities, Inc
Clearwater, FL

We have audited the financial statements of Mutual Trust Company of America Securities, Inc as of and for the year ended December 31, 2006 and have issued our report thereon dated February 19, 2007. In planning and performing our audit, we considered the Company's internal control structure in order to determine auditing procedures necessary to express an opinion on the company's financial statements taken as a whole and not to provide assurance on the internal control structure.

Also, as required by rule 17a-5(g) (1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission, we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company, including tests of compliance with such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in rule 17a-5(g), in the following:

1. Making the periodic computation of aggregate indebtedness and net capital under rule 17a-3 (a) (11) and the reserve required by rule 15c3-3(e).
2. Making the quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications and comparisons, and the recording of differences required by rule 17a-13.
3. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.
4. The Company is exempt from the provisions of rule 15c3-3 and accordingly, we did not review this area.

Management is responsible for establishing and maintaining an internal control structure and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of internal control structure policies and procedures, and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph, and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above mentioned objectives. The objectives of an internal control structure are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets are safeguarded from against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5 (g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in any internal control structure, errors, irregularities or instances of noncompliance may nevertheless occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of the structure to future periods is subject to the risk that procedures may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of the design and operation of policies and procedures may deteriorate.

We performed tests of controls to evaluate the effectiveness of the design and operation of internal control structure and its operation that we considered to be reportable conditions under the standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. Reportable conditions involved matters coming to our attention relating to significant deficiencies in the design or operation of internal control structure that, in our judgement, could adversely affect the company's ability to operate in compliance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 or any other applicable laws and regulations.

A material weakness is a reportable condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control structure elements does not reduce, to a relatively low level, the risk that noncompliance with laws and regulations, that would be material in relation to the financial statements, may occur and not be detected within a timely manner by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions.

Our consideration of the internal control structure would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control structure that might be reportable conditions and, accordingly, would not necessarily disclose all reportable weaknesses as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that there are no material weaknesses in the internal control and the Company's practices and procedures were adequate as of December 31, 2005, to meet the Commission's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Board of Directors, management, the SEC, the NASD and other regulatory agencies that rely on rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and should not be used by anyone other than those specified parties.
